Three Percent Increase Shown In Enrollment

Men Students Outnumber Women Students More Than Two to One

Increased numbers of men students is responsible for an approximate three percent increase in enrollment at NDSC this year, as the number of women remained at 402, exactly the same as last year. Enrollment of 905 men raised the school total to 1350, as compared to 1307 last year or an increase of 43, which figure incidentally is the enrollment of the college high school.

Enrollment by classes is: freshmen, 534; sophomores, 370; juniors, 235; seniors, 159; graduates, 9; and high school 43.

The changes effected last year by the Board of Administration which coordinated the executive capacities under four deans instead of the former seven continues this year. The change was made to reduce the number of faculty members engaged in executive duties so that they might devote additional time to research and teaching activities. The four division heads are: Dr. H. L. Walster, dean of agriculture; R. M. Dolve, dean of engineering and technology; A. E. Minard, dean of science and literature; and Alba Bales, dean of home economics.

In the division of agriculture 182 are enrolled; division of engineering architecture 23, architectural engineering 6, chemistry 86, chemistry and engineering 9, civil engineering 72, electrical and mechanical engineering 141; division of arts and sciences: education 114, pharmacy 82, science and literature 384; division of home economics 218.

A. H. Parrott, registrar, reports many requests for late registration due to the late harvest and fall plowing, indicating that some increase in enrollment will still be made.

First Convocation Is Held Tuesday

The first convocation of the fall series was opened Tuesday with an address by President J. H. Shepperd and musical numbers by the first section of the Gold Star Band under Doctor C. S. Putnam. Earnest Van Vlissingen, instructor in voice, also sang two numbers to the accompaniment of Homer Huntoon, of the architectural department.

President Shepperd, after having been introduced by Dean A. E. Minard, commented on the size of the school, its standing with other schools, the necessity of budgeting one's time while in college, and the desirability of wholesale participation in the extra-curricular activities of the institution. In closing his address, he gave the student body his best wishes for the coming year.

There will be a meeting of Gamma Tau Sigma in Ceres Hall dining room Tuesday noon.

WASN'T NEARLY 'NOUGH THAT INDEED IS TOUGH

There is a weak bit of juvenile verse that epitomizes the efforts of a year in freshman English. It seems that an English instructor, in an effort to evoke greater variety of vocabulary from a reluctant class, assigned a sentence to be rewritten as poetically expressive of beauty as possible. The sentence was

"The old sow remained unfed";
The result under discussion was:
"The hogs have had a swill time,
Their snouts deep in the trough,
But mother sow remains unfed;
There wasn't nearly 'nough."
And there you are. How deeply must the author have felt! How expressive his song of sympathy! In fact, how rustic!

Cadet Officers Assigned Posts

Permanent assignments of senior cadet officers in the college ROTC have been announced by Lieutenant-Colonel Easton, head of the college ROTC unit, the assignments becoming effective September 20. Temporary assignment were made last spring, but several changes have been made since that time.

Student battallion commander with the rank of lieutenant-colonel will be Sidney Shannon, senior in the school of mechanical engineering. Composing the lieutenant-colonels staff with the rank of captains are: William Akeley, adjutant; Kenneth Boyd, intelligence officer; John McCormick, supply officer; and Jack Spalding, plans and training officer.

Seniors chosen as company commanders with the rank of majors are: Paul Boleyn, Arthur Christianson, Gustav Gerlitz, and Walter McGrath. Officers with the rank of captain chosen as platoon commanders are: Edward Ballard, Newell Beckwith, Paul Carah, Laurence Chloupek, Felix Farrar, Lynn Fredrickson, Robert Hagen, Charles Litten, Harold McCannel, Victor Nordlund, Edward Nemets, and Robert Stegnar.

CADET HOP PLANNED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

The first cadet hop of the year will be held next Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 in Festival Hall. Music will be furnished by Leonard Dahl and his orchestra.

These hops are sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, and in past years have enjoyed great popularity. At a meeting held Wednesday, Scabbard and Blade decided to make this dance a trial and if the response is great enough other hops will be planned in the near future. Admission prices are 25 cent for boys and 10 cent for girls. Walter McGrath, Paul Boleyn, and Art Christianson will be in charge of the dance this coming Thursday.

Those wishing to try out for the positions of yell leaders report to Doc Putnam within the next four days.

Commissioner Rules Oct. 3 Deadline For Theme Contest

Final chance to win five dollars for merely submitting an idea for a homecoming theme will be Thursday, October 3, when the contest closes. This contest is being sponsored by the student commission in an effort to obtain a homecoming theme that will please the student body and represent its thought on this matter.

The only thing necessary to do to be eligible to win this five dollar bill is to submit some word, phrase or clause that you think expresses an appropriate theme for this colorful, all-important annual event. In order to give some idea of what may be used and has been tried before, last year's theme was "Rain, Reign, Rein," while the previous year the NRA Blue Eagle dominated the event. Each suggestion submitted must be accompanied by the person's name and any one contestant may send in any number of ideas.

Slips will be entered by dropping them in the boxes provided for this purpose in the main hall of science and also in the front entrance of Old Main. The winner will be announced in next Friday's edition of the Spectrum with a photograph and the same story and picture will be run in the Fargo Forum that Sunday.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB HAS SOCIAL MEETING

A social program entertaining prospective members was given at the first meeting held Monday evening by the Cosmopolitan club, local independent student organization.

Mary Fay Wenger was in general charge of program arrangements and Knute Haugsjaa was master of ceremonies. Dancing and parlor games comprised the major part of the evening's activities. James Baccus sang a group of solos and Robert Hagen, Cosmopolitan club president, welcomed new students.

College Cider Cornucopia Calls Caterers To Thursday "Cut-up"

Get down that old cup from the mantel and shuffle over to the State College horticultural show. For the visiting visitor there will be cider to drink a plenty and that's no fooling. Right in the center of luscious apples, plums, grapes, and tempting squashes and pumpkins and a score of other fruits and vegetables that grace the North Dakota cornucopia of plenty this season of the year will stand King Cider Keg with its contents free to all.

"What, no doughnuts?", you say. "Bring your own," yells someone from the sidelines, "what do you wish for your money?"

Sponsored for the first time at North Dakota State college is this horticultural show for students, faculty and anyone else interested, on Thursday night, Oct. 3, and all the

Sudro Schedules Conference Hours

Due to the fact that the number of organizations on this campus has materially increased in the past few years the work connected with the scheduling of functions of various kinds has reached such a magnitude that some arrangement of time must necessarily be adopted to properly systematize the business of this office.

In years past students have been allowed to interview this office at any time but as such a system resulted in much confusion. It is suggested that hereafter interviews and conferences regarding social functions and other affairs be held only between the hours of 4:00 and 5:00 P. M. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

The office of the chairman of the committee on social affairs is located in room 108 Francis hall. Miss Ione Larson will be very pleased to schedule the various events.

Please keep in mind that the time for these conferences is from 4:00 to 5:00 each day for under no circumstances will it be possible to devote any other period of the day for such purposes.

DEAN SUDRO,
Chairman of Committee on Social Affairs.

Second Contest Of '35 Season Is Tomorrow

Lack of Reserve Material Likely to Prove Setback To Chances of Bison

By WALT McGRATH

Finnegan, Lowe and Co. will journey to Minneapolis this weekend where they will open the University of Minnesota's football schedule with a continuation of the series of games begun last year. It will be the second contest of the season for the Herd and with this additional seasoning the Aggies should serve as a good test for the all-powerful Gopher juggernaut.

The matter that bothers the Herd mentors is the lack of more than one good reserve for each position and in this game a goodly supply of second string men is practically a necessity. However, the first eleven men have showed great possibilities and if they are able to stick it out the entire 60 minutes the Fargoans may have a fair chance of giving Minnesota a tough afternoon.

While nobody expects the Herd to do any more than hold the score down to five or six touchdowns, it is notable that last year the boys from Fargo were the only team that scored more than once against the high-powered Gophers. Fritz Hanson, crowd pleaser and nemesis of all opponents, is lost from the Bison lineup but fans here are almost willing to name as his successor the swivel-hipped lad from Aberdeen, Emil May. In Bomba Isensee they have a line plunger that may be able to pierce the ton of beef that serves as a forward echelon for the fleet University backs.

Scores of fans from Fargo are planning to make the trip mostly with the idea of seeing if the 1935 Gopher edition can compare with the wonder team of last year, but also to witness what the Bison can do against top-notch competition.

NDSC NIGHT CLASS TO BE ORGANIZED OCT. 1

Night classes for downtown and campus students will be organized Tuesday night, October 1, in room 311, Science hall, according to T. W. Thordarson, director of correspondence extension classes.

Last year about 500 students were enrolled by subject in night classes and the same number in correspondence courses. This year's enrollment is expected to equal that of last year, said Mr. Thordarson.

NOTICE

All students enrolled in the school of agriculture are requested to meet in the Ag building at 7:30, Tuesday, Oct. 3, for the purpose of organizing the Saddle and Siroloin Club for the present school year. A program of entertainment and lunch is being planned. BE THERE!

"Where To Pledge"---Question Of The Week

Monday morning much excitement will be manifest among the student body over the new pledge pins which will appear on the dresses and in the coat lapels of the freshmen. Since school began the Greeks have been busy handing out a line and the freshmen have been just as busy soaking it up. There have been parties, teas, and talks till one would think the business of getting rushees was a life and death matter. In the minds of many is the bewildering question as to where to pledge or if to pledge Sunday. The thing to do in case a Greek organization hands you quite a line is to make that organization prove its statements before pledging.

Pledging a fraternity implies more of an obligation on your part than on the part of the fraternity. It is not so much what the fraternity can do for you, but what you can do for it that will decide the success of your contact with any Greek society. To pledge for the sake of the social prestige is no reason at all for pledging.

A beautiful house, walls lined with loving cups—these do not make a fraternity or sorority although they are indicative of the caliber and foresight of those who have gone before. A group should be chosen for the individuals who compose it. Thirty-five men or women can not live together but what there arise at some time bickering and dissension and thus it is necessary that the rushee pick the group with which he or she likes the most and will be able to live with in the most compatible manner in the years to come.

With many the cost of belonging to a fraternity is a matter of utmost consideration. This is largely a problem which must be faced by the rushee alone. Only after an inventory of yourself and financial condition will you be able to decide whether or not it is worth the price.

To those that were not asked to pledge or take part in rushing activities consider yourselves fortunate that you did not have to waste time on these activities which always play havoc with scholastic averages. The fact that you were not asked to pledge places no stigma upon you. Many of the pledges are not discovered till formal rush week has been forgotten. If you have the stuff in you any organization on this campus will be glad to claim you as a member.

Class Rivalry Is Becoming Thing Of Past

Is school spirit to become a thing of the past at North Dakota State? Each year less interest has been shown by the freshmen and sophomores. The good-natured rivalry that has formerly existed between the two classes apparently has entirely disappeared this year. The freshmen haven't even bothered to whitewash their letter around the campus.

Although, in a previous issue, we did advocate keeping class numerals off the tops and sides of buildings, we referred to numerals painted on with paint. Numerals put on with whitewash will disappear with the first rain.

This is a tradition as old as college itself, and to allow it to die, is to lose a vital and interesting feature of college life. If such an attitude is taken toward this phase of college spirit, one naturally expects little spirit to be shown toward other campus activities. Let's show a little spirit, students, and keep the college alive.

BISON BRIEFS

By BOB TAYLOR

Galooks and gaboons what a week! All it needs is an amateur contest to make it complete. Well, why not? Columbus took a chance didn't he? And Dionne? What have we to lose except my job. All you're brats imagine yourself sitting by your radio and turn to station N U T Z, and prepare for the worst.

Major Bowes Arvold: "Friends all over this great country of ours, are you troubled with dyspepsia and do you have that run down feeling. If you don't you're not a college student. Try a shot of Tiger Eye whisky and you'll be a new man. One shot and you'll go up in the air, two shots and you'll go home and tell your wife where to go, and three shots and Lord only knows where you'll go. It should be called block and tackle whisky, folks. You walk a block and you'll tackle anybody."

Well, the wheel of fortune goes and goes and where it stops nobody knows. The phone number in New York is Murreyhill, 9982, and in the "Little Country Theater" is 4903. If you want a date, call 1186. And now we have Mr. Hans Acher. What are your qualifications?"

Mr. Hans Acher: "I drink Tiger-eye whisky and brush my teeth three times a week with wottafake tooth paste."

Major Bowes Arvold: "You look like it, too. What are you going to do?"

Mr. Hans Acher: "I want to give an imitation of an Economics instructor."

M. B. A.: All right, go ahead."

Mr. Hans Acher: "Now, children, we won't burn up the vital energies talking about the nasty things of life, but we must look toward the sunshine. Life is a garden of roses, and only those who have an inner understanding of the mysteries of life can fully understand. Some day, maybe, when you grow older you will learn all about the bees and the pollen and such things of evil, but now—" Bong!!!

M. B. A.: "All right! All right! Mr. Hans Acher would make an excellent biology instructor. Next, we have Mr. North West. He looks as though he drank Tiger-eye whisky, too. My, you have a peculiar odor about you."

Mr. North West: "It's just hydrogen sulphide, Major. I want to imitate an icicle hanging from an iceberg, in a blizzard at the North Pole."

Arvold and audience shiver as he goes into his act.

Major Bowes Arvold: "All right! All right! You fairly freeze me. A real icicle couldn't be more realistic. And now for the final telephone bulletin. Mr. North West has three votes and Mr. Hans Acher has two. Evidently, Mr. West has a larger family than Mr. Hans Acher. Be sure and listen in next week to the second in this series of original amateur hours.

According to the campus copper, who sees all, hears all, and knows nothing, a certain freshie had very red ears a few nights ago. Naughtie—naughtie—remember to brush the powder and grass off your clothes when you come into Ceres after this.

That worried look haunting the eyes of campus girlies (excuse me, I mean Fargo girlies) has departed, and sloe-eyed sisters are again rejoicing. God's gift to women Crane is once more promenading the campus, spreading sunshine and baloney.

The ATO's have hung a pin on Majors and expect to win a dinner out of the deal. Majors is so "broad-minded" that they expect to find the pin decorating any powder and paint job with a neat chassis. If Majors keeps the pin six weeks he wins. If he doesn't he buys the ATO's a dinner. However, we feel the only way to keep Majors from hanging the pin would be to hang Majors.

Last Line:

Because Forchert wanted publicity he drew two of the editors into the Dugout and with Kappa Marj gave his first public demonstration prior to competing in the prize waltz of the coming formal season.

Rogers' Last Heads Theater Programs

Gene Raymond and Sylvia Sidney will be seen Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday in "Behold My Wife," in which Miss Sydney plays an Indian maiden who falls in love with a young socialite. Fast-talking Lee Tracy in "The Lemon Drop Kid," will be shown Wednesday and Thursday.

The chemistry club held a short meeting Thursday evening in the Chemistry building. The meeting, the first of the year, was intended primarily to acquaint non-members with the work of the club.

The Social Climber....

School is on the way and rushing is on the wane. It's all over but the shouting, weeping, or what have you. Most of the girls feel like that little bit of Major Bowes' program, "Round and 'round she goes and where she stops, nobody knows." Sunday the fellows are "pinned up" and they really begin to know what they've gotten into, and an onlooker on the second floor of Science hall would hear the gals say, "What are you going to do?" and "I'm just in a quandry", when most likely they know what girls they're going to be sisters for life with anyway. But such is rushing and everyone is glad when it's over except the rushee . . . they love to go to the parties given for them. Now that we've taken care of that issue, let us concentrate our attention elsewhere. Have you guys noticed the latest dress style for "Joe College"? Have a look at "slicker Ells" and "crooning Phillips". Striped sweaters, no matter which way the stripes go . . . and colored suspenders, especially yellow ones, are what the well-dressed man will wear . . . The gals wear — well, let it go . . . Do you remember our going to tell "all" about SAE Morgan? Well, it seems as if Vinnie — an 'ex' we hear — won't permit it, so if you're really curious, catch Morgan on the sly . . . Our guess is that the "Kaafel Hour" Sigs got their programs to coincide because during that certain hour in the morning, Tillie gets their company en masse, but coffee is only a nickel a cup and poor Tillie is kept busy "warming" it up — for not much profit . . . Unless our eyes deceived us, Mademoiselle Martin was seen without her "Monsieur" one day this week. What is this world coming to? . . . Lest we forget, congrats to the Bison herd for Friday night's game. This means you too, "Offside Kelly." Although Bobby Millar was getting anxious for the Louis-Baer fight and almost had one of his own and Jane got there just as Sammy limped off the field, a good time was enjoyed by all. Such enthusiasm we never heard . . . only Hunkins and Curtis — you'd better learn the words, boys, if you're going to give us any more solos.

In closing, if anyone has any complaints about the advertising in this paper, go to Big Boy Murphy — Walters was interviewing him for he job yesterday.

Kappa Sigma Chi — Joe Aasen, who is now attending the Mayville State Teachers college, spent Monday at the house.

Phi Mu—Luella Furcht is visiting at the home of her parents here in Fargo, and has been a guest at the sorority. Luella is now located at 417 Yates doing social service work . . . Mrs. Margaret Wax of Urbana, Illinois, arrived last Friday to sit the local chapter of Phi Mu. Mrs. Wax is a member of the Phi Mu sorority at the "U" of Illinois.

Alpha Tau Omega—Formal initiation for seven men was held Sunday morning at the chapter house. New initiates are: Francis LaMarre, Canton; James Higgs, Park Rapids, Minn.; Arnold Bernard, Wahpeton; Bernard Majors, Jamestown; Donald Bettschen, Arthur; Francis Ladwig and DeLaurence Nelson, Fargo.

Delta Tau Epsilon—A ping pong tournament played out of doors under an arrangement of flood lights, was the featured entertainment when prospective pledges were entertained Tuesday evening. Honored faculty guests were H. M. Fitch of the civil engineering department and Mr. Brown of the department of agricultural economics . . . G. T. McClary '33 and Norin Johnson '35, were guests at the house.

Sigma Chi—Fred Myrdahl and Bob Parrott '35, were visitors at the chapter house during the week. Myrdahl is teaching in Comstock, and Parrott is employed by the Cargill Grain Co., of Minneapolis . . . The Mothers club met Tuesday at the house.

Sigma Phi Delta—A smoker will be held tonight in the chapter house. . . . House guest of the past week was Walter Booth '26, who left Tuesday for Schnectady, N. Y., where he is employed by the General Electric Co.

Theta Chi—George Drakely '33, of Salem, Oregon, and Art Taylor of Crookston were guests at the house this week.

Kappa Delta — Edith Quamery, graduate of the "U" of Minnesota and a sorority member of Kappa Delta there, was a visitor at the chapter rooms during the week . . . For the purpose of inspection, two special meetings will be held tonight in the rooms. Pledges will meet with the inspector at 7:00 and the actives will assemble at 7:30.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—An alumnae meeting was held in the chapter rooms Wednesday night . . . Erllys Hill '34, will leave for New York Saturday to assume a position in retailing.

Three Fraternities Entertain Tonight; Saturday Is Open

Formal rushing activities of NDSC fraternities, which opened Friday night with the Sigma Chi party, reaches its climax next Sunday afternoon with formal pledging at the various houses. Rushees will designate their choice at Old Main in the afternoon.

During the past week rushing has been open to all groups between 1:00 and 8:00 p. m. Time is extended, however, to 12:00 p. m. on the night of the fraternity's party.

The Sigma Chi's entertained with a banquet preceding the Concordia-Bison football game last Friday. Don Fraser and Maine Shafer were in charge of arrangements.

A "radio" party in the chamber of commerce building Saturday was the contribution of Sigma Alpha Epsilon to rush week. Dayton Jones was in charge.

Kappa Sigma Chi entertained at its house, 1131 Fourteenth St., N. Monday night. A banquet at 6:00 p. m. was followed by a smoker. Vardi Thorwardson arranged for the activities.

A banquet at the chapter house, 1307 Thirteenth St. N., a theater party, and a program comprised the Theta Chi party on Wednesday night. Leon Hartwell, Palmer Kreutz, and Wayne Krogfoss were in general charge.

A dinner at Ceres hall at 6:00 p. m. and a program at the house, 1155 Twelfth Ave. N. was given by Alpha Tau Omega last night. Jack Cline and Francis Ladwig were in charge of dinner arrangements and Jerome Reep, the program at the house.

Three groups will entertain tonight, the last of rush week. Kappa Psi will have a dinner and smoker at its home, 1414 Twelfth Ave. N., with Maurice Hylden in charge.

Alpha Gamma Rho, 1303 Thirteenth St. N., will hold a banquet, theater party, smoker and entertainment. Clifford Altermatt and Irwin Rector will direct the activities. Sigma Phi Delta, at its new home at 1372 Twelfth Ave. N., have a dinner and smoker with John Pahl in charge. Saturday is open to all fraternities.

YMCA COUNCIL MEETS FIRST TIME WEDNESDAY

The YMCA council, student group directing the college YMCA, will hold its first meeting of the year Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the fireplace room of the college YMCA, according to Orville Goplen, president.

This meeting is held to plan the membership drive and to shape the year's program.

Other members of the council are Vinton Plath, vice-president; Harry Graves, secretary; Tony Dahl, treasurer; Dayton Jones, Karl Weiler, Hugh Anstett, Hubert Bahr, Bernard Hutchins, Arvad Cline, Bjorne Dahl, and Vardi Thorwardson, cabinet members.

FORMER NDSC NEWSMAN TO BECOME THEOLOGIAN

Gerald Garlid, publicity man for the FERA at Bismarck during the past year, will study for the ministry at St. Paul Lutheran Seminary, St. Paul. He reported for study Sept. 15. Garlid graduated in education at the North Dakota Agricultural college in June 1933, and taught one year at Sharon high school before accepting his position at Bismarck with the FERA.

Formal Rush Week Ends Today; Bids To Be Filed Sunday

Formal rush week for the fraternities ends today. By 5:00 on Saturday, September 28, all fraternities must have filed with the President of the local inter-fraternity council, a separate invitation for each rushee they desire. At 4:00 on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 29, the rushee reports to the registrar's office where he indicates his choice of fraternity with pledging following immediately after. No further pledgings or rushing will be allowed till one week has elapsed.

Sororities may not bid any girl that has entered college after the opening of formal rush week, until the winter term. Girls expecting bids should be in their place of residence following the teas, Sunday, Sept. 29, until 9 p. m. If a summons is not received by 9 p. m. none may be expected. Rushees who are to receive bids will be notified before 9, to appear at the office of the Panhellenic lawyer in the dean of women's office between 8:30 and 9 that evening to receive their bids. Rushees will then state their sorority preference in the Panhellenic lawyer's office. If a girl takes out a bid and does not pledge that sorority, she will have the same penalty as for a broken pledge. She must forfeit the right to pledge any sorority for one calendar year.

The preferential system is used in connection with all formal rush seasons. When signing the preference slip, the rushee may indicate his first and second choice. If there is no bid from his first choice, he automatically takes the bid from second one if there is any. All bidding is kept secret.

FRENCHMAN IN SCHEDULED FOR COMING CONVOCATION

Convocations for the next two weeks should prove especially interesting to students of foreign affairs, according to Dean A. E. Minard, who has charge of securing speakers for convocation.

Next Wednesday, Prof. A. F. Hunsaker, head of the department of social and economic sciences, will speak on the Italo-Ethiopian crisis and the following week Prof. Etienne Denney, former secretary of the Lyton Commission sent out by the League of Nations in 1932 to study the situation in Manchuria, will talk on the "French Opinion of Democracy and Fascism." Prof Denney is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 10.

Library Adds Books By Famous Authors

Several inviting new books are now available at the college library.

Lo Bagola's "An African Savage's Own Story", is an autobiography of a savage who came out of the African bush into modern civilization and thenceforth found himself an alien among his own people, and a stranger in this twentieth century world.

Josephine Johnson's "Now in November", the Pulitzer Prize novel for 1935; Gaius Atkins' "Procession of the Gods", a history of religion; Ruth Lampland's "Hobbies for Everybody"; Walter B. Pitkin's "New Careers for Youth"; and Willard E. Atkins' "Gold and Your Money", have also been added.

Miss Harriet Pearson of the library staff, has leave of absence for three months, during which time Miss Tesdell will have charge of the library methods class. In order that the usual number of librarians may be kept on the staff, Miss Ruby Deotte, a former NDSC girl, has been added.

NOTICE

Public School Methods classes are still open for late enrollment. The class, which meets Tuesday and Friday at 1:15, is especially for senior girls who are expecting to teach after graduation. Two hours credit is given for the course. Private voice lessons given with credit also.

Prep Enrollment Totals Fifty-Three

Enrollment of the high school department of the NDSC, according to Prof. P. J. Iverson, superintendent, has reached a total of 53 students this term.

The high school department exists primarily to enable seniors in the school of education to gain practice and experience in teaching. Seniors wishing to qualify for teaching positions receive five credit hours credit toward their degrees by teaching the subject in which they have majored for a period of time. The teaching of each subject is under the immediate supervision of a college faculty member in that department.

Faculty members in charge are: English, Miss Eloise Waldron; history and social sciences, Mr. C. A. Severson; mathematics, Miss Ruby Grimes; botany, Dr. H. C. Hanson; biology, Dr. W. N. Keck; physics,

Mr. H. M. Hoffman; home economics, Miss Lucille Horton; machine shops, W. O. Heldt; public discussion, Miss Alice Bender; modern language, Dr. Leon Metzinger; physical geography and commerce, Professor Iverson. Dean Pearl Dinan and Dean I. W. Smith supervise the students, who act as advisors to the high school students and act in the capacity of deans.

Extra-curricular activities for the high school students this year offer them opportunity for self expression. The school is fully accredited as a first class high school under the regulation of the North Central Association.

SCOUTMASTER TRAINING COURSE IS CONDUCTED

A short course in the principles of scoutmastership is being conducted by the Red River Valley council for all scouters and interested men in Fargo and Moorhead. The second in the series of six meetings will be held at the Fargo Chamber of Commerce. Students of NDSC who are at all interested and whose profession will give them opportunity to act as scout leaders are urged to attend the course. The cost is only fifteen cents per individual, to cover the cost of literature.

E. M. Gillig, of the NDSC experimental station, and John B. Godich of Dilworth are in charge, with H. C. Gilbert, scout executive, Kenneth Pringle and Gordon Brandes, NDSC students, on the staff of instructors.

One of the main worries that is causing the Bison mentors to turn gray and haggard these days is what to do with Beryl Newman. The Baraboo lad certainly has shown enough ability in practice to rate a first string berth but as yet they have been unable to find a spot for him. Versatility is one of his crowning achievements as he is capable of holding down any line post from end to guard inclusive. "Burly" stands 6 feet two inches and tips the scales at about 190 pounds, besides being one of the scrappiest and fastest men on the squad.

Here's one word-weary sports scribe that is willing to wager somebody else's shirt that if any changes are made in the Bison forward wall Newman will be the one to step into someone's starting shoes.

A good plug for our old friend Bob Erickson has been too long neglected. Since Erickson has taken over permanent position at full, Casey has been wearing that smile of satisfaction. When Bustin' Bob hits the trail, he's Hell-bent for "complete destruction" and any number of cracked noggins, dizzily watch the fellow go by. He's brim full of recklessness or lunacy—but has not yet failed to beat his opponent to his feet. He's a charging maniac—or is it that he likes the game.

Perhaps you've heard of "Scenario Stan", the one contribution of the Maynard family of Long Prairie, Minn. He's the boy that recovered a fumble against the "U" freshmen for six points and the freshman class presidency. He's the same bundle of ambition that has gained reputation as a varsity center and somewhat of a name for his basketball efforts. And now Stan, the hero in this yarn, has been caught sending his weekly press notices home to pappy. Along with them goes the old line for more "oh-day" (pappy has to pay for sudden fame). It's O. K. to climb the heights, Stan, but son you'll lose your amateur standing.

Home Team Shows Polish in Early Win

Bison Offense Effective In 13-0 Triumph

Displaying one of the finest opening game teams in the past few years, the North Dakota Bison downed their traditional enemies from Concordia college by a count of 13-0 last Friday night at Dacotah field.

The Herd opened their attack early in the game and countered once in the first quarter but were unable to counter again until the final period. Bob Erickson scored both the touchdowns but it was the brilliant work of Emil May that made them possible. May was the spearhead of the Aggie offense and time and again broke loose for sensational gains which put the home team deep in enemy territory. The Cobbers never threatened very seriously and only a burly defense on their part prevented the Finnegan and Lowe eleven from rolling up a much larger score.

In the early portion of the fracas Captain Sam Dobervich injured his ankle and was forced from the game rather than take a chance of further hurt which might prevent him from playing in future encounters. As a whole the line exhibited a fine brand of ball with Stan Maynard and Greg Sloan being especially effective. Maynard made shoe string tackles to throw the Cobber for losses while Sloan managed to keep end runs in his territory well under control.

For the Moorhead team the play of Butorac was outstanding at his end post.

Alpha Phi Omega scouts group held its first meeting of the year in Ceres hall Wednesday noon. H. C. Gilbert, scout executive, was a guest. Activities for the year were discussed.

Frosh Gridsters Whip Into Shape

With about ten days of practice behind them, the Baby Bison of this year are beginning to round into shape for the three battles they have facing them this season. Coach Johnny Smith adopts the usual reticent mentor attitude but from all indications he is well pleased with the showing his charges have been making in practice.

In the backfield the work of one man stood out in scrimmage head and shoulders above the rest of the potential stars. Ernie Wheeler, 180 pounds of fullback from Fargo high school, has been crashing the line with his usual abandon in addition to displaying some great passing and kicking. Other backs that are being used in scrimmage quite frequently are Biegler, good especially on the defense; Peterson, who hits the line in great style; Fredricks, a Wahpeton product; and Schrank, who has shown lots of running ability.

The line men who are liable to see lots of action about game time include Snyder, center; Naprovnik, Schrabek, Jilray, Exner, and Bowen, all tackles; Bowers, Hawkins, Run-

Amateur Contests Open To Students

Russell Stenky, manager of the State theatre, announces that he will present a series of amateur contests on every Friday night at the State for thirteen weeks beginning Oct. 4. The winner of each contest will receive ten dollars and will compete at the semi-finals for the final contest on Dec. 27.

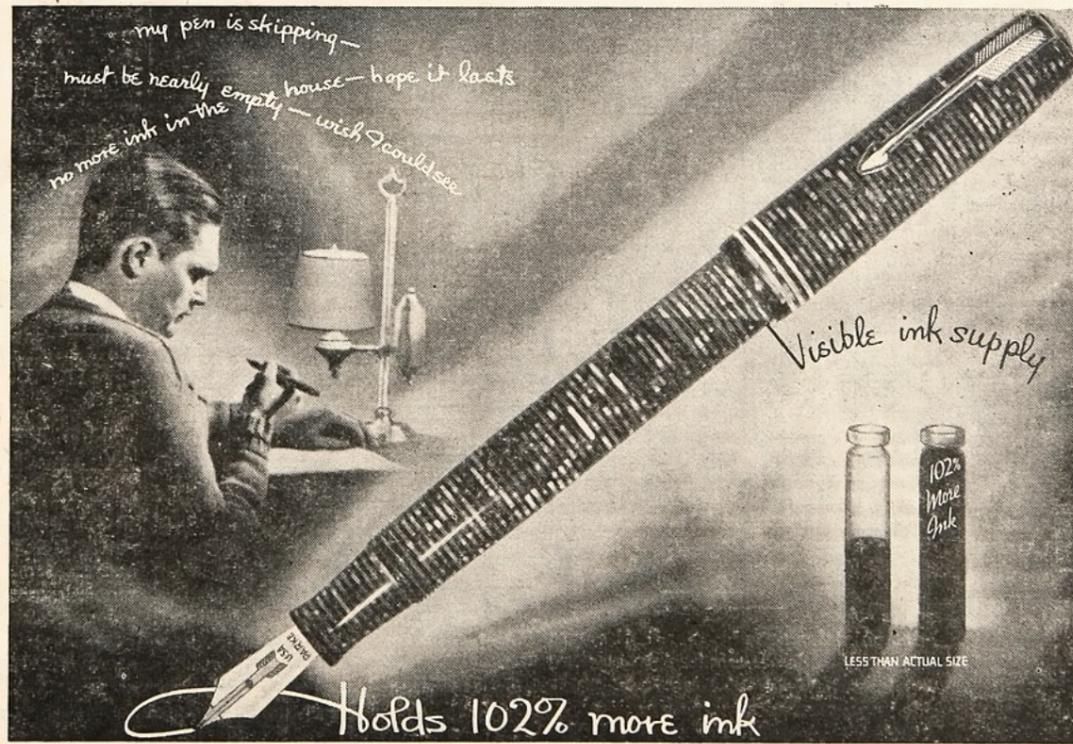

The competition will alternate adult and kiddie night with three kiddie winners and three adults receiving prizes of twelve, eight and five dollars. At last year's contest, held by the State theatre, Gordon Baird and George Friese, NDSC students, won first place in the adult contest.

According to Stenky, any type of an act interesting to the public will be used. Any one interested in the contest see Russell Stenky at the State Theatre.

GIRLS MEDICAL EXAMS BEING CONDUCTED

Medical examinations of all girls taking physical education at NDSC are being given before regular classes in that subject begin. About 150 girls will take the examinations which are being conducted at the student health center by the college nurse, Miss Esther Wendland, and the college doctor, Dr. W. A. Stafne.

Plans for examinations of men students have not yet been definitely made because of the large number of tests to be taken care of in the girls' division.

Ten thousand students at a Los Angeles relief school are paid to go to school—and docked if they cut classes!

ADLIBOGRAMS

By MARJ

North Dakota State college students, asked for their opinions of blind dates, seem to be unanimous in believing that, though love may be blind, "blinds" are not love nor the way to it.

Lillian Wendelbo of the class of '39 says "So far so good but I'm going to break the habit before the law of diminishing returns starts working." Another freshman opinion is that of Jack Irish, "Some are pretty good, some aren't. I only had one and it was good", and Irene Martin who may have been it chirps in with "It all depends on the time and the place." She seems to know. Frances Scott beat about the bush with "I wouldn't know, I'm married," and then proceeded to worry for fear she'd be taken at her word 'cause "it ain't true". Dorothy Walz thinks "They're all right if you're near sighted, good humored, and broad-minded but who is?" and Jeanne Hegge agrees with "Can they ever dance?" Mary Burns, who obviously has suffered as a result of optimism, says, "Great expectations are usually disappointing." Jane Chaney tries hiding behind a smile "Like a blind man walking without a cane."

The juniors seem, after three years, to have learned their lesson: Mercedes Morris, "I think they're terrible. It's better to stay at home" (she must be sure it won't come to that); and Mary Horner's opinion is that they're "horrible — The odds are always against you".

What about the law of averages? Maybe she gave up too soon. Bjarne Dahl expresses the viewpoint of a weathered senior, "I think they're the berries. Haven't had one for years," (nonchalant-like). "When I was a freshman I had three, but haven't been hooked since." Hmm-mm, grew up huh?
