

Students From 18 Schools To Be Here Today

Dr. B. M. Christenson of Minneapolis Is Main Speaker

Delegates From Three States To Gather at College YMCA

Lutheran students expected to number 150 will attend the regional convention of the Lutheran Students Association here today, Saturday and Sunday. Delegates from 18 colleges in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota have been invited, local officials said.

Schools receiving invitations are Valley City State Teachers college, Mayville State Teachers college, Minot State Teachers college, Bemidji (Minn.) State Teachers college, Crookston (Minn.) Agricultural school, Aberdeen (S.D.) State Teachers, Madison (S.D.) State Teachers.

University of North Dakota of Grand Forks, Wahpeton State Science, Concordia college and Moorhead State Teachers college, Dakota Business college, Interstate Business college, Augsburg Business college, Oak Grove seminary, St. Luke's hospital nurses' school, Concordia Conservatory of Music, all of Fargo.

To Register at "Y"

The first delegates will arrive this afternoon and will register at the college YMCA, convention headquarters. Following a fellowship supper at Ceres cafeteria, the first session will be in the YMCA, when Dr. B. M. Christenson of Augsburg seminary, Minneapolis, will give an address introducing the theme, "Learning to Live." After the session, delegates will attend the Bison-Concordia football game.

Saturday morning's program includes Bible study conducted by Rev. Philip Dybvig of Brookings, S. D.; an address by Dr. Christenson; and a student forum directed by Rev. Frederick Schlotz of Moorhead, Minn. Dinner will be at Ceres cafeteria to be followed by a business session and Bible study hour.

The conference banquet will be at First Lutheran church at 6 p. m. Saturday. Dr. Christenson will address the evening session.

Installation of new officers and Bible study hour in the college YMCA will conclude the convention.

All local students and faculty members are invited to attend, announced Harold Schulz, president of the local LSA chapter.

Dewey, Rommel In Elizabethan Play

"Elizabeth the Queen", featuring Elizabeth Dewey as Queen Elizabeth, and Wilfred Rommel as the Earl of Essex, will be presented by the Edwin Booth dramatic club in mid November.

Rehearsals will start immediately with Miss Alice Bender as director. The full cast will be announced next week.

This play will be of especial interest because the author, Maxwell Anderson is a native North Dakotan. He received his education at the University and then taught for several years in schools about the state.

Glee Club Abandons Chicago Trip Idea

The expense involved in the contemplated plan of the men's glee club accompanying football teams on the Northwestern home schedule has prompted the committee in charge to abandon the idea.

Consequently, the local organization has been advised that they will not have expenses paid to the game and broadcast as previously suggested. Word received by "Doc" Putnam instructed that department that the plan had become an impossible step.

'Lemke Victory Song' Soon To Echo On Air At Campaign Rallies

A la "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Sidewalks of New York" is the "Lemke Victory March", which has been written for Wm. Lemke, Fargo's own presidential candidate.

Already copyrighted, the song will soon be heard over the radio, played by bands, and sung by thousands during the coming campaign. The song sheet on which the ditty is being distributed carries a large photo of Lemke decked with the national emblem as background. Small wood-cuts of Lincoln and Washington panel the lower corners.

Helland, Arnold Get News Posts

Top Appointees to Editorial, Business Posts Approved By Board

Kent Helland, junior, and Marjorie Arnold, senior, were approved by the board of publications as associate editors of The Spectrum for this school year. Appointment was by Orville Goplen, editor-in-chief. Previously, Robert Williams of Larimore was confirmed managing editor.

Other editorial appointments confirmed were John Lynch of LaMoure and Florenz Dinwoodie of Fargo, desk editors.

Approved as business staff assistants, appointed by Francis Ladwig, are Dick Cook and James Critchfield, sophomores, both of Fargo, and Kenneth Archer of Fargo, freshman.

Others named by Goplen to the editorial staff are James Baccus and Lennea Frisk, special writers. The complete reportorial staff will be named soon.

Bison Pep Club Appears Tonight

The Bison pep club, which met for an organization meeting in the YMCA building Tuesday, will make its first appearance at the Concordia-Bison game tonight, announced Doc C. S. Putnam. A block of seats immediately west of the band has been reserved for the group, he declared.

Present at the first meeting were about 40 from the fraternities on the campus. More are expected to join later.

The club was formed in an attempt to improve student yelling at athletic contests, declared Richard Sweitzer, general secretary of the YMCA, which is sponsoring the movement.

At Pennsylvania State college enrollments in four-year courses of the school of agriculture and experiment station have nearly doubled in the past 10 years.

Collegians To Hold Straw Ballot On Roosevelt, Landon

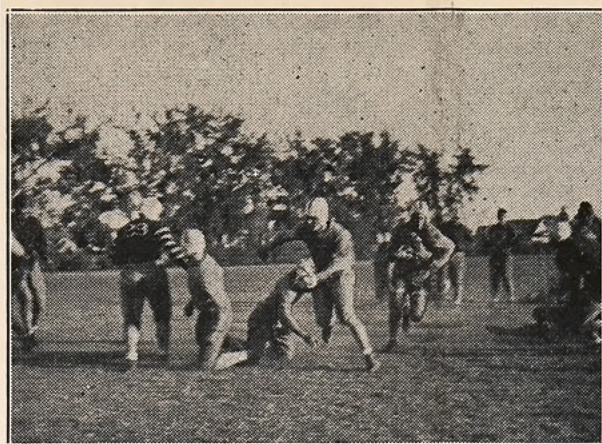

That secret longing, fostered these many long years in hearts of NDAC lads and lassies, to have a hand in things political will unfold and blossom forth in all its unadulterated glory next Thursday. On that day demure co-eds and domineering Joes will stride into an election booth in Science hall and with one bold stroke of a pen show the world whom they would choose as the next president of the United States or Governor of North Dakota.

Just in case this flowery "lead" has beclouded your vision—a straw vote on national and state elections is scheduled for Thursday in the temple of the literary minded. The booth on second floor will open at 10 a. m. and continue until 4:30 p. m. Conducted by The Spectrum, the event is open to both faculty and students.

Idea Is "Feeler"

The idea of the whole thing is a "sort of a feeler" as to which way North Dakota will go in the coming election. A. H. Parrott, registrar, commenting on the move, said:

"There are over 1,500 students on the campus. They come from homes in every section of the state. They bring with them political be-

LCT Harvest Festival Built Around 'Main Street' Theme

"Reunion of Folks Who Lived on Main Street", will be the theme of the twenty-first annual Harvest festival to be staged in the Little Country theater Wednesday at 5:30 p. m.

Special guests include Bohumir Kryl and members of his symphonic orchestra and Miss Marjorie Maxwell, soprano soloist with the orchestra who will appear in concert in Festival hall following the dinner as the first number of the lyceum series.

Other guests will be Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, and Prof. and Mrs. A. G. Arvold.

Members of the class in festivals are directing the program and will be presented to the guests as characters from Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Main Street," before the dinner and program that are to be given in the Lincoln Log Cabin.

The committee in general charge are Corrine Ballard, Arthur Hehr, Lottie Behrens, Bill Buck, Dayton Jones, June Keefe, Betty Lou Mills, Marion Morris, Marjorie Rooney, Jane Schulz, Gwendolyn Stenehjem, Mary Wardwell, and Sylvester Wolseth.

'College Engineer' To Appear Nov. 15

The first issue of the State College Engineer, a quarterly published by and for engineers, will be published about Nov. 15, Howard Hegbar, editor, announced.

Hegbar will be assisted on the editorial staff by Ralph Dahl, associate editor; Christ Hansen, assistant; and Howard Buchholtz, architectural assistant.

Robert Schultz, business manager and Alphens Forsman, advertising manager, are assisted by Eldred Lee, and Alton Lien. The office of the Engineer will be open every Friday from 4 until 6 P. M. and freshmen are urged to apply for positions on the staff.

Ladd, G-Man Is Convo. Speaker

Son of Former NDAC President Will Be Here Wednesday

Milton Ladd, son of the late U. S. Senator Edwin F. Ladd and fourth president of NDAC, now a federal G-man, will appear at convocation in Festival hall next Wednesday at 9:40 a. m.

Ladd is now in charge of the Chicago office of the federal bureau of investigation of the U. S. department of justice. Although his subject for his address here is unannounced, it will undoubtedly be on some phase of work in the apprehension of criminals.

Worked With Hoover

The work of the former Fargo boy has brought him national supervision. He has collaborated with J. Edgar Hoover, director of the G-men, on several cases.

Ladd received his grade school education at Roosevelt, attended ninth grade at Horace Mann, and was graduated from Central high in 1921. At this time his father was elected U. S. senator and the family moved to Washington, D. C., where Ladd attended George Washington university and was graduated with a law degree in 1927.

Directs 58 Agents

After practicing law a short time in Washington, he was admitted into the department of justice. He now has 58 agents under him in the Chicago office. His appearance here is under the auspices of the Fargo Kiwanis club.

Kappa Kappa Psi Has Dinner For Prospects

Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, held a dinner for prospective pledges last Wednesday evening in Ceres Hall. This group is selected from the concert band, second band, and the drum and bugle corps on a basis of musicianship, scholarship, and personality. Formal pledging will take place in two weeks.

'Beards' Edict To Be Enforced Says Saunders

Violators of Mandate Must Face Weekly 'Kangaroo Kourt'

Homecoming Plans Include Buffalo Barbecue, Float Parade, Dance

Embryonic beards made their appearances on the campus yesterday as the edict issued by Robert Saunders, student body president and Homecoming chairman, went into effect. All men students must refrain from shaving until Oct. 31, Homecoming day, according to Saunders.

"Kangaroo Kourts" will be held weekly to enforce the mandate, Saunders declared. Fines will be levied on those who insist on appearing shorn of their whiskers.

Prizes for the "best" and "most artistic" beard will be awarded between halves of the Bison-Sioux football game and a booby prize will go to the student with the finest "fuzz".

Other plans for the "Gay Nineties" celebration include a barbecued buffalo to be sold at the game, a "pioneer" float parade, plenty of cow bells, and a huge dance in the field house.

The annual freshman bonfire will be Friday night.

New College Group Has First Meeting

The first regular meeting of Hortus, organization of horticulture and forestry majors for the purpose of promoting social relationships between faculty and students, was held Wednesday night. Harry Graves, president, and Richard Hamilton, secretary, of the club organized last spring, presided.

Donald Scott, assistant horticulturist, discussed highlights of his Great Plains horticultural tour which extended into Canada; Harry Graves spoke concerning the U. S. D. A. potato tour through the states of Iowa, Minnesota, and North Dakota; and Edward Scott uncovered his experiences with the Ferry-Morse Seed Co., as program features.

Staff members of the organization are Dr. A. F. Yeager, head of the horticulture department, Victor Lundeen, extension horticulturist, C. B. Waldron, forestry, and Scott.

Student members include Chuck Birkeland, Allen Burman, Harry Graves, Gaylord Hild, Emery Langseth, M. B. Lien, Robert McDougall, George Nelson, Joe Shultz, Edward Scott, and Ralph Smith.

A vegetable and fruit exhibit of the department has been arranged by the group in the agricultural building for the purpose of displaying varieties and quality of products raised on the experimental plots.

A. C. GRAD IN RACINE

Clarence F. Vogel, formerly of Lark, North Dakota, a graduate of the North Dakota Agricultural college, with a major in agricultural engineering in 1931, is now located with the advertising department of the J. I. Case company at Racine, Wis.

'Erickson Day' Is Planned By Blue Key Fraternity

Promotion of an "Erickson Day" to honor football Captain Bob Erickson and his many Larimore supporters was a suggestion entertained and approved at the first meeting of Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, last night.

Further plans to assist the student commission in its homecoming plans for Oct. 31 developed into an elaborate plan to serve barbecue bison on Dacotah field during the two hours preceding the annual Sioux-Bison football clash. Robert Williams, chairman, John Seeba, and Donald Ward were appointed to make arrangements for a gala celebration in honor of the football captain.

Dayton Jones, James Baccus, and Howard Hegbar comprise a committee to explore the possibilities of changing the nature and management policy of the Bison Brevities, annual all-college show sponsored by Blue Key.

Kryl, World's Most Remarkable Cornetist, To Give Concert Here

Symphony Group to Open Annual Lyceum Series in Festival Hall; American-Born Margery Maxwell Is Soloist

Presenting Bohumir Kryl and his symphony orchestra and Margery Maxwell, soprano, the first of the numbers of the 26th annual lyceum series will be given next Wednesday night. The program begins at 8:15 P. M. in Festival hall.

Kryl, recognized by countless musicians of world fame and called by the Los Angeles Times "the most remarkable cornetist in the world," is presenting the music-loving public a symphony orchestra comprising an exceptional personnel of artists.

This organization, now making a coast to coast tour, is entering upon its 32nd consecutive season, during which period it has given over 12,000 concerts and traveled over a million miles. That the educational factor of the concerts is fully appreciated is demonstrated by the repeat engagements at colleges and universities where the orchestra has appeared.

Like Pipe Organ

Of the music, the Philadelphia Ledger says: "At times the music seemed almost to die away, leaving only the echoes of the pipes of Pan, and then again it swelled with all the fury of a mountain stream, to a volume and mellowness of a great pipe organ."

Miss Maxwell is an American-born and American-trained artist who has an international reputation, having appeared in many European as well as American opera companies. A Washington Post critic writes, "Margery Maxwell was a pretty, appealing Mimi... She possesses histrionic talent of a high order as well as a voice of beauty and balance."

Has Clear Soprano

The La Petite Gironde of Bordeaux, France, states, "Very real and justified was the success of Mlle. Maxwell. The artist possesses a clear soprano voice, high and easy, always true to pitch, very sure and cleverly directed."

Students will be admitted upon presentation of registration cards. Single tickets and reserved seats may be purchased by calling the Little Country theater in Old Main.

Art Exhibit Will Be Here Oct. 12

A group of 12 paintings by foremost American artists will be exhibited in the foyer at the left of the entrance of Main building, Saturday Oct. 17, Miss Ann Brown, head of the art department announced.

Distributed through Living American Art, Inc., they are showing throughout the United States.

The plan is to choose each year 48 pictures for reproduction by the colotype process for distribution through exhibitions. Selection is made by a permanent jury, whose members are Louis Bouche, Alexander Brook, Adolph Dehn, well known artists, and Professor Hughes Mearns of New York university. Original paintings were loaned by museums, colleges, individuals and the government.

Home Economics Registration Up

More girls are registered as freshman in home economics at NDAC this year than in any previous year, the class totalling more than 100 and necessitating new sections in all freshman subjects, says Alba Bales, Dean of the Division of Home Economics.

Miss Bales also points out that an unusually large number of sophomore and junior students have transferred into the school from other colleges and universities which do not offer home economics training or which offer only one or two years of work.

"Those transfer students have little difficulty in getting degree in four years, provided they have had the basic sciences as a background for their courses in foods and nutrition," she says.

Promote 95 In AC Cadet Unit

Buchanan, Erickson, Howland Named Staff of Local Cadet Colonel

Announcement of promotions of 95 students in the advanced course of ROTC was made this week by Lieut.-Col. J. D. Easton, head of the college ROTC unit. Promotions were effective on Tuesday.

Composing the battalion commander's (previously named as Sam Westgate) staff with the rank of captains will be Don Buchanan, adjutant; Robert C. Erickson, supply officer; and Donald Howland, plans and training officer.

Named as company commanders with the rank of majors, are William Gallagher, Robert Gwyther, Frank Sorenson and Wayne Springer. Platoon commanders with the rank of captains will be Hugh Anstett, William Breitenbach, Jr., John Cook, Walter Crane, Robert Larson, Maynard Nesvig, Chester Olson, Francis Osborne, Jack Riedesel, Arnold Rustad, David Taylor and Don Ward.

Commissioned as first lieutenants are Arthur Becker, Robert Cryst, Raymond Ftjar, Donald Hill, Phil Hodgson, George Knauer, Eldred Lee, Homer Morgan, Walter Olson, Dan Peterson, Ward Redmond, August Reep, Robert Saunders, John Seeba, and Earl Vollrath.

BISON BRIEFS

By JIM BACCUS

Inquiry Dept.: This week I start a new paragraph, facts gathered from busy people who are doing interesting things. This is about Earl Hodgson and his Ag. building broadcasting studio. The interior was designed by a Chicago Masonite agent. The instantaneous recording machine (with a 125-lb. turn-table revolving 33 r.p.m.) is one of two in college use today, the other being in Arizona. Earl can record any program directly from the air, or make records in the studio, using disks of aluminum, covered with acetone. Orville Sorvick and Wilfred Rommel, seniors, are aiding in the work. I predict the project, serving WDAY and KFJR (Bismarck) with direct programs and recordings on home-making, extension work, will soon become an important center for college publicity.

First Lieut. Homer (Les) Morgan explained it to me. It seems Napoleon had a cowardly regiment. So he ordered that the men wear a rope with a nail on it, and that any other soldier, seeing any more cowardliness, could nail the craven to a convenient tree. But the regiment proved itself, and the rope and nail became a mark of valor. That's why the ROTC officers are wearing the braid and bit of metal. The "nail" (made in France), added to the belt buckle (made in England), puts the finishing touches on the uniform (English design).

Thots while hurrying: People following the career of Clifford Odets, dramatist, will be interested in his screen adaptation of "The General Died at Dawn" . . . Jack Benny will be back Sunday at his regular time. . . . Hurray! . . . Also Fred Allen on Wednesday, Oct. 7 . . . The band wants to do its bit to revive game enthusiasm, so Doc has dug up that old "Hunting Ducks" tune, complete with new words . . . Listen for it tonight . . . The Pep club has the lyric learned . . . Let me add my congratulations to Mr. Arvold on booking Tibbet . . . I can hear "Glory Road" right now . . .

... If my 160-lb. baby brother starts in the Concordia line tonight, will you Bison be careful and give him the works sorta easy like?

Let me say to the Commission that I think the Homecoming plans are great. I myself am an honorary member of the Hedgers Club, formed in one of the frat houses the other night to get a head start on the beard cultivation, and my crop is almost past the itching stage. From a journalistic standpoint, the pioneer theme and whisker growing idea is a natural buildup, and I hope that the student body and faculty join in the spirit. Blue Key is sponsoring the barbecue, which once more forms a part of the program, and is also directing the Erickson Day ceremonies, designed to honor Captain Bob Erickson and Larimore, his home town. I feel it's a fine gesture; you deserve it, Bob. The theme is abounding in float possibilities, and with good weather, and the savory tang of barbecue floating across the campus, Homecoming should be a gala occasion. Watch for that special alumnae supplement two weeks hence.

I must offer my most humble apologies to the library. It seems they received "Gone With the Wind" several days before last week's stint saw light. Faced with the mute index-filed evidence presented by brighter-eyed librarian Dorothy Ford, I admitted my error, suggested she show some evidence to her co-workers, left my name for reservation.

People: Some say that Jack Cook only lost his sweetheart pin in the car and found it the next day. Some say that the hitch-hiking Florida gal got the bauble which was mean for Jack's one and only) when he was returning from the Chicago frat school with brothers Phil Garberg, Joey (lineman) Burgum, Hugh (Dapper) Anstett, and Mike Benidt. I don't know, but I can tell which would make the better story. . . . Did you notice the black eye that Gene McCarthy is sporting? . . . That already famous collection of Indian relics, and fossils unearthed at Fort Peck was gathered by Ida D. Tourlotte, land agent for the project. He is the uncle of Frances Tourlotte, Home Ec. jr., and Tourlotte City, Mont., is named for him . . . Robertta Saueressig, McClusky, and Jimmy Moore, Fargo, are two more Yellowstone "sages" . . . Bob McCracken spent part of his summer at a national photographers' school, Winona Lake, Ind.

The Editor's Corner

Political huddles in the halls of Science hall, the Ag. hall, Old Main, in the Y Dugout are the program for college students during the coming week as they fall in line with their own straw poll on presidential preference. Already political prognosticators like Al Brauer of the Y Dugout, Harold Olson of Aneta, Marty Depuy of Grafton, are lining up followers for their political camps in an attempt to swing followers toward their favorites. Lemke, Roosevelt, and Landon should be mentioned frequently on the campus this week.

Some little comment has come to this desk on setting an early deadline, Tuesday, for society news and other routine stories. In order to handle copy for this year's size of the Spectrum, it is necessary to get a part of it to the printer early in the week to facilitate making up the paper. Society items, columns, editorials, and feature stories lend themselves most conveniently to this method of handling. Thus the request for those items so early. After the weekly Monday sorority meetings, plans for weekend occurrences could be developed by publicity chairmen of the organizations and given to Spectrum reporters. A good plan for all organizations is to have publicity men who will handle all news promptly. It will make for a better Spectrum.

SOCIAL CLIMBER

By LENNEA FRISK

Another rushing week over and everyone is mighty glad . . . Will brothers never learn that in spite of sorority friends, etc., little sisters have to be sold on their own merits? We think that fraternity men ought to be under the jurisdiction of Panhellenic . . . they certainly do enough dirty rushing. It seems to me that that sort of thing would be against the fraternity spirit . . . It is generally believed that the quota system was very successful this year. Through it all, we have been able to equalize the groups to a certain extent, except in one case which we hope to remedy soon.

We thought that picking up salt shakers was a thing of the past, but it seems one group on the campus still thinks it's collegiate. Fraternity pins on the loose again. Don Buchanan, Sig president, is without his these days. The object of his affections doesn't seem to be wearing it but it is perhaps lost already . . . The SAE's have two phones nowadays, girls, 1313 and 1312 (free advertising) "twice the service for the same number of men" . . .

Another free ad . . . Freshmen, in case you haven't acquired the coffee hour habit, it's being done by juniors and seniors who have spare time and also those who haven't. In case any of the fraternities are planning any semi-nude Indians to appear on your homecoming float forget about the idea because the weather is going to be a bit too cold. Look what the last homecoming did to the vitality of the SAE's . . .

We hear that the Sig's are building up the arches of a couple of new pledges so that they can lead balls as well as men. These days Les Morgan is complaining about the fact that it is so long since he spoke to his girl friend due to rushing, campus sister committees, etc., that she calls him by his last name. Will someone help out the poor freshman who flunked the English exam and has been looking for the sub-English class for the last few weeks? . . . Jim Baccus has a head start in the whisker growing contest, guess he got frightened when he heard about Westgate and his Vigilantes. By the way the climber has a good one on Baccus. A few issues ago Jim remarked what an interesting instructor Mr. Werner was and was seen later blissfully sleeping through one of his lectures.

NOTICES

Girls! It is not too late to try out for the Girl's glee club which is under the direction of Miss Adda Blakeslee, voice instructor on the campus. This organization meets from 12 to 12:30 every Tuesday and Friday, and any girls interested in belonging to the glee club may appear for a tryout any time during the day on Tuesday and Friday.

Room 215, Agricultural building, is again available as a reading and study room. Agricultural students are urged to make the greatest possible use of this room.

P. J. Olson, Ass't. Dean.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary Economics sorority, announces that they will do catering for teas and parties for any organization on the campus.

Student Opinion

When a few spoil the fun for many, something ought to be done about it. And it seems something has been done about it. This time it was something to spoil the fun of all . . . that is, of all the girls. Because a few of the women on this campus have not been brought up to respect the rights of others, the smoking room in Science hall has been closed to those who know how to keep a room clean as well as the afore-mentioned untidy ones.

If habitual smokers could only learn to use the ash trays, instead of throwing lip-stick smeared stubs on the floor, it would not be necessary for them to retire to cars and vacated halls to indulge. Efforts have been made repeatedly to keep the lounge room looking like a lounge room instead of the dirtiest hole on the campus. All these attempts have been futile, and it is no one's fault but the girls!

Try to develop a little pride in this room, even though heretofore that characteristic has been long neglected in your dormant soul. Try at least to appear tidy, and cast your cigarette tray-ward instead of upon the floor!

Cobbers Invade Bison Pasture To Attempt Revenge Of 8 Losses

By ORVILLE GOPLEN

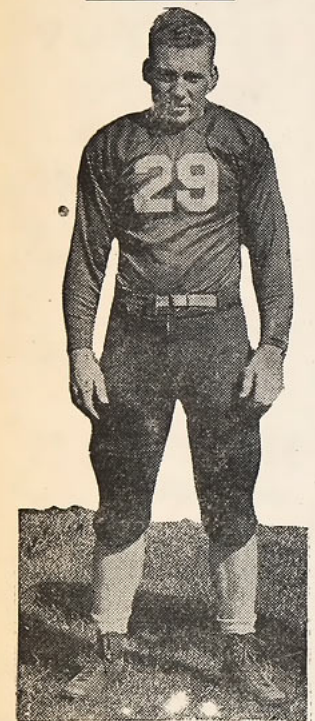

Concordia's hard charging Cobbers will invade the stronghold of the Bison, 1935 North Central conference champions tonight at 8 p.m. to attempt their first victory in a 12-year football rivalry.

Although the Bison are the favorites, Concordia has one of the toughest teams in years. It held Winnipeg to a 21-19 count, while the Bison were turned back by the same eleven, 33-13. This would make the Cobbers paper favorites, but close observers maintain the Winnipeg team was set for the Bison, while they were not trying strenuously against the Cobbers.

The Bison will enter the contest without the services of Wes Phillips, first string quarterback, who was injured in the Winnipeg contest. But Elmer Schrank has been showing promise at the post and will be a satisfactory replacement.

Leading the Clobber team is Henry Held, hard-charging back, and John Butorac, veteran lineman.

Since the Bison first met the Cobbers in 1924, the Herd have won eight games and tied one. No games were played in 1925, 1927, and 1928.

Schrank Heaven Elmer has at last graduated from the ranks of the understudy and tonight will start the game as quarterback, a position he has been fighting for all season. Schrank is the kind of a backfield man that uses brain and brawn to become the idol of the other backfield men for his blocking and play generalship. Captain Erickson says, "Give him a write-up Diz, you are just like the rest of the fans, you see the ball carrier and give him a big boost but forget the ten men making his gain possible." When Bob says that, I at once decide that I have been overlooking something. Inspection of practice the last few nights bore out the truth. Watch this Grafton boy.

Winnipeggers, Former Bison, Victors, 33-13

Ernie Wheeler Outstanding For Losing North Dakota Gridders

Bud Marquardt Scores For Winnipeg on Long Passes

Their defense crumpling before the combined air and running attack of the powerful Winnipeg rugby team, the Bison fell 33-13 victims of the Canadian champions of 1935. Leaders in the Winnipeg offensive were Bud Marquardt, Fritz Hanson, and Cy Peschel, all former Bison stars.

Marquardt was especially brilliant in the air attack, catching two long passes from Russ Rehholz, former Badger ace, for touchdowns. Other Winnipeg touchdowns came via two off-tackle thrusts of Pete Somers and a pass from Bob Fritz, former Clobber, to Joe Perpich. Rehholz made three conversions.

Sensational even in defeat was Ernie Wheeler, newly-found Bison sophomore star, who scored both touchdowns for the local chargers. His first came when he intercepted a Winnipeg forward and ran 70 yards for the goal, outrunning Fritz Hanson, playing safety for Winnipeg, in his touchdown dash. He plunged from the one-yard line for his second and also converted. In addition, he was on the throwing end of the Bison air game, which showed occasional flashes of success.

Although Wheeler's performances were brilliant, big Bob Erickson, Bison captain and veteran fullback, played his usual hard-hitting game. Wes Phillips, at quarter, showed promise as a pass receiver.

Andrus Talks To Spectrum Newsmen

Charles Andrus, state editor of the Fargo Forum, led an open forum discussion on news writing and content before 25 members of the Spectrum editorial staff last Tuesday.

Similar meetings will be held weekly at the Spectrum office Tuesday at 4 p.m., announced Orville Goplen, editor of The Spectrum.

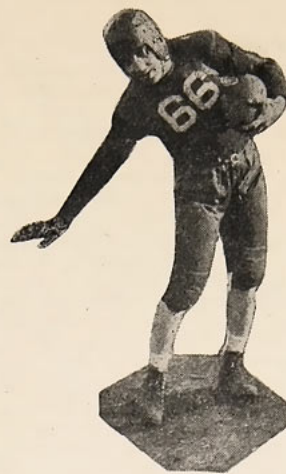

INVADING COBBERS MAINSTAYS

The Concordian states, "Henry Held, upper right, stumpy signal caller, might catapult his symmetrical torso across the goal line for a Clobber triumph," which means just that to anyone who has seen this veteran in action.

Upper left is Pete Syvrud, and lower left, Al Dyke, two mainstays in the strong Clobber line that will attempt to open the hole for that predicted catapulting of the backfield torsos.

John Butorac, lower right, veteran lineman will catapult without a hole if the backfield can heave a pass or two through the Bison's improved defense (we hope).

Baby Bison Win Over Science 25-0, In Opener

The Baby Bison, after turning back the most serious threat of the opening half, held Wahpeton Science off on the 12-yard line in the initial period, then came back after two scoreless periods to run over three touchdowns in the third quarter, defeating the Wildcats 25 to 0, last Friday.

Jack Blair, end, scored the first touchdown on a pass from Peterick, who converted the only score with a place-kick from the 12-yard line. Nooky Schranz, at right end, received a pass from Peterick on the Bison 45-yard line, hauled the pigskin over for the second tally. Gorman King, the yearlings' stubby halfback, carried the ball over after a strong running attack had brought the ball to the goal line. In the final period, Peterick again heaved the ball to Blair from the 15-yard line, to score the last touchdown of the game.

In the last few minutes of play, the Wildcats muffed their best scoring opportunity, losing the ball on downs on the Bison one-yard line.

Sport Speculations

By BOB WILLIAMS

The "master builder," Finnegan, is not licked and has the backing of the supreme optimist, Bob Lowe. Saturday's loss may have a psychological effect on the players (and even on Concordia) that will inspire the herd to upset the dope bucket for the third successive week-end. It is my opinion that Concordia is in for a shellacking. Concordia held Winnipeg to a three-point advantage just two weeks ago and on the basis of comparative scores should give the Bison quite a struggle.

But put the cards on the table.

According to reports from Canada, the Concordians did not meet the same team the Herd faced a week following. You will understand that Winnipeg has, fundamentally, a professional team. They have a league title to defend in the foreign city. Two weeks ago they were preparing for a game with Regina, their toughest competitor.

Consequently, rather than take unnecessary chances in having key men disabled, they fought the team from across the river at half strength. The Bison found a different situation to contend with. The Bison met a team at full force, a team made up partly of former AC players who knew plenty about our style of play, and a team bent on beating the conference champions.

The game did expend the prime weakness of the local eleven, that of poor pass defense. We were unable to cope with the pass attack of Omaha and a week later blew a game on the same weakness. This may also lead to a wild game tonight with Concordia undoubtedly spotting this weakness and filling the air with uncountable whips into the hands of an outstanding pair of ends. But the Bison ground game held up well both defensively and offensively against both opponents thus far. If Casey can develop a pass defense, we should have little trouble with the Moorhead boys.

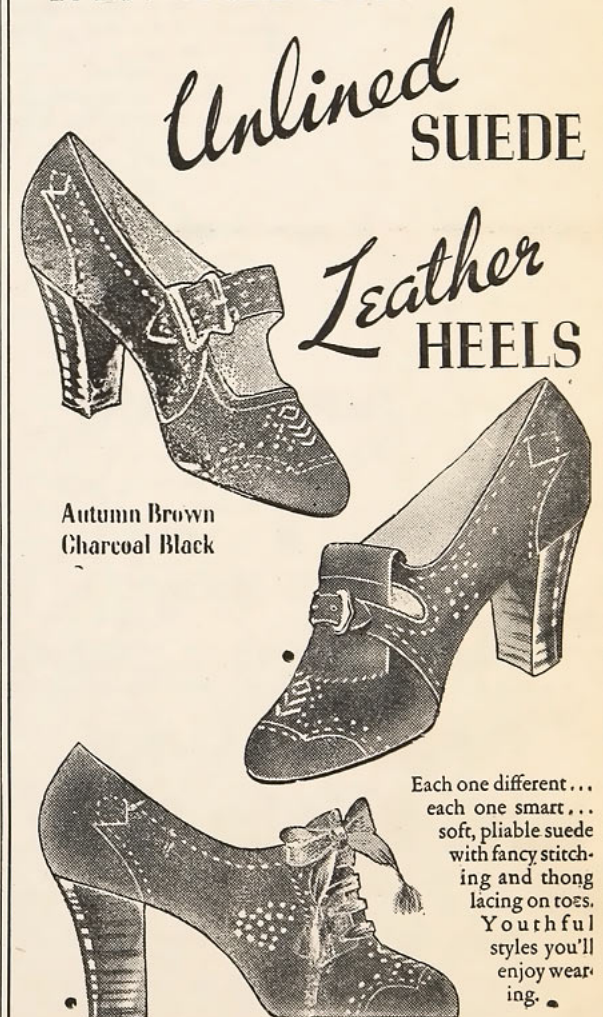

The freshman squad lived up to expectations in turning back the Wahpeton charges last Friday. The effectiveness of the attack may lead to the first success against the University freshmen in a good many years. Our freshmen have always been handicapped because of a poor offense, the result of using the frosh squad for varsity dummy practice and forever putting them on the defensive.

We have always been able to develop individual freshmen into varsity material capable of trouncing the University but have always taken the rap in freshmen games. The wealth of material showing up this year would lead us to believe that the University Papooses will have a job on their hands in spite of our poor team play.

PLACE SIXTH

With a score of 1810 out of a possible 2000, the NDAC team placed sixth in the Scabbard and Blade national rifle matches. First place was won by the University of West Virginia with a score of 1911.

At The Movies

With one stage show booked and many famous movies showing, the following week's performances should prove interesting for NDAC theater-goers.

Tonight only, the Fargo will have as an added attraction the WDAY Barn Dance, with Ole Anderson, famous radio personality, as master of ceremonies. Showing with the Barn Dance will be Mary Boland and Julie Haydon in "A Son Comes Home." Beginning tomorrow and showing through Tuesday will be "The Gorgeous Hussy," a movie of the early South starring Joan Crawford, Robert Taylor, and Lionel Barrymore. Wednesday and Thursday will bring "Sworn Enemy," a story of present-day crime operations featuring Robert Young, Florence Rice, and Joseph Calleia.

Showing this weekend at the Roxy is "Remember Last Night," with Edward Arnold, Constance Cummings, and Robert Young. Beginning Sunday, a first run Gaumont British picture called "Seven Sinners," a clever and exciting mystery melodrama, which stars Constance Cummings and Edmund Lowe.

"Things to Come," Alexander Korda's film of H. G. Wells' startling forecast of the future, at the Grand Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is said to be the biggest production ever undertaken. It took 13 months to prepare, 11 months to shoot, and boasts a cast of 20,000.

Scheduled at the State for today and tomorrow is "Trailin' West," with Dick Foran, Smokey, his wonder horse, and Paula Stone. The film portrays secret agents after gold thieves. Beginning Sunday, is "Anything Goes," a screen presentation of the famous stage show. Boris Karloff, as a mad avenger of his own death, will show Wednesday and Thursday in a thrill picture called "The Walking Dead."

18 Seniors Doing Practice Teaching

Yes, other things being equal, style-minded people would choose the
Parker Vacumatic for beauty alone!
But other things, too, including performance, make this revolutionary invention the national favorite by a still bigger margin—by 9 to 4.

One important difference—its ink supply is ever visible—the ENTIRE length of the barrel. Thus it shows

Another great difference is the pat-
