One Of Three Fellowships Goes To Student Of State College

Hartley Eckstrom, senior in chemical engineering, has been awarded one of the Sparks Memorial fellowships of five hundred dollars, presented by Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic society, to three outstanding undergraduate members throughout the United States.

The stipend going with the award may be used in graduate study at any university or college which the recipient may select.

These fellowships are awarded on the basis of character, outstanding scholarship, promise of success in graduate work, and the merit of the proposed plan of graduate study which the applicant must submit at the time of his recommendation.

Applicants for the fellowships are recommended by each of the 47 chapters of Phi Kappa Phi in the various colleges throughout the country. The recipients of the three awards are selected from the applicants by a National Committee of Awards.

Mr. Eckstrom, because of the type of research work done by him in this school's chemistry department, has been asked by the University of Iowa at Iowa City to do his graduate work there. He has accepted this invitation, and will begin work there next September.

Mr. Eckstrom is a past president of Kappa Sigma Chi social fraternity, is colonel of the college cadet corps, is secretary of Blue Key service fraternity, and is also a member of Scabbard and Blade, military group, and Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity. In his freshman year he was awarded the Blue Key master freshman certificate, and the following year was recipient of one of the Masonic scholarships. This year he was manager of the Military ball.

Arwin Hoge was awarded the Blue Key master scholarship certificate for having the highest scholastic average for freshman men.

Josephine Hoffman, sophomore in home economics, was presented with the tuition scholarship awarded annually by Senior Staff. ### "SOMEWHERE BETWEEN—"

After the proms are over, between the meetings of this and that, classes are held on this campus. Education is not yet an entirely lost art, but during the past term it has played a winning game of hide and seek with various activities and if the number of things "going on" increases, it may be that class work will disappear forever.

Where is the student who wanted to go east to school because "there is no social life on this campus"? At the end of this term there will have been four all-college formal dances, at least one formal party in each Greek letter organization besides an all-college informal almost every week-end. Anyone who has tried to schedule anything for the coming four weeks finds that the only evenings or afternoons available are those after June fifth.

Aside from social affairs there have been and will be innumerable installation services, honorary society banquets, programs, plays, pageants, festivals, athletic meets, and what have you, all of which require student participation and cooperation. The men and women who are alert and interested in the activities of the institution and are still ambitious about their object in coming to school find themselves lost in their search for education.

Extra curricular activities and social affairs have their place and are an important part in preparing students for progressive and successful professional work but in future terms, let's give ourselves a chance to make class work more than an appendage of our activities.

SIGMA CHI

North Dakota State college is proud to welcome Sigma Chi to its campus as the sixth national fraternity.

Sigma Chi stands in high repute in the country's fraternal circles, and as such it will be a distinct advantage and a tribute to this institution.

Especially to be complimented are the former members of Delta Kappa Sigma, as a result of whose untiring effort this recognition has come to State college. The student body compliments them on their success and wishes them the best of luck in their fraternal endeavors in years to come.

RECOGNITION DAY

A fine institution is that of the official Recognition day sponsored annually by Senior Staff and Blue Key, campus service groups.

The spirit of cooperation manifested between the two groups is one that is all too rare on this campus. It is difficult to believe in disparagement and unfriendliness after the success of the two groups in staging their Recognition day.

Selections made by Blue Key and Senior Staff both as to actual membership and as to the scholarships awarded are on a strictly unbiased basis and because of this the two groups have been recognized as outstanding among student organizations. Continued work in this direction will serve materially to place State college on a higher plane of accomplishment and worthiness.

POETRY:

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
If Y' aint heard this "gore"
It's time that you do.

ROUNDABOUTS:

Is it true, this crack that the first Sigma Chi conclave was held at Dilworth . . . all we know is what we read in the papers, and are we surprised when we read of Carl Freeman answering a senior questionnaire to the effect that he worked his way partly through college as treasurer of Alpha Gamma Rho, that frat house just east of the Barns . . . While Dolly Larsen nonchalantly shows up singing, "Gather Lip Rouge While You May" . . . while we gather the fact that a Delta Tau and a Kay Dee lady friend spent Sunday evening scaling the city water tower, a practice we recommend for campus pole-sitters (people like me who've been on a column for years) . . . and we wonder why Bill Christianson insists upon washing his hair every spring and terrifying well-meaning collich-people by looking like an animated Fuller Brush . . . Eryls Hill wearing ruffles to the Sigma Chi (do you remember way back when—) party to suit her fluffy personality . . . while some folks have the blind-date luck of rating the president of the U. of Minn. Sigma Chi's . . .

HIT OF THE WEEK:

The story persists about a certain well-pledged frosh lad who spent the week-end calling up 22 gals for dates . . . another case of You Buttered Your Bread, Now Lie In It.

LAUGHING MATTERS:

We can't help but think of all sorts of dirty names to call the much-engaged Theta Chi . . . who is supposed to be carrying the torch for one of the campus' nicest brunettes, but who has the habit of calling other likeable gals for dates . . . which will probably mean that I've innocently condemned all the going-steady brunettes on this hyar campus . . . and there's a class of five gals, suh, who're trying to decide among themselves for a Lilac day Queen. The boys in the class might as well be not . . . And if you really want to know what "gore" is, get someone from Ceres hall to tell you their latest diggings, which we're going to be nice and not believe . . . and if you want an all-night's job, try counting all of the saloon-keeper's daughters who're holding down this campus. . .

1935 Y Conference To Be Held At U

That the University of North Dakota will be the meeting place of the joint state conference of YMCA and YWCA groups next year was the decision of delegates to the 1934 conference held at Minot State Teachers' college the last week-end. One hundred and thirty delegates from colleges of this state attended. Succeeding Harry Hanson, NDSC student, as president of the state YMCA group, will be William Holland of the University of North Dakota. Other officers named were: Orville Goplen, State college, vice-president; Ingvold Uleberg, Minot State Teachers' college, secretary. Dr. W. C. Hunter, NDSC professor, was renamed financial secretary.

Addresses by Dr. H. Schloerb, Hyde Park Baptist church of Chicago, Ill., on problems of the college student and the manner in which the Y groups could help solve them featured the program. Leading small discussion groups which treated these problems more specifically were Dean Tom Stine of Jamestown college, Dr. Roy Brown of the University of North Dakota, and Dr. Forrest Witcraft of Minot State Teachers' college. Outstanding social events of the three-day conference were the mixer and Geneva Banquet.

Sophomores Deny Class Party Will Be Street Dance

Contrary to spurious rumors which have been flitting about the campus this year's Sophomore Frolic will not be a street dance as the sneering juniors have bruited it about, nor will music be furnished by the chimes.

Of course the 1934 frolic will be bigger and better than ever with curb space reserved for those who try to crash the brawl. Don Fredrikson and his cat-gut scrapers will furnish the dancing feet with the necessary inspiration, it is hoped. As yet, due to bickerings among college officials, no definite scene has been selected for the debacle, but never fear, members of the class of '36, our own Sid is looking after our interests and everyone will be duly warned of the impending catastrophe.

It goes without saying that only freshmen will be dumb enough to attempt to crash the affair. Such big boys as Stan Maynard and Dana Smith will be at the door to properly chastise those people who seek to gain admittance by foul means. At least one of the couple must present a registration card showing that he or she is a member of the Sophomore class or blood will be spilled.

Sidney Bjornson, class president, has appointed the following to be responsible for the awful state of affairs which will probably ensue: Bill Akeley, decorations; Constance Heilman, invitations; Stanley Maynard, music; Gertrude Powers, refreshments; and Walt Ward, entertainment.

Majorie Baker Is Award Recipient

Marjorie Baker was selected by the Women's Senate, governing body of the Women's League, as the recipient of the organization's scholarship award at a joint meeting of the new and old members in the Faculty-alumni club rooms Wednesday afternoon.

Organizing for its work during the coming year, the new senate elected Amy Glaser, junior in home economics and Art club representative, as president. Other officers are: Marion Bristol, vice-president; Faythe Stockton, secretary; and Lucille Smith, treasurer. Retiring officers are Maxine Rustad, Isabelle Humphreys, Marion Bristol, and Olive Ringen.

Plan Novel Ideas For Senior Prom

The 1934 Senior Ball will bring an unique idea in decorations and theme to the campus when the Crystal ballroom, scene for this year's formal, is decked in black and white with a dice scheme on Friday, May 18.

Programs and favors of a novel nature are combined for presentation to attendants at the affair. They too will feature a black and white innovation of color harmony.

Fargo Theaters

STATE

Bragging, blustering, unconsciously humorous Spencer Tracy comes to the State theater today and tomorrow in the comedy, "The Show-Off." He is supported by Madge Evans, Henry Wadsworth, and Lois Wilson.

A typical family picture brings Lionel Barrymore, who has scored success in many recent films as a likeable father, to the State in "This Side of Heaven." Some of his recent pictures are "Should Ladies Behave," "Dinner at Eight," and "Her Sweetheart." The play is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday.

ROXY

Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville, funny as usual, are raising the roof at the Roxy theater today and tomorrow in "Her First Mate." Una Merckel is Zasu's roommate in this story of a hilarious romance which begins with Slim posing as a captain on a boat, thus winning the admiration of Pitts.

Prep Athletes To Compete At May Festival

Favorable Weather Expected To Result In Breaking Of Cinder Records

For the first time since May, 1932, high schools of North Dakota and eastern Minnesota will meet in track competition at the May Festival sponsored by North Dakota State college, to be held at Dacotah field beginning Friday, May 11, with the finals being run off the following day.

With Bismarck and Fargo, co-champions of North Dakota high school track last year, boasting strong entries in their attempt to retain their title, and such teams as Valley City and Jamestown sure to offer vigorous competition, one of the closest races in years seems to be in prospect. Preliminary meets throughout this section have been going on for about three weeks and as a result coaches have had a chance to develop their material. In 1932 four records were smashed and if the weather is favorable it is expected at least two more will fall before the assault of this year's athletes.

Marks set up in previous years are: 100-yard dash, 10.2; 220-yard dash, 23; 440-yard dash, 52.5; 880-yard dash, 2 min. 7 sec.; mile run, 4 min. 44.4 sec.; 120-yard high hurdles, 16.8 sec.; 220-yard low hurdles, 26.6 sec.; half mile relay, 1 min. 36 sec.; pole vault, 12 ft. 1 1/2 in.; shot put, 48 ft. 1 in.; discus, 128 ft. 9 in.; high jump, 5 ft. 9.1 in.; javelin, 158 ft. 6 in.; broad jump, 21 ft. 1 3/4 in.

Bison Track Men Work Out Daily

A good deal of perspiration is being daily forced from NDSC trackers who plan to enter the North Central conference meet at Brookings, S. D., the latter part of this month. Four Bison men have left for Aberdeen, S. D., to participate in the Dakota Relays being held this week-end. Those entered in events include "Bud" Marquardt, "Red" Striker, Harry Arneson, and Fritz Hanson.

Of the five schools classed to compete in the N.C.C. the University of North Dakota is favored to cop the honors. With practically a two-man team wrapped up in Ted Meinhover and Ralph Pierce there should be little doubt in anyone's mind.

Director C. C. Finnegan announces that the Bison track is being rounded into excellent shape with the laying of a fresh bed of cinders. The possibility of an intercollegiate track meet to be held here is still being considered.

TWENTY PLAYERS SIGN FOR GOLF TOURNAMENT

Twenty players have signed up for the 1934 college golf tournament, a 36-hole medal play. Play will start immediately on the Municipal course. The winner will be presented a gold medal by the Athletic department.

Score cards must be signed by Del Owen, pro at the Municipal course, and are to be turned in to C. C. Finnegan, or Maine Shafer, manager of the tourney. Official scores accepted from any player must be made while playing with another contestant for the college championship.

The 1933 tournament was won by Bob Benton.

Decrease In Funds Fails To Reduce Athletic Standard

by WALT McGRATH

Although handicapped by one of the greatest financial slashes in the history of North Dakota State college, the activities of the athletic department have not been decreased. Intramural sports, which are a drain on the resources of any school, have been maintained, and in the case of the May Festival have been increased. In the last five years athletic equipment which amounts to well over ten thousand dollars has been purchased and important contacts with larger schools made.

Credit for this worthy achievement must be given to C. C. Finnegan, athletic director. Cutting the number of his assistants, taking a terrific cut in salary himself, economizing on long trips, arranging schedules which are not only interesting from a spectator's standpoint but also from a financial point of view, are some of the methods he has used to cut down expenses. The success of his endeavors is evidenced by his already mentioned maintenance of such sports as hockey, rifle team awards, intramural basketball, intramural baseball, track, and tennis.

In addition to this the standards of the major athletic teams of the school have been one of the two highest in the conference. Witness the 1934 Bison football and basketball representatives. In both sports, teams composed of inexperienced men were piloted to a runner-up position in the title race. This material was developed in such a manner that the outlook for next year is the best in years.

Athletic relations with such schools as the University of Minnesota, Army, Wisconsin State, University of Washington, Texas Tech, and the University of Oklahoma, have been accomplished and resulted in satisfaction to both parties.

Campus Baseball To Begin May 14

The 1934 intramural baseball competition has been tentatively scheduled by C. C. Finnegan, athletic director, to get under way May 14.

Although there has been sentiment expressed in favor of a kittenball tourney, the general opinion seems to be in favor of baseball. A final decision and the drawing up of the schedule is expected to be reached Monday, May 7.

This year's competition will be considerably shortened with the tournament style of play to be used. Only winners of first round games may play the subsequent games. This is continued until the champion is named.

Because of the lack of interest in intramural track this sport will probably not be offered this spring.

Seven hundred student musicians representing 27 schools assembled at South Dakota State college recently to participate in the annual music contest.

NOTICE
There will be a baseball meeting at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, May 7, at the Field house. At this time teams will be matched for contests, and it will be decided as to whether baseball or kittenball will be used.

WAA Elects Ruth Moore President

Rushing Rules Committee Suggests Change In System

To eliminate the evils of the rushing system now prevalent on this campus, the rushing rules committee, appointed by the Interfraternity council, has drawn up a list of proposed changes to be made in the present system. This committee, composed of Max Hughes, Idan Flaa, Horace Spaulding, George Sullivan, and Charles Waldron, has corresponded with various colleges and universities throughout the country and has drawn up the following list of suggestions:

1. Fraternities will be permitted to conduct informal rushing Freshman Orientation week during those hours that are not reserved for school orientation programs.

2. The period of formal rushing will be reduced if possible. Expensive and elaborate banquets are to be omitted.

3. Rushes to be induced to pledge a group upon the basis of the merits of that group, the opportunity the prospective pledge will have for self-development, scholastic standing, social activities, etc., with that group.

4. A bid day is to be established. A central committee shall be appointed by the Interfraternity council to prepare bidding cards which shall be presented to the prospective rushees by this committee during a closed rushing day. Each fraternity shall furnish this committee with a list of men they wish to pledge. The prospective pledges shall appear before this committee of their own free will and make their own choice alone. Space shall be provided on the cards so that the man can make a second, or third choice if he so desires. When the prospective pledge's first choice corresponds with the list presented by the fraternity of his choice, he shall be permitted to pledge that group. If his name does not appear on that list he may select or elect to avail himself of his second choice.

5. Pledging shall take place as soon thereafter as possible, the hour for pledging to be determined by the Interfraternity council.

6. Following pledging, open rushing shall be permitted as in previous years.

These proposed changes are only suggestions and have not been adopted by the Interfraternity council. Fraternities should study these suggestions and then express their views of them to the council.

Wallace Address Final Feature Of Relations Meeting

Speaking on "The Planned Middle Courses," Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace addressed the students of American colleges in a radio address broadcast as the final feature of the international relations conference sponsored in most of the educational institutions of the country yesterday.

Gathered in the Little Country theater last night were students from Concordia college, Moorhead State Teachers' college, and the North Dakota State college who were interested in the new trends in international relations.

Previous to the radio broadcast, speeches were given by Dr. Roy E. Brown, main speaker of the local conference, whose address was entitled, "America Must Choose." Bringing a message from the students of his country to the students of America, Namiji Itabashi talked on "The Students of Japan."

The afternoon session was devoted to round table discussions led by various professors of the three participating colleges following lead addresses by Dr. Roy E. Brown of the University and Atty. P. B. Garberg of Fargo.

Harry Hanson, president of the college YMCA, directed the program. The address of welcome was given by President J. H. Shepperd. Arranging the conference were the International Relations clubs, of Moorhead State Teachers' college, Concordia, and the North Dakota State college, the YWCA, YMCA, LID, and Pi Gamma Mu, all of the college.

CLUB INITIATES DENNIS AS HONORARY MEMBER

Namiji Itabashi Of Tokyo, Japan Is Visitor Here

Namiji Itabashi, a sophomore at Maji university, Tokyo, Japan, has been a guest on this campus this week.

Mr. Itabashi is traveling in this country as the representative of the Association of English-speaking Societies of Japanese universities and colleges, his mission being that of inviting American college instructors and students to attend the America-Japan Student conference, which will be held July 19 to 26 this summer at Tokyo. The purpose of the conference will be to further mutual understanding between American and Japanese students.

Rates for the passage to Japan and back have been cut in half for the conference, according to Mr. Itabashi, and the cost of room and board while in Japan will be paid by the association whose name is mentioned above.

When queried as to the possibility of a second Russo-Japanese war,

Mr. Itabashi stated that he could not understand why people in this country talked about it; they didn't in Japan, giving the interviewer to understand that Japan didn't even consider making war with Russia. Mr. Itabashi defended his country's recently formulated Monroe doctrine on the grounds that if the United States could do it, Japan certainly could.

Japan is fast becoming an Americanized country, according to Mr. Itabashi. American customs are being rapidly adopted, as well as American educational and religious institutions. American makes of cars are used in Japan, and most homes have radios, but a package of American cigarettes costs them seventy cents a package. For this reason, he unnecessarily added, the Japanese raise their own tobacco, and make their own cigarettes.—GWM.

The YWCA board met Wednesday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. T. Worden Johnson at 5:30 p. m. Special guests at the supper were Ruth Clausen, who gave a conference report, Luella Furcht, and Thelma Liessman.
