New Cut System May Be Adopted In Winter Term

Students Under New Plan Get Cuts Equal To Number Of Weekly Class Hours

DEAN'S LIST IS PREPARED

Proposed Plan Will Eliminate Filing Of Excuses For Minor Reasons

A new system of cuts will be inaugurated on the campus beginning the first of next term providing favorable action is taken on it by the college council, was the announcement made today by A. H. Parrott, chairman of the committee on attendance.

Students under the new plan will be permitted a number of cuts per class per term equal to the number of times per week the class meets; that is, if the class meets four times a week, a student is allowed four cuts a term. This replaces the present system under which students are allowed but two cuts per class per term.

However, the new system has teeth in it, too, say council members. According to the proposed ruling, any student who in any course accumulates a total of absences equal to twice the number of weekly class periods of the course will be dropped from the course with a record of failure. Should a student as the result of such a failure reduce his program to less than 12 hours, he shall immediately become ineligible for student activities. Exception to this procedure will be allowed only under special conditions as outlined by the committee.

At the end of each term there shall be prepared a dean's list that shall include all students who have been in attendance one year and who during the preceding term have not incurred a failure because of absence and at the same time have made a term average of 84. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are on the dean's list shall be free from the regulations governing absence except on the days that immediately precede or follow holidays.

Reasons given for the proposed change of system includes (1) the committee seeks to establish the fact that in any way that it is looked at, an absence is always an absence, no matter what the excuse; (2) elimination of the filing of excuses for minor reasons, many of which the committee has reason to believe are based on deceit; (3) developing in the student a sense of responsibility for his own time.

Men's Glee Club May Give WDAY Broadcast

Each member of the Men's glee club, now holding practices Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 4:15 in the old barracks, is expected to attend two practices a week as there is a possibility that the group will broadcast over WDAY in the near future, it was announced today by Frank Sanders, director.

At the present time there are sixty men in the club. The first tenors are Clifford Orvedahl, William Akeley, James Erickson, Gordon Brandes, William Thompson, Reuben Swenson, Ben Cave, Walter Jahnke, Edward Mahlum, Lynn Godfredson, and John Plath.

The second tenors include Lloyd Flem, Wally Lien, Jim Bacucus, Marvin Moll, Edgar Arnston, Harold McCannel, Frank Nichols, Bruce Lee, Andy Lynn, Wilbur LaMarre, Earl Turnblad, Ed Mattson, Robert Foker, Clair Hought, George Brooks, Don Buchanan, John Sevenants and John Rice.

The baritones and second basses are Paul Whyte, Frank Nemzek, Loren Odell, Walter Dunkelberger, Marmion Hougum, Bruce Wilson, Don Schaffer, Don Putnam, John Knoll, George Sullivan, Eric Arntson, Hill Elwin, Vernon Lindquist, Ward Redman, Dallas Roney, Norman Peterson, Walter Ekrein, John Ginsburg, Leon Jacobson, Robert Knauer, and William Pflugrath.

The first basses are Alton Erickson, Sanford Lee, Bradley Tiltonson, Forrest Swisher, Forsythe Engbretson, Seth Peterson, Peter Jensen, Earle Carlton, Harold Sorenson, and Robert Gwyther.

Hartley Eckstrom Is Selected To Manage 1934 Military Ball

HARTLEY ECKSTROM

Honorary Scholastic Organization Honors Senior Class Group

Membership In Phi Kappa Phi
Based On High Scholastic,
Character Standards

Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic organization, announces the election of thirteen senior students to membership in the local chapter.

Honored by the fraternity are Vincent Buck, Fargo, electrical engineering; Ruth Clausen, Fargo, science and literature; Hartley Eckstrom, Fargo, chemistry and engineering; David Goodall, Fargo, civil engineering; Patrick Grimes, Ryder, mechanical engineering; Kenneth Hanson, Devils Lake, electrical engineering; Gordon Johnson, Christine, agriculture; Charles McLaughlin, Fargo, chemistry; Margaret Olson, Fargo, home economics; Olive Ringen, Kenmare, home economics; Leona Siegel, Fargo, science and literature; Roy Simonson, Agate, agriculture; Otto Woodward, Fargo, electrical engineering.

Each term a limited per cent of the senior class is selected by the group on the basis of high scholarship, and good character.

"Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society whose prime object is to emphasize scholarship and character in the thought of students, and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership," states Mathilda Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the local chapter.

Magazine Makes First Appearance Of Year

The first issue of the North Dakota State Engineer which will be issued the middle of next week, announces Paul Deal, editor, will feature a history of the Engineering Colleges Magazine association and the entrance of the local magazine into that organization.

The policy of reviewing the life and career of a prominent alumnus will be inaugurated with this issue by giving a short biography of Dean R. M. Dolve.

The first of a series of articles by Prof. Waldo E. Smith on the Missouri river diversion project appears in this number, as do papers dealing with short-wave radio work and the Fort Snelling experiences of the junior and senior engineers.

The editorial staff of the publication consists of Paul Deal, editor-in-chief; E. H. Elwin, make-up editor; and John Gabe, alumni editor.

ELLIS THOMPSON IS SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

Ellis Thompson was named recipient of the Alpha Zeta scholarship cup, awarded annually to the sophomore in agriculture attaining the highest average in his freshman year, during convocation hour last Tuesday, Nov. 14. Thompson's average was 89.3.

Vincent Buck Chosen Assistant Manager For Nineteenth Annual Affair

Hartley Eckstrom, senior in chemistry and engineering, has been elected manager of the nineteenth annual Military ball, sponsored by the local chapter of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, to be held Friday, Jan. 26.

Mr. Eckstrom has a prominent part in campus activities, being president of Kappa Sigma Chi and a member of Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, and Alpha Phi Omega. In addition he is vice president of the senior class and lieutenant-colonel of the cadet corps.

Vincent Buck, senior in mechanical engineering, has been chosen by Mr. Eckstrom as assistant ball manager.

Mr. Buck is secretary of Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, president of the local chapter of the American Association of Electrical Engineers and battalion adjutant of the cadet corps. He is also a member of the Engineer's club and the Newman club.

The following Scabbard and Blade members have been chosen committee heads by Mr. Eckstrom: John Gabe, decorations; Maitland Wyard, publicity; Robert Thompson, ticket sales; Boniface Horgan, finance; Harry Hanson, music and features; Otto Woodward, invitations; William Thies, programs; Jordan Engberg, floor manager.

Booth Dramatic Club Eulogizes Great Actor In Anniversary Fete

Program Includes Life And
Activities Of Namesake
Of Organization

The Edwin Booth Dramatic club held a banquet and commemorative service as part of the nation-wide celebration in honor of the hundredth birthday anniversary of Edwin Booth, nationally famous actor, in the Lincoln Log cabin at 6:30 last Monday evening. Alumni, active members and persons from Fargo and Moorhead who had seen Mr. Booth act were present.

Horace Spaulding was toastmaster for the program following the banquet. Included in the services for Mr. Booth were discussions of his life by Freddy Martin, and of the Players, a famous New York dramatic club to which the famous interpreter of Shakesperian roles gave his home in Gramercy Park, by A. G. Arvold, a member of the organization. Hazel Swanson reviewed the history of the local Edwin Booth Dramatic club. A vocal trio composed of Lorraine Brakke, Helen Fagan and Marian Wagner sang several selections.

Rev. R. A. Baird and William Ballou presented "Reminiscences" concerning the actor. Other features were "Behind the Scenes with Booth," given by Grace Gregerson, and "Letters of the Actor," by Mrs. R. E. Weible.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics sorority, served the banquet.

Traffic Regulations On Campus Enforced

Fancy drivers are hereby warned to cease their capricious capers. The student court will meet shortly to care for just such cases.

The student court is the judiciary body that tries offenders of the campus traffic rules. It aims primarily to overcome student negligence and carelessness.

Officers for this year are Arnold Chamberlin, judge; Frank Nemzek, attorney; Elmer Ewing, balliff; Helen Pease, clerk; Maxine Rustad, commissioner of judiciary; Maitland Wyard and Glenn Vantine, campus police.

The rules of former years are still in effect, and will remain the same until the student commission alters them. The date for the first court session will be announced by the commissioner of judiciary.

Engineers Hold Ball Tonight In New Gymnasium

John Gabe, Frances Plaggmeir
Lead Grand March At Annual Affair

OVER 200 COUPLES ATTEND

Dancing Continues Until 12;
Eighth Dance Will Be
Feature Waltz

The Engineers' ball will be held in the new gymnasium this evening instead of in Festival hall, according to John Gabe, ball manager. The change was made on account of the unexpectedly great number of people who expect to attend this affair. Upwards of 200 couples have signified their intentions of enjoying the function, more than have attended any ball in recent years.

Albert Ruemmele, head of the committee on decorations, stated that the decision to switch buildings necessitated a complete new scheme of decorating, the new plan centering on a system of chandeliers.

The Red Jackets are providing the music for a half hour of informal dancing from 9:00 to 9:30 when the grand march will take place. The dancing will continue until 12:00, the eighth dance being a feature waltz.

Miss Frances Plaggmeir will lead the grand march, escorted by John Gabe, ball manager, while second in line will come Miss Marjorie Fields, escorted by Robert Thompson, assistant ball manager.

The heads of the committees in charge of the ball include: Miles Formo, music; Idan Flaa, tickets and programs; Ray Cruden, publicity; Jordan Engberg, floor manager; Vincent Buck, refreshments; Robert Schultz, features; and Albert Ruemmele, decorations.

Seniors Win Debate Victory From Frosh In Interclass Final

Virginia Garberg And Frances
Lynch Are Successful In Forensic Contest

Winning for their class the 1933 interclass debate tournament championship, Frances Lynch and Virginia Garberg, the senior team, discussing the question, "Resolved, that compulsory military training at North Dakota State college be abolished," defeated the freshman team last night in the Little Country theater. Albert Buchli coached the successful team.

The freshman team, made up of Adeline Naftalin and Neil McCabe, won the right to enter the finals by defeating the sophomore team last week. They were coached by Howard Kilbourne and Gerald Stevens. This is the second time of the six annual contests that upperclassmen have been able to take the decision from the freshmen.

Frederick Martin, president of the Lincoln Forensic society, presided. Judges for the event were Mary Fowler, instructor at Central high school, Capt. J. B. Conny of the college military department, and Judge Leigh Monson.

College Directories Distributed Today

The 1933-34 college directories are being distributed to the student body today, announces A. H. Parrott, registrar. Students may secure their copies by calling for them at the registrar's office in Old Main.

An innovation is presented in the new directories, that of a complete telephone directory for the college. In addition to this, there will be a listing of all council committees, as well as an explanation of the student health service. The remainder of the directory will consist of a listing of all students with their addresses and telephone numbers, as well as a complete faculty directory. Student organizations and their officers will also have a place in the directories.

Administrative Divisions Are Coordinated Under Five Heads; Plan Is Effective July 1, 1934

TO OUR DEANS
Their struggle has been bitter
As they toiled up through the years;
Their cups of joy have oft been filled
With happiness, beer and tears;
They've seen the great grow greater,
They've watched the mighty fall;
Their reward was slow in coming
Their compensation small—
And now with their autumn approaching
There's a dimming of the scenes—
Their castles all have tumbled
To associated deans. —L. B.

Extension Division, School Of Agriculture Placed Under
Single Head

SALARIES NOT CURTAILED

Schools of Pharmacy, Education
Combined With Science
And Literature

A complete reorganization of the administrative divisions of the North Dakota State college was announced today by the State Board of Administration, with Pres. J. H. Shepperd in charge of work necessitated by the change.

The primary object of this plan as stated by the Board is to reduce the executive capacities of the various schools and to increase the amount of teaching and research work. The reorganization, which will go into effect July 1, 1934, will not curtail salaries or make reductions in the present teaching staff of the college.

A rejuvenation of the present budget is the immediate step being taken, as the changes in the faculty's work have already been made and accepted by the Board of Administration.

The readjustment provides for a single head of the school of agriculture and the experiment station, which will be headed and directed by Dr. H. L. Walster, present dean of the school of agriculture. Dr. P. F. Trowbridge, now director of the experiment station, becomes "Director Emeritus," continuing on the college staff as a special research worker. P. J. Olson, assistant agronomist, will become assistant to Dr. Walster while Dr. L. M. Roderick, present professor of veterinary science, becomes chairman of the department of pathology and hygiene.

A new division of engineering will include departments of physics, chemical engineering, and chemistry, as well as the regular engineering courses. R. M. Dolve, present dean of the school of engineering, will be its new head while Dr. L. L. Carrick, present dean of the school of chemistry will be associate dean.

The present school of science and literature, education, and pharmacy under the new plan will be combined into one school, with A. E. Minard, now dean of the school of science and literature, acting as its head. A. D. Weeks, present dean of the school of education, and W. F. Sudro, present head of the school of pharmacy, will become associate deans under the reconstruction plan.

The school of home economics under Dean Alba Bales will continue as it is without any change.

No changes are contemplated in the division of agricultural extension.

Bison Cuts Deadline Set For December 5

Deadline for the acceptance of cuts for The Bison, North Dakota State college yearbook, has been set for Dec. 5 by Kenneth Hamry, business manager, and Chet Perry, assistant business manager.

The sales campaign has again been placed on a competitive basis, the group selling the largest number of cuts to be awarded a silver loving cup. In view of the limited time it is urged that attention be given the matter immediately. The cuts, priced the same as last year, should be bought from organization representatives, who are as follows: Helen Lierboe, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ellen Blair, Gamma Phi eBta; Cathryn Ray, Phi Mu; Carol Ladwig, Phi Omega Pi; Grace South, Kappa Delta; Virginia Schonberg, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Eugene Wiege, Alpha Gamma Rho; Don Fredrikson, Alpha Sigma Tau; Reuben Trom, Alpha Tau Omega; Don Buchanan, Delta Kappa Sigma; Felix Farrar, Delta Tau Epsilon; Tommie King, Kappa Sigma Chi; Harold Spitzer, Sigma Phi Delta; and Fred Leppert, Theta Chi.

Coed Prom Leader Selects Partner For Affair On Wednesday

Luella Furcht Chooses Helen
Fredrikson As Partner
To Lead March

Luella Furcht, social chairman of the YWCA and leader of the grand march for the Coed Prom, which will take place Wednesday, Nov. 22, has chosen Helen Fredrikson as her partner. The affair, which will have a Mardi Gras theme, will be held in Festival hall between the hours of eight and ten.

Following Misses Furcht and Fredrikson in the line of march will be Ruth Clausen, president of the YWCA, and her partner, Rhoda Clausen. Next in line will be Mrs. C. A. Teet, general secretary of the YWCA, and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg; Jeanette McComb, vice president, and Jean Newton; Mary McNair, secretary, and Lois McNair; and Dorothy Rutherford, treasurer, and Faith Stockton.

The Coed prom, sponsored annually by the college YWCA, is open to all women on the campus and is the one party of the year to which no men are admitted. It is a costume ball and prizes are given for the most appropriate, the funniest and the most original costumes. Judges for these will be Misses Dorothy Hatch, Minnie Anderson, and Esther Latzke.

Assisting Miss Furcht on the general arrangements committee are Thelma Liessman and Ellen Blair. Special guests at the affair will be Dean Pearl Dinan, Miss Alma Riggie, members of the Fargo YWCA and of the college YWCA advisory board. Music will be furnished through the medium of electrical transcription.

Play Producing Class Gives One Act Dramas

As their term project, members of the play production class under the direction of A. G. Arvold, head of the public discussion department, will present fourteen original one-act plays on the evenings of Nov. 28 and 29 in the Little Country theater.

The plays to be presented Nov. 28 are: "Scoop," by Helen Tarplee; "The Return," Pretoria Ogg; "The Trip," Robert Schultz; "Our Little Nell," Walter Dunkelberger; "Brown Eyes," Prudence Yager; "Dust," Virginia Landblom; and "Broken Heart," Adele McGillivray. On Nov. 29, "Tempress," Madeline Remfrey; "Stigma," Virginia Garberg; "Hayloft Mystery," Oline Ordahl; "Baron Templeton," Evelyn Myrdal; "Fate," Helen Solow; "After Twenty Years," Dorothy Stompro; and "So Be It," Carol Ladwig.

THANKSGIVING RECESS LIMITED TO ONE DAY

North Dakota State college students will receive a one-day Thanksgiving vacation this term, A. H. Parrott, registrar, has announced. Through a shortening of the Thanksgiving and Easter holidays a longer Christmas vacation and an earlier closing in the spring will be possible, resulting in a distinct saving for the students.

A NEW CUT SYSTEM

We are in favor of the proposed change in the system of cuts now in effect at the State college, and hope that the council in deferring its decision concerning the plan will not decide to retain the present arrangement.

Changing the ruling now in existence, which permits absences in each class without the infliction of a penalty, to the suggested one, which allows a number of cuts equal to the total weekly meetings of a class, would be a significant step toward a more complete responsibility on the part of each student. At the same time, class attendance would be encouraged by the plan of making out dean's lists.

Under the new system, a more rigid scanning of excuses turned in by students will be in force, a natural result of permitting a larger number of absences. This will tend to do away with the committing of willful absences, a prominent feature of the present cut system. The student will not feel as though he is chafing under a bond.

Because of the desirability of being placed on the dean's list, the student will be encouraged to attain a higher average and at the same time to indulge in fewer absences. Complete excuse from the regulations pertaining to absences, result of being placed on the dean's list, will be a worthwhile thing to work for.

At any rate, the fact that by it students will be allowed more individual freedom is enough to recommend the putting into effect of the change.

THE REORGANIZATION

This week announcement of a change in the campus administration of the North Dakota State college, primarily that of reducing the number of executive office holders from ten to five, has been made. At first glance, it would seem that by this would be affected a lowering of the school's standards, both in the teaching staff and in the number of courses available.

Let those who fear that such a thing may happen be reassured. Not a single instructor will be dropped from the payroll; not a single course of study will be eliminated; and there will not be a reduction in the salary of any of those on the staff.

That the change will very likely be a good thing for the institution may be seen: staff members who heretofore have had to spend considerable of their time at executive duties will now be able to turn their time to teaching and research work, while those retaining executive positions will be able to devote all of their time to that type of work rather than having to mix it up with instruction. This should result in a more efficient college staff in every way.

We hope that all people connected with the institution, as well as the people of North Dakota, will view the reorganization in such a light, rather than in one of a detracting nature. This is important, inasmuch as the move is a little difficult to understand.

APPROVED ADVERTISING SYSTEM IS INAUGURATED

Paul Deal, editor-in-chief of the North Dakota State Engineer, announces the inauguration of an approved advertising service. This is a movement launched by the engineering students to patronize the advertisers of the State Engineer when shopping.

The student body has been supplied membership cards introducing the individual to the advertiser and entitling him to the special considerations of the service.

Bison Briefs

By BILL

Well, beloved fellow classmates, "Tugboat Abbie" Porter was going to give us some dope this week, but she didn't show up, so we'll just have to grind out the usual boloney.

Of first importance, now that Bunty and her gang have "strutted and fretted their hour upon the stage," and the Frosh and Seniors have had their war of words, is the Engineers' Ball. Did you ever hear so much blather, twaddle, gabble, etc. about anything in your life? The consensus of opinion seems to be that those gamblers from the Y basement are rightly entitled to the nick: "Kappa Koquets." At least, they surely engineer ball leaders. And on the other hand, when those mechanical men get in high gear they sure forge ahead. We must concede that Fran has a peculiar power—perhaps the voice of the charmer, honeyed words, a come hither smile or a face that suggests love—something!

"Wanna buya ducat for the Engineers' Ball?"
"No, just lost my slide rule—can't go any place without that."

'Tis said that those tarzan-like townies from the tenth avenue temple threw the torridest tussel of the term. Itsha long shtory; everybody had a schwell time. The chaperons evidently didn't approve of the young Sigma Chi blade's balcony tactics. But, after all, sexperience is the best teacher.

When it comes to picking all-conference teams, we'd select the English department, with Storlie as captain. We hear that the following are exceptionally good linemen: Harold Miller, Buff Thompson, Frenchy LaMarre, Don McNaughton, P. T. Sid Bjornson, Bob Landbloom, Horace Spaulding, Don Hay, Dean Smith, Harold Sorenson, Bill Murphy, Bob Parrott, Hartley Eckstrom, George Toman, Ken Hamry, and Les Bigler. For shifty ends the following have been nominated: Jane Nichols, Fran Probst, Bernice Kline, Erma Weinberger, Doris Nelson, Helen Fagan, Lorraine Brakke, Busty Baker, Lucille McGrath and Eleanor Evanson.

Biting Sig Tau remark: Say, just because your name is Jones you needn't think you're emperor around here!

Thoughts at Random: That Arnold Chamberlin is getting to be some Socialist . . . Wonder how Tom King and somebody else are clicking lately? . . . Guess the Gamma Deltas had a lot of fun breaking balloons at their dance which was without benefit of orchestra . . . Merry Xmas Idan; took you a long time to hang that pin . . . Wonder if Helen Foster, red-headed Cosmopolitan club poet, is any relation to the Golden Maid . . . Kappa line: Why don't you come down to our lair some time; we have a Treat in store for you . . . Eunice Conlon is going to have trouble over hair-waving, just like "Stars and Stripes Forever" Tritchler . . . Stretch Hanson makes frequent pilgrimages to Kindred; wonder why . . . Sam (Emanuel) Moore is sure in on a lot of rackets for a young fellow . . . Erlys Hill, Roman Meyers, Gale Monson and Ken Hamry in the "Collegiate Digest" this time. The last two are the little punks seen up front in the "Soup to Nuts" pictures . . . Last line: Phi Mu nasty man!

The University of Michigan has increased the gym requirements from one to three semesters.

AT THE THEATERS

State
Spencer Tracy defends his flag and falls in love with beautiful Fay Wray in a stirring picture of Chinese Communists in "Shanghai Madness" playing at the State theater this Friday and Saturday. Five acts of amateur vaudeville will feature the Friday evening performance.

Offered next Monday and Tuesday at the State is another Charlie Chan story "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case" with Warner Oland, Heather Angel, John Warburton and Clara Blandick.

How an unscrupulous newspaper man after selling advertising unethically and sacrificing the girl who loves him changes is portrayed in "No Marriage Ties," coming to the State Wednesday and Thursday. Featured are Richard Dix and Elizabeth Allan.

Roxy

"The Woman I Stole," starring Jack Holt and Fay Wray is now showing at the Roxy theater. The peculiar conditions of this story about a man who sought the acquiescence of his friends for having taken another man's wife, adds to the dramatic situations.

Polly Walker, star of various New York musical comedies, leads the cast of the first-run musical, "Sleepless Nights," which plays the first half of the next week at the Roxy. This picture is replete with all the dancing choruses, snappy songs, and rollicking humor which make up a picture of this sort.

SAM STERN DISCUSSES ALASKA HUNTING TRIPS

"Hunting Big Game in Alaska" will be the subject of a program to be presented by Sam Stern before the Saddle and Siroin club next Tuesday, Nov. 21.

Mr. Stern, prominent Fargo business man, has made several hunting tours in the Far North, and from his personal experiences he will present a movie and talk. Included on the program will be an exhibition of some of his big game guns and trophies which he has acquired.

Women representing two sororities will participate in their first debate at the University of Nevada.

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

By BOB CONNOLLY

Tomorrow's game with the Goldbugs in far off Oklahoma City completes the 1933 season for our slow starting but rapidly improving Bison football team, that is coming back next season practically intact to be our choice for the 1934 supremacy of the North Central conference.

The Goldbugs, after losing much of their gloss last Saturday in a 39-0 smashup in the hands of the Tulsa Golden Hurricane, will try desperately to redeem themselves, especially against the Bison, who beat them 27-7 last year.

If past games of this season mean anything, the Oklahoma City university eleven can be a powerful football machine.

Before the Tulsa upset the Bugs had not only had a good season but even beat the Oklahoma Aggies, a powerhouse eleven which whipped the Tulsans and last weekend beat Drake 21-0.

Stung by their dusting at the hands of their traditional rivals, Wes Fry's Gilded Boys are likely to give the Bison their severest test of several seasons.

A great deal of the rapid improvement of the North Dakota State grid-ers can be attributed to the attitude of the players, in the opinion of Head Coach "Casey" Finnegan.

"Most teams that I have associated with usually pat a man on the back and say 'better luck next time' when the player misses a tackle," the Bison coach said this week. "But my 1933 crew of outlaws just lights on the player and pans him so much he doesn't dare ever again fall down in his playing assignment."

Led by Harold "Art Shires" Miller, senior guard, the team has also developed as a crew of pun-jokesters, not to be equalled in college football.

"It's going too far when Miller starts telling the opposition some prize jokes on the two-yard line," one player complained. However, the boys made that touchdown.

Coupling this spirit with that of being able to give as much as they take, along with the great showing they have made in their last few games, we look for our Bison to give the Goldbugs a tough time tomorrow.

Bison Will Meet Oklahoma Goldbugs, Closing Season

Southern Team Utilizes Speed, Deception Rather Than "Powerhouse" Play

Casey Finnegan's 1933 edition of the Thundering Herd will play its last game of the season tomorrow at Oklahoma City, Okla., where they will encounter the highly-touted Goldbugs of the Oklahoma City university. A squad of twenty-two men made the trip.

Under the critical eyes of Coaches Wesley Fry and Toby Green, the Bugs have developed a strong team both offensively and defensively. This season's squad, contrary to previous Oklahoma teams, depends on speed and deception in their running attack rather than on the "powerhouse" type of game for which the University eleven have come to be noted.

With such men as Captain John Bentley, Cliff Pickens, flashy open field runner, Jack Sweet, hard driving back, and a host of other scoring threats, the Bison will probably have a very full afternoon. Although the Herd defeated them last year by a 27-7 count, odds on this year's game are about even.

The loss of Schollander and George May, regular backfield men, has necessitated the shifting of Acey Olson from end to halfback. In the game with South Dakota university last Saturday, Olson was used at this post and showed a good deal of promise. The other three starting backfield positions probably will be filled by Gerteis, Reiners and Hanson. Olson's end position will be taken over by Beryl Newman, promising sophomore candidate.

Playing for the last time in a Bison uniform will be Captain Roman Meyers, tackle, Harold Miller, guard, and James Thompson, center.

Leroy A. Chloupek, Ch. '33, has secured a position as plant foreman with the Industrial Paint and Varnish Co. in Dallas Texas. He was previously employed in Indianapolis, Ind.

From the "Brown and White" we learn that the new president of Princeton, Harold W. Dodds, is an accomplished tango dancer.

Bison Defeat South Dakota U To Place Second In Standings

Buffalomen Victorious In Last Conference Engagement Of Season, 14-0

In their last conference grid tilt of the season the North Dakota State college Bison assured themselves of second place in the North Central conference by virtue of their 14-0 win over the Coyotes of South Dakota university last Saturday afternoon at Vermillion, S. D.

Early in the final quarter of the game the Bison were forced to make some radical changes in their lineup due to the removal of Windy Schollander, who suffered a broken ankle bone. Acey Olson was shifted from end to Schollander's post, and Herb Peschel was sent to the flank in place of Olson. Regardless of the new arrangement, the Bison played brilliant football in the fourth quarter, making their second counter in this period of the game.

The contest started with a punting duel between O'Connor of South Dakota and Bud Marquardt of the Bison, but it was suddenly broken up by a fine pass from Schollander in midfield to Fritz Hanson on the 10-yard marker, and eluding two Coyotes Hanson stepped over the goal line for the first score of the game.

The second counter came as a result of a sustained drive by Schollander, Erling Schranz and Leo Gerteis, aggregating 50 yards and placing the ball on the 12-yard line. On the first play Schranz carried the ball for eight yards while on the next play Reiners carried the ball 4 yards for a touchdown, and Marquardt made the kick for placement count.

The Coyotes failed to threaten the Bison to any degree throughout the contest, but a near touchdown occurred when Sherwood broke loose for a 37-yard gain, placing the ball on State's 7-yard line, but the play was called back and the Coyotes were penalized for offside.

For South Dakota Sherwood, Dunn, Clinker, O'Connor and Freeburg all did excellent work in the backfield, while Bryan and Groves were outstanding in the line.

Marquardt, Peschel, Meyers and Leonard House played capably in the line for the Bison while Hanson, Schranz, Schollander, Reiners and Gerteis in the backfield were constant threats to the Coyotes.

Captain Conny Splits Rifle Practice Squad

Due to the large number of candidates trying out for positions on the 1934 North Dakota State college rifle squad, it has become necessary to split the group, having part of them appear on one day and the other half firing on a different day, according to Capt. J. B. Conny, rifle team coach.

Greater interest has been shown thus far in rifle marksmanship than has been evident in past years. About 120 men have reported for shooting, and 87 men have already qualified to go on the preliminary firing. In these preliminary matches the men who fired on the squad last year are acting in the capacity of assistant coaches.

Any student desiring to try out for the squad is urged to report for preliminary instruction this week, as these classes will soon be discontinued. Try-outs for the team are held Friday afternoons at 2 and 4:30, or on Saturdays at 10 a. m. at the rifle range in the physical education building.

Prince Toumanoff, once a general in the Russian Imperial army, is librarian at Harvard university.

Christian Organization Delegates Meet Here

In order to formulate plans for the annual student conference of the college YMCAs and YWCAs, to be held in Minot next April 27, 28 and 29, delegates from the State college and university groups met Sunday, Nov. 12, in the college YMCA. Elizabeth White, Minot State Teachers' college, who will act as conference chairman, conducted the meeting.

In charge of securing speakers and discussion leaders are Ruth Clausen and Harry Hanson, presidents of the local organizations.

Representatives from the YWCA groups at Minot, Valley City, Grand Forks, Mayville, Jamestown and Fargo also met Friday and Saturday with Marcia Seeber of Chicago, national field secretary. The area committee composed of Thelma Liessman, Ruth Clausen and Luella Ulness, who were delegates from Fargo, discussed plans and programs from the YWCAs of the state. This committee serves as the governing body of the organization in North Dakota.

At the University of Minnesota the leading items in the lost and found department last semester were gloves and ten cent store jewelry.

Students and faculty of North Dakota State college will hear Arthur Kraft, tenor, at convocation next Monday, Nov. 20.

Mr. Kraft is reputed to be a singer of unusual merit and is considered to have one of the finest voices of the country. Although he has sung at festivals throughout the country he has never been in this district before. Eastern cities have judged him "an artist of premier rank."
