Chimes To Be Installed In Old Main

Nominees Are Announced By Rival Frames

Vote To Fill Commission; Athletic, Publication Board Offices

Spring elections with the Holier-Than-Thou and the Hog-It-All political frames vying for positions on the student commission, the board of athletics control, and the board of publications control, will be held next Wednesday, April 18, in Old Main, according to Grace South, commissioner of elections. Polls will be open from 8 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m.

Nominated at a frame meeting during the week by the Holier-Than-Thous were: Earl Jennings, student commission president; Vermetta Hidde, commissioner of judiciary; Marion Bristol, commissioner of elections; Maine Shafer, commissioner of athletics; Bill Murphy, commissioner of public speaking; Alyce Connolly, commissioner of finance; Thelma Liessman, commissioner of social affairs; Clarence Walde, commissioner of campus; Lynn Carlson, junior member, and Neville Reiners, sophomore member, board of athletics control; Harold Riggs, freshman. Audrey Boe, sophomore, and Larry Bue, junior members of the board of publications control, respectively.

The Hog-It-All frame has the following nominees: Albert Ruemele, student commission president; Carol Ladwig, commissioner of judiciary; William Johnson, commissioner of elections; Erling Schranz, commissioner of athletics; Horace Spaulding, commissioner of public speaking; Oran Craychee, commissioner of finance; Virginia Landbloom, commissioner of social affairs; Lewis Whalen, commissioner of campus; Harold McCannel, sophomore member, and Robert Saunders, freshman member of the board of athletic control; and Gordon Brandes, freshman, Constance Heilman, sophomore, and Howard Kilbourne, junior, members of the board of publications control, respectively; and Alpha Gamma Rho, respectively.

The Hog-It-All frame consists of Phi Omega Pi and Gamma Phi Beta Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Sigma Tau, Sigma Phi Delta, and Kappa Psi fraternities, The Holier-Than-Thous consist of Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, and Alpha Gamma Delta sororities; Delta Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Epsilon, Theta Chi, and Kappa Sigma Chi fraternities; the Cosmopolitan club.

Officers Elected By Phi Kappa Phi

The North Dakota State college chapter of the honor society of Phi Kappa Phi held its regular spring term meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Seminar room of Old Main and elected the following officers: Dr. A. D. Whedon, president; Dean R. M. Dolve, vice-president; Miss Matilda Thompson, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Harriet Pearson, corresponding secretary.

Plans were also discussed for the annual spring term recognition day convocation.

GUEST EDITOR

FRED J. O'NEIL

Fred J. O'Neil, editor of the Dakota Student, official publication of the North Dakota university, acted in the capacity of guest editor of today's issue of The Spectrum, replacing Gale Monson, regular editor of the publication.

O'Neil's visit marks the opening of the third official exchange between editors of The Spectrum and The Dakota Student. The tradition was inaugurated in 1932 by Marjorie Archer and Don Reineohl, NDSC and U editors, respectively.

In addition to being editor of the university newspaper, O'Neil is a member of Sigma Nu, national social fraternity; Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic group; Blue Key, national men's service fraternity; and the Dakota Playmakers, student dramatic club.

Monson will repay the visit of the university editor next week, when he will go to Grand Forks to edit the April 17 issue of The Dakota Student.

While here, O'Neil is a guest at the Kappa Sigma Chi house.

Miles Formo Is Ball Assistant

Miles Formo has been named assistant manager of the Senior prom, to be staged Friday, May 18, in the Fieldhouse.

Tomie King, manager of the ball, and his guest will be first in the line of march; Mr. Formo and his guest, second; Roman Meyers, class athlete, and his partner, third; and idan Flaa, senior class president, and his partner, fourth.

The prom committee is making contacts with various dance bands in this state and Minnesota, and promises students the best music had at any prom on the campus.

Mr. Formo is a senior in electrical engineering, and is a member of Theta Chi and Blue Key fraternities.

Rumors that the Bison Brevities will go on the road during the spring term are false, according to Frank Sanders and John Gabe, managers of the production. The cast will not be able to go because of financial difficulties and the problem of attendance.

Ruth Foote To Lead March At Junior Prom

Selection Of Partners Made By Junior Ball Managers

Leading the grand march of the Junior Prom to be staged Friday, April 20, will be Hill Elwin, ball manager, with his partner, Ruth Foote. As assistant manager, Lynn Carlson with his guest, Sylvia Anderson, Ada, Minn., will be the second couple in line.

Chosen as class athlete, Wilbur Marquardt with Ethel Erickson, will be third in line. Robert Parrott, junior class president, with his guest, Betty Bristol, will be fourth in line.

"The Old Madrid," a band from a popular Minneapolis night club, with two entertainers, will furnish music for the ball. Decorations will feature the latest lighting effects.

Assisting Elwin as heads of the committees are Thelma Liessman, programs; Evve Hammer, entertainment; Jane Nichols, invitations; Alyce Connolly, music; Omer Korshus, decorations; Harold Naegeli, tickets; Lawrence Bue, publicity; and Earl Jennings, floor manager.

Spring formal attire will be proper for the occasion. Admission is $1.50 and tickets may be secured from campus salesman.

Sigma Chi Chapter Will Be Installed April 26 to 29

Dates for the installation of Delta Kappa Sigma, local fraternity, as a chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity, have been set for Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 26, 27, 28, and 29, it was announced today by Maitland Wyard, Delta Kappa Sigma president.

Among Sigma Chi notables who will be present are Hamilton Douglas, jr., grand consul; Charles Eldridge, executive secretary; Chester Cleveland, editor of The Magazine of Sigma Chi; Frank McDonough, jr., grand trustee. Oscar Macnab and E. T. Conmy, grand praetors; and J. Russell Easton, secretary of the executive committee.

The local Delta Kappa Sigma group was founded by eight State college students on March 16, 1922, and will form the 96th chapter to be installed by Sigma Chi. The new chapter will be designated as Gamma Tau.

NOTICE

Due to the economy program the Post Office department has found it necessary to close the campus post office at 1 p. m. on Saturdays.

Beginning Saturday, April 14, the mail will be dispatched at 1 p. m. as usual, but no dispatch at 5 p. m. The mail that is ordinarily distributed at 2:10 p. m. will be distributed at 11 a. m.

There will be no mail distribution on Sundays.

By order of H. C. Corrigan, Postmaster.

Gigantic Sales Campaign Sponsored By Gamma Tau Sigma To Finance Project

I had a hurried conference with Nelson Sauvain, chairman of the Board of Administration upon my return to the college late today.

He stated that it was not his understanding from the deliberation of the conference at Bismarck last week—as it certainly was not mine—that it was contemplated that the college was to cease to prepare students to teach in the high schools, as some have interpreted the press report to imply.

—President J. H. Shepperd.

Journalism Fraternity Will Open Drive For Funds Starting Monday

To add to the tradition and color of the North Dakota State college campus, a set of chimes will be installed in Old Main this spring when the plans of those connected with the project reach completion.

Representatives of Gamma Tau Sigma, campus journalistic fraternity, will act as salesmen during the coming week in a campaign to sell tags to students and, in fact, to anyone wishing to contribute toward the installation of the chimes. These salesmen will be present Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 7:45 to 8:30 a. m., and from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., at the campus gates and in front of Old Main and Science hall, and at all other times will be glad to sell tags to students and faculty members desirous of aiding in the installation of a permanent campus improvement.

"This is the first time that an enterprise has been launched on the campus in which each and every student should be vitally interested. It has long been the feeling that a set of chimes is a needed thing on the campus, and with the interest and cooperation expected of every student behind this project, there is no question but that it will be an unqualified success," Howard Kilbourne, president of Gamma Tau Sigma, stated today.

Student donations towards the cause have been set at ten cents. In this manner, if every student contributes at least a dime, the necessary quota will be reached without undue campaigning of uptown merchants, who have aided in sponsoring several other student enterprises already this year.

An extensive downtown campaign will carry representatives of Gamma Tau Sigma through various business establishments to solicit money for the project. The responding firms will be presented with a placard to designate their assistance in the campaign.

A. G. Arvold has supervised the rejuvenation of a room above the stage in the Little Country theater. This room, insulated to make it sound proof, will have the acoustic effects to give the chimes the proper sound.

Installation of the chime equipment will be donated by Robert Schulz, electrical engineering student noted in the radio field, while Haile Chisholm, instructor in forging, will construct an elaborate piece of grill work for the tower.

Although plans for the exact day of dedication are not complete, it is expected that it will be at the time of the Lilac festival in Mid-May. The chimes will also be used for Commencement.

According to present arrangements the chimes will be rung three times a day. A special endowment will pay for the tuition expenses for some student who is able to play the chimes.

NOTICE!

A meeting of the sophomore class will be held at 4 p. m. today in room 319, Science hall, to discuss plans for the sophomore frolic on May 10.

Sidney Bjornson, president.

Good Will Tour Is Taken By Fargo Debating Squad

State college debaters from Fargo and debaters from the university at Grand Forks left Thursday morning on a good will debate tour that will take them into middle and western North Dakota.

One group, consisting of Frieda Panimon and Cathryn Ray, NDSC debaters, and William Holland and Farnham Dudgeon, University of North Dakota debaters, and Donald Holand, university orator, began their series before Mandan Training school assembly yesterday afternoon. Yesterday evening they appeared in a public debate in the Bismarck city auditorium.

The schedule for the debates today and tomorrow is: Friday morning, Mandan high school assembly; Friday afternoon, Glenfield high school assembly; Friday evening, Carrington public debate; Saturday evening, Aneta city auditorium. Mr. Holand will speak on "The Educational Crisis." Accompanying this group of debaters will be William Schrier, director of Forensics at the university.

The other group of debaters include Robert Buttz and Odin Ramsland, university debaters, and Frederick Martin and Robert Hagen, NDSC debaters, and Lawrence Bue, who will give a chart talk on "The Missouri River Diversion Project." Donald Hay, director of forensics at the State college, will accompany this group.

The schedule for this group is: Thursday, afternoon, Michigan student assembly; Thursday, evening, Inkster; Friday morning, Minot State Teachers college; Friday afternoon, York assembly debate; Saturday evening, Binford public debate.

TWO COEDS INDUCTED BY MUSICAL SORORITY

The local chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music sorority, conferred honors on two college students by admitting them to active membership at induction ceremonies held in the Waldorf hotel last Sunday. These girls were Arlene Dillage and Erma Weinberger.

Miss Mary Powers, alumnus of Gamma Phi Beta, was elected president of the group at the regular monthly supper meeting.

PI GAMMA MU HEARS RURAL LIFE DISCUSSION

"Trends in Rural Life" was the topic discussed Thursday evening, April 12, by members of the Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty-alumni club rooms. Floyd Fladseth was chairman of the committee in charge of the meeting and E. A. Willson, advisor. Other members of the committee were Helen Clemens, Carl Miller, Elizabeth Lowell, Dr. H. C. Hanson, Agnes Mohr, and Dr. L. L. Scranton. The fraternity invited the following groups to attend their meeting: Alpha Zeta, Saddle and Siroin club, faculty of the agricultural department, and Phytois.

THREE TIMES — BUT NOT OUT

Three years ago enterprising editors of the State College Spectrum and the University Student inaugurated the idea of an exchange of editors between the two institutions. Started as an experiment, the venture has proved successful as a very definite evidence of the good will that exists between the members that go to make up the student bodies of the two schools.

Had this custom been established years ago, one might well have called the visiting editor a peace envoy. Lately, however, the old feeling of knock-down-drag-out-and-kill has been tempered, due partly to the passage of time, partly to the better knowledge the two state schools have gained of each other. Rivalry still exists, of course, (as it always should) but it is a good-natured rivalry and while old-timers may sigh over the departed era of fights and bloodshed we feel that the present situation, competitive but not antagonistic, is much more to be desired.

In these years the visit of a guest editor is a tangible sign of good will. Athletic teams and debate teams meet on the field, floor or platform. Each side, however, is quite naturally imbued with a desire to win. Now this, of course, is laudable. If a team doesn't have a very natural wish to show itself superior to its opposition it might just as well disband for all time. But with all this intense rivalry going on throughout the year, it is pleasant to be able to visit the State college as a friend and not as one wishing to show any kind of superiority—a superiority that may not even exist.

We have but one suggestion to offer. To us it would seem that this exchange should be carried out earlier in the school year rather than near the end of the editor's regime. Your editor has ideas that we would do well to incorporate with our method of newspaper production; at the same time, we may be able to offer something of value to your executives. When the year's work is almost finished it is easy to say "let the new editor do it" and the new editor may never get around to putting the idea to work.

And so, as a token of the good feeling that exists between your school and the University of North Dakota, we trust that future Spectrum and Student editors may see fit to continue this custom, already well established on a basis of mutual friendship and respect.

REPRESENTATIVE SENIORS

We imagine that the time has approximately come for the selection of the representative seniors of North Dakota State college, to be featured in the 1934 Bison.

There is a veil of secrecy about the selection of these seniors that no efforts have yet succeeded in removing. Just why the manner of selection should be kept we do not understand.

Possibly there are no logical reasons for objecting to any selections made. However, we cannot help but feel that this is one matter that should not be kept in the dark, but on the other hand should be open to the eyes of the student body instead of being the puzzle that it now is. We hope that the selectors of this year's representative seniors in some way will let the students know just how they made the selections they did, and will reveal their respective identities.

Another thing. The number of representative seniors varies from year to year. Now it is eight, now twelve. We would like to know who has the authority to change this number, and why it is not stationary. We would also like to be set aright as to whether there is a definite ratio of women students to men. It is our feeling that a standing committee of faculty members should be selected to take care of appointing representative seniors from year to year, that the number of selections be definite, and that the ratio of women students to men be fixed.

In this way, the unpleasantities that have associated with the selections during the past years will be largely eliminated, and the student body will have at least some knowledge of how and why their representative seniors are selected.

Senior girls who wish to make nominations for the 1934 senior staff may come to Dean Pearl Dinan's office on Monday and Tuesday, April 16 and 17.

Student Opinion...

THE ELECTIONS

Next Wednesday each and every North Dakota State college student is to be given a chance to exercise his suffrage at the college polls, when the campus election of members to the student commission, the board of publications, and the board of athletics will be held. Do not neglect this opportunity.

There is more than the mere election of a group of officers involved in this election. The old, old question of whether campus politics shall control the vote, or whether each student will be open-minded enough to vote the way he sees fit, will again present itself. If things go as they have in the past years, some deserving students will receive offices, as will some undeserving ones. If the students of North Dakota State want to work a great and good change, they will disregard party lines and vote for the man best qualified to hold office.

Too often in the past students have been misled in their politics. "Frames", fostered by fraternities and sororities, have developed and controlled, either one way or another, campus elections. The one big objection to this system is that it is so unfair. In five cases out of ten, a student certainly far from qualified to hold office as compared to his opponent, receives the largest number of votes because this student and that student have not had the intestinal fortitude to desert their respective frames.

Let's get a start next week on ousting Mr. Dirty Politics from the campus by voting fair and square in the elections!

RECOGNITION DAY IS SET FOR FRIDAY, MAY 4

Recognition day, set aside each spring for the public announcement of new members of Senior Staff, senior women's society, and Blue Key, men's service fraternity, will be held this year during the convocation hour on Friday, May 4, it is announced by representatives of both groups. New members of the groups will be called from the audience to the stage.

Bison Briefs

LAUGH OF THE WEEK:

A certain local academic fraternity getting a phone call from a frosh gent asking to pledge him on account of he had another chance. They laughed him off and are now trying to laugh off the fact that he turned up next day wearing the pledge button of one of the campus' "best" frats!

ROUNDABOUTS:

One way to put your pledges in the running is to put them on roller skates . . . it should at least make them good "actives" . . . but we can't all say our prayers every nite and reform national-minded fraternities . . . nor can we all say along with a musical frosh lady that we inspired Jimmy Golseth's songs . . . Eryls Hill not liking the publicity the Forum gave her larynx (adenoid her, I suppose) . . . Stan Maynard telling everyone confidentially of his ambition to be an airmail pilot . . . Dotty Halland telling not so confidentially of the one class she went to last week.

IRONY, GRIM IRONY:

If a good looking little blond freshie had gone to her Monday morning classes she would have been invited to be in line at the Senior. But she had a cold, and didn't go, and that evening the young-man-in question's frat decided he could take the home-town gal. This, dear reader, is "le irony grimme."

LAUGHING MATTERS:

Jack Knight mashing the cabbage salad for a K. D. potluck under the Laliberte-dame's mashingment . . . R. L. S. (Robert Louis Stevenson to me) who worries about the impression the Briefs make on the readers "on the campus and off"—so he writes as a representative of the "off readers," while I conscientiously recommend paper dolls and rompers for him, for, after all: When I consider how my life is spent It's very seldom I repent . . .

That there is a real place for women in the field of preventive medicine, was asserted recently by Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, of Johns Hopkins university.

SOCIETY

Many heretofore harassed pledges will take their places in the ranks of the all-wise after initiations scheduled for this week-end. The Gamma Phi Betas, making their debut into life as the finished product, spectacular with the wearing of horn-rimmed spectacles, roller skates, and making of red flannels for the Sigma Taus, are: Mary Han-naher, Barbara Bibow, Kathleen Litten, Betty Baillie, Katherine Kil-bourne, Lois and Irene Wiedemann, Elise Brophy, Genevieve Lind, Kathryn Knutson, and Beverly Jen-sen. They will be initiated at mid-night Saturday, April 14.

Of Alpha Sigma Tau, Hugh An-stett, Gordon Brandes, John Cook, Robert Gwyther, LeMar Isaak, Day-ton Jones, William Kneeland, El-dred Lee, Leslie Morgan, Reuben Smith, and Willard Still will bid their pledge days farewell at ser-vices to be held Sunday, April 15.

Able to speak of a week's experi-ence as Kappa Sigma Chi's for good are Russell Anderson, Donald Hill, and Claude Ridgway, initiated Sun-day, April 7.

Alpha Gamma Delta entertained the faculty women at a tea held Thursday afternoon, April 13, from 4 to 6. Betty Bickert is in general charge; Barbara Anderson and Is-abelle Humphreys, table appoint-ments committee; Agnes Israelson and Marion Anderson, refreshments; and Esther Opland, pouring.

The Dorothy Hatch award to the member of Alpha Gamma Delta raising her average the most during the winter term was won by Esther Opland, who raised her average seven points.

In honor of the seventy-seventh anniversary of the founding of Theta Chi, Phi chapter held its annual roast pig banquet Tuesday, April 10. Roman Meyers acted as master of ceremonies. Faculty guests were Dean I. W. Smith and Mr. A. H. Parrott, and speakers were Dean Smith and Bill Williams, alumnus. Combined with the cere-mony was the installation of the new officers.

Kathleen Litten, Helen Keogh, and Adeline Naftalin will serve at the next YW Blue Monday tea.

Hugo Herstad, of Kindred, was pledged by Theta Chi fraternity last week.

Junior girls will be entertained Sunday from 3 to 5 at an annual tea given by Senior staff at Ceres hall. Virginia Garberg and Miss Esther Latzke are in general charge. Miss Matilda Thompson and Dean Alba Bales will pour and Jeanette Mc-Comb, president of Senior staff, and Dean Pearl Dinan will receive the guests. Appointment will be made in yellow and green.

Humming with activity and big plans are the Alpha Tau Omegas, in view of making their Dutch ball, to be held at Festival hall tomorrow evening, an event of events. Wen-dell Schollander is in charge.

"Guesting" at the various houses this week end and Monday were: William McDonald and Wayne Houtcooper, alums, at the Alpha Gamma Rho house; Bill Olson, Del-ta Kappa Sigma; Dean Vigen, Delta Tau Epsilon; Glenn Shelver and John Johnson, Kappa Psi; Arlie Oman, Kappa Sigma Chi; Mrs. M. J. Ruemmele and son, Henry, Sigma Phi Delta; Frank Cave, Bismarck, and Bud Addy, U. of Minn., A. T. O.

Charles Waldron, graduate of last term, and member of Alpha Gamma Rho, is to leave Monday, April 16, to work in LaMoure county organ-izing leafy spurge eradication.

Latest acquisition of the Alpha Tau Omegas is Kermit Solheim, re-cently pledged.

Alpha Gamma Delta elections held recently placed all the responsibil-ity in the hands of Betty Bickert, as president; Thelma Liessman, first vice-president; Isabelle Humphreys, second vice-president; Agnes Isaac-son, secretary; Marion Anderson, treasurer; and Esther Opland, chair-man of names.

NEWMAN CLUB HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKER

Father Moynihan, president of St. Thomas college, who addressed the student body of the college in con-vo-cation on the subject, "Religion and the Human Spirit," was hono-red by members of the Newman club at luncheon last Friday noon. As a part of the program, short talks were given by Father Arrell of North Dakota university and by Dean A. E. Minard as well as by Father Moynihan.

Presiding at the luncheon was Roman Meyers, who with members of the Newman club was successful in bringing the learned speaker and young people's leader to the cam-pus. Other guests included Dean Pearl Dinan, Miss Frances Lamb, Dr. W. C. Hunter, G. F. Yott, and Dr. W. L. Airheart.

Fargo Theatres State

"Come up'n see me some time," says Mae West in her picture "She Done Him Wrong," and over the nation has spread that catchy phrase. The picture returns to Fargo, show-ing at the State theater Friday and Saturday for ardent West fans and those who missed its initial show-ing.

Jeanette MacDonald and Ramon Navarro, co-starring, sing their way to popular approval in "The Cat and the Fiddle," love romance showing at the State next Monday and Tues-day. Lovers of harmony will ap-preciate this picture.

"Big Shakedown," with pretty blonde Bette Davis, Charles Farrell, Glenda Farrell, and Allen Jenkins, reveals the inside of a racket de-veloped since repeal made the li-quer game less profitable. It is booked for the State on next Wed-nesday.

"Lady For A Day," starring May Robson, selected as one of the ten most outstanding pictures of 1933, is now showing at the Roxy theater. Guy Kibbee, Warren Williams, and Ned Sparks are featured in this col-ourful story.

Coming to the Roxy theater next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday is "Flaming Gold." This dramatic story stars Mae Clark and Bill Boyd.

Saddle And Sirloin Sponsor First All-College Barn Dance

Overalls will be the formal dress for the NDSC gentleman when he escorts his blushing Biddie in her polkadot apron through the stables and into the hayloft on Saturday, April 21, for the first annual all-college barn dance, sponsored by the Saddle and Sirloin club. Don Fredrikson and his orchestra, also in "farmer's tuxedos," will supply that bit of rhythm that, together with tobacco juice and two feature square dances, will recall those days "w y back when"—Ma wore a bustle and Dad courted her with a "one-plug" machine.

Popular dancing, beginning at 9 o'clock, will continue until 12, except for the two feature dances to be called by Carl Freeman, who learned his bellow from a distant relative of Exiety the Fourth. Lunch will be served free by the Saddle and Sirloin club, which is sponsoring the party, with Walter Ward in general charge.

An "Ag Queen" will be crowned during the party, it was decided late Wednesday. Each ticket to the dance will carry a vote for the queen, who will be selected from a group of four to be chosen by a committee. The names of the candidates will appear in The Spectrum next week.

Special guests will be Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dice, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Christian-son.

Others in charge of arrangements are Wallace Widdifield, refreshments; and Walter Ward, social chairman.

Handsome Dan II, Yale university's famous bulldog mascot, has been kidnaped from his home in the Ray Tompkins Memorial fieldhouse.

Twenty debate teams from colleges and universities met recently at a contest sponsored by Transylvania college at Lexington, Ky.

More than 6,000 University of Texas students attend church regularly or occasionally while at the university.

Vernon Kohl Heads Kappa Tau Delta

Vernon Kohl has been elected president of Kappa Tau Delta, honorary architectural fraternity, to succeed Ed Mahlum. Kaare Rosenberg was reelected vice-president, as was Earl Jennings, secretary-treasurer, and Omer Korshus, chaplain. Other members of Kappa Tau Delta are Harold Sorenson, Sylvester Schaeffer, and pledges are William Akeley, Merrill Grady, and Dallas Rudrud.

"ALL YWCA" MEETING IS SLATED FOR APRIL 18

Ellen Blair is in charge of the "All Y" meeting, which will take place Wednesday, April 18, at 7:30 p. m. in the YMCA club rooms.

Music numbers, readings and other special entertainments are being planned. Assisting Ellen Blair are Jean Newton, Alice Larson, Helen Hummel, and Marjorie Arnold, who are in charge of the program; Norma Young, Alice Westergaard, refreshments; and Mary Elizabeth Ricker and Marjorie Rooney, properties.

ENGINEERS ADDRESSED BY STATE COMMISSIONER

F. A. Vogel, highway commissioner for the state of North Dakota, addressed the engineers last Friday, thus opening a series of talks to be given to the engineers. Mr. Vogel explained the organization of the state highway department and gave a brief summary of the qualifications, both educational and personal, which enables one to qualify for a highway position.

The schedule of talks will continue with the following department heads addressing the students: H. C. Frahm, chief engineer; J. N. Roherty, design; H. H. Hurning, construction; H. G. Groves, testing; Clifford Johnson, bridges; and W. J. Flannigan, maintenance.

FOUR REPORTERS ADDED TO NEWSPAPER STAFF

With this issue of The Spectrum four new reporters are being added to the staff. They are Betty Benton, home economics freshman; Mary Spratt, education junior; Robert Williams, agriculture freshman; and William Clark, science and literature junior.

Now It Can Be Told....

(Ed. Note—Now that Sanders and Gabe, the old Croesus, have triumphed financially and tersichoreally, we are able to publish this fantasy of back stage life which is really entitled "Erllys in Brevities Land," after the fashion of Lewis Carol's immortal classic concerning Alice. The following is designed to be a parody on the chapter entitled "The Mad Hatter's Tea-party.")

One fine, slushy-wushy spring day a group of people were sitting about in the worm-eaten old Barracks, watching the Monk eat bananas and bite peoples' fingers. Some were punching holes in the already mutilated walls; others were standing on their heads on the battered piano. Still others were throwing mud balls and chinning themselves on the window sills. But that sort of thing happened every day. The Mad Hatter (alias Maxine Rustad, who was perfectly sane before she started to make hats and junk for the Brevities) was sitting over in the corner, hemstitching, or whatever girls do with chorus girls' pants over in the corner. Things seemed rather dead. "Mr. Tortoise, let's have a party," gurgled one of the chorines. "Who's a Tortoise?" asked Ben Boyden, the few straggly hairs on his upper lip rising and falling. "Well, you tortoise how to dance, didn't you?" replied the Brevities miss. Everybody chuckled, except a few who chortled. Five minutes later, Ben, fairly bursting with mirth and joviality, said, "Ha, Ha, Ha, you make me giddy."

"I'm getting sick and tired of this pittle-pattle," said Erllys, the wonder girl—and the shapely foot that has thrilled millions, stamped the floor in dismay. "How'd you get the cold, Erllys?" said one. "Oh, Johnny Gabe me that last night," replied coy, demure, little Erllys, "but what else matters, sniff, sniff, if you're Lucky in Love, ain't that right, Marm?" "Yah mam, hotcha, row-dedow," answered Marm Houghlum in true collegiate football hero style. All was still for a moment. Not a creature was stirring, except Hamlet's monkey and mice, occasionally. It was so still that you heard Horace Spaulding whisper, "You slay me," as Maxine stuck a scissors through his esophagus. And he was way over in a far corner, too. Then someone broke the silence with, "Let's ask riddles." "Goody, goody," said they all, hopping up and down like moneys on a hot stove lid. "I'll start," said little Dubsy Sudro. "What's black and white, got a head and tale, and catches dirt?" "The monkey," answered one. "No," said Dubsy. Then the 90 odd people, for they were truly odd, shouted as one, "You tell us—" "The Spectrum," said Dubsy, and she laughed a long, loud, lengthy laugh, "I know one," said Johnny Hamlet, his chubby little feet tapping in eager expectation. "Whats black, very playful, has 10 legs and jumps from town to town?" No one answered. "Dya give up?—Ha, ha, the Harlem Globe Trotters," said Johnny with a triumphant ecstatic smile.

Everyone was getting restless by this time. "Let's tell dirty stories," suggested Bob Fick, of all people. "Does your mother know you're out?" sneered a pure-minded coed from 'way in back. But on the whole, everybody seemed anxious to hear some new filth. But just then fate stepped in, in the person of Frank Pierce Sanders, who had just prepared another fight talk. Said Frank, "I love you all. I'll Treat you man Toman. Mona Haas script practice, but don't let that bother you. Now you've gotta Baccus up to the very limit, or they'll Brandes all as slackers. I know how it is. I've felt just Solow myself that I thought I couldn't Barrett—a Hummel! Now we're going to practice Friday Anstet of Thursday—and then, Iverson day from now on in. Now, if you have any private questions, we'll Probst into them in the other room." "Oh, my ears and whiskers, it's getting late," shouted Ben Boyden. Then they all went home to rest up for a long, long road tour. Imagine their disappointment when some of the faculty put a damper on their plans!

Students Record Queer Answers In Association Tests

Peculiar reactions of NDSC botany students as recorded in a free association test on botanical terms conducted among 130 undergraduates by Dr. A. D. Stoesz include: pericycle, bicycle; Rhizopus, dictionary; annual, Bison; wheat, cheap; and cork, fishing.

Other reactions to strictly botanical terms revealed such responses as: respiration, sweat; barberry, medal; ecology, Tommie King; saprophyte, boarder; cell, jail and prison; yeast, beer; stigma, disgrace; corn, Iowa; phloem, cough; pericarp, fish; and perfume, girl and rose water.

However, this test was not conducted by the botany department for the purpose of making a collection of odd answers, but to determine the progress of students and to gain for the instructors hints as to possible improvements in teaching methods. Although a small percentage of the students experienced these original and individualistic reactions, a large majority of them showed by their high scores that they had absorbed the subject matter.

A list of 200 botanical terms divided equally as to semi-technical, non-technical, and technical words were given to all students who had completed two courses of general botany. Students were asked to speedily record their first reaction to each term. Results of this test, which the undergraduates answered under this pressure of speed, revealed whether or not the students had become botany-conscious. In the future instructors plan to give these questions to students both before and after taking botany to determine progress made.

The Founder's day banquet of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity was held Wednesday evening at 6:15 at the college YMCA. Besides the active and pledge chapters, faculty members and many of the alumni were present.

Operatic Lyceum Play To Packed Houses Wednesday

"Hansel and Gretel," Humperdinck's famous fairy opera, played to packed houses Wednesday afternoon and evening, April 11, in Festival hall.

The stage sets and costumes, designed by Paul Bachelor, and the excellent characterizations of the several opera stars playing under the name of the Hansel and Gretel Opera company, combined to bring back pleasant memories of the well-known fairy story. Constance Eberhart's portrayal of the witch was quite as awe-inspiring as our childhood memories had pictured her, and Hansel and Gretel were especially appealing. The forest scene was greatly enhanced by the lighting effects recently installed in Festival hall.

The production was directed by Willard Rhodes, conductor and chorus master of the American Opera company. Included in the cast were Eunice Steen, soprano, and Maria Matyas, mezzo-soprano, of the American Opera company; Constance Eberhart, contralto, of the Chicago Civic Opera company, and Charles Dobson, who has appeared with the Cincinnati Opera company. —M. S.

The Newman club also had a change of officers, the new ones being John Sevenants, president; Hug Anstett, vice president; Mary Clemens, secretary; and Lee Gress, treasurer.

CRYSTAL BALLROOM TO FEATURE JIMMY JOY

Featured at the Crystal ballroom Saturday evening will be Jimmy Joy's 13-piece Brunswick recording orchestra, said by the management to be the best orchestral entertainment ever offered in Fargo.

The orchestra is directed by Joy in person and is booked for Kansas City with such nationally known bands as Red Nichols and His Five Pennies.

In comparing the orchestra with other well known bands, the Crystal management states that it is similar to that of Charlie Dornberger, heard nightly over the National broadcasting system.

A design in black and white advertising the Art Display to be featured by the art department during the May festival won first place in the poster contest for Eleanor Isaacs of LaMoure. Betty Benton of Fargo was awarded second place and Hope Tweet of Rugby, third place in the competition sponsored each year among freshmen students working under the direction of Miss Dorothy Hatch.

Bison Yearbook Near Completion

"The 1935 Bison yearbook nears completion featuring a departure from many of the conventional forms of previous yearbooks," says Jane Nichols, editor of the annual.

Each section has been laid out in an individual way with special attention given to pictures throughout the book. At the conclusion of the military, faculty, and music sections, there will be three or four full pages of pictures. The faculty will be pictured in characteristic and informal surroundings.

The scenic section will display a group of pictures taken at night and after snow falls. Special credit should be given to Bob McCracken for his work in photography.

Because he has devoted so much time and interest to college activities, the 1935 Bison has been dedicated to Dr. C. S. Putnam of the music department of North Dakota State college.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

Those basketball games Tuesday and Wednesday between the Theta Chi's and Delta Sig's were certainly some back-busters. Talk about football tactics—it must have made Coaches Finnegan and Lowe green with envy!

That first game was like an old time thriller. What with the Delta Sig's trailing 14-6 at the half, and then having "Ike" Isensee get "hot" and account for thirteen points to outsize the Theta Chi's 22-19.

Prospects certainly look sweet for the University of N. D. football team. Only three regulars will be lost by graduation.

If plans go forward as arranged, the north bleachers of the football field are to be given a chance for occupancy during track season. It seems that for the last forty years the spectators have managed in one way or another to be sprawled all over the track during a track meet. The new plan is to have the finish line at the west end of the north bleachers and have the 100-yard dash and similar features occur directly in front of the audience.

According to advance press ballyhoo, baseball is due for a big season in this sector. Our wish is that the campus league turns out to be more than just an A. T. O.—Gamma Rho feud.

So gentlemen, and you ladies who are molded after the Babe Didrickson fashion, we advise you to brush up on America's favorite pastime and as long as old man weather keeps on grumbling be careful of those glass arms on these chilly days.

But remember, out on the sand lots even the sweetest ball-players grow.

WAA INITIATION HELD WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11

Seven girls were initiated into WAA Wednesday, April 11, at a dinner served in Ceres Hall.

Included in the group are Lila Nestergard, Emma Jordre, Geraldine Erdahl, Nita Oleson, Ethel Olson, Kathryn Knudson, and Esther Opland.

Evve Hammer, president of WAA, was in charge of the formal initiation, Ruth Moore of the informal initiation, and Grace South of the dinner.

Elections will be held Wednesday, April 25, according to Evve Hammer, president.

Rifle Team Firing Enviably Record

State Marksmen Score 43 Wins In 58 Matches

With 43 victories in 58 postal matches, the championship in the Seventh Corps area, and good chances of hearing favorable reports in the Hearst matches and the National Intercollegiate meet, the North Dakota State college rifle team is completing one of the most successful seasons since its inauguration at this institution.

Much of the credit for the accomplishments of the squad must be given to Captain J. B. Conmy, who has spent much time and energy in teaching the members of the squad the finer points in the art of rifle shooting. William Oftebro, team captain, must also be recognized as an influence that kept the team in the running when the going was tough.

Since the beginning of the spring term all shooting has been in the National Intercollegiate matches, which will be completed April 14. The Bison qualified for this match when they placed first in the Seventh Corps area, each school in the upper thirty percent of each area being eligible to enter the National meet. The rules of this match allow fifteen men from each school to fire in four different positions, with the ten highest scores to count. Because of the loss of three regulars and one capable reserve at the beginning of the spring term, Coach Conmy is pessimistic about the outcome of this match.

In the winter term the team fired the Corps Area Intercollegiate match, capturing the title with a score of 7647. This is the first time in the history of the school that N. D. State has ever won this match. Medals were presented by the Seventh Corps area to Gordon Baird, Edward Ballard, Leonard Moffitt, William Oftebro, John Porter, Hubert Smith, Albert Ruummele, Anthony Welker, Karl Kaess, and Ellis Thompson, and a large silver loving cup was added to the school trophy case.

Just before the spring vacation the five high men on the squad competed in the Hearst match, piling up a score of 933 out of a possible thousand. The returns of this match are not yet available but are expected about May 1.

NOTICE

Spring football practice will begin Monday, April 16, regardless of weather conditions. All men report at that time and draw their uniforms.

BISON, GOPHERS TO MEET IN CAGE TILT

Contracts calling for a basketball game with the University of Minnesota on December 15 have been signed and the contest definitely scheduled, according to word received today from Casey Finnegan, athletic director. This will make two athletic contests in which the State college will oppose Minnesota next year, a football game being scheduled for September 29. The Bison have met the Gophers on the basketball floor before, dropping a decision to them three years ago at the dedication of the N. D. S. C. fieldhouse.

Theta Chis Earn Right To Play Y For Campus Title

The YMCA and Theta Chi's will open their three-game series to decide the campus intramural title this afternoon. The remaining games are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 4:00, according to Beryl Newman, who has directed intramural competition this season.

The fast-stepping Theta Chi basketballers came through with a decisive 34-18 win over the Delta Sigs Wednesday night to earn the right to meet the YMCA. An unexpected reverse, 22-18, by the same team Tuesday night had thrown the bracket race into a tie.

A DePauw university professor has figured out, after many hours of research, that it costs a student a dollar for every class he cuts.

Keen Competition Predicted For 1935 Grid Championship

With the two schools in the northern half of the North Central Conference boasting some of the best material in years and the southern members determined to keep the title down south, stiff competition and a close race would seem to be the order of the day in the scramble for next season's conference crown on the football field.

From all indications South Dakota State will have lots of trouble in their attempt to retain the championship they captured last year. The Bison, runners-up to the Bunnies, are losing but three men from last year's squad and even Casey Finnegan and Bob Lowe are refraining from their usual pessimistic mutterings and predicting that the Herd will be right up among the leaders when the averages are computed at the completion of the schedule.

Coach Jack West, mentor of the ill-fated Sioux eleven of last season which disappointed even its most ardent supporters, vows that this time things will be different. With seventeen lettermen returning and a freshman squad that would gladden the heart of most any coach, West has good reasons to believe that the Green and Pink will again annex what they think is their rightful position in the sun. And the joker comes when you hear that next year's Sioux will abandon their old standby, the Warner system, and will line up in Notre Dame formation, prime favorite of Finnegan and Lowe. While this style is not so flashy to watch, it is not necessary to have two ten-second men to hold down the wing-back posts, so with the loss of Pierce and Knauf maybe the sudden switch isn't such a bad idea.

With about twenty lettermen fighting to rate the starting line-up and being pushed hard by some promising freshmen, the Bison are going to have something to say about where the hunting will reside next season. The competition in the backfield will be so keen that even performers like Fritz Hanson and Windy Schollander are not sure of their positions. Then there are such boys as Dobervich, Peschel, Olson, Thomas, Erlenmeyer, Marquardt, and House in the line, and they aren't shoved around by very many players in any league.

The key to the situation seems to rest in the hands of the gods so we wouldn't be a bit surprised to see some of the coaches in the conference revert to that old custom of Michigan's teams with a heavy emphasis on the "praying".

ROTC Inspections At State College On May 17 and 18

Col. R. H. McMaster, Omaha, Neb., and Maj. R. F. Arnold of Fargo will inspect the complete State college ROTC unit during the annual spring inspection to be held Thursday and Friday, May 17 and 18, according to Col. E. A. Lathrop, head of the military department at North Dakota State college.

Colonel McMaster, who is in charge of all ROTC training in the seventh corps area, will inspect the administrative division of the corps while Major Arnold will inspect the section dealing with actual military training.

Inspection will follow much the same order followed in previous years except that it will cover a number of new courses that have been included this year, such as military organization for freshman students, military history, required of sophomore cadets, field fortification, for juniors taking advanced work, and a course in tanks for advanced seniors.

YWCA Elections Set For April 16

Thelma Liessman will be the lone candidate for president of the State college YWCA at the elections to be held Monday, April 16, in Old Main.

Miss Liessman is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Delta Beta, YWCA cabinet and a junior in science and literature.

Candidate for vice-president is Ellen Blair, who is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Tryota club, and a sophomore in home economics.

Members of the advisory board to be voted on include Mrs. I. W. Smith and Mrs. C. A. Williams.

Composing the election committee to name the candidates were Jeanette McComb, chairman of elections, Ruth Clausen, Aurora Haas, Luella Furcht, Mrs. C. A. Teet, Mrs. T. Worden Johnson, Mrs. H. S. Rush. Further nominations may be made by petition.

Bell Competition Manuscripts Due Friday, April 20

The deadline for the submission of manuscripts in connection with the $350 Bell award competition is Friday, April 20, according to Dean R. M. Dolve, chairman of the committee in charge.

Dean Dolve anticipates about a dozen entrants in the second annual local contest for the prize offered by James F. Bell, Minneapolis philanthropist. The manuscripts, to be 2,000 words in length, must present some practical idea for the betterment of mankind. Roy Simonson, senior, won last year's award on a plan for rural zoning.

The fifth in a series of lectures to encourage thinking among the competitors will be given by Dean J. V. Breitweiser of the education department, University of North Dakota. "Thinking Things Through" will be the subject of his address, in which he will discuss new psychology in thinking processes. Contestants must file certification of their attendance at a majority of these lectures to be eligible for the award.

"Acquaint yourselves thoroughly with the rules," was Dean Dolve's warning to the contestants, as they began completing their manuscripts for the contest. Rules have been posted at various bulletin boards on the campus and must be carefully observed.

GOLD STAR BAND GIVES RADIO CONCERT TODAY

Mr. Neal's last visit to Fargo was Oct. 16, at which time he spoke before several groups on the State college campus.

Author of "The Last of the Thundering Herd," chosen as one of the twelve best stories for older boys published last year, Mr. Neal is in this vicinity on a speaking tour. Tuesday evening he addressed the Quill section of the Fargo Fine Arts club and Wednesday spoke at Mayville State Teachers' college. Last night at 8 o'clock he appeared at Concordia college.

May 4 Scheduled For Charity Ball

The Crystal Ballroom, Fargo, and Friday, May 4, have been set as the place and time for the annual Charity Ball, sponsored by the Panhellenic council, association of North Dakota State college sororities, announces Abbie Porter, president.

The following committees have been placed in charge of the affair: Luella Furcht, Hermlone Hanson, Margaret Olson, Ruth Clemens, and Betty Bickert, invitations and programs; Virginia Garberg, Imogene Ward, and Thelma Liessman, tickets; Amy Glaser, Constance Martin, and Ruth Westergaard, general arrangements.

A charge of one dollar per couple will be made.

The Sigma Delta discussion club will meet in the college YMCA study on Sunday evening at 6:30. With Constance Heilman in charge, the meeting will be given over to a discussion of international problems.
