

10 Are Named To Membership By Blue Key

Seven Seniors, Three Juniors
Chosen By Honorary
Service Unit

Final Selections Await Word
From National Office
Of Group

Blue Key, national honorary men's service fraternity, elected ten seniors and juniors to membership. Induction will not be until approval from the national office and by the nominees has been received. Present membership in active chapter totals 15.

Newly elected are:

Fred Heisel Max Thal
Walter Ekeren Orville Sorvik
Harold Spitzer Francis Ladwig
Robert Erickson Kent Helland
Harry Graves Maurice Benidt

Heisel ATO Head
Heisel, senior in engineering, is president of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and active in engineering organizations. Ekeren, senior in pharmacy, is president of Kappa Psi fraternity, member of the YMCA cabinet and member of the student commission. Spitzer, a senior in engineering, is former business manager of The State College Engineer and treasurer of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity.

Choose Grid Captain
Erickson, a senior in agriculture, was captain of the football team, house manager of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and a member of the Saddle and Sirolo club. Graves, senior in agriculture, is president of Alpha Zeta, Hortus club, Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity and a member of the YMCA cabinet. Thal, a senior in chemistry, is president of Kappa Kappa Psi, treasurer of the chemists club and a member of Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity.

Sorvik Named
Sorvik, a senior in applied arts and sciences, is treasurer of Sigma Chi fraternity, and a member of Edwin Booth dramatic club. Ladwig, a junior in applied arts and sciences, is business manager of The Spectrum, member of the YMCA cabinet, president of the junior class and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Three Juniors Chosen
Helland, a junior in agriculture, is associate editor of The Spectrum, a member of Gamma Tau Sigma, secretary of the YMCA cabinet, treasurer of Saddle and Sirolo club and house manager of Theta Chi fraternity. Benidt, a junior in agriculture, is business manager of The Spectrum, vice president of Gamma Tau Sigma, and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Officers of Blue Key are James Baccus, president; Orville Goplen, vice president; Wilfred Rommel, secretary; and Hugh Anstett, treasurer.

Honor Society Elects Seven

Kappa Delta Pi Fraternity to Initiate Pledges in January

Seven new members were elected to membership by Gamma Delta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, international honorary educational fraternity, last night.

Newly-named are Stanley Vejtasa, Christian Schulstad, Doris Oman, Marjorie Rooney, Lorna Bach, Helen Finstad, and Ruth Stockstad.

Initiation of the members will be early in January, announced Laverne Gilbertson, chapter president. Qualification for membership include junior collegiate standing and scholarship of a grade above the upper quartile point of the school.

Present activities are, in addition to Miss Gilbertson, Eunice Arason, secretary-treasurer, Robert Russ, William Murphy, and Daisy Gessner. Prof. G. N. Lawritson is faculty counselor.

When the late Rev. Dr. Carl G. Erickson became president of Upsala college in 1920, the school had only 16 students. The present enrollment is about 400.

HEAD 4H ORGANIZATIONS

The above officers will officiate at business sessions of the state 4-H meetings here in December. They are: George Strum of Hastings, president; Edna Stepanek of Wheelock, vice-president; Edna Erickson, Devils Lake; and Charles Strehlow of Reeder, treasurer.

Committees Are Named For 15th Little International

Novel entertainment to the students in general, experience and training to members of the agricultural classes, and development of the animal coiffure and poise is the attainment the Saddle and Sirolo club aspires to in the production of the 15th annual Little International Livestock show during the latter part of January, according to Robert Williams of Larimore, manager.

Committee named by Williams to take charge of the different parts of the show are: awards, Al Artz and Merlin Toussaint; cups, Al Strong and Woodrow Wieland; decorations, Edward Schmidt and Ralph Bullock; and Arden Burbidge, superintendent of superintendents. In charge of the annual banquet of the Saddle and Sirolo club and North Dakota Breeders association will be Lyle Currie, Sigurd Nelstad and Arnold Ness.

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority won a large loving cup offered to the sorority selling the most tickets last year. A similar award will be made for the 1937 show.

Features other than the conventional coed milking contest have not been decided upon but new attractions will be secured, announced Williams and John McDonald, assistant manager.

Ratz To Address Faculty-Student Chapel Sunday

"The Young Man Who Went Away" will be the topic of Dr. A. W. Ratz of the First Presbyterian church in his address at first faculty-student chapel meeting in the Little Country theater at 8 p. m. Sunday.

The meeting is under sponsorship of the college YMCA and the direction of Richard Sweitzer, executive secretary. Monthly addresses by clergymen from various denominations in Fargo are planned for the remainder of the winter, declared Sweitzer.

Scheduled for an appearance is the girl's glee club under the direction of Miss Adda Blakeslee.

E. H. Jones Is Named Acting Head Of Education Divison

YM, YW Delegates
Plan Spring Meet

Delegates of the YM and YWCA returned Sunday from a meeting held in Grand Forks at which plans were discussed for the state-wide Y convention to be held in Valley City next spring.

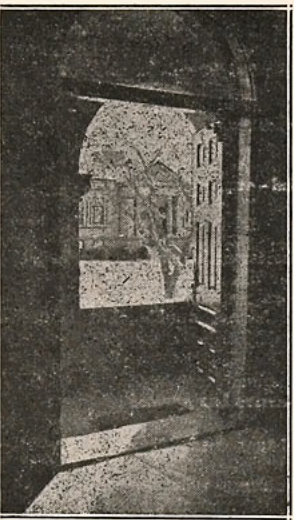

Representatives attended from all schools in the state, and from Moorhead State Teachers College. William Holland, secretary of the University YMCA was in general charge.

Nita Oleson Gets News Position On Montana Journal

Nita Oleson, '35, will leave Saturday for Billings, Mont., where she has accepted a position as society editor for the Billings Montana Journal, a daily. For the past two years she has been assistant society editor of the Fargo Forum.

During her undergraduate days, she was a member of The Spectrum staff, acting as associate editor one year. She is a member of Phi Omega Pi sorority.

Y Groups Hosts At Party Tonight

Students who are not going home for Thanksgiving will be entertained at a party in the YMCA tonight at 8 p. m. The event, sponsored by the student YWCA and YMCA groups, is in charge of Miss Delphine Rosa and Richard Sweitzer.

There will be dancing to the radio in the lobby, cards, ping pong games and refreshments. Students may go with or without dates.

Dana Leslie Is Snapshot Winner

First Place in Bison
Contest

Dana Leslie, instructor in civil engineering, won first place in the candid camera contest sponsored by the Bison, according to Joey Bur-gum, who had charge of the event.

The snapshot was one of the library taken from Old Main. He will be given two rolls of verichrome film.

David Ebeltoft of Dunn Center, sophomore in agriculture, was given honorable mention for some snaps taken of instructors.

The contest was held, according to Katherine Kilbourne, editor of the Bison, to stimulate interest in campus photography.

9:00—Alpha Tau Omega.
9:30—Kappa Sigma Chi.
- WED., DEC. 2:
7:00—Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
7:30—Theta Chi.
8:00—Cosmopolitan Club.
8:30—Phi Upsilon Omicron.
9:00—YWCA.
9:30—Women's Athletic Association.

contracts for photography and engraving as approved by the board of publications. McCracken's studio was given the contract for all group pictures, and Dewey's studio, individual photos. The Bureau of Engraving at Minneapolis was given the engraving contract.

For the first time in the history of the yearbook, announced annual heads, seniors will have their cuts placed in the Bison without any charge to them. They will, however, be required to take their pictures, for which they will be charged, at Dewey's studio to insure a uniform background for all cuts.

The printing contract will be let soon, announced Benidt.

Spinster Skip Is On Thanksgiving

Gus II, a 15 pound baked turkey, will be carried off by the couple holding the lucky ticket tomorrow at the Spinster skip. The party, given by Senior Staff, women's governing body, will be in the Field house from 8 to 11 p. m.

Besides presenting four prizes to people holding lucky numbers, various feature numbers will be shown. Elizabeth Dewey, president of the group, is in general charge, assisted by Alice Larson and Phyllis Coyne. Chaperons include Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Brinley, and Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Breland.

EARLY EDITION

Because there will be no school tomorrow and because the staff wishes to spend Thanksgiving day and evening without the burden of editing the Spectrum, this week's edition of the paper is distributed two days in advance.

Katherine Kilbourne, Bison editor, started the annual photographic schedule by announcing dates for taking of group pictures in today's Spectrum.

Honor Unit To Induct Nov. 20

Nine Will Be Initiated At Ceremonies in YMCA

Initiation exercises for nine newly-elected seniors to the local chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary society, will be Monday, Nov. 30, at 4:15 p. m., in the fireside room of the college YMCA.

To be initiated are Howard Hegbar of Kensal, electrical engineering; Harlan Winn of Jamestown, civil engineering; Wilfred Rommel of Fargo, arts and sciences; Phyllis Coyne of LaMoure, arts and sciences; Alice Larson of Clyde, home economics; Cliff Volkerding of Fargo, chemistry; Don Buchanan of Fargo, arts and sciences; Richard Foster of Williston, civil engineering; and Arwin Hoge of Fargo, arts and sciences.

Guests at the initiation will be Mrs. Therese Warburton, home economics instructor and member of the Iowa State chapter, and Dr. M. E. Smith, chemistry instructor. Officers of the chapter are Dean R. M. Dolve, president; J. R. Dice, vice-president; and Matilda Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

Y Kiddies Party Will Be Dec. 4

100 Needy Kiddies Will Be Guests At Special Benefit Affair

The annual "Y" Kiddies' party, which will fete 100 poor boys and girls selected by the Fargo Union Mission, will be held Dec. 4, according to Richard Sweitzer, YM secretary, and Delphine Rosa, YW secretary.

Tickets will be sold to students for 50 cents, entitling them to a meal and paying for the meal of one child. Each student is expected to take care of one of the children during the meal and program. Tickets will be placed on sale Nov. 27 and only 100 are available.

The party will be held in the YMCA building.

4H Group To Convene Here Dec. 8 For Yearly Achievement Institute

EVERY COUNTY IN STATE BUT ONE WILL BE REPRESENTED; ATTENDANCE EXPECTED TO REACH 500

Selection of county delegations of outstanding 4-H club members to attend the annual Achievement Institute which opens here Dec. 8, has now been completed, according to information from the club department of the extension service.

Indications are that every county, with the exception of Steele, will be represented, H. E. Rilling, state club leader, said Tuesday.

Sign-Pasters To Get Fines 'Pasted' On Them--Ekeren

A fine of one dollar shall be imposed on anyone found guilty of pasting signs or notices on the walls of any campus buildings, announced Walter Ekeren, commissioner of campus.

Other violations such as cutting across the lawns, parking on the triangle, and nailing signs on the trees on the campus are also subject to fines by the student commission, declared Ekeren.

Coed Studied Under Speaker

Marjorie Danielson Labels
Warmingham "Interesting" Teacher

By FLORENZ DINWOODIE

"He is one of the most interesting men under whom I was ever privileged to study," stated Marjorie Danielson, senior in home economics, when questioned about Dr. O. W. Warmingham, convocation speaker yesterday. As a delegate to leaders' training camp, Miniwanca, at Shelby, Michigan, Marjorie spent two weeks under the tutelage of Warmingham.

"Born in South India of a native woman and English father, Dr. Warmingham seems to have an outlook unusual and broad," said Marj. This probably explains his open-minded statement yesterday, "If all Jews are like you, friend, give me 10,000 more."

"He is a great dreamer and philosopher, has published a volume of poems; and is now on a traveling, lecturing, and writing tour which he promised himself when he passed 50."

Dr. Warmingham graduated from the "U" of Wisconsin but has attended many colleges including Oxford. Carroll college of Wisconsin gave him an honorary degree in philosophy and religion. In his address to the students yesterday he spoke on "Passing Problems and Living Loyalties."

The annual Christmas party of WAA, will be held next Wednesday evening at 7:30, in the YWCA gym. Games and the exchanging of ten-cent gifts will be the features of the evening.

Bison Judging Team Guests At Chicago Alumni Banquet

Victor Sander, coach, and five members of the livestock judging team will be honor guests at Chicago Bison Booster banquet at Great Northern hotel, Wednesday, Dec. 2, according to Arni Helgason, president of the Chicago alumni organization. Pres. J. H. Shepperd will be guest speaker.

Sander and the team left Sunday morning for Minneapolis, Minn., where they will practice at the University of Minnesota for two days before continuing to Chicago to compete in the annual intercollegiate judging contest. The contest will attract about 30 teams from the larger agricultural schools in the United States and Canada.

Members of the team are Richard Hamilton, Harold Halcrow, Ralph Bullock, Merlin Toussaint, and Woodrow Wieland, the same team that represented the college at Texas in October.

If weather and road conditions do not interfere with attendance, the session this year should exceed the record meeting last year, when more than 500 farm young people took part.

7,000 in Work
In preparation for the institute, members of the club department are working with the expectation that 500 or more delegates will be present.

Four-H club membership in North Dakota has advanced well above the 7,000 mark at the present time, with the work organized in every county of the state. This situation makes selection of institute delegates by each county the basis of recognition for superior achievement. "As the institute is the highlight of the year in North Dakota 4-H circles, club members look forward to the event with keen interest.

500 Attendance Limit
Total attendance at the institute has to be limited to approximately 500, as facilities for accommodating larger groups are not available at the college.

Adding to the local interest members of the student body are showing in the coming institute is the fact that George Strum, of Hastings, president of the 1936 state 4-H club organization, is a student here. Strum will preside at all of the main meetings in connection with the annual meeting Dec. 8 to 11.

Wheelock Girl Officer
Other officers include vice-president, Norma Stepanek of Wheelock, Williams county; and treasurer, Charles Strehlow of Reeder, Adams county.

Members of the 4-H club department here at the college who are in charge of plans for the institute are H. E. Rilling, Margaret Latimer, R. L. Olson, and Lars Jensen.

Include Dress Revue
All of the leading features of former institutes are to be retained, including the annual dress revue for girls in clothing work and the show and sale of club livestock.

R. L. Olson, in charge of arrangements for the livestock show, has reported that there will be about a 50 per cent increase in this event. Entries of livestock have been accepted from 31 counties. Ninety-one head of baby beaves, lambs and pigs, the finest from each county, will be on display to fill the livestock judging pavilion to capacity.

To Honor Leaders
Special phases of the institute program will be devoted to honoring outstanding club members in agricultural, clothing and foods projects. Likewise a ceremony is planned to give recognition to the work of adult leaders of the club groups.

Groups Named To Pick Class Plays

Appointments have been made by the presidents of the classes to committees for the promotion of inter-class play contests. The committees will choose the play and the cast for their productions. Next Monday is the deadline for selecting the play.

On the senior committee are Virginia Smith, chairman, and Wilfred Rommel; junior committee, Lois Myron, chairman, Jean Vern, Gwendolyn Stenehjem, and Ruth Piper; sophomore committee, Albert Hinkle, chairman, Robert Nichols, Claire Putz, and Willa Jean Wells; freshman committee, Elmer Hogboom, chairman, Leland Stenehjem, and Dorothy Bentley. These plays are to be presented Jan. 19.

The Editor's Corner

INTERESTING are new publications and developments in the magazine and current periodical field. They are examples of the traditional ingenuity of Americans to meet ever-arising problems. This time it was the demand of Americans to get graphic, colorful and speedy presentation of news. Of course, the radio supplies both speed and color in presentation of news events, but the American public also wanted to read about.

THUS, WE HAVE

the popularity of Readers Digest, which presents literature and news in its pithiest form. Now we have, in addition, the many new pictorial—rotogravure sections, pictorial news magazines, weekly or monthly—which depict current happenings speedily and colorfully.

TO BE GIVEN A REAL

break in the matter of representation in the forthcoming yearbook will be the seniors of 1936. For the first time in history, local seniors will have their cuts placed in the Bison without any cost to them for engraving. Their only monetary outlay will be for photos of themselves, which will be taken at one studio to afford uniformity of background for all cuts in the senior class section. The new arrangement should allow for 100 per cent representation by senior class in their cut section.

BISON BRIEFS

By JIM BACCUS

No, your correspondent did not rush out to the ballet and then back into hiding again, last week. Neither did he leave off for a lettuce and mayonnaise. It was merely that someone soaped the geyser and certain sections of the MMS were lost in the eruption, crowded off into oblivion, by the spouting Lady anonymous. Diary-keeping is dangerous. If you don't believe it, just Astor. (Fooye, but how about O'Keefe, Sunday, who said that picking up a famous violin player on short wave was the Zimbalist thing in the world?) And so off to the races.

Agric. Notes: Pete Jensen in a story for Tracy Johnson's writing class, has it figured out that the storage cellar being constructed behind the Ag. building could hold enough potatoes to feed an average sized family of four people for 307 years. . . . A white leghorn hen has broken the record of 295 for a year's laying of eggs, producing 297 eggs, 53 of which were laid during the months of Jan. and Feb. . . . Suppose Gop or some of the sports writers were to do that story, would it be something like this? "Displaying wonderful handling of the ball, the white-clad feathered fury of NDAC this year managed to squeeze out an astounding two-point victory over the former champ, Flyer Frier. Not daunted by the cold which made handling of the pellet difficult, the new champion laid 'em in there with machine-like regularity, while her opponent, suffering from a line of goose-eggs in the scoring column, never caught up to her flying leader. Only in the closing moments was the gap closed enough to make the outcome uncertain."
Hell, maybe I'm in the wrong dept.

Which reminds me of the story of the new hired-hand, who said, when the cook placed two eggs before him, "Lady, I don't dirty my plate for less than six."

People: Russ Hanson, Kappa Sigma Chi pledge, has some sort of a record. Out of two years, there have only been 30 days during which he has not seen his girl friend. . . . And those days she was out of town. . . . Roy Kappa Karr takes out another of the key Gamma Phi girls, this time Jeanne Verne. . . . Frank Sanders, former student, Bison Brev. mgr., and WDAY crooner, is vacationing from his Oglebay Park, Wheeling, W. Va., recreational work. . . .

Since the Sigs (who seem to have a monopoly on hirts with fancy removable collars) failed to have a member whose father (Lemke) was President, they will have to be content with having a member of the national organization (Dupont) who has a daughter who married the son of a President. . . . Or something. . . .

Now that Bud Hawkins has brought his girl friend here from LaCrosse to attend a hair-dressing school, why not build the football men an addition on the field house, for apartments and visiting rooms. . . . Overheard: "She is the type of a girl whose mother has a goiter." . . . Just at the moment that Doc Hunter was lecturing to the Am. History class on the sudden political movements of a period, Sally Minard fell off her stool, one of those little instruments of torture in the Zoo. lab, which the group is using. . . . Who is the U. gal that has a strangle-hold on Brauer?

Some of the results of the Pub. dept. questionnaire were interesting. I didn't realize that column features were so universally popular. Maybe this is all worth while. Of course, there were the usual absurd answers by nit-wits who: preferred the "want-ad features"; came to this college, being "a victim of circumstance"; or "believe in going to extremes"; listed extra-curricular activities as "working after school"; would cut expenses by "cutting the President's salary and having free lunches"; read the Spectrum "when it has my name in it." But they want more Spectrums, Gop.

May I wish all my readers a most pleasant Thanksgiving?

Social Climber

Tomorrow, Thanksgiving for more than one reason. Last chance this Leap Year, so everyone will try to make the best of it. From all reports this is to be a real "turn about is fair play". After all there have been a lot of parties this fall and it's about time for a new deal for the boys. Anyway it's a lot of fun. We understand someone is going to be lucky and win "Gus the II," who by the way is a ready-baked turkey. But most of us usually have to eat disguised turkey for several days after the holiday without winning an extra one. We think it would be a grand idea if the girls foot all the bills for this party. Street cars and busses really aren't so bad to travel on. By the way, nothing but street clothes will be worn. That's a warning. We ought not have any one coming in an ankle length dress and feeling like a fish out of water.

Times are evidently looking up by the looks of the crowds attending all social functions. Mighty glad to see the Engineers come out on top with their party. Did you know that Orv Sorvik once played with Red Royer and his band? Orv says the band has improved quite a bit since he left. Funny shot of the party: Leaders trying vainly to look pleasant while photographer McCracken was busy pushing buttons to take a picture, but all to no avail. Cutest shot: Commissioner Saunders and June Keefe dancing a straight program.

The Bronze Room officially opened up its grill Saturday night with a master of ceremonies well known to NDAC students. These days one doesn't have to go slumming at parties. Jerry Reep's practical joke turned out to be a boomerang, being forced to crawl down theater steps for a lady's slipper with a crowd of people gawking at him.

This week's star goes to Col. Easton for being one of the most pleasant people on the campus. He instructs the girls in riflery and they all like him.

Letter to Editor

To The Editor:

Three years ago as a freshman, I considered the American college of the nonsectarian class to be a champion in the cause of free speech and liberal thought. In our classes we were constantly being encouraged to give forth self-expression by way of pen and word. Instructors lectured heatedly upon the idea of individual interpretation based upon a background of preparation. To further strengthen our democracy, were told that such interpretation developed a mature individual who would be ready to assume his position in society as a thinking, expressive element.

Yet the very opposite idea of self-expression is being pointed out to the editor of our college newspaper. He voices his ideas through the editorial columns of his paper, and runs directly into difficulties at the hands of certain persons who fear retaliation at the hands of a political machine. The argument is presented that the college publication is no organ for political views. Is the editor of any newspaper, college or other, to be prevented from expressing his opinions as he sees fit? Is his privilege as granted under the first amendment of our federal constitution to be denied him, merely because he writes contrary to a political regime? From all indications the answer is clear.

Our instructors have presented to us the grand theory the essence of a lost system of government. I state that the students in this institutions have no freedom of expression in thought through the medium of their newspaper other than that which the censoring cliques choose to permit. Our editor has, on the basis of personal interpretation gained from a background of study, presented in particular issues his ideas. He has taken a stand as an editor should and MUST! If thoughtful discussion of politics cannot be displayed in college by maturing young men and women, where, may I ask, is it permissible to express such discussions? If autocratic formalism and yes men cannot stand intelligent opposition through the press, then the time is just about ripe for a thorough revision of our so-called democracy to weed out the rotting foundations in order to make our colleges a place wherein honest idealism and self-expression exist in fact and not in sham.

In closing I wish to state that I am not a Communist, a Smith, a Browder, or a Lemke. I voted for Landon along with Maine and Vermont.

Then and Now

10 Years Ago
Prof. A. G. Arvold left Friday for New York to fill a three weeks lecture engagement for the Playground and Recreational Association of America. Arvold returns to the college Dec. 12. Mr. Arvold is at the present preparing for the annual Christmas festival.

Night life on the campus has been banned by Dick Kraft, superintendent of the grounds. This is due to architects who insisted on using the benches for beds and neglecting Boyle's and Newton's laws. . . . Ever since that fatal day the boys have been trying to get their old hours back.

15 Years Ago
This year there will be a holiday on Friday as well as Thursday for Thanksgiving, so that students may go home and help their parents celebrate the day. . . . Today in vacation we will receive one day.

A committee of the Red Triangle club will entertain the married students of the college Friday, there being at least 40 married students enrolled at this time. The purpose of this social will be to organize a permanent married students club if there is a desire for it. Such clubs have already been established at the larger colleges. . . . Perhaps that is what the campus needs now.

25 Years Ago
Nov. 28, 1911.—The glee club was started with the enrollment of 42 boys. . . . Today the glee club is composed of 32 men who are planning to put on a farce of Romeo and Juliet.

One of the most enjoyable social dances of the year was given in the Armory Saturday evening by the band. The decorations consisted of band instruments arranged with green bunting along the balcony. About the hall were hung pictures of past and present bands. . . . Now the band concert supplants the band dance.

Bison Basketeers Open At Wahpeton Science

Russ Anderson and Bob Saunders Show Up Well in Early-Season Drills Under Tutelage of Bob Lowe; Guard Nominees Uncertain

Ten Reported At Call For Boxers

Ten fistic hopefuls answered the first call for workouts for the Bison boxing team issued last Monday. Although no coach has been definitely named, drilling will continue under Johnny Smith until a coach has been chosen, announced Athletic Director C. C. Finnegan. Al Zech coached the squad last year.

Leading prospects for team berths working out Monday were Bob Zeller of Mandan, heavyweight, Wm. McKee of Webster and Walt Crane of Leeds, light heavyweights.

Reporting for Monday's drill were co-captains Russ Anderson and Bob Saunders, Forrest Stevens, Wendell Kielty, Howard Fraser, Ernie Wheeler, Donald Blomquist, Murray Loomis, Herman Bowers and Leslie Voss. Others who will be out are Bud Hawkins, Carl Rorvig and Wes Phillips.

Showing up especially well in Monday's drill were Anderson and Saunders. Anderson seemed faster than previous years and was hitting with his usual breath-taking accuracy. Saunders was a highly improved player, for, in addition to his clever ball handling and floor play, he was making a high percentage of baskets.

Although picking a starting lineup for Saturday's game is at best a hazardous guess, it would seem that Anderson, Kielty, and Stevens will be front line starters with Rorvig possessing strong possibilities of one guard with the winner of a four-way battle between Fraser, Phillips, Hawkins and Wheeler at the other post.

Sport Speculations

By BOB WILLIAMS

It is entirely fitting that Forrest Stevens and Emil May should be co-captains of the 1937 football team, a distinct tribute to the consistent all-around play and enthusiasm of the two stars. Either and both are deserving and since both are Theta Chi's, why be choosy when it is "all in the family?" It will mark the second time that a May has been captain, a brother, Leo, acting in that capacity, and the third of the May family to wear the green and yellow for NDS. It will mark the second victory for Forrest to those who know Mrs. Stevens.

Assistant Coach Bob Lowe fairly looked daggers when he saw the Spectrum all-conference selections last week. "What is the matter with Springer?" he exclaimed. "You have overlooked the best guard in the conference." Apologies may be in order, but only in part. Placing three men on the all-conference team from a team that was tied for third place in the conference standings, ignoring men from teams that were neither scouted nor played; allowing for time lost by Springer because of injuries in important games; and attempting to make decisions on the basis of publicity from the different clubs in the loop, are all factors to consider. In the first place, is the Bison team entitled to four places on the mythical all-conference team? Which of the three Bison placed on the team could anyone omit? Can anyone question the right of Bob Erickson, Lyle Sturgeon, or Forrest Stevens, to be on the first team? Isn't the fact that opposing teams have picked these players for the selections, something to take into consideration?

Granted that Springer was perhaps one of the most valuable men on the team, sports fans will concede that there was more competition for the guard positions than for the other posts occupied by Bison players. For instance, the University of North Dakota, South Dakota State, and Omaha all boast strong lines. Outside of picking Pollard as one halfback, the backfield choices are a toss-up. Erickson perhaps is not as good a fullback as Springer is a guard, but the "watch charm guard" had the misfortune of playing in the shadow of several great guards. He also was out of the lineup in the Sioux-Bison game. Stevens and Sturgeon have perhaps played about as consistently as any men in their positions and deserve the honor of all-conference selection.

It would not be surprising to see Springer on some of the other all-conference teams, but if placed there he will undoubtedly displace some Bison player that appeared on the Spectrum selections. It is entirely a matter of personal opinion with Springer taking the rap in this case because three other Bison players (perhaps less effective than he) found places more easily on the basis of comparative competition.

In departing from this matter of football the Fargo Forum offers the squib that Lyle Sturgeon was marked as one of the best tackles the referee of the Idaho University-Bison game has seen among teams he has officiated for this year. Wheeler, too, is making himself famous with long touchdown jaunts and with the caliber of blocking offered him this year his feats are all the more amazing. With Wheeler to toss the passes and Stevens and probably the Frosh Jack Blair to receive, the Bison should have an aerial attack comparable to the New York Yankees.

College Editors

Industrial Collegian, S. D. State: As far as the basketball season is concerned the crown can very safely be conceded to the North Dakota U. outfit right now. And in track Pollard and Johnson, two negroes, can be figured on to lead them up somewhere near the top.

Miami Student, Miami U., Ohio: The state trains its fighters, the soldiers and sailors; why should it not train its administrators? Doctors, lawyers, college professors, and trained men of all professions must undergo long years of training in their field, yet the leaders of the state need have no particular knowledge of statesmanship. The founding of an academy for the training of public officers with men eligible for election to be picked by examination, would correct many problems of maladministration.

Junior Collegian, Los Angeles, Calif.: The only advantage for fascism as an alternative to democracy is that it might increase efficiency. But when evidence in the two foremost fascist countries of Europe show that they are more inefficient

Thanksgiving Season Brings Chicago Show

Chicago, Ill. — Thanksgiving season will again mark the celebration of the continent's foremost agricultural show, the International Livestock exposition. It will open here in its 37th renewal on Nov. 28, the Saturday following Thanksgiving, and will continue until Dec. 5.

The exposition will be held in the new two million dollar amphitheater at the Chicago stock yards, a giant structure that contains over seven acres of exhibit area. B. H. Heide, manager of the exposition, states that all records for the number of entries have been broken this year. Live stock exhibits will total well over 13,000 animals, he says.

TALKS ON TEAS

Constance Leeb will address the YWCA charm school next Thursday at 7 p. m., in the YMCA fireplace room, on the subject of tea serving. She will treat the problem from the standpoint of host and guest. Refreshments will be served.

then before the advent of the dictators, what possible excuse is there for wishing to turn any country into a fascist shambles?

End Season With Loss To Idaho 13-12

Vandals Come From Behind To Score Win in an Aerial Contest

Ernie Wheeler Leads Passing Attack For Thundering Herd

University of Idaho chalked up loss number five on Bison football schedule for 1936, when they turned back the Thundering Herd, 13 to 12, last Saturday. It ended the Bison season with a record of four wins and five losses on the toughest schedule any NDAC eleven has ever undertaken.

Idaho's Vandals came from behind twice to turn back the Bison in an intersectional aerial football battle. The Vandal victory wrote a stirring "finis" to Idaho football history on MacLean field. It was Idaho's final 1936 home game. A new stadium will be ready for the 1937 season.

3,200 Fans Watch

A dad's day crowd of 3,200 went wild late in the third period as the Vandals culminated a 40-yard march with the winning touchdown. With the ball on the 79-yard line, Maxon dropped back and threw an easy pass to Rex Willard, who was clear in the end zone.

The placekick was wide, but the extra point by Steve Belko after a previous touchdown was enough for victory. Idaho had scored in the second period when Dick Trzuskowski, sophomore tackle, fell on a blocked punt behind the Bison goal. The Bison had been pushed back by an Idaho 58-yard drive which ended on the 4-yard line.

Idaho piled up 203 yards on running plays to North Dakota's 122. The visitors held a wide passing margin, completing 8 out of 18 for 173 yards. Idaho completed 4 out of 10 for 108 yards. Idaho lost four passes on interceptions, and the Bison lost one.

Wheeler Stars

North Dakota scored first in the opening period on a 60-yard thrust. From mid-field, Ernie Wheeler, the spearhead of the Bison attack all day, passed 10 yards to Emil May on the 40. May dashed behind perfect interference to the goal.

The Dakotans took a 12-7 lead in the third period on another of Wheeler's accurate passes. He passed 11 yards to Bob Erickson, who ran 15 yards to score.

CHEMISTS TO MEET

Chemists club will meet Thursday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Wirth and Dan Farstad will present papers on "Recent Developments in Quantitative Analysis."

Forrest Stevens, Emil May Chosen Bison Co-Captains

Forrest Stevens of Devils Lake and Emil May of Aberdeen, S. D., were named co-captains of the Bison football team for 1937. The selection was made while the squad was en route from Moscow, Idaho, where they ended their 1936 season with a 13-12 loss to University of Idaho. Both will play their last year of football next season.

Stevens, who returned to school this year, after an absence of over a year, is being prominently mentioned for end on the North Central conference mythical eleven. May, who was conference's backfield sensation as a sophomore, played brilliantly toward the end of the season, turning in the best game of the season against Idaho. He is a triple-threat man and has seen some service as signal-caller. Both are Theta Chi's.

Wallace Speaks At Houston Meet

Olson, Walster Return From Land Grant College Convention

Leading speaker at 50th annual convocation of the association land grant colleges in Houston, Texas, was Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, according to P. J. Olson, assistant dean of agriculture, who with Dean H. L. Walster and Dean R. M. Dolve returned Sunday from the meeting.

Other delegates from here, Pres. J. H. Shepperd and Dean Alba Bales will vacation before returning. Shepperd will vacation for a time near the Rio Grande before going to Chicago, where he will be in charge of the collegiate judging contest. Dean Bales is vacationing in Mexico and will return to the college in two weeks.

Attending the meeting were 500 delegates.

Ethel Olson To Chicago Meeting

Ethel Olson, president of the YWCA, has been sent as the North Dakota delegate to the Geneva council in session at Chicago this weekend. She was chosen a member of the council during the state YW-YM conference at Grand Forks last week.

Composed of nine representatives from 12 neighboring states, the council will plan the 1937 conferences to be held at Lake Geneva, Wis., the later part of June. About 400 delegates are expected to attend the meetings where cabinet work and problems will be discussed by leaders of youth organizations.

Miss Olson attended the 1935 conference.

Male Charm School Was Well Attended

Approximately 175 males attended the "Charm School" conducted in the YMCA last night by Miss Geraldine Ewald, and were told how to hold the little finger, what to do at the table, on a date, and other Emily Post subjects.

Surprising were the number of fraternity groups (the pledges were expected), and the interest shown by the group. Immediately after the lecture, Miss Ewald was bombarded with questions concerning the ways of finesse.

The next meeting will be held in the "Y" on Tuesday, at 7:30.

The new piano in the Union music room at Purdue university was chosen by the blindfold test. Seventeen musically inclined people sitting behind a screen voted on the different makes by "hear" and eliminated the less desirable instruments.

Students Score Bookstore Prices In Question Survey

By JIM BACCUS

That long-standing, but much kicked-around question of book-store prices has bobbed up again. The question "If college expenses are too high, what changes could be made to reduce them?", included in a questionnaire issued by the publications department, was answered by some 200 students, 40 per cent suggesting lower book prices, and a cooperative supply store.

However, in giving reasons for attending this college, a majority admitted that reasonable general costs influenced their choice.

Board Costs Vary

Sixteen queries were listed, stressing school costs and activities. Results showed that board costs ranged from $8 to $25, room $4 to $10, per month. Yearly wardrobe costs, considering both sexes, varied from $35 to $300. The figures quoted are minimum and maximum, the norm lying perhaps midway between.

Movies were the most popular form of entertainment listed, with dances second. Seventy-two out of the 200 selected the movies as a regular form of amusement. Amounts spent weekly on entertainment ranged from the astonishingly low figure of 15 cents, to $9.50.

High Is $1,000

In considering the yearly total cost, the lowest sum given was $90, the highest $1,000.

Judging the social program of the campus, 115 considered it adequate, 54 condemned it as deficient, 19 thought it over-emphasized. A few did not attempt the question. Almost 50 per cent signified they attended church regularly.

Like Spectrum Columns

Of the group participating, 178 read the Spectrum regularly, 49 prefer the sports features, and 81 the column features.

Ag. Engineers Form New Organization

Over a score agricultural engineering students met last night to take preliminary steps in the organization of the NDAC branch of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. Temporary organization was made with a view of securing administrative sanction for the unit.

Officers named are Kirk Crawford, president; Frank Sorenson, vice-president; and Phil Hodgson, secretary-treasurer.

Larson Delegate To Rho Convene

Wallace Larson will leave Friday to attend the National Alpha Gamma Rho convention in Chicago as the only official delegate from the local chapter. Members of the livestock judging team now in Chicago will attend the meetings of the conference, these members being Merlin Toussaint, Richard Hamilton, and Harold Halcrow.

Meetings will be held in the State hotel.

Attractive Coeds Selected By 14 Authoritative Males

The entire college roster of "attractive" coeds got the once over this week when 14 male students, supposedly authorities on the question, got their heads together and after personal prejudices had been overruled by popular vote the selections were made.

In perhaps the most daring enterprise since Landon's time, the boys that "get around" staked their own harem and the opinions of others against the fidelity of their own hearts to perform the necessary classification.

Early in the bull-session it was agreed that the committee would publish its personnel, but as the hours passed it became more and more imperative that the names be withheld. Few names mentioned (and each man on the committee suggested a different name) withstood the verbal slaughter of the secret meeting.

It is interesting to note that every sorority is represented in the selection which proves the scope of the survey. Not a pledge nor an active escaped the discussion and no remarks unnecessary to the trend of thought were allowed.

Selections made (at two o'clock in the morning) were as follows and under the given headings:

- Best dancer: Jeane Kreiser, 8; Shirley Parizek, 3; Marion Smith, 2; Cloyce Hocking, 1; others, 0.
- Most personality: Marjorie Arnold, 3; Katherine Kilbourne, 3; Martha Wolfe, 2; Jane Schulz, 2; others, 6.
- Best figure: Jeane Verne, 6; Mary Rector, 5; others, 3.
- Best mouth: Joyce Ogilvie, 3; Sarah Eaton, 3; Mercedes Morris, 2; others, 3.
- Loveliest hair: Irene Borke, 4; Margaret Neuenschwander, 3; Julianne Reynolds, 3; Marion Anstett, 2; others, 1.
- Prettiest eyes: Joyce Ogilvie, 4; Florenz Dinwoodie, 3; Sarah Eaton, 3; Betty Lou Johnson, 2; others, 3.
- Prettiest teeth: Lois Myron, 4;

Geraldine Morris, 3; Marjorie Arnold, 3; others, 4.

Cutest: Virginia Smith, 5; Dona Jean Davis, 5; others, 4.

Best looking in each sorority (not in order): Jeane Verne, Gamma Phi Beta; Marjorie Arnold, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joyce Ogilvie, Phi Omega Pi; Ruth Pinkham, Phi Mu; Muriel Schroeder, Kappa Delta; Jane Chaney, Alpha Gamma Delta.

Thanksgiving Rites Planned By LSA

Thanksgiving services will be held by the Lutheran Students association Sunday at 4 p.m., in the YMCA. Speaker will be Rev. O. G. Olson. Following the program a Thanksgiving supper will be served buffet style.

A special invitation is extended all Lutheran students who are not able to go home for Thanksgiving, declared Harold Schulz, president of L. S. A.

FLORIDA MAN ATTACKS 'MARCH OF TIME' PROGRAM

New York City.—(ACP)—Charges that the March of Time's screen version of the life and work of the college football player "reflect improperly and unjustly upon the spirit and ideals of the present-day game," are contained in a letter written to the editors of that movie feature by Frank S. Wright, publicity director of the University of Florida and president of the American College Publicity association.

"Because your motive, apparently, was to portray intercollegiate football in the light of excessive publicizing, serious injury, distorted recruiting and subsidizing, I feel compelled to protest that portion of your release which magnified so unreasonably aspects and attitudes of the sport," Mr. Wright wrote.

FARM LONELINESS?

Lonely? Move to the farm. If loneliness is anything more than a condition of the mind, caused by lack of occupation, and consequently too much brooding and mind wandering, then a habitat where one's every waking moment is occupied should be a cure. This time need not be spent in association with individuals. It can be spent far more happily and profitably in close association with nature and her ways.

This profit is more often in the form of elation over a job well done than in a monetary reward. When the farmer finishes feeding his livestock at night and walks from the barn to the house, carrying a kerosene lantern through the snow and darkness of a February blizzard, he feels as though he has won another combat with nature. When he jerks the harness from his tired team in the evening after a hard day's work cultivating corn, the farmer smells the dirt and salt sweat in the wet shoulder pads and he glories in his mastery of nature.

Because of this everlasting conflict with nature, the farmer has not the time nor the opportunity to be lonely. He forms closer friendships with his neighbors than he could possibly have formed in the city. He has his work, more than enough to keep him from becoming lonely. He learns the real value of his products, and he learns a much deeper appreciation for the virtue of self-dependence.

FORDHAM CENTER WAS UNHERALDED FRESHMAN

The fact that Alexander Franklin Wojciechowicz, Fordham's brilliant center, was such an insignificant high school freshman that his coach refused him a uniform is only one odd item about him.

Five feet eleven, and 192 pounds, he plays a bruising game and is hailed by some critics as the greatest center in Fordham grid history. One of Wojciechowicz' hobbies is crocheting. When at home, he often helps his mother make rag rugs. He likes to cook, too.

But if you think that his crocheting and cooking make him soft, just talk to a few of the centers he has faced.

Freshmen at Southern Illinois Normal university are getting smarter with the years, according to the results of the intelligence tests given this fall. A slightly higher average is augmented by higher individual scores as compared with returns from similar tests last year and previously.

At The Movies

Coming to the Grand theater Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Dec. 3-4-5, is "The Crime of Dr. Forbes," featuring Gloria Stuart, Robert Kent, and Henry Armetta. The climax, startling and surprising, will baffle the most astute mystery-solver.

A new star team of irresistible lovers tops the film horizon as George Raft and Rosalind Russell step out arm-in-arm together in the new romance, "It Had to Happen," showing Friday and Saturday at the State theater. Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, "Naughty Marietta," that musical sensation of 1935, will play, co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. "Professional Soldier" shows for two days starting Wednesday, Dec. 4. The thrill of battle, the tenderness of romance fill the gusty scenes of the screen adaptation of Damon Runyon's rollicking story.

Friday night showing with the WDAY barn dance at the Fargo theater will be "Star for a Night," with Claire Trevor, Evelyn Venable, and Jane Darwell. In this film, Broadway comes through and a mother's dreams come true. Hervey Allen's best-selling novel, "Anthony Adverse," comes for six days starting Saturday. Fredric March and Olivia de Havilland, pawns of capricious Fate that swings them through perilous adventures and burning romance in "Anthony Adverse," are featured stars. The picture takes two and one-quarter hours to show.

The committee on health at Mount Holyoke college has issued this annual warning to students: Drink only cider that has been boiled or pasteurized, and eat only fruit that has been thoroughly washed.

Emergency School Benefitted By Teas

To raise money for the Fargo Emergency Nursery School, several benefit teas will be given next week by students of Mrs. Richard Warner's child care and training class.

Money will be used to renovate the present nursery of which Mrs. Warner is in charge. Tentative plans are for teas at the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms, home management house, Mrs. Warner's home, and Ceres hall.
