High Schools Enter Debate Tournery Here

Debaters, Faculty, Coaches Judges In Forensic Tournament

With senior debaters, members of the faculty, and the two debate coaches as judges, a high school debate tournament will be sponsored tomorrow and Saturday by the public discussion department in the Little Country theater.

High schools which have showed their intentions of participating in the tournament are Fargo; Moorhead, Minn.; Moorhead Teachers' college high school; Glyndon, Minn.; Detroit Lakes, Minn.; Perham, Minn.; Barnesville, Minn.; Wahpeton, and Valley City.

The question on which all teams will be prepared to debate is: Resolved, that the essential features of the British system of radio control and operation should be adopted in the United States. Each contestant will give constructive speeches of seven minutes each and then be subjected to questioning for three minutes. There shall be one rebuttal and summary speech of five minutes for each side.

Announcements of winners and the making of awards will be on Saturday at 10 a. m. No entrance fees shall be charged.

The representatives of all participating groups will hold a meeting at 1 p. m. tomorrow. At this time the pairings and sides for the first round will be announced. The tournament will consist of five rounds of debate, scheduled as follows:

First round Friday, March 23, 1:30 p. m.; second round, Friday, March 23, 7 p. m.; third round, Saturday, March 24, 10 a. m.; fourth round Saturday, March 24, 10 a. m.; fifth round Saturday, March 24, 8 p. m.

Senior Staff Party Scheduled April 13

Senior Staff, senior women's service group, will give its spring term party on Friday, April 13, it was announced this morning by Jeanette McComb, president of the group. A "Friday the Thirteenth" theme will be featured.

The party will be held in Festival hall with Don Fredrikson's orchestra furnishing the music. A surprise feature is being planned, and a bargain admission price is promised.

Funds from these parties, held once a term, are used for an annual scholarship awarded to a sophomore woman with the highest scholastic average, the recipient of which will be announced at recognition day later in the term.

Miss McComb, Erls Hill, and Isabel Barrett are in charge of arrangements for the affair, which will as usual be one to which coeds will ask their boy friends.

A revolving stage is being used in a current production of the University of Nebraska Temple Theater Players.

IN THIS CORNER—

Johnny and Jimmy Andrewjeski—with such a name little wonder they are champion boxers at the age of eight—after "licking" the neighborhood "rowdies" sought larger worlds to conquer, and as a result have been featured in preliminary bouts throughout the northwest this winter.

These famous, or near famous, twins will be one of the outstanding features at the Auto show in the Field house this weekend. The twins will fight three-round bouts on Friday and Saturday afternoons.

With one twin weighing 49 pounds and the other 49½, betting odds are practically even.

Women's Senate To Entertain Sunday

All freshmen and sophomores and members of the faculty are invited to be the guests of the Women's Senate, governing body of the Women's League, at an informal afternoon mixer in the Lincoln Log cabin, Sunday from four to six o'clock, according to Ruth Moore, chairman in charge.

"We feel that college students and faculty members should meet informally more often and by social contacts develop more pleasant relationships," says Maxine Rustad, president. "With this end in mind, we shall sponsor a group of student-faculty teas, the freshman and sophomore men and women with the faculty men and women to be the guests at the first."

Ruth Moore is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Isabel Humphreys and Alyce Connolly. Dean Pearl Dinan will assist the group.

Three Convocation Programs Arranged

Coming convocations for the spring term will consist of three programs, the first of which will be presented Wednesday, April 3, when Harold W. Graves of the economics department of the University of Wisconsin, will address the student body.

On Friday, April 6, Father Maynihan, president of St. Thomas college, St. Paul, Minn., will deliver a talk on the subject of "Religion and the Human Mind," in which he will point out the influence religion has had on literature from early Greek times to the present. The last convocation of the term will be a program to recognize outstanding students on this campus by Blue Key, Senior Staff, and Phi Kappa Phi on Friday, May 4.

This recognition day is sponsored each spring term by the three groups, at which time new members are recognized and special awards are made. Six scholarships in all are awarded by the groups.

NOTICE!

The senior prom election will be held Tuesday, March 27, at 12:35 p. m. in the Little Country theater.

John A. Lomax Gives Lecture Last Evening

Well-Known Cowboy Ballad Collector Appears On Lyceum Program

Bringing with him a colorful bit of American frontier life as exemplified by the cowboy and the long cattle drives of the last century, John A. Lomax, collector of cowboy songs and ballads, appeared in Festival hall last night on the twenty-third annual lyceum series.

Born and raised on the plains of Texas, Mr. Lomax first realized the importance of cowboy ballads to American folklore during his attendance at Harvard university. Following his graduation from that institution, he began work on his now famous collection which forms a unique part of American literature.

"The cowboy and his horse will soon be gone from the plains," declared Mr. Lomax. The songs he leaves, however, show the boastful, reckless, romantic life he led. Themes of the cowboy songs are varied and include especially ballads on the daily routine of the cowboy, tales of his sweetheart, his mother and his home.

On two of the cowboy round-up numbers, "Get Along Little Doggie" and "Cowboy Yodel Song," the audience joined Mr. Lomax in singing. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Lomax presented a special lecture for students in science and literature, agriculture, and education.

College Is Host To High Schools In May Festival

North Dakota State college will be host to over one thousand high school boys and girls from North Dakota and western Minnesota when it presents the twenty-seventh annual High School May Festival May 10, 11 and 12.

Cultural and vocational contests as well as entertainment features are on the program for the three day event. The contests, which are open to all bona fide high school students, have been divided into three distinct groups: athletic, industrial, and literary. The athletic contests will be divided into two groups—those for women and those for men.

Crops, poultry, and livestock judging contests, sponsored by the Saddle and Siroin club, will be one of the features of the industrial group, while public speaking contests, one-act plays, and an exhibit of high school publications will constitute a few of the contests in which the literary groups will participate.

Other important features on the three day program will be a conference of vocational agricultural instructors and the sixth annual convention of the North Dakota Association Future Farmers of America.

Besides the contests, literary exhibits, and vocational conferences, several splendid programs will be offered for the entertainment of the public.

Yearbook Staff Sponsors Exhibits In Co-operation With Merchants Of Fargo

NOTICE!

Activity cards for the 1935 Bison must be in by April 1, according to a staff announcement. Many students who have handed in pictures have failed to fill out activity cards. Unless this work is complete by the deadline, no activities will appear under the individual picture in the yearbook.

Entertainment Is Featured At Local Motordom Innovation

Opening at 7 o'clock tonight, the automobile and style show sponsored by The Bison, State college yearbook, in co-operation with Fargo merchants, will continue tomorrow and Saturday, it was announced this morning by Kenneth Hamry, general manager of the show.

Local automobile dealers will vie in displaying the latest creations of motordom, many of the vehicles making their premier showing in this vicinity. The collective showing of autos and accessories will give Fargo people their first opportunity at comparing the merits of the various models.

A veritable advance fashion show of the latest in men's and women's apparel, sponsored by local clothing shops, will be featured nightly. This modeling will be facilitated by a specially constructed setting in which mannequins will parade. Both college students and professional models from Minneapolis, Minn., will display latest fashion modes.

A comprehensive program of entertainment has been outlined by the managers of the event. Mayor Fred O. Olsen will officially open the show with a short speech, following which it will be possible for spectators to view the automobile exhibits and the style show.

Five hundred dollars in cash prizes will be awarded to spectators during the three evenings. Entertainment in addition to the orchestras will consist of an exhibition of crack marksmanship by the college rifle team under the direction of Capt. J. B. Conmy, presentation of skits from the 1934 Bison Brevities, (Continued on Page 2)

FERA Gives Work To New Students

Several new students have been added to the registration totals as a result of their employment on the FERA student relief projects. The number of new students or additional employees has not been announced by the administrators of the project.

The committee in charge is busy approving applicants and assigning workers to complete the local quota of 122 student employees on this work. Of the quota 30% will include the students enrolling this term who did not attend last term.

A majority of those engaged in this project spent their vacation between terms on the campus working out their 50 hour monthly allotment. A general cleanup and paint job was conducted in several buildings of the campus by these student workers as a major project.

Ninety-two students selected by a faculty committee began work several weeks ago but the quota of 122, however, is not being filled until this term. Of the undergraduates employed upon the campus, 63 are men and 29 are women, not including students registering this term.

April 20 Is Date For Junior Prom

This year's Junior Prom will be held Friday, April 20, in the Field house, according to Hill Elwin, manager of the prom. Lynn Carlson has been selected as assistant manager. Third and fourth couples in the grand march will be Wilbur Marquardt, who has been chosen as class athlete, and Robert Parrott, president of the junior class, with their guests. As yet no definite orchestra has been decided upon.

Chairmen of the various committees are: Thelma Liessman, programs; Jane Nichols, invitations; Alyce Connolly, music; Earl Jennings, floor manager; Lawrence Bue, publicity; Omar Korshus, decorations; and Harold Naegeli, ticket sales.

Members of the freshman and sophomore classes and the faculty are invited to be the guests of the Women's Senate Sunday afternoon from four to six o'clock at an informal mixer in the Lincoln Log cabin. Maxine Rustad, president.

Bison Brevities Gives Broadcast

Featuring "I'll Build Us A Cottage," by James Golseth, sung by Frank Sanders, members of the Bison Brevities last night broadcast their third weekly program over WDAY.

Other numbers on the program were: organ music by Frank Sanders, director of the show; "In the Meantime," from "Good News," sung by Frances Plaggmeier and John Hamlet, and "Dutch Mill," sung by James Baccus.

"Good News," the show on which the 1934 Bison Brevities is based, is sponsored by Blue Key, honorary service fraternity, and will be staged April 5 and 6.

Negotiations are under way to take the show to Grand Forks, Bismarck, Jamestown, Valley City and other North Dakota towns.

NOTICE!

There will be no school next Friday, March 30, due to its being Good Friday.

WHY DEFLATE INTEREST?

Term grades have been distributed and the tone of criticism always present on the campus has increased in volume. This is wrong; that is worse. The marking system is crazy; the teachers are podunks; the roadways are muddy. Anything and everything is an object for criticism or rather "gripping," a more fitting appellation.

Intelligent criticism is the basis of change and improvement. Awareness of campus conditions, good or bad, is highly desirable. However, recognition must be followed by action if there is to be any evolution. When it comes to action, students on this campus are notably lethargic.

Since the latter part of last term, the Student Faculty Relations committee has worked on the revision of the marking system on this campus. It has been discussed a great deal; arguments have been submitted in discussion by almost every man and woman enrolled some time during the year. Yet, now when an opportunity for action is presented by the body whose purpose is to co-ordinate the work of students and faculty members, very little response is evident. Students seem to have lost interest in the subject.

If changes of any kind are to be inaugurated on this campus, students must maintain an interest in those changes until they are definitely established. Active and sustained support is necessary to the success of any project whether undertaken by the Student-Faculty Relations committee, the Student Commission, the Women's Senate, or any of the other organizations.

THE AUTO SHOW

One of the biggest undertakings of the year on the part of student enterprise is now taking place on this campus, that of the auto and style show being staged in the Field house by The Bison and the board of publications control, in co-operation with the merchants of Fargo.

This show is an important service to the college in that it serves as an excellent advertising medium. People who visit the auto show must needs at the same time see part of the college. We are sure they will come away from the exhibitions with the feeling that "the State college is a good place."

Any proceeds from the show will accrue to the Board of Publications, and will be used in helping pay for those sections of the State college yearbook that otherwise would go completely unfinanced.

Compliments must be extended to certain of the The Bison staff, as well as to members of the Board of Publications, who by their perser-verance and intelligence have made a success of the show.

THE BISON BREVITIES

The time for the production of the 1934 Bison Brevities is rapidly approaching. An immense amount of time has been spent by the producing staff and by those in the cast during the past few weeks, whipping the show into readiness for production.

In view of the fact that the Bison Brevities is so essentially an all-college undertaking, and as a reward to those who have labored so diligently with the show, we feel that it is the duty of each State college student to give the Brevities a break whenever it is possible in the line of boosting the show and helping create interest in it.

To insure the success of this year's Brevities, it behooves every student to plan to attend one of the showings.

BISON AUTO, STYLE SHOW BEGINS TODAY

(Continued from Page 1) and on Saturday evening, an old-time fiddlers' contest. Portions of the show will be broadcast over WDAY, it was learned today.

An orchestra directed by Bill Euren will furnish music during the show, and alternating with it at various times will be two college orchestras, directed by Dick Walsh and Don Fredrikson.

Six thousand dollars worth of decorations have been imported from Minneapolis for the show, including a black velour drop around the interior of the Field house, numerous neon signs, powerful spotlights, and six special settings lighted by red and green neon lights.

Preceding the opening of the show will be a parade through the downtown Fargo this afternoon, in which will appear the Gold Star band, the college ROTC corps, and all the cars that will be displayed on the Field house floor during the show.

Assisting Mr. Hamry in the staging of the show are Jack Vincent, floor manager; Leo Anderson, space manager; Dallas Rudrud, advertising; and Robert Landbloom, decorations.

Admission to the show will be twenty-five cents.

Student Opinion....

It seems as though a certain department on this campus has not yet become acquainted with the fact that "college is a medium, through which we think." Last term a group of students protested against an added piece of work in a course which was already heavier than any three hour course on the campus, not with things which instigated thinking, but with odd what-nots which were time-consuming without student benefit.

After a small student uprising, the instructor took names of all, to be used as recommendations when such students graduate (just to show 'em they can't get a job without my O. K. . . . nobody knows me, but that's O. K. too). These were the points said instructors got across to said class: Teacher is almighty . . . student must never contest or waver from teachings of said teacher, because if you do, you are in the high school stage . . . and you will never be a success (of course it wouldn't be one without my recommendation anyway).

As for the students, most of them were sophomores, still normal with a little bit of the student spirit still within them. If this department maintains its standards (false ones, some think) it appears as though thinking will be a process totally discontinued in this department.

The Student-Faculty Relations committee are to be commended for some action—action which is not necessarily significant to a great extent but which is headed in the right direction. They have presented for the consideration of the student body and faculty the idea of changing the marking system from a numerical to a letter basis. From all indications the thing will be put into effect. But what will the general result of the system be? Good or bad? or insignificant?

There is a decided need for a change in the marking system. In the first place, much less emphasis should be put on marks and more on the progress and initiative of the student. In the second place, learning, and not marks, should be the motive for study. In the third place, there should be a change from the present marking system to get away from the inequalities of marking—there can be no exact valuation of any student in any course. Much of the marking is according to the name, the record of the student in all courses, prejudices formed by first impressions, and various other factors—such as, apparent attitude, application, work or study done, etc.

The question is: what will be the advantage of the new system? Obviously, the one advantage will be easier classification of students by the instructors according to A, B, C, D, E groups. This will eliminate a certain amount of inequality, but, again, not all of it. If there is to be a change, why couldn't that change be more comprehensive, with the objects of the change kept in mind throughout?

Many colleges have adopted a system of pass or flunk, and some have rewarded scholarship with a pass plus grade. Such a system would accomplish most of the objectives of a change. It would be significant and beneficial and more simple.—A. C.

James Long, Kappa Sigma Chi, will not return to school this term, he having accepted a position as customs inspector for the federal government on the Canadian border, where he was employed in a similar capacity last year. He will leave his home at Fargo for Pembina to begin work April 1.

Sigma Chi Chapter To Be Installed Here

Delta Kappa Sigma Group Given Charter

Oldest Local Fraternity On Campus Was Founded March 16, 1922

The installation of the sixth national fraternity on the campus of North Dakota State college will take place, according to tentative arrangements, sometime in the near future when the Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will be formally inducted into Sigma Chi, national social fraternity.

The local fraternal organization, for a period of eight years, has been seeking a charter from Sigma Chi. These nationalization efforts were realized when word sent from the Grand Council to the Delta Kappa Sigma group informed them that they had been granted a Sigma Chi charter.

Delta Kappa Sigma, now the oldest local fraternity on the campus, was founded on March 16, 1922, by eight college students who felt the need of a new fraternal order on the campus.

After having been placed on the preferred list at the Sigma Chi convention last summer in New Orleans, La., the local group continued their nationalization efforts this year which resulted in their admittance. George Legge, University of Illinois, was the student inspector who visited the chapter during the fall. Mr. Frank McDonough, alumni member of Sigma Chi, was the fraternal visitant later in the year.

lar, William Murphy, Frank Nichols, Ernest Percy, William Peterson, Donald Putnam, Wilfred Rommel, Thomas Ryan, David Taylor, and Harlan Winn.

The Sigma Chi fraternity was founded at Miami university at Oxford, Ohio, on June 28, 1855, by seven students of that institution. The name of the fraternity is commonly associated with the term 'Miami Triad' because the Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, and the Phi Delta Theta fraternities were all founded at this institution.

PHYTOIS CLUB HOLDS MEETING ON TUESDAY

Phytois club will hold its regular meeting in Science hall, room 102, on Tuesday, March 27, at 7 o'clock. A short business meeting will be held prior to the program of the evening, at 8 o'clock. The main feature of the evening will be an address by Prof. A. F. Yeager on the subject of "Genetic Factors in Relation to Plants." The meeting beginning at eight will be open to the public. In charge of the meeting will be Thomas King, president.

A very fancy hothouse lamb produced by the Pennsylvania State college agriculturalists has been purchased by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to be served at a dinner in honor of President Roosevelt.

Floating College Visits Sixty Ports

To combine the advantages of study and travel, a floating university will be conducted for the 1934-1935 school year as a part of a world-wide 225-day cruise which will leave New York Oct. 4. Visits on the tour, sponsored by the Holland-American line, will bring the students to sixty ports in thirty-four countries.

Standard courses of university and preparatory grade will be conducted on board ship in connection with directed trips ashore. The faculty will be composed of eminent professors from colleges and universities throughout the United States, and the student body will include undergraduates from all parts of the country. A full year's college credit will be given to students taking the courses and passing the examinations.

To supply an athletic atmosphere, contests in various sports will be scheduled with college teams from Hawaii, China, Japan, and other countries visited.

Christmas vacation period will find the floating university in the East Indies after spending the fall term in the Philippines, Japan, China, and the Straits Settlements. The second semester will find the students touring India, the Mediterranean and Scandinavian countries.

RESPONSE TO PROPOSED MARKING SYSTEM POOR

Little response has been received to questionnaires sent out by the Student-Faculty Relations committee to determine the sentiment of grading, according to Robert Parrott, chairman of the group.

"Unless the student takes an active interest in the matter, little can be accomplished," Mr. Parrott said today.

Student opinion will largely determine whether the present numerical system shall be retained, or whether the suggested system of grading by A, B, C, and D shall be adopted.

The committee will hold another meeting next week in the faculty-alumni rooms in Old Main.

1934 Bison Brevities Reflections

Home talent, gaudy colors, lovely limbs, lively tunes—the 1934 Bison Brevities. Ben Boyden's leg factory—Boyden's Hoydens, not quite maybe, but it rhymes—not a bad looking bunch—Ziegfeld was right about glorifying the American girl—Ben has probably seen so many shapely limbs lately that he doesn't give them a bare thought—we still think that's a lot of hoosey about sin and vice being heaped in abundance at the American stage door—woman's place is on the stage—see Lois Rudrud dance and be convinced—she has rhythm in her soul. The devastating magnetism of Virginia Landbloom's walk—looks, like an imitation of Mae West imitating Lady MacBeth in the sleep-walking scene—and then, "me thought I heard a voice cry "Sleep no more! Spaulding does murder sleep."—our dapper young director keeps them on their toes, and up half the night—even the Bristols get harsh words at times. Brute Deering wasting his time on "Good News"—should be featured in "King of the Jungle," or "Battle of the Giants"—whata-man—unspoiled by the taint of civilization. In contrast, Marm Houglum, the show's Adonis—what a Beau Brummel for a freshman—wait until he grows up—his love scenes both on and off stage are good—why shouldn't they be?—Erls is noted for a distinguished physiognomy mounted on a distinctive chassis—she "moves like a goddess and looks like a queen"—well, she was queen once—which all goes to show that romance comes to blondes that march along with Marchand's. Pardon us, for overworking that point, Erls. Which brings us to that Sanders boy, who slaps a lot of elephants' tusks on the sidelines—he must be shifty, managing the show and going with a girl at the same time—he's fighting an uphill battle. No hard feelings folks, we've got to do a little heckling once in a while. Chet Comeau, all alone in the Bison Brevities office, doing a nice bit of work on stage design—why don't you Comeau some time? Miss Plaggmeir refusing to do a Fran dance. Debby Sudro and Shifty Sheffield acting kiddishly at frequent intervals off-stage—Lucille Iverson, our dynamic Girl of the Golden West, recently on Rorick's Red Flannel hour, singing bass—Hamlet, of the scintillating stumps, with Deering, p'ying soldier at the home of a Brevities miss with soulful eyes—being interrupted by the male parent of said miss as Hamlet started to open fire on Deering, entrenched under the rug—very embarrassing. James Baccus, giving the stage-door barnacles something to talk about, with his remarkable mimicry of Ned Sparks—Tubby Nichols and two other campus Georges doing a creditable job of acting as drunks—yeshir, thash my pint, and I'll stick to it. John Gabe and James Golsch talking big business, very, very confidentially. The miniature menagerie over in the Brevities headquarters—monkeys and mice—just a couple more animals and they can call it a stock company—they can anyhow, because the cast works like horses—they should add a cow to the show to advertise the ag school, but then she'd probably make a bull of the whole thing. Let's listen to the dance director a few minutes:

"Aw right, girls, let's go! Form a line. Now spread out a little. Legs together. Hold it. O. K. We'll take that Varsity Drag routine once without the music. Ready! 1-2, 1-2-3. Now pick it up. Wait a minute. Break it up. You can't, drag the Varsity Drag. Let's see those arms going; get that collegiate swing, and remember that smile. I want to see those heads tilted right. O. K. Music, Frank!"

And we'll cut in on the last minute of a "fight talk" by one of the directors: "—now I realize that we're all amateurs, but this show's got to have a professional touch. We're going out on the road and the people are expecting something big—we've got to give it to them! You're going to have to make sacrifices—plenty of them. We're going to have to drive, drive, drive, from here on in. And I think we're going to have a lot of fun doing it, if everyone has the right spirit. The show must be a succession of details, skillfully executed—and until we've mastered those details, there'll be no let up. Are you with me? O. K. Tomorrow at 7:30—we're going to practice late." That's the spirit of the 1934 edition of the Bison Brevities. Guess that's enough "Good News" for one issue. We've shown you everything but the inside of the girls' dressing room. Our advice is: YOU BETTER SHUFFLE OFF TO THE BUFFALO BREVITIES ON APRIL 5 OR 6!

Theater Program Honors Playwright

Commemorating the birthday of Henrik Ibsen, Norwegian playwright, the Little Country theater Tuesday evening presented a program, "An Evening in the Land of the Midnight Sun." This presentation is an annual feature of the activities of the theater. Included among the exhibits were handiwork and relics from Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, and Greenland. A special feature of the program was an illustrated lecture on "De Sandvigskesamlinger," a folk museum at Lillehammer, Norway, by Edward Mahlum, Ferguson Falls, Minn., senior in architecture. The Orpheus male chorus of Fargo, member of the Norwegian Singers' Association of America which will entertain the twenty-first biennial international Sangerfest in Fargo next June, conducted its rehearsal as part of the program.

ALBA BALES ATTENDS MINNEAPOLIS PARLEY

Discussion of social and economic problems of the day with special emphasis on adult education will be included in the program. Miss Bales will act as hostess at one of the convention dinners.

Woman is the stronger sex, Mary Sydney Branch, of Western college, claims in a recent book published by the University of Chicago press.

AMPHION CHORUS

Amphion Chorus Featured Today At Convocation

The Amphion chorus, a male group of one hundred voices from Fargo and Moorhead, was featured at convocation at 9:40 in Festival hall this morning under the direction of Daniel L. Preston of Moorhead State Teachers college.

Five years ago non-existent, and three years ago little known, the chorus today is lauded as a brilliant musical organization. After hearing a recent performance of the group, William MacPhail of the MacPhail School of Music in Minneapolis stated, "Beautiful quality of tone, splendid balance and remarkable precision of rhythm and phrasing were my impressions. So fine a chorus is a tribute to the musical talent of both conductor and members."

The chorus presented a varied program consisting of songs of sacred, secular, and nationalistic character. Special numbers were "Glory" by Cadman, and "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan.

Frances Perkins, secretary of labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet, was known as Fanny Cora Perkins when she was a member of the Mount Holyoke college class of 1902.

SOUTH AMERICAN FIRM BUYS COLLEGE HOLSTEIN

The dairy husbandry department at North Dakota State college has sold a Holstein bull calf to Vale and Atencio, proprietors of a Venezuela stock company.

Atencio, who has been taking correspondence courses at the college, insisted on the purchase of the bull from the college herd rather than from herds located in the southern states because of his confidence in the local institution. The calf will be shipped to Venezuela in May via New York City.

A recent report submitted in protest by Wisconsin teachers states that the state charwomen are paid a higher wage than teachers.

At The Theaters

FARGO

Ann Harding's outstanding success of the year comes to the Fargo theater Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday in "Gallant Lady," in which she stars with Clive Brook, Otto Kruger, and Dickie Moore in a poignant tale of mother love.

Showing on Wednesday and Thursday will be "The House On 56th Street" in which fans will be privileged to see some of their most favorite actors in Gene Raymond, Ricardo Cortez, and Kay Francis. The scene is laid in the New York City of the early 1900's.

John Barrymore and Bebe Daniels will appear next Friday and Saturday in "Counsellor at Law".

STATE

Among the specially outstanding plays of the year is "By Candlelight", a gay, clever, brilliant comedy of Continent nobility, which features Elissa Landi opposite Paul Lukas. The play, coming to the State theater next Wednesday and Thursday, includes in the cast such stars as Nils Asther, Esther Ralston, Lawrence Grant, and Dorothy Revier.

Because it is spring, when eyes turn to beauty and mind to admiration of physique, the State has chosen a fitting picture. "Search for Beauty", in which thirty youths from all parts of the world chosen for their physique and beauty, participate, is showing tomorrow and Saturday.

"Heat Lightning", former stage hit that deals with the demoralizing effect of the heat, monotony and loneliness of the desert, is booked for the State Monday and Tuesday. In the cast are Ann Dvorak, Aline McMahon, Preston Foster, Glenda Farrell, and Lyle Talbot.

ROXY

The age-old issue of what young girls should know is revealed in "What Price Innocence", now showing at the Roxy theater. Jean Parker and Mina Gombell star in this picture in which modern youth has its fling with the conventional consequences.

"The Secret of the Blue Room", showing next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at the Roxy theater, takes place in an old castle in which a certain room spells death to whoever sleeps in it. Gloria Stuart and Paul Lukas star in this picture.

LARIMORE SQUAD WINS IN GAME AT COLLEGE

Larimore high school eliminated Fairmount high school, last year's class B state titlists, 16-14 in a spirited game at the Field house last Monday night. By its victory the winners earned the right to enter the state B event at Valley City this weekend.

Fairmount led throughout the first three periods, but a concentrated scoring spree led by Lee, midget forward, netted a win for Larimore.

Suits and Topcoats—new and different in every respect. New styles, new patterns, new weaves. For instance take a new Bi-Swing suit; you'll be astonished at the way they look—so neat and smart, and above all so comfortable. Below pleats, pinch backs, belts, and patterns that make your eyes jump, — faint overplaid and checks seem to prevail, however. They meet the demands of the college man—a suit that is really smart appearing, practical, and yet marks itself as leaders in campus styles. Take time off and look them over.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

The college sport situation has suffered a slump, now that the football and basketball seasons are at an end.

However, the intramural basketball tourney still continues, as well as the faculty men's volleyball—and we have interfraternity baseball competition coming up, and track, and tennis, and golf, with the advent of spring.

A few of our varsity and freshman basketball men are playing with teams in the annual Fargo city tournament, now under way.

Russ Anderson and Curt Denny are with the St. Anthony team; Bob Saunders, Wendell Kielty, and Arnie Mickelson with 706 Service; Stan Maynard, Don Lindemann, and Carson Noecker with the Delta Tau Epsilon team; Lyle Stinson with the Dawson Insurance; and Acey Olson and Barney Bernard with the Alpha Tau Omega outfit.

All of these men are heavy contributors to the scoring columns in these tournament games.

Excitement concerning the intramural basketball situation has died down with the narrowing of the possible championship field to two teams.

We hope it will be possible to get the campus tennis courts in shape when spring arrives for certain.

We suggest, if such provision has not already been made, that student FERA work be taken advantage of in this matter. There are certainly enough tennis players on the campus to make this a very much worthwhile project.

On the subjects of spring football practice and track Casey Finnegan still remains silent, but we'll be hearing of it very soon.

Last line: Spring is surely here, with the campus green being already used as a combination baseball field and golf course.

State Rifle Team Wins Area Match

The North Dakota State college rifle team won first place in the 7th Corps Area tryout for the National Intercollegiate rifle match. In defeating such schools as the University of Minnesota and the University of Iowa, the team has distinguished itself greatly, having proven both its own ability and that of the instructors.

A silver cup, which has been won by various schools since 1922, is now in the possession of the Bison team. In addition, the following ten members of the team will receive individual medals: Gordon Baird, Edward Ballard, Leonard Moffitt, William Offebro, John Porter, Hubert Smith, Albert Ruummele, Anthony Welker, Karl Kaess, and Ellis Thompson. Others who placed among the high ten in various stages of the match are: George Friese, Roy Peterson, Sidney Shannon, Frank Sorenson, Le Mar Isak, Grant Pratt, and Oscar Gilbertson.

Eleven Athletes Awarded Bison Varsity Letters

Basketball Team Members To Be Presented With Jerseys, Numerals

Eleven men will be awarded varsity letters and sweaters and nine freshmen will receive jerseys and numerals, according to a recent bulletin dispatched from the offices of the Bison athletic department.

The varsity squad captured second place in the conference race with a starting lineup composed entirely of sophomores and juniors. The freshmen broke even in their series with the N. D. U. Papposes.

Varsity men to receive letters and sweaters are Wilbur Marquardt, Charles Olson, Russell Anderson, Lyle Stinson, Arnold Mickelson, Curtis Denny, Arnold Bernard, Stanley Maynard, Carson Noecker, Neville Reiners and Don Bettschen.

Freshmen to receive numerals and jerseys are Robert Saunders, Wendell Kielty, Don Lindeman, Forrest Stevens, Robert Erickson, Lester Dohn, James Warner, Ernest Percy and Lawrence Barry.

YMCA, Theta Chis Favored Quints In Campus Tilts

With play in the intra-mural league to be completed next week, the YMCA and Theta Chis, last year's finalists, loom as favorites to meet in the impending three-game series which will name the campus basketball champions for this season. Each team leads its respective bracket, having lost only one game each during the season's play thus far.

Eleven games in the second round of competition remain to be played off before the principals in the championship series will be definitely decided. These games, as well as the series, are scheduled for next week, according to Beryl Newman, who has directed the intra-mural event this season.

Of the league leaders, the Theta Chis have the tougher job mapped out for them before they can clinch their bracket title. They have three games of the regular schedule to finish, two of them with the powerful Delta Sigs and the ATOs. One loss by the Theta Chis would throw the pennant chase into a muddle of ties. The YMCA find the cellar custodians of that league, the Kappa Psi, their lone remaining barrier to undisputed leadership in their division.

The Theta Chis defeated the YMCA for the campus championship last year, winning two games out of the three-game series.

A course in aeronautics will be offered at the University of Kentucky as a CWA project.

Bob Lowe in his first year as Bison basketball mentor piloted an inexperienced quint composed of sophomores and juniors to the runner-up position in the North Central conference. Bob is also line coach for State's gridiron representatives.

Saint Anthony Quint Enters City Finals

Paced by Russ (Swede) Anderson and Curt Denny, Bison varsity regulars, the Saint Anthony Men's club emerged 37-29 victors last night in a game with the Delta Tau Epsilon five to enter the finals in the city basketball tournament, sponsored by the downtown YMCA. They will meet the All-Stars, Concordia College stars who emerged 21-20 victors over Martinson's, last year's champions in the other semifinal tilt, for the city title tonight. Players in the tournament include the classiest college and former college players in the two cities.

Anderson scored six field goals and four free throws to lead the Saint Anthony scorers, while Denny counted two baskets and four gift shots to rank next among the scorers. Lyle Rasmusson is also a regular on this five. Don Lindeman and John Eisenhardt, with three baskets each led the fraternal team in scoring. Other members of this outfit were Carmen Hunt, Glenn Vantine, Carson Noecker, Stan Maynard, Harold Albrecht, and Albert Elliott.

The strong ATOs were eliminated by Martinson's champions 28-23 in a hard fought opening round game. Acey Olson and Arne Bernard led the losers in their scoring. Their teammates included Dave Casselman, Emmet O'Day, Bob Erickson, Bill Gallagher, Erling Schranz, and Art Habner.

Bucking horses and wild steers have been substituted for football games at Cheyenne school, for the superintendent considers these rodeo sports less dangerous.

Bison Athletic Teams Establish Enviably Record

By WALT McGRATH

Relying almost entirely upon sophomores and juniors, North Dakota State college athletic teams have set up enviable records so far this year. The Bison rampaged the football fields to wind up in second place in that sport, while the Herd basketballers landed in the runnerup position in the conference basketball scramble.

Much credit is rightfully being given to Casey Finnegan and Bob Lowe, who have maintained the high standard of North Dakota State teams although seriously handicapped by lack of funds. These two men had enough foresight to develop the sophomore and junior material, and as a result prospects for next season in these two sports are exceptionally bright.

Only three men will be lost to the football squad next fall through graduation, all of them being linemen. They are Captain Roman Meyers, all-conference tackle. Harold Miller, guard, and Buff Thompson, center. While these three men will be hard to replace, the high calibre of the reserves available for these positions should not appreciably lower the effectiveness of the gridiron machine. The entire Herd backfield of last season, including some of the best ball toters in the league, will return for next season's competition and should guarantee State a powerful offensive eleven. The traditions of a strong defensive club should be fulfilled when Bob Lowe begins to develop some of his fine reserve material for the line.

In basketball Bob Lowe, in his first season as basketball mentor took a comparatively green team and jockeyed them into a position second only to that of the champion veteran quint coached by Clem Lettich of NDU. At the start of the year he was faced with the task of molding an entirely new team, with only one regular as a nucleus. When the conference battle was over, the Bison displayed a smooth if somewhat erratic basketball quint with a high-powered scoring attack and one of the best defensive departments in the league. Only one letterman graduates, this being Arnold Mickelson, reserve guard.

The coming year promises to be one of the most fruitful, in Bison athletic history. Both Finnegan and Lowe, usually pessimistic, have lost their reticence about predicting victories and are anticipating a fruitful campaign for the coming Bison athletic representatives.

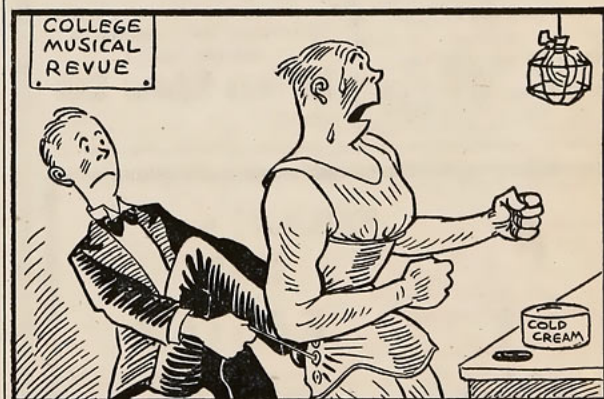

ELEVEN HOCKEY MEN AWARDED GOLD KEYS

In recognition of the stellar work they performed in the inter-city hockey league, eleven men will be awarded gold keys, according to Casey Finnegan, Bison athletic director.

North Dakota Land Will Be Purchased For Game Refuges

Acquisition of 325,000 acres of submarginal lands in seven states is planned to aid wild-life restoration using Federal Surplus Relief Corporation funds up to a maximum of $25,000,000, according to the report of President Roosevelt's committee on wildlife restoration.

Purchases are recommended under the plan of the administration to acquire and divert 50,000,000 acres of low-priced or tax-reverted submarginal lands to uses of more economic importance to the country.

The seven states where initial purchases will be made are North Dakota, Oregon, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, and Wyoming. An entirely new set-up of federal agencies to coordinate all wild-life conservation activities is proposed by the presidents committee.

Quantity Cookery Course Presented

Under the direction of Miss Elvira Smith, professor of home economics, thirteen junior and senior students were enrolled in a quantity cookery course last term. The class is provided to give training in the problems of institutional management.

The course, primarily intended to furnish information on preparation and planning meals for large numbers, consisted of inspection trips to hospital, hotel, and tea room kitchens and preparation and serving of a series of luncheons at a nominal cost twice a week.

Groups, rotated so that each might have different practice, have the special work of management, meal planning, publicity and hostess, and marketing to perform. All food is prepared and served by the students and during the last term an average of 45 people were served at each of the twelve luncheons.

A complete record of percentage lost in food, methods of preparation, number of servings, food value, both of the large quantity and the individual serving, and the total and per person cost of each serving was kept.

Ten students are registered for the spring term class.

THE SHOW, FOLKS!

Oh yes, and the artistic and social success of this season will be the Auto Show!!

The program for the evening is to be varied and interesting. A fiddler contest (surely a drawing note) will be held. (May we mention that these musicians and Mr. Fritz Kreisler all play the violin?)

Numbers by diverse groups will also be presented—abstract prizes probably going to members of the Bison Brevities cast. The attention of critics will be especially called to the gracefully executed dancing acts.

And one can never tell when impromptu stunts will be given—such as the Old Gold blindfold test, any student being eligible to do the coughing for this performance; or maybe a girls' wrestling match!!!

The remainder of the evening will be given over to displays and style shows. A good time is contemplated by all, no foolin'.

Approximately fifty students have signed up for a course in socialism and social reform, which was instituted on the behalf of petitioners to take the place of labor problems.

Arthur Christensen, Fargo, sophomore in the school of science and literature, sustained a broken ankle the day after exams began when he fell upon some slippery ice. However, he recovered sufficiently during spring vacation to return to school on crutches to resume his work this term.

Huntley M. Sinclair, Washington university professor, has resigned his position so that he may return to Canada to run for a seat in the Canadian parliament.

ACTION is the theme of these grand, youthful suits. They're styled to lead a sports life, and you'll be fascinated by their tweed, ribbed, and mossy weaves. We excel in suit styles this spring, because we know they'll carry almost all your fashion interest all season! Choose navy, or beige or any sunny pastel.

Yearbook Requests Activities Cards

The staff of the Bison yearbook urge that those who have not yet turned in their activity cards do so at once. It is necessary that this business be cleared up within the coming week. The staff is putting much time and trouble in making this year's annual outstanding and it is expected that the student body will co-operate.

It is planned that the athletics section of the magazine be divided into four parts with full page pencil sketches of Coach Lowe, Coach Finnegan, and the two captains-elect separating them.
