NDSC Committee Of Eleven Reports 'Success In Field' By All County Chairmen

Student Cooperation Makes Possible Extensive Contact Throughout State

The campaign for the passage of the Constitutional Amendment establishing a state board of higher education to take the educational institutions of the state out of politics is now going in full

A letter has been received from Forrest Stephens, group chairman in charge of the campaign in Towner, Ramsey, Cavalier, Benson, Eddy, Foster, and Wells county. "Steve" has had speaking engagements throughout Ram-sey county all this week. Some of the groups before whom he has spoken include: The Devils Lake Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club, the PTA, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He has also made a trip throughout the county contacting influential citizens and weekly news-

Stephens has also found a backer for one hour radio program to be given over radio station KDLR, Devils Lake. The alumni in Devils Lake have asked that some student talent be sent to Devils Lake to take part in a benefit show and dance which may be held at a latter date in order to raise money to help defer the expenses of the cam-

Some of the newspapers throughout the state have already placed the com-mittee of eleven on their exchange list. A number of favorable reactions have been received from these newspapers.

Especially encouraging is a letter received from the Bottineau Courant.
The editor commented favorably on the movement and also offered a number of Letters have been received by the committee of eleven from various or-ganizations and editors throughout the state offering their support and giving a number of helpful suggestions.

Meeting of county groups have been held on the campus all week for the purpose of discussing reactions received during Easter vacation. The committee of eleven is preparing information and publicity for these county groups to disseminate as well as publicity to be sent to newspapers and organizations throughout the state.

Navy Department Trying Applicants For Reserve Corps

The Navy Department is taking ap-plications for flight training in the Naval Reserve. Young men who can qualify have a wonderful opportunity to learn aviation as a profession, be-sides preparing themselves as Naval Reserve officers.

Applicants for this training, in order to qualify, must fill the following requirements:

Be a college graduate, between the ages of 20 and 27.

Pass the flight physical examination as required of all naval aviators.

first two years of the four year training period. Successful applicants, after being selected, receive four years active duty with pay, one year at Pensacola,

Florida, and three years with the Uni-ted States Fleet. Elimination flight training of 30 days duration is conducted at the various Naval Reserve aviation bases prior to training at Pen-The Naval Reserve Aviation Base

Wold Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis Minnesota, is now accepting applica-tions for elimination flight training which begins on May 15th and con-tinues throughout the summer months. A Board of Naval Officers, including a flight surgeon, will meet in Men's Dormitory (building), North Dakota State Agricultural College, throughout the day on Saturday, April 30. At that time, interviews will Festival Hall.

Handsome Harrys Vie For Model Man Tonight

Ten prominent male students will vie this evening at the Senior Staff Spinster Skip for the title of All-Campus Model Man. With the title will go $5.00 in trade at any men's clothing store in town that is a loyal advertiser in student publications.

Character, health, resourcefulness, intelligence, attitude, temperament, morals, and appearance will be the points considered when the co-eds cast their votes for one of these entrants: Donald Bloomquist, S. A. E., James Critchfield, A. T. O., John Fisher, Y. W. C. A., Paul Goebel, Delta Tau; Herbert Jones, Sigma Phi Delta; Bill Pflugrath, Kappa Psi; Charles Pollock, Sigma Chi; James Purdon, Gamma Rho; Carl Rorvig, Theta Chi; and Bernard Volkerding, Kappa Sigma Chi.

Dancing will begin at 9:00 and continue until 12:00. Presentation of "The Man" will be about 10:00. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Booth and Sgt. and Mrs. Detroit. Tickets are on sale for fifty cents at Dean Dinan's office and from members of the staff: Adeline Hoge, Dorothy Hawkinson, Lois Myron, Evelyn Wattam, Gwendolyn Stenehjem, and Phyllis Rowe.

Picnic Committees To Meet At Hillsboro

Representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, Blue Key chapters, and college administrators at both the University and the AC have been invited to meet at the home of Chauncy Kaldor of Hillsboro at 2:00 p. m. Sunday to talk over plans for the AC-UND picnic. Those representing Fargo who will attend the meetings are: Manny Ladwig, Charles Sevrinson, A. G. Arvold, Helen Stokke (alumni secretary), and Mr. Elmer Marks (Junior Chamber of

Ramsey County To Hear Plea

Upon request of one of the most active country workers, Forrest Steph-ens, two members of the Committee of Eleven will go to Devils Lake tonight to meet with members of the Ramsey county Farmers Union. The meeting was arranged for by Stephens and is part of the work he has been doing this past week in his county.

Reuben Gordan Arneson. Mike Benidt, and Robert Nelson were chosen from the committee to attend this Devils Lake meeting and to speak before the assembly. Open discussion will follow the addresses led by Stephens and the committee members.

At the next meeting of the local Town Hall discussion group Orville Goplen and Florenz Dinwoodie will appear to explain the present situa-tion on this campus. It is planned by the committee that speakers will be sent to other organized groups for the purpose of enlisting support.

Letters, in response to the county material sent throughout the state, have been received by the committee and are open for student inspection at any time in the Barracks, room 203.

Hawkins Groomed For High Hurdles

As the varsity track team takes shape in preparation for meets scheduled to begin in May, Hawkins is being groom-Hawkins, who is from LaCrosse, Wisconsin, was one of his high school's best high hurdlers, but has never run in that race in this school. He is showing great possibilities according to Tobany. Smith Johnny Smith.

The relay team has been polishing up the medley sprint, a race which allows each runner to run his best distance. Bernie Bermann will run the 440, a distance in which he has shown considerable ability in the past. Rorvig another sprint man, will run the 220, as will Howard Fraser. Vernon Johnson will run 880 yards. Johnson won many firsts in this distance in high school at Pembina. This type of relay is used only in intercollegiate meets, the conference meets requiring that each man run the usual 440 yards.

Jim Maxwell has been working out with the discus during the last two weeks and has already heaved the plate a considerable distance in practice.

Dittbenner, the AC's oustanding miler, is in good form this spring after two weeks of intensive workouts. Norman Olson of Fargo has shown strength in the high jump. Olson was a star Paul Johnson of Grafton, is out of performer for the Bison squad last practice this spring because of trouble

LCT Players Scout Professionals In Minneapolis

Five members of the cast of "The Playboy of the Western World" and their coach, Miss Carol Ladwig, were in the audience Wednesday evening when the Abbey Players of Dublin presented J. M. Synge's drama in Minneapolis. Following the production, the students and their coach met the cast.

Students making the trip were Gwendolyn Stenehjem, LaVaun Anderson, Don Jones, Mason Arvold and Thad Fuller. They head a cast which will present "The Playboy of the Western World" in the Little Country Theater, Tuesday evening.

Synge's play, which is the fourth and final number of the current LCT series, concerns a young man who attempts to escape punishment for the murder of his father. Miss Ladwig has coached all the plays, under general direction How To Cut The of A. G. Arvold.

The cast includes Jones as Christopher Mahon; Mason Arvold, Old Mahon; Fuller, Michael James Flaherty; Miss Anderson, Margaret Flaherty, and Miss Stenehjem, Widow Quin. Others are Kay Keough, James Mahoney Edward O'Brien, Barbara Isaacs, Mildred Boettcher and Helen Finstad.

Edwin Booth Club Will Entertain Casts

Edwin Booth Dramatic Club will entertain after the final curtain of "The Playboy of the Western World" next Tuesday evening. All members of this ear's Little Country Theatre play casts all debaters, the play production classes, declamation contestants, senior class play members, and the Board of Forsenic Control are invited to attend. Entertainment will consist of lunch dancing, and card playing. Virginia Smith is in charge of the party.

Spring Football Shows Bright Prospects; Few Injuries

George-Hammel of Hutchinson, Minnesota, one of the Bison yearling squad's outstanding performers is out of practice for the rest of the spring season with a broken ankle. Hammel has been showing great ability and is expected to show promise on the varsi-

Cecil Sturgeon, the Baby Bison's 220 lb. fullback, has been showing well in practice. Don Johnson is playing blocking back and Sig Erickson, halfback. Ole Quamme at quarterback is one of the fastest freshmen ball carriers since the days of Hanson. Bill Kelly was moved from a backfield position to center where he has been doing considerably better. Kelly, a Hillsbord boy, weighs 195 lbs. Pederson and Hebert show promise as backfield men.

In the line, Frank Primeau and Earl Marquardt at ends are two of the squads most promising men. Twomey is offering competition for an end post Seim, 198 lbs. is playing a tackle position, with Pat Heally in the other. Nelson and Homer Geibel play the guard positions.

Paul Johnson of Grafton, is out of with his feet.

The Board of Publications elected John Lynch editor of the 1938-39 Spectrum at their meeting Wednesday evening. The other three men of their choice who will fill the three remaining major positions in The Spectrum and Bison staffs are Richard Cook, business manager of The Spectrum, Myrle Anderson, business manager of The Bison, and James Critchfield, who will continue to edit The Bison.

James Critchfield has been retained for want of a better man. His logical successor, James Taylor, is leaving school next year, so was not considered by the board in their election.

Retiring staff heads are: Archie Seebart, business manager of The Bison, who will graduate this spring; James Elwin, a junior and automatically a member of the Board of Publications next year, and George Putz, who has outlived his usefulness.

Severson Shows Girls Buck In Lectures

Steaks, chops, roasts and stews are no longer a mystery to NDSC home economic coeds.

Likewise the intricacies of the pressure cooker and the knack of getting a good brown on the roast have been made clear to agricultural students.

It all comes about through an exchange of home economics and agriculclasses at the college for one period each year, engineered by Constance Leeby, instructor in foods, and Al Severson, instructor in animal hus-

Home economics students in foods spend a class period studying meat cutting under the guidance of Sever-son. They learn how the different cuts are made, and how to identify these cuts by the shape of the bone. wise they learn how each cut should be prepared, depending on whether it is tender or less tender. And, incidentally, they learn how a knife should be sharpened.

On the other hand, the men are initiated by Miss Leeby into the problems of meat canning, preparation of meats for different purposes, use of the pressure cooker, and are made acquainted with many of the kinks of modern homemaking. Both the women and the men gain by the swap of studies, say Miss Leeby and Mr. Severson The knowledge of meats will help the future homemakers to make the grocery money go further and enable them to make a better selection of meats, while the future husbands stand to gain by smaller butcher bills. Besides they are more likely to be of some use around the kitchen when the lady of the house is called to the telephone, or comes home late from a bridge party.

Exchange of classes annually be-tween Miss Leeby and Mr. Severson has been continued for the past several years, and they believe the idea is working out better all of the time.

JUST MUSING

during the ten minute interval between midterms Wednesday, we came suddenly to realize what a year of achievement we've all experienced this year. The Bison Brevities this year were the best ever staged on this campus. The Bison yearbook promises to supercede anything ever published in North Dakota. School spirit has been made really intense this year, graduates, outsiders, and students have all felt its influence, its elation. The weather has been perfect. Registration at NDSC has in spite of business recessions mounted and stayed near the 1600 mark, 200 more than any former year. The Little Country Theatre has more successfully than ever before staged the greatest play it has ever attempted, people are still applauding The Good Earth. The YMCA has become, through the efforts of the marvelous personnel of its cabinet and secretary, the guiding hand of the student body. Inter-fraternity and sorority social functions have been going strong this year, and with more sympathy and good intentions than formerly.

YES, YES, IT'S BEEN A GREAT YEAR,

but the NCA discrediting action of two weeks ago has suddenly discolored the whole

THE HILLSBORO PICNIC

is really going to be pulled off, by the looks of things. People representing all the parties involved will meet with Chauncey Kaldor, Sunday, at 2 p.m. We don't have to lead any yells for the idea, but it would be well to watch the program committees' activities and be ready to go on the day they pick.

THE LATEST WE'VE HEARD

is the precedent set by the Board of Publications in electing James Critchfield next year's editor of The Bison. We think that that is the smart thing to do. Because Jim's book this year promises to be a knockout and because no one who has the necessary experience or qualifications is on hand to succeed him, it is well that he put out next year's book.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"One of the unequivocal blessings of a really good education is that it spurs the mind on to a sublime and enduring discontent with any particular stage of achievement and inspires men, contemptuous of the advancing years, to strive for ever wider vision, for continued victories over new territory." James Rowland Angell, former Yale president, gives us the real blessing of education.

"There is not room in tomorrow's America for 745 colleges and universities of the standard American brands, comprised today chiefly of liberal arts, agricultural and technical institu-tions. The liberal arts college, far in the ma-jority today, will continue to have its place in education, but not ever in its present over-expanded form." Columbia University's Prof. Walter B. Pitkin believes that a change in life should begin right away for our institutions of higher learning.

"It would be a good idea for everyone to come back to school and get their ears slapped down after being out in business a while." Business-man Julius F. Stone, Jr., forsakes business for a term, and tells why he returned to Harvard for more education.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD (By Associated Collegiate Press)

Robert Frost, beloved Harvard Uni-versity poet-teacher, has a reputation for great teaching and great writing. To this leader of students, Kenneth Leslie recently wrote a poem, had it printed on the New York Times' editorial page. A portion of "Cobweb Col-lege," written for Robert Frost, follows: A batch of freshmen came to Cobweb

College; the Spider looked them over, frowned and said,

"These boys are ghosts of boys cracked with knowledge their dreams dried out and left the dreamers dead.

There's not a meal among them, no illusion to sharpen up my tooth on, no romance for me to ridicule to red confusion, creed on which to slake my poison lance.

I've drawn their blood too many generations and spoiled the breed. Their fathers, when I wrapped them causal web and silken strong equations. ould lunge and writhe, grimacing when I snapped them with categoried claws. These modern schools ndition them until they yearn to yield; their wills are like the blown pigskin

November muck around a soggy field. They murmur, 'Say, Professor, skip the prodding, just dish it out, the ifs, the ands, the buts! who'd question fifty million miles of

NDAC Soil Student Awarded Fellowship

Sigurd Melstad, senior, has been awarded a $1200 fellowship for graduate work in soils at Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J.

Rated as one of the best paying fellowships to be offered to a NDSC graduate in years, the fellowship is supported by the New Jersey Agricul-tural Experiment Station. The New Jersey department of soils is considered one of the best in the United States, and their selection of Melstad is a com-pliment to the NDSC.

Melstad will do research work along soil fertility lines and also study. The fellowship is for two years with a possibility of continuing for another two years beyond the first two. It allows for study toward his master of science degree and may possibly lead to a doc-torate. Melstad assumes his work at Rutgers July 1.

Working his way entirely thru the NDSC, Melstad has made a good record at the college. At present he is president of the NDSC chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity. He is also a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national junior and senior scholastic fraternity.

NDSC soils graduates are now located in North Dakota, Vermont, North Carolina, Tennessee, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Washington, Indiana and Michigan.

Stevens Has Big Bug Collection

In 30 years, Prof. O. A. Stevens, boanist of the North Dakota Agricultural College and Experiment Station, has collected 15,000 wasps and bees. Started as a hobby, the collection contains most of the known North Dakota species of these insects.

Prof. Stevens has exchanged insects with entomologist in other parts of the world. Because it is only a hobby and not a business, Mr. Stevens rarely makes field trips for the express pur pose of finding new specimens for his collections, but takes them with a net whenever he sees an interesting find.

On the subject of his insect gathering hobby, Prof. Stevens has written several articles. Most of the speci-Most of the specimens have been identified by specialists, and quite a number of the new species have been described. Eight have been named after Stevens.

Around Washington

By MARVIN COX (Associated Collegiate Press Correspondent)

Washington, D. C .- Sons and daughters of senators, representatives, cabi-net members and foreign diplomats are attend local colleges and nobody pays any particular attention to them. They are judged on their own merits rather than on the fame of the illustrious parants. There are a monumer to the ments. ents. There are so many great and near-great men here in the realm of politics that no particular attention can be paid to their children.

But it's a different story when some-one near to stage and screen stars is around. A Senator's daughter might greatly sought after in Hollywood, and of no particular importance here Conversely, a screen star's sister would-n't, perhaps, make any great difference in Hollywood. But when a star's sister comes to Washington that is, very emphatically, something else again!

This is proved by the presence of Kathrine Hepburn's kid sister who is a student at Bennington College in Ver-

She is down here working for a few months before returning to her studies and the local papers have all run her pictures, together with elaborate write-ups. In a few weeks she has become better known than many daughters of famous statesmen.

Young Miss Hepburn is attractive in her own right, and of course, that doesn't hurt, but if she had been the lovely daughter of Congressman Whatnot, sh might have stayed here a year without the newspapers printing her name

Many movements are started only to bog down before they are completed. However, it is very rare for anyone to profit when such an event transpires. The exception became apparent this week when the plans of the George Washington Memorial Association were formally abandoned and more than a quarter of a million dollars was given George Washington University.

The association was formed a number of years ago to promote a two mil-lion dollar auditorium as a memorial to the first President. Some $80,000 was raised, but that wasn't enough to carry out the plans. So, after spending about half a million without coming any closer to their objective, the mem

Olaf Birkeland who farms near Shey-enne in Eddy county has made ar-rangements to irrigate 40 acres of flat land on his place this year, using water from a 300-gallon per minute spring. Besides furnishing water for field irrigation, Birkeland's spring furnishes water for home needs and livestock, and for the family garden.

Since 1890 the gross population of the United States has increaed from 63 million to 128 million, or 105 percent. But in the same period the secondary school enrollment increased from 203,-000 to more than 6 million, or 2,855 per-

There are few varieties of grain sorghums adapted to North Dakota. This kind of sorghum, as the name implies, is grown primarily for grain, and not for fodder or silage. Grain sorghums are not commonly grown in the state.

Surplus new-laid eggs may be preserved in water glass at any time, if they are handled promptly. During the spring months if more eggs are laid than can be used in ordinary ways, a supply may be stored in this way for use later when eggs are scarcer.

The federal crop insurance program will enable farmers to draw upon a cooperative pool to offset the frequently recurring losses that characterize wheat growing. North Dakota producers will earn the opportunities offered under this insurance plan later this year when meetings will be held in every county under the direction of the NDAC extension service and the State AAA Committee. A lengthy conversation with Congressman Brooks Fletcher, co-author of the Harrison-Black-Fletcher bill to appropriate several hundred millions of dollars for education aid to the states, confirmed this belief.

The eventual legislation will probably turned their remaining assests, more than a quarter of a million dollars, over to GWU.

It is a commonly accepted fact that acting as a prophet is the poorest paid business in the world. None-the-less this commentator is going to take a shot at it. It is a long limb, but out on it has goes!

The eventual legislation will probably be somewhat like the Federal aid to state highways. The states will have full responsibility for spending the money that Uncle Sam gives them, but certain minimum standards will be re-quired to participate. One thing is the goes! it he goes!

Here's the prophecy: The Federal Federal control, only Federal help to government is going to make direct the states.

Will Be Host To 300 Students

The Agriculture Department expects o be host to 300 vocational agriculture students who will take part in the May Festival. The schedule for the con-tests is: Thursday, May 5, livestock judging; Friday afternoon, Crops contests and poultry contests; evening, the Future Farmers speaking contest. On Friday afternoon the State Future Farmers Convention meets. During the May Festival there is a meeting of the vocational agriculture instructors.

The Saddle and Sirloin club is cooperating in carrying on the contests. Jimmy McGregor, president of the Saddle and Sirloin club, is manager of the agriculture contests. One hundred other agriculture students will be squad leaders and will correct papers throughout the festival. Alpha Zeta is lending their cooperation in the form of an information booth for the aid of the visitors.

At the vocational banquet on May 6 in Ceres Hall, awards will be made for the entire May Festival. Both the Home Economics girls and the Vocational Agriculture boys will be present Alpha Gamma Rho, Saddle and Sir-loin, and Alpha Zeta will award the three traveling Bison to the school rep-resented by the student who ranks the highest in his particular contest. The Alpha Gamma Rho Bison goes to the highest ranking contestant in the poul-try judging contest; that of the Saddle and Sirloin, to the winner in the live-stock contest; and that of Alpha Zeta, to the winner of the crops contest.

The student branch of the Society of Agriculture Engineers will hold a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 in room 210 of Morrill Hall. At 8:00 the business meeting will be finished and a film will be shown entitled, "Agricul-tural Engineers of Tomorrow." Faculty, students, and anyone else who is interested is invited to attend the showing of the film.

FARM SHOP (From the Agriculture Engineering Department)

Not many persons know what is go-ing on behind the walls of departments other than their own. Many of these departments are very interesting to everyone even if it is only from the curiosity angle One of these is the Farm Shop course offered in Agricul-ture Engineering. This course is not only of interest, but it is also of immense value to the students taking it. Cement work, acetylene welding, forgery, rope twisting and splicing, wood-working, wood lathe, metal turning lathe, soldering, tool sharpening, electric welding, glass cutting and fitting, and repair jobs are some of the things

> In this course the boys take their turn at each type of work and turn out individual problems. The wood lathe is a tool that is different. An ordinary piece of wood can be fash-ioned into a piece of art of any size or shape through its use. This electrically driven tool holds the wood and rotates it rapidly as it is being cut down to the desired shape or size.

A class that fits into the week with this one is Farm Power and Machinery. Actual practice and much practical work is done on motors and farm machines are studied. Along with this comes theory also.

One of the common problems that must be met as Smith-Hughes students go out to teach is the lack of equip-ment. Some must be purchased, but others can be made in the class room

Rifle Team Places Seventh In Field

The NDSC rifle team placed seventh out of a field of thirty-four in the William Randolph Hearst trophy match with a total of 915 out of a possible 1000 points. This score was three points better than last years score. With 904 points the second team won thirteenth place. Winning first place was the University of Missouri with 997 points.

This trophy match is sponsored by William Randolph Hearst, newspaper publisher, and is conducted in each publisher, and is conducted in each corps area. The U.S. is divided into nine corps areas and each area is com-posed of from five to seven states. Colleges having military units within the corps area, a second group known as military schools, and high schools having junior military units fire against other schools in their division.

Targets are furnished by Hearst, and the teams consist of five members firing four positions; prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing, with five shots in each. Possible points for each team member is 200 and the entire team 1000. This is the first year NDSC has entered two teams. Major Boruski, rifle team coach, said, "this department is well pleased with the results, as we were up against colleges having enrollments up to and over ten thousand students, because of which they had very large units."

Team members representing NDSC are: Askegaard, Christianson, Jackson, Isaak, and Friese.

Finishing the national intercollegiate match, the rifle team rolled up 7,617 points out of 1,000, 37 points under last years score. As yet the department has not heard the official results. The military department states that the total attained is certainly quite en-
