Pfeffer Chosen Lilac Day Queen

Annual Festival To Be Held On Campus, Wednesday, May 12

Margie Pfeffer, sophomore Arts and Sciences, has been chosen to reign as Queen of the Lilacs at the fifth annual Lilac Festival to be presented Wednesday, May 12, by A. G. Arvold's festivals class, and Hortus, an organization of hor-ticulture and forestry students.

Tentative plans for the festival call for the day's activities to begin with a noon luncheon, when members of Hortus and their guests will hear talks on the culture, care and ornamental value of lilacs. In the evening the queen and her mounted escort will be presented, the queen's crowning to follow the presentation of the story of the Chinese garden-er. Another event will be the planting of hybrid lilac plants on the campus by Hortus members.

Following the Lilac program, the Senior class will present "The Im-portance of Being Earnest," a trivial omedy for serious people, by Oscar Wilde, as entertainment for the queen, her attendants, the faculty, and all seniors. The cast of char acters for the three-act comedy is John Worthing, J. P. of the Manor House, Woolton, Hertfordshire, Dayton Jones; Aigernon Moncrieff, his friend, Wilfred Rommel; Rev. Canon Chasuble, D. D., Rector of Woolton, Orville Sorvick; Lane, Mr. Moncrieff's man-servant, James Baccus; Lady Bracknell, Marjory Rooney; Hon. 30th Annual May Festival Is Planned for Next Weekend

Contests of All Types, Track Meets, Dance to Feature Event

A program of cultural and vocational contests and various educa-tional features is planned by de-partmental heads here to entertain over 1,000 young men and women high school students when they convene for the 30th annual May Festival next weekend, May 6, 7 and 8. The three-day festival will draw students from all parts of North Dakota and western Minne-

The contests are divided into three groups — athletic, industrial, and literary. In the agricultural division, contests in poultry, livestock, and grain judging will take place on Thursday and Friday. The Sad-dle and Sirloin club is in charge of the event, with Al Strong as manager.

All departments will hold open house, displaying various exhibits, demonstrations, and other interest-ing features of the college. Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalis-tic fraternity, will sponsor the newspaper contest, with plaques and cups awarded to first prize winners. Banquets and lecture meetings will be held, with declamatory, one-act play, and speech contests taking up much of the session.

Displays will be held in Festival hall, with the speaking contests in the Little Country theater. Registration will take place in the YMCA building. Visitors will be housed at the men's dormitory, field house, Ceres hall, and at private homes. Track and field meets will be conducted by the athletic department, with high school applicants competing. All athletic contests will be held Friday and Saturday.

To close the event, an all college-high school dance will be held in the field house. All events of the program will be free to everyone.

AC Students From LaMoure Plan Banquet

Twenty former LaMoure high chool students who are now attending colleges in Fargo and Moorhead are expected to attend the first annual "LaMoure Day Banquet" at the Graver hotel Sunday at 1 p.m. The event is believed to be one of the first of its kind held here.

LaMoure AC students are making arrangements for the banquet with Phyllis Coyne leading the committee in charge. Other members of the committee are Eleanor Isaacs, Catherine Brandes and John Lynch. Toastmaster will be Gordon Bran-

Let's Give Them A Break!

W HEN did the Gold Star band take its last trip?, the reporter asked Doc Putnam's secretary. But she couldn't remember any more than any other student on this campus. If you recall last year the band had the doubtfui pleasure of going all the way to West Fargo in order to help dedicate the new stock yards. And since then-well, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday they faithfully practise for an hour and a half only to come back next week and repeat the ceremony.

But at the University of North Dakota they do things differently. Perhaps some of you heard them last Wednesday at Fargo High. Do they sound so much better than our own band that they should be the only ones to advertise North Dakota's colleges? Why should they be given a week's trip over North Dakota and two days in Minneapolis where they will play at the Nicollet Hotel and make recordings of their school songs?

It must be the way they finance their band. Tuition there is $55.00 a year from which they get .50c. We pay $52.50 a year from which .18c is taken. Proportionally we should receive .47c, or at present we are receiving only 38 pct of what should be allotted for band activities. They receive $12.50 a semester and our band members receive tuition during their junior and senior years. Perhaps officials figure our members are fully compensated in this way. But ask the bandmen-they're for a trip, and why shouldn't they get it?

Campus Plays Passive Role In Student Peace Strike

UR student body apparently has no active interest in the promotion of world peace. The local lack of enthusiasm for the militant promotion of this splendid ideal was clearly evidenced last week when our campus remained quiet while students on thousands of campuses all over the United States were actively participating in a national "Peace Strike."

The "peace strike" is sponsored annually by the American Student Union, a national student organization for the maintenance of peace and liberty and the extension of economic welfare. In this year's strike the hosts of students participating all sacrificed one meal for their cause and contributed the cost of that meal to a national fund for the promotion of peace. This small sacrifice is symbolic of the determination of American youth to do their utmost to prevent war.

Can it be that coming to college has failed 11.—Jones will become permanent successor to the to broaden our horizons of thought? Has it failed to teach us to lift our thinking out of the rut of our own little day to day living? One is led to believe just that about our student body when he sees our passive attitude toward problems which are stimulating our contemporaries to militant action,

ILLUSTRATIVE ANECDOTE-

Dwelling for a moment on the easy solutions and remedies for the farmer's crop failures, Mr. Sackett's essay class drew this fiery and resentful queston from an interested Mental Giant: "How do they expect the farmer to raise wheat on this soil when the Agricultural College can't even raise grass on it?"

Who raises and lowers the campus flag each day at sun-up and sun-set?

Mayo's Homeward Walk

The ninth, last half, the score was tied, The hour was big with fate. For Moore had fanned and Terry flied When Mayo toed the plate.

And every rooter drew a breath And rose from where he sat, For weal or woe, or life or death Now hung on Mayo's bat.

The pitcher scowled, the pitcher flung An inshoot, swift and queer; But Mayo whirled his wagon tongue And smote the leathern sphere.

He smote the ball with might and main, He drove it long and low, And forward like a railway train He sped to beat the throw.

He reached the sack with time to spare (The throw went high and wide), But what a noise then rent the air When safe the umpire cried.

'What," shrieked the pitcher, lean and tall, "Wha-at?" roared the catcher stout, 'What," roared the basemen one and all, "Yere crazy guy, the man is out."

The shortstop swore, the catcher pled, They waved their arms around; The umpire shook his bullet head And firmly held his ground.

Though in the wild-eyed fielders ran To tear him limb from limb, Or else to tell the crazy man Just what they thought of him.

The basemen left the bases clear And came to urge their case; So Mayo yawned and scratched his ear And strolled to second base.

'Safe? Safe?" the pitcher cried, "Yere blind," And breathed a naughty word; So Mayo hitched his belt behind And rambled on to third.

And throats were hoarse and words ran high And lips were flecked with foam As Mayo scanned the fading sky And ambled on toward home.

'All right, come boys," the pitcher bawled; "Two out, now make it three;" When Mayo touched the plate and drawled, "Hey, score that run for me."

What noise was there, what bitter talk, What joy and wild acclaim, For Mayo's peaceful homeward walk Had won the doubtful game.

Junior-Senior Ball Tops The Spring Season

Sweetheart Dance, Mural, Violin Solos Features Of Formal

With Jack Russell and his 11-piece orchestra furnishing the music, the first annual combined junior and senior ball will be held this evening in the Field House, highlighting the spring social season for the college.

Features of the evening will be unusual decorations, a sweetheart dance, unveiling of the "much talked about mural" and classical violin solos by "Tyke" Louras.

Leading the double line of the grand march at 10 o'clock will be managers Bernard Majors and Al Brauer with their partners, Helen Edmonds and Jean May. Following them will be class presidents Don Putnam and Manny Ladwig with Marian Smith and Joyce Ogilvie. Third in line will be class athletes with their guests, Carl Rorvig and Dorothy Evanson and Robert Saunders and Lois Barton.

Acting as chaperons will be Prof. and Mrs. Rudolph Otterson and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson.

State High School Track Stars Compete In Annual Meet Here Next Weekend

Annual May Festival Track and Field Meet Ranks as one of State's Major Events for Prep Stars

High school track teams from districts throughout the state will compete in a track meet as part of the May Festival next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. These teams represent the winners in their respective district meets, said Coach Casey Finnegan, Bison athletic director, and manager of the track events. This ranks as one of the major track meets for prep track and field stars of the state.

Apart from the lure of the prizes to be presented to winners in all events Kittenball To will be the possibilities of bettering the standing records in the fourteen events at previous May Festivals.

The preliminaries in both track and field events will be held on Friday afternoon, the semi-finals on Saturday morning, and the finals on Saturday afternoon.

Golf Meet To Be Run In Flights

Several changes have been made this week in the manner of running off the college golf tournament so as to prove a better attraction for campus mediocre golfers. The meet has been set for Saturday, May 15, over the Edgewood Municipal course.

Eighteen holes of qualifying play have been scheduled for the morning, with the person turning in the lowest score being the medalist Using these scores the group will be arranged in flights of eight. Eighteen more holes will be played in the afternoon, the lowest score being turned in in each flight to be the flight winners. Lowest medal score in the championship flight will be college champion.

A silver loving cup has been pur-chased and will be awarded the champion with suitable prizes to be given flight winners. About 25 en-tries have been received to date with many more expected. Entries are being received by James Critchfield or at the Spectrum office.

ATTEND CHEMISTRY MEET

Attending the mid-Regional meeting of the American Chemical Soka this week-end will be Dr. D. S. Dedrick and Dr. W. R. Wenger. The meeting is a general chemical convention, where nine phases of Chemistry will be discussed.

Game To Be Held Today "No game today, wet grounds", makes one think of baseball but that old baseball slogan was the reason for postponing the first spring football clash which was scheduled for last Friday. Coach Finnegan anlast Friday. Coach Finnegan an-nounced that there will be an intersquad game today to take the place of the game which was post-poned because of the sleet storm. Because they were forced to miss a few days of outdoor practice during last week's deluge spring football will be held over until next week instead of ending today as originally planned.

Prospect for a winning team next rear appear to be better now than they were when the first call for spring practice was issued. Jim Maxwell is looking strong at the tackle post and it appears likely that he will beat out Lloyd Olson, hold-over tackle, for one of the posts. That will give the Bison a pair of sophomore tackles next year as Cecil Schrank is almost certain to get the starting call at the other post.

So far it has been unnecessary to transfer any of the centers to a different position and with Jim On, Kojanick, and Jackson it appears that the Bison will be strong in the center of the line. It is going to be difficult to pick out the best guards with Holt, Laavig, McClure, and Green leading all of the other 15 guard candidates. The end situation is just as muddled with 5 ends capable of holding down the varsity position. Although Co-captain Forrest Stevens is out with a broken finger he is almost certain to be at a starting post next year with either Bermann or Hawkins at the other position Gil Friederichs and Ed Wellems are both certain to see action next year.

15 Backfield Men

In the backfield the coaches are also unable to pick a starting lineup with 15 players in prominent posi-tions. Those who have been seeing service for the last two weeks are: May, Phillips, Wheeler, Schrank, Olson, Whalen, Peterich, Sapa, Moore, Troseth, Fraser, Rorvig, King, Hoag,
