Heaviest Ballot In Many Years Is Cast Tuesday

Progressives Place Ten In Office; Sure We're Pures Fill Nine Posts

Three frames combined Tuesday to cast the heaviest ballot in many years in a hotly contested political race for group supremacy and class offices, the first test of a new political set-up that found the Independents, backed by the Cosmopolitan club, in its first stand for non-fraternity and sorority recognition.

The Independents threw a wrench in the campus political machinery during a hotly contested campaign only to fade out of the picture as "Progressives" and "Sure We're Pure" frames swept the entire slate taking ten and nine offices respectively. Straight ticket voting was evident as the Progressives swept the senior and freshmen class offices, senior member of the Board of Publications, and Commissioner of Elections, leaving for the Sure We're Pures all the sophomore and junior offices including the sophomore member of the board of publications.

Senior class officers are: Clifford Altmatt, president; Vern Johnson, vice-president; Sidney Shannon, secretary; Bjarne Dahl, treasurer. For the Freshman class: James Critchfield, president; Norman Olson, vice-president; Connie Taylor, secretary; and Margaret Jones, treasurer. Other candidates elected by the Progressive frame were Mary Elise Bibow, senior member of the Board of Publications, and Ray Cruden, commissioner of elections.

The Sure We're Pure frame elected the following candidates: Junior class, Paul Boleyn, president; Corrine Ballard, vice-president; Eleanor Isaacs, secretary; and Don Ward, treasurer. Sophomore class, president, Frances Cooper; Gwendolyn Stenehjem, vice-president; Al Brauer, secretary; Lyle Currie, treasurer. Charles Pollock was elected to the sophomore member of the board of publications.

The Independent frame is composed theoretically of all non-sorority and non-fraternity students and is centered around the Cosmopolitan club. Members of the Progressive frame are Alpha Gamma Rho, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Psi, Sigma Phi Delta, Gamma Phi, Phi Omega Pi. Members of the Sure We're Pure frame are Sigma Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Epsilon, Kappa Sigma Chi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, Kappa Delta, and Alpha Gamma Delta.

COED PROM SCHEDULED FOR NOV. 13 IN FESTIVAL

The annual Coed Prom, sponsored by the YWCA, will be held Nov. 13 in Festival hall. Jane Schultz and her partner, Sally Minard, will lead the grand march. Membership in the YWCA entitles girls to attend. As yet, a theme for the party has not been chosen by the committee in charge.

Tomorrow Deadline For Applications

All upper-graduates wishing to apply for a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford for 1936 and 37 must do so by tomorrow according to Dean A. E. Minard, who is in charge of applications at N. D. S. C.

The basis of selection, as defined in Mr. Rhodes' will, is based upon literary and scholastic ability and attainments and qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship. Physical vigor and qualities of leadership are also taken into account.

Candidates must have studied in college two languages of which Latin or Greek must be one.

COLLEGE SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL RECEIVES RATING OF "B"

The North Dakota State Engineer, engineering magazine published by students, has received a "B" rating from the Engineering College Magazines Association, it was announced by Robert Froling, editor.

This rating was for last year's publications. Six out of 24 member magazines received an "A" rating. According to Leonard Church, judge, the college magazine would have an "A" rating but for the fact of delinquency in publication.

Teaching Problems Will Be Discussed

The local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers will begin the year with a program of study and discussion of the problems of the teacher in an agricultural area at an open meeting next Wednesday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock in Science hall 319.

Esther Erickson and Cathryn Ray will give accounts of their experience as delegates from the Farmers Union club, lately organized on the campus among students interested in the co-operative movement, to the state convention of the North Dakota division of the Farmers Union at Dickinson last week. Professor Kenneth Kuhn will make a report on his study of the recent national convention of the American Federation of Teachers. Then the meeting will be thrown open to general discussion of the aims of teacher organization and the relation between organized teachers and organized farmers.

TWO ADDED TO PLAY CAST

Two new additions to the Edwin Booth Dramatic club production "Mr. Antonio", are De Laurence Nelson, playing the part of Earl, and Robert Pryor, in the role of Joe.

"Mr. Antonio" will be presented November 12, at 8:15.

Show Tryouts Begin Tuesday

Tryouts for the cast of the 1935-36 Bison Brevities will be conducted in Festival hall, on Tuesday and Thursday, November 5 and 7, according to Bill Akeley, general manager. During that time, the first selection of candidates for the complete cast will be made.

Every effort will be made to find and appraise all available campus talent. Those in charge are eager to uncover new talent and bring new faces to the all-college production. This year's vehicle will offer special opportunities to those interested in straight drama and character portrayals.

The show, the name of which has not yet been disclosed, was chosen because of its combining comedy, musical, and dancing themes with a melodramatic mystery story. Every feature of the show, including sets, lighting effects, dialogue, musical score, lyrics, and orchestra, will be either student written or student manned. Entirely different from the pure farce comedy or musical revue of past years, this edition with its dramatic theme was chosen because of the very definite revivification of interest in the theatre locally, as manifested by the Radio Guild, Theatre Guild, and the recently formed Playgoers League.

Those planning on trying out for the singing parts will be asked to bring their own music, choosing numbers with which they are familiar and which will bring out to the best advantage the singing personality. Any type of music can be used and competent accompanists will be present during the two day period. All tryouts and auditions will be made on the stage of Festival hall, under actual conditions, giving the judges excellent opportunity to observe stage presence, voice range and quality, and general appearance. Following the general tryouts, final selection of the cast will be made, with a second audition and stage appearance made by each person.

Aside from Akeley, acting as general production manager, the staff includes James Baccus, musical director, Don Dickinson, dramatic director, and Hugh Anstett, advertising manager. Ben Cave is in general charge of sets, with Lennea Frisk acting as stenographer.

Huge Symphony Orchestra Thrills Two NDSC Musical Audiences

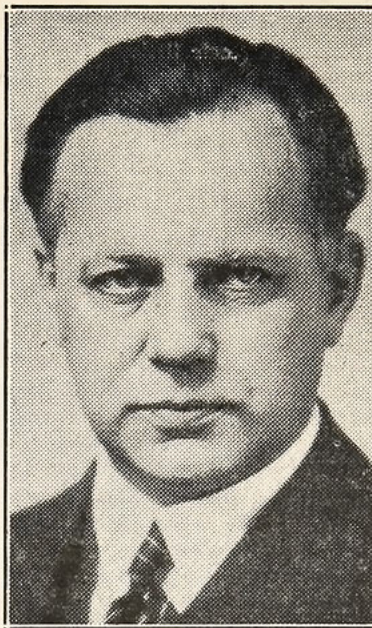

By MARJORIE ARNOLD

In two glorious concerts before huge audiences, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy, conductor, opened the twenty-fifth NDSC lyceum course Wednesday.

Doc Putnam and his Gold Star band and the student body were out en masse to greet the orchestra when they arrived on the campus by special train Wednesday morning. A. G. Arvold formally welcomed Conductor Eugene Ormandy, Mrs. Carlyle Scott, manager of the orchestra, and the orchestra members, while Walter McGrath spoke on behalf of the students, and Robert Hagen, the board of forensic control.

The program in the afternoon was

CONVO SPEAKER

ASGEIR ASGEIRSSON

Authority Talks of U. S. And Japan

"In our hands, as Americans, lies the responsibility of determining the future courses of Japan and China," said J. J. Hansaker, west-coast authority on the situation in the Far East, in a convocation talk, Monday, October 28.

"The fault of existing conditions is, in part, ours; for we have not considered the Japanese viewpoint." Previous to the Immigration Act of 1929, our relations with Japan had been exceedingly amicable; our school system had been adopted; our missionaries had developed good will. To the Japanese the Act came as a slap in the face, as a mark of intellectual degradation and disapproval. Japan has since developed the belief that the United States desires war with her, and has been unable to discover why this should be so.

By the act, passed without the approval of our State department, we played into the hands of "the wrong party" in Japan, the party of "aggression by the sword". In so doing we did much to initiate Japan's expansion into Manchokuo, which, in her "case against the world," she feels to be completely justifiable.

Noted Diplomat Appears Nov. 6 In Lyceum Talk

Asgeir Asgeirsson, Former President of Icelandic Parliament, To Speak

Asgeir Asgeirsson, famous Icelandic statesman, will be the second presentation in the Silver Jubilee lyceum series to be given at 8:15 next Wednesday evening, November 6, in Festival Hall.

Mr. Asgeirsson is Minister of Education in Iceland, a position to which he was originally appointed to in 1926, and held until 1931 when he was made Minister of Finance. In 1930, he was President of the Althing, (Icelandic Parliament), and conducted the ceremonies in honor of the 1000th anniversary of the parliament, now located in Reikavik the capital, but for eight centuries held at the little town of Thingvellir where stands the famous "Loberg" (Rock of Laws), the traditional rostrum of the law speaker of the Althing. It was at this Millennium Celebration that the United States Delegation, headed by the Hon. Peter Norbeck of South Dakota, presented the statue of Lief Ericson in memory of the part Iceland played in the discovery and settlement of the American continent.

Mr. Asgeirsson became Premier of Iceland in 1932, but retained, at the same time, his post as Minister of Finance. Since that time he has returned to his former position of Minister of Education. He has been lecturing and broadcasting widely in conjunction with the 500th anniversary of the establishment of the Swedish Parliament, in which he was invited to participate. Mr. Asgeirsson is well known as a particularly fine speaker, and a linguist of remarkable ability.

He has achieved an international reputation as a statesman and educator, but he is equally famous in diplomatic circles for his delightful personality. This is his first visit to America.

Social Director For Ceres Named

Miss Geraldine Ewald has been appointed social director of the girls' dormitory to succeed Miss Helen Ballard, who is to be married Nov. 9th.

Former student of the NDSC Miss Ewald received her masters degree in Sociology and Psychology at the University of Nebraska. For three years Miss Ewald was Dean of Girls at Scottsbluff Junior College at Scottsbluff, Nebraska.

Miss Ewald is a member of the Phi Omega Pi sorority in Fargo and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary Social science fraternity, and Psi Chi, national honorary psychology fraternity.

Miss Ewald is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. C. R. Ewald of Fargo.

Full Expression of Talent Assured Each Brevities Aspirant

Next Tuesday and Thursday tryouts will be held for the 1936 edition of the Bison Brevities. Under the new system which will be used, tryouts will be conducted more efficiently than in past years, insuring each student an opportunity to display his or her talent to best advantage.

The Bison Brevities has always been a production to reflect honor upon the institution, students, and managers. In order to produce a show which will live up to past standards, it is necessary that a large number of students try out for the '36 Brevities. Only through the co-operation of the students can the production find the best talent on the campus.

It is by means of such student endeavors like the Brevities that the college receives much favorable publicity. The students of this college can help advertise their school by displaying their talent to the producers next Tuesday and Thursday.

Class Elections Need Reform

That a better system of holding class elections should be put into practice is the consensus of opinion among students as an aftermath of this week's elections. In Tuesday's balloting, as in class elections of former years, voting was administered in a haphazard manner. In some of the classes, no count of the persons voting was kept and ballot box stuffing was practiced. A remedy which will forestall future accusations by disgruntled members of losing frames that elections have been "fixed" should be accomplished.

The ideal practice would be to have an all-day, supervised balloting similar to that used in spring elections. The amount of administration necessary and the abolishment of open class nominations from the floor are objections to this method in the class elections.

Reforms, however, could be made in the use of the convocation period for class polls. The student commission holds the key to the solution of this remedy. They should use printed ballots that are distributed and collected under strict supervision. Conducting the individual class elections should be representatives of the student commission who would regulate the balloting rigidly.

What Will 1985 Bring To The Lyceum?

Last Wednesday's reception of the Minneapolis Symphony is indicative of the desire of NDSC students for truly worth-while lyceum numbers. Such a reception is ample proof that the lyceum course will continue to flourish. What the Golden Anniversary will be like is forecast in the Silver Anniversary.

BISON BRIEFS

By THE STAFF

After watching the voting and reading the ballots we would suggest that each fraternity elect a delegate to a meeting to be held in the College Cafe at the Sigma Chi reserved table. From here they could elect a non-interested party (say an Independent) and to submit as many votes for their candidates as there are members to the fraternity. It would save the rest of the fraternity the trouble of walking to the polls and votes could be counted more easily in groups of sixty. The pledges are told how to vote, anyway, and threatened with a paddling if they do not. A better way would be for a student to tell such supposedly politicians that they can proceed to change the shape of his "fanny" but not his mind.

The height of disappointment was reached by Bombing Bob Erickson, or rather Betty Christianson, at Grand Forks. Imagine planning a meeting at the upstate normal and then having Bob's home town sweetheart show up. The third generation girl at the university didn't get a thing on Betty except that she touched his virgin lips first.

The height of endeavor was reached when little Willie Stewart and "Hearst" Majors attempted to kidnap Doc Sasse in the dark and wound up by tickling the dining room table.

Especially interesting was the introduction the president of the student commission received when asked to greet the Minneapolis Symphony in front of the coal chute. Horace to you, and A. G. Arvold.

Whose picture hangs upon our wall
 With blank expression known to all?
 Whose inane giggle is ever heard
 From ground floor up to the third?
 Who from year to year allegiance doth vow
 To one movement, then another, till I trow
 'Tis a mystery which cause she does support?
 Who furnishes us with much royal sport
 Of teasing her until she can't control
 The pent up anguish of her little soul?
 And so she vents on us her spleen
 By using our paper and typing machine.
 Who comes in our office and gets in our way
 Who! We'll tell you—it's Katey Ray.

Who takes twelve hours every term?
 Who makes every person squirm
 By being so very particular
 About classmates' vernacular?
 Who of big words is ever full?
 Who never stoops to sling the bull?
 Who's always on the honor roll?
 Who failed to win Tuesday's poll?
 Who is this man we've written up?
 You guess—we've given hint enough.

Little blonde.
 Little rotund.
 Little feller.
 Big "HELL"ER.
 Who but Our TUT?

Who's a pest?
 Won't let us rest.
 Who's a curse?
 Copies Hearst.
 Jamestown's pride.
 A thorn in our side.
 Each student avers
 "It's Bernie Majors."

LAST MINUTE SCOOP — Herschel Hutsinpilller was last seen washing dishes at the Coffee Shop after attempting to leave without paying for his midnight lunch. It being Hallowe'en the rest of the staff was unable to assist him in his embarrassment. His task was to wash 500 schooners to work out the twenty-one cents owed the company. After half the glasses were washed the staff came to his rescue. LAST MINUTE SCOOP—Hutsinpilller's hands are clean and so is his conscience.

And now we're closing
 After exposing
 All the scandal
 We can handle.

Theater Reviews

Highlight of the week's entertainment for theater-goer is Cecile DeMille's epochal "Crusades", the fourth of his series of religious emotional-historical dramas which has included "The Ten Commandments," "The Sign of the Cross", and "The King of Kings." The spectacular production, in which Loretta Young is starred opposite Henry Wilcoxon, the Marc Antony of "Cleopatra", is scheduled to play an indefinite run at the Fargo theater, beginning tomorrow. Having feature roles in the cast are Katherine DeMille, the director's daughter, C. Aubrey Smith, Ian Keith, Joseph Schildkraut, Alan Hale, C. Henry Gordon, and George Barbier.

Music and comedy make up a major portion of theater offerings. Among them is the Grand theater feature for Sunday and Monday, "Welcome Home", a flippant laugh-stirring comedy in which James Dunn, Arline Judge, and Rosina Lawrence star.

Tuesday and Wednesday, Delores Del Rio is starring in "I Live for Love", a musical with songs written by Allie Wrubel and Mort Dixon and sung by Everett Marshall. By way of variation the concluding picture of the week at the Grand is a Zane Grey outdoor romance, "Wanderer of the Wasteland", featuring Dean Jagger and Gail Patrick.

Also musical is "Naughty Marietta", Victor Herbert's classic operetta and vehicle for Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. The story is of Creole days in New Orleans. It will be presented at the State theater over Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. Today and tomorrow the State is playing the gruesome "Mark of the Vampire", with a cast including Lionel Barrymore, Bela Lugosi, Jean Hersholt, Lionel Atwill, Elizabeth Allan, and Henry Wadsworth. Barbara Stanwyck, Gene Raymond, Genevieve Tobin, John Eldredge, and Dorothy Tree are included in the cast of "The Woman in Red", State picture for Wednesday and Thursday.

The Roxy offers, today and tomorrow Helen Vinson and Charles Bickford in the courtroom melodrama, "Notorious Gentleman". Sunday and

The Social Climber...

"You can't kill the truth, but you can kill the truth-maker," as the saying goes; so as I breathe my last . . . Homecoming at the "Up-State Academy" ran true to form for everyone concerned. The team played a fine game which kept the spirits up of everyone concerned. We could go on and mention this one and that one, but it is suffice to say that three of the lads gave a fine exhibition of "back to nature" when they got lost in their hotel. . . . Sigma Phi Delta's decorated the Y beautifully for their fall party, and, according to a certain blonde present: "There were so many fellows I didn't know, but they were keen dancers." . . . What with convocations and more convocations this week, classes have been shortened, the Dugout made some extra money, and many students have been able to catch up on their studying. Gamma Phi pledges made themselves conspicuous in the balcony during the last convocation by being noisy, talking out loud, and . . . what was that game you and your male neighbor were playing, Joyce? . . . In the south balcony, Joey Bergum was doing his best to read the notes that his blonde girl friend was writing to him . . . The puzzle of the week is to answer the question of why the Krantz and Hunkins pair sit together on one side of a booth in the Dugout, when the place isn't even crowded. Can it be they're interested in the same thing? . . . If youse guys and youse gals notice Don Howland walking around seeming as if he's hearing things or something like it, don't be misled, it isn't because of his bonny Jean . . . he's just being used as a psychology experiment. . . . The cold weather may have scared many people away from the receiving of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra on Wednesday morning, but Jenny Lind, Florenz Dinwoodie, and Eloise Voss surely received them in grand style . . . At the concert, "Cut-Up" Putnam was making the girls laugh by going through some of the motions for which he is famous . . . As an after-thought . . . Kappa Knitters were there en masse . . . Oh, for another "convo"!

Kappa Psi—Wallace Hylden, Vern Johnson, Keith McVay, and Bjarne Dahl were at the North Dakota U. for homecoming. . . . Slinte Lunde visited the Kappa Psi over the week-end.

Theta Chi—Wilson Neperud attended the Minnesota U. last week-end for homecoming . . . Al Murfin, Wilson Neperud, Victor Nordlund, attended homecoming at the U. of North Dakota.

Sigma Chi—Twenty members visited the U. of North Dakota last week-end, and were guests of the Beta Theta house.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—In honor of the new pledges a buffet supper will be held Sunday night from 6:00-8:00 p. m., in the chapter rooms. Betty Bristol, in charge of the supper, will be assisted by Doris Johnson, Beth Oliver, Janet Spaulding, and Joan Pote. . . . Frances Johnson and Frances Probst attended homecoming at the U. of Minn. . . . Marj Arnold passed candy Monday night. . . . Doris Johnson, Frances Cooper, Beth Oliver, Margaret Mae Hall, Betty and Jane Bristol, Marj Danielson, Ann Bolley, and Jane Schultz were guests of the Alpha Psi. Delta Gamma, and Theta houses at the U. last week-end. . . . The first Guidon meeting of the school year was held Thursday.

Gamma Phi Beta—Barbara Bibow has been pledged to Phi Gamma Mu, honorary commerce fraternity at the University of Iowa . . . Betty Baillie, student at Carlton college, visited here over the week-end . . . Jean Crowley, Irene Martin, Mercedes Morris, Janet Sharp, Vinnie Olson, Maxine Schollander, Joyce Black and Geraldine Morris spent homecoming at the university.

Delta Tau Epsilon—Bill Ostrum has accepted a position with the AAA and will make his headquarters at the house . . . Milton Fenberg and Walter Isley are going through hell week.

Phi Mu—Actives and pledges will entertain the Mother's club, patronesses, and alumni, at a tea in the chapter rooms, Friday, Nov. 1, from 3:30-5:00. Charlotte Ohnstad is in charge. Her assistants are Winetta Lamont and Mary Mae Hall. Mildred Peterson will pour the first hour and Cathryn Ray the last hour. . . . Phi Mu's at the homecoming game were: Laverne Furcht, Beverly Snyder, Doris Stinson, Ruth Pinkham, and Charlotte Ohnstad . . .

The chapter will entertain its Mother's club, the Alumnae association, and the patronesses on Friday afternoon between 2:30 and 5:30. Charlotte Ohnstad is in charge, assisted by Marcella Anderson, Geraldine Erdahl, Winetta Lamont, and Lois Miller.

Alpha Gamma Delta—Margaret Hanson spent the week-end with Margaret Dadey in Minneapolis . . . Mrs. Carl Scott was presented with a corsage by her sorority sisters at a dinner Wednesday night.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Joey Bergum and Francis Kneeland attended homecoming at the U. of Minnesota. . . . Gordon Brandes passed cigars Monday night. . . . Archie Seebart, Lakota; Vern Nestos, Valley City, and Mike Benidt, Lidgerwood, spent the week-end at their homes. . . . Those attending homecoming at the U. were Walt Ulmer, Rueben Smith, Phil Garberg, Leslie Morgan, Duane Anstett, Eldred Lee, Jack Cook, and Ellsworth Wilson.

Alpha Gamma Rho—Dick Bjornson, Chicago, past grand president, inspected the chapter last week . . . John Plath and Harold Halcrow visited in Bowsmont last week-end. . . . Bob Williams spent the week-end at his home in Larimore. . . . Harold and Albert Artz, Antler, N. D., were house guests . . . The term party will be held tonight in Festival hall.

Sigma Phi Delta—Bob Pierce, Howard Hegbar, Bob Froling, Ralph Dahl, Millard Broke, and Harold Gilroy represented the fraternity at the Grand Forks homecoming . . . House guests Sunday were Mrs. Ruemmele, Miss Bernadine Wolfe, and Al Ruemmele . . . Howard Hegbar, Roy Cruden, Bob Froling, and Harold Spitzer returned Thursday from the Engineering College Magazine convention in Philadelphia.

PHI MU'S TO CARRY OUT AERONAUTICAL THEME

An aeronautical theme will be carried out in the decorations at the annual term party to be given Nov. 8 in the YMCA. Mildred Peterson is in charge, assisted by Mary Mae Hall, Doris Stinson, and Marion Morris; decorations: Mary Runice, Rocelia Rudd, Laverne Furcht; music: Marcella Anderson, Ruth Pinkham; entertainment: Charlotte Ohnstad, Evelyn McNamara, Marie Carlson, and Margaret Moffitt; program: Cathryn Ray, Beverly Snyder, publicity. . . . Phi Mu entertained at a Hallowe'en party in the chapter rooms on Tuesday evening between 6:30 and 8:30.

as the concluding number on the afternoon's program.

After the program and beginning at 5:30, all of the 85 members of the orchestra, together with the governor of North Dakota, Walter Welford; Conductor Ormandy; Mrs. Carlyle Scott; Carlo Fisher, compiler of the program notes, and Mrs. John Jardine, national president of the Federation of Music Clubs, were guests at dinner of the class in festivals in the Lincoln log cabin. Before dinner, Mr. Ormandy was presented a silver knife by Mrs. Jardine, with which to cut the beautifully decorated and illuminated anniversary cake, first piece of which went to Governor Welford.

The evening concert was attended by over 1900 students and Fargo-Moorhead residents. Two hours of sheer joy was experienced when music interpreted by a master like Ormandy became strength and beauty.

One of Bach's greatest works, Passacaglia and Fugue in C minor, opened the program, followed by the purely classical Symphony No. 5, in C minor, by Beethoven. After the intermission, two short delightfully played selections by Debussy, "Clouds" and "Festivals", were minutes of extreme tonal art on the part of the orchestra. Scherzo: "The Sorcerer's Apprentice" by Paul Dukas, an orchestral tone poem, was the next number on the program, followed by "Invitation to the Dance" by Carl von Weber, an elaborate concert version. Not until Mr. Ormandy directed his orchestra in three encores would the appreciative audience let them go. The immortal "Blue Danube" was repeated; the "Flight of the Bumble Bee" brought forth the skill and exquisiteness of the flutes and violins; and, to conclude the program, "Songs My Mother Taught Me" was played as a violin solo.

By WALT McGRATH

Although the Bison-Sioux fracas has been hashed and rehashed a dozen times since the playing of the game here, we go again with a few comments we can't resist making after reading the comments Grand Forks sports scribes had to make about the contest.

We were particularly amused to read that the fact that the Nodaks scored on the third play of the game may be chalked up as one of the reasons they didn't go on to win the game. "Certainly it did them more harm than good," is the manner in which one writer comments upon it. Maybe it would have been good strategy for Finnegan and Lowe to tell the boys to let them make two or three counters and then the game would have been in the proverbial bag for the Herd!

We smirked a bit when we read that inexperience on the part of the Sioux players cost them a victory because of their inability to cope with a passing attack. True, both Rorvig and Searight are playing their first season with the Nodaks, but don't ever lose sight of the fact that both of them also played two years of the gridiron sport in college before ever matriculating at the University.

The silver-haired mentor went for a ride at the expense of the nimble-penned writer of the Student. Casey was awarded a seat on the pan for the pessimistic attitude he adopted at the beginning of the season. Just for the fun of it let's take a glance at the number of men he lost between the Nodak-Herd game last year and the one this season.

The eleven men that played the greater part of the game for the Herd last year go like this: Marquardt, Olson, Dobervich, Sturgeon, House, Peschel, Thomas, Gerteis, Hanson, Schollander, and Erickson. Now take a good look and see how many of these men were playing in there this time. Three of them! That's losing eight first string men, and if that isn't enough to make any coach sing the blues then add to it the fact that they were not only regulars, but that at some time or another they were all either on an all-conference team or else mentioned on them.

Nodaks-Sioux Battle To 20-20 Deadlock

Breaks of Game Favor Westmen

In a see-saw battle that saw the Bison come from behind twice, the annual Homecoming fracas between the Bison and the Sioux ended in a 20-20 deadlock last Saturday at Memorial stadium in Grand Forks. Approximately 8500 people witnessed the battle.

It was the indomitable spirit of a stubborn Bison eleven that withstood the breaks of two heart-breaking flukes which cost them two touchdowns, and then in the final period knotted the score after a hard drive into a strong wind to push across a counter with two minutes left. Refusing to admit defeat, the Herd came back strong after seeing a blocked quick kick converted into six points on the third play of the opening quarter. Emil May, standing almost in mid-field, stood five yards behind the forward wall and was smothered by Chumich, gigantic Nodak tackle, who scooped up the oval and raced across the double marker untouched.

A strong wind was an important factor in the contest, keeping the Bison in the hole during the second and fourth quarters. In both of these periods, however, the Fargo team launched their most effective running attack, scoring once in each period.

The highly touted passing attack of the Sioux was lost in comparison

Frosh Swamp Morris In Field Day, 63-0

Coach Johnny Smith's Bison yearlings held a field day at Morris, Minn., last Friday at the expense of the Morris Aggies when they mounted up and swamped them under a barrage of touchdowns to the tune of 63-0.

On the third play of the game, the frosh pushed over a counter only to have the play recalled and a penalty inflicted upon them. Two plays later the frosh again crossed the double marker in approved style this time to chalk up the first of their 63 points. From then on it was more of a track meet than a football game with the frosh performing in championship fashion.

Smith was generous with his substitutions and practically the entire squad had an opportunity to show what they could do with most of them showing up in fine style. Special mention goes to Harry Peterson, however, as he hit the line time and again and when the contest ended had three touchdowns to his credit. Together with Peterson, Ludwig and Wheeler did some fine work in the backfield for the frosh while the standpats in the forward wall were Hawkins and Snyder.

Much of the poor showing of the Morris team can be attributed to their lack of experience but they must be commended for their spirit which they maintained right up till the final whistle stopped the massacre. On two other occasions the frosh crossed the goal line only to have the ball called back and an off-side penalty inflicted upon them.

Albert Zeck Named New Boxing Coach

Boxing aspirants for the Bison and frosh teams will be given an opportunity to show their stuff this year when an intra-mural program will be run off under the tutelage of Albert Zeck, new boxing instructor at the State college. Announcement of the date when the first meeting will be held will be in the Spectrum next week.

Zeck, an instructor at Roosevelt junior high school, has had plenty of experience in the amateur boxing game and has piled up quite an impressive record in the past five or six years. In 1931 he went through the finals to clinch the Golden Gloves boxing title in the middle-weight class. During four years as a member of the Minnesota National Guard he took on all comers from the middleweight up to include the heavyweight class and was successful in holding all three of these titles during these four tournaments. The intra-mural tourney is being to the aerial menace the Bison produced. Erling Schranz and Emil May threw and completed passes ten times during the battle, crossing up would-be defenders by their subtleness in choosing the receiver. A two, two, one defense on the part of the Nodaks succeeded in only opening up their forward wall to such an extent that spinners and reverses were good for reward without endangering the Herd aerial efficiency.

Sioux Tie Bison At Homecoming

Chumich was a constant thorn in the side of the Bison, breaking through time and again to spill the ball carriers, yet it was over his position that the Herd picked up their greatest number of yards on their running attack, as reverses caught him out of position. Charbonneau displayed some fine work in the final half of the game and his nifty handling of spinner plays cost the Herd lots of yards as he scampered through the center of the line. Fritz Falgren played his usual strong game being particularly apt on the defense, stopping end runs almost single-handed.

For the Bison it was the stellar work of Erling Schranz both as a ball-toter and as a passer that earned him the plaudits of the crowd. Bob Erickson burst the opposing line with his usual vigor and was a constant threat with his pass catching antics. To Neville Reiners goes the honor for the best play of the contest, however, as he stood between two Nodak players then leaped high in the air to snatch a thirty yard pass and place the Bison on the one yard line with two minutes left to play. From there the Bison went over for the final score, the try for extra point being no good.
