Quota System For Sorority Pledging Set

Panhellenic Council Gives Recommendations for Equal Membership

PUBLISH RUSHING RULES

Two Girls From Each Group Make Membership of Organization

The quota system is to be employed among sororities for the first time on our campus, according to new rules formed by the Panhellenic council. New rushing rules and regulations have been planned in line with recommendations from the National Panhellenic congress.

The ultimate object is to uniform the size of all sororities to a membership of 35. This cannot be done all at once, but within three or four years the quota system will reach its aim. The Panhellenic congress drew up an estimate of how many girls should comprise a sorority on certain size college and university campuses, and on a campus this size Greek organizations should not exceed 35 girls.

Another recommendation to be followed is the matter of summer correspondence, whereby sororities may correspond with girls out of Fargo and Moorhead. The purpose is not only for rushing, but bringing sororities in the right light and securing more students for the college.

The party schedules have been somewhat changed and have been incorporated into the regular rushing pamphlet which will be published before school is closed.

The Panhellenic council is composed of two girls from each sorority plus their one alumni advisor, delegate and Dean Pearl Dinan. This council, with the aid of a rushing committee composed of the different sororities' next year's rushing captains, have drawn up the new rushing regulations which are to be put into effect this summer and next fall.

All-College Day Is Well Received

Displaying well planned management, the 1936 all-college day program last Tuesday moved at a rapid, entertaining pace. Every item on the program from the variety program in Festival hall to the all-college dance in the field house in the evening was attended by an enthusiastic audience.

The hits of the stage program were Don Putnam and Virginia Smith, comedy duo, and the two Roosevelt junior high jugglers. Also appearing were the Kappa Kappa Psi band in a comedy skit, the senior trio, the New Rockford tro, pianist Ed Brekke, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon quartet, and Fern O'Daniels in a tap dance.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity won the inter-fraternity sing contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega for the second successive year. Other groups competing were Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, and Sigma Chi fraternities.

BISON BRIEFS

By BOB WILLIAMS

The Progressive party's Senior Ball and the Not-so-pure's Junior Ball both ended up in the red—and I'm going to get even with that guy that bumped into me last Friday night—there was absolutely no excuse for it—any time the ATO's and Gamma Rho's and Theta Chi's can't put six couples each on the floor without overcrowding the field house there is something wrong—the whole trouble is that fraternities on this campus look upon each other with the same greed and selfishness that two babies would show over a single sucker—the Progressives didn't attend the Junior Ball because they didn't want to give anyone the satisfaction of gaining their support—the same thing became about play at the senior—as a result, both classes fell in the red—my suggestion would be that the Junior and Senior Balls be held concurrently with a senior as manager and a junior as assistant—the student body has acted as catalyst to too many experiments of the Junior class—this idea of getting a 200 dollar orchestra for the Junior prom and then charging the senior class with the deficit is putrid—if this plan would not work I would suggest that the managers be held responsible—Frame meetings are held to elect a candidate for prom manager—only one man is elected—the candidate is supported at the class meeting by the leader's fraternity, the fraternity that has a promise of second in line, and the sorority that is promised first in line, and a few barbs who attend just because they like to follow politics.

Bud Tompkins is passing nickels in an effort to find a metal nameplate dated 1883 which he is alleged to have swiped from the wreckage of the Front Street bridge. The rap is that some civic organization of Fargo has dubs on the plate for a souvenir. In the meantime someone has swiped the plate from Tompkins and his efforts to give it back to the city have become futile. The engineers had the token for a day and we wonder if it isn't hidden some place until the city gives up its search. In the meantime Tompkins will remain a recluse and the architecture department will chuckle.

Speaking of Who's Who and great names brings to my attention a list of seniors as they appear in the commencement folder. Such names as Roman Hubert Pung, the Calio prize-fighter—and Fargo's contribution, Morton Frede Wilsbech Larson, sports writer, and Gamma Tau Siger—and Benjamin Walter Dunkelberger, jr.—what's in a name—and that class motto—ONWARD AND UPWARD—that is about as old as education itself—perhaps whoever chose that motto had the same one upon graduation from high school and didn't see any use of hitching his wagon to a different star after all these years.

Because Joe Wright spoke of my column as a degenerate scandal sheet comparable to Whiz Bang, I'll have to show him that I can write silly poetry, too. It really isn't so hard—all you have to do is get in a subconscious mood such as is characteristic of Joe twenty-three hours of the day.

Hickory dickory dock
Two mice ran up the clock
The clock struck one
And the other one got away
Hickory dickory dock.

And now in one of those sentimental moods characteristic of Joe the other hour of the day—usually before breakfast with Joe.

The roses kiss the tree tops
The tree tops kiss the grass
The little birds kiss everything
And you my friend Joe.

The official program of the commencement exercises is interesting, too. Friday, the senior class will exercise and play at 8:15, it doesn't say where but most likely won't be around here.—At 9:30, Sunday, there will be a reception for friends of the graduates—this will not likely take long—and Monday, the Little Country theater will unveil another window—probably the attic window where the pigeons enter—that must be the only one left—Friday, during class exercises, Paul Boleyn, senior pruesident of the junior class, will take the hatchet from Cliff Altermatt—at last it is going to happen—but at ten they will have the pipe of peace ceremony. After the Yellow and the Green is played let us all pray for the seniors before the senior trio sings—hope somebody will pray for the rest of us, too—there is a chance for somebody to pick up a few pennies changing tassels from the right to the left side of the caps for the seniors.

Theatre Reviews

"Wife Versus Secretary" with Myrna Loy, Jean Harlow, and Clark Gable will be on the screen of the Fargo theatre tomorrow through Tuesday. Mae West exhibits her own particular brand of talent in the movie "Klondike Annie" showing at the same theatre next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Victor McLaglen has the male lead.

Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Young act in "Red Salute" at the State theatre today and tomorrow. Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor, and June Knight have the leads in "Broadway Melody of 1936" coming Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie head the cast of "College Scandal" next Wednesday and Thursday.

Boris Karloff is starred in the thriller "The Walking Dead" showing at the Grand theatre Sunday and Monday. He is assisted by Ricardo Cortez and Marguerite Churchill. Warren William and June Travis appear in "Times Square Playboy" the next two days. "The Sky Parade" with Jimmie Allen, William Gargan, Katherine DeMille, and Kent Taylor is scheduled for next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

"Diamond Jim" with Edward Arnold, Jean Arthur, and Binnie Barnes is showing at the Roxy theatre Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. "Jalna" with Kay Johnson and Ian Hunter will show Wednesday and Thursday.

Dean Slocum of the Civil Engineering Department has obtained several pieces of the old Front Street bridge for exhibit. This bridge is typical of steel construction of fifty years ago.

Perennial Mr. Lum Blossoms Again

No more certain sign that spring is finally here could be found than the fact that that publishing perennial, Mr. Lum of Wahpeton, has blossomed forth again with his annual message that this college as well as the university, Minnesota and Ames are "hotbeds of communism."

Wrapped in a sanctified cloak of patriotism, Mr. Lum has issued practically the same statement he made last year except that this year he has changed the position of the verb. Perhaps he meant well when he issued his statement yet it is as untrue this year as it was last year. The word communism has taken an awful beating the last few years from such men as Mr. Lum. There was a time when the word designated something definite, but now it is applied to any movement which dares depart from the conservative and become liberal. We doubt if Mr. Lum could give a satisfactory definition of communism without first looking in the dictionary.

The administration has denied the truth of Mr. Lum's charges, but it might have gone a step further and taken pains to shut up Mr. Lum for good; the denial of the charges might easily have been more emphatic without doing any damage. By saying that the situation here is not "as bad as at such institutions as the Universities of Minnesota and Wisconsin" is merely passing the buck. If the citizens of this state are going to continue sending their children to this college it is up to the administration, faculty, students and alumni to discredit such baseless charges as Mr. Lum's and to bring enough pressure to bear upon him that he will no longer issue his annual report. A mere denial of the charges is not enough. Of course Mr. Lum might admit that he is in error about this college, but no doubt he loves too well his little custom of accusing us of being communistic to forsake this annual pleasurable pastime. It is time that the administration, students, faculty and alumni did something about such reports and the sooner and the more emphatically the better.

All-College Response Indicates Interest in Event

One of the most successful all-college days in the history of the school has just been held. The efficient way in which the events were handled and the smooth manner in which the entire program was conducted and the response on the part of students and faculty is ample proof that such a program has a definite part in the school program.

In view of the response accorded all-college day it has the possibilities of becoming a much more comprehensive and inclusive occasion with a definite day being set aside for it. To the student commission, the YMCA, the YWCA, Blue Key, Alpha Phi Omega, Kappa Kappa Psi, Women's Senate, and Senior Staff goes the credit for cooperating in putting on an all-college day which was entertaining and packed with action from start to finish. May next year find an even bigger and better all-college day.

QUIZ

ON SUMMER TRAVEL

Q. What method of transportation is the most educational?
A. Greyhound Lines, because they travel the highways and directly reach the spots of scenic and historic interest, reach more national parks and vacationlands, use the Main Streets of towns, and serve 12,000 towns that have no other means of transportation.

Q. What is America's biggest transportation system? Name its boundaries.
A. Greyhound. Its boundaries are coast to coast, border to border, and it reaches into Canada and Mexico for good measure—50,000 travel miles. Wherever you go in America, Greyhound will take you.

Q. What is the best way home from school?
A. Greyhound, because of its frequent schedules, convenient down-town terminals, choice of routes, liberal stop-over privileges, comfortable buses with wide clear-vision windows on all four sides, skilled veteran drivers, and because of the fun you'll have with congenial fellow passengers.

Q. If your allowance is nearly exhausted and it's out of the question to wire for more, or if you have better ways of spending money than on transportation, how would you travel?
A. Greyhound—every time!

By WALT McGRATH

With track season practically over, spring football gone, baseball and kittenball turned into the hands of the faculty and seniors, and a new sports editor at the University we find very little to gripe about and as a result this column is becoming damn tough to pound out. So to ease our word-weary minds, we'll begin by going back into the past for a little prep school stuff.

Lloyd Murphy still seems to have the Indian sign on Harry Arneson when it comes to vaulting over the high bar. Murphy was a constant thorn in the neck to Arneson as a high school athlete, trouncing Harry by a mere inch or so every time they met throughout three years of high school competition. Arneson had made better marks in meets where Murphy had not competed that his contestant, but when it came to an out and out face-to-face battle Murphy always seemed to be able to get that extra inch or so to beat him out for first place. Now college careers are over and Murphy is still on top.

Did you ever know that our Bob Lowe was one of the greatest grid-ders ever to perform at the University of North Dakota? A couple of years ago a poll among the old-timers was taken to choose an all time team of University greats and when the smoke of battle cleared there was Bob calmly holding down a halfback post—and by a goodly margin too. Lowe also was noted in northwest circles as quite a ball player in his heyday, being an outstanding twirler for professional and semi-pro clubs in these parts. Maybe it was lucky for the Senior satellites that Coach Lowe didn't come out there and begin ramming fast balls down the throats of the members of the graduating class. But then tennis player Leslie seemed to have pretty fair control of the situation himself.

Speaking of all conference athletes, North Dakota State had their share of them last football season. Of the nine men left by graduation from the championship grid team of last year, seven of them were mentioned for all-loop honors by some one or other of the many and sundry elevens chosen. When you look over the roster of the 1936 grid-ders just notice how many of the prospects are going to be mere sophomores. They may not set the league afire this fall but here's laying a dirty shirt against a rusty jackknife that by the time these year's sophomores are seniors there will be another title eleven at North Dakota State.

A tree-ring calendar covering eighteen centuries has been discovered in Northern Arizona.

BISON THIRD IN STATE INTERCOLLEGIATE

Westgate Sets Javelin Record

Jamestown Garners 44 Points To Annex Title—Sioux Second With 33

Jamestown College, with a track team that was well balanced as it was efficient, completely took over the state intercollegiate track meet at Grand Forks last week and walked off with the state title by garnering 44 points. The University of North Dakota ended up in second place with a total of 33 points while North Dakota State and Mayville Teachers tied for third position with nineteen points apiece.

Sam Westgate of the Bison squad smashed the only record of the meet when he tossed the javelin 190 feet 8 inches, the previous mark being 183 feet 3 1/2 inches. This feat was all the more remarkable because there was a high wind and the contestants were forced to heave directly into this.

The other schools entered in the meet ended up in the following positions: Dickinson, 13; Minot, 11; Wahpeton Science, 9; Valley City, 4; and Ellendale, 2.

The only other mark that was close to being broken was Joe Blakeslee's height of 12 feet 2 1/2 inches which he set in 1930. Lloyd Murphy of the University Sioux, a Bismarck lad who carved quite a reputation for himself during his prep school days, came within half an inch of bettering Blakeslee's mark.

High point honors were divided between Fait of the University and Eck of Jamestown each man winning two events and taking second place in one other for a total of 13 points. Fait won both the dash events and pounded out a second place in the low hurdles while Eck took both the hurdle events and garnered a second in the broad jump.

Weather conditions throughout the meet were adverse and men who might otherwise have set records were forced to be content with lower marks than have been their standard. The result of the relay came as rather a surprise with Wahpeton Science winning easily after leading the field the entire distance.

Prof. R. W. Wood of John's Hopkins has made a "specroscope" ruled with 30,000 individual lines to the inch.

Gamma Rho, Delta Tau Win Baseball Games

Opening games in the intramural baseball league have been played with the Gamma Rhos trouncing the Kappa Psis, 6 to 0, and the Delta Tau Epsilon club whipping the Sigma Phi Deltas, 11 to 7.

There are seven teams entered in this competition and an elimination tournament will be run off. By virtue of their win over the Sigma Phi Deltas, the Delta Taus will meet the Kappa Sigma Chis, who drew a bye in the first round, to decide who will enter the finals. In the other half the Gamma Rhos will compete against the victor of the Dormitory-Theta Chi match for the right to advance to the finals. The finals in this tourney will be Tuesday afternoon.

In the kittenball tourney, Art Skurdahl of the Gamam Rho team was ruled eligible after a complaint was made as to his right to compete in the tourney. At a meeting of the representatives of the various teams it was decided that Skurdahl was an eligible man and therefore the Gamma Rhos will meet the Theta Chis for the title. This contest will be staged Monday p. m.

Bob Saunders has been in charge of both the baseball and the kittenball tourneys.

Seven Trackmen Leave For Loop Track Contests

The annual conference track meet held at Brookings, South Dakota gets under way this week-end when the seven members of the North Central conference attempt to establish their supremacy in the track and field events.

Seven scantily lads from North Dakota State will trek to Brookings where after their showing at the state intercollegiate meet at Grand Forks last week they will be greatly feared by the other teams especially in the weight events. Dietz pushed the shot put out some 45 odd feet last week to take the lead in the intercollegiate meet and as a result is given a good chance of copping this event in the conference contests. Reiners copped first place in the discus throw and Westgate set a new mark in the javelin throw with a heave of some 190 feet.

Emil May is all set to enter the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Bill Olson has been working on the discus and the 440 yard dash while Newman shows continuous improvement in his favorite, the 440, and may also be able to pick up some odd points in the broad jump. Arneson is still in the running in the pole vault although he did not enter this event in the intercollegiate meet. If he is able to pick up the standards he set up last season there is a fine chance that the Bison will be able to parner points in this event.
