Club Presents Twelfth Annual Livestock Show

Fraternity Representatives Will Compete In Greased Pig Contest

WALES MANAGES EVENT

Little International Presents Coed Milking Contest On Program

The twelfth edition of the Little International Livestock show, North Dakota State college livestock showmanship event for agriculture students, will be held at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 18, in the college livestock pavilion, according to Harold Wales, manager of the event. The exposition, a replica of the International Livestock show at Chicago, is sponsored by the Saddle and Sirlain club.

Novel side attractions billed for the show, which is primarily a student showmanship event, are a coed milking contest with representatives from each sorority, a greased pig contest with contenders from each fraternity, and a unique polo game between teams of two service clubs. The latter two are new features this year.

Representing the various sororities in and other awards in the coed milking contest are: Kappa Delta, Grace South; Alpha Gamma Delta, Mary Murphy; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Harriet Colburn; Phi Mu, Helen Keogh; Phi Omega Psi, Ruth Foote; Gamma Phi Beta, Margrethe Tronnes. Last year's winner was Ruth Olson, Alpha Gamma Delta.

In the greased pig competition the following fraternities and campus groups will be represented: Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Epsilon, Kappa Psi, Kappa Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Delta, Theta Chi, Alpha Gamma Rho and Cosmopolitan club.

A feature of the banquet sponsored by the Saddle and Sirlain club and the North Dakota Livestock Breeders association held the noon of the same day will be the hanging of the picture of some prominent state livestock breeder in the Saddle and Sirlain club rooms.

Farmers, Homemakers Week To Open Tuesday

College Sponsors 35th Annual Agricultural Program Jan. 16, 17, 18

The 35th Annual Farmers and Homemakers Week, sponsored by the North Dakota State college, will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 16, 17, 18. The program will cover a variety of up-to-the-minute subjects, emphasizing a thorough discussion by authorities on the new deal in agriculture. An excellent chance for questioning will be offered to all interested.

The first day, Jan. 16, is Neighborhood day. Beginning at three o'clock will be a series of programs, each featuring the local talent of some community. Additional entertainment will be furnished by the Little Country theater organization, under the direction of A. G. Arvold.

The second day will include a discussion of the proposed revision of federal grain standards, by W. P. Carroll, of the U. S. department of agriculture; the grasshopper situation, by F. D. Butcher, State college entomologist; opportunity in acres withdrawn from wheat, by Dean H. L. Walster; a talk on farm credit, by W. A. Cleveland of the Federal Land bank of St. Paul; and bee management and control, by J. A. Munro, head of the department of entomology.

Thursday there will be talks by Dean Walster, Dr. H. C. Hanson, Eugene Merritt, W. E. Brentzel, and C. E. Kellogg, of the State college staff. During the noon hour there will be a banquet under the supervision of the N. D. Livestock Breeders and the college Saddle and Sirlain club. Some outstanding North Dakota farmer will be honored at this time.

Lieutenant-colonel Hartley Eckstrom now has the rank of colonel; Major James Coleman, lieutenant-colonel; Captain Vincent Buck, major; and First Lieutenants James Eastgate and Arthur Habener, captains.

In line with these promotions, Colonel Eckstrom will be battalion commander and Lieutenant-colonel Coleman executive officer of the battalion; Major Buck will fill the post of battalion adjutant, while Captains Eastgate and Habener will each have command of a platoon.

YMCA Host Tuesday To Freshman Boys

Freshman boys are to be entertained Tuesday evening, Jan. 16, at a smoker being sponsored by the YMCA cabinet and held in the campus YMCA building. The evening's entertainment is to consist of card playing, sleight-of-hand tricks, and comedy features. To conclude the night's festivities, refreshments of apples and cider will be served to the guests. This program to be participated in by all is the cabinet's guarantee of a very enjoyable evening. Harry Hanson and Robert Lacy are in charge of the arrangements and the program.

Earl Hodgson, business manager of The Spectrum, 1930-31, has announced his marriage to Miss Ardis Millar. The newlyweds will make their home at Cavalier where Mr. Hodgson has his headquarters as acting county agent of Pembina county.

Something new in social events at North Dakota State college will occur tomorrow evening when the Art club and the Atelier Chat Noir, college architectural organization, co-operate in presenting a Beaux Art Ball in Festival hall.

William Akeley, of Atelier Chat Noir, and Amy Glaser, social chairman of the Art club, will lead the grand march. Charlotte Treat will be the guest of Mr. Akeley and Donald McNaughton will be Miss Glaser's guest. The second couples in line will be Edward Mahlum and Helen Fredrikson, and Irene Gast and Lloyd Hanson. Robert Landbloom and Marion Brainerd, and Marion Van Vorst and Clarence Olson will be the third couples in line.

A Moroccan street scene will be the setting for the affair; everyone is required to come in costume and masked. Festivities will open at 9 o'clock with a grand march, taking the form of a caravan down the street of the Moroccan village, at which time the best-dressed couple will be chosen to reign as sheik and sheba during the evening. Immediately after the selection of the sheik and sheba a pageant will be presented at their command. Prior to the selection of sheik and sheba, the fiftieth couple inside the door will act in their place.

Scenery typical of a Moroccan village has been prepared by the art and architectural students and will make this one of the most unique and elaborate social affairs to be presented here. Details of the ball will be broadcast from Festival hall through WDAY from 9:30 to 10.

Guests will be Pres. and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Gov. and Mrs. William Langer, Dean Pearl Dinan, Prof. and Mrs. Rudolph Otterson, Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Munro, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Arvold. Faculty sponsors who will be present are Prof. Homer B. Huntoon, Mr. G. H. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Henning, and Miss Dorothy Hatch.

Coeds Receive Commissions At Military Ball

FEATURES ARE PLANNED

They will be awarded the commissions by Dr. J. H. Shepperd during the course of the Military ball, to be held Friday, Jan. 26, in the Field house.

According to Hartley Eckstrom and Vincent Buck, managers of the ball, plans for features and decorations are complete. These will not be revealed until the evening of the affair.

Tickets have been placed on sale during the week by the various members of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military organization sponsoring the event. There is a representative in every fraternity house.

The Military ball opens the college formal social season. Jack Mills' orchestra from Sioux City, Iowa, will furnish the music, bringing with them an especial amplification system. Dancing hours will be from 9 to one o'clock.

Assisting Mr. Eckstrom and Mr. Buck as managers of the affair are John Gabe, Maitland Wyard, Robert Thompson, Boniface Horgan, Harry Hanson, Otto Woodward, William Thies, and Jordan Engberg.

Cosmopolitans Join Independent League

Affiliation Of Campus Group Forms First All-State Non-Greek Union

With the acceptance of the North Dakota Independent Student league recognition pin by the local Cosmopolitan club Monday night, the first all-state affiliation of non-fraternity men and women in the history of North Dakota was formed.

Members of the Independent Student league on the North Dakota university campus and of the Cosmopolitan club on this campus are sponsoring the distribution of recognition pins. Any student who is not a member of a Greek letter group is eligible to wear the friendship symbol. All the state teachers' colleges are privileged to affiliate as soon as appropriate organization can be formed on the various campuses.

The action was taken upon a report made by Lawrence Bue on the activities of the University group in securing the pin. Plans for this action were first instigated when a delegation from the University, led by Robert Buttz, conferred with officers of the local organization early in the fall term.

The league plans to have no formal constitution but to merely represent a friendship between students facing the same problems on the various campuses in the state. Students are to be represented by a club on the campus to which they may or may not belong. The pin is the only formal tie.

Reports Made At Pi Gamma Mu Meeting

Reports, covering trends in economic organization, were given when Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science group, met last night in the faculty-alumni rooms in Old Main. National resources other than land, was the report given by William Heller; Land as a national resource, by Don Fredrikson; Communication, by Jack Vincent; Economic organizations, by E. W. Pettee; and Inventions, by Clifford Maloney.

Following the reports, general discussion was led by Milton Holtmeier, chairman of the meeting.

HELLO, MR. SHAKESPEARE

Waste no more time brooding over Greta Garbo and John Gilbert. We now have in our midst the real satellites of tomorrow's stage and screen. If you don't believe me see "The Servant in the House."

Rigorous practices are now well under way on the great Edwin Booth Dramatic club epic. There's also a motive—it will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Little Country theater, Feb. 10, 11 and 12. Compared to this Thespian masterpiece, Flo Ziegfeld's productions would look like a Sunday school cantata. No, Yorick, that is not Mary Pickford, but Alice Bender, director, and yon swash-buckling cavalier is none other than Frederick Martin.

Several stars are commercializing their art. In between times aesthetic dancing is being taught by Carol Ladwig, who says in her endorsement of the course: "I am now able to pass to and from Old Main without tripping over Bingo, the great iron door mat."

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE AND NOW'S THE TIME—DON'T MISS "THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE" COMING SOON AT YOUR FAVORITE THEATER!

All star cast including: James Ponsonby Makeshifte, D. D. —Gerald Stevens
The Reverend William Smythe —Horace Spaulding
Auntie, the Vicar's Wife —Celeste Sowka
Mary, Their Niece—Carol Ladwig
Mr. Robert Smith—Frederick Martin
Rogers, a page boy—Robert Benton
Manson, a butler—Norin Johnson

Tentative dates for the production are set for April 4 and 5. As in former times, there will be two evening performances and a high school matinee.

The new members of the band are Roger Berthoff, Doyon Pollock, George Collings and Wallace Wildfield, clarinet; and Loren Odell, flute.

The band will resume its broadcast this afternoon over WDAY from Festival hall at 5 o'clock, after having missed four weeks because of Christmas vacation.

TO THE GRIPERS

The students on this campus are extremely apathetic, although they, perhaps, think the attitude they assume is base and sophisticated. No matter what an activity wants to be, this "laissez-faire" reception soon kills it.

The same people who refuse to enthuse over any activity criticize those who do. Pass a group of them and one can almost hear the tearing sound as campus reputations are shredded. And the criticisms are not only unjust, but to a great extent are based entirely on fictitious information.

Do the football players have a sinure? You try having your face rubbed in the dirt two hours a day every afternoon of the week!

The participants in the Bison Brevities have no soft snap, either. They work for six long weeks—without monetary compensation—before the final stage.

The heads of The Bison yearbook staff spent a busy Christmas holiday in their office in Science hall preparing the college annual for publication. Planning attractive features, securing pictures and cuts, scouting for advertising, writing necessary material, and like tasks keep them indoors when the less ambitious students are indulging in recreation.

So don't pan your college, its activities, or those who participate in its activities. The few who make anything earn the pittance they receive over and over. The next time you are asked to contribute in some manner to some campus extra-curricular work, be quick to cooperate, and show a little appreciation and enthusiasm for what the others are doing.

AN INCREASE IN CULTURE

The past fifteen years have seen a phenomenal increase in culture on the part of the American people. We are fast approaching a civilization in this country that will far exceed any previous civilization of the world.

Fifteen years ago, most people were content with a grammar or high school education. Now it is very unusual indeed to be without a high school diploma, and one is not considered at all well-educated unless he likewise has a college diploma.

With an increased interest in higher education has come a more widespread reading of newspapers and periodicals. A more intelligent American public is taking more interest in affairs of a cultural as well as of a political nature.

Undoubtedly the radio has been one of the big contributing factors in this rapid rise in culture. The finest talent of the land in dramatics, in music, in oratory, in literature, is made available to any home by a simple twist of a dial. The radio lifts the average person out of his own community and makes him more cosmopolitan, wider-minded, and understanding.

The American people are coming to realize what appreciation of the finer arts means, what enjoyment can be derived from it. We believe that through this widespread culture, they will be able to more intelligently solve their problems and at the same time increase the extent of their participation in the joys of life.

All fraternity and non-fraternity men are urged to try out for the parts of Tom and the coach, roles in the Bison Brevities.

Dean A. E. Minard of the school of science is in St. Louis, Mo., where he was called due to the serious illness of his son, Edwin.

Roderick Red Flannel Broadcast Presents Sizzling Bison Program

Roderick's Red Flannel Undies are on the air! To the tune of "Wrapped in cellophane—delivered fresh at your door—look for the date on the can," Hank and Morrie Olson, alumni of this institution, introduced the first program from station NDSC at convocation on Wednesday.

Hank and Morrie, now popular playwrights and composers in Chicago, brought a galaxy of famous names as drawing cards for The Bison-sponsored program. And not once did they mention that all students should buy their cuts for the yearbook before Feb. 1, 1934.

"Mae West" Nichols, the girl who climbed the ladder of success "wrong by wrong," explained that her motto was "It's a great life if you don't weaken," and entertained with a song. Johnny "Admiral Byrd" Hamlet used song, dance and skit for the amusement of the audience. Lucille "Mrs. E. Fitzlucely Anyhue" Iverson panicked the house with her imitation of a club-woman giving a speech.

On the "March of Time" program a close-up was given of the recent conference between Rudy "Mussolini" Hehr and Ben "Hitler" Boyden: Viva Swastika, black shirts and no shirts; Mannie "Dr. McGorcknuckit" Smith, Harry "Shotgun Skelly" Arneson, Ken "Shyster Lawyer" Hamry, Tony "Reporter" Boleyn, and Gordon "Bouncer" Heller featured in several skits.

Have you heard any "weedy-wo" ing lately? You owe your thanks to Hank Olson. More music? The Moron "Plaggmeier-Hill-Brainerd" Sisters and Frankie "Boy Atswell" Sanders offered other selections.

Our thanks to Morrie "Chris Columbus" and Hank "Qu-ing Ferd-abella" Olson for presenting this broadcast, and thanks to The Bison for sponsoring it!

There has been a large investment made in equipping this rifle range in order that the few men interested on this campus will be able to say they can at least fire a rifle somewhat near the right manner. Riflery is probably the cleanest and fairest sport that there is in the field of college athletics, and yet the competition that may be developed is just as keen as that of any major sport.

Fargo business men who have participated in the local civilian rifle team and who have had an opportunity to fire on this range agree that it is a fine thing to have on our campus. They have nothing but words of praise for the military department at this school that has worked hard enough to get this range.

So when one is surveying the sport situation at the end of each year he should not forget to consider the North Dakota State college rifle team, which every year wins enough trophies to equal that of any major sport on the campus.

—D. F.

MORE LIKE 'EM

I wouldn't pan the entertainment offered the students on this campus as I can remember such enjoyable features as Tony Sarg's marionettes, Maulana Shaukat Ali, Hall Johnson's Negro choir, the Don Cossack chorus, Montana Congresswoman Rankin, and others.

However, more convocations of the type offered last Wednesday would be a desirable addition to the amusements offered the college men and women. The attendance alone bears my statement out, and the enthusiastic reception of every effort certainly demonstrates the program's popularity.

Might I suggest, therefore that more student groups follow the initiative of The Bison staff and sponsor similar convocations? Greater interest and larger attendances at convocation should result.—F. N.

The Marquette university football squad included 21 Milwaukee youths.

Student Opinion....

PARKING ANGLES

Did you ever come very close to losing the seat of your trousers at noon when some hungry student sped by you at close quarters in front of Science hall? It's a great feeling and is certain to keep you from growing too old. The new system of parking in effect around the campus is "The Single System." First you single out a spot and then you proceed to park there, wherever it may chance to be. If there is already a car there, never mind, just park along side of it and go to class and forget all about it. (All drivers are asked to set their brakes to aid the driver whose car is wedged in).

Another thing we ask is that you never sound your horn because it spoils your chance of hitting whoever is crossing the road. Also horns are apt to arouse students who are catching up on last night's lost sleep. Blowing the horn is apt to run down your battery and you know how hard it is to start a car with a weak battery. When you see one of your friends, stop right in the middle of the drive and talk to him. Otherwise he might think you are snobbish. Also, as you stand parked there, somebody might run into you, and you can sue for a new car and maybe your accident insurance. Big possibilities for the up-and-running student!

It is a great life. When your instructors get through running you down, somebody tries it in a nice shiny automobile. The fortunate possessors of new cars have the best chance of getting the most knockdowns, because they have the best pickup and the most promising looks to the poor fellow whose shoes are worn out so he stands on his own feet. To finish, let's hope for more congested parking and more accidents.—D. J.

PACIFICISM?

At our convocation last Thursday, we were privileged to hear a very extraordinary person, the first woman elected to Congress. In spite of the fact she made an unusual and sensational speech, it seems that this admirable speaker sacrificed accurateness to present a sensational speech.

Judging from our good friend's reference to smoke screens, she undoubtedly has never seen one and has evidently never heard of the radio, direction finder, or battle formation. Maybe, in time of war, our battleships roam individually, at will, all over the ocean? As for her reference to a soldier's ten-day training in time of war, most of us who have handled a rifle will agree that as college men (supposedly with above the average intelligence) at the end of an entire year's training, would hesitate to say that we have enough training for war. If, in executing our so-called "flopping on the stomach," we still get cut up and injured with not an enemy in sight, maybe, with a few bullets passing over head and on all sides, we would be more graceful as to how we hit the ground? As to Miss Rankin's reference to "pop-guns," maybe shooting just ten shots with an army rifle or one day in a rifle pit would change her conception of the word "pop".

During the last year the United States spent the tremendous sum of $1,-

Roxy

Through the remainder of this week "The Half-Naked Truth" starring vivacious Lupe Velez and wise-cracking Lee Tracy will show at the Roxy theater. How a carnival dancer, portrayed by Miss Velez, made Broadway is the story element in this production.

Another picture featuring Lupe Velez is coming to the Roxy theater next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. "Hot Pepper", also starring Edmund Lowe, Victor McLagen, and El Brendel is the title of this sparkling comedy which offers theatergoers the wisecracking that one might expect from this brilliant array of comedy stars.

FORMER SPECTRUM STAFF MEMBER GETS OHIO JOB

Charles French, former associate editor of The Spectrum and otherwise active in local campus activities, has taken a position with the Toledo Blade at Toledo, Ohio. He will work in the editorial department of that publication. When he attended North Dakota State college, Mr. French, in addition to his journalistic activities, was secretary of Delta Kappa Sigma, belonged to Gamma Tau Sigma, was vice president of the Newman club, and belonged to the Little Country theater players group. He graduated from the school of education here last June.

Olive Maloney, May Horner and Phyllis Coyne were hostesses at the last YWCA Blue Monday tea. Lennea Frisk and Barbara Bibow will serve next Monday.

Detroit University has an enrollment of 77 men and 3543 women.

English Fraternity Adds New Members

Prospective members for Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English society, will be voted on Sunday, Jan. 14, at a meeting to be held in the YMCA building, according to Ruth Clausen, president of the local chapter.

In charge of refreshments and plans for this meeting are Ruth Westergaard and Ellen Blair. Original works of the members, to be read and discussed at this time, are to be considered for the first issue of The Collegian, a new magazine to be contributed to by Moorhead State Teacher college, Concordia college, and North Dakota State college students.

A new system of debating at Georgia Tech, that of open forum discussions, has heightened interest in debating and increased attendance at debates.

NOTICE
Glee club practice for the Bison Brewities will be held every Tuesday and Thursday.

Collegian To Accept Variety Of Writings

Students are being encouraged to hand in original manuscripts for the March issue of The Collegian, Fargo-Moorhead student publication, which will appear Feb. 15. At a staff meeting held Wednesday it was decided that besides informal and formal essays, poetry, short stories, plays (one or three act), and novels, any technical articles, written in popular style, may be handed in.

"The Collegian is to be representative of college effort and ability," says Ruth Clausen, associate editor on the North Dakota State college campus. "The material should be typed but may be written in longhand, if it is legible. With the manuscript should be given the author's name, address, telephone number, college, and classification. On the NDSU campus the articles should be given to Miss Clausen or to Eloise Waldron of the English department."

Students Give Three Debating Programs Wednesday Evening

Debate Between Concordia And State College Delegates Features Series

Three programs were presented by students of North Dakota State college under the direction of Donald Hay Wednesday evening, Jan. 6.

A debate between State college and Concordia was the main feature of the program presented before the Schoolmasters' club, made up of 80 school staff members and superintendents, at Dilworth, Minn. Clifford Maloney and Frieda Panimon, representing NDSU debated negatively on the question: Resolved; That the presidential powers of the United States should be substantially increased as a settled policy.

The P. T. A. of the Washington school, Fargo, was entertained by a program contributed by Gwendolyn Cooley, Helen Lierboe, and Elizabeth Dewey. An original one-act play "After Twenty Years" by Dorothy Stompro was also presented with Virginia Garberg, Dayton Jones, Carol Ladwig, and Dorothy Stompro taking the parts. The question used in the Dilworth debate was also the subject of a debate in which Isadore Levine and Cathryn Ray were opponents.

Sydney Montague To Lecture In Festival Hall January 17

GAMMA TAU SIGMA PLANS GRIDIRON BANQUET SOON

Further plans for a gridiron banquet were discussed at a meeting of Gamma Tau Sigma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, held Tuesday noon, Jan. 9, in the little dining room in Ceres hall.

Chairmen for the various committees have been chosen but at the present time no definite date has been set for the banquet.

Robert Parrott, secretary of the organization, led the discussion on the topic of nationalization and expansion.

YWCA Cabinet Elects Freshmen For Group

Six Women Chosen From Thirty For YWCA Leadership And Interest

Six freshman women were elected to membership in the Freshman commission, YWCA freshman women's honorary service organization, by the cabinet at a meeting recently.

The girls, chosen from a group of thirty candidates for outstanding interest in the YWCA and qualities of leadership, are: Viola Ness, Lennea Frisk, Gladys Stevenson, Mary Horner, Ruth Anderson, and Jane Schultz. The group will hold their first meeting in the YWCA room at 4:30 Monday, Jan. 15, under the direction of Ruth Clausen, president of the YWCA and advisor of the group.

The cabinet has departed from the usual procedure of electing members in selecting only six of the fifteen required members at present and leaving the selection of the other nine until a future date. This is expected to be an incentive to the interest of freshmen women in the work of the YWCA.

Arctic Explorer Will Describe Experiences In Land Of Eskimos

STUDENTS ADMITTED FREE

Spaker To Show Native Fur Handicraft, Hunting And Fishing Tools

Presenting a rare and colorful picture of Arctic life, Sydney R. Montague, former operative of the Canadian Mounted police and northern explorer, will deliver an address to the student body of North Dakota State college in the second program on the twenty-third annual Lyceum series to be held in Festival hall Jan. 17, at 8 p. m.

With the title "Under the Northern Lights," Mr. Montague will deliver a speech concerning his life experience as a police officer on daring and exacting missions, confronted with perilous dangers in the land of the eskimos.

Mr. Montague is no stranger in Fargo, for last year he gave the Commencement day address, "World's Wide Horizons." Since his return from his Arctic exploration, this former Canadian mountie has been touring the United States and Canada in a series of lectures.

By living with these people, Mr. Montague has learned to speak their language fluently, and has acquired first-hand experience a vast store of Eskimo folk-lore, picturesque traditions and a vivid recollection of the great barren expanse known as the Arctic.

Mr. Montague illustrates his address with numerous articles of Eskimo handicraft, including tools, hunting and fishing equipment and outfits of native clothing made of lovely rich furs deviously fashioned with bone needles and deer sinews.

This Lyceum speaker's rare and colorful picture of the Arctic, his wealth of experience, his human understanding of the natives, his positive knowledge of the subject matter, coupled with an enviable personality, charm, informality, and modest attitude, assure an evening of unusual entertainment for his hearers.

Students will be admitted upon the presentation of their registration card. General admission for the performance is fifty cents while reserved seats are priced at seventy-five.

A special matinee will be held during the afternoon in the Little County theater at 3:45 o'clock. The price for this performance is ten cents for children under fourteen years of age.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

ANONYMOUS

Up to this time, to speak frankly with you, we have had our doubts as to whether the Bison were to have a basketball team this year or not. The Bison's playing in the last two games, however, has dispelled a large share of these doubts.

There was really a fine spirit of co-operation among the fellows out there on the floor evident in both their offensive and defensive work, a spirit that has hitherto been somewhat lacking.

We understand that Bob Lowe gave the boys quite a pep talk before the MSTC game. Has Bob discovered a new kind of psychology for his charges?

With reference to the game Wednesday evening with the Cobbers, one of the most thrilling we have watched for a long time, we appreciated the manner in which the Bison refused to be intimidated by being behind in the scoring. As soon as they got behind a little, they played better than ever with the immediate result that they had another basket, which put them ahead.

We might say the same for Concordia, too.

We liked Pretz Reiner's playing against Concordia. He got a slow start this season, but once under way, he looks like he'll be a big gun the rest of the season. Keep it up, boy.

The Bison fans certainly missed the presence of "Barney" Bernard in the lineup. Barney has been playing well all season without getting a heck of a lot of credit for it. He's a good all-around man, Barney is. Let's hope he gets over that injury soon.

While it is not in our place to criticize the referee, we couldn't quite see some of the ones that Dick Holzer called in the MSTC game. Russ Anderson, for instance, whose performance is always of the cleanest on the court, went out of the game on personal fouls. We were watching close, and didn't understand why a single one of those fouls were called. And the same goes for several of the others that were called, on players of both teams.

Well, the high-and-mighty Sioux finally got a beautiful scalping. 47 to 26 was the score. What a bitter pill that must have been! Just goes to show, the bigger they are the harder they fall.

At any rate the U hasn't got an invincible team. They're still beatable. And we're going to venture to forecast, even so early in the season, that they'll have plenty tough going when they match tricks with the Bison next February.

Frankenstein Meinhover must have more than met his match down at Creighton. It seems that Ted gets rattled at times when opposing centers get his goat—like Bob Weir did last year. Witasek is different—nothing stops him.

Last line: Tubby, show us how you got that letter!

Moorhead Basketball Teams Are Victimized By Bison Squad In Two Recent Encounters

State College Team Defeats Cobbers By Three Point Margin

Bob Lowe's Basketeers Take Hard Fought Game With 31-28 Decision

Handing the basketball fans of the vicinity one of the most thrilling games in this school's history, the Bison and the Concordia Cobbers, traditional rivals since years back, fought last Wednesday evening in the State college Field house to a 31-28 decision in favor of the Bison.

The most thrilling part of the contest came in the latter portion of the last half, when with few minutes to play, the two teams battled on even terms, keeping spectators' hearts in their mouths up to the firing of the final gun. The heroes of the evening, so far as State college students were concerned, were the men who scored for the Bison in that nerve-racking five minutes—Russ Anderson, who potted two beautiful shots, Pretz Reiners, whose final basket and a free throw put the game on ice for his team, and Acey Olson, who disilluionated Concordia partisans with a beautiful long shot from the left side of the court—besides turning in a free throw that was mighty valuable.

It would be difficult to give any one Bison player credit, as the entire team functioned well in all phases of the game. Scoring was sprinkled among the entire squad, with Reiners doing most of the work by turning in a total of 11 points. The absence of Barney Bernard was keenly felt as far as scoring ability was concerned. Marquardt was unusually effective on tipoff plays.

The combat was fast and furious throughout, neither side permitting the other to retain the ball for any length of time. As an evidence of clean play on the part of both teams, few fouls were called for such furious playing.

Coach Bob Lowe placed Bud Marquardt "in the hole" for the evening, putting Anderson and Curt Denenny at the forward posts.

Dick Holzer turned in a good job of refereeing.

Bison Meet Big Ten Gridders Next Fall

For the third time in the history of North Dakota State college, the Bison will meet the University of Minnesota's Big Ten team on the football field. The Herd opens Minnesota's gridiron schedule next fall when they journey to Minneapolis to meet the Gophers Sept. 29.

Football relations between the schools originated in 1903 when Minnesota downed the Herd by an 11 to 0 count. Two years ago the strong Bison eleven put up a great battle but lost by a 13 to 7 score.

Next season Minnesota hopes to have one of its best teams in many years. With two All-Americans, "Butch" Larson, end, "Pug" Lund, halfback, Coach Bernie Bierman can look forward to being a strong contender for the Big Ten title. Roy Oen, center, is the only regular lost on last year's squad.

FROSH BASKETBALLERS LOSE MAYVILLE CONTEST

In their second contest of the season, the Baby Bison basketball squad dropped a decision to the Mayville State Teachers' college five in a game preliminary to the varsity-Moorhead State Teachers' college game in the Field house last Saturday evening.

With Forrest Stevens at center, Ernest Percy and James Warner at forwards, and Robert Saunders and Let Dohn at guards, Coach Gergen's squad hardly proved effective against a superior Comet offense. Don Lindeman and Charles Erickson also saw service in the game.

Bison Five To Meet Yellowjacket Quint At Superior Tonight

Wisconsin Peds Promise Tough Competition For State College Squad

Coach Bob Lowe and ten men left yesterday morning for Superior, Wis. where they encounter the highly-touted Teachers' college Yellowjackets tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

So far this season the Yellowjackets have shown plenty of class, trouncing the Concordia college Cobbers decisively. They have also clashed with Clem Letich's quintet from the University of North Dakota, barely dropping the decision. They also chalked up a win over the Hibbing Junior college.

The loss of "Barney" Bernard, regular forward, has caused Lowe considerable worry. Bernard sprained his ankle and will not be available for ten days or two weeks. Lowe intends to use Curt Denenny at Bernard's post or else shift Acey Olson from guard to forward.

A close game is predicted and a Bison victory would be a definite indication that the inexperienced Herd quint is on the upgrade.

Bison Five Vanquish Dragons For Second Time During Season

Bud Marquardt And Acey Olson Outstanding Players In Recent Contest

The second defeat of the season was administered last Saturday night by the Bison to the Moorhead State Teachers' college Dragons, 39 to 20, when the two teams clashed at the State college Field house. A previous win over the Dragons was chalked up by the State college team Dec. 12 on the MSTC floor 44-34.

Standing out in this Bison victory were Coach Bob Lowe's two veterans, Acey Olson and Bud Marquardt. Both of them contributed to the scoring column and played well offensively. Russ Anderson, center, had an off night, contributing but lightly to the scoring as compared to his usual performance. His playing "in the hole" so far this season has not kept him from doing his share of the scoring. Marquardt was high-point man.

Arnold Bernard displayed a good floor game, continuing his fine performance of previous games, and contributing heavily to the scoring. Pretz Reiners at guard turned in a bang-up floor game, his dribbling technique being as good as any seen on the local floor thus far this season. Lyle Stinson also showed up well at guard. Curt Denenny, the while he was in the game, was not overly effective, but promises with more experience to be a usable man.

The whole game for the Bison was characterized by a tremendous improvement in their defense, while at the same time their offensive drive was not hurt in the least whit. The team also turned in a better performance than usual at the free throw line.

Harold Mattson, Dragon captain, and Wally Erickson, center, were the outstanding performers for their team.

SCHEDULE FOR FACULTY VOLLEYBALL REVAMPED

Men's faculty volleyball has been resumed for the winter term with a revamped schedule under the direction of Dr. D. S. Dedrick. Two terms are scheduled to play three games each night or on Saturday afternoon. The team scoring highest in the series has its name placed on a record chart in the faculty dressing room.

The second series of games started on Wednesday, Jan. 3, and will continue through Feb. 24, when a new set of teams will be chosen with a new schedule for the spring term.

Independent Groups Form Hockey League

A hockey league has been formed in Fargo and at present is composed of five independent teams, the Dragons, the Comets, Fargo High school and the Bison and the Baby Bison from the North Dakota State college.

Last Friday night the Bison won over the Comets with a score of 4 to 2.

After tying the score with Fargo high Tuesday night, the Baby Bison lost the game in an over-time period, the final score being 4 to 3.

Campus Quints Open Annual Competition

Six Teams Begin Title Quest In Year's First Tilts Last Night

The intramural basketball series, under the direction of Beryl Newman, began with three games which took place at the Field house last evening. A schedule, subject to change if it conflicts with other arrangements for games, has been made out.

Kappa Psi and Delta Tau Epsilon fraternities were victors in last night's contests, Kappa Psi defeating the Dormitory club, 17-10, and Delta Tau Epsilon beating Alpha Gamma Rho, 28-12. Due to a scorekeeper's error, the Kappa Sigma Chi-YMCA game ended in a tie, 25-25, which is to be played off in the near future.

The schedule for the next six games is:

Tuesday, Jan. 16—Alpha Sigma Tau vs. Cosmopolitan club, 7 p. m.; Theta Chi vs. Alpha Tau Omega, 9:30 p. m.
Wednesday, Jan. 17—Sigma Phi Delta vs. Delta Kappa Sigma, 7 p. m.; Kappa Sigma Chi vs. Dormitory club, 9:30 p. m.

Thursday, Jan. 18—YMCA vs. Delta Tau Epsilon, 7 p. m.; Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Kappa Psi, 9:30 p. m.

"We hope the students of the college will encourage us by wholehearted attendance. It's free," states Mr. Newman.

CAMPUS SOCIETY

With the Beaux Art ball forming a center for social affairs this weekend, we anticipate a very novel and entertaining time. Speaking of parties—the Charity Ball has been postponed until May 4. However, the committees have been selected and are directed by the following chairmen: Amy Glaser, general arrangements; Luella Furcht, invitations and programs, and Virginia Garberg, tickets.

The second term finds many former students back at school. Among those who have resumed their studies here are Richard Jordahl, Lake Park, Minn., and Harvey Taylor, Oberon, members of Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity; and Arlee Hanson, Garrison, Ben Boyden, Jamestown; Harold Albrecht, Anamoose, and Kenneth Dick, Elliott, of the Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity. William Askane has returned from Ohio State college to attend school here this term.

Kappa Delta actives and pledges were entertained last Monday night with motion pictures taken at their twenty-first annual convention this past summer at Bemidji, Minn.

Ellen Blair will give the first in a series of six etiquette lessons sponsored by the college YWCA Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in the YMCA library. These lessons are open to all girls interested.

Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity received a box of cigars last week announcing the engagement of Gus Younger, '33, Campbell, Minn., and Eunice Thoreson, Goodridge, Minn.

Mary Spratt, Phi Mu, did not return to school this term, having obtained a position in the county attorney's office at Clark, S. D.

The Mothers' club of Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity met Wednesday evening in the chapter house. The Phi Mu and Kappa Delta Mothers' clubs will meet in the respective sorority houses this afternoon.

At an election held recently Virginia Schonberg was elected Kappa Kappa Gamma president. Other officers are Mary Clemens, corresponding secretary; Jane Nichols, recording secretary; and Ruth Westergaard, treasurer. Ruth Clemens is the retiring president.

Several informal entertainments are planned for the weekend at the various sorority houses. Alpha Gamma Delta will entertain guests at an informal party this evening in the sorority rooms, YMCA building, and Phi Omega Pi will entertain the fathers of the members at a Sunday night supper.

The alumni chapter of Phi Mu sorority sponsored a benefit bridge last evening. The group also entertained its active, pledge, and honorary members and patronesses at an informal dancing party in Festival hall last Saturday evening. During the evening vocal selections were presented by Ernest Van Vlissingen of the Concordia Conservatory of Music.

Guests at the various fraternity and sorority houses during the past week were Bob Lemke and Matty Keith, Delta Kappa Sigma; Einer Fossum, Matt LeFor, Bob Roberts, and Kenneth Piper, alumni, Kappa Psi; Elizabeth Kinney and Carol Cooper, Phi Omega Pi; Paul Kasson and Chet Wolla, alumni, Kappa Sigma Chi; Bob Sanders, Alpha Tau Omega; and Arnold Kaufman, alumnus, Alpha Sigma Tau.

George Coffey, member of Alpha Tau Omega, from New Orleans, La., is spending the month at the chapter house.

Students pledged to Greek letter groups during the past week are Helen Hummel, Gamma Phi Beta, and Leonard Dalstad, Kappa Sigma Chi.

Clyde Challey, county agent of Montana and alumnus of Alpha Gamma Rho, was a weekend visitor at the fraternity.

David Cavett, Alpha Tau Omega, was visited by his parents at the chapter house Tuesday evening.

Guests at the Gamma Phi Beta potluck last Monday evening were Viola Tuskuid, Davenport, and Irene Wiedemann, Moorhead.

AT THE THEATERS

Continuing today and tomorrow at the Fargo theater is Jay C. Flippen's World's Fair revue featuring Elenore and her fan dance, showing in conjunction with "Horse Play" starring Slim Summerville.

Joan Crawford's "Dancing Lady" opens for a three-day run Monday, while Thursday and Friday brings Paul Muni in "The World Changes." Both these pictures have scored tremendous hits wherever they have shown thus far, being one of the most successful of late Hollywood productions.

New Attendance Regulations

1. Each instructor shall report daily absences from classes.
2. Absences shall be counted from the first regular meeting of the class each term.
3. Each instructor shall report to the committee on attendance each student who in any course shall accumulate a total of absences of any kind whatever equal to the weekly number of the class periods of the course. The committee shall then send a warning to the student that shall indicate what further penalty will be incurred by further absences as stated under "4", and shall in like manner notify the parents of the student.
4. Each instructor shall again report as above a student who shall in any course accumulate a total of absences of any kind whatever equal to twice the number of weekly class periods of that course. The committee on attendance shall then immediately notify the dean of the proper school who shall order the student dropped from the course with a record of failure. Should the student as the result of such a failure reduce his program to less than twelve hours, and thereby become ineligible for student activities, the ineligibility shall be applied immediately. Exception to this procedure shall be allowed when at least half of the absences are due (1) to prolonged illness, properly certified; (2) to leaves of absences granted in advance by the committee on attendance, such leaves to be required of those who are to represent the institution as a member of an authorized activity or organization, and (3) for any reason that the committee may deem sufficient.

 5. A student who has been dropped for absences from enough courses to reduce his term schedule below eight credits shall be suspended from the institution for the remainder of the term.
 6. There shall be prepared at the end of each term a Dean's list that shall include all students who have been in attendance one year and who during the preceding term would not have incurred a failure because of absence and at the same time have made a term average above 84.
 7. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are on the Dean's list shall be free from the penalties governing absence.
