Hanson Named Winner Of '35 Bell Contest

Senior Wins $350 Cash Award Given By Mill City Philanthropist

Harry Hanson, senior in chemical engineering, won the 1935 $350 Bell award, according to an announcement made late yesterday by Dean R. M. Dolve, chairman of the contest committee. The title of the paper upon which he won the prize is entitled, "A Solution of the Unemployment Problem."

President John H. Shepperd will present the award to Hanson during commencement exercises on June 3 in behalf of James F. Bell, Minneapolis philanthropist, who is the donor.

Hanson is a Theta Chi, former State YMCA president and NDSC YMCA cabinet president, president of Sigma Delta, president of the Chemists club, and is a member of Blue Key.

Judges of the 1935 Bell contest were Dr. Walter Lee Airheart of the NDSC School of Religion; Wm. Ballou of Fargo, and Dr. L. R. Waldron of NDSC.

Gerlitz Selected Cadet Commander

Temporary assignment of current junior officers to their new commands and naming of new non-commissioned officers from the current freshman class took place this morning at the last parade of the ROTC unit for this school year. Chosen to command the battalion for the coming year is Gustav Gerlitz, junior in mechanical engineering, who succeeds Lawrence Anderson as cadet colonel.

The first item on the parade program was the presentation of the Hearst rifle trophy to President Shepperd, which was followed by the presentation of Hearst medals to William Oftebro, Leonard Moffitt, Anthony Welker, Edward Ballard, and Karl Kaess. This was followed by the naming of the new non-commissioned officer from the current freshman class and the temporary assigning of the current junior class officers to their respective commands. The parade concluded with the entire cadet corps passing in review before the outgoing senior officers.

Adjutant of the cadet corps for the coming year will be Walter McGrath. Staff officers are as follows: plans and training, Bjarne Dahl; intelligence officer, Jack Spalding; and supply officer, Robert Hagen. Company commanders with the rank of major are: Co. A, Arthur Christensen; Co. B, Sidney Shannon; Co. C, Warner Litten; and Co. D, Edward Ballard.

To act as platoon commanders the following junior officers were selected: first platoon, Robert Crust; second platoon, Marvin Moll; third platoon, Lynn Fredrikson; fourth platoon, Lawrence Chloupek; eighth platoon, Milton Martin; ninth platoon, Robert Stephan; tenth platoon, Robert Stegner; eleventh platoon, Robert Stegner.

Business manager of the 1935-36 Spectrum is Francis Walters.

Spalding, Walters Assume Spectrum Managerial Duties

Goplen, Shafer Approved As Editorial Associates By Board

With the editing of this issue of the Spectrum, the last of the year 1934-35, Jack Spalding and Francis Walters take over their duties of editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, for the coming year. Retiring editor, Maxine Rustad, and retiring business manager, James Golseth, concluded their connection with the Spectrum with the editing of last week's Spectrum.

Last Wednesday the board of publications approved the selection of Orville Goplen and Maine Shafer as associate editors for the year 1935-36. Goplen has had two years experience on the Spectrum and served this year as associate editor. Shafer was associate editor of the Bison last year as well as sports columnist for the Spectrum; his duties next year will consist of editing all sports news. The remaining associate positions will not be filled till after the beginning of school next fall, according to Spalding.

Business Manager Walters has not as yet made his recommendations to the board of publications for the position of assistant advertising manager for the coming year.

Conmy Given New Position

Captain J. B. Conmy, who has been at the State college since 1929, has been notified that he will be transferred this summer, but as yet he has not received any definite orders as to the time or place he will be transferred.

Since 1930 he has coached the rifle team and has attained a commendable record. In the Corps Area Intercollegiate matches his team has won second, third, third, first and second in the years 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934 and 1935, respectively. These matches include the states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Arkansas. For the same years his teams have received eighth, fifth, eleventh, twelfth and this year the returns have not been received, but the team score was higher than any score ever fired by the college in the National Intercollegiate matches, which include the entire United States. In 1933 the State college rifle team won second place in a Hearst match and in 1935 they again won second place in the seventh corps area Hearst match.

Captain Conmy is a native of North Dakota, having been born in Pembina. He graduated from Pembina high school and attended St. Thomas college from which he graduated. He also attended Notre Dame and St. Paul University of Law. He came to North Dakota State from Fort Benning, Georgia and has been at this college six years. Hockey has also been one of his interests; upon coming to this school he organized a college team and has produced two state championship teams.

Dr. Putnam offers a reward of $10.00 for the return of a Holton-Clarke-Long Model cornet of light gold plated satin finish. Number 54053 on the middle valve. The instrument was not in a case. It has been missing from the Music Hall since Saturday.

Waldron Given Doctor Award

As recognition of the outstanding work in his chosen field, Dr. L. R. Waldron, of the agriculture department was awarded the doctor service degree by Blue Key fraternity at a banquet held in Ceres Hall last Tuesday evening. Warner Litten, president of Blue Key, presented the award.

Dr. Waldron has worked along the lines of plant breeding and in this connection has developed a rust resistant wheat, Ceres wheat, which produces a high yield and is especially adapted to the dry section of the wheat belt. This award was presented him in recognition of this outstanding work in plant breeding and his devotion to North Dakota State college. Dr. Waldron is one of the fifteen American members of the Linnæan society of London, a world-famous society composed of botanists and zoologists.

This is the sixth year the doctor of service degree has been awarded by Blue Key. The first year, which was 1930, the degree was conferred on Dr. Putnam; since then the degree has been given to Dean Bolley, Dr. Churchill, Dr. Nelson, Dean Walster, and Dr. Waldron.

Representatives from the Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary clubs were guests at the banquet. Each of the senior members of Blue Key gave a short talk.

THETA CHI CHAMPIONS IN CAMPUS SOFTBALL

The Theta Chi softball team carried off the honors for the kitten-ball league by defeating the Sigma Phi Delta outfit in the finals by a score of 9-8.

Assuming control of the Spectrum this week is the new editor-in-chief, Jack Spalding.

SAE Victors In Sing Fest

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the first inter-fraternity sing held on NDSC campus last Sunday evening. They were chosen unanimously after singing against the ATO's, their closets rival in a final deciding song requested by the judges. Gordon Brandes directed the group and Fredrick Martin accompanied.

Dr. C. S. Putnam, NDSC bandmaster, was master of ceremonies and directed the combined choruses in the singing of the "Yellow and the Green" as a final number on the program. Judges were Mrs. Joseph Kise and Art Skjonsby of Moorhead, and Mr. L. C. Sorlein of Fargo High School.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon opened the program with "Hail to the Purple", "Violets", "Dear SAE", and "Friends", followed by Alpha Gamma Rho singing "Here's to Alpha Gamma Rho", "Morning", and "Toast" and Alpha Tau Omega singing "Toast Convivial", "Sweet Music", "Our Jewels", and "Old Alpha."

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, which sponsored the song-fest and awarded a cup to the winners was well pleased with the interest shown and the turnout of spectators.

Plans are already under way to stage a bigger and better open air singing contest for next year.

Seniors To Give George Shaw Play

George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man", a three act satire on army and heroism in general, will be given by the senior class Friday, May 31, at 8 o'clock, p. m.

Vivian Luther and Wesley Gilbertson have been cast to lead roles. Other principals are Paula Verne, Eugene Weige, Helen Solow, Lloyd Flem, Gerald Stevens, and James Golseth.

Alice McConnel Bender is directing the production.

Hard Work, But Enjoyable Say Retiring Heads

It is customary for the retiring editor to write his or her farewell address. There are two general themes regularly used embodied in the shout, "Thank God, we're through," and in the sigh, "It might have been." Both and neither are ours. It has been hard work but we have enjoyed it.

We wish to thank students, faculty, Fargo advertisers, and particularly the staffs for their cooperation during the year. If our readers continue to cooperate by bringing their constructive criticism, and their recognition of achievement to the managing heads, a superior paper will be developed. If students and faculty only damn, a degenerating paper is the predetermined result.

As for ourselves, we have sincerely tried to provide an interesting and thought provoking college newspaper. If our editorial policy has not been clear and consistent, we have failed. Where we have succeeded, our success has been due to an exceptionally fine spirited staff. Where I, as editor, have failed, that failure has been due, not to sex, but to personal qualities or lack of qualities, as common to the the male as to the female of the specie.

May no one ever excuse the deficiencies of the 1934-35 Spectrum with the "woman editor" alibi.

MAXINE RUSTAD, Editor.
JAMES GOLSETH, bus. mgr.

Different Evaluation Of College Necessary

Slightly more than a generation ago the members of each graduating class could go out into the world with some assurance of finding a job for which they had prepared themselves. Further, as Dean Gauss of Princeton outlined the situation in 1931, "Depression or no depression, college graduates were becoming a drug on the market. The professions were overcrowded; only a minority of those seeking admission could expect to make a decent living. Others would have to look for something to do other than that for which they had prepared themselves."

Nor is the situation less acute today than three years ago, for in spite of the signs which point to a business recovery, only a few of this year's graduating class will have opportunity to secure employment in their chosen field. However, this does not mean that a college education does not pay. Neither does it mean that we must place a different evaluation upon a college education.

There will always be the obvious fact that college training prepares one for larger opportunities, but that should not be the sole aim. William Frederick Bigelow, editor of Good Housekeeping, sums up a college education excellently in the following: "If it never returns a cent on the investment of time and money, but does enlarge the inner life, college has more than paid for itself. If it leads to a finer appreciation of what life may be, it need never lead to fame or fortune to be considered worth while. More and more leisure time is to be the lot of every man; whatever teaches him to be the best companion for himself and others is worth all that it costs. We have learned that there is no security in things; the riches that are in one's heart can not be taken from him. And the right college life piles up those riches for any one who can appreciate them. . . . College always pays somehow, somewhere, sometime."

Bison Briefs

By DIZ WILLIAMS

If you want to run around with your neck banded up like Popeye Raines, then flounder around to the Bison office and ask John Deere Perry for a story regarding the Scabbard and Blade hearing Walt McGrath was once connected with the NDSC publications department and may still be able to give you the telephone number in case you choose to call it is also implicated that the past editor is planning on starting a dating bureau and will accept bids for all occasions including the barn dance, senior prom, and Fargo theater Leone Phillips has also changed from snipes to Buttz, especially noticeable during the last few weekends well, that is one way of promoting harmony between the University and our own dear school

The Gamma Rho pledges succeeded in getting rain by praying before the statue on the library lawn. Now we suggest that the Sigma Chi pledges try their luck before the only other statue on the campus, namely, the rock in front of the dairy building, commemorating a famous cow by the name of Condensora Evapora Pasteuriza or something like that. It wouldn't hurt the actives to get down on their knees either, now that the school year is nearly over.

One more pair of automobile jockeys like Cleo Knapp and Betty Bickert would make the entire state think of putting in subways and leaving the present system of stop signs and intersections free to this hell-raising pair of speedsters that would pass up Sig Haugdahl like a dirty shirt on the straightaway and stop as much traffic at intersections as a circus in front of a grade school.

P. J. and I had a good one fixed up for this paragraph but it was censored by the press, but in the meantime we can lend a parting farewell and a hearty thank you for the able assistance of William Stewart, who labored over this column most of the year in a fashion that put all of his predecessors to shame and will be a high point to his followers to look forward to (if they ever reach that excellency) It takes a lot of he-man to sit up nights in the chicken coop reading Gertrude Stein and then towards morning fixing up that weekly letter to the editor.

The Sunday matinee act of Springer-Salisbury-Lee Salisbury-Erickson Erickson-Salisbury drew a lot of sport fans to the campus tennis courts. This Columbus-Manfred act is one that requires a lot of speculation, too the Lilac Day queen was either gypped out of a good date or else the seven telephone calls and ten gallons of gas used by L. JaYne Rector was not spent in vain.

The entire staff wound up the year in good fashion and before going home at four this morning as usual, said to themselves, good work my boys, even if you didn't get anything for it we listened to pet gripes all year had our favorable and encouraging backers and before closing, wish to everyone a pleasant summer vacation and apologize for any prides hurt through our columns such writing is necessary for reading material that will satisfy the dissatisfied and so we say to the athletic department—you have made excellent subject matter we see both sides of your situation but only one side made dirt and so while we are working in the dirt this summer we will be thinking of you in a spirit of regret.

Four-fifths of the graduates of Lake Erie College (Painesville, O.) whose marriages were registered in that institution's alumni office this year were wed within five years after graduation.

Scientists Take Field Study Trip

A field trip to Detroit Lakes by the Botany and Zoology Departments, Saturday, May 18 was for the purpose of studying plants in the field, recognition of plants and their relationship and how they grow due to their environment.

The Zoology department found on this trip 60 different kinds of birds and studied fish by making a trip to the fish hatchery. Turtles also were very prominent and near the surface making them easy for observation.

A caravan of ten to twelve cars and one truck made the trip to the Lakes. Their first place of study was east of Detroit Lakes on the Detroit "Mountain". From here a beautiful view could be seen and photographs were taken. The caravan traveled to Lake Trowbridge where they used the Camp Fire Girls' Island and prepared their lunch. A trip was then taken around Lake Trowbridge and they returned to the island and had their evening meal.

According to Dr. Hanson, the trip was far more instructive than any of the lab work which they have. Recent rains helped in making the trip more interesting.

IT'S THE MOSTA OF THE BESTA

The Social Climber

Concerning the Senior Prom . . . Well, you could almost count the people that were there on your fingers. Maybe inspection was too much for both the sexes in the morning, or else it might have been that no one could prove his ancestors came from Norway . . . Anyway, the instructors were there en masse . . . but who wouldn't take advantage of the free admission? Our men of the hour, "Prune-eating" Perry and "Crooner" Murphy built themselves up by dancing with the chaperons all evening . . . By the way, Mr. Sackett, how did you like your program? All in all the party was kind of dead . . . where were the Kappas and Sigs? The three fraternities that entertained Saturday night had some difficulty getting started because of the botany trippers getting back late from their field trip down at Detroit Lakes . . . This annual trip is supposed to be for botanists only, but how could sweet David leave little Helen Bonde behind . . . he sees her so little . . . If Sally Weiseke isn't doing much talking since she came back from the trip, don't be surprised, because the little boat ride betwixt her and Arwin Hoge left her sort of speechless . . . We're still wondering how Selma and Big Boy Johnson got their clothes dry after falling in the lake . . . you'd think those broad shoulders would hold you up, Selma . . .

We don't know just exactly who to congratulate for the SAE's winning the interfraternity sing cup . . . that wonderful Brandes kind of pulled the strings, though . . . Anyway, fellows, you deserved the cup . . . and how I love flowers . . . Everyone seemed to have a good time at the all-college dance . . . that cut-in idea is right fine . . . Maybe if a tag dance is used very much Bob Saunders and Lucille won't be attending many parties, 'cause they just won't dance with anyone else . . . of course they can do as they did Tuesday . . . don't pay any attention to taggers . . . We hear that Betty Kretzschmar is being seen again with her basketball hero . . . Speaking of basketball heroes, Arney Bernard is a second William Tell, only not as good a shot with an arrow as with a basketball . . . poor Jake is nursing a sore knee, just because Bernard missed the target and got Jake . . . Here's a tip for Ceres Hall girls, if you want to come in a few minutes late, you'll have to have Watchman Kasson as an escort . . . Vivian manages that way . . . The Kappas and Sigs had a picnic Wednesday night . . . oh, yes, T. Worden Johnson was chaperon . . . Everyone asks if we know how long the lilac queen and her prince had been rehearsing that kiss that climaxed a lovely pageant Tuesday night.

Thus ends our endeavors for this school year. We hope no one took offense at anything we said, because after all it was meant for fun . . . and spring is in the air . . . so is Newell Beckwith.

KAPPA DELTA — Actives and pledges were entertained at a tea Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 in the home of Mrs. Franklin Van Osdel. Alums were in charge of the tea at which Miss Pauline Reynolds poured . . . Miss Adda Blakeslee, patroness, will entertain the chapter at her lake cottage June 1 and 2 . . . Seniors are being honored at a breakfast Sunday at 11:30 a. m. by the alumnae chapter. The affair will take place following the initiation of Grethe Jones in the sorority apartment. Lennea Frisk, president, will preside.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

By MAINE SHAFER

Saturday morning the campus hopefuls are scheduled to tee off in the annual golf tourney held at the Edgewood golf course. The layout is tough enough to separate the men from the boys and most of the sharpshooters will see the last of each other when they leave the first tee.

Just as an indication of the brand of golf mellowed and ripened in these North Dakota swales you need only look at the box score of burly Lyle Ramsey, Lisbon youth and golfer exceptional. In the triangular meet held at Moorhead last week the sunburned husky posted a 76 over a strange course and managed to spoil a few shots on the way around.

With Ramsey, Marquardt, and Nordlund pressing for the first place honors, the tournament shows a great chance of becoming more than just another golf match.

The matches will be conducted in elimination manner with two-men teams furnishing the competition. Independent and organization teams are entered. Awards will be made to both the winning team and low-scoring individual. Casey Finnegan, chief handler of the athletic department funds, is the donor of the awards.

Featuring Johnny Myron and Al Nordlund, Gamma Tau Sigma's tennis tourney came to a successful close as the Theta Chi Tildens swept both the singles and doubles events. Myron and Nordlund banded together to cop the doubles trophy and then went ahead and battled it out for the singles title with Nordlund chasing the pre-game dopsters back to their holes with a smashing victory over his more seasoned opponent. The match went three sets, Nordlund winning the first and third settos.

Featuring Doc Haines from Valley City Teachers, the North Dakota intercollegiate track supremacy was settled last week-end at the annual meet held at Grand Forks. Haines startled the local fans when he stepped the hundred in 9.7 and then came back to break the tape in the 220-yard dash in the splendid time of 21.7. Fritz Hanson was forced into third position in the century but came back strong in the furlong to grab himself a close second.

Harry Arneson, carrot-topped vaulter for the Herd, leaped 11 feet 6 inches in the qualifying matches but was forced to be absent for the final contest, and as a result came out second best in the final ratings. Neville Reiners managed to push the shot put far enough to garner one point by placing third in this event.

STATE

"Big Hearted Herbert", featuring Guy Kibbee and Aline MacMahon, will be shown at the State theater today and tomorrow. Patricia Ellis and Phillip Reed furnish the heart interest. Sunday "Servants' Entrance", starring Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, sweathearts of "State Fair", will be seen. Ned Sparks, the poker-faced comedian, furnishes the humor, and Loretta Young plays the part of a princess, disguised as a gypsy, in "Caravan", white and the class flower is the violet. "No steps backward" has been chosen as the class motto. At 5:30 there will be an alumni supper in Ceres hall. Closing Sunday's activities will be the commencement concert at 8:15 p. m. in Festival hall.

Beginning the commencement exercises on Monday, June 3, will be the procession which will form at 10 a. m. at Old Main and arrive at Festival hall at 10:20. The college concert orchestra will play the "Processional March." The order of the exercises is as follows: music by the college concert orchestra; a prayer by Rev. R. A. Beard; music by the college concert orchestra; address by Donald J. Cowling, president Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.; music by the college concert orchestra; presentation of graduates by deans from Divisions of Agriculture, Applied Arts and Sciences, Engineering, and Home Economics; presentation of diplomas by John H. We must obtain these results by applying ourselves in as long daily practice sessions as any team, and from November to April. We oppose, to obtain these results, teams representing the largest colleges and universities in the United States. Does not such effort entitle us to some recognition?

Where do we obtain financial support? By donating 50c from our own pocket each year as we enter competition for places on the team and by conducting gallery shoots, etc. which give us a small revenue.

Miss Rustad says this is "war training", and funds provided for military training should pay the costs. We consider our activity as intercollegiate sport. It is so recognized all over the United States. If it is war training why do the girls take it up? Further we ask, what funds provided for military training are available? The military department operates on $241.00 of state funds per year. It receives no other money allowance elsewhere. An officer of the department through interest in the college, donates his time to us as such—this in addition to his regular class work!

Why do we not obtain funds from the athletic department? This department has kindly given us what recognition we have received. We thank it very much. We know its financial situation. We ask you—Can it furnish the funds?

Miss Rustad states that students do not flock to see the targets hit. Perhaps not. But they do flock to shoot the targets—and at their own expense. 125 to 175 students annually pay for the privilege of trying out for the team. Is it, then, a popular student activity? How many would pay for the privilege of becoming a football candidate?

Now we come to the real issue. Does rifle team work provide enough student recreation to merit financial support? Does the rifle team record merit some form of recognition? If so, what should this recognition be, and on what should it be based?

Read our petition when it is presented you. Act as your judgment dictates. That is all that we ask.

—The Rifle Team,
Wm. Oftebro.

Student Opinion

We of the rifle team are flattered that our move to obtain the support and recognition which we feel that we so justly earned should elicit editorial comment from Miss Rustad. We asked the Spectrum to publish a copy of our petition so that the students might be conversant with our request. Instead, Miss Rustad inserted an editorial which misstates our movement, and befores the issue.

Let us state the facts. The rifle team does not arbitrarily ask for major sports recognition. In our petition we bind ourselves to requirements, the fulfillments of which would place us as North Central Conference champions, or better.

Pan-Hellenic Honors Three Undergrads

Elliott, High, Coyne Winners Of NDSC Scholarship Awards

At the seventh annual scholarship dinner of the Fargo-Moorhead Pan-Hellenic association Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. in the Waldorf Hotel, three NDSC students were honored.

All the active groups of the NDSC sororities sang one of their songs in answer to the roll call to open the banquet. Mrs. Russell Sands, Gamma Phi Beta alumna, acted as toastmistress. Following the roll call Mrs. Norma DeVol Sorlein gave a vocal solo "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini. Mrs. Sorlein is a Phi Omega Pi alumna.

Flora Elliott, Drayton, was awarded the city Pan-Hellenic scholarship by Miss Edna Sommerfeld, Kappa Delta alumna. Miss Elliot is a junior and the only woman student in the school of Agriculture. Miss Sommerfeld also announced the girls in each sorority who had the highest averages. The group is composed of the following: Alpha Gamma Delta, Cleo Knapp; Gamma Phi Beta, Ellen Blair; Kappa Delta, Bettie Stone; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mary Clemens; Phi Mu, Cathryn Ray; Phi Omega Pi, Margaret Hanson. Gamma Phi Beta was recognized as the sorority having the highest average throughout the year.

Orphea High, Fargo, was given the college Pan-Hellenic recognition by Cathryn Ray. Miss High is a junior in Home Economics. Mrs. Nell Murfin presented Phyllis Coyne of LaMoure, sophomore in Science and Literature, with the Irene Leimbacker memorial award, which is sponsored by Gamma Phi Beta sorority. All these presentations were given to girls with high averages and with promise of success in their chosen fields.

Dean Dinan, Kappa Kappa Gamma alumna, spoke briefly on the problems of the fraternity world. She said, "The college fraternity system is being challenged today as it has never been challenged before. It is for those of the fraternity world to keep constantly in mind the fact that the fraternities are founded on idealism. It is important also that the members of the fraternity groups keep in mind the fact that if these ideals do not enter their lives fraternities are meaningless and worthless and as such will not meet successfully the challenge before them."

Irma Weinberger, Phi Mu, closed the banquet with a piano solo. Throughout the banquet the Singing Strings under the direction of Audrey Keneven played.

BISON, LILAC DAY, DANCE PROVIDE ALL-COLLEGE FUN

Beginning with the distribution of the 1936 Bison at 1:00 and an all-college dance at 4:00; the third annual all-college day was introduced last Tuesday. The final program was the Lilac Day pageant, beginning at 7:00 in front of Old Main.

The Bison was distributed by Cathryn Ray, editor, in Old Main. The dance, which was turned into a "tag" affair, attracted many students in Festival Hall; the pageant was played before a large audience assembled in the bleachers before Old Main. Leading characters were Vivian Luther, queen; Lloyd Flem, the old beggar, and Margaret Hylden, "the lady in the lilac garden."

GERLITZ PROMOTED TO NDSC ROTC COLONEL

The positions of warrant officer and drum major of the band have not been selected, but the following band sergeants have been picked: Dallas Rudrud, Max Thal, Walter Jahnke, Robert Reimsche, and Manny Smith.

Promotions made in the ranks of the junior officers this morning are not permanent and were only for the purpose of taking command of the cadet corps for the final parade of the school year. Permanent promotions will be made some time after the present junior class returns from ROTC camp this summer.
