

Legislature To Decide On Funds For Biennium

Gov. Langer Recommends
Raising of Teachers' Salaries in Speech

Optional Military Training
May Again Be Legislative Issue

By ORVILLE GOPLEN

The North Dakota legislature has convened and its course of action will have much to do with the progress of NDAC during the next few years, for within the next 60 days, will be voted the financial wherewithal upon which this and other state institutions will exist during the next biennium.

Present indications are that legislation will be made or discussed on at least three problems affecting NDAC:

1. The budgetary appropriation.
2. Consolidation of courses in state educational institutions.
3. Compulsory ROTC.

The all-important subject, of course, will be the budgetary appropriation. Since appropriations were so severely slashed four years ago, NDAC, as well as other state educational institutions, have been unable to perform the services they did during years of normal appropriations.

35 Get Better Posts

The cutting of salaries has affected the school most. Since 1930, according to a report prepared by Pres. J. H. Shepperd, 57 full-time staff members have left the institution and 27 of the vacancies have not been filled due to shortage of funds. Of these, 35 left for other positions, thereby bettering themselves financially by an average increase of $1,448 in their annual salaries.

Better opportunity for an increase in salaries was seen here as a result of the attitude expressed by Gov. William Langer in his inaugural talk Wednesday when he suggested increased salaries be given staff members in the educational institutions in order to secure high caliber instruction.

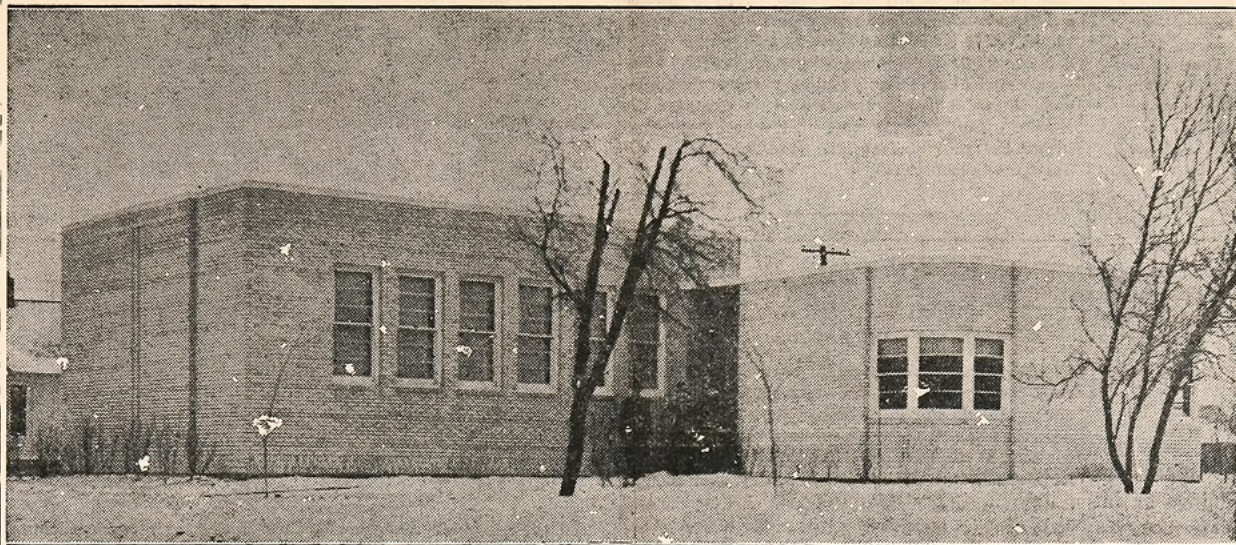

Legislature Job Tough

Of course, the state legislature faces a tough problem in appropriating money this session, following, as it does, another year of drought. Then, too, they face the added task of matching federal funds under the social security act, all of which will indirectly affect legislation for college appropriations.

In the budget prepared by the budget committee a request for an $862,200 appropriation for NDAC was asked, including $40,000 for the erection of a new stack room for the library.

In regard to consolidating courses

Development and Progress of Fargo School of Religious Education Is Outlined by Walter Stockwell in Main Address

By JOHN LYNCH

Fifteen years ago Dr. Walter Lee Airheart came here from the west coast to assume directorship of the Fargo School of Religious Education, which was then being sponsored by the Wesley college of Grand Forks. Since that time he has taught classes in improvised quarters, making many personal sacrifices to carry on the work of the school. Today, after 15 years of patient work and careful planning, his dream of a new building to house the school has been realized.

Dedicatory exercises for the new building were conducted at convocation Thursday morning with Walter L. Stockwell, president of the board of trustees, giving the main address. The building itself is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. S. Fred Knight with equipment and furnishings made possible through Fargo firms, clubs, and private donations. Work was begun last spring and completed a short time ago.

Dr. W. C. Hunter, member of the AC faculty and the board of trustees of the school, presided over the dedicatory exercises. Invocation was by Dr. E. P. Robertson, president emeritus of Wesley college and a former instructor of Dr. Airheart.

Stockwell in his address commended Dr. Airheart's work and declared that the new school and its principles contributed heavily "to the high life of the student body of this college now and ever to come." Pres. J. H. Shepperd also paid tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Airheart's sacrifices in carrying on the work of the school.

Open house at the new building and the director's residence was held in the afternoon and evening with many Fargo residents and AC students present.

LSA MEETS SUNDAY

The first meeting for the winter term of the Lutheran Student association will be held Sunday, according to Harold Schulz, president. At this meeting members will be appointed and a complete schedule for entertainments will be planned for the winter term.

1495 Register For 2nd Period Class Sessions

Quarter Enrollment in History

Many Former Students Return to Swell Registration Totals

Incomplete registrations for the winter quarter reveal that the largest second quarter enrollment in the history of the college has already been set and there is a possibility the all-time high set last fall might be exceeded, announced A. H. Parrott, registrar.

A total of 1,495 had enrolled Thursday, only 12 under the fall term figure, said Parrott. The 1936 winter quarter registration was 1,398.

Numbered among the enrollees are found numerous former students who could not come last fall as well as transfer students and many entering college for the first time.

Coed Calf Show Feature Of Student Livestock Event

Putnam and Smith, Comedy Team, to Entertain During Showing of Animals; Robert Williams to Manage 1937 Edition

A coed calf show featuring the outstanding coeds and the "cutest" calves will be an innovated feature of the Little International on Jan. 21, announced Robert Williams, manager of the 1937 show.

The coed calf show is open to any number of girls reporting to the management in couples. Each pair of girls will be given a two or three-week-old calf with no limit placed on personal decoration or decoration on the calf. Judges will award a 10-inch loving cup to the winner and boxes of candy will be awarded other place winners. Since there are only about 30 calves available, it will be necessary to refuse entries after these have been spoken for. See or call Robert Williams.

Coupled with this, Don Putnam and Virginia Smith, comedy team superb, will entertain throughout the entire show. The traditional coed milking contest will also be featured.

The Little International, patterned after the International livestock exposition, is the big extra-curricular activity of agriculture division for the year and will include the showing of primped and manured baby beeves, horses, hogs, and sheep.

The annual banquet of the Saddle and Siroin club and Fargo business men will be held Wednesday evening preceding the show. A portrait of some outstanding livestock breeder in the state will be hung in the hall of fame, medals will be awarded members of the judging team, and speaking assignments will complete the meeting. Lyle Currie is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Sigurd Melstad.

Sororities To Vie

Sororities will compete for the second consecutive year for a 22-inch silver loving cup in the ticket sales contest being conducted by Kent Helland. Advance sales will begin next Tuesday and continue through until 4 p. m., Jan. 20. Last year a cup became the permanent property of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Approximately 100 agricultural students will compete in the livestock events, an increase over recent years.

Virginia Smith Appointed Brevities' Dramatics Chief

Tryouts for Roles in 1937 Student Show Will Be Held Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Festival Hall

Virginia Smith, senior in education, whose name is legion among students whenever dramatics or comedy are mentioned, was appointed dramatic director of the 1937 edition of the Bison Brevities by the directing board of the show. It marks the first time a coed has directed the event.

Tryouts for roles in the show will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 14, 15, and 16, in Festival hall, announced Hugh Anstett, student manager of the production. Other staff members appointed were James Baccus, publicity director, and Martha Wolf, secretary.

All students interested in any phase of the production — dramatics, singing and dancing roles, novelty and specialty acts, dancing and singing choruses—are invited to report in Festival hall during the three days, it was announced. Those desiring to fill other remaining staff positions, including advertising, script reader, properties, stage hands and carpenters, accompanist, electricians, costumes, and radio features, were also asked to submit their names.

Supervising the tryouts will be members of the faculty advisory committee, assisted by Miss Alice Bender, Ernest Van Vlissingen, Miss Adda Blakeslee, and Director Smith. Careful attention to every applicant will be given with equal opportunity for all to find a suitable role in the production, declared production chiefs.

An unusual feature of the tryouts will be a contest among interested students to find a new radio speaking voice to conduct the regular series of pre-curtain advertising air shows, which are broadcast each week directly from Festival hall. Earl Hodgson of the extension radio division and Ken Kennedy of WDAY will assist in the judging, and the best voice will conduct the broadcasts.

Costume directors will also be chosen in a similar competition under direction of Ann Brown of the art department, with aspiring artists submitting drawings of suggested costumes.

Federal Fund And College Improvements

A SOURCE of wonderment to many people has been the failure of this college to receive any permanent buildings or improvements under PWA or WPA projects.

To think of the needed improvements which could profit from the use of federal funds for either labor or materials is of course an easy task.

Objections are the state will not furnish appropriations to meet the remainder of the needed funds. We wonder if this couldn't be done if some really conscientious planning were indulged in by our college administrators.

Why haven't we received any such improvement? Could it be our administrative leaders have been lacking in leadership in this phase of our school development?

Legislature Should Consider Teacher Salaries

THE CRYING need of NDAC from the state legislature is increased teachers' salaries if high educational standards obtainable only through competent instruction can be maintained.

Gov. Wm. Langer's suggestion to the state legislature in regard to this problem is heartening.

This is his opinion: "Our teachers, whether in rural schools, high schools, or institutions of higher learning, must be competent, and we must be willing to pay them well for the services they render.

The Editor's Corner

BUSTLE aplenty might well characterize activities of local students this coming term. Being exposed to the publicity agents of various campus functions during this coming term, one is made to realize this emphatically.

THEN THE AGRICULTURAL division will entertain the remainder of the student body and faculty in their big extra-class project, the Litt'e International, only two weeks in the offing.

chemist will appear here Jan. 14. Then, socially, we have the Senior Staff all-college tonight and the military ball in two weeks.

BISON BRIEFS

By JIM BACCUS

After three weeks of almost complete hibernation your correspondent was rather reluctant to venture out in the blizzard in pursuit of the elusive Culture reported to haunt these snowy parts.

Yogi Mohammed El Sheheri borrows the gold fish bowl and tells us what the year has in store: Senior Staff may make Mortar board. The Brevities cast will sweat blood, working day and night, but it will not please everyone.

Each term one phase of the registration fills me with anger beyond restraint. I'm referring to the student 'selection' of instructors, based on hearsay and gossip. Only the other day we heard a freshman girl say she'd had an awful time getting out of Blank's class, but that she'd finally managed after being warned away by a friend.

Trivia: Prunes to WDAY for cutting off the last five minutes of last Saturday's "Tristan and Isolde." All or none, Kennedy . . . St. Paul's new "Zypher" is the keenest bistro bargain in the Twin Cities . . . "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Dodsworth" to my money easiest in dear old 26.

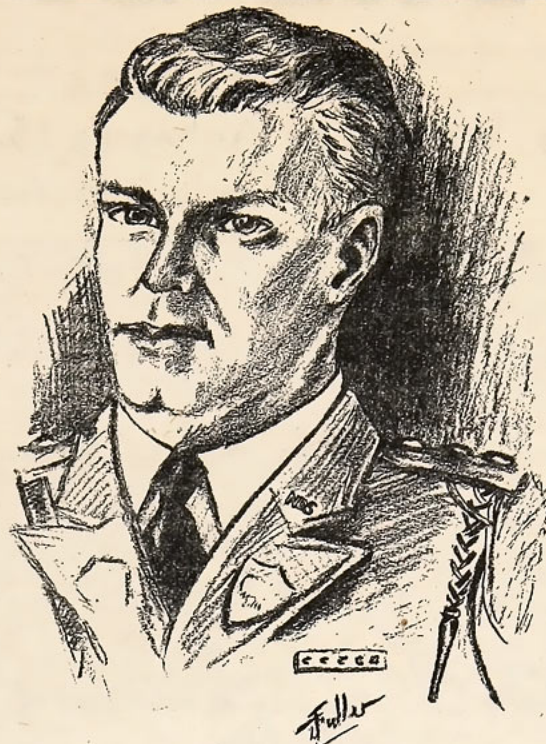

"Move over, boys! You've been here long enough; let a gal have a chance," and another of the coveted campus extra-curricular positions falls in the lily-whites of a member of the weaker sex.

The coed who did the nudging and snagged the dramatic directorship of this year's Bison Brevities, heretofore strictly a man's job, is none other than Virginia Smith, talented Ed. senior, whose talents have graced local stages for several years.

Virginia, who is filling the position held in the past by such Brevities old-timers as Dick Hamlet, Jimmie Konen, Homer Huntoon, John Hamlet, and Horace Spaulding, has served in the last three productions, pulling a neat show-steal (in cahoots with the irrepressible Putnam) in last season's dish.

Her three under-class years have also been filled with dramatic work of all kinds in the campus workshop, in class effort and out.

Names Military Ball Assistants

William Breitenbach, senior in applied arts and sciences, manager of the 1937 military ball which will be January 29, has named Eldred Lee assistant manager and second in line.

Don Buchanan, vice president of Scabbard and Blade, will be third in line, and Sam Westgate, cadet colonel, fourth. Tickets are placed on sale this week by Scabbard and Blade.

6 Alumni Married At Vacation Time

The holidays were favored for the weddings of six NDAC graduates: namely, Marjorie Ogilvie, Alfred Ballweg, Elizabeth Woledge, Geo. May, Jerome Erickson, and Arling Jacobson.

Marjorie Ogilvie, Shelby, Mont., was married to Al Haugner of Devils Lake, Dec. 26, in Edmore, North Dakota. She was a member of Kappa Delta sorority and has been teaching home economics in the Grafton high school.

Alfred Ballweg of Devils Lake married Irene Ringette of Jamestown, Dec. 28, in St. James Catholic church in Jamestown. She is a graduate of the business department of Jamestown college. Ballweg is a member of Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity and Alpha Zeta, agricultural fraternity. He is with the Resettlement administration in Devils Lake.

Jerome Erickson, Finley, was married Christmas day to Ione LaBelle, Portland, North Dakota. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and at present is editor of Steele County Press.

Indiana university students drink the cleanest milk in that state, says Docor Clarence E. May, of the chemistry department, who tests milk from each of the 31 Blooming-ton dairies every month.

Werner Is Married During Vacation

Herman Werner, faculty member of the English department, married Miss Elizabeth Corbett Ward of Springfield, Mass., on Dec. 26. The marriage took place in St. Peter's Episcopal church at high noon.

Bison Cagers Put On Late Scoring Splurge To Beat Cobbers 23-13

Bob Saunders and Russ Anderson Lead Attack Against Stubborn Concordians To Avenge Early Season Loss: Half Ends 6-6.

Rallying behind the last quarter sharpshooting of Co-Captain Bob Saunders, the Bison shook out of their lethargy in time to chalk up a 26-13 victory over Concordia college, Tuesday to avenge an early season loss in their first home game of the season.

Particularly on the offense were the Bison off form from their pre-holiday brand of ball. Their shooting during three-fourths of the contest was miserable, their percentage during the entire go being only 12 goals out of 63 attempts.

Hold Anderson

Tom Scott's team employed good defensive strategy throughout most of the game, successfully using two men to cover the high-scoring Russ Anderson.

Late in the last half, however, Saunders and his co-leader, Anderson, broke away from the Cobber defense for a dazzling scoring exhibition to pull away from their opponents.

Saunders Scores 8

Anderson was again high scorer for the Bison with 12 points, and Saunders had 8.

Bernard Dyke, guard, was the sparkplug of the Cobber attack, while Dick Foster, center, played well defensively in covering Anderson.

Sturgeon Finishes Career In Glory

Lyle Sturgeon, 260-pound bulwark of the Bison football line for three years, ended his career as a college football player on New Year's day in San Francisco in a blaze of glory, as he played the guard position for 43 minutes, the longest playing time of any guard on his team.

Sturgeon is the first player in the history of Bison football to earn a berth in an East-West game and gained for him probably more recognition than has been accorded Claudie Miller and Fritz Hanson.

In addition to his selection to the all-star West team, Sturgeon has also received offers from three professional teams—the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Cardinals, and New York Giants.

Baby Bison Beat Cobber Reserves

The Baby Bison did their part in giving their school a perfect evening Tuesday as they trounced the Concordia reserves, 37 to 27.

The Cobbers built up an 8-0 lead in the first seven minutes, but at that point Coach Johnny Smith put four new men into the fray and they overtook the Moorhead cagers to take a 20-14 lead at the half.

The frosh were held scoreless the first 10 minutes of the game and it was Kroll, Cobber guard, who rolled in the first counter for the Baby Bison.

Anderson Began Playing While In The First Grade

Small Consolidated School Gym Star Center's First Cage Lessons

That elusive pivot and unerring marksmanship which characterizes the high-scoring antics of Russ Anderson, 1936 all-conference center, co-captain of the Bison basketball team and scoring leader in the present sensational play of the NDAC cagers, was given rudimentary workouts in a small "crackerbox" gymnasium in Svea district consolidated school near Litchville when he was a mere first grader.

Tales have it that 12 years ago young Anderson, with about seven or eight other elementary grade lads, began passing and shooting the basketball. After a couple of years these same youngsters became adept enough to scrimmage the high school team which had classes in the same building.

When he got to the seventh grade, Anderson was found playing regular on the Svea high school team and his early playmates, some of them, later joined him to team up for the high school team.

During their first year of play together for Svea high school these young lads from this Litchville farming area bumped into a much taller and highly favored Arthur high school team in the district championship game at Casselton.

The game was tied at the end of regulation playing time, but young Anderson had a free throw to shoot after the cessation of play. He missed, and Arthur went on to win after three overtime periods.

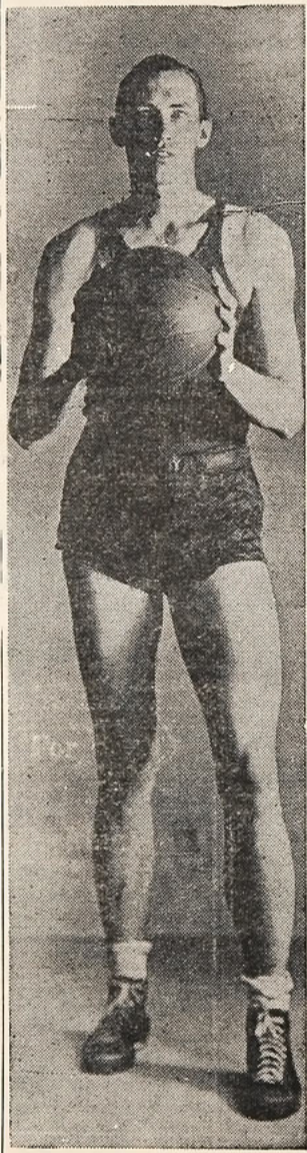

Svea high school won 27 out of 28 games during Anderson's senior year, losing only to Lankin in the finals of the state tournament.

Probably the secret of Anderson's sensational shooting is the diligent practice he gives his game. Yearly he begins shooting practice early in the fall and works just as hard during drills as during games.

Majoring in education, Anderson is undecided whether to take a teaching-coaching job or turn to semi-pro basketball when he completes college this spring.

Bison Complete Best Road Trip In Recent Years

Russ Anderson and Bob Saunders Lead Scoring in Holiday Games

Including among their victims the Gophers of Minnesota and two of their '35 conquerors, Superior Teachers and Jamestown college, the Bison cagers completed their most successful Christmas holiday road trip since the heyday of Coach Saalwaechter's teams and established themselves one of the leading basketball teams in the north-west.

Their road trip record was four wins in four starts and brought the season's record to six victories in seven games.

Summary of road trip scores:

- Bison 33; Minnesota 29
Bison 34; Superior Teachers 26
Bison 34; Jamestown 22
Bison 48; Valley City Teachers 22

Their performance was as remarkable as it was surprising. Following their stunning 29-27 upset at the hands of Concordia, local fans were becoming alarmed as to the prospects for the Bison in conference play.

While the road games were productive of well balanced team play, the near-sensational form displayed by Co-captains Russ Anderson and Bob Saunders was the highlight.

Wendell Kielty played effective ball at one forward, doing his share of the scoring, while Forrest Stevens and Carl Rorvig were both playing good ball in their fight for a starting berth at the other forward.

Howard Fraser has apparently cinched the guard post opposite Saunders, his sharpshooting in the Minnesota game especially helping to turn the contest in favor of the Bison.

Will Begin Golf Classes Monday

Golf classes will begin next week, announced Art Hanson, local golf instructor. Classes will be in the boxing room of the field house.

Instruction will be offered women at 10 a. m. Monday and at 2 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Men's classes will be at 4 p. m. Tuesday. Coeds will get one-third credit for physical education as will freshman men.

Equipment will be furnished those not having clubs, said Hanson. A $1 incidental fee will be charged.

Sport Speculations

The surprising Bison have done a lot of astounding things since their startling early-season defeat at hands of the Cobbers of Concordia college. Among them was to set off a new spark of criticism against the Gopher cage tutor, Dave MacMillan, by Twin City sports writers, fan and University of Minnesota alumni.

Coach Bob Lowe has a successful way of stemming criticisms against his basketball coaching—by coming through with strong performances by his charges against strong foes. Two years ago, after a stunning defeat at the hands of Jamestown college, the Bison finished even up in the University series.

Arnold Bernard, probably one of the deadliest shotmakers that ever wore Bison cage togs, is quite enthused about his teaching and coaching job at Stanley high school.

Bison Will Play Bunnies Tonight

South Dakota State Given Low Pre-Season Loop Rating

The Bison cagers open their 1937 North Central conference race tonight at Brookings, S. D., when they face South Dakota State.

The Jackrabbits, though not figured in pre-season dope to do much in conference play, may prove tough opposition for the Bison if they continue the sloppy form exhibited against Concordia.

Coach Bob Lowe took eight players on the trip: Russ Anderson, Bob Saunders, Howard Fraser, Carl Rorvig, Wendell Kielty, Jimmy Berdahl, Wes Phillips, and Emil May.

The Baby Bison basketball squad beat Andy's Tire Shop quint last night, 40-18. Sid Saign was high scorer with 11 baskets and Maxwell second with eight points.

Zech Renamed Boxing Coach

Instruction In Boxing Fundamentals Made Available To Men

Albert Zech, formerly one of the northwest outstanding fisticuffers, has again been named Bison boxing coach, announced C. C. Finnegan, athletic director.

All undergraduate men interested in learning the fundamentals of self defense are invited to come out, whether or not they are interested in gaining berths on the varsity team, declared Zech.

Although he lost several of the best members of his 1936 varsity squad, Zech predicted that several outstanding freshman prospects would permit the development of a strong team.

Emil May Directs Intramural Cagers

Emil May, who last year earned the reputation of being one of the best student directors of intramural basketball in recent years here, has been renamed to that post this season, announced C. C. Finnegan, athletic director.

Play in the intramural games will begin next week, announced May. Representatives of all fraternities and organizations wishing to enter teams are asked to meet in the athletic office Monday at 4 p. m., declared May.

At least 10 teams are expected to compete for the championship trophy, which for the last two years has been won by Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity. Strong entries in the 1937 race will be Kappa Sigma Chi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Theta Chi, and the YMCA.

Wednesday evening will be the first practice for rifery. The team will be chosen in a few weeks, said Mildred Tarplee, manager.

Legislature To Decide On Funds

in the colleges in the state, there is certain to be much discussion on that subject the remainder of the session. A special interim committee worked throughout the summer on the problem and made specific recommendations to the legislature, including the suggestion that the school of engineering be consolidated at one school, either NDAC or NDU.

The question of making ROTC optional rather than compulsory at NDAC and NDU, which fell through by a narrow margin at the 1935 session, will be fought out again. State Farmers Union leaders, who are pushing the optional military movement expressed the belief they were better organized than during the 1935 session and were hopeful of enacting the new law.

Hank And Morrie Olson Sign With Columbia Radio Hookup

Pair Wrote Musical Script for Bison Brevities in 1933

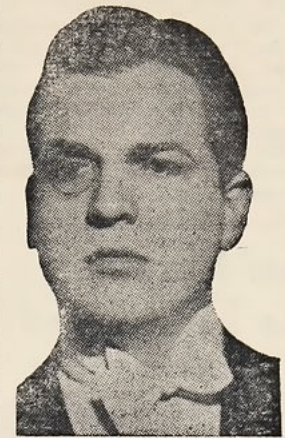

Hank and Morrie Olson, former students who in 1933 wrote the musical score for the Bison Brevities, began work under contract for the Columbia Broadcasting company at the beginning of the year. Their duties include writing script and music as well as broadcasting. They will have headquarters in New York.

Recently they have been with the George Olson band, playing with that group for more than a year, after 10 months with Ted Weems. Hank has also been with Ted Florio. They have had three songs published — "Just an Evening in the Home", "When I Yoo-Hoo in the Valley", and "The Madam Swings Out".

When they were with George Olson, Hank sang with Ethel Shutta, featured on the program, and with the orchestra quartet which he and Morrie now manage. They also wrote continuity and special features for floor shows were arranged by them.
