Publications' Heads Chosen For Next Year

Rustad, Golseth, Ray, And Perry Receive Key Positions

Heading the two major college publications for the school year, 1934-35, will be Maxine Rustad and James Golseth, editor and business manager of The Spectrum, and Cathryn Ray and Chester Perry, editor and business manager of The Bison, according to the decision of the Board of Publications control, announced Monday. Eight candidates registered in the competition. Maxine Rustad, who succeeds Gale Monson, has worked three years on The Spectrum staff, this last year as associate editor, and also has had experience on the Fargo high school paper, the Cynosure. Miss Rustad, a junior in home economics, is president of Phi Upsilon Omicron sorority, past president of the Women's Senate, and was in charge of the costuming for the Bison Brevities.

James Golseth, following Robert Parrott in office as business manager of The Spectrum, has worked a year on The Bison staff and also has had high school experience. Golseth, who entered from the Minnesota university, is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity there. He is also a member of Blue Key, Pi Gamma Mu, Edwin Booth dramatic club, and was publicity manager of the Bison Brevities.

Cathryn Ray, replacing Jane Nichols as Bison editor, has worked a year on The Bison and a year on The Spectrum staff. In high school she was feature editor of the Cynosure weekly. Miss Ray, a sophomore in science and literature, is a member of the Phi Mu sorority and secretary-treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta, Lincoln Debate club, and is an active participant of college debating.

As business manager of The Bison, Chester Perry takes Kenneth Hamry's place. He has had considerable experience as advertising manager of The Bison this last year. Perry, a junior in science and literature, is a member of the Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity, Blue Key, Gamma Tau Sigma, and worked on the stage directing for the Bison Brevities.

Members of the board of publications, who have the sole power of selecting the publication heads are: Rudolf Otterson, W. C. Palmer, Matilda Thompson, Donald Fredrikson, George Toman, Maitland Wyard, Melvin Hanson, Lawrence Bue, and Frieda Panimon.

HAMLET, KNIGHT OPEN TAP-DANCING SCHOOL

The comedian and the feature dancer of the 1934 edition of the Bison Brevities have combined their talents and are making them available to men and women interested in tap dancing at the Hamlet-Knight tap-dance school at 1114 Eighth avenue south, Fargo.

John Hamlet, who has been featured not only in various campus productions, but also on the road as a part of professional shows, was trained at the Tulsa tap-dancing school at Tulsa, Okla. Jack Knight has appeared on many programs during the past eight years and has conducted a school in ballroom dancing for the last three years.

All-College Day

All-college day this year will be an ALL-COLLEGE day with capital letters, in red at that, say those in charge of planning the festivities. The date is Wednesday, May 23.

Capping the day's entertainment will be an election for the express purpose of obtaining an answer to that age-old question, Who is the most popular man and the most popular gal on this campus? But look here, folks, what else the committee has dished up for us:

1. A lunch and program at noon in Festival hall, featuring a sing contest between the four classes.
 2. Distribution of The Bison.
 3. A Lilac day pageant in the early evening, with Phyllis Tritchler to be crowned queen in real medieval style.
 4. Sports dance in the evening.
 5. Probable open-air concert
 6. Greased pole contest for soph and frosh.
 7. Soph-frosh tug of war.
 8. Soph-frosh kittenball game.
- Blue Key fraternity and Senior Staff, service organizations, are cooperating in arranging the annual program.

Military Unit Here Will Be Inspected Thursday, Friday

Thursday and Friday of the coming week have been designated for the inspection of the State college ROTC unit by Col. R. H. McMaster of Omaha, Neb., and Maj. R. F. Arnold of Fargo, according to Lt.-Col. E. A. Lathrop, head of the college military department.

The administrative division of the corps will be tested by Colonel McMaster, who is in charge of all ROTC training in the Seventh corps area. Actual military training will be judged by Major Arnold.

Besides the regular courses the new courses which have been included in the curriculum this year will be measured. These are military organization for freshmen, military history, field fortification, and tanks. The inspection will be conducted as usual with the possibility of adjournment of classes on Friday.

Treasurers' Body Elects Officers

Officers of the recently organized Treasurers' council for the coming year are: Hill Elwin president; Floyd Viel, vice-president; and Harold Naegeli, secretary.

The Treasurers' council is composed of the nine fraternity treasurers on the campus and was formed to bring about a closer feeling and better understanding of the problems of the fraternity treasurer.

This council has done much valuable work in compiling suggestions for a new rushing system and also toward the betterment of financial conditions in the individual fraternities.

Dean Charles J. Adamec has resigned from the faculty of Knox college to accept the presidency of the University of Missouri.

George Hardy Will Provide Prom Music

Minneapolis Dance Band Engaged To Play At Senior Prom

To furnish the music for the annual Senior prom next Friday evening the prom committee has engaged George Hardy and his Aristocrats of Rhythm, popular Minneapolis, Minn., band, according to Merton Bottemiller, in charge of music.

Hardy's orchestra has been featured on the Radio-Kieth-Orpheum vaudeville circuit, on the National Broadcasting company's chain, and on the M. S. C. Eastern circuit. The orchestra is comprised of eleven pieces.

Accompanying the band at its appearance here will be an eleven-girl floor-show. Also featured at the prom will be numbers by Earl Hueston, local piano artist, and the LaVon trio, tap dance professionals. Thomas King, prom manager, and Miles Formo, assistant prom manager, with their escorts, will march first and second in line in the grand march.

Tickets for the affair are one dollar a couple. Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Dedrick and Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Sevrinson will act as chaperons.

Little Country Theater Scene Of Literary Contests

The Little Country theater will be the scene of all literary and public speaking contests of the May Festival now in progress on this campus.

This morning at 10 o'clock the extempore speech and oratorical contests were held, as well as the character make-up and radio drama divisions. The after-dinner speaking contest will be held this noon in the Lincoln Log cabin. At one o'clock this afternoon the story-telling, declamation, dramatic, and one-act play contests will take place.

Students in charge of the various groups include: extempore speech, Mildred Thorstad and Vernon Cross; oratorical, Eunice Conlon and Helen Solow; after-dinner speaking, Audrey Boe and Gale Monson; story-telling, Phyllis Coyne, Adeline Naf-talin, and Janice Lethart; declamation, Eunice Conlon; and one-act plays, Horace Spaulding.

Awards will be announced at a social session Saturday evening in the Lincoln Log cabin

STUDENT COMMISSION BANQUET IS PLANNED

Plans are being made for the formal installation of the new student commission. Although the date has not been definitely set a banquet has been decided upon, with Erlis Hill in charge of arrangements.

THE MAY FESTIVAL

North Dakota State college is very glad to have as its guests this week-end a host of high school students, here to look the college over and to display their talents in various lines of endeavor.

These prep school boys and girls represent the cream of the crop in their respective fields, be it oratory, stock-judging, or track. On this campus they are meeting in competition with other students interested in the same things. Whether they win or lose, they will gain valuable experience and take their newly-found wisdom home with them, to put into use in their remaining high school work, and in their determination of what they want to do after leaving high school.

It will behoove them to look around and obtain the maximum amount of benefit from the displays, the exhibits, the contests, and the entertainment that has been arranged. The college has put on its best dress for them, meaning to be a real host. Its contact with high school students is all too little, and it is indeed glad to avail itself of the present opportunity.

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are in order for the newly-elected members of The Spectrum and The Bison staffs. As the major heads of this college's publications for the ensuing year, they will have a responsibility that is much greater than would be apparent at first glance.

In each instance, the student winning recognition by receiving the appointment of the Board of Publications is worthy of the trust that has been placed in them. We hope that their year in office will be successful and happy. The experiences and contacts they have gained in their work this year will, we trust, stand them in good stead in their attempt to do their work well in their new positions.

For those who lost out in the race for the Board of Publication's favor, we have just this to say: The appointments have been unalterably made, and there's no reason to cry over spilt milk. It's one of those things that come now and then that must be taken on the chin and made the most of.

For the Board itself, in whose hands rests the selection of these students (a thing that is not to be taken as lightly as some members of the Board evidently have taken it), we will have a few things to say in what shall be the last issue of The Spectrum under the present regime.—G. W. M.

NOTICE

There will be an important meeting of all those making the field trip to Itasca Park in the botany department rooms at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday, May 16.

Bison Briefs

Just imagine Manny Smith spending these spring nights being sympathetic when he could be courtin' Horton—speaking of such things we might mention Heartbreak Scholander and ask if any of our readers know where he spent the night in Wahpeton when he got locked out of his room—that is what you get, Breezy, for being a nasty man—and so now they call the big broadcast "The Prairie Farmer Station" cause his initials are W. L. S.—and why do the Theta Chis in their station-to-station talks call Ruth Queen Baker "the beetle"—maybe its because she's gone buggy-riding in Keyes' car.

We are worried about whether the Blonde Demon has recovered her false modesty after being pushed in the hay by "the boy hero" at the Ag Boys Barn Bowery.

And Baroness Landbloom—another celebrity—should watch those strange noises in the dark.

We'd have to mention the Perham Flash who is always looking for green pastures—and high school playgrounds.

It's pretty dusty weather for Beef Deering to be crawling under rugs—but we do wish you could have seen how Trotsky Eddy Jazzboe Jessen, God's Dignified gift to women, got around Rosy this week-end.

Staffs I've heard
Are made of sticks;

For the Spectrum hicks.

Of course we should give credit to the pink and white boy wonder and Heller for being so domestic as to spend his evenings playing nursemaid to twelve-year-old children while their father goes out—and to the English professor who can fool freshman laddies into thinking he is car-sick.

All the campus dames have their S. P.'s but who is the gal that sends Ken Hamry locks of blonde hair in an envelope—maybe it's Alice the Goon Girl from Kindred.

And we understand that the ATO Prexy (The Handsome Thing) and this jolly Saint—blonde spent a swell Sunday morning.

The entire Louisiana State university campus at Baton Rouge was reconstructed in 1925 and now boasts one of the most modern campuses in the United States.

The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Tulane University at New Orleans was celebrated last month. It was founded by Paul Tulane, a soap maker.

Students at the University of Mississippi who live off the campus employ the "thumb" method of paying for their transportation to and from classes.

Home Ec-ers! Attention!

Aunt Sophronia, a well-known authority on husbands and how to catch them, consented to be interviewed by a Spectrum representative, and after a great deal of coercion, promised to give us interesting and invaluable advice from time to time. Her first article, on cooking a husband follows:

"A good many husbands are entirely spoiled by mismanagement in cooking, and so are not tender and good. Some women keep their husbands constantly in hot water. Others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good, managed in this way, but they are really delicious if properly treated.

"In selecting your husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in buying mackerel, nor by the golden tint as in salmon. Be sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to the market for him, as the best is always brought to the door. It is far better to have none at all, unless you will patiently learn to cook him. A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is best, but others will do.

"See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the requisite number of buttons and strings nicely sewed on. Tie him in the kettle with a strong, silken cord called comfort—duty is apt to be weak. Make a clear, steady fire of love, neatness, and cheerfulness. Set your husband as near this as seems to agree with him.

"If he sputters and fizzes, do not be anxious. Some do this until they are quite done. Add a little sugar in the form of what the confectioners call "kisses", but no vinegar or pepper on him on any account. A little spice improves him, but it must be used with judgment.

"If you have treated him thus you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want, unless you become careless and set him in a cool place.

"This is good advice, girls; so please remember to use it when you have need of it."
—Aunt Sophronia.

THREE NEW ADDITIONS AVAILABLE AT LIBRARY

"Jehol, City of Emperors," a current travel story by Dr. Sven A. Hedin, is the most interesting of three new additions to the NDSC library collection.

This travelogue is a description of the splendors of Jehol, which is famous as the summer residence of the Manchu emperors. Dr. Hedin describes the many beautiful temples which surround the summer residence. The book should prove interesting to those who visited the Century of Progress, since it contains a description of Portola temple, of which a replica was constructed at the Fair last summer.

Another new book, "Oil for the Lamps of China," by Mrs. Alice Hobart, is a novel describing the struggle of a young mining engineer in the employ of an American oil company to learn Chinese ways.

STATE

W. C. Fields, who needs no further introduction for comedy fans, brings a burlesque golf stunt to the films in "You're Telling Me", including a cast of Buster Crabbe, Joan Marsh, and Adrienne Ames. The picture comes to the State theater for showings today and tomorrow.

"Jimmy the Gent," featuring Jimmy Cagney, diminutive wry comedian, Alice White and pretty Bette Davis, reveals a phoney real estate grab game. Several people get a mauling in the picture, which is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday at the State.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

by MAINE SHAFER

These big shot college athletes will retire into the background today and tomorrow, relinquishing the spotlight for the time being to high school athletes, who are big shots in their own way.

Casey Finnegan and his cohorts among the student body have been working hard these past weeks to get the track at Dacotah field in shape for the prep athletes. We hope the kids carrying the colors of the dozen and some high schools entered will show their appreciation by breaking a few records.

Undoubtedly there will be more than the usual gang of onlookers for the final afternoon of the Festival track meet. This will probably be the result of the improved seating conditions, Casey having re-arranged the athletic field so that witnesses may use the football bleachers.

Getting away from the May Festival meet, we notice that the campus kittenball tourney, after long discussion and frequent wrangling, has finally gotten under way. Its completion rests with Old Man Weather. Should he ever quit sending dust storms this way, the schedule should be completed in short order.

And we hope that something comes of the project to repair the campus tennis courts. If it isn't forthcoming soon, we're going to be tempted to start yelling about it.

"Wasn't I runner-up for the state high title with a 78 and ain't I gettin' better all the time," chortled Vic Nordlund when queried on his chances of annexing the college golf title. "Say," he continued in the Queen's best English, "I'll make those mugs feel like 'Tiger' Sturgeon in a pink tea gown." Which forces us to conclude that Champion (just ask him) Nordlund thinks he has a chance to cop that crown. We don't agree.

Festival Meet Lists Strong Entries

Track Conditions Expected To Result In Broken Records

With track conditions greatly improved and one of the best lists of entries in recent years, the 1934 edition of the May Festival track meet gives promise of offering some of the stiffest competition of any similar meet in the state.

The victorious team in the tourney will be presented with a large trophy while winners of first, second, and third places in each event will be awarded gold, silver, and bronze medals respectively. This meet will take on the aspects of a battle for the state title with Fargo and Bismarck high schools, co-champions last year, fighting to retain their laurels.

The quarter mile oval at Dacotah field has been reconditioned and should greatly improve the time in the running events. The north bleachers facing the football field will afford excellent seating facilities and also give a good view of the finish line which is now directly in front of these bleachers.

A dark horse in the tourney will be Thief River Falls, Minn., a school which has never entered the May Festival before. So far this spring their material has been developing nicely but it is questionable if they can hold their own with the strong outfits some of the North Dakota institutions boast. Mohall, heretofore always a strong contender in many special events, will not enter this season but will journey to a meet in Ijnot where they hope to get the third leg on a revolving trophy, thus retiring it permanently.

Two special races over the 100-yard and 220 routes by Fritz Hanson, NDSC sprint speedster, and James McClearie, MSTC trackman, will be an added feature of the Saturday track program. Both are former winners in the Minnesota prep 100-yard event, McClearie traversing the distance in 9.8 seconds and Hanson in 10 flat. Hanson however, runs his best race in the 220 event.

The following schools have sent in entry blanks: Cavalier, Nome, Sharon, Valley City, Fargo, Page, Bismarck, Thief River Falls, Minn., Wahpeton Indian school, Wahpeton, Grafton, Comstock, Minn., and Grandin.

Bison Capture Two Firsts In Relays

Two North Dakota State college athletes won first places in the annual Dakota Relays at Sioux Falls, S. Dak., last Friday and Saturday. Harry Arneson, Bison pole vaulter, vaulted 12 feet to take first place in his specialty, while Red Striker tied with two other contestants to take first place in the high jump, as well as to equal the record in this division, namely, six feet.

KAARE ROSENBERG HEAD OF ATELIER CHAT NOIR

At a recent meeting, Atelier Chat Noir, organization composed of architecture students, elected the following officers for next year: Kaare Rosenberg, president; Earl Jennings, vice-president; and Virgil Van Wechel, secretary-treasurer.

Ninety-five student workers are on the Federal Emergency Relief commission payroll at Brown university.

Kittenball League Opens On Tuesday

Kappa Sigma Chi and Theta Chi fraternities advanced in the opening round of the campus kittenball league last Tuesday night. The Kappa Sigs defeated Delta Tau Epsilon, 17-16, while Theta Chi won on a forfeit from the YMCA.

Softball is providing amusement for campus groups until the annual fraternity baseball competition begins. The baseball schedule is being held up until the playing field has been finished and a backstop erected, according to C. C. Finnegan, athletic director.

In the softball play, each team competes in two rounds of tournament play. Victors in each tournament will meet in a play-off for the campus title. The schedule in the softball league, which has been disrupted by the dust storms, will be resumed Monday.

The Kappa Sig-Delta Tau game turned out to be a closely-contested, heavy-hitting affair. Baron Evers, with one circuit blow and several hits, led the Kappa Sig batsmen.

Don Lindeman and Glen Vantim were the Delta Tau offensive leaders. Russ Anderson and Gordon Heggeness were on the mound for the victors, while Ben Boyden and John Martin pitched for the losers.

The Concert section of the Gold Star band played a program at Fargo High school Tuesday morning at eleven thirty. Earl Turnblad played a cornet solo.

Various College Departments Entertain With Open Houses

ENGINEERING

The Engineering school, through the efforts of its student organizations, is presenting an elaborate display in its annual open house this afternoon and evening. James Coleman, electrical engineering senior, is in general charge.

Groups cooperating in this exhibit are the Engineers' club, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Chairman of the mechanical engineering exhibits is Paul Deal. He is assisted by Patrick Grimes, Lloyd Burman, George Friese, Sidney Shannon, and Elmer Ewing. Heading the electrical engineering section is Vincent Buck, who is aided by Kenneth Brandby. Guiding the civil engineering display is Hill Elwin, and directing the physics exhibits are Kermit Anderson and Merton Bottemiller.

Open house visitors to the steam laboratory will witness operating steam engines, varying in size from the 50-horse engine to the vest pocket size slide valve type. The machine shop has been converted into a model factory, in which an article is run through the entire manufacturing process. The electricity laboratory will demonstrate how to produce artificial fever in humans by an electrical device.

The physics exhibit will include a set-up of the photo-electric eye and a demonstration of the method used in removing gases from the air in the tunnel under the Hudson river. A small replica of a water relief project carried out by an engineering student George Toman, will be the feature exhibit of the hydraulics laboratory.

A demonstration of welding under water will be the feature of the display by the new acetylene welding department in its initial public exhibit.

Students displaying personal projects include: Gordon Brandes, aeronautical exhibit; Harold Naegeli, wind electric generator; Don Holiday, miniature broadcasting system; Russell Whempner, an amplifying system; Edwin Schunke, a special racing auto; and Gordon Strong, a display of the North Dakota State Engineer, which shows each stage of the processes in its edition and publication.

ART

An exhibition of modern textiles sent by a company in New York city will be featured at the annual open house of the Art department, which is to be held this afternoon from three to five and tonight from eight to ten o'clock.

The textiles are chosen from designs by well known experts in different countries. From America there will be examples of materials designed by Ruth Reeves, Emma Brown, and Dorothy Trout; from Germany, by Hillerbrand; from Austria by Volly Weisithier and Weiner Werkstatte; from France, by Duty, Poiret, and Rodier.

Another feature of the exhibition will be the applications of costume designing on live models. Guests who desire it, will be told what color combinations are best suited to them and what types of costumes are the most becoming.

Groups of students will display the process of batik, block printing, chip carving, color choosing, designing and metal work.

Projects of all classes will be shown including posters, block prints, batik, tie-dye, chip carving, wood panels and bowls, studies in costume planning and art applied in the home.

The crafts and modeling classes will display handmade books, weaving, metal problems, fewlwey, leather work, soap sculpture and clay modeling.

The open house is to be held in the Art studio on the top floor of Science hall.

ARCHITECTURE

Visitors to the open house being sponsored by the college department of architecture, on the top floor of the Engineering building, will find three features that have never before been displayed at previous exhibitions, says Homer Brown Huntton, departmental head.

First, a special lighting arrangement demonstrating the effects produced by different colors on materials of various hues is being displayed by the architecture students. Work illustrating the new theories of color and design originated by Dr. Steinhof, famous Austrian architect, is shown. Lastly, the hobbies of various architectural students are on exhibition.

In addition to these new features, there will be the customary exhibits of design problems and free-hand work with water colors, pen and ink, and pencil. During tonight's open house, students will be at work on drawing projects.

The much-travelled model of the new state capitol is shown. This is the same model that thousands of visitors viewed at the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago last summer.

Those students in charge of the architecture open house are Earl Jennings, Kaare Rosenberg, Vernon Kohl, Omer Korshus, Robert Whitehead, Walter Dunkelberger, and Ben Cave.

Amy Glaser Art Club President

Amy Glaser was elected president of the Art club recently at the last meeting for the term of the group.

Irene Gast was former president. The new officers are Helen Simmons, who replaces Marion Van Vorst as vice-president; secretary, Kathryn Marcks, succeeding Prudence Yager; treasurer, Courtney Cannon, replacing Alyce Connolly; Ellen Blair in place of Amy Glaser, chairman of the social committee; Marjan Wagness instead of Hermione Hanson as the head of the program committee; and Imogene Ward, publicity chairman in place of Kathryn Marcks.

The Art club, assisted by the Atelier Chat Noir, sponsors the Beaux Arts ball. A Bohemian dinner and a picnic are also given annually by the society.

Students of Southwestern at Memphis, Tenn., recently took a test to determine whether or not they had acquired any general culture in their year at college.

There are approximately one million college students in the United States today.

Nine High School Students Compete In FFA Contest

Nine contestants competed for the annual State Future Farmers of America public speaking contest at the Little Country theater last night. The winner, besides receiving a gold medal, gains the right to represent North Dakota at the regional contest at Kansas City, Mo., next fall.

As The Spectrum went to press, it was learned that first place in the contest went to Kenneth Erickson, Page; second to Vincent Schwan, Rugby; third to Elmo Ellingson, Park River; and fourth to Earl Stover, Larimore.

Entries for the contest and their subjects were: Harry Achamire, Williston, "Cooperation—A Ray of Hope"; Kenneth Erickson, Page, "Missouri Diversion Project"; Elmo Ellingson, Park River, "North Dakota, the State of Opportunities for the Future Farmer"; Raymond Back, New England, "The Future of American Agriculture"; Almon Strong, Velva, "The Future of Farming in North Dakota"; Vincent Schwan, Rugby, "President Roosevelt and the American Farmer"; Earl Stover, Larimore, "A New Era in Agriculture"; Fred Kain, Neche, "Solving the Farm Problem with the Horse".

The annual judging contest which began Thursday and was completed at noon today was met with a large number of contestants representing thirty-five North Dakota high schools and three Minnesota high schools. Schools competing are: Anamoose, Beach, Bisbee, Bowbells, Carrington, Cavalier, Cooperstown, Crosby, Dickinson, Drake, Grafton, Hannaford, Hazelton, Hunter, Kenmare, LaMoure, Larimore, Mad-dock, Neche, New England, New Salem, Page, Park River, Petersburg, Ray, Rolette, Rolla, Sarles, Sharon, Sherwood, Towner, Velva, Williston, and from Minnesota, Barnesville, Pelican Rapids, and Bemidji.

FOUR SENIOR CHEMISTRY STUDENTS ARE PLACED

Four senior chemistry students have been placed in positions with eastern firms, according to Dean L. L. Carrick of the school of chemistry.

Roger Berthold has accepted a position with Pratt-Lambert, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.; Henry Bottemiller, received an appointment to the technical staff of Farwell, Osman, Kirk, and Co. of St. Paul, Minn.; and Charles McLaughlin and George Nichols have accepted positions with the Arco Paint Co. of Cleveland, O. They will report to their new positions immediately after graduation June 4.

ACADEMY OF SCIENCE CONCLUDES BUSINESS

At the final session of the State Academy of Science's annual two-day meeting, held on this campus last Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, Dr. Edgar Baird of the University of North Dakota botany department was elected president for the ensuing year.

Dr. L. R. Waldron, State college Experiment Station plant breeder, is vice-president and Dr. A. G. Abbott of the University department of chemistry was chosen secretary-treasurer. Two members were also placed on an executive committee, namely, P. J. Olson, State college agronomist, and Prof. Seymour of the Valley City State Teachers' college.

Fashion Parade Uses Sea Theme

As the band plays "Anchors Aweigh", the fashion cruise of the State college home economics department will get underway in Festival hall today at 4 p. m. to show the May Festival guests what is appropriate to wear on every occasion and what is being accomplished by students of clothing on this campus.

A captain and a first and second mate will guide the progress of the boat and governesses will watch the children as they sun their new clothes on the deck, according to Hazel Swanson, general manager of the show. Erlys Hill will entertain as soloist with Don Fredrikson's orchestra acting as ship's musicians.

Garments made by freshmen, sophomores, and advanced students will be modeled by their creators and designers. The public is invited to be guests at the afternoon's entertainment.

Directing the show are Miss Minnie Anderson and Miss Helen Ewing of the clothing department in whose classes the garments were made. Directly assisting Miss Swanson are Virginia Schonberg, stage manager, and Helen Simmons, assistant stage manager.

A DePauw University professor has figured out that it costs a student a dollar for every class he cuts.

Spectrum Staff Member Tells Of Sophomore Frolic

by JOHN

While members of the class of '36 scraped, scratched and scrambled their way across the floor of the Crystal ballroom, last night, such impertinent and supposedly dignified seniors as "Buff" Thompson and "Oil Can" Miller clamored vainly at the door for admittance. Finally they gave up and had to content themselves with sitting on the railing outside and passing dirty cracks at the bona-fide sophomores.

Inside Mr. and Mrs. Sackett and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson tried valiantly to maintain order, but not much can be done with such rowdies as Bill Breitenbach and "Dolly" Larson. Stan Maynard and Dana Smith started a square dance, but the manager, knowing they were just a couple of rounders and therefore incapable of conducting a square dance, made them stop.

Suddenly a deafening crash resounded throughout the ballroom. "What fell? The second mortgage?" anxiously inquired T. Worden.

"Naw", reassured that scandal monger, Bill Stewart. "'Twas only our own little Sammy Dobervich executing the Shiftless Shuffle."

After this interruption the couples glided on quite blissfully with Bill Akeley and Charlotte Treat holding down the northeast fire escape, and "Tutty" Heller trying manfully to hold down a glass of beer.

Sixteen colleges in the state of Illinois have banded together in an association to promote cooperation between teacher training colleges.

DELEGATES TO GUIDON CONVENTION RETURNED

Margarethe Tronnes and Rhoda Clausen, local delegates of Guidon, women's auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, have returned from the Guidon convention held at South Dakota State college, Brookings, S. Dak., recently.

They were entertained by the South Dakota State regiment of Scabbard and Blade at an all-college dance, and by the auxiliary at a tea in the college Home Management house.

Plans were discussed concerning expansion and the coming convention, which will be held at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion.

National officers were installed. Cecil Olson, junior in home economics and member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, was elected news editor of The Guidon.

The three chapters making up Guidon are located at North Dakota State, South Dakota State, and the University of South Dakota.

Press Conference To Be Held At SDU

The North Central Conference Press association will hold its annual convention at Vermillion, S. Dak., May 18 and 19, according to word received from The Volante, official publication of the University of South Dakota.

Several round table discussions are scheduled for the convention as well as contests pertaining to make-up, editorials, news stories, and features. Three consecutive issues of The Spectrum will be entered in the competition.

Initiates Honored At Dinner Dance

Members of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, entertained at a formal dinner and dancing party in honor of new initiates last evening in the Gardner hotel.

The new members, initiated at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, are: Clarence Walde, John McCarthy, Tommie King, Robert Flint, Donald Fraser, Lynn Carlson, Robert Parrott, Gerald Stevens, Earl Jennings, Donald Robbins, Harold Naegeli, Albert Ruemmele, Chester Perry, Thomas Burke, William Oftebro, and Gordon Baird.

In charge of the party were Horace Spaulding, Robert Deering, Robert Benton, Boniface Horgan, George Friese, and Lawrence Anderson.

Robert Sundt Wins Sketching Contest

Winners in the annual sketch competition conducted by Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural society, are announced as follows: Robert Sundt, first; Vernon Kohl, second; and Edward Mahlum, third. Judges were instructors in the department of architecture.

The problem on which this year's sketch was based was the designing of a monumental vase. Sundt is the first sophomore to win the competition. His name will be engraved on a plaque bearing the names of previous winners.

400 Are Guests At Charity Ball

More than 200 couples were guests at the Charity ball held last Friday evening in the Field house. The affair was sponsored by the Panhellenic council, group representing State college sororities.

Informal dancing preceded the grand march which opened the program of formal dancing. Leading the march were Miss Abbie Porter and her escort David Miller, followed by Miss Thelma Liessmann and Harlan Black, Luella Furcht and Julian Rostvedt.

Chaperoning were Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Conmy, and Capt. and Mrs. H. J. McChrystal.

Council officers were assisted by Misses Hermione Hanson, Margaret Olson, Ruth Clemens, Virginia Garberg, Amy Glaser, Constance Martin, Betty Bickert, Imogene Ward, and Ruth Westergaard.

"The modern Germany" is not run by Hitler, but by a group of hard-boiled soldiers, according to Prof. James K. Pollock, of the University of Michigan.
