Sex Authority To Speak At Monday Convo

'Standards In A Day Of Change' Topic of Famed Woman Lecturer

Mrs. Mildred Inskeep Morgan, nationally known lecturer and discussion group leader in the fields of family relationships and personal adjustments, will deliver the convocation address, "Standards in a Day of Change," Monday at 9:40 a. m. She will also appear before several smaller groups for talks and discussion groups on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Mrs. Morgan, whose husband is connected with the University of Iowa, has during the past four years lectured at 35 colleges in the Middle West, Southwest, and South. She was co-chairman of a commission of persons who produced the book, "Sex Life of Youth."

Following the convocation talk on Monday, Mrs. Morgan will be a guest at a luncheon of the YWCA advisory board at Ceres hall at 12 o'clock. At 4 o'clock she will talk to all college women on "Relationships of Men and Women" in the Little Country theater. She will address the Cosmopolitan club at 7:30 on the topic, "Are We Achieving Co-education?" At 8 o'clock she will talk to a group of college and city YWCA and YMCA units.

At 12:00 Tuesday she will be guest of a faculty women's luncheon in the practice house. On Wednesday she will lead a group discussion of senior home economics girls at 8:00 a. m. In the evening at 8:00 p. m., she will talk at a parents meeting in the Little Country theater on "Understanding Our Young People," and will be honor guest at a social hour in the Lincoln log cabin at 9:00 p. m.

MIDTERM EXAMINATIONS SCHEDULED NEXT WEEK

Regular midterm examinations are scheduled for Monday to Friday of next week. The grades will be available at the deans' offices by Thursday of next week.

Lecture On North Given By Montague

A brief history of the Northwest Mounted police, anecdotes concerning the Eskimo's code of morals, interesting wild animal tales, and a beautiful exhibition of furs were the contents of a lecture given in convocation yesterday morning by Sidney R. Montague, former mounted policeman.

Montague feels greatly indebted to his Arctic companions with whom he has become so well acquainted during his northern exploration. He believes that the Eskimo possesses an intelligence equal to that of the white people.

He cited several incidents of narrow and dangerous escapes from the wild animals in the North, much to the entertainment of his interested audience.

Montague has appeared at NDSC several times in previous years.

SHOW DIRECTOR

William Akeley

Akeley Announces Brevities Helpers

Major positions on the Bison Brevities have been selected by Blue Key, according to Bill Akeley, manager.

Assistants to the manager will be Jimmy Baccus, musical director; Don Dickinson, dramatic director; Ben Cave, scenery designer; Lennea Frisk, office secretary; and Hugh Anstett, business manager. All have had much experience in their respective lines of work.

The office will be open November 1 and tryouts will begin soon thereafter. Akeley encouraged anyone with ability to act, sing, or dance to try out.

Student News on Leave For Chicago

Jack Spalding, editor-in-chief of the Spectrum, and Wm. Murphy, editor of the Bison, left Sunday for the Associated Collegiate Press Convention at Chicago. Francis Walters, business manager of the Spectrum, followed Wednesday. The convention lasts from Oct. 17 to 19. Orville Goplen and Carson Noecker are acting Spectrum editor and business manager, respectively, this week.

The program consists of round table discussions with lectures by prominent newspapermen on censorship, interest in journalism, and makeup for the editorial staff and discussions in soliciting advertising and financing college papers for the business division.

One section of the convention, the round table, is devoted to the weekly college papers. The year book program consists of discussions on illustrations, printing, plans, and efficient staff organization.

NDSC Judging Team Go To Missouri Show

Five Compete In National Contest At Kansas City Fair

Picked from a squad of ten who have been working out since the beginning of the school year, Noble Sanders, Howard Gowin, Clifford Altermatt, Robert Williams, and Maynard Sholtz will represent NDSC at the judging contest held in connection with the American Royal livestock show in Kansas City tomorrow.

Coach Vic Sander and the squad left Tuesday and en route visited South Dakota college at Brookings, the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, and other livestock centers. They will return to Fargo to write their midterm tests and leave immediately afterward for Chicago, where they will compete in the college team judging contest held in connection with the International Livestock show.

The last NDSC judging team entered in the American Royal, which competed 12 years ago, won first place.

The Maddock Agricultural high school judging team, winners of second place in the May Festival judging contest last spring, will compete in F. F. A judging competition at the American Royal. The Walsh County Aggies, winners of first at the May Festival, were disqualified because two of their team members were winners of the national 4-H judging contest. Arley Hovland, NDSC freshman, who is state president of the F. F. A., will also go to attend the national convention at Kansas City.

Independents Will Submit Third Slate In Campus Elections

WHY THEY FORMED

At the mass meeting of the independents which was held Tuesday night to draft candidates for the third party in campus elections, many were the statements passed around to justify the drafting of the party.

Pres. J. H. Shepperd, in conference with one of the independent leaders, commented on the new party thus, "Competition never harmed democracy." Donald Hay of the extension department in a talk before the mass meeting welcomed the new movement as an innovation on the campus.

Robert Hagen, president of the Cosmopolitan club and one of the organizers of the group, declared, "The third party is designed to give representation in student government to the unaffiliated students, which include about 70 per cent of the enrollment."

Bison Cut Sales Begin Next Monday

Cut sales for the 1937 Bison will begin next Monday, according to Frances Johnson, sales manager. The sales goal will be 500 cuts.

Assistants announced by Miss Johnson are June Keefe, Clinton Morgan, Norma Peterson, Connie Taylor, Winnie Olson. Fraternity and sorority salesmen are: Gamma Phi Beta, June Keefe; Kappa Delta, Betty Kretschmar; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Janet Spaulding; Phi Mu, Catherine Ray; Phi Omega Pi, Ruth Pravit; Alpha Gamma Delta, Ruth Cooley; Delta Tau Epsilon, Don Ward; Kappa Psi, Verne Johnson; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Maurice Benidt; Sigma Phi Delta, Sid Shannon; Theta Chi, Wayne Krogfoss; Dormitory, Gerhard Heutzenroeder; Alpha Tau Omega, James O'Laughlin.

Salesmen meet every Wednesday afternoon in the room across from the Bison office.

Panimon To Direct Debate Tournament

Under the supervision of Freida Panimon, the Lincoln debate club is conducting a series of intra class debates to pick the teams for the inter class tournament.

The freshmen-junior contest is scheduled for Oct. 28 and sophomore-senior debate for Oct. 29. Winners of these two rounds will clash Oct. 29 to decide the championship. All debates are listed for 4:00 P. M. except the finals, which will start at 7:30 P. M.

Faculty coaches will judge the first two rounds, but an outsider will decide the championship.

The question is "Resolved: That modern education is a failure."

Twelve American and five Canadian colleges have organized the Intercollegiate Ski Union to further competition in ski jumping and racing.

Non-Fraternity Students Nominate Complete Ticket At Mass Meeting Tuesday

The organization of a third party by non-fraternity campus independents and the change in party alignments of the two older frames has aroused in the forthcoming school-wide elections pre-balloting interest unsurpassed in recent years. Students will vote Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 9:40 a. m., between candidates on three complete tickets for class officers, two board of publications offices, and the commissioner of elections.

For the first time since fraternities and sororities became a part of campus activity, the indorsement slate of "barb" candidates was accomplished at a mass meeting of independent students held in the

The class elections originally scheduled for next Tuesday have been postponed for one week at the request of the school administration because of conflict with mid-term examinations, according to announcement made late last night. The election will be held Tuesday, Oct. 29.

YMCA Tuesday evening. In the fraternity-sorority shakeup, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority became a member of the "Sure We're Pure" frame when they were voted out of the Progressive party to make way for Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

The personnel of the three frames for the oncoming elections is: "Sure We're Pure"—Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma Chi, and Delta Tau Sigma fraternities, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, and Phi Mu sororities; Progressive party—Alpha Tau Omega, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Delta, Kappa Psi, and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternities, Gamma Phi Beta, and Phi Omega Pi sororities; Independents—Cosmopolitan club and unorganized independents.

To The Bison Gridders---Praise

The entire student body, members of the faculty, and alumni are proud of the football team representing North Dakota State college this year. Their playing Minnesota, national champions of 1935 and seemingly well on their way to another successful season, to a standstill for three quarters gained for the team recognition beyond the borders of the North Central circuit. Their brilliant homecoming victory over South Dakota State, victors over Wisconsin, was even more pleasing and important to the Bison followers.

Friday's game will go down in homecoming history as one of best fought on Dacotah field. The contest staged by these two powerful, well conditioned football machines was probably the most thrill-packed one ever witnessed here. The clean, hard, alert play of the Bison crew in overcoming tough breaks to gain the victory excited the plaudits of Bison friends everywhere.

Study the Italo-Ethiopian Crisis

To keep abreast of the rapid developments in the Italian-Ethiopian conflict is the obligation of every citizen of this country. We should read the newspapers and magazines carefully, listen to informed speakers, and study history of former European wars in order to get the implications of the present crisis.

For, some time or other, if the differences between Italy and Ethiopia continue, there is the possibility of another European and World War and the United States may have to decide whether or not it shall go to war. If that time should come, our public opinion formed through reading and study will decide for or against the United States entering.

Let us be prepared with information of the developments so that we will not be drawn into a world conflict by powerful last minute propaganda such as practised before our entrance into the World War. It will be done if we are not informed.

We Reach A Reckoning Time

With the coming of mid-terms, many freshmen are due to be rudely awakened to the fact that college life is not all play. This has been true in past years and will undoubtedly be the same with the new class.

During the first few weeks of college, it is so easy for new students to let their studies slip. Exams are stern realities which should warn students to snap out of their lethargy.

Contrary to motion pictures and other propaganda, college success demands a great deal of concentrated effort. To graduate, it is necessary to get credits. To get credits, it is necessary to get at least passing grades. Passing grades, on the other hand, demand nothing less than unceasing effort.

BISON BRIEFS

By BOB TAYLOR

Because of the enormous salary I am receiving I have decided to employ a number of reporters to keep me supplied with news. I shall send some to Ethiopia, some to Italy, some to China, and from the looks of some of their work, some to the nearest booby hatch. I don't bother to assign them to the joints because they cover them anyway. Here is the first flash I received from the one assigned to China.

* * * *

"Am doing fine. Stopped at a place called the Merry-go-round on the way. (They sure take you for a ride, too.) Am hiding beneath a table. I can see many things from this point of view. John Dornecker nearly stepped on my face just now. (Pulled in my face.) Grabbed a table leg to get a better look at the capers of Ruemmele and Spitzer and it had a silk stocking wrapped around it. (Got kicked in the eye.) Nice Orchestra here. Somebody dropped a platter of dishes and everyone started to dance. Am getting warmer. Chet Olson just dropped a cigarette butt down my neck. Will send another message from next stop.

—Tu lo down.

P. S.—Send —ten bucks. Am out of gin.

* * * *

I thought the worst had happened when I received this (censored), but I received a greater shock a little later. The reporter I sent to interview Mussolini put the interview in a beer bottle, (he always has plenty of those) and dropped the bottle in the Bering Strait. Somebody brought it straight to me, and I sent two guards with straight-jackets after my reporter. Here's the gist of it.

* * * *

Reporter: "How 'ya, Big-shot?"
Mussolini: "Fine, have a drink."
Reporter: "Don't mind if I do. Nice looking secretary over there."
Mussolini: "Yeah, she's all right except for work. Wears glasses when my wife comes around"
Reporter: "Well, I guess I'll run along. Hear you are having a fight over in Ethiopia."
Mussolini: "Yeah."

* * * *

Perhaps you are all in sympathy with me by now; if you're not you will be when you read the next correspondence. This is from the dope I sent to Ethiopia, may an Italian take him for an Ethiopian, or versa-vica. It seems he has been pilfering my money on various things that I could just as well spend it on myself. Sit tight in your chairs and don't be alarmed because he is thousands of miles away.

* * * *

"Am watching a dangerous hula movement on the front and am planning on advancing into enemy territory. Traded a package of cigarettes for three wives yesterday and gave the guy three more packages today to take them back. (They say he's got a regular racket.) Bought some Ethiopian whoppy water the other day and took charge of Ethiopian detachment. We ended up in Cairo. Somebody told me the other day that Mussolini is planning on sending some soldiers over here. Well, I have a date so Abyssinia."

Enough of international news. We could start in on campus politics and the new frames but it would probably be biased so I'll skip it. There's such a thing as keeping healthy and wise, even if one isn't wealthy.

And to go from a bad subject to a good one, we might mention the fact that a good college orchestra has at last hit the campus. Baccus's band played here Friday night.

* * * *

Week-end Quirps—Five Ceres girls calling the boys' dormitory for five handsome lads to escort them to Friday night hop—A Kappa going to a beauty parlor to have her face lifted, and having someone lift her seat when she got up to get a magazine—several girls suffering severe shock when they observed an SAE clothed only in his shoes—Ward Redmond still looking for a horse,—Woodrow Gagnon talking French to Dennerly (at least that's what he thought) much to Dennerly's puzzlement—Freshman in dormitory fined two bucks for over-indulgence—Brauer trying to keep out of the clutches of two dark females who persist in bestowing their attentions upon him—Bill 'Bison Brevities' Akeley, glaring at everyone he meets trying to find a tall handsome singing, dancing hero for his show.

"Anna Karenina" Heads Week's Shows

Fargo audiences will be able to view the very much awaited for "Anna Karenina" among several other excellent productions this week at the various theatres.

A stellar assemblage composed of Greta Garbo, Fredric March, Maureen O'Sullivan, Freddie Bartholomew and May Robson bring Tolstoy's "Anna Karenina" to the screen at the Fargo theatre tomorrow, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. This picture has a setting in the Old Russian courts.

Richard Cromwell, Sir Guy Standing, Tom Brown, Rosalind Keith and John Howard make up the outstanding cast of another Navy picture, "Annapolis Farewell." Not only is this picture a story of love but also reveals accurate insight in "Middle" training. Fargo Theatre will show this picture Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

"Life Begins at 40" is the outstanding picture at the State theatre this week, with the "never-forgotten." Rogers, Richard Cromwell and Rochelle Hudson co-star to bring to the screen one of Rogers' most outstanding pictures. Appearing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Wednesday and Thursday Kay Francis, George Brent and Warren Williams will be presented in "Living Velvet". The story tells of two men in love with the same girl, each of whom tries to give her up for the other man.

"Father Brown Detective" starred by Walter Connolly, will be shown Friday and Saturday at the State. Playing with Mr. Connolly is Paul Lukas and Gertrude Michael in a film devoted to the battle of wits between mild Father Brown and the most dangerous of European jewel thieves.

Joe E. Brown, the funnel-mouthed comedian comes to the Grand Theatre, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in his most uproarious comedy romance, "Bright Lights". Patricia Ellis and Ann Dvorak support Joe in this stirring romantic comedy.

Romance and melody blend in a delectable entertainment to bring to the screen Ted Lewis, high-hatted troubadour of syncopation, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Here Comes the Band", Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in the Grand. Supporting cast is Donald Cook, Addison Richards, Robert Gleckler, Henry Kolker, May Beatty ad others.

Roxy, this week is showing "Trancient Lady", a story of the South, starring Frances Drake and Gene Raymond, Sunday and Monday.

HAGEN NAMED PRESIDENT OF PI GAMMA MU UNIT

Robert Hagen, senior, was elected president of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social fraternity, at their meeting early this week. Other new officers are Lois Miller, vice president, and Prof. O. A. Stevens, secretary.

SPEAKS TO CLASS

Prof. Dennerly spoke to Miss Dubetz's French 204 class Monday morning. The professor spent most of the hour talking of French newspapers. He told of the Frenchman's astonishment when he sees the advertising in an American paper as in France the newspapers have little or no advertising. He also said that a large number of French papers are published by political parties. Monsieur Dennerly spoke partly in French and partly in English.

"Anne of Green Gables" with Anne Shirley and Tom Brown, showing Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday is truly a story of true value. This will be shown at the Roxy.

Jack Holt and Edmund Lowe, co-star in "Best Man Wins" on Friday and Saturday. This film is one of existing whirls of deep sea-diving showing at the Roxy.

The Social Climber....

What a homecoming! And was everybody happy? Starting with the "peppiest" pep rally seen or heard in a good many years, and lasting throughout the week-end, celebraters only stopped long enough to have "another". We managed to recognize a few familiar faces at the much overcrowded dance Friday night, but the Crystal ballroom babes and beaux sort of happened around and chiseled a free dance out of the commission . . . In the spotlight and amplified: Jimmy Baccus and his band winning the approval of the campus and getting themselves hired on the spot for a couple of parties that are comin up . . . A certain couple who are now happy because they're both in the same frame, doing a bit or more of promiscuous petting before the eyes of chaperons . . . Wayne Krogfoss vocalizing on wings of song—we thought for awhile that he was going to be carried off on those high ones, but he always fooled us and came down . . .

It was a big day for the Putnams. Charming Mrs. Putnam being truly the queen of the day and always "Doc's" queen . . . Doc seeming to lose years off his age and reigning as a typical king for a typical and glorious homecoming. You approve of the latter, don't you, R. P.? Even though I know you ordinarily don't approve of this column . . . Sororities and fraternities showed what originality they possessed and what they didn't in their floats. In the Climber's estimation, the SAE's did the best job, even if the connection to the theme was a bit hazy. It was a good thing that Kappa Kibbee labeled herself or people would wonder just what connection Haille Selassie had with homecoming floats, when Betty was really supposed to have been Doc Putnam in 1903. If Homecoming had lasted a little longer, maybe Gamma Phi's made a farce out of Doc's 1903 band . . . NDSC students showed that they could really yell in the last half of the game. Even the most sophisticated sophisticates went to their particular hang-outs with hoarse voices, but singing always makes the voice huskier, doesn't it Oxford Clubbers? Congratulations are in order for the team for having put on the best game this old campus has seen in years . . . Stan 'I love me' Maynard kept himself in the public eye, even if he wasn't playing, by being very kittenish . . . Manny Ladwig was keeping the spirits up in the bleachers . . . Among the alums back to see the old Alma Mater were Helen and Bill Breitenbach, Grace South (we might say something about the "leader among men" here, but we're afraid of being excommunicated), Bob Deering moving his rotund figure about the dance floor, Bob Fick doing right by his POP girl friends, and Freddie Martin being excused from teaching duties because of the beet-picking season . . . Our lovely homecoming queen received a bouquet of yellow roses from a Mister X in Iowa, and boxes of candy from the Golden Maid and Chateau. Betty was mistaken for the queen in the Golden Maid, but the sweet twin that she is, she brought the goodies home to sister Jane . . . Irene Martin and Jack Irish must have kissed and made up since Saturday night, because they're back together again. Poor Irene was afraid of raids and she just couldn't be mixed up in anything like that, so Jack takes her home at 11:30 . . . tsk-tsk-tsk.

Last line: Stay out of my column Bison Briefs!

Phi Omega Pi—Newly elected pledge officers are: Marjorie Nims, president; Dorothy Olson, vice president; Julia Wetmore, secretary; Dorothy Hogan, parliamentarian; and Marion Shigley, treasurer . . . Marion Wepple, Jamestown was the week-end guest of Jo Connelly . . . Bernice Larson came from the State capital at Bismarck to spend the week-end with her sister, Alice . . . Mrs. E. Trzcinski, Kenmare, visited with her daughter during the week at the house.

Kappa Sigma Chi—Graduate Clinton Westermeyer, of the National Park Service in Yellowstone park, was a house guest during the week . . . Other visitors were Bert Seymour and Cyril Schaffer of Kenmare, and Clay Quinild '33.

Phi Mu—Pledges selected Margaret Moffet for president of their group, Doris Stinson, vice president; Marion Morris, secretary; Marie Carlson, treasurer; and Evelyn McNamara, parliamentarian . . . Alums back for homecoming were: Bernice Strilt, Wilmar, Minn.; June Kramer, Sykeston; Mary Spratt, Crocker, S. Dak.; Doris Bremer, Wheatland; Ruth Peterson, Bismarck; and Viola Ness, a former pledge, now at the UND . . . The active chapter will entertain at a chocolate hour before the football game on Friday evening between the hours of 5-7, in honor of their pledge chapter. Bob White from the Minnesota "U" was here over the week-end . . . About ten SAE's from UND spent the week-end at the house . . . Arthur Sandine visited his home in Bismarck last week . . . James Berdahl and Bob Ward were homecoming guests at the house.

Alpha Gamma Delta—Mrs. Walter Christianson, Misses Delephine Rosa and Doris Thompson were initiated into the alumnae group Tuesday night . . . At the tea last Sunday, the pledges were presented to the faculty and to representatives of the sororities and fraternities.

Theta Chi—Blair Seitz, Roman Meyers, Donald Harris, Leo and George May, and Norman Dahl are alums who were guests at the house for homecoming festivities.

Sigma Phi Delta—The following alumnae visited the house over the week-end: Al Ruemmele, Ashley; Ed Booth, McClusky; Ed Comm, John Gabe, Jack Dingle, Mandan; Erling Hedahl, Bob Carlson, Bismarck; Frank Carlson, Minot; Abner Ingebretson, Minneapolis; Earl Hartung, Oakes; Rueben Reich, Lisbon; Eiden Flaa, Jamestown; and Wesley Gilbertson, Finley . . . Representing this college at the Engineer's College Magazine Association which met in Philadelphia last Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday were Harold Spitzer, Roy Cruden, Howard Hegbar, and Bob Froling . . . There was a meeting of the alumnae at the house last Saturday . . . Millard Borke spent the weekend at his home in Hillsboro . . . Agmar Hellebust, Mohall, was pledged last Monday.

Sigma Chi—Edward Spaulding, Jr. Lauren Raymond, Bob Parrott, and Maitland Wyard were visitors at the house over the week-end.

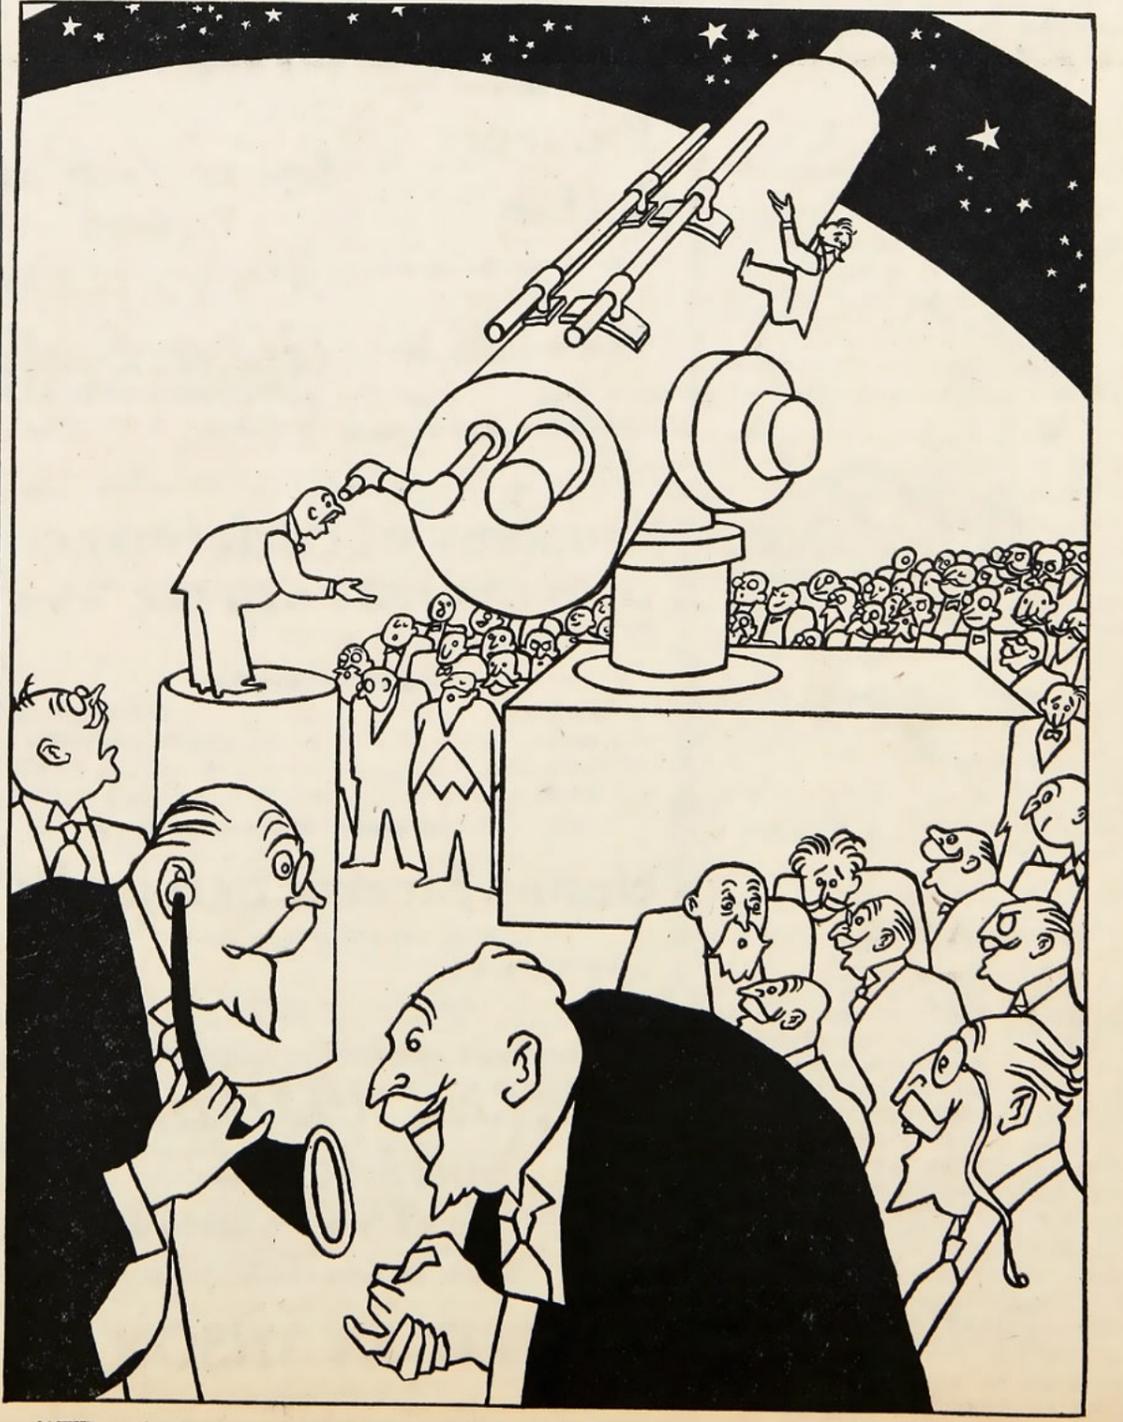

GAMMA PHI BETA—Corrine Anderson was elected president of the pledge class; June Keefe, vice-president; Betty Lou Mills, secretary, and Josephine Swenson, treasurer . . . Alumnae visiting over the weekend were Amy Glaser, Glenwood, Minn.; Paula Verne, Faribault, Minn.; Sally Hunkins, Detroit Lakes, Minn.; Cecil Olson, Neche; Mrs. Ted Lay, formerly Grace Hunkins of Lisbon; and Irma Jane Hanley.

DELTA TAU EPSILON—The Mothers club was in charge of open house held Saturday afternoon for all former students, active and pledge members . . . Newly elected alumnae officers are: Joe Lindgren, president; Fred Pifer, vice-president; Norville Neddahl, secretary-treasurer.

"Gold Star Homecoming" Draws 1000 Graduates To NDSC

Gold Star homecoming, honoring "Doc" Putnam and presided over by Jane Bristol homecoming queen, marked the return of approximately 1,000 "grads" and marked the return of much school spirit.

Friday morning's pep rally, led by "Doc" and the band, was culminated in a walk out of the 10:00 and 11:00 o'clock classes. The annual homecoming dance was held Friday evening in the field house with James Baccus's campus orchestra furnishing the music.

The homecoming parade, Saturday morning, was led by official cars and Miss Bristol with her military escort. The band and ROTC battalions made up the second section if the parade which was followed by floats of various campus organizations carrying out the gold star theme of the day. In the afternoon the Baby Bison were defeated by the Frosh from Grand Forks 13-0, but in the evening the varsity defeated South Dakota State 7-6. During the half of the evening game which climaxed the day, Miss Bristol escorted by Walt McGrath, was crowned queen. She in turn presented the Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Kappa Gamma with trophies for their winning floats. Herbst Department Store was the winner this year of the annual award for best window decoration.

HASTINGS OF STUDENT MOVEMENT VISITS YW-YM

Miss Jean Hastings, representative of the student volunteer movement for foreign missions, was a guest of the YM-YWCA last week.

Miss Hastings conferred with several student representatives in "Y" work. The purpose of her visit was to stimulate interest in the student volunteer movement convention to be held in Indianapolis from Dec. 28 to Jan. 1. The convention is to be the twelfth quadrennial of the group. The student volunteer movement has held Miss Hastings' interest since she was graduated from Mount Holyoke in 1935. She is also identified with the Connecticut valley missionary union and with the student Christian movement of New England.

The YWCA cabinet entertained Miss Hastings at a luncheon Thursday.

FRENCHMAN ADDRESSES JOINT FORUM MEETING

Speaking before a joint meeting of Sigma Delta discussion club, NDSC chapter of the International Relations club, and the Farmers Union, Prof. Etienne Denney discussed the Manchurian situation at the fireplace room at the YMCA last Sunday evening. Reuben Arneson presided at the meeting.

Prof. Denney, who was secretary of the Lytton Commission which went into Manchuria, brought out many interesting angles of the question. In closing, he said that because Japan disapproved of the report of the commission it withdrew from the League of Nations.

Booth Club Gives Tarkington Play

The Edwin Booth Dramatic club will present "Mister Antonio," a play in four acts by Booth Tarkington, as the first in a series of plays sponsored by this club, according to Alice Bender, director.

The cast includes: Tug, Herschel Hutsinpiiler; Pearl, Betty Johnson; Antonio Camaradmo, Orville Sorvick; June Ramsay, Gwendolyn Stenehjelm; George Riddle, Robert Nelson; Minnie Riddle, Elizabeth Dewey; Avalonia Jorney, LaVonne Anderson; Mrs. Jorney, Grethe Jones; Milton Jorney, Wilfred Rommel; Rev. Jessie Walpole, Robert Sanders; Mrs. Walpole, Lorraine Dixon.

The date has not yet been selected.

Student Opinion

The crying need in the election of student officers has, after many years, been finally satisfied. The independent students—some 600 strong—have organized a separate group. Orchids to them for so doing.

The movement has been without the blare of ballyhoo, and its instigators plan no campaign of mud-slinging. Theirs is a serious purpose, directed to sober-minded students. Its efforts are to gain for the vast number of unaffiliated students some voice in student government, and to "make student government mean something."

Its organization was made rapidly, but with no attempt at underhand methods. A caucus of campus leaders met, selected a slate of candidates and called a mass meeting, at which the candidates were officially nominated.

Independents in the past have been, for the most part, indifferent to the election proceedings, largely because of Greek letter domination. But now that they have a complete and capable slate of candidates representing them, it is their duty to rally in support of this more democratic and more representative group of candidates.

National Inspector Visits Gamma Phis

Alpha Omicron chapter of Gamma Phi Beta will have as its guest Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of the coming week their province director, Mrs. R. E. Fitzgerald, here as inspector.

Sorority functions including a model pledge meeting, dinner, and active meeting will take up her time Monday. For Tuesday have been scheduled in her honor a faculty dinner at noon and an alumnae dinner in the evening. Miss Frances Lamb is in charge of the evening dinner to be held at the sorority house. Margaret Hanson, assisted by Mercedes Morris and Mary Elizabeth Runice, are in charge of the Panhellenic dinner to be given Wednesday noon.

Fraternity and sorority representatives will meet Mrs. Fitzgerald at a tea to be given in her honor from 4:30 to 6:00 Wednesday. Lois Presler is making arrangements for the tea. The alumnae advisory board, under Mrs. Russell Sande, will entertain the director at dinner that evening. Her program for Thursday includes a pledge officers dinner arranged for by Corrine Anderson at noon and an executive council's dinner at 6:00. The dinner is in the hands of Gertrude Powers, Gamma Phi Beta president.

After leaving here Friday, Mrs.

Fitzgerald will visit Alpha Beta chapter at the university.

NOTICE

Student commission will meet Monday noon, at Ceres hall.

By WALT McGRATH

Now that the homecoming battle between that ferocious band of grapplers from Brookings and our own sweet-tempered band has been successfully consummated we can go ahead and figure on what is going to happen when the wild Sioux from North Dakota U and Captain Sam and his boys meet in a head-on collision at the Forks Oct 26. "Plenty tough to whip, especially on their own field," opines the silver-haired mentor, and after seven years of service in these here parts he should know.

But lest we forget, there is still that MSTC obstacle to hurdle and after the showing they made against the Nodaks, it would seem that the Moorhead gang would be the toughest of the two to tackle. From all reports of the fracas, Moorhead did everything but chase West and his boys off the field yet they came out on the short end of the score. Nemzek has built himself up a fine club this season and won't have to take a back seat FOR VERY MANY outfits.

Now comes the big problem of the last Saturday night game. Did Emil signal for a free catch in the approved manner? While we can't agree with the officials on some of the other penalties they called here's one where we figure they came through in pretty grand style. After looking up in the rule book and seeing diagrams illustrating the signal for a free catch, it's impossible not to agree with the referee and so believe it or not we'll throw in our two-bits worth on the same side as authorities of good clean fun for football players.

Get out your date books and keep an open slate for the 21, and 22 of February and if you are lucky and have the necessary mazuma to travel, also chalk up a closed date for the 28 and 29. Yep, that's the time when the annual Bison-Nodak basketball fracas is scheduled for this year with the two games at Fargo coming first.

Herd Seeks Vengeance Against Dragons Tonight

Buffalomen In Good Shape For Annual Tussle

Bill Olson and Frank Welch Will Get Opportunity To Show Stuff

By MAINE SHAFER

That the Moorhead Dragons, consistently the terror of up and coming Bison elevens, are to romp across the river with promised destruction next Friday, hasn't affected the plans of the Herd to reverse the dope and avenge the humiliating 13-12 defeat of last year. Nor do they lack respect for the dangerous Peds.

Casey's men have scanned the record to date of the Moorhead eleven and found them to possess a slate of four games—three wins, and a goal line uncrossed but for the two slip-ups allowed the University of North Dakota. The Teachers' aggregation are the pick of the league to cop its own conference sable, with the strongest of the Dragon opponents already taken to the cleaners.

Must Stop Yatchak

The greatest task for the Bison Friday will be to straightjacket the heretofore one man epidemic to the Bison ranks, Vincent Yatchak. In the defeat of a year ago it was Yatchak who riddled the Bison attack and belted his way through the herd for the winning points. If Yatchak can be stopped, the Finnegan crew feels that its ball club will stretch its winning streak to four straight.

May Take to Air

If there is any worry on the part of the Bison partisans, it won't be due to the injury jinx. The return of Stan Maynard gives Casey two excellent and tried centers, the other being Charlie Pollock, whose per-

Frosh Drops Game To Baby Sioux, 13-0

The ancient feud between the Bison yearlings and the Baby Papposes will be resumed this weekend when the two outfits clash for the second time this season, tomorrow afternoon at Memorial stadium at 2:30 o'clock. In the fracas held at Dacotah field last Saturday, the Nodaks pulled out a 13-0 win in a contest replete with thrills and injuries.

The date of the game was originally scheduled to be Friday, the 25th, but at the request of Coach West the second game will be changed to take place on the 19th.

The contest last week was a close battle all the way through with the Sioux getting the majority of the breaks and then capitalizing on them to count. Both of the outfits uncocked hard driving attacks with little to choose between them, but it was the constant aerial threat that allowed the Nodak team to count the two touchdowns. For the Bison, it was the work of Norm Olson and Ernie Wheeler that stood out in the running attack, while in the line, Laavig, miniature guard, gave a fine exhibition. Harry Peterson showed lots of drive while he was in the fracas and also did some fine defensive work behind the line.

Olson will not be in the starting lineup tomorrow because of an injury to his knee that he suffered in practice Wednesday night. It is probable that this will give Coach Smith an opportunity to use Peterson more and also give him a chance to get a line on what some of the other backs can produce.

Bison Trip Up Jackrabbits For Conference Win

Chalking up their second conference win, the North Dakota State college Bison downed the Bunnies from South Dakota State by a count of 7-6 last Saturday night at Dacotah field as the main event in the annual Homecoming celebration.

The close score is not a true indication of the margin of superiority that the Herd displayed in this fracas. Although the Finnegan-Lowe coached team had to come from behind to win, they clearly outplayed their opponents as indicated by the fact that they counted 14 first downs to the Jackrabbits 5. The entire Bison line played the whole game and literally withstood advances like the proverbial stone wall.

With Paul Miller and Wally Diehl as the main figures, the Rabbits broke into the scoring column first when Miller heaved a 45 yard pass to Diehl who scampered a few yards to cross the double marker. This was in the last of the second quarter and it was not until the final period that the Herd was able to break through and tie up the score at 6 all and then Emil May wrote his name in the annals of Bison history when he calmly booted the ball between the uprights to count the winning point.

There was only one Aggie substitution during the fracas, that being Carl Rorvig, who fully demonstrated that while experience helps, a neophyte can often show the veterans a few tricks when it comes to lugging the pigskin. Erling Schranz proved to be a ground gainer for the Herd, while Bob Erickson pounded the line in his usual battleship fashion.

After seeing two scoring threats slip through their fingers, the Aggies pulled three successive plays that netted them the victory. First was a pass from Schranz to Westgate who snared it when it seemed certain that it was due to hit the ground. The following play was another pass this time to Reiners who leaped into the air and brought it down in the end zone for a touchdown. It was then that Emil May pulled the game out of the fire with his fine boot from placement that ended the scoring for the remainder of the tussle.

While the entire Bison team played a bang-up game, the work of Greg Sloan and Sam Westgate at the end positions was particularly outstanding, especially in the fine work of covering punts. For the Bunnies it was Miller that kept the home boys on their toes, as he was a scoring threat from any portion of the field.

ASME HOLD MEETING, DISCUSS MEMBERSHIP

The first meeting of the year of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was held yesterday afternoon in the Engineering building. Advantages of being a student member were discussed.

NDSC To Direct New Mail Course

Through Senate Bill 158, North Dakota State college has been designated as the institution which, shall set up a correspondence school for North Dakota boys and girls who are unable to attend the regular high schools, to receive high school education by studying up-to-date correspondence courses in their rural schools free of charge.

Under State Director T. W. Thorwardson, three classes of country students will receive a broader education: those attending the smaller high schools with narrow curriculum, those attending rural schools with narrow curriculum, those attending rural schools without high schools, and those who cannot attend school because of diseases and other physical disabilities.

Already, within one month, more enrollments have been received than can be taken care of the first year.
