

Addresses Engineers—

Wallace Ashby, chief of division of structures of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Engineering, and A. D. Edgar, associate agricultural engineer of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, were main speakers at a meeting of NDAC agricultural engineers in Morrill Hall Tuesday evening. Ashby discussed workings of the divisional structures bureau and Edgar spoke on potato storage experiments.

Lost: One Black Cat—

Lost—one cat with headlight, T-square and triangle attached. Le Chat Noir (black cat to you) has guarded over night owls in the Architects Atelier for years since she mysteriously crept in . . . and now she's crept out—where?

On To Cambridge

Sigurd Johnson, senior in mechanical engineering and editor of The North Dakota State Engineer, student publication, leaves Monday for Cambridge, Mass., where he will attend the annual convention of the Engineering College Magazine association, Oct. 27 and 28. Massachusetts Institute of Technology plays host to the group which is comprised of 23 colleges and universities. En route to and from Cambridge, Johnson plans to visit the General Electric plant at Schenectady, N. Y., and engineering departments of several colleges.

Furrows Aides—

Students of the division of agricultural last week elected Kenneth Erickson, assistant editor, and Stanley Bale, assistant business manager of the Bison Furrows, agricultural publication. James McGregor is editor, John Paulson, business manager.

Remodel Barracks—

The campus barracks, historic rambling structure termed by many as the "sorespot of the campus," is going to be remodeled. Fifty NYA boys are already at work on a renovation program which will convert the barracks into a dormitory and classroom building for farm youths here intermittently through the year attending the Farm Folk School. The project was made possible through a $12,000 NYA loan. The building will be repainted, fireproofed and completely redecorated and refinished in the interior.

Will Publish Hymn—

Through the courtesy of the Greater North Dakota association, the North Dakota Hymn, words by James Foley and music by Dr. C. S. Putnam, will soon be published with a full band arrangement. The action was taken in response to a widespread demand by bands of the state.

Do You Vote?

On page four of this issue is reprinted an application for an Absent Voter's Ballot. With several hundred prospective voters on the campus the demand for absent voter's ballots must indeed be great. Voters—clip out the application, fill in the blanks and mail to your county auditor—but do it!

Ladies Night—

An innovation on the Bison athletic program will be established. Y.M.C.A. cabinet will meet at 5 game tonight between the Thundering Herd and Greeley State Teachers college. Under this plan regular prices are entitled to buy a all purchasers of stadium seats at lady's ticket for a nominal fee of twenty-five cents.

The Call Board—

The Spectrum editorial staff will meet at 4 p. m. Friday in the office. All staff members must attend. "Failure to attend will mean the axe."

Alpha Phi Gamma will hold pledging services for new members Thursday at 6 o'clock in the little dining room of Ceres Hall.

Student cartoonists have a chance to display their talent for the Homecoming edition of the Spectrum. Best cartoon drawn by a student with Homecoming as the theme will be published in next week's Spectrum. Entries must be in the hands of the editor Monday.

Y.M.C.A. cabinet will meet a 5 o'clock Tuesday.

Eversull Presses Reinstatement

Dr. Eversull last week attended a conference of officials of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Chicago and Champaign, Ill., where he went to discuss the matter of getting NDAC back on the accredited list of the association. He indicated that he is hopeful of early and favorable action on this matter.

Dr. Eversull is now in Galena, where he is attending a convention of Illinois teachers. The president will be one of the main speakers of the convention. He plans to return on Saturday.

Real Bison Promised At Blue Key Barbecue

By Jim McGregor

"For the information of all you skeptics, real Bison meat will be served at Blue Key's Homecoming barbecue this year. Blue Key apologizes for trying to dupe the students in recent years—but this year it's the real thing—a Bison from Minot—why not!"

"The barbecue will be staged this year a la cabaret. Friday noon when students eat barbecued Bison, in Festival Hall, they will be lulled by sweet strains of an orchestra playing on Festival's stage. Too, the Bison Booster club will be special guests.

"So—join with students, alumni, guests and University folks in enjoying barbecued delicacies Friday noon and Saturday while the Bison in Old Main, Kappa Sigma Chi and Theta Chi houses laugh in their beards at the fate of their poor comrade."

LATE FLASH!!

The Baby Bison won over the Sioux Papooses 12-6 at Grand Forks last night.

To Install Eversull At Homecoming

By Catherine Brandes

"It has been a long time since this college has seen anything like the affair which is to take place next Friday afternoon. That is the day when Dr. Frank L. Eversull will be installed as president of the college. His brother, Dr. Harry Eversull, president of Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio, will deliver the charge. About a year ago at this time the situation was reversed, that is, Dr. Frank, then of Huron College, delivered the charge to Dr. Harry.

"One of the rather amusing sidelights of the situation is the picture of harried faculty members searching wildly for their "full academic regalia," having not used their gowns and mortar boards, in all probability, since they received their degrees.

"Nonetheless, the affair is sure to be an impressive one, with faculty members, students, and the general public invited, as well as representatives from many of the most important institutions in the country."

Pharmacy Week Observed—

The State Pharmacy club is observing National Pharmacy week with a display of its public relations and of the production of drugs under the theme, "North Dakota Contributes to Pharmacy."

Saddle and Sirloin Hear AAA Expert

Raymond Douglas, graduate of NDAC, and now commodity superintendent of the AAA, addressed the Saddle and Sirloin club and public in Morrill hall Wednesday, October 19, at a regular meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club.

Through Mr. Douglas's address, the topic of which was "My Five Years Experience as an Agricultural Organizer in Soviet Russia," the audience was able to sight a realistic view of Russia, its government, its classes of people and their respective beliefs, views, and customs. Mr. Douglas also related a few of his many experiences in the foreign country.

A short business meeting preceded Mr. Douglas's address. The main issue of the business meeting was the election of a secretary and assistant treasurer. Those elected to the offices were Roger Toussaint and Gordon Erickson respectively.

Other officers of the club are James McGregor, president; Earl Sulerud, vice president, and Kenneth Ford, treasurer.

A lunch consisting of coffee and doughnuts concluded the evening's affair.

Glutz Spills Dope On Air Programs

By Bill Corwin

"This is Maizie Glutz giving you a round by round description of the Homecoming preparations which are under way at our college. Ouch, someone just stepped on my head as I am announcing from beneath the first booth in the Dugout.

"Last week was just a sample of what will be going over the aid this week. Plugs (not tobacco, you dope) will be given daily over WDAY and a full half hour show is planned for next Thursday at four fifteen. The gigantic pep rally will also be broadcast, as will be the bonfire and parade. The game and all its trimmings will serve as the super-climax of this hectic week.

"Let's all be at the pep rally broadcast on Thursday and show the people of the state that we can really put over everything we attempt. Good-bye, have to take time out to have another Bison Booster sundae.

Homecoming Campus To Be Dressed Up

By Dick Cook

Valiant may be the word for Carrie but colorful is the word for campus, meaning NDAC campus, from now until Homecoming. Witness the dated sign now adorning the front gate. It's only the beginning of an extensive program to make the alum that painted the town red realize this is a new age. We paint the campus green and yellow. Ho, a cheer!

Even the trees won't be exempt when the committee gets them bound in the school colors. Not to mention that both dorms will be all dressed up "fit to kill" when our visitors from Up State Normal and the good old grads come to town. We're all set, so bring on a bigger and better Homecoming.

MARGUERITE LEHMAN of Blue Earth, Minn., recently was appointed instructor of women's education at NDAC. Miss Lehman attended the University of Wisconsin, and Minnesota, receiving a B. S. degree from the latter. She arrived from Waseca, Minn., where she has been teaching physical education the past eight years.

All-College Dance Slated Saturday

You can't keep a good All-College down. So even with a misunderstanding of dates the dance planned for Friday will be held Saturday. All you need is a date. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of the Walsh orchestra.

Senior Staff is sponsoring the dance and Evelyn Larson is chairman. Assisting her have been Doris Stinson, in charge of music, and June Lowe, in charge of publicity. Chaperons will be Sergeant and Mrs. L. L. Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanson.

Thirty Floats In Homecoming Parade

By John Fisher

Thirty floats have already been entered in the Homecoming competition, and we expect our section of the parade to be the most interesting of all. All floats are designed to follow the theme of "Service to the State," and some of the plans that have been submitted to us show a distinct originality.

House decorations this year will be allowed to carry a wider variety of motifs as they do not have to follow the theme of the floats. Originality and the amount of work involved will be a large influencing factor in judging the decorations. They must be ready for judging by Friday evening of Homecoming.

Fitjar Lauds Pep Of Students At Convo

By Lorraine Fitjar

The support we're getting for the pep club is a good indication of the general feeling of the student body about Homecoming. I'm sure. We've never had so much co-operation and enthusiasm among the students as they're displaying this year. We intend to have the card system perfected before long, and we'll have more students who know yells and more who are willing to give out everything, then ever before.

The convocation this morning showed the spirit of the student body. Because of these convos everybody learns the yells better, and if the students can put as much power behind them at the Homecoming game as they did at convo we'll rattle the goalposts.

Blue Key Will Sell Bison Medallion

Clay medallions representing the Bison side of the Nickel Trophy go on sale today on the campus, with Blue Key fraternity directing the sales campaign. All Blue Key members have medallions for sale.

The medallions were sold for the first time last year and Blue Key expects to sell 500 souvenirs this year. They are available in several different colors.

Former President, Early Grads To Share Spotlight At Homecoming Banquet

Graduates Of 1895 and First Woman Alum Will Get Special Recognition At Traditional Graduates' Dinner

President Frank L. Eversull, past NDAC presidents, members of the first graduating class and the first women graduates of NDAC will be in the spotlight when Bison alumni converge in Ceres Hall next Friday evening for the outstanding alumni pregame Homecoming event. Annual business sessions will precede the traditional dinner, in charge of A. G. Arvold.

Guests of honor are President and Mrs. Eversull; C. B. Waldron, who will represent Dr. Satherwait, the provisional president of NDAC and Dr. H. E. Stockbridge, first president;

Student Judgers Rank Sixth Among US College Teams

Ford Daugherty's stock judging team placed sixth in national competition at the American Royal Livestock show held in Kansas City with a total of 4,637 points.

The NDSC team placed first in sheep judging, third in cattle, tenth in horses, and thirteenth in hogs. Members of the team also won individual honors. Lyle Currie placed first in sheep. George Strum placed third in cattle, fifth in sheep and was third highest man in all classes with a score of 965, 3 points less than the top man in the contest. Lyle Currie took first in sheep and Ed Schmidt tenth in cattle.

Other members of the team were Kenneth Ford, Orbin Erickson and Emil Vallager.

That the boys were well trained shows in their scores which were one-third of a point below the top team on reasons. This year the AC team placed higher than any other year since 1923 when they won first place.

Daugherty intends to take a judging team to the Chicago Livestock show Nov. 26.

Plan Legal Bonfire For Homecoming

By Mike Dobervich

"Considering the fact that it will take, roughly speaking, ten years for the last traces of painted '40's and '41's' to wear off the campus buildings, sidewalks, and chimneys, we are trying to divert the excess enthusiasm of the freshmen boys into more constructive channels. Our goal this year is a superblimpoglorious bonfire with no hard feelings on the part of the townspeople. What I mean is, no winter store of wood rifled, no more sponging on the government through the medium of WPA materials, no more outdoor plumbing disturbed.

"Those are a lot of good resolutions. But in view of the fact that the road to the Infernal Regions is paved with same, we're warning those friends of ours to keep a weather eye out for any inflammable stuff they may have around."

Alumni Will Return To Scene Of 'Swing'

Roughly speaking, about the same number of people will attend the Homecoming game Saturday as would convene in a Scottish theater on bank night. The Homecoming dance will really be one place where you'll have to "swing" it—from the rafters, if you don't get there before the crowd.

And that's not the only similarity this event bears to Scottish bank night. Think of the price! For the price of a good show (before 2:30) you can dance, reminisce with former students, and watch the entire spectacle of the Alumni returning to the old stamping grounds!

Tribute was paid Doc Putnam as the "oldest young member" of the American Bandmasters association at the concert of the United States Navy band, featured on the Amphion Artists course in the Moorhead armory, last Monday.

Putnam directed the band in a march at the request of Lieut. Charles Benter, director of the band.

Dean H. L. Bolley, representing Dr. J. B. Bowers, second president; Dr. John H. Worst, third president who now lives at Fairview, Montana; Culver Ladd of Bismarck, representing his father, the late Senator E. F. Ladd, fourth president; Dorothy Keene (Mrs. T. T. Feeney) representing her father, Dean E. S. Keene, who was once an acting president; Dr. John Lee Coulter of Washington, D. C., fifth president; Dean A. E. Minard, former acting president; Dr. J. H. Shepperd, president emeritus of the institution and Dr. John C. West of Grand Forks, acting, chief last year.

Class of '95

Members of the first graduating class in 1895 will also be honored. Three, Robert B. Reed of Fargo, Dr. Merton Field of Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Ralph D. Ward of Minnewaukan, have promised they will attend. An invitation has also been sent Rev. John Hilborn, a member of the class whose address, according to alumni file, is Nampa, Idaho. The fifth member of the class, Charles Hall, died in 1903.

Special recognition will be given at the dinner to Mrs. J. S. Burgum of Arthur, first woman graduate of the school. She is the former Jessamine Slaughter of Bismarck.

Reservations are being made for 300 guests, according to Helen Stokke, alumni secretary, who adds that no reservations can be made after Wednesday of next week.

University Men Here

Representing the University alumni board at the Friday evening banquet will be Frank J. Webb, secretary, A. L. Netcher of Fargo and O. B. Burtness of Grand Forks, former national congressman from this state.

Other events of the two-day Homecoming program of special interest to alumni include the inauguration of President Eversull, the Homecoming parade, luncheon and smoker for alumni Saturday noon in the Little Country theater, the Bison-Sioux game Saturday afternoon, the Queen's Banquet and the Homecoming dance.

Queen's Banquet To Be Strictly Informal

By Florenz Dinwoodie

"Speakers of the evening will not be allowed to speak and honored guests will be honored with a position at the head table but aside from that it's strictly informal. And so we give you Senior Staff's dinner for Queen Claire.

"What with 247 reservations to date and grads from way back showing their loyalty by writing in for tickets, it looks like a whing-dinger.

"In traditional style every one will practice for the sing contest next spring. Van, the music department's gift to such occasions, will be on hand to keep us together. And with no further ado you can eat and run and yet do homage to a popular queen and make this the best Homecoming for years."

Blue Key Decides To Continue Brevities

Decision was made last night by Blue Key fraternity to again sponsor the Bison Brevities, traditional all-college musical production, James Elwin, James Critchfield and Ralph Dahl were named as a committee to recommend appointees for the major Brevities positions, director and business manager.

The Brevities are staged annually during the spring term, presented entirely by student musical and dramatic talent. Major appointees who will be named soon will immediately begin pre-production work.

Official publication of the students of North Dakota Agricultural College published every Friday during the school year.

Entered as second class matter at the Agricultural College Station under the Act of March 8, 1879.

Then and Now

20 YEARS AGO

The Huns are stamped out in Europe. Let us stamp out the Huns in America. Let no propaganda find growth in YOU. The last sentence still seems to apply.

The three fraternity houses which have been occupied by the girls during this term will be taken over again by the fraternity men. Since the discharging of the soldiers Ceres hall has been vacated and is being made ready for use as a girls dormitory again. Some fun, eh, girls?

10 YEARS AGO

Notice—Four large tin cans have been placed in front of Main, Science, Engineering, and the armory for the reception of cigarette butts. They might do well to put one in each class room now.

12 YEARS AGO

To save returning students the trouble of seeing for themselves, we wish to announce that there is really no one standing in back of the armory holding it up. The armory evolved into our Festival hall.

Even then—The early bird at the fraternity house gets the fur coat.

All faculty members desiring to attend either the alumni banquet Friday night or the alumni luncheon on Saturday noon must make reservations by Wednesday, Oct. 26 in the Alumni office.

Ag Engineer Tells Of Departmental Work

(Editor's note—The other day a student in agricultural engineering came to me and asked if I knew what the department of agricultural engineering was, what courses it taught, what its aims were. Forced to confess I knew little or nothing about this department he easily convinced me that my ignorance was typical of the student body. Result: Now fully conscious of the dearth of departmental news appearing in the SPECTRUM, a decision was made to publish intermittently throughout the year stories on the various departments of the college proper. This is the first of that series.)

AGRI-NEER SMJ

Agricultural Engineering. What is it? Those who are majoring in that course know what it is but the majority of the people do not. When some one asks a student registered in that department as to what course they are taking—the questioner gets a vague, incomprehensible look in his eye when the questioned answers: "Agricultural Engineering." The curious know what agriculture is—they know what engineering is but they cannot connect the two and make sense. They have heard of civil, electrical and mechanical engineering but when some one springs agricultural engineering on them, an explanation is wanted as to whom, why, what and how. Therefore, this column has been created to let all those who do not know about agricultural engineering find out what takes place in one of the busiest and most important departments in the school of agriculture. Then, too, we shall bring you "Smudges from the Shop," such as Barney Maddock insisting that one-half the radius is equal to the diameter squared.

Agricultural Engineering has not burst into being with the mushroom growth attending such innovations as radio or aviation, but it has grown steadily, consistently, and rather rapidly. For example in the department here in our college the growth has been from a mere six members up to 45 in the past four years. At the present time there are about 30 states granting degrees in Agricultural Engineering. In 1931 there were only 20, and considering that the first degree was given in 1910—that alone is sufficient proof of its increasing popularity.

What type of work do the Agricultural Engineers undertake? For example, electricity is only one of many

Sigma Chi—

Bill Corwin, Paul Conmy, Thad Fuller, Dick Hoag, Don Sealander, Bob Nichols, Kenneth Archer, Bud Clapp, Byron Wilson, Ernest Eddy, and Dr. Hunter attended the Sigma Chi province convention at Minneapolis last week-end. Robert Fairchild, Howard Reed, William Tillotson, Ernest Bramsted and Bud Clapp started probation week Wednesday. New members of the Mothers Club were entertained Monday by the old members. Sterling Byerly visited his home in Mandan over the week-end.

Phi Mu—

Leone Philips, Marcella Anderson and Mildred Peterson were guests at the house Monday. Mrs. Stinson of Pembina visited her daughter, Doris, over week-end. Dorothy Goebel will complete her practice teaching this week. Lois McMillan was chosen chairman for Homecoming arrangements.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—

Guests at potluck last Monday were Miss Eva Finkle, Miss Ruth Fairbanks, Margaret Torrance, Betty Houd and Phyllis Herr. Clair Putz's birthday was also celebrated Monday at potluck. She was presented a birthday cake which had candles and everything. Moving pictures of the National Convention, which was held at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Virginia, were shown. The pledges were presented at a buffet supper last Sunday in the Rooms.

Kappa Sigma Chi—

Russel "Swede" Anderson visited at the house over the week-end. Pledged: Herbert Glaser, Eugene Paulson, LuVerne Renwick, bringing the total of new pledges to eight. Leonard Dalstad has been sick this week. Kappa Sigma Chi joined the Y. M. C. A. one hundred percent.

Alpha Gamma Rho—

Alumni visitors during the week: Bill Plath of Devils Lake, Roman Pung of Starkweather, Bruce Wilson of Leal, Charles Shelley of La Moure. Pledged: Curtis Haggart, Arnold Trofegreben, Stanley Jacobson, Elmer Roswick, Howard Olson, Harold Tastad, Richard Olson, Carrol Osterdahl, Roland Johnson, Dick Campbell, Royce Satre, Robert Wilson, William Herm, Elton Baldwin, Richard Crockett, Reuben Ruud, Arthur Walen. A fireside party is planned for Friday night following the football game, with Harland Josephson in charge. John Plath is practice teaching in Casselton. Pledge Herb Kittler is a patient at the St. Johns Hospital as the result of a football injury.

Alpha Phi Omega—

Formal pledging for new members will take place at a fireside meeting to be held November the second in the YMCA it was announced by Pres. Carlisle Lundsten at the regular meeting of Alpha Phi Omega held today in Ceres Hall. Ronald Anderson was appointed Float Chairman and members were asked to help in the decorations of the campus. Donald Bloomquist, David Robinson, William Guy and William Smith were guests.

Alpha Gamma Delta—

A presentation tea was held Sunday with six new pledges as guests of honor. Representatives from all social groups and members of the faculty were guests. Mrs. H. L. Lincoln and Miss Margaret Dadey poured. Marjory Lincoln was in general charge. Marie Letness visited at her home in Hillsboro over the week-end. Bessie Chambers spent the week-end in the Twin Cities. While there she attended the Minnesota U and St. Thomas homecoming games. Lorraine Borner has been ill for the past week.

Phi Omega Pi—

Donna Mae Chase will spend the week-end in Jamestown. Mrs. Kirst was guest at the sorority house for Monday night buffet supper. June Lowe and Harriet Shigley are in charge of the Wednesday afternoon tea at the house. Elaine Helland passed candy Monday night. The pledges were introduced at a formal tea at the house Sunday afternoon. Pledge officers are Donna Mae Chase, president; Jean Miller, vice president; Harriet Shigley, secretary; Lorine Ladwig, treasurer; Jerry Burch, parliamentarian.

Can The Barbs Do It?

By BUD THORWALDSON

About the new independent student's organization that has kicked up a minor sensation on the campus:

In this issue is an attack on an editorial I wrote about it last week, and in which I expressed doubt as to the future potency of the new group. I have no quarrel with any student who years for a little of the "equality" that members of the organization speak so readily about. Even after reading the high-sounding Student Opinion I am still unconvinced of the possibility of this movement accomplishing anything constructive. In that opinion, Bill Mutz says it is not the intention of the organization to fight the fraternities. When I talked to Ray Struble, he said they intended to give the students equal representation socially, and also a voice in politics. That may not be fighting fraternities and sororities, but I'm not so sure. But I'm not worried about the Greek groups. They can hold their own. What I'm wondering is how a conglomeration of independents thrown together as they are can accomplish anything as a group. Can it be entirely untrue that every student who joins the group will be thinking first of his own advancement? Of course they will work for the good of the group, but with tongue in cheek as they realize they must take care of the association if it is to take care of them. They'll never have the fraternal spirit the Greeks have, and consequently they'll not get the results.

The leaders of the group claim to be ready to produce a method by which the barbs will get everything the fraternities and sororities offer without the expense and waste of time. I would like to know of a way of getting something for nothing, too. Whatever they get will only be a substitute for the real thing, and they'll always know it's a poor imitation.

residence at the house. John Carlsson, who was initiated two weeks ago, is in charge of the homecoming float. Alumni officers are Dr. George Foster, president; George Coffey, vice president; Dick Vogelsang, secretary and treasurer. Pledged: Jim Arnold, Dave Shaw, Mac Foss, Jack Dolan, Dewit Swanson, Ira Macdonald, Vernon Giles, Homer Goebel.

Kappa Delta—

The pledges were introduced to the campus at a dessert supper in the chapter rooms Wednesday. The Founders Day banquet will be held Saturday with a dance following in Memorial Hall. Marian Greter brought her birthday cake to potluck Monday night. Phyllis Johnson attended the Minnesota-Michigan game last weekend. Lennea Frisk '36 visited the rooms after the game Friday night. Allis Larson is in charge of the Homecoming float, and Marguerite Olson, house decorations.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—

Initiation services were held on Sunday by: William Guy, David Robinson, John Peterson, Melvin Wischart, Greydon Fredrickson and Orville Monroe. A dinner was given in their honor.

Gamma Phi Beta—

Connie Taylor went to Hunter, N. D., last weekend. To attend the University Homecoming at Grand Forks are Corrine Anderson, Renee Walz, Verna Thysell, and Catherine Cummins. Mary Hannaher '37, who is taking work at Massachusetts General Hospital at Boston, is home for two weeks' vacation. She is to be a potluck guest Monday night. Ruth Kirk spent last week-end in Minneapolis. Potluck committee last week was as follows: Jeanne Paris, chairman, Vera Woolridge and Emily Oram. Marjorie Gaetz passed candy.

Theta Chi—

Pledged: James Moe and Robert Beals, both of Fargo. Pledge officers are Larry Tanberg, president, and Robert Young, secretary-treasurer. Herb Sands, regional councillor, was at the house Tuesday night. Ray Carr is in charge of house decorations for Homecoming.

Sigma Phi Delta—

Dale Quickstad, Casie Jorstad, Keny Anderson, and Doc Montgomery have organized a Bachelors Club. Pres. Quickstad reports that one of the boys is about to stray from the fold. Several of the alums visited the house this week. Bill Kossila stopped off on the way to Minneapolis; Hank Halgren came down from Bismarck; Curt Melland and George Probstfield attended meeting on Monday night. The house is in the process of installing a pool table in the basement to give the boys a chance to relax from their ever prevailing studies. Pledged: Bert Piper of New Rockford, Clarence Becker of Rogers, and Don Berg of Fargo.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor of the Spectrum:

On my own behalf and on behalf of the generality of the students of this college, I wish to rectify a disgusting statement entered in last week's Spectrum under the column, "Social Climber". The statement is: "Rather a puny crowd greeted the team last Monday. Looked more like a funeral procession with all the Drs. and ambulances. Maybe our boys are not so tough as they have been telling us. At least some of the helmets will fit a little looser."

True to all social talk, this slanderous statement is the product of gossip. It would surprise me little to hear that the writer himself was not there to greet the team, though he professes the immortal "know all". Should it happen that Mr. Ignoramous, alias, the editor of the column under the foregoing caption, does not know the conditions under which our team played there at Moscow, let him anchor his "jittering ears" for a moment while someone reads him this story—for I conclude that he hasn't the intelligence to read. Idaho University has won the respect of all the teams on the West Coast because of its brilliant performance this year. Washington U, which held the powerful Minnesota team to a favorable score, was tied by the Vandals of Idaho University. To be able to withstand the onslaught of such a team proves no small measure of grit. Everyone who has any knowledge of the Idaho team admits that our team did remarkably well.

To the remark that "the helmets will fit a little looser", one might respond, "Tell that to the players who were not on their back", or let the person who

LIVING TOGETHER

When one considers the fact that we are a community of just under two thousand, one can realize that there is a tremendous amount of living together taking place on and about our campus. Each and everyone of us has his individual part to play in order that the group may benefit the most. We are what we are because of our mode of living together. Our interests are common and shall always be directed toward the collective good. A person cannot isolate himself in days like these, for after all, no matter what the life work may turn out to be, we do live together. Forced respect for one another is not enough. Genuine interest in our fellow-being's welfare is essential.

We share many things in common. Our campus, its buildings and equipment are daily at our disposal. Too often just because we do not seem to have an immediate stake in this property, we become somewhat careless in its treatment. A campus can only become beautiful in a concerted effort of all of us. In our daily going and coming, we could exercise just a bit more care in the disposal of bits of paper and things of that sort.

An awareness of what is going on the campus is a mighty fine attitude to develop. The matter of seeing what the bulletin boards have to display is a pretty good habit to get into. The college calendar is now published weekly and is being distributed in a systematic manner, both on and off the campus. Let's know what is happening on the campus. Of course, one cannot be present at all events, for after all that is physically impossible. To determine what meetings we really want to and should attend is valuable training in exercising judgment.

I am sure there are some of us who have never seen the experimental plots that have played so important a part in the contributions of our experiment station. There are buildings that some of us are not at all familiar with. It occurs to me that systematic tours of our campus could easily be arranged under the sponsorship of some student group. Freshman Orientation week is packed so full and there are so many things to do that time just doesn't permit these tours then. But in line with my own thinking comes the idea that tours of this kind might much better be distributed throughout the year. Some organization might become interested in taking on these tours as one of their projects.

Our spirit this year is so much better than it has ever been. It pervades both the faculty and the student body in a fine way. We have had some very trying experiences in the immediate past, but the manner in which our student body has conducted itself is certainly gratifying. Our future outlook is indeed bright, for with a student body of the kind we have here we cannot but progress and expand so as to realize the ambition we have for our school.

wishes to be NDAC's official hatter go to the room in St. John's hospital where Herb Kittler lies with his entrails torn from their moorings and tell him what sissies the NDAC has on its grid team.

—Alfred Thompson.

Editor of the Spectrum,

After reading that article concerning the beginning of the Independent Students Association, I decided to register a note of resentment against the attitude taken in that editorial.

In the first place neither the independent students nor their organization, new as it is, has any intention of being placed on the defensive. We are not organized to fight the fraternities and sororities but rather to get our share in campus activity.

It is our conscious aim to strive for equality of opportunity for all students in everything pertaining to campus life. That is the purpose of the organization of any student body, and that is, in a broad sense, our purpose. The Spectrum indorsed a plan for fraternal social revision. The Spectrum should also indorse a similar plan of revision of all social activities on this campus, rather than neglect some seventy percent of the total enrollment.

Finally, there has been an unfair reference to the defunct Cosmopolitan club. The members now recorded and those who will soon be in the NEW Independent Students Association—feel contrary the statement made in your October fourteenth issue, quote: "A comparative survey of the purposes of the clubs shows a striking similarity." We would like to know the extent of this so-called survey. This positive but unsubstantiated statement should be qualified with facts. We have not only hesitated to revamp the old club but have refused to do so on the grounds of the past history of the organization.

Sincerely, —William Mutz.

Miss Geraldine Ewald, NDAC faculty member, was the speaker for the Calvary Evangelical Church young people's group Sunday, October 16. Her talk was entitled "Poetry Trails", a presentation of moods, problems, and philosophies in verses, linked by various commentaries.

Ewald Is Guest At Dinner Honoring Lauritz Melchior

At a dinner to which she was invited by a group of Danes who were hosts to Lauritz Melchior, Miss Geraldine Ewald, of the history department, learned of a side of the famous singer's personality the earlier audience at the concert knew nothing about.

Miss Ewald said she was surprised to find that in spite of his fame he is a democratic and commonplace person. He spoke a great length of Denmark, Germany, his family and his work. He told of his castle in Germany where he spends his vacations hunting boar on the 3,000 acre estate. He doesn't sing concerts there, though, he said, because the money he makes in Germany must be left there.

He speaks in seven languages, he told the group, and sings in six others. According to his wife he is an excellent cook and specializes in making oxtail soup.

He is a member of the Danish Royal Guard, and proudly displays medals signifying various royal degrees. Members of the Royal Guard must be over six feet in height and in perfect physical condition. He is six feet, four inches, and weighs 240 pounds "scale weight", according to his wife. She distinguished between the figure of 220 which he quotes when asked by the press, and the actual figure, "scale weight".

His wife is called "The Mary Pickford of Germany". She was a motion picture actress there before her marriage, is small and strikingly beautiful. A devoted couple, they amused guests at the dinner with their playful bantering. He calls her "Kleinchen", which means "Teeny-weeny", but she's the boss of the family, he admits.

He has one brother living, and two sisters. All live in Denmark, where one of the sisters is in the office of minister of foreign affairs. The other is blind and a teacher in a school for the blind.

He has a series of 45 opera performances scheduled for this winter, and looks forward to them with pleasure.

He questioned the group about Minot, where his next concert is scheduled. In his pronounced Danish accent he asked if the hunting was good there. When assured that it was, he replied, "I'm sure I will enjoy Minot very much. I will sing well for them".

Pledges Honored At Fall Parties

Kappa Psi fraternity will hold its annual fall term party in the upstairs Y Friday, October 29. The event will honor the new pledges, and will feature Halloween decorations. Ernie Larson's orchestra will play. About forty couples are expected to attend.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledges were honored when forty-five couples attended the fall party last Saturday night in Festival hall. Decorations centered around a "four years in college" theme, Bill Walsh's orchestra played, and Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Brinley and Sgt. and Mrs. L. L. Detroit chaperoned.

Newman Club Slates Initiation Sunday

The NDSC Newman club will hold initiation for all new members Sunday, October 23, at 5:30 in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Any Catholic students who have been in school before, but who have not been initiated are also invited to attend.

Maurice Dullea, vice president, is in charge of arrangements. Margie Pfeiffer, president, will preside and will conduct the initiation ceremonies, assisted by Donald Krebsbach and Leonard Armstrong. Father Mulloy will be present to act as Inquisitor.

National Phi Mu President Here

Miss Alice Miller, Seattle, Washington, national president of Phi Mu sorority will arrive this afternoon to visit Zeta Iota chapter at NDAC. Miss Miller held the office of national treasurer of Eta Beta chapter at the University of Washington for eleven years, and was formerly president of the alumnae association there. She also served as president of the sorority's district nine before her election to national treasurership. Her visit will extend through Monday.

A dinner in Miss Miller's honor will be given in the Graver hotel at seven o'clock this evening, with LaVerne Furcht in charge, assisted by Eleanor Walsh and Esther Schultz. The general theme of decorations will be the sorority's flower in rose and white.

For Sunday afternoon, a formal tea in the home of Mrs. W. E. Lancaster has been arranged. Alumnae, active and pledge members, and campus Greek group representatives will be guests. Patronesses and faculty members who will attend are: President and Mrs. Frank Eversull, Miss Mathilda Thompson, Dean Dinan, Dean Haley, Miss Ann Brown, Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Professor and Mrs. T. L. Hanson, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Dr. and Mrs. Leon Metzinger and Mrs. T. G. Helsing. Dr. and Mrs. Johanson are chaperones.

Panhellenic will be hostess to Miss Miller at a luncheon Saturday noon in the Alpha Gamma Delta rooms. Catherine Brandes is in charge.

Phi Upsilon Omicron members will sell chrysanthemums before the Homecoming game.

Kappa Delta, Kappa Gamma Mark Founder's Day

Sigma Psi chapter of Kappa Delta sorority will observe the forty-first anniversary of the sorority at a Founder's Day Banquet tomorrow evening in St. Mark's clubrooms. A dance in Memorial Hall, Moorhead will follow. Geraldine Davis, active president, will be toastmaster at the banquet, with responses to be made by Miss Pauline Reynolds, national chapterian; Dorothy Flaa, pledge president; and Mrs. J. F. X. Conmy, alumnae president.

The chapter trio composed of Helen Louise Sletvold, Allis Larson, and Marguerite Olson will sing. Other program features will include the traditional loving cup service, and commemorating talks on the founding of Kappa Delta.

Committees for the banquet include: dinner, Helen Louise Sletvold, Phyllis Johnson and Mary Knox; publicity, Barbara Gwyther; and decorations, Birdie Bartz, Nora Johnson, and Allis Larson.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority observed its Founders Day Thursday, October 13, at a banquet in the college Y. Mrs. Jay Simpson, of the alumnae chapter presided. A pageant featuring the past, present and future of NDAC chapter was the theme of the program. Participants in the pageant were, Mrs. William Akeley, Mrs. Frank Clark, Helen Landblom, June Sanstead, Anne Murphy, and Marie Anderson.

Unique Parade Seen For Homecoming

By Mel Thuring

"Again I say the Homecoming parade will be the most unique and colorful parade Fargo has ever seen. Thirty floats, all of different and distinctly unusual design, will compete for the trophies. There'll be dozens of cars, hundreds of soldiers, and hundreds and hundreds of students. But the feature of the whole procession you'll like the best is the queen. You can't miss her, because she'll be in the longest car in town, and will be completely surrounded by soldiers in uniform.

The parade will be downtown for a long time, because we've mapped out a route that will make it possible for everybody to see everything and we know you'll enjoy every minute of it."

Social Climber . . .

Well! Well! Well! Well! How are my little dears today? Better than usual, I hope. If not, just take a trip over to the SAE house and meet all their new pledges. Should take you about two minutes to meet the whole chapter. I'm sure that you will feel pretty superior after the interview.

The Sigs are suffering from a severe loss of face after the Kappa tea of last Sunday. It seems that the self-styled smoothies were more or less invited to blow after settling down to an evening of beautiful gals.

The boys' dorm and Ceres hall locked horns last Tuesday night in what turned out to be one of the tamest hog wrassels of the season. Guess the gals didn't have time to get going before the jailer started to put up the bars. It's getting so that you can't be carried into the joint without rousing comment. Me for the good old days when the fire escapes really got a workout.

What certain fraternity founded in Florida is soon to begin a big stink about goings-on up north? The boys seem to have overstepped their bounds in taking in one of the kinky haired boys. Their new theme song should be "Black and Tan Fantasy."

Big laugh! The independents are really going to organize. It can be done, but not with the pseudo-bigshots who are on the bandwagon. They don't even know that it is against the rules to place silly posters on the trees about our beautiful campus. We will give this splurge about two weeks to be forgotten.

The stooges are really griping about the new teacher in Technical Writing. The dude really is a good teacher but he is certainly ruining a good pipe course. Glad I took it in years gone by. Seems like it might be a good idea to build a lean-to on the School of Religion.

The KDs finally presented their pledges, and little Dickie. The Y boy seems to have a pretty strong tooth in that league. Eye-Dropper Shigley (Ft. Lincoln) is making a valiant but futile stand.

Claire Putz, buffalo feeder extraordinary, is worried. Who wouldn't be? She and the queenie from the U are both to be presented at the Senior Staff banquet and there is a faint possibility that the northern gal may have the edge in the looks department. Has anyone a thought as to a solution of her problems? The up-stater might be initiated into Iron (Ha Ha) Mask and cover up a portion of her charms.

Every one is laughing at the Theta Chis, but the Theta Chis are laughing at no one. It seems that they have been stalling around about getting a date for their party this term and now there are no more dates (neuter) left. Won't some of you sorority gals please make a note of this and see that the RBs from North Thirteenth are well represented at your social functions? We can't have these small town aristocrats going stale on us.

Let's see you all at the game tonight. Might as well get in condition for the following weekend. The first team of barflies will be picked from those left on their feet at the H & W after four tomorrow morning.
Mr. Iza Blimp.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS MEET

The Lutheran Students association will meet Sunday, October 23, at 5:00 o'clock in the College Y. Rev. Olson, pastor of the Pontoppidan Lutheran church, will be the guest speaker. Everyone is cordially invited.

SAI Inspector Arrives Monday

Inspecting the local Omicron chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity, Oct. 24-26, will be Mrs. John B. Davison of Des Moines, Iowa, Epsilon province president. Mrs. Davison will arrive from Grand Forks where she has inspected the chapter at the University and will go from here to other chapters in Epsilon province which includes North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Idaho.

Official business will begin with a dinner Monday evening at the Graver hotel, when members of the executive board will meet the visiting inspector. Following that dinner active members will present a musical at Marguerite Beard's studio in Festival hall.

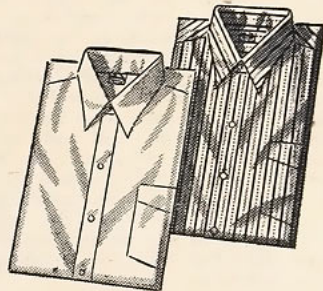

Tuesday Mrs. Davison will confer with officials of NDAC and chapter officers. Activities will be concluded with a formal musical in the Fine Arts clubrooms with Mrs. W. H. Murfin leading the discussion on Russian music. Hostesses for the evening will be Mmes. W. P. Tarbell, P. S. Nickel and R. Crol and Florenz Dinwoodie, Dorothy Lanier and Virginia Runyan.

Sport Speculations

By DON BLOMQUIST

May Need Bleachers—

Ticket sales for the Homecoming clash are well underway and all indications are that the bleachers erected for the Iowa game are certainly going to be needed.

With 1000 tickets in Bismarck and 350 in Grand Forks it is certain that all of the choice reserved seats are going to be sold well in advance of the day of the game. Credit for the Bismarck sales belongs to C. J. Meyers who is really pushing the game.

In that game, more than ever, the students will have reason to be grateful for the new stadium and its tremendous seating capacities. The student section is their section for sellout games as well as others.

Brings Back Memories—

Tonight the Bison clash for the second consecutive year with the Greeley State Bears. The Colorado team may be slated to lose but they really have the desire to win imbedded in their hearts.

It was in the last 57 seconds of play last year, after the Greeley students had started their victory snake dance that the Bison snatched a win.

A pass from Wheeler to Bermann was knocked down by a Greeley man and if Bermann had caught it the game might have been over right then, for Bernie was completely surrounded and would have been downed without time for another play.

But time was called when the pass was ruled incomplete, giving Wheeler a chance to shoot another pass to Bermann, this time in the clear, and the speedy Bison made fast work of scooting across the goal line with the win tucked away in his arms.

Montana To Watch Game—

Coming in from a long bus ride at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, the Greeley team will have little time to work out before the game, Friday evening.

Just as much of an educational trip as football trip is this Greeley journey. Their college, ranking second only to Columbia University, as the outstanding Teachers college in the nation, is interested in various schools and their layouts. The team will be around for a tour of the AC campus sometime on Friday.

Also coming in on Friday is the Montana University team which meets Pollard and his Sioux on Saturday. They will work out on the Bison field Friday afternoon and will stay in Fargo for the Herd's game with Colorado State.

Playing at Iowa University when Howard Jones held the reins and the Iowans were at the top on the national football heap was John W. Hancock, Greeley football coach. He was All-American tackle in 1924 and All Big Ten tackle in 1923 and 1924.

Don't forget to write your parents and friends that they should get their tickets for the Homecoming game as early as possible in order to get the best seats.

Games Next Week

Monday, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi, at 4.
 Tuesday, Dormitory vs. Kappa Sigma Chi, at 5.
 Wednesday, Alpha Tau Omega vs. Theta Chi, at 5.

Bison Seek Second Victory Over Intersectional Foes

Going after their second win in two weeks, the Bison square off against the Greeley, Colorado Bears in their best physical condition since the Idaho game. Exceptionally dangerous and with a better team than last year, the Bears will be out to avenge the 15-12 setback the Herd handed them in Colorado last year.

Emil May is showing the form he had three years ago when he was the sensation of the conference, and will doubtless play the major part in tonight's classic. A year's layoff from football didn't harm him nearly so much as injuries from early season games. However, his leg is in good condition now and he will start at left halfback.

Staying out of action until the Sioux game may be the fate of Ernie Wheeler. He played the Iowa game with a crippled foot, but with the University clash so near at hand Coach Finnegan is afraid to run the risk of injury to his backfield ace.

The rest of the starting lineup will find Sturgeon at fullback, Elmer Schrank as blocking back and calling signals, while Sig Erickson, who blocked so good against Iowa, will team with May at halfback.

Two seniors, co-captain Hawkins and Ed Welles will handle the end posts while Schrank and Johnson look good at tackle. The guards will be Green and Holt while either Kojancik or Jim On will start at center.

Greeley Backs Experienced

With ten lettermen, thirteen sophomores and eight transfers on their squad, the Bears will be loaded to win; and their record which includes a top-heavy victory over Nevada U indicates that they might do just that.

Most of the Greeley losses last year were in the line with many of their backs in school again. Their attack features the crashing of Bud Speicher, fullback and the left handed passing of Oliver Green. On the receiving end of the pass will be Nick Snarich and Gilbert Funk, both letterman and dangerous.

Because of the cold weather and danger of injuries Coaches Finnegan and Lowe have been running their squad through light drills this week so that the boys will be at top strength this evening.

Women's Sports

By JO ERICKSON

A dinner will be given for the National President of Delta Psi Kappa after the installation of the new chapter at the Moorhead State Teachers college, Sunday. Members of the NDAC Delta Psi Kappa chapter will attend.

Tournaments have been planned in deck tennis, singles and doubles; shuffleboard, and archery. WAA points will be given for entering and receiving honors in each of these sports. Physical Education classes are getting preliminary instruction before entering these tournaments.

The Soccer tournament was won by the Junior-Senior team captained by Jo Erickson. Ruth Thomte, Annabel Lee, and Margie Pfeffer scored the three points made by the winning team. Rachel Eiznic, Freshman, scored the only point made by the Freshman-Sophomore team, captained by Luverne Knudson.

Chosen as the most outstanding players, the Girls Varsity Soccer team is as follows: Ruth Thomte, Jo Erickson, Jeanne Paris, Florence Kapaun, Jessamine Haas, Luverne Knudson, Annabel Lee, Marie Letness, Genevieve Hamilton, Kathleen Strandvold, Genevieve Olson, Grace Olsgaard, Kay Odney, and Muriel Kotchevar.

Father W. J. Mulloy of St. Mary's cathedral will be principal speaker at the Student Fellowship Hour Sunday at 4 o'clock.

Theta Chis, YMCA Top Intramural Ball League

With the Intramural Touch Football schedule just about to enter its third and final week, and with the championship game slated for 1 p. m. Friday, Oct. 28, the boys are really in there battling for those coveted sweaters which will be presented to the championship team. After the first few games, the teams seem to have acquired a more thorough knowledge of the rules of the game, and also have become better organized teams, thus making each game a close battle until the final whistle has blown.

The Theta Chis find themselves at the top of Bracket A this week, after eking out a narrow victory over the Kappa Sigs, with a 7-6 decision. In second place in the same bracket, is the Dormitory. Although the Dorm's record shows only one win and one loss, they have one of the most impressive teams on the field. Led by their ace pass receiver, Joe La Fournaise, the Dorm whipped the A. T. O.'s last week by the decisive margin of 15-0.

YMCA Leads

It's going to be a tough battle all the way through in Bracket A, but in Bracket B, as it stands today, a different story seems to exist. The YMCA is well out in front with three victories to their credit, their closest competitor for first place being the Sigma Chis, with one victory and one defeat. According to the figures, the championship game should find the Theta Chis and the YMCA fighting it out. Each team has beaten their closest rival, the other teams having lost too many games to overtake the leaders.

Two teams, the Kappa Pisis and Sigma Phi Deltas, have withdrawn from the schedule.

Officials of the game are Jack Boulger and Pat Callinan.

Bison Fans To View Six-Man Grid Game

As an added attraction to the Bison-Greeley game there will be an exhibition of a six man football game between halves tonight. West Fargo, coached by Al Brauer, one of last year's graduates, will clash with Hendrum, Minnesota, led by John Brady, Bison basketball star of 1928 and 1929.

In what will be the first view of the game for many AC students, the West Fargo team will be favored to win, even though the exhibition score will not be entered upon any records. They enter this fray fresh from a 74 to 0 trouncing which they handed to Erie last week-end.

SMITH BELIEVES GREELEY WILL BE TOUGH FOE FOR BISON

By JOHN SMITH

Greeley State College must be pretty fair considering that they defeated the University of Nevada 27 to 13. That fact alone isn't so important, however, but they were beaten by Santa Barbara by only a 13 to 0 score and Santa Barbara is one of the strongest small colleges on the coast which, is of course, saying a good deal. Greeley will give the Bison a battle. One cannot predict any such contest as was waged out in Colorado last season.

The business men in the parade a week ago were pretty thrilled over the hand that the students gave them during the march. I think that the business men should have more parades seeing how they had more fun than the students. Men are boys pretty much at heart which is the real reason so many toy trains are sold at Christmas time. Anyway let's do all we can to keep them behind us; together we can do lots of things besides putting over football games.

After thumbing through a number of letters complimenting the Bison on their new stadium, new uniforms, etc., the following one probably displays the sentiments expressed by many of the well wishing fans on this locality:

Mr. C. C. Finnegan,
 Fargo, N. Dak.,
 Dear Mr. Finnegan:

Mrs. Johnson and I appreciate very much the opportunity we have had to attend Bison football games this fall. The entire family has attended each game, as have many other Casseton boosters.

We think that the new stadium is especially fine and adds to both comfort and convenience in watching the games. It is a credit to the college and also your fine leadership. We thought the new uniforms were more cheerful looking than the solid green and enjoyed the change.

Mrs. Johnson and I want to especially thank you and whoever else was responsible for placing Frank's picture in the dedication program. We sent one on to him and know that it pleased him immensely to be remembered. Frank has been gaining weight lately and is feeling fine.

In closing we want to thank you again for your kindness and wish you and your squad the best of luck for the remainder of the season.

Sincerely yours,
 Roy Johnson,
 Casseton, N. D.

The coaching profession is not a bed of roses and letters like this that we have received from Bison boosters certainly are cheering.

Gene Trotter Heads Kappa Tau Delta

Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity, held its annual election last week. Officers elected for the coming year were Eugene Trotter, president; William Walsh, vice president; Donald McCutcheon, secretary-treasurer. At this meeting the new constructive program was launched for the ensuing year.

In addition to the official business transactions, five new men were pledged to the fraternity. They are Richard Cook, Lloyd Heiberg, Leness Laliberte, Duane Johnson and Wade Meintzer.
