VOLUME L.

STATE COLLEGE, NORTH DAKOTA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1934.

NUMBER 8.

Chorus, Band, To Entertain N. D. Teachers

NDSC students who plan to enter the teaching profession are urged to attend as many meetings of the North Dakota Educational Association as is possible. With Superintendent J. G. Moore in charge, the forty-seventh annual session will convene in Fargo, November 7, 8, and 9.

The Gold Star band under the direction of Dr. C. S. Putnam will give a concert Wednesday night, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p. m., at Central high school. It will be given as a part of the convention program of the North Dakota Education Association.

The program: Onward — Upward, Goldman; excerpts from Victor Herbert's operas; a melody of songs from eight colleges and universities; finale, from symphony in E-flat by Fanchett.

Among the highlights of this year's program will be concerts by the Amphion chorus, and the Gold Star band, a convention ball, a grab bag sponsored by the business men of Fargo, and addresses by such persons as Dr. Ben Cherring of Denver, Colo., Dr. Helen C. White of Wisconsin, Dr. C. M. McCloy of Iowa, and Katherine Cook, Washington, D. C.

Programs which should interest students particularly are the address on "The New Education in Russia, Germany, and Italy," to be delivered by Dr. M. B. Cherring Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock; the arrangements for Thursday morning which include discussions by A. E. Thompson of Bismarck, and Dr. C. M. McCloy of the University of Iowa; an address on "The Necessity and Technique of Teachers Keeping Themselves Imaginatively Fresh and Alive for Their Jobs," by Dr. Helen C. White of the University of Wisconsin; and an address by Dr. George J. Fisher, assistant chief scout executive from New York City.

Friday morning's program includes lectures on schools and the emergency program, the new thrift in high schools, and on Indian education.

Election Tuesday Holiday For Many

Election day, Tuesday, is holiday of freedom for 947 students of the 1382 persons on the campus but for the 435 students eligible for voting, it is a day for intelligent thinking at the polls.

Four foreign-born students are of voting age, but cannot vote because they have not completed their naturalization process. Countries from most parts of the world are represented by these four, namely Russia, China, Germany, and the Philippine Islands.

Professor A. F. Yeager's new Bison tomato proved its resistance to heat and drought at Emporia, Kansas, where it out-yielded two other well-known varieties.

HOPPING GOOD TIME PROMISED BY CADETS

Previous hops have been very successful and the one coming up promises to be just as entertaining, according to Horace Spaulding, who reverts to high school hotcha to ask, "What could be a better afternoon's diversion than dancing to the corny capers of Don Fredrickson's jamming jazzers?"

Scabbard and Blade, "M" company, 3rd regiment, will sponsor another cadet hop, Thursday, Nov. 8, in Festival hall from 4 to 6 o'clock. George Friese is in general charge, assisted by Harold Naegeli and Earl Jennings. Admission prices will be the same as formerly, ten cents for women students and twenty-five cents for men.

Students Talk On NBC Chain

Two NDSC students will speak over the national broadcasting system tomorrow from WDAY, Fargo. Gwendolyn Stenehjem, who will speak in behalf of the home economics clubs during the state extension service period from 11:46 to 12:15 noon, will base her talk on 4-H achievements in 1934. Frank Sorenson, representing the agricultural clubs throughout the state, will speak on 4-H achievements in 1934.

Mrs. Ralph Smith, a local leader from Amenia, is in general charge of the extension program, composed of people from North Dakota and Minnesota. At the program tomorrow Minnesota will contribute the music only.

Miss Stenehjem, Arnegard, is a freshman in the school of education and a Kappa Delta pledge, has been prominent in 4-H work. Sorenson, Hastings, is a sophomore in the school of agriculture.

Class Tournament Billed Next Week

The inter-class debate tournament sponsored by the Lincoln club, honorary debate organization, will be held next Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday, in the Little Country theater. A two-man team will represent each class in a three-day round robin debate series.

Henry Swenson and Richard Ellis were named members of the sophomore debate team in the finals of the class tournament concluded in the Little Country theater last Wednesday night. Isadore Levine and Orville Goplen are alternates. The freshman debaters named a week ago are Merlyn Johnson and Woodrow Gagnon. The two upper classes have not named their competitors yet.

The subject for inter-class debate this year is: "Resolved, that the crop production features of the AAA should be made permanent." Judging the contests on Wednesday and Thursday will be debaters from Concordia college and the Moorhead State Teachers college. The Oregon plan will be used throughout these inter-class debates.

Fourteen men from the University of North Dakota were guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity house over the week-end.

Costume Ball's Fantastic Sets Are Designed

Architects this week are living in the land of unreality among the gnomes and fairies as they prepare their individual fantastic problem sketches from which the decoration plans will be chosen for the Beau-Arts Ball, to be held Jan. 11, 1935, in Festival hall under the joint production of Atelier Chat Noir, architects club, and the Art club.

"The Valley of the Gnomes" is the fantastic theme upon which the individual members of the club are working in preparing their sketches. Emphasis is being laid upon color and light effects. These sketches will be judged by Robert Sundt, chairman of the decorations committee, assisted by Omar Korshus, construction manager.

Between 20 and 25 individual sketches are being made, announces Robert Landbloom, manager of the ball. "The object of this problem is to have a variety of individual fantastic conceptions from which to choose the decoration plans."

Because of the limited number of tickets which will be sold this year in proportion to the demand, reservations are being made now, announced William Akeley, in charge of ticket sale.

Sigma Phi Delta Wins Homecoming First In Parade

Depicting the reign of the Bison over the north central conference the Sigma Phi Delta float pictured a bison scanning a map of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Iowa. High honors were awarded this first built by fraternity men under the direction of Richard Lynn.

Second prize was awarded to the architects whose float consisted of three settings. The first was a scene wherein a farm family was praying for rain; the second showed various working people and their needs; the third displayed a group of football players making obvious the reigning of the Bison over the Sioux. William Moore and Francis Osborn were in charge. Sigma Chi fraternity, which received honorable mention, depicted a washout of the "Sioux Line" symbolized by a miniature railroad being washed out by the Bison. Frank Clark designed the float.

Alpha Gamma Delta won first honors of the sororities. Kappa Delta captured second honors and Gamma Phi Beta received honorable mention.

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity carried away first prize for house decorations with Phi Omega Pi sorority second.

There were no entrants for the individual costume prizes.

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will hold a matinee luncheon on Saturday, entertaining several rushees. After the luncheon they will attend the show at the Fargo theatre. Esther Opland and Esther Isaacs are in charge.

Outstanding Lyceum Number Inaugurates 1934-35 Season

BULLETIN

All students of the North Dakota State college who have paid their activity fee will be admitted to the Fritz Kreisler Concert, Tuesday, Nov. 6, upon presentation of their registration cards. Students are requested to be in their seats at 7:45 o'clock. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

Registration cards will admit NDSC students to the Bison-Dragon game at Memorial field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Powell Talks At Assembly

Present day fiction was the general topic of Dr. John Walker Powell's lecture given this morning at general convocation. Dr. Powell, aptly described by observers as past master in the art of making literature live, gave an authentic insight into present-day fiction and sprinkled his address with description of both current drama and poetry. Especially interesting was his ability of making living characters step from the printed page.

In that he is widely traveled and well-versed in all fields of literature, Dr. Powell is highly valued as a lecturer or after-dinner speaker. In addition to having written several books his background is further enhanced by his war-time experience and years of educational work.

YMCA Campaign Leaders Selected

Vinton Plath, membership drive chairman for the YMCA, has announced representatives for each fraternity, who will lead the membership campaign.

Those selected are: Sam Doberovich, Sigma Chi; Vinton Plath, Alpha Gamma Rho; Donald Scott, Kappa Sigma Chi; Albert Ruemele, Sigma Phi Delta; Orin Crashee, Kappa Psi; and Alton Erickstad, Delta Tau Epsilon.

Plath urges everyone to get his membership card in immediately since the fall YMCA party will be staged soon and the card will be necessary for admittance.

WILLISTON TEAM GETS FOURTH IN CONTESTS

Dr. L. L. Scranton, state advisor of the North Dakota association of Future Farmers of America and NDSC agricultural education instructor, and Sigurd Melstad, freshman in agriculture, have returned from the national FFA convention held recently in Kansas City.

The Williston livestock judging team, which won the North Dakota contest last spring, placed fourth in the Holstein division of the national event.

Hulda Stottler, the canning champion of the United States, has enrolled at the University of Wisconsin (Madison).

Kreisler, Famed Violinist, To Present Concert Here Tuesday

Fritz Kreisler, one of America's greatest violin artists, will present a concert at 8 p. m. Tuesday night in Festival hall. This promises to be the outstanding lyceum number not only of former years, but for some time to come.

While Kreisler is noted chiefly for his mastery of the violin, he is also a composer of distinction; his better known compositions are "Love's Joy," "Love's Sorrow," and "Caprice Viennois." Through arrangements made with the NBC Artists Service by Prof. Arvold it is possible to offer this extraordinary attraction. "It is the paid admissions and the season tickets which make such superior programs possible," said Mr. Arvold.

All reserved seats for this performance have been sold and a capacity crowd is expected to fill Festival hall Tuesday night.

Selections which Kreisler will play are: Sonata in A-major, by Haendel; Prelude and Gavotte, by Bach; Concerto in E-minor, by Mendelssohn; four selections from the suite, "Much Ado About Nothing"; Slavonic Dance, by Dvorak; and Spanish Dance, by M. de Falla. Carl Lamson will be the accompanist; the concert tour is under the direction of Charles Foley.

Summer Projects Reported At Club

Miss Falgatter, here as federal agent of home economics education, commented favorably on the summer projects done by NDSC home economics students, reported on at the first meeting of the Tryota club in the Art studio last night.

Of the projects, "The Piker" by Jane Schulz, was given first place. It was a report of the rebuilding of a bus into a summer lake cottage, its decorating and its furnishing. The five best of the clothing projects, work completed during the summer following the freshman year, were discussed. In "A Winter and Summer Wardrobe" Emma Jordre told of making all necessary articles of clothing at an extremely low cost. "A Summer Project" by Dorothy Molland summarized helping clothe the family. Marjorie Smith reported on the renovation and completion of clothing; Betty Russell's summer projects consisted of designing her own clothes. Orphia High reported both on sewing for the family and on planning and preparing meals for a month.

Foods projects completed by students now juniors were reported by three. Besides Orphia High, they were Erma Romain, whose report was of baking yeast breads and rolls for the family during the summer, and Lois Presler who, as a summer project, canned fruits, vegetables, and meats of all varieties.

John Thompson, Kappa Sigma Chi spent the week end at his home in Oakes. Incidentally, the pheasants were pretty hard hit since Johnny brought back a fine bag of them.

MULLIGAN

We are gratified to find how many university students read the Spectrum. Everyone down from the academy seemed to know the daffodil story. But then we don't blame them for "eating up" our news after being accustomed to the hash dished out to them twice a week.

Which reminds us that the sports columnist has an apology to make—to the daffodils. Not even a prairie tumble-weed would like to have its appellation attached to the men who try to placate the home folks after a beating by the "offside" and "unfair official" stories.

Anyhow somebody deserves credit for carrying through a good bluff. Arrows on the pictures showing the direction of the ball's movement might have clarified the forward pass contentions.

The ruggedness of the ancient Viking forefathers has cropped out in two State college coeds. With a biting northwest wind forcing the stronger sex to seek cover, these two walked calmly down Broadway munching ice-cream cones. Maybe they were trying to end it all since they apparently were without bids to the homecoming brawl.

Work on the Bison yearbook is officially discontinued until after November 6. With campaign speeches to make, community singing to lead, and transportation for Democrats to locate, the editor has no time for petty local affairs. Students who have been unable to reach the publications offices by telephone may make complaints to Tom Moodie or any of the other candidates whose success depends upon a growing girl's efficiency.

Thousand Attends Homecoming Day In Colorful Rally

Over a thousand graduates and former students were attracted to the two-day festivities connected with the 1934 NDSC homecoming held last Friday and Saturday. Saturday afternoon six thousand spectators witnessed the high-light of homecoming—the Bison-Sioux football battle. This attraction, which comes only once in two years, drew one of the largest homecoming crowds in the institution's history.

An impromptu pep rally demonstrating pro-Bison and anti-Sioux spirit staged by a large percentage of the student body shortly before noon Friday, marked the opening of homecoming activities. Senior class military men succeeded in disrupting eleven o'clock classes to make possible the rally. Scheduled action began Friday night when the Sioux Papoose took into camp the Baby Bison in a night football game. The traditional bonfire was held immediately following the fray.

Saturday morning a seven section parade, including the largest group of ROTC cadets in the school's history, Doc Putnam's Gold Star band, state and college officials, and homecoming floats moved through Fargo's business section. Between halves of the Bison-Sioux football game that afternoon coronation ceremonies were held for Virginia Landbloom, homecoming queen. The annual homecoming dance at the Bison field house Saturday night culminated the program.

Campus Houses Hosts To Alumni At Homecoming

Fifty-one alumni from six states giving the Alpha Gamma Rho house a festival air and 22 visitors at the Kappa Sigma Chi house, contributed the largest portion of the 300 alumni who crowded fraternity and sorority houses and increased the campus movements to make homecoming a complete success.

Several alumni meetings were held, the different parties selecting officers and establishing aims.

Following the football game Saturday the alumni of Kappa Sigma Chi gathered at the chapter house for their annual meeting. Robert Adam was re-elected president and Stanly Thompson was elected secretary-treasurer. Plans were laid for the coming year and a continued support of the active chapter. A silver trophy was presented to the chapter which is to be presented to the freshman pledge who maintains the highest standard in scholarship, honor, sportsmanship, leadership, and character.

Joe Lindgren was named president of the graduate group of Delta Tau Epsilon at their meeting, Saturday evening. Harold Albrecht was elected vice-president; Robert Darling, second vice-president; and Arthur Alm, secretary-treasurer.

Delta Tau alumni attending the meeting were Willard Messener, Glenn McCleary, Laverne Vodden, Norval Nerdao, Norbert Restameyer, Carmen Hunt, Orville Isley, Victor McLeod, Glenn Vantine, Emery Braasch, James Service, Otto Walhowe, Alfred Ballweg, Elmer Bothun, Eldridge Holland, Herbert Schmallen, and Fred Messner.

Guests at the Sigma Phi Delta house include: Earl Hartung, Ed Comm, Paul Rosholt, Gordon Strong, Jack Dingle, Erling Hedahl, Kenneth Brandby, and John Knoll.

The Alpha Gamma Rho's brought back the largest representation including: Alexander Robertson, Donald Lawrence, John Southam, George Hansen, Carl Hansen, S. K. Bjornson, Wayne Weiser, William MacDonald, Allen Knight, Carl Freeman, M. D. Altenberg, G. C. Wallace, L. K. Johnson, W. A. Plath, W. H. Gray, C. M. Pace, A. M. Christensen, C. H. Lockrem, Fred Willson, Earl Hodgson, H. W. Halbeisen, J. W. Powell, D. C. McLeod, A. M. Challey, H. G. Lewis, Ray C. Powell, Ralph M. Rudliffson, George Knutson, Donald Groom, Arthur Hovland, Clifford McKinnon, Stephen McKinnon, Paul Abrahamson, Paul Rassmussen, H. E. Dixon, M. A. Luntland, Clyde Earks, C. O. Ebling, Don Grant, O. L. Hanson, W. B. Coit, George Heldre, Craig Montgomery, Peter Jorgenson, William Frey, Howard McLeod, and Harold Artz.

William C. Biva, Percy Beals, Oliver Blecken, William Linn, Raph Mills, Peter McKenzie, Laurence Nilles, and L. M. Severson were out of town guests visiting the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

At the Kappa Psi house were Nels Brakke, Carl Velleu, Ole Slinge, Johnny Johnson, Bud Galehouse, Harlan Black, Glenn Shelvin, Dick Riggs, LaVerne McDonald, Jim Smillie, George Salaba, Alfred Forbord, John Bjornson, Doc Reardon, Elmer Bjornrud, James Moore, Bob Roberts, Cap Hanson, Leonard Reiger, Bruce McVay, and Pete Dennison.

Sigma Chi's were host to 22 alumni with Harry Bolsilee, Kenneth and Maitland Wyard, Hodet DelePoint, M. H. Myrdal, and James Adams registering.

New Interest Sought

It has been discovered that the editorials are read less than any other part of the newspaper. In reality they should be the most interesting portion since it is the portion dedicated to constructive thinking and expression of ideas. The fault then must lie in the material presented or in the style of presentation.

To remedy this situation, the editor is organizing a staff of men and women whose duty will be to study the problems interesting the students of the institution and to prepare material for publications which deals with the phases of these problems. It shall also be their duty to assist the editor in establishing the policies which shall govern this section of the paper.

Questions which seem most potent at the moment are those dealing with the changing educational systems and methods, with the evolutionary social order, the place of the college in training students for leadership in the politics and economics of the state as well as in the commercial and professional fields, and the local affairs affecting all the students.

Recommendations from the student body and faculty, opinions and the basis for these, any information will be welcomed by this committee and those interested in sitting in on meetings are asked to do so. It is expected that the new arrangements will lead to greater interest in the editorial columns as well as develop student expression on the campus.

All Mud-slinging Put Aside

Since land grant colleges were first organized, the state colleges and universities have been proverbial enemies. The two institutions of this state are no exception. However much of the old hate has passed away and is supplanted by a friendly rivalry which at its worst develops into "leg pulling."

The spirit of the many U guests at this college over the weekend demonstrated the new order of things. They supported their team just as loyally as any local students and lost like gentlemen in spite of the attitude taken by their athletic coach. Though our own students may have been guilty of a little gloating, they did it in a friendly spirit which dispensed serious hate.

Students on the campus cooperated exceptionally well in making this one of the most gala of homecomings. It should be gratifying to them to know that their university contemporaries liked the arrangements made and said that in many ways our celebration was carried out with more color and gayety than their own. In response, the president of the student commission might say that the enthusiasm for the game warranted all the additional effort expended this year.

Pension Act Draws Student Comment

After listening to the convincing arguments advanced by men definitely in positions to know, here's one student that is willing to admit that the proposed Townsend Act is beneficial, not only to the pensioned persons which fact is self-evident, but also to the younger generation and specifically the college students.

When men earning anywhere from nothing up to three and even four hundred dollars a month, are offered a chance to receive two hundred dollars a month with the only provision being that they spend the entire sum every month, a large majority of them are going to jump at the opportunity to enjoy leisure time and do the many things which the shackles of office hours have prevented. The direct result is plainly evident that literally tens of thousands of positions yearly will be opened to aspiring college men and women.

While many of these jobs will be of the manual labor type, thousands of uneducated youths are available for these while it is quite obvious that persons with higher education will be first in line for the white collar positions.

Here's a staunch supporter of this proposal and if any who feel that we're all wrong on this problem, let us all know about it by presenting your side in this editorial column. —W.M.

Bison Rout Sioux Defense To Win 7-0 In Final Stanza

Hanson's Run With Lateral Leads to Herd Score Late in Game

Completely routing the heretofore impregnable defense of the much vaunted Sioux in the final period of their homecoming game, the powerful Bison trounced their arch foes, the University of North Dakota 7-0, on Dacotah field last Saturday. This win gives the Herd an edge for the conference gonfalon, and they are considered prohibitive favorites to whip South Dakota State and cinch the title.

It was the dynamic offense centered around the brain-trusting of Leo Gerteis, the powerful driving of Bob Erickson and the nifty bit of running exhibited by Fritz Hanson, that supplied the punch to cross the virgin goal line of the Nodaks. For three quarters the university line stood up and battled on even terms with the Bison stalwarts, but in the final period the Aggie forwards asserted their supremacy and proceeded to rip open gaping holes for hard-driving backs to race through. When the final gun sounded the jubilant Herd troops were pounding out consistent gains and appeared certain of being on their way to another counter.

In the opening half, however, it was the boys from Grand Forks that dominated the play. With Charbonneau and Blanchette the spearhead of the attack, the Nodaks reeled off fairly consistent gains. After they had advanced into scoring territory, the Thundering Herd reared its head and refused to be pushed farther back and held for downs or even succeeded in pushing back the invaders. Nice ball-handling and clever execution of plays marked the Sioux offensive but time and again hard-driving linemen smashed through to smear the runners for losses.

In the final period drive that resulted in the only score, the pass-heaving of Windy Schollander played a stellar role. A forward from Windy to Captain Acey Olson for a short gain was followed by another heave to Olson, who this time tossed a short lateral to Fritz Hanson, lurking a few feet behind, who dashed into a maze of tacklers, out of their arms and into the open where he stumbled his way to the five-yard line. Here the Nodaks stiffened and after two plays at the center of the line, the double-striped marker was still two yards away. It was then that Melvin was again placed into active service, and he responded by whipping around his own left end for the winning points. Schollander booted the extra point from placement.

About this time the Sioux came out of their lethargy to give the fans a thrill when Kupcinet snagged the kick-off and proceeded to race through the entire eleven men, screened behind perfect interference, past midfield where he was finally hauled down by Schollander. The Sioux then attempted to redeem themselves, but the Green and Yellow warriors proved too much for them and they were forced to play a defensive game for the remainder of the contest.

While the whole Bison line displayed terrific power, Earl Thomas and Sam Dobervich must be given special mention for their vicious tackling and the manner in which they successfully stopped the fast-stepping Nodak backs.

Margaret Dadey and Cleo Anderson will attend the Homecoming at Minnesota University this weekend.

Baby Bison Fall Before Sioux 21-6

Defending the rumors that their team is one of the strongest to enter the University in a good many years, the Sioux yearlings bull-dogged themselves against the stubborn Baby Bison on the Dacotah field last Friday night to emerge with a 21-6 victory. Although a blustery wind managed to keep the boys cold physically, the spirit of intense rivalry and enthusiasm was ever present.

Three times the Sioux crashed the Baby Bison line to fall across the goal line for touchdowns. It wasn't until well into the second half that the Bison came to life. Westby broke loose on a beautiful run for about 25 yards to bring in the lone Bison counter.

The aggregate weight of the Sioux far outweighed that of the Bison. The experience of the backfield had a lot to do with the final outcome. Among the Sioux backfield men who showed a good deal of power and drive were Monsrude, Ross, and Rorvig.

Injuries were frequent and slowed up the game to a considerable extent. During the second quarter Bob Ingstad, flashy Bison end, received a sprained ankle which forced him from the game. This definitely broke up the passing combination of Westby upon whose shoulders had been placed the offensive attack.

Those of the Bison stalwarts who demonstrated their worth as linemen include Sorkness, Pollock, and Olson. In the backfield besides Westby, May gave an admirable demonstration of ball-carrying.

Loren Odell and Don Hill spent Sunday at their respective homes in Tower City and Sanborn.

Walter Nelson and Norbert Restemeyer of Cavalier were dinner guests at the Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity house Sunday. While there Restemeyer visited his brothers Clinton and Lawrence Restemeyer, who are pledges of Kappa Sigma Chi.

WAA Honors Six Freshman Girls

Invitations for membership in the Women's Athletic club will be sent to eight girls who have earned the required 125 points. Six freshman girls earned the right to become members by playing on the class soccer team, and then being chosen, because of their exceptional ability, for the varsity squad.

These six are Mollie Cushman, Hjordis Lovik, Mary Michelson, Kathryn McEnroe, Marjorie Patterson and Ruth Snyder. Because Helen Pease and Arlene Dillage have 123 points to their credit from last year they will also be sent invitations.

Upperclassmen who made the varsity soccer team are Ethel Olson, Eve Hammer, Emma Jordre, Cleo Knapp, Ruth Moore, and Rocelia Ruud.

The varsity was chosen from the freshman group of Verda Van Vorst, captain, Ruth Backwaldt, Mollie Cushman, Marjorie Dean, Sylvia Finsand, Opal Fiske, Elsie Gabe, Margaret Hylden, Hjordis Lovik, Kathryn McEnroe, Mary Mickelson, Marjorie Patterson, Eleanor Pietrek, Crystal Rindahl, Ruth Snyder, and Bernice Thoralsen; and the upperclass faction of Ethel Olson, captain, Corinne Ballard, Geraldine Erdahl, Eve Hammer, Emma Jordre, Cleo Knapp, Ruth Moore, Rocelia Ruud, Lottie Behrens, and Lila Maxson.

Bison Favored Against Peds This Afternoon

The Bison step into Moorhead at 3 p. m. this afternoon in an attempt to complete their domination of the Moorhead situation. Engaging the Moorhead Teachers on the Moorhead Memorial field, Finnegan's troops will take a brief vacation from conference battle only to bump into a team that has not yet lost a game.

Records show that the Dragons have won their three conference starts, but that they are the victims of an unpleasantly unique situation in that they are at the bottom of their league race. Having had two of their backs ruled ineligible, the Teachers were stripped of their first victories.

Placing their hopes in Vincent Yatchak, a tripe-threat back who will be eligible for the Bison game, and speedy little Milt Hollister—a one time NDSC student, the Dragons have sincere belief that they will prove menacing to the Bison unstained record.

Although the Bison are habitual favorites in the yearly affair, the Moorhead fans are getting ready for an upset. We have only to look at the Concordia-Moorhead tussle to find a gauge to the Teachers' strength. The 13-13 deadlock puts the Dragons on a par with the team that the Aggies found hard to set down 6-0.

It will be a strong Bison team that meets the fighting Peds. Sam Dobervich will nurse a sprained wrist in preference to the SD State game—otherwise the entire squad will be ready to continue the NDSC winning habit over their scholarly neighbors.

Maybe it wasn't the excitement of being crowned Queen of Homecoming but that a Sigma Chi pin reposed on the regal garments which made the youthful cheeks bloom . . . and Farrel Thorpe, very charming despite her exalted offices at the U, also graced the Senior Staff luncheon, and was salaamed to at the POP house . . . Let us bewail the life of Dean Dinan and a member of the board of administration who had to do justice to the teas at all the sororities . . . then there's the case of the Kappa's and Gamma Phi's not being able to do without the male element even at their homecoming teas . . . Leland May and Lucille Bolstad celebrating their reunion by mooning all over the floor . . . we would like to reproduce the text of the Queen's little speech during the dance: "Umagoolagawanka, Lillidjopesta and Dodi-hatua" . . . we had better explain that the amplifying system was on the blink . . . But, despite the smell from the basement and the floor's being so crowded that it was hard to remember just who it was you were dancing with, everyone seemed to be having a good time . . . we nearly forgot the crowning of the Queen: it seems that the rabbit was just a chump ahead of the procession . . . The Senior Staff displaying their many charms (we hope) and chrysanthemums looking for their roped-off seats . . .
