Colonel R. H. McMaster In Charge of Day's Program

A. M. CLASSES EXCUSED

Exams, Drills, Maneuvers Are Outlined for Men Students

All basic and advanced military students will meet next Friday to undergo the annual spring military inspection. Colonel R. H. McMaster of the Seventh Corps Area Headquarters assisted by Major Rhodes F. Arnold will be in charge of the inspection. Major Arnold is the commanding officer of the National Guard companies in Fargo.

The entire morning of Friday, May 22, will be turned over to the military department by the school authorities, all classes being excused. The program is as follows: 8:00, assembly; 8:30, review and inspection; 9:30, close order drill by squads, platoons, and companies, extended order platoon, and calisthenics; and 11:00, tactical exercise by full strength company.

Theoretical examination will be given sophomore section one, meeting at 8:00, and freshman section six, meeting at 11:00, on Wednesday.

Freshman section five, meeting at 10:00, and sophomore section four, meeting at 11:00, will be given practical examinations Thursday. Both practical and theoretical examinations will be given in the afternoon—juniors, 1:15 to 3:00; and seniors, 3:05 to 5:00.

Alpha Phi Omega Chooses Shigley

James Shigley was elected president of Alpha Phi Omega, honorary service fraternity, at a meeting in Ceres hall Wednesday noon. Other officers elected were: Joey Burgum, vice president; Jack Cook, secretary; Robert Knauer, treasurer. The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting, May 27. They replace Gordon Brandes, president; Dayton Jones, vice president; Hugh Anstett, secretary; and Sam Doberovich, treasurer.

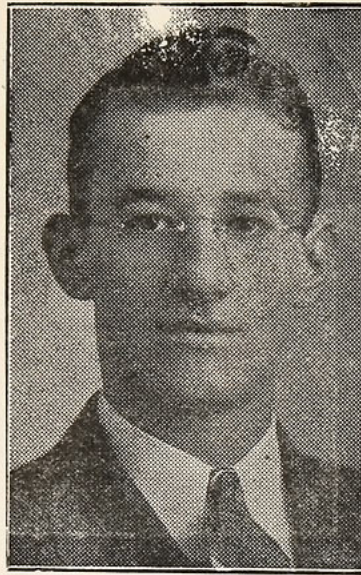

The orientation committee was also appointed. This committee consists of Dayton Jones, Chairman, Bill Thompson and Paul Mickel and it will work with the administration during the freshman orientation period.

ELIZABETH DEWEY CHOSEN SENIOR STAFF PRESIDENT

Elizabeth Dewey was elected president of Senior Staff at a luncheon meeting in Ceres hall Thursday noon. Miss Dewey succeeds Frieda Panimon as head of this organization.

Other officers include Phyllis Coyne, vice-president; Katherine Kilbourne, secretary; Jane Schulz, treasurer; Emma Jordre, historian; and Ethel Olson, editor of Senior Staff "Chats".

Elected to Edit Bison

Katherine Kilbourne and Maurice Benidt were named to editor and business manager posts on the 1938 Bison by the Board of Publications.

Kilbourne Named Editor Of Bison

Ending a long-drawn controversy, the board of publications Tuesday at the third meeting held for the purpose of choosing the editor-in-chief of the Bison annual named Katherine Kilbourne, junior in the school of home economics, for that position. Other applicants were Robert Williams, Lennea Frisk, Elizabeth Dewey, Walter Ulmer and Woodrow Gagnon.

Miss Kilbourne is president of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, president of Panhellenic, and a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Tryota club and student commission.

She was a member of the Bison editorial staff her freshman and sophomore years, and was a former member of the Spectrum reportorial staff.

Board Head In Assembly Talk

"Accumulated capital has been diverted from the farmer and small businessman to large industry, public institutions and foreign nations," said Judge J. D. Harris, chairman of the state board of administration, in diagnosing what he termed United States' "economic disease" before NDSC convocation Monday.

United States' economic problem, like any everyday problem, can best be solved through cool, deliberate judgment, he advised his audience. Excitement and rabble only increases the problem, he said.

Preceding Judge Harris' talk, Doc Putnam's concert band played a program of symphonic numbers. Pres. J. H. Shepperd introduced Judge Harris.

Senior Satellites Might Strike Lowe; But Faculty Phantoms Have High Hopes

After four years of arduous, titanic and stupefying (pardon, I mean stupendous effort) twelve mighty seniors will have opportunity next Tuesday to avenge themselves on the faculty of this institution when they will battle fourteen members of the faculty in the baseball highlight of this or any other season. As The Spectrum went to press last night discussion was rife as to which team would come off the victor. No consultation of the odds compiled by the bookies would indicate which team the public favored, but it was expected that last minute betting would set the odds at about 108.5-108 in favor of the faculty because of the fact that although the seniors seek revenge they are apt to be handicapped by fear due to the proximity of finals.

At approximately 5 p. m., Mayor Olson will pitch the first ball which will start the game between the Senior Satellites and the Faculty Phantoms (so called because they won't admit that Seniors have a ghost of a chance—which ghost to show that some people sure like themselves—ow! that pun is pretty bad, I admit). Catching for the Phantoms will be the blooming blonde botanist, "Heller" Helgeson, who promises to keep home plate dusted off so that any senior will feel ashamed to mar its mirror-like surface by daring to cross it (another reason for the odds being in favor of the faculty). Catching for the Satellites will be "Man Mountain" Bev Hill, who has just taken off 333 lbs. and promises to be in fine shape; he will also be used as backstop.

Early this morning some anxiety was felt by advocates of the Phantoms because of rumors that their pitching ace, "Be" Lowe, had become lost while on a field trip in the Field house. However, Lowe was found later curled up in the middle basket on the west side of the floor, sound asleep; he had been looking for the two games the Bison five dropped to the Sioux. Lowe has been busy perfecting his famous slow ball, which is slower than the 12 o'clock bell. Opposing him will be the Wisconsin wonder, Pretz Reiners, who is expected to pitch his best game due

Action-Packed Program Is Arranged For All-College Day

Novel Decorations To Feature Prom; Perrin Will Play

Everett Perrin and his 11-piece band, "one of the most popular bands ever to play at a university function," is contracted to furnish the music at the Senior prom in the field house this evening, according to Bill Johnson, prom manager. The dance will continue from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Ten o'clock has been set as the time for the grand march. Prom Manager Bill Johnson will be first in line with his partner, Martha Wolfe. Johnson will be followed by Assistant Prom Manager Walt Jahnke and his guest, Nan Powers. Third in line will be the Senior class president, Cliff Altermatt and Ruth Schultz. The tradition of inviting the Senior Ball manager of the UND to be one of the grand march leaders will be revived this evening. Edward Hallenberg is the invited university manager. His guest will be Ellen Brager. Both students are from Niagara, N. D.

Novel and elaborate decorations are being designed and constructed by Ray Whitver. Present plans call for the use of large painted "stretches" as part of the stage decorations. Numerous lights and balloons are to be used on the dance floor.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Zerby and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson are chaperons, according to Gertrude Powers, in charge of invitations.

Tickets may be obtained from the following representatives for $1.50: Alpha Gamma Rho, William Purdy; Alpha Tau Omega, Donald Bettschen; Delta Tau Epsilon, Beryl Newman; Kappa Psi, Vern Johnson; Kappa Sigma Chi, Ray Quinnild; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lynn Fredrickson; Sigma Chi, Sam Dobervich; Sigma Phi Delta, Walter Norby; Theta Chi, Beverly Hill. There is also a salesman in the men's residence hall.

Spectrum Given First Class Rating

With a score of 680, The Spectrum was given first class honor rating in the critical analysis conducted by the National Scholastic Press association. The 1935 Spectrum rating was second class.

The Spectrum issues from Oct. 15 to Jan. 15 were judged in the competition. The issues were edited by Jack Spalding.

The score in the various divisions of the criticism were news value and sources, 150; news writing and editing, 175; headlines and makeup, 185; department pages, 170.

Senior members of Phi Upsilon Omicron were initiated into the alumnae chapter Tuesday evening at 6:00. Following the initiation services active members were guests of the alumnae chapter at a banquet in the Waldorf hotel. Mrs. Clay Smith was in general charge.

FACULTY, SENIORS VIE

YWCA Will Sponsor 'Dime-a-Day' Activities During Day

That all-college day next Tuesday will be the most action-packed, entertaining one staged in recent years, was the assertion of James Baccus, Thursday, chairman of the general committee, in announcing the completed program.

Honored guests will be Mayor and Mrs. Fred Olsen and faculty members and their wives. Registrar A. H. Parrott will be honorary chef at the feed to be served the student body, faculty and visitors at Ceres hall at 6 p. m.

Dime Day Feature

Expected to lend a carnival aspect to the day's program will be "dime day" activities of the college YWCA on that day, said Ethel Olson, YWCA president. Members of the YWCA will provide facilities in the YMCA building and on its lawns, where shoes will be shined, nails manicured, socks darned, and buttons sewed on. Each job will be done by a coed and will cost a dime, said Miss Olson.

The opening event will be a variety program in Festival hall at 3:30 p. m. Entertainment features will be the Kappa Kappa Psi band concert and comedy skit directed by Doc C. S. Putnam, and popular selections by the men's glee club directed by Ernest van Vlissingen. Also appearing will be the Roosevelt Junior high school jugglers, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon vocal quartet, the New Rockford trio, and the senior class girls' trio.

Mayor Olsen Umpire

At 5 p. m. the senior-faculty softball game will be played with Mayor Olsen and C. C. Finnegan, NDSC athletic director, officiating.

Free lunch will be served all visitors on the Ceres hall lawn at 6 p. m. The menu includes baked beans, buns, and Dixie cups.

Doc Putnam's Gold Star band will give a concert at 6:30 p. m. The annual lilac festival pageant will be

BISON BRIEFS

By BOB WILLIAMS

Tonight will find the seniors gathered for the last social event of their college career—with the ball many will be passing out and we will miss them all—some will pass with mixed emotions and some with potions mixed—but there will be balls after they are gone—if the manager of the senior ball loses money he can't take the balance and register at the university anyway—but getting back to the seniors—what will they do now that they have been graduated—they may be able to borrow a few more dollars on their insurance—or if they were college editors or managed a ball or two they might go on a world's cruise—it might take some of them four or five years to live down the assumption that they were college bigshots—after this is accomplished (if it is possible) they will be back to the same firm confidence and level-headedness that was theirs as freshmen—then if some fish will lend them enough money to start a beer parlor or get a trainfare to some one-horse town they might make average school teachers—it wouldn't be such a great surprise to see a small number of these self-made men taking a kicking from mother nature that would change their complexion as much as a sunburn on the Fourth of July—it might surprise some to know that leading balls or being president of Phytois doesn't have much weight when added to a letter of application—but there is a sunnier side and the regular student who has been "going to school" these last four years may find use for some common labors during the next decade.

Next Tuesday after three o'clock (perhaps 4 o'clock, if the chemistry department will dismiss classes for the all-college affair) the student body will blossom out in their spring attire to ballyhoo, for the last time this year, A. G. Arvold and A. G. junior, alias Jones. Brandes will undoubtedly be strutting around, too, as usual,—it will be an SAE recognition day for all those so far forgotten—the interfraternity sing will be in charge of the SAE scouts club—after all they are first class scouts with badges that mean about as much as a gaboon in the dugout. The theme of the pageant will be taken from Uncle Tom's Cabin. The characters are as follows:

UNCLE TOM—A. G. JUNIOR, not because he is not white, but because he is the forgotten man, the victim of circumstances, just a man out of place and trying to get along.

LITTLE EVA—Trudi Brophy, not because she is funny, but because she is a good manager and likes to play around in things.

CAKES OF ICE Hugh Anstett, B. Walter Dunkelberger, Al Brauer, Maynard Sholts, Homer Huntoon, because they were parts of the mass until things broke up, but after that they have been floating around harmless to the big ships (I guess I got all the letters in there) of the campus.

BLOODHOUNDS—Earl Johnson, Gil Meyers, Jerry Reep, James Shigley, Arnold Rustad, not because they smell so good, but because they do quite a bit of running around. (These fall in the river under the new arrangement, and the play ends before they can be dragged out.)

NOISEMAKERS—Bernard Majors, Manny Ladwig, Bill Purdy, Brandes, because they make the funniest noises at the most inopportune time and get a lot of credit for it.

SIMON LEGREE—Leslie Morgan because he is the biggest pushover, he's a riot from start to finish.

LIZA—Ruth Clausen. Nuff sed.

STAGEHANDS—Hartwell, Phillips, Kuhn, Werner, Sackett, Dunn, Storlie, Bell. This department has been looking for publicity all winter.

PROMPTERS—Beryl Newman, and College Cafe Tillie.

EPILOGUE—Gate-City tenor, Akeley, will give candies to the kiddies from the money he made on the Brevities, he will be accompanied by Walt Jahnke's pickup orchestra, the same one that played at the May Festival dance.

There will be no Lilac Day since the SLOW MEN AT WORK have removed all the lilacs from the campus.

Why does Ray Whitver blush when we mention Landbloom and the ballet dancer.

Ad Nordmarken brought to our attention last week a short story published some time ago which he titled "Ellis in Wonderland." No offense, Helen Edmunds, we are referring to Bob Ellis. And speaking of affairs, Dorothy Olson and Baby Face Buchanan (my pal) have been doing any couple credit this last few weeks.

T. W. Johnson Needed on Board

The Spectrum has advanced from second class honor rating to first class honor rating without the aid of advice or counsel from the technical writing department of the school, yet it is worth while considering the fact that with the aid and advice of someone possessed of more than the average faculty member's knowledge of journalism that The Spectrum might advance another step to the position of All-American.

Because of a disagreement among two members of the board of publications several years ago, two faculty members were removed by the president. One of these happened to be T. W. Johnson, instructor in technical writing. Regardless of what the causes were of his removal it is time that he be placed back on the board or at least given a position that would connect him in a more intimate way with the college's major publication.

Being a mechanical arts institution, this college cannot from its very nature expect to boast a journalism department, yet there is no reason why the one faculty member versed in newspaper work should not have something to do with The Spectrum. Certainly his more expert advice and suggestions would do much toward improving the paper. This does not mean that the present faculty members of the board do not assume their obligations sincerely, but naturally they cannot be expected to be acquainted with the more technical details of the journalism profession. That the one person on the faculty acquainted intimately with journalism should not be connected in some manner with the college publications is surely an indication that the administration is not making efficient use of the faculty personnel.

Prexy Advises

(From a magazine entitled "What the Colleges Are Doing," published by Ginn & Co.)

As students you are not here to act. You are here to get ready to act wisely in the life of your time. You are not here to organize and promote propagandas. You are here to learn how to keep your heads in the midst of a world bombarded by myriad propagandas both sound and sinister.

If, as freshmen and sophomores, you were able wisely to determine just what the final answer is to the political, social, and economic dilemmas of our time, there would be no need of your attending a university.

A highway should not be built around the university, in which students would be hermetically sealed from the outside world, but you, as students, should take the opportunity afforded by your years on this campus to stay back of the front-line trenches and to stabilize and discipline your judgment for the time when you are called upon to serve your generation.—President Frank, University of Wisconsin.

NOTICE!

The plan used in this year's organization section of the Bison was an attempt to add interest and variety to those pages and was not intended to reflect upon any individual or groups.

If anyone feels that a statement in this section may react to his detriment or the detriment of his group, may it be clearly understood that this was far from our intent and that such a statement should be regarded solely as a desire to add humor and lightness to this section.

The reason for this explanation is that in one instance a statement has been interpreted by an organization was reflecting on its rushing methods. This was assuredly not the purpose behind this passage since it was included solely to fit in with the general tone of the whole section. No reflection on the moral character of this group was intended and to interpret this statement literally is most certainly erroneous and gives the words a false meaning.

Verda VanVorst received the City Panhellenic award presented by Margaret Dadey; Emily Reynolds, the College Panhellenic award presented by Alice Larson; the Irene Leimbacher Memorial was given to Dorothy Molland by Mrs. Rolfe Tainter. Following the presentation of these special awards recognition for the highest average was given to Phi Omega Pi actives and Kappa Delta pledge group.

Within the various active groups the following girls were honored as having the highest averages during the fall and winter terms: Alpha Gamma Delta, Ruth Cooley; Gamma Phi Beta, Ellen Blair; Kappa Delta, Ruth Piper; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mary Clemens; Phi Omega Pi, Alice Larson; Phi Mu, Lois Millar. From the pledge groups the following were recognized for highest averages: Evelyn Larson, Maxine Schollander, Geraldine Davis, Margaret Mary Burns, Margaretta Bjornson, and Doris Simpson.

The program of the evening was climaxed by drawing for the winners of merchandise awards given by deLendrecie's; Dr. A. L. Pastoret, Dorothy C Ford, and Mrs. W. C. Christianson were winners. Honors went to Kappa Kappa Gamma for selling the greatest number of tickets.

Mrs. Glenn Lawritson, former instructor at this college, acted as toastmistress to the 300 representatives of eleven national sororities. Musical numbers and talks on the charities sponsored by four sororities completed the program.

CAMPUS FINANCE HEADS MUST MEET IMMEDIATELY

All secretary-treasurers of student organizations are asked to confer at once with the council audit committee in room 209, Science hall, according to F. C. Householder, chairman of the committee.

Financial reports of all student organizations are due May 15. Miss Mathilda Thompson is another member of the committee.

Honor List Names School Dairy Herd

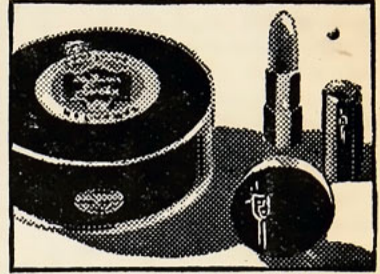

The Holstein dairy herd of this college has again placed on the national honor list of the Holstein-Friesian association of America, J. R. Dice, head of the dairy department, has been notified. Two of the college cows placed high in their respective classes, and the herd of the institution was 60th on the list for all herds in the United States on official test the past year. This gave North Dakota the rank of 25th place among the states.

Nakota Piebe Homestead Bess as a junior three-year-old, on a two times a day milking schedule, produced 539 pounds of butterfat in a year, and Hettinger Lady Pride as a senior two-year-old produced 553 pounds of butterfat. Both cows were out of former herd sires of the college.

LUTHERANS TO ELECT AT SUNDAY MEETING

Prof. Carl B. Ylvisaker of Concordia college will be guest speaker at the Lutheran Student association meeting Sunday at 4 p.m., in the college "Y".

All Lutheran students are requested to be there, as election of officers will be held. A picnic is planned to follow the meeting. Peter Nystuen and Dorothy Goebel will be in charge.

"The best athletic plant in the world," seems to be the general opinion of the new football training rooms at the University of Minnesota. One of the most interesting features of the new rooms is the midget elevator lift which measures but six feet by four. The lift has a range of but one floor, having its ground floor on the equipment level and coming through the terrace promenade for the top story. The elevator roof also serves as the floor of the promenade and when the elevator is raised it is about 10 feet above the floor.

Then there's the story about our Wayne Springer who occupied the bench for the first part of last football season. We never heard this story before it was printed in the Minneapolis paper but it has Casey Finnegan's sanction so here goes. It seems that our hero was holding down his usual position on the bench when some of his fellow bench sitters remarked that Oliver Wendell Holmes had just passed away after holding his seat on the supreme court bench for some forty or fifty odd years. To which witty Wayne retorted to the effect that if he could stay in school that long he'd make Holmes look like a piker unless Finnegan and Lowe had a sudden reversal of opinion of his playing abilities.

Hannaford made quite a name for the home town when two boys trekked down to the May Festival and proceeded to make it tough for the schools entering large teams when they copped three firsts and one tie for second and third place, amassing a grand total of nineteen points. Orville Goplen, journalistic pride of Hannaford almost lost his mind while witnessing the dashes where Troseth edged out all competitors to make a clean sweep of the dash events. The opinion of Charley Kimball and the general run of the coaches was that this tall boy should be able to go places in the dash events, with his long sweeping stride and easy manner of running. Goplen was positive that a second Charley Paddock was in the making.

We may as well stick out our neck and predict without reservation that Sexton of Fargo will whip the rest of the prep school hurdlers in the state in any meet that he enters — that is unless he breaks his back on the first hurdle or some such catastrophe. In the events at the Festival there wasn't a single race or heat where he had to extend himself to win, in most cases finishing about ten yards in front of the closest competitor.

The Peppy Players, dramatic club, and Better Speech club of the high school, enjoyed a picnic at the Fargo tourist camp yesterday afternoon. Miss LaVerne Gilbertson was in general charge.

BISON ENTER STATE INTER-COLLEGIATE

Gr. Forks To Act As Hosts For State Team

Nine men from the North Dakota State track team left today for the state intercollegiate meet to be held at Grand Forks this weekend. This meet is an annual affair with all the colleges and North Dakota university entering competitors.

The Nodaks from North Dakota University seem to be the prime favorites in the competition as a whole, while the Bison are given a slight edge in the weight events. There are three reasons for this favoring of the Bison—Reiners, Westgate, and Dietz. Reiners and Dietz both placed in the shot put in the Dakota relays and with two more weeks of practice under their belts should be able to give a good account of themselves up at the Forx. Westgate managed to earn himself a place in the javelin throw at the same meet with a heave that was below the usual form he has displayed in practice and there is every possibility that he may come through with a winning toss.

Captain Harry Arneson has returned to the fold of track potentialities during the past two weeks and should place in the pole vaulting contests. A newcomer to the Bison track ranks, Howard Fraser is also entered in this event and Coach Johnny Smith is planning to use him in the high jump as well.

Emil May, swivel-hipped pigskin totter from Aberdeen, South Dakota has turned his attentions to track and together with Dick Hamilton is slated to represent the Bison in the dash events. So far this season May has not had an opportunity to display his wares in competition, being disqualified at the Dakota relays. Hamilton, a sophomore from Rugby, has been doing some work in the broad jumping pit and will try his skill along these lines.

Beryl Newman, the pride and joy of Baraboo, Wisconsin, has signified his intention of winning the state 440 yard dash title and while he has not had much collegiate competition in this event he does have quite a high school reputation to look back on. Roy Carr, Fargo product, is the only Bison entrant in the distance events having entered the mile run with a possibility that he may also enter the half mile event.

Virginia Smith and Robert Pryor have written the lines for this year's Lilac festival, which will be one of the highlights of All-College day next Tuesday. The festival is given annually under the direction of A. G. Arvold's LCT players.

Principal parts are played by Elizabeth Dewey as the queen; Virginia Smith, princess; and Joe Leydon, prince. Featured on the program will be the campus's five sets of twins, Bristols, Halls, Nims, Powers, and Jones as the queen's attendants.

Gamma Rho, Theta Chi Win Brackets In Kittenball

With the schedules completed in both brackets of the intramural kittenball tourney, the decision of when the bracket playoffs will be held will depend upon the result of a meeting of fraternity representatives to decide whether or not the Gamma Rhos have used an ineligible man on their team or not.

The man in question is Art Skurdahl, ace hurler for the bracket winning Gamma Rhos and the contention is that Skurdahl is ineligible because he is a graduate. The understanding apparently was that the kittenball tourney was to be conducted along eligibility lines similar to those of the North Central conference by which rulings he would be eligible as he is carrying 15 hours of scholastic work.

The results of the games played this week give the Theta Chi club supremacy of the "A" bracket and the Gamma Rhos in a disputed lead of the "B" bracket. Both teams have a perfect slate with four games won and none lost; but in the event that Skurdahl is ruled ineligible the Dormitory club, the Kappa Sigma Chis, and the Sigma Phi Deltas would be in a three way deadlock for the lower bracket supremacy, which would necessitate a playoff to see which club would enter the finals with the Theta Chis.

In the games played in the "A" bracket this week the Sigma Chis won their first contest, subduing the ATO's by a 6 to 3 count. The Theta Chis maintained their perfect record by whipping the Delta Taus 10-4, and in their next encounter trounced the SAE's 11-0. The Delta Taus won their second game of the season when they tripped up the hapless ATO's 10 to 6, which contest completed the games in the upper bracket.

In the lower group, the Sigma Phi Deltas eked out a close win over the Dorm 5-4, and the Gamma Rhos added another victim to their list when the Kappa Psis forfeited. The dormitory hung up their second win when they won a tough struggle against the Kappa Sigma Chis 5 to 3, and the last game of the schedule found the league leading Gamma Rhos eking out a one-point win over the Kappa Sigma Chis, 3 to 2.

All girls interested in being campus sisters next year are to give their names to Vinnie Olson, membership chairman.

Fargo Amasses 33½ Points To Cop Fete Title

Edging out the Valley City Hilliners by the small margin of three points, the Fargo high school track squad won the twenty-ninth annual May Festival track classic last Saturday. The Midgets garnered a total of 32½ points while Valley City collected 29. Hannaford finished third on the list with 19 counters, and Bismarck was fourth with 14½.

One new record was set, that being the mile run. This mark was broken by Clifton Knable of Sanborn, who paced off the longest race of the meet in 4 minutes and 48 seconds. The former mark of 4:49.4 was set by John Randall of Mandan in 1932.

The high individual honors of the match went to Morrel Sexton, Midget hurdler and broad jumper. Sexton won first in both of the hurdle events and tied for third and fourth in the broad jump to collect a total of 11½ points. The performance demonstrated by Eugene Fuller, also of Fargo, was only a half point under Sexton's total. Fuller won first in the 440 dash and copped second in the century event, as well as in the broad jump.

The jump that Fuller made on his second try of 20 feet 1 inch was not quite good enough to beat that of Eldred Boe of Hannaford of 20 feet 2 inches. Boe also tied for first in the high jump with Bob Carter of Valley City, while the other member of the two-man team, Lloyd Troseth, gathered an even ten points by striding out ahead in the 220 and nosing out Fuller in the 100-yard dash.

The two times that Sexton made over the obstacles will be set up as the record as the heights of the barriers have been changed as well as the shortening of the 220 event to 200 yards.

Bob Carter, who tied for first in the high jump, also went over the top in the pole vault, topping the bar at 11 feet.

Dick Herringer of Anamoose put the shot 41 feet 10¼ inches in the preliminaries Friday but did not have to better this mark on Saturday to take first in the event.

The best toss of the plater was performed by McGuinness of Bismarck, who sent it sailing 110 feet 3 inches, while the javelin throw was won by Foy of Grand Forks, throwing the pointed stick 142 feet 5 inches.

Fargo's team won the half-mile relay.

to the fact that a certain LaCrosse lassie has promised to be there to witness this battle of the century. Reiners is in top shape, having been driving his V-4 for the last month.

No amount of persuasion could induce Manager Bob Saunders to state what positions would be held by other members of both teams, but he finally broke down and stated which men would play. Other members of the Phantoms will be those two mighty molecules, "De di do" Dedrick and "Kassie" Kaslow, who have developed several new formulae on how to win ball games; that dashing dude of the Montana ranches, "Gallop" Gannway, is expected to draw the feminine fans; just to get Katey Ray mad the military department will be represented by "Butch" Detroit, long range slugger who, according to "Butch" Detroit, will contribute enough home runs to make the Satellites homesick; "Sandy" Sanders of the animal husbandry department will do his bit by throwing the ball instead of the "bull"; that prognosticating dopester, Lawritson, will startle young and old alike with his advance information of just how each player will act and will psycho-analyze the referees; another much touted member of the ag department who is expected to keep his team's gonfalon flying on high is "Willie" Brown, who can steal bases so fast that the G-men are after him; upholding the honors for the math department will be "Man Mountain" Beverly Hill's brother, "Whatta" Hill, who is expected to assume part of the pitching duties (he has more and faster curves than Harlowe) and also "Dickie" Warner, that astronomical marvel, who says "despite the fact that 'Stars Fell On Alabama' my home runs will go farther than that" (however, "Dickie" may be scratched from the line-up because he has been giving his teammates much trouble lately by maintaining that just because the shortest distance between two points is a straight line that it follows the shortest distance between home plate and second is also a straight line (he had to be put in a straight packet to correct this erroneous idea)—always taking short cuts these math men; (desiring to secure a big name player, the manager asked the great Grimes to play, but was refused as Grimes wanted too much); "Ty" Cobb, another pitcher (he's a "slinguist") has promised to swear at the referee in six different languages if the crowd will listen; from the engineering department the Phantoms have recruited "Dashing Dana" Leslie, an honest to Pete "pro" from New England, who has been farmed out to the "cow collitch" for the occasion, and "Fastie" Fitch, the Olympic runner, who is so fast he can knock a homer, run around all the bases and then tear out and catch his ball before it gets beyond left short stop; however, the Phantoms will be without the aid of one of their greatest stars, "Beaming Bob" Ennis, one of the major leaguers, who was injured yesterday when he fell off a check step, tripped over a pivot, and fell into a hip hole; also on the injured list are those two marvels of the English department, "Harry" Hartwell and "Jeff" Werner—Hartwell is suffering from a split infinitive, while Werner was struck yesterday by a dangling participle.

On the side of the Satellites four of the outstanding players will be "Count" Bettschen, "Gate City Tenor" Akeley, "Lucky" Litten, and "Pop 'Em Out" McGrath, if they can be persuaded to tear themselves away from looking at their pictures in a downtown studio window; most anything can be expected from "Slew Foot" Bernard, who will try to tear himself away from Gamma Phi Gertrude long enough to go from home plate to first; "Burly" Newman will hold on to the hot ones like the third platoon holding a pivot (which means that the game will be full of errors); considerable anxiety has been experienced in the Satellites' camp lately because their ace fielder, the Grafton lad who made good in the big city, "Toughy" Thomas, has been neglecting his duties for the nursery.

Casey will not be at the bat, but will be refereeing, as will Mayor Olsen of this fair metropolis. Reserved seats may be obtained from A. G. Arvold, the owner of Festival hall, who has set aside the newly shingled portion of the roof for those who will contribute one lilac spray for his pageant; spectators must furnish their own tweezers for removing slivers obtained from the yet unfinished bleachers atop the smoke stack. Walsh Aggies Win Festival Honors

Sweepstakes awards were awarded in the respective divisions of the May Festival Friday night following a three-day all-high school meet on the campus. Walsh County Aggies piled up a total of 5,676 points in the agricultural contests to win the plaque for the third time in five years, to beat out Bisbee and Anamoose, second and third, respectively, with thirty-nine schools competing.

LaMoure replaced Jamestown in the home economics division. Second was Mohall. Page, Coopers-town, and Valley City tied for third. The literary contests were divided among several schools, but Valley City won the sweepstakes trophy in that division for the second consecutive year.

Named president of the North Dakota Association of the Future Farmers of America was Clarence Bergsgaard of the Maddock Agricultural school. Named honorary members were Acting Governor Walter Welford, Theodore Martell, commissioner of agriculture, and B. E. Groom, secretary of the Greater North Dakota association.

M. I. T. students will build and sell a "model home" every year under a plan just put into motion.
