4H Achievement Institute Is Set For Dec. 12-15

Prize Winners From County And Local Clubs Compete For State Honors

H. E. RILLING IN CHARGE

Annual Show And Sale Of Market Livestock To Be Held At State College

North Dakota's 4H club annual achievement institute will be held Dec. 12 to 15 at the North Dakota State college, according to H. E. Rilling, state 4H club leader of the college extension service. The annual show and sale of market classes of 4H club livestock will be held in conjunction with the Institute as in former years.

Outstanding club work throughout the past year is the basis on which delegates from each of the counties having club activities are chosen. Over 400 delegates attended last year's Institute.

Sections for beef cattle, sheep and hogs are provided for in the livestock show and sale. Prize-winning animals at the numerous county and local 4H shows held during the past few months can be entered in this event.

Other features on the program of this institute, which is for both boys and girls, include selection of the state's healthiest 4H club boy and girl; a singing contest; naming the state's outstanding 4H club boy in agriculture; choosing the outstanding girl in foods and clothing work; recognition of outstanding club leadership; a style show and a foods contest for girls; and a good grooming contest for all home economics club delegates.

The program has been arranged by Mr. Rilling and Pauline Reynolds, assistant leader.

Young Democrat Club Formed On Campus

Next Meeting Of New Students' Group To Be Held On Sunday, Dec. 3

To organize a Young Democrat club at the North Dakota State college a group of interested students met in Science hall at 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon, with Prof. P. J. Iverson acting as temporary chairman.

Permanent officers elected were James Golseth, president; Kenneth Hamry, vice president; Cathryn Ray, secretary; and Dale Iverson, treasurer. Mr. Golseth appointed membership and constitution committees to be headed by Verne Kasson and Marion Weeks, respectively. James Long, Jack Knight and Ralph Anderson will assist Kasson, while Jane Adams and William Stewart will assist Miss Weeks. The next meeting of the organization is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 3 in room 118, Science hall.

In opening the meeting, Professor Iverson stated that liberal thinking is more necessary today than ever before and at the present time liberalism in this country is nothing more than a guise for Puritanism. He urged members of the club to strive to make the organization a worthwhile project so that in a year's time it will be composed of half of the student body of the college.

Work Of Graduate Is Recognized By Press

Edris Mary Probstfield, North Dakota State college graduate, is author of a book of poems, "Open Windows," which was published Nov. 15 by the Kaleidograph Press.

Miss Probstfield's first poem was printed in the Fargo Daily Courier-News when she was eight years old. Since that time her work has been recognized by Poetry, A Magazine of Verse, The Rectangle, The Prairie Lit, Southern Literary Review, The Lantern, North Dakota Teacher, North Dakota Clubwoman, and other magazines.

CANDIDATE?

CAP E. MILLER

Cap Miller Endorsed For U. S. Senatorship On Democrat Ticket

Instructor In Agricultural Economics May Receive Nomination

Cap E. Miller, head of the agricultural economics department at the North Dakota State college, is being endorsed for United States senator on the Democratic ticket by a group of five men in North Dakota.

"Since our state is so distinctly an agricultural state," says the committee's statement, "the Democratic candidate for senator must know farming from both the practical and theoretical sides."

Mr. Miller was born and reared on an Iowa farm, and is a graduate of the Iowa State college. Since 1918 he has been a professor of agricultural economics at this school, and secretary-treasurer of the Northwest Farm Manager's association for many years. He was a delegate to the North Dakota State Democratic convention at New Rockford in 1932, and is a member of the Fargo Roosevelt-Garner club today. He has made many contributions to farm journals and agricultural periodicals, and was an ardent supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt throughout his campaign.

The N. D. S. C. sent one man to the U. S. senate some years ago. Is it possible that history will repeat in this matter in the near future?

Gamma Tau Sigma Holds Initiation

Services Held Tuesday Following Banquet Given In Ceres Hall

Seven men were initiated into the local chapter of Gamma Tau Sigma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, at initiation services following a banquet in Ceres hall Tuesday evening.

Prior to the initiation several projects were read by pledges dealing with activities which Gamma Tau Sigma might be able to develop on this campus.

The following men were initiated: Kenneth Hamry, Kindred; Paul Deal, Starkweather; Chester Perry, Bismarck; Don Fraser, Paul Boleyn, Jack Knight, and Ralph Anderson, Fargo.

Arthur E. Thompson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will discuss "The Relationship of the Public School to Higher Institutions" in the Little County theater next Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 8 p. m. All students and faculty members, especially those of the American Association of University Professors, are invited to attend.

Miss Astride Fjelde, dramatic soprano, will give a concert in Festival hall at convocation Wednesday morning, Dec. 6, at 9:40 o'clock.

A freshman tried to check out the "Book of Letters from Robert Browning to Isa Blagden" at Baylor university library. The book is worth $30.00.

Roman Meyers Is Recipient Of Black Award

Fargo Rotary Club Presents Scholarship In Memory Of Norman B. Black

STOCKWELL MAKES AWARD

Character, Personality, Attitude Is Basis Of Choice By Committee

Roman Meyers, senior in the school of education, was awarded the Norman Black scholarship for this year in convocation Wednesday morning. Presentation was made by W. L. Stockwell, representing the Fargo Rotary club, by whom the scholarship is given.

Character, personality, attitude, outlook on life and financial need are the principal factors upon which the choice of candidates for the award are based. Meyers was unanimously elected for the honor by a committee consisting of Registrar A. H. Parrott, chairman, W. L. Stockwell, representing the Rotary club, and C. C. Finnegan, the college and Rotary club.

The scholarship was established by the organization in memoriam of Norman B. Black who died in January, 1931. Not only outstanding in his service to the Rotary club, but locally and internationally, Mr. Black was one of the leading citizens of Fargo and North Dakota.

Captain of the 1933 football team, Roman Meyers is also president of the local chapter of Theta Chi, president of Blue Key, former president of the Newman club, president of the Lettermen's club, Kappa Delta Pi, Student Commissioner of athletics, and formerly served on the Board of Publications.

Dormitory Men Form Social Organization

Francis Nemzek Is Elected As Chairman Of Governing Council By Group

A new organization, the Men's Dormitory club, was born on the campus last Tuesday evening with the ratification of a constitution and the election of the dormitory council. The council consists of Francis Nemzek, chairman; William Carr, Clinton Mellum, Douglas Sasse, Harry Graves, Eugene Kieffer, Robert Baer, Kenneth Kroll, and Warren Dundon.

The object of the society is to promote the welfare and to stimulate greater sociability among the students in the Men's Residence hall, the only restriction being that it be non-political. The only project specifically stipulated in the constitution is that a staff of upperclassmen be formed to conduct an orientation program each year for the male freshmen as the "campus sisters" do for the incoming girls.

"We have planned," Mr. Nemzek, chairman of the council, says, "a social program for the coming quarter which will probably include a dance, smokers, and get-togethers for the dormitory men. Magazines and a radio for the lounge are also being considered although we have taken no action on the latter at the present time."

Final Examinations Scheduled Dec. 13-15

Final examinations in all courses are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Dec. 13, 14, and 15, Registrar A. H. Parrott reminds students. Official Christmas vacation opens Friday evening, Dec. 15.

The winter term is scheduled to open Tuesday, Jan. 2, despite all rumors to the contrary. In order to avoid payment of the late registration fee which accumulates at the rate of one dollar per late day, students are advised to complete all winter term negotiations in advance of Jan. 2.

A freshman tried to check out the "Book of Letters from Robert Browning to Isa Blagden" at Baylor university library. The book is worth $30.00.

Lawrence Schwab, B. G. DeSylva Authors Of 1934 Bison Brevities Comedy

PLAY WILL BE REVISED

Annual Production Scheduled Tentatively For Beginning Of Spring Term

"Good News," musical comedy selected as the 1934 Bison Brevities production, was written by Lawrence Schwab and B. G. DeSylva, who had with it a long and successful run on the New York stage.

The comedy was copywritten in 1927 under the title "Hold 'Em Helen." "It is a delightful college concoction featuring music, football, love, laughter, and dancing," says Frank Sanders, Brevities director. Among its lyrics are "The Best Things in Life are Free," "Varsity Drag," "Lucky in Love," and "Good News." Its original cast featured George Olsen's band, and John Price Jones in the hero role.

Although the play is fairly modern, much revision is planned by the managers, especially enlarging, in order that it will be the last word in dialogue and dance numbers. Production is planned about the beginning of the spring term.

A critic says of "Good News": "clean, wholesome story of college life, filled with romance and humor and generously interspersed with catchy songs and dances. In a long list of musical comedy successes, it stands out pre-eminently."

Pi Gamma Mu Invites Other Campus Groups To Attend Its Meetings

Honorary Social Science Group Innovates New Program Arrangement

A new program arrangement instituted by Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, innovates the policy of inviting various campus groups and faculty members to the monthly meetings of the society, announces Prof. C. A. Sevrinson, secretary.

The outline of activity for the year, prepared by a committee with Dr. W. C. Hunter, professor of history, as chairman, is based on the two-volume report of Ex-President Hoover's research committee on social trends. A student committee together with a faculty advisor prepare the meetings.

The first meeting of the year, scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 1, in the Faculty-Alumni club rooms at 7:30 p. m., presents "Trends Toward Governmental Control." On the committee are Arnold Chamberlin, chairman; Prof. A. F. Hunsaker, adviser, Ruth Clausen, John Dixon, Vivian Holland, Sylvia Panimon, Leona Siegel, and Fannie Zimmerman.

To this meeting are invited, as special guests, Phi Kappa Phi, science and literature faculty, Sigma Delta and Gamma Tau Sigma. Other faculty and student groups will be asked to attend meetings in the future which the fraternity feels is in their fields.

LAST CADET HOP OF TERM TO BE THURSDAY

The last Cadet hop of this term will be held Thursday, Dec. 7, in Festival hall. The time, as usual, will be from 4:00 until 6:00 p. m., with Dick Walsh and his orchestra supplying the music. The charges are two-bits for the gentlemen and a dime for the girls.

Although the hops have been well attended this term, there has been a predominance of men over the women. Since no introductions are necessary and "staggering" is still permissible, there is still plenty of time for the fellows and girls to mix and become acquainted.

Carl Freeman, Alpha Gamma Rho member, left for Chicago on Saturday to attend the Chicago International Livestock exposition.

Tryouts For All-College Show To Begin Next Week In Brevities Office

LARGE CAST IS REQUIRED

Frank Sanders, John Gabe Are In Charge Of This Year's Student Production

Final selection of a musical comedy for the 1934 edition of the Bison Brevities, all-college show sponsored by Blue Key fraternity, was announced today by Frank Sanders and John Gabe, director and business manager, respectively, of the production.

Titled "Good News," the selected comedy consists of two acts, and is authored by Lawrence Schwab and B. G. DeSylva. Its story carries a collegiate theme, with many lyrics and dance numbers, all worked out in the typical musical comedy manner.

Tryouts for the production will begin next week in the Bison Brevities offices in the Barracks, hours at which students should report being Mondays at 4 p. m., Tuesdays at 7 p. m. and Wednesdays at 4 p. m.

Since a large cast is required, all potential talent on the campus will be given a chance to show itself in the varied singing and dancing parts and character roles. A stage band to provide an outlet for talented campus musicians is planned.

It is pointed out by Mr. Sanders and Mr. Gabe that the selection of a copy-written musical comedy, a deviation from the policy of former years, will give the production staff a finer opportunity to work on the perfection of the different sections, musical, dance, and dialogue.

President Shepperd Heads Division Of International Show

College President Is Director Of Collegiate Judging At Chicago Show

When President J. H. Shepperd of North Dakota State college left Wednesday for Chicago, it was to take charge of the twenty-fifth Collegiate judging contest of the International Livestock show that has been staged under his direction. These contests are held each year in connection with the International livestock show, and schools of agriculture throughout the Middle West are represented.

Established in 1900 and taken over by Dr. Shepperd in 1903, the contest has steadily grown until as many as twenty-four teams have competed in recent contests.

The contest this year will be held Saturday, Dec. 2, and the contestants will be required to judge twelve classes of livestock and give reasons on eight of these classes.

Phi Upsilon Omicron Elects New Members

Eleven junior and senior students in the home economics department received invitations to become members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics professional sorority, Thanksgiving morning.

Women honored were Eula Miller, Mona Haas, Phyllis Tritchler, Celeste Sowka, Mildred Peterson, Hermione Hanson, Amy Glaser, Lucille Smith, Alyce Connolly, Marjory Baker, and Cecil Olson.

Charge services for new members will be held Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, in the attic of the practice house. Initiation services will take place the following Sunday morning.

Dean Everett Fraser of the University of Minnesota Law school has been appointed by the American Law Institute to a group consisting of eight men to rewrite and simplify common law in the United States.

THE BISON BREVITIES

The Bison Brevities is one of the biggest student undertakings of the year. In all the phases of its production approximately a hundred students take part. The entire campus, both students and faculty, are keenly interested in its progress. It is one of the best advertising features the college has, and as such has come to be an almost invaluable part of North Dakota State college life.

In any such undertaking, there is bound to be dissension and strife. Personal differences and dislikes clash. Cries of "Dirty politics! Fraternity brothers! Incompetent! Not the one for the part!" arise, and those in charge have their hands full trying to determine in just what way the outcry can be made to subside. It's one of the difficult things about running an all-college show.

Those in charge of this year's Brevities, we feel, are preeminently fitted for their tasks. Their selection last spring was made in a strictly impartial manner. Their work this fall has been such that we are even more convinced that their selection was a good one. They have kept out all pettiness, jealousy and rivalry from the coming production, and are determined to continue to keep it out.

Students should be willing to help keep all such feelings out of the Bison Brevities. They can do their part by viewing in an incredulous light all such statements that are made, and by co-operating to the fullest extent with those in charge. By so doing, they will contribute in a considerable degree to making the 1934 Bison Brevities the best all-college show yet produced at the North Dakota State college.

FRATS VS. FROSH

Pledging night last month brought fraternities on this campus to a significant realization. Since then this realization has grown upon them: freshmen this year are more than usually difficult to pledge. Looking over the pledge roster of almost any fraternity it is readily seen that the number of pledges is as a rule considerably less than it was last year. Fraternities will do well to consider the question, Why?

After several years of the "hard times" which we have been through and are going through, students are finding themselves in considerable financial embarrassment. Naturally, they cannot stand any additional expense. They are convinced that they can lose nothing by waiting an additional year to pledge.

Freshmen don't seem to be quite so dumb as formerly. The average first-year male is extremely cautious, and finds out all he can about fraternities or a particular fraternity before he commits himself. He wants to be right before going ahead. It's a good piece of common sense on his part; any fraternity man will admit that. When he does decide to join a fraternity, he'll at least know what he is getting into.

At any rate, it looks as if the stocks of fraternities at this school will not go up until the present depression blows over.

"PEEL ME A GRAPE"

"Go West, little gal! Go Mae West, if you want to cause a sensation," has not as yet hit Jamestown college very noticeably. A few still think they are being original when they put one hand on a protruded hip, sneer haughtily over a bared shoulder, and draw, "Cumup 'n see us-some time."

When a Christian Endeavor society at Drake university uses "Come up some time" as its advertising slogan, and when a college newspaper can say, "Lives there a girl with soul so dead, Who never to herself has said, I'm getting overweight, but 'tis for the best—"

That's my resemblance to Mae West! it's time that the nation as a whole and especially young people allow

Bison Briefs

By BILL

It seems that this is the season of the year when a guy can't get his overshoes off before some wily wench hits him up to buy a ticket for a play, to be a fourth at a benefit bridge, to contribute to a rummage sale or to come over for turkey dinner (if the guy will bring the turkey).

To the "little, dewey-eyed freshman girl," who looks like "one of the Bobbsey twins at a tender age, with just enough dash of Bo Peep—long golden curls, soft brown eyes, shrinking, demure etc."—We eat little girls like you. Furthermore, we pinch little girls' arms before we eat them. Sorry you were irked by last week's comments on the associations your name brings. You're not in such tough shape, though. Junie Spaulding calls us "Nigger," and we haven't contemplated suicide yet. Of course we would like to hit him over the head with a bottle of happy medium.

And now, Ladeez and Genmen, Ernest Toskas vs. Jane Nichols in the battle of the century. Ask either of them what they think of blind dates. Further particulars are to be found on page 10.

Those melodramatic one-act plays surely get in one's blood. Listening to such lines as, "Oh, it's wonderful to have a darling little baby all your own," "Brace up, my dear; he's passed out into the night, but now we must fight the good fight for mother's sake," "Oh, but brown eyes, you're the most wonderful—oh, you're lovely, gorgeous, my dream girl—I love you with each fiber of this frame—ooze little oo is oo?" and "Ah me, passion, memories and dust," reminds us of Eugene O'Neill. Here's how we imagine he would write up one of those little campus tragedies: He whispers confidentially in her ear. She opens her mouth to make an indignant retort when a vivid flash of lightning comes. She flings herself on the lounge and begins to cry heartbrokenly. He stares at her and stands paralyzed with terror. His teeth chatter and he covers as the thunder growls. He bends down, kisses her passionately on the neck and she pushes him away. He presses his thick lips together tightly and clenches his teeth, the cords in his jaw standing out. He looks around uneasily, afraid of where his thoughts are leading him. Then comes the blare of jazz from the radio. With a snort of rage and disgust he boils over with indignation. He clutches the arms of his chair and his thoughts come incoherently. There is a flash of lightning. He gives a frightened start and glances up furtively. he reaches for the table draw—draws out a shiny Colt revolver, presses the deadly muzzle to his temple, and shoots. Moral: Never tell a coed that she has B. O. It's deadly—The above is affectionately dedicated to Miss Phillips, our pal and advisor; she advised us to drop English.

We'll just bet that that Spectrum office cat will get a feature story. Gosh, we hate those cute little features about cunning little animals around newspaper offices. However, we suggest the name "60 purr," because it gets no place fast. Will someone kindly drop around and explain that one to us. We haven't got time to figure it out, being that it's Thanksgiving eve, and we're in a hurry.

Ed Jessen, of the unrazored lip, and of one-act play fame, says: "Just because a babe waves at ya in the halls is no sign she isn't high hat—Hitler has been pullin' that old gag of stickin' his paw up in the air for years."

Success Story: We can remember way back when little Andrew Charles (Acey to you) Olson used to have to run home after school for graham crackers and milk to build up his puny little physique. Now he's our great big nasty man of football—our captain. Rough and ready—beefy and brawny—always in there, thick and thin—that's the Ace. And they never thought he could play until—That tough corner grocery gang and graham crackers put him where he is today. We might add that his dad (you know Oscar), is in favor of the no-cut system. Drop in for a football haircut.—(adv.)

We nominate for oblivion: "Did you have enough to eat, ha, ha, ha?" and "Well, did you get enough Turkey, ha, ha, ha?"

Of Games Dec. 6-7-8

Bison Basketeers Clash With Valley City, Jamestown And Dickinson

North Dakota State college's basketball team will swing into action when it plays a series of three games against Dickinson State Teachers' college, Jamestown college, and Valley City State Teachers' college on Dec. 6, 7 and 8, respectively. This will be in the nature of a conditioning trip, according to Bob Lowe, head coach.

Because of the lack of experience and practice the Bison are liable to drop one of these games possibly either to Jamestown or Valley City. Both of these schools have developed strong quints and will press the Herd to pull out with a victory. Last season the Jimmies were conference champions and have good prospects of repeating their performance.

At present Coach Lowe is having a tough time deciding on the ten men to make the trip. The guard posts are especially difficult to decide upon. Lyle Stinson and Arnold Mickelson, reserve guards from last year, are being offered stiff competition by Stan Maynard, Don Bettchen, Arnold Bernard, and Neville Reiners, freshmen stars of last year. In the forward wall the combination of Bud Marquardt, Acey Olson, and Russ Anderson are showing up well with Carsten Noecker and Bernard pushing them for regular positions.

Students To Compete
For Bell Scholarship

Best Constructive Essay By State College Student Receives Award

For the second year, students at North Dakota State college will have the opportunity of competing for a cash prize of $350 donated by James F. Bell, president of General Mills, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn.

The prize will be awarded to the student of this college who writes an essay presenting the most "constructive idea." The donor defines "constructive idea" as one which contributes to the betterment of mankind. Last year's prize was awarded to Roy Simonson, now a senior in agriculture, whose essay was entitled "Rural Zoning," and suggested a method to insure the proper utilization of land and to lower governmental costs without lowering efficiency.

Ohio Wesleyan university is offering a course in prohibition as a government problem in which the legal aspects are stressed rather than the general scope of controversy.

ACEY OLSON
NEW FOOTBALL
CAPTAIN

At a meeting of the football squad Tuesday night, Charles "Acey" Olson, junior in science and literature, was elected to lead the 1934 Bison football team.

Olson, an end, has been named on all 1933 all-conference football teams thus far selected. During the latter part of the season he filled in creditably at halfback following injuries to the regular ball-carriers. Although he saw considerable service and won a letter as a sophomore, this was his first season as a regular. In addition to football, he is a basketball player, having earned a letter as a sophomore forward last year.

The new Bison grid leader had an excellent high school background for his college athletics, having been named all-state end in his senior year as well as all-state forward in basketball.

Harry Graves, North Dakota State college freshman, is president of the Future Farmers of America chapter at the Walsh County Agricultural and Training school, Park River, which was awarded first prize and $400 in cash for having the most outstanding program in the United States during the past year. The award was announced at Kansas City.

A reporter on The Spectrum staff, Mr. Graves formerly edited the Park River school annual, and served as sports editor on the school's newspaper.

Two years ago the same chapter won third place and $200 in cash in a similar contest, according to Dr. L. L. Scranton, state advisor of the Future Farmers of America.

HOCKEY PLANS MADE AT RECENT MEETING

Enough general enthusiasm to promote a hockey league this year was evidenced at a meeting held last Friday in the physical education building. Joseph Blakeslee, who will act as coach, states that although the skating rink will not be constructed until sometime during or after the Christmas vacation, a series of teams will be formed within a short time. Later on, the varsity hockey squad is to be chosen from those who play. The freshman team, also, will be chosen from this league.

A newly organized student society at University of Wisconsin has chosen for its purpose the study of racial and cultural friction and misunderstanding.

Three All-State Stars Are Included In Freshman Basketball Group

With a number of former high school stars to choose from, Pete Gergen freshmen basketball coach, hopes to develop another winning frosh quint. Last season the Baby Bison won every contest.

Leading the candidates are three all-state high school men of last year: Bob Sanders, Mandan; Forrest Stevens, Devils Lake, and Wendell Kieley, flashy forward from Thief River Falls, who was an all-state selection from Minnesota.

Coach Gergen has chosen a squad of eighteen men who will practice throughout the season. Most of these men have been working out for the past ten days and show much promise of maintaining the high standards of last year.

Besides the three men already mentioned, potential ability is shown by Ernest Percy of Mandan; Let Dohn, Bismarck; James Erickson, Larimore; Robert Millar, Warren, Minn.; Don Lindeman, Hillsboro. All of these men have had considerable experience in high school circles and should develop into good college material.

The remaining ten men on the squad are as follows: Lyle Sturgeon, Gilbert Ellwein, Leonard Holmstrom, Lawrence Berry, James Warner, Rudy Luther, Wayne Springer, Dawson Seaver, and John Eisenhardt.

A program of talks for the entire year, which will be given by NDSC faculty members on scientific plant work on this campus, will be announced Dec. 5, the next meeting date of the Phytois club, plant science organization, by a committee in charge. Gordon Johnson, Marion Striker and William Johnson are members of this committee.

NDSC PLACES SECOND IN CONFERENCE LOOP

By winning two football games in the North Central conference and with one tied, and one lost, the North Dakota State college placed second in the loop standings.

Final percentages are:

	W	L	T	Pct.
South Dakota State	4	1	0	.800
North Dakota State	2	1	1	.667
U. of South Dakota	2	3	0	.400
U. of North Dakota	1	2	1	.333
Morningside	1	3	0	.250

AT THE THEATERS

State
"Tillie and Gus," with W. C. Fields and Allison Skipworth plays at the State theater today and Saturday. It is a rollicking comedy starring the pair who did so well in "If I Had a Million." Edward G. Robinson has the new role of lover in the packing town story "I Loved a Woman" coming to the State next Monday and Tuesday.

Seventy-seven of the nations best football players take part in "College Coach" which comes to the State Wednesday and Thursday. Starring are Dick Powell, Ann Dvorak and Pat O'Brien.

Fargo
"Footlight Parade" with James Cagney, Ruby Keeler and Joan Blondell, continues today, tomorrow and Monday at the Fargo.

Walter Winchell's story, "Broadway Through a Keyhole," starring Russ Columbo, Constance Cummings, and Gregory Ratoff, plays Tuesday and Wednesday while "Double Harness" with Ann Harding and William Powell shows on Thursday and Friday of next week.

The largest crowd in the history of the Nipper Stadium, 22,000, turned out for the Cincinnati-Kentucky football game.

Mechanical Engineer
Group Holds Meeting

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers sponsored the meeting of the Engineers' club last Thursday evening at which were featured several talks and a picture.

Charles Martin discussed the topic, "What the Travelling Public Wants in the Future," while Patrick Grimes described the many control devices used in automatic gear-shifts for automobile transmissions. "The Turbine With the Solid Rotor," a picture, was shown and the construction of steam turbines was discussed.

It was reported at the meeting that over 220 couples attended the Engineers' ball, more than have attended any major dance in recent years.

CAMPUS SOCIETY

The annual Christmas party for the Women's club of the North Dakota State college, will be given on Thursday, Dec. 7, at 3 p. m. in Ceres hall. Mrs. C. F. Monroe will preside at the tea table. Christmas music will be presented by a group of young women students under the direction of Miss Adda M. Blakeslee. Miss Helen Pease will sing and Miss Audrey Boe will play piano numbers during tea time. Mrs. W. C. Hunter, Mrs. A. D. Weeks, Mrs. Kenneth Kuhn, Mrs. Hjalmer Storle, Miss Harriet Pearson, Miss Elvira Smith, and Miss Lucille Horton are in charge.

Two Thanksgiving baskets were given to needy families by Beta chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics professional sorority, Wednesday evening. These gifts were financed on what the group earned through catering for the Edwin Booth Dramatic club.

Allen Preist, Pi Kappa Alpha of Washington State college, was a visitor at the ATO house during the weekend as guest of Dan Cook, Bismarck. Bob Streibel, ATO, University of North Dakota, is staying at the house during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Helen Snider, field secretary for Kappa Kappa Gamma, will arrive here on Tuesday, Dec. 5, on an inspection tour. She will be entertained at several social affairs by active and alumnae members of the local chapter of the sorority.

James Kent, Hatton, was a luncheon guest Tuesday noon at the Kappa Sigma Chi house.

Walter Maddock, former governor of North Dakota, was entertained for a few hours last Saturday at the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity house.

Walter W. Groves, a graduate of the school of chemistry in 1928, will be married to Miss Emma Stremmel of St. Louis, Missouri. Mr. Groves is employed by the Con-Ferro Paint and Varnish company of St. Louis.

Doris Lathrop and Bernice Streit, graduate students at the University of Minnesota, were guests at the Phi Mu house during the past week.

Dr. O. O. Churchill and Prof. J. R. Dice were luncheon guests Tuesday at the Alpha Gamma Rho house.

ILLINOIS HOSPITAL GIVES GRADUATE APPOINTMENT

Jeanette Naftalin, graduate student at North Dakota State college in home economics with a major in foods, has been recently awarded an appointment to Cook County hospital, Chicago, Ill., where she will continue her work in dietetics.

While a student at this college, Miss Naftalin was prominent in YWCA work, having charge of the dramatic section of this group. She leaves Feb. 5 to begin her work.

Robert Parrott, business manager of The Spectrum has announced the appointment of Harold Northrup as assistant manager of the publication. Paul Boleyn and Jack Knight will act as advertising managers with Frank Nichols and Wilfred Rommel as assistants.

THEME IS CHOSEN FOR CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL

"Christmas in Sleepy Hollow" has been chosen as the theme of the eighteenth annual Christmas festival which will be presented by the class in festivals under the direction of A. G. Arvold. The affair, which will be presented in five parts, will take place in the Little Country theater and other parts of Old Main.

Following the main program refreshments will be served in the Lincoln Log cabin. The date for the festival will be Sunday, Dec. 10. The public is cordially invited to attend.

English Fraternity To Meet On Sunday

A postponed first meeting of the year of the local chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, will be held Sunday evening, Dec. 3 at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. F. J. Thompson, 612½ 10th Ave. So.

Fargo. All alumni and active members are asked to attend.

In charge of arrangements is Cathryn Ray, who is assisted by Jane Nichols and Ruth Westergaard. Plans of the club for the coming year will be discussed, and refreshments will be served.

The Crimson Tide of Alabama has produced eight All-American stars.
