

Lyceum Crowd Acclaims Hall Johnson Choir

Spirituals Rendered By Negro Singers In Novel And Unusual Manner

BLUES NUMBERS ARE SUNG
Leader Is Famous For Musical Arrangement Of Marc Connelly Success

That Negro spirituals can be different despite their familiarity, was proved Wednesday evening when the Hall Johnson Negro choir opened the twenty-third annual Lyceum series in Festival hall to a capacity audience.

Their excellent choral effects were characterized by an uncanny clarity of diction and an adequate sense of rhythm which was undoubtedly rather difficult to attain without musical accompaniment.

Opening their program with "Ride On, Jesus" the choir for more than two hours entertained with spirituals, blues and chain gang songs, ending with the old favorite, "Deep River." "Cert'ny, Lord" and "The St. James Infirmary Blues" were perhaps the best received of the numbers.

Strangely, Mr. Johnson began his musical career by teaching violin. He admits his ignorance of vocal technique and his knowledge of harmonic arrangements, for, he states, the success of his choral group can be attributed alone to their novel and modern renditions of old Negro musical classics.

Hall Johnson made himself internationally known with his musical arrangements for Marc Connelly's "Green Pastures" which opened in New York in 1930, and is now traveling on the road.

The Hall Johnson choir will return to New York within the next month in order to begin work on the production of "Run, Little Chillun, Run."—R. A.

Social Science Group Initiates New Members

Aurora Haas, Elizabeth Lowell, Milton Holtmeier, Virginia Garberg Admitted

Initiation of new members of Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, and the first regular program of the year took place last night at 5:30 in the Waldorf hotel. Those initiated were Aurora Haas, Elizabeth Lowell, Milton Holtmeier, and Virginia Garberg.

The program consisted of a series of three-minute talks on the Century of Progress by members who attended the exposition this summer, and the outlining of the program for the year, which will stress "A Decade of Progress."

Officers of the organization are Leona Siegel, president; Arnold Chamberlin, vice president; and Prof. C. A. Severson, secretary-treasurer. Dr. W. C. Hunter is chairman of the program committee.

Meetings are held regularly on the second Thursday of each month, the next to be on Dec. 7.

Sanders Issues Call For More Songsters

Frank Sanders, men's glee club director and coach, states that 40 men have so far reported for practice. "However," he says, "about 20 more voices are needed, and tryouts will be continued through this week. They will be held at 4:15 each afternoon in Festival hall."

John Gabe, as a representative of Blue Key, the organization sponsoring the glee club, visited each fraternity last Monday evening to urge participation in this activity by as many students as possible.

Practices will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 4:00 p. m. at the Bison Brevities office in the barracks, starting Tuesday, Nov. 14. The three days of practice have been so arranged that the members of the first and second bands may have a chance to join the glee club.

Mary Elizabeth Ricker and Ruth Anderson are hostesses for the next Blue Monday tea to be held Nov. 12.

Fraternities Open Christmas Holiday Season Last Sunday

Beginning the Christmas holiday season earlier than usual this year, five fraternities on the campus early last Sunday morning donated money, watches, clothing, jewelry, and a meal to an unknown guest, who has not as yet been apprehended.

Uninvited at all houses he visited, the guest replenished his larder at the Kappa Sigma Chi house by emptying the icebox of its contents (Exhibit A: can of corn opened by means of jack knife). Before leaving he tried on a pair of the house manager's pants, but the fit being rather poor, left them lying on the floor.

A Theta Chi member, returning late from playing a dance engagement, was the only one to encounter the guest. Asked if he had found a place to sleep, our hero replied by saying that he guessed he'd go downtown to the hotel. Before leaving, however, he helped himself to such gifts as some forty dollars, two watches, a hat and a new niggerhead coat leaving, in lieu of thanks, a fairly presentable sheepskin overcoat.

Finding everyone asleep at the Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Tau Omega houses the morning's guest neglected to wake anyone to inform them of his arrival but did help himself to all loose currency and wrist watches that he could find. Over at the Sigma Phi Delta house he enriched himself to the extent of three dollars, also visiting the commissary.

Amateur campus sleuths have been working on the case all week, making their deductions at fraternity bull sessions. Their conclusions simmer down to the facts that: (1) the visitor was evidently well acquainted with the location and the structure of the fraternity houses; (2) the visitor was also a bit tipsy; (3) the visitor is in for a little man-handling if he ever comes back.

Plans Made To Accommodate Last Minute Dates For Party

Tickets For Tonight's Affair To Be On Sale At Door

To accommodate those girls who have not yet purchased tickets for the Senior Staff party to be held in Festival hall tonight from 8:30 to 11:30 and who wish to attend, tickets will be sold at the door at no reduction in price, Sally Hunkins and Abbie Porter, who are in charge of the party, announced this morning.

Through their three parties of the year, of which this is the first, Senior Staff earns the money for a scholarship presented a junior woman in the spring term.

Entertainment at the dance will be furnished by Erlys Hill and Frank Sanders, who will present a vocal duet, and by Lorraine Brakke, Marion Wagner and Helen Fagan, who will sing a "little close harmony." Capt. and Mrs. H. J. McChrystal and Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Conny will chaperon.

Guests are asked to patronize the Golden Maid cafe following the party, since Senior staff is to receive a percentage of the proceeds from these sales. Tickets will be given couples at the dance to present at the cafe when they pay their check.

Class Plans Typical Community Program

Entertainment For Boys, Girls Institute Directed By By A. G. Arvold

Preparations are being made by the community program class, under A. G. Arvold, for an entertainment to be given on the campus at the Boys' and Girls' institute, Dec. 12-13-14. This group of young people, representing communities from all over North Dakota, will come to Fargo for their annual convention.

This typical community program will include musical acts, songs and dances, a one-act play, exhibits, and demonstrations of different kinds which will be of interest to both boys and girls. It is the aim of those who are planning the festivities to show these young people not only a good time but also to give them an entertainment which will be of benefit educationally.

Photography Contract Awarded McCracken

McCracken's studio of Fargo has been awarded the 1935 Bison photography contract by the Board of Publications control, it was announced today by Kenneth Hamry, business manager of the publication.

The cut sales campaign will open next Monday with Chet Perry in charge. A meeting was held by members of the advertising staff yesterday to map out a campaign plan. Future announcements will appear on the college bulletin board.

The taking of group pictures will begin this week, according to Jane Nichols, editor-in-chief of the Bison.

JOURNALISM FRATERNITY HOLDS MEETING TUESDAY

The local chapter of Gamma Tau Sigma, national journalistic fraternity, held a noon luncheon in the small dining room in Ceres hall on Tuesday with its pledge members as guests and entertainers.

Plans for initiation of the six pledges, Ralph Anderson, Paul Boleyn, Donald Fraser, Kenneth Hamry, Jack Knight, and Chester Perry, were discussed at a meeting following luncheon.

Luella Furcht Leads March At Coed Prom

Costume Party For Members Of YWCA Scheduled For November 22

First in line at the Coed prom, the outstanding party sponsored by the YWCA during the year held in Festival hall, Wednesday, Nov. 22, will be Luella Furcht, social chairman, and her partner.

All guests, members of the YWCA, will appear in costumes and prizes will be awarded for the prettiest, funniest and the most appropriate. Hours will be from 8 to 10 p. m.

Committees in charge are general arrangements, Luella Furcht, chairman, Frances Plaggmeir, Thelma Liessman; decorations, Irene Gast, chairman, Virginia Garberg, Helen Lee, and Mary Elise Bibow; refreshments, Muriel Fisk, chairman, Jean Newton, Leone Phillips, Betty Bristol; program, Luella Unness, chairman, Jane Nichols, Isabel Humphreys, Mary McNair; music, Genevieve Skinner, chairman, Rhoda Clausen, Grace South; promotion, Cathryn Ray, chairman, Marion Bristol, Maxine Rustad; prizes, Dorothy Rutherford, chairman, Carol Ladwig, Amy Glaser; cleanup, Elva Eklund, chairman, Betty Bickert, Carmen Ostby, Margaret Olson.

Prof. Stevens Makes Unique Experiment

An interesting experiment, relative to the behavior of plants in different latitudes, is being carried on by Prof. O. A. Stevens of North Dakota State college staff in co-operation with Prof. Willard N. Clute, botanist at Butler university, Indianapolis, Ind., and editor of "The American Botanist," magazine devoted to botany.

Professor Stevens has sent several samples of different North Dakota perennials to the eastern school to study the time of flowering as compared with the time of flowering of a duplicate sample planted here. In order to make this study as complete as possible, roots are divided whenever the structure permits, and the section retained is planted here.

To date it has been found that samples from North Dakota, planted by Professor Clute, have blossomed several days earlier than varieties native to Indiana.

Ball Managers Choose Grand March Escorts

Frances Plaggmeir, Marjorie Fields Are First And Second In Line

JOHN GABE IS MANAGER

Engineers Ball Open To Entire Student Body; Flaa In Charge Of Tickets

Miss Frances Plaggmeir will lead the grand march at the Engineers' ball next Friday evening in Festival hall as the escort of John Gabe, ball manager, while second in line will come Miss Marjorie Fields, escorted by Robert Thompson, assistant ball manager. The line for the grand march will form at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Gabe announced today that plans for the ball are practically complete. The ticket sales committee, headed by Idan Flaa, reports a successful windup of its drive. The decorations committee, with Albert Ruemmele in charge, has devised novel lighting effects, the nature of which are not to be fully revealed until the party.

Profs. G. Yott and J. R. Van Dyke of the mechanical engineering faculty and their wives will act as chaperons for the affair, while other members of the engineering faculty will be guests.

Tickets for the ball, which is an annual project sponsored by the Engineers' club, are fifty cents.

Founding Of Guidon Marked By Banquet

Group Initiates Luella Furcht, Holds Pledging Service For Eight Women

Guidon, honorary sorority for R. O. T. C. sponsors, will hold its annual Founders' day banquet tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the Powers hotel. Guests include Col. and Mrs. E. A. Lathrop, Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Conny, Capt. and Mrs. H. J. McChrystal, Maj. and Mrs. R. Schlaepfer, and members of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity.

Rhoda Clausen, as president of Guidon, will act as toastmaster at the banquet. Helen Fredrikson will speak for Guidon members; James Coleman for Scabbard and Blade; and Colonel Lathrop for the military department of the college. Mildred Thorstad, band sponsor, will present a vocal solo.

Following the banquet Luella Furcht will be initiated into active membership in Guidon while the following women will be pledged: Cecil Olson, Helen Lee, Kathryn Marcks, Margrethe Tronnes, Frances Plaggmeir, Dorothy Pray, Eleanor Evanson, and Phyllis Tritchler.

Those having general charge of arrangements for the affair are Rhoda Clausen and Luella Furcht, while the program is in charge of Helen Fredrikson and Ruth Dyson.

Aeronautics Award Offered At College

W. E. Boeing scholarships will be offered again during the school year 1933-1934 to American university and college undergraduates, according to an announcement received from the Boeing School of Aeronautics at Oakland, Calif. These scholarships comprise four courses and have a tuition value of $7500.

To be eligible for entering the competition the student must be able to meet the following requirements:

1. He must be an undergraduate student in regular attendance in some university, college or junior college in the United States or Canada, which offers at least two years of work leading to a bachelor's degree in arts or sciences.
2. He must be of the white race; between the ages of 18 and 25; of average height; normal weight; have normal eyesight; and be devoid of any physical handicaps.
3. He must write an essay of between 1800 and 2000 words on any aeronautical subject he may choose, subject to the approval of the national committee of award.

Edwin Booth Dramatic Club Stages Highland Drama Next Wednesday

"A novel play that warms the cockles of the heart and sets one aglow with genuine pleasure," is "Bunty Pulls the Strings," to be presented in the Little Country theater Wednesday night, Nov. 15, under the auspices of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club and with the direction of Alice McConnell Bender.

A Scotch atmosphere will permeate the theater when this delightfully simple story of the homely life of the Highlands is staged. Dialect, costuming and settings will combine in making a comedy of universal application, humorously provincial.

FROSH WOMEN ASKED TO TRY FOR BREVITIES

All freshman girls who are interested in the Bison Brevities as an activity from the angle of dancing, costuming, singing, acting, and art work or painting are requested by those in charge to report at Festival hall Thursday, Nov. 16 at 7:00 p. m.

All women students especially interested in singing roles or in private aid in improving the voice will please report at the Bison Brevities office at 4:00 p. m. Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Rhodes Scholarship Blanks Due Nov. 18

American Students Afforded Opportunity To Work At English School

Students wishing to become candidates for the 1934 Rhodes scholarships must have their applications delivered to Pres. John C. West of the University of North Dakota on or before Nov. 18, 1933, announces Dean A. E. Minard of the school of science and literature, from whom blanks may be secured.

A Rhodes scholarship provides for two years' attendance at the University of Oxford, England. Thirty-two scholarships are given annually in the United States, four persons being selected from each of eight districts, irrespective of the states they represent. Each application from a State college student must be accompanied by a statement by Pres. J. H. Shepperd that the student is a suitable candidate for the scholarship. References and a certified record of scholastic achievements are also required.

It is advisable that each applicant have a knowledge of Latin or Greek, and of French, German, Italian or Spanish. Unless two of these, including Latin or Greek, have been included in his college course, the candidate cannot obtain junior standing upon his arrival at Oxford.

Unless otherwise announced the state committee will meet on Jan. 2 or 4 1934 to select two candidates to represent the state. North Dakota is in the same district as Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

State Y Heads Meet In All-Day Session

An all-day conference session of the North Dakota college YMCA's and YWCA's will be held Sunday, Nov. 12, in the North Dakota State college YMCA building, beginning at 9 a. m. Lester Howard, state YMCA travelling secretary will be in charge.

While in session the group will discuss the annual spring student conference, to be held this year in Minot. Suggestions for speakers and leaders for discussion groups will also be presented.

Representatives will include members from the YMCA and YWCA groups of the various schools and colleges of the state. Erling Thorson, secretary, and Harry Hanson, president of the local YMCA, and Mrs. Carl Teet, secretary, and Ruth Clausen, president of the YWCA, will represent the local college units.

All the representatives will be guests at a dinner in the YMCA dining rooms at 12 noon.

NOTICE
There will be a meeting of the Board of Publications next Wednesday noon at Ceres hall.
George Toman, President.

The character of a woman who believes that "woman was made to do all that a man can do, and better than he could," and yet advises to "never let your man think that he is no the master, but be sure that you manage him yersel!" predominates the play and is acted by Mary Baker. Robert Benton plays opposite her in the juvenile lead. Horace Spaulding fills the part of Bunty's stubborn Calvinistic father.

Others in the cast include Rab Biggar, brother of Bunty, Dayton Jones; Susie Simpson, a visitor in Tammas Biggar's house, Lucille Iverson; Ellen Dunlop, Evelyn Myrdahl; Tinnie Dunlop, Carol Ladwig; Jeems Gibb, Gerald Stevens; Maggie Mercer, Charlotte Treat; Daniel Birrell, Seth Peterson. Villagers and shepherds include Harold Sundfor, Robert Schulz, Mary Elizabeth Ricker, Elizabeth Dewey, Grace South, Bob Knower, Earl Turnblad, Mary Murphy, and Grace Cole.

Committee heads making arrangements for the presentation are Gerald Stevens, tickets; Sally Hunkins, costumes; Robert Benton, properties; and Frederick Martin, advertising.

It is a tradition of the Edwin Booth dramatic club to stage a comedy each term. "Bunty Pulls the Strings" will fulfill the tradition.

Seniors Meet Frosh In Debating Finals

Compulsory Military Training Question Is Discussed In Debate Series

Bringing the interclass debate tournament to an end, the freshman team will clash with the seniors in the finals next Thursday evening in the Little Country theater. Discussing the question, "Resolved, that compulsory military training at North Dakota State college should be abolished," these two teams triumphed over their opponents in the semifinals this week, thus winning the right to participate in the finals.

Taking part in the interclass tournament are Calvin Olson, Adeline Naftalin, Earl Turnblad, Neil McCabe, Virginia Garberg, Robert Hagen, Patricia Lynch and Arnold Spitzer.

P. E. Zerby and Dr. C. I. Nelson judged the semifinals, each giving a constructive criticism at the conclusion of the debates.

In conjunction with the finals next Thursday, the argumentation and debate class, under the direction of Donald Hay of the public speaking department, will present a program, "The Epics of America," in which the development of democracy since the time of Lincoln will be depicted.

Sigma Tau Delta Has Organization Meeting

It is requested that all members be present at the organization meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, to be held next Tuesday, Nov. 14, at four o'clock in room 225, Science hall.

Primarily a writers' club, the organization was started at North Dakota State college five years ago and was incorporated with the national honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, three years ago. Since then it has recognized general ability in the field of English. Members are elected at the end of each term and are chosen for outstanding ability either in English literature or English composition.

The organization intends to devote this year to an informal study and discussion of modern writers.

CAMPUS DRAMATICS

We have on this campus a recognizedly capable group of instructors in the dramatic arts. Each year sees a series of successful debates, plays, and pageants produced by students under their direction. We feel that they have done, are doing, and will continue to do well in this line of endeavor.

Student appreciation of and student interest in their work as a whole has been lax. On the evening of the presentation of a play, comparatively few of the seats in the Little Country theater are occupied by members of the student body. When students in the cast and the directors of the cast turn out such fine pieces of work, it is surprising as well as shameful that more students do not attend these productions.

Certainly expense cannot be the reason. Especially priced tickets are always on sale for the student body—at a lower rate than tickets to downtown theaters. Why not give the school a break and express your appreciation of the work done by its students on the stage by being present at some of these productions? You cannot help but enjoy watching students of your own institution show what they can do in the line of debate, drama, or pageantry. Next Wednesday evening in the Little Country theater will be given a comedy, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," which is a part of the tradition maintained by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club in presenting each term to students of the North Dakota State college a play. Let's show our interest in our own school's work by putting aside those books for a couple of hours and enjoying what certainly promises to be a good entertainment.

MILITARY TRAINING

Receiving a large share of controversy in many of the colleges today is compulsory military training, a characteristic of all land grant colleges or government owned schools.

Those in favor of the system have this to say: that military training builds one mentally, morally, and physically; that it determines whether one can "take it" or not; that it is of especial advantage should another war be declared.

Arranged on the opposite side of the question are those who say, What in the name of common sense is the use of trying to prevent war when we have such a system of compulsory military training, which is in absolute variance with the whole idea of peace? And furthermore, military instructors are instilling in the minds of those under them the idea that we in this country must be ready to defend ourselves, because if we don't watch out, Japan, or Italy, or someone, is apt to get us.

With conditions in the world as they now are it certainly seems that those in favor of abolishing compulsory military training are in the minority. The increasing show of martial strength by such countries as Germany, Italy, and France should certainly operate against the curtailment of any activity pertaining to the Department of War.

NEWMAN CLUB ADMITS THIRTY NEW MEMBERS

The Newman club, society for Catholic students on the campus, will initiate thirty new members Sunday, Nov. 12, at 7:30 p. m. in the Knights of Columbus hall. This is the first time in the history of the organization on this campus that the society has held initiation ceremonies of any sort.

Any students wishing to join the Newman club are requested to attend this meeting or to communicate with Roman Meyers, president of the society.

Student Opinion...

N. D. S. CRIME SITUATION

"Say! Who the devil ran off with my coat?" This sentence fell on the writer's ear one day last week. In this way, too often, our attention is unpleasantly brought to bear upon a situation in existence here on this campus. For some strange reason there seems to be a large number of people here that have no scruples toward possessing themselves of other peoples' property as their own. Truly the unknown author of the statement, "American colleges today are graphic cross-sections of American life," neglected to provide for the rising flood of stealing students who do away with coats, hats, gloves, books, pen and pencil sets, in fact, any of the necessities of school life.

Is it possible, fellow students, that the honesty of our people is disintegrating so markedly as to make it impossible to wear anything to school but a bathing suit? Are we going to allow students to register in this institution, without paying their tuition, solely for the opportunity afforded to steal in their coming and going to classes? How many of us can afford to lose a coat or even a hat without suffering unduly? This school is not known as a rich man's college, but by all means let us keep it a place to seek our education, without having to worry about thieves every minute of the day!

The writer recommends severe punishment to anyone found guilty of theft on this campus. Let us put a stop to this thieving and in doing so help to make this school's name something other than the one where they stole the proverbial shirt off our various and several backs!—Paul Whyte.

School Spirit

If students of N. D. S. C. were an army and the football boys were captains and cheers and yells were bullets, the defeat of the army would be visualized from the onset of the embroglio due to a very soul-depressing attitude which is not prevalent elsewhere.

So it is with the spirit, loyalty, and general attitude of the students. It is pathetic and unwarranted to note the pep-meetings, that is, to note the lifelessness and ominous silence that shrouds Festival hall which should normally be filled with vim and vigor. Even Festival hall presents a picture of utter desolation, weariness, and deathly silence typical of attending students.

Hark! ye who hypocrisy veils with charm and splendor, who outside of school are rabid supporters, who when confronted by a small rally thing it unimportant to attend, must remember that you yourselves are the constituent parts of that organization, and in order to further its success your whole-hearted and willing cooperation and support are needed.

It isn't possible that the students at-

Bison Briefs

By BILL

Hoity toity! We (doesn't that journalistic "we" give you a pain?) could write a swell poem about the Senior Staff Bargain Skip. Just look at the possibilities. Skip rhymes with chip, pip, gyp, lip, tip and slip. A penny for your thoughts, as Mae West would say. And while the skippers are having and holding their men tonight, versatile Lucille Iverson will be doing a Sally Rand, in red flannels, at the State theater. Sally Minard and Virginia Smith are in the supporting roles—just a couple of new Texas Guinans sprouting up on our campus. Better be down there, Brevities managers! We can hardly wait (to use an expression of Bill Christianson's—you know that famous campus prankster, and collector of shady stories.)

Have you noticed the coeds' "quips and cranks and wanton wiles, nods and becks and wreathed smiles" when a fraternity is about to throw a party?

To the Theta Chis, A. T. O.'s, Gamma Phis and K. S. Chis go the palms for hospitality this week. To Don Harris of the Theta Chi country villa goes the trophy for best individual performance (although we'll concede that The Forum did him an injustice concerning his speeding of the parting guest). Anyhow, the bird has flown out into the night with precious metals amounting to $88, which all goes to show that if you give a thief enough rope he'll tie up the nightwatchman. After all, it says in St. Matthew: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal."—One of the boys said: "When I get that guy I'll put my slimy hands around his pimply neck and choke him till his blood runs cold cash. I'll send him to the morgue in a gunny sack. Revenge is sweeter than flowing money. Oh, I'll break his (vulgarism) neck!"—We'll bet Fritz Hanson is in favor of F. D. R.'s permanent dollar policy now. He had his purse strings pulled for a $17 loss—and Bunty didn't pull them either. By the way, "Bunty Pulls the Strings" is not a puppet show. It will be good though—plenty good, if Bunty can pull the strings as well as Marion Weeks can pull taffy.

Phyllis Tritchler's out on bail. Such a nice girl, too.

The Sigma Taus are still rushing; keeping in shape for next fall we wager. The Gamma Phis seem to be the present victims.

Several cadet officers are practically using the practice house for a barracks this term. But then you might expect a Flaa in a practice house.

They call Sanders "FrankandStein" because he plays in a beer parlor. Frank reports that Reuben Trom is now on the road to recovery.

Last line: But Miss Dinan, you've got to be a little liberal. I'll admit "I'm No Angel", but after all—tending N. D. S. C. are devoid of emotional outbursts. Emotion is an important characteristic to every one—it is by that that we express ourselves, whether it be in church or in the grandstand.

Last, last line: Doering, there's a Phi Mu on the phone that wants you to croon "Thanks" for her.

What the students need is some real yells, more emotional cheerleaders, and interesting pep speakers. Then, if the attitude does not change the annals of our school days will be very us to the end of our days as unworthy and false to our Alma Mater.

So come one, come all, show a hearty spirit at our next meeting at the venerable Festival Hall and rest assured that when you leave the hall that old axiom famous in its day and in our day shall come ringing to your ears and souls "United we stand, divided we fal."—Ernest Toskas.

LANDSCAPING CLASSES STUDY 20 CITY HOMES

Classes in landscape gardening under Prof. C. B. Waldron of the department of horticulture and forestry at the North Dakota State college are taking trips to make a study of grounds and landscaping of 20 Fargo residences. Plans are being made for field trips to be taken in the spring into the lake regions of Minnesota and to the Pioneer woods at Cass lake where the national and state forests are located.

Mayme Nadin and Helen Boettcher were guests at the Kappa Delta house on Monday evening.

Bison Play Last Conference Game Tomorrow

SPECTRUM SPORT SPECULATIONS

By BOB CONNOLLY

Tomorrow there will be a very determined Coyote team which is going to fight hard to keep the Bison from the red ribbon of second place in the North Central football conference.

The blue bunting, it appears, is very close to the den of "Cy" Kasper's swift Jackrabbits from Brookings.

Take it from C. D. Locklin, Grand Forks Herald sports editor, the S. D. U. Coyotes have the largest squad and some of the best football material in the loop, and may start anytime to show their thus far latent power.

But if the Bison keep on playing like they have during the past two weekends, we won't give odds on any team in these parts, against the Herd.

A lot of the praise for the improved showing must be given to Leo Gerteis, sophomore quarterback and football scientist, who has taken over the signal calling position during the past two games. Besides being an outstanding blocker and ball carrier, he uses more football strategy than any other Bison signal caller in years.

In agreement is Rube Hoy, assistant S. D. U. coach, who scouted the Bison as they trounced Moorhead Teachers, 20-0.

"I saw more Bison football that day than any game I have witnessed," Scout Hoy said. "More plays were clicked out by the team than I knew the Bison used". The answer is Quarterback Gerteis.

A potent factor in the improved Bison showing is the return plus the improved effectiveness of Wendell Schollander, standout passer of the conference.

Schollander has improved greatly in blocking and running and has maintained his great passing game to hit his best stride since he joined the North Dakota State college varsity.

And Fritzie Hanson with two bad ankles is still the flashiest open field runner in this region. He can catch passes also, (just ask Moorhead Dragons, N. D. U. or Morningside).

No one can pass any festered lilies or cactus to the Bison line, for their performance all season has been top notch. The first line of defense has thus far allowed just 4 touchdowns to the opposition in eight games, one through a long pass and two as the result of fumbles near the Herd's own goal. They deserve their orchids.

The linemen's performance leaves little doubt that the State college tradition of rugged lines is being upheld again this year.

The brightest asset of the great Bison team that is developing under the watchful eyes of coach "Casey" Finnegan and his talented lieutenant Bob Lowe is the fact that the entire backfield and nearly all the impregnable line are going to be back to give the other conference teams some sleepless nights, next fall.

Oppose South Dakota University Squad On Field At Vermillion

Contest To Determine Holder Of Second Place In Loop Standings

Prepared for their last conference game of the season, the Bison left yesterday morning for Vermillion, S. D., where they will face the University of South Dakota tomorrow afternoon. A win for the Bison will assure them of second place in the conference.

Although the Bison are favored to win, Coach Casey Finnegan was somewhat pessimistic as to the outcome of the game since the squad has been confined to indoor practice the past week. He also fears a feeling of over-confidence may prevail, as the Bison functioned so smoothly last Saturday.

The University Coyotes gave a surprise to the conference when they defeated the Morningside squad several weeks ago. With several good breaks, a smoother Coyote outfit played in that game than in any other previous game. Rated as underdogs in their annual clash against South Dakota State, the fighting University team held them to two touchdowns, one of which was the result of a fumble on the 4-yard line. Last week, however, South Dakota university fell victims at Chicago to a tough DePaul team, 20-0.

"Oaks" Olson, one of the Coyotes' leading backfield men, received a back injury in the South Dakota university game which will keep him from the field the remainder of the season. "Red" Clinker, another strong backfield man who gains yardage consistently, plays alongside Sherwood at the halfback position, while Freebury is stationed at fullback.

In the Coyote line there are four tackles, including two substitutes, none of whom are less than 6 feet in height, and less than 195 pounds in weight. Dyson plays at center with Kielbough and Everett guards. The end positions are played by Groves and Bryan, the latter being the Coyotes' punter.

George May is still out of the game for the Bison squad, but no further injuries were received in the Moorhead State Teachers' game.

The regular lineup will be started against S. D. U. which includes Marquardt and Olson at ends, Meyers and Peschel at tackles, House and Miller at guards and Thompson at center. Gerteis will call signals from the backfield with Schollander and Hanson playing halfbacks. Reiners will start at fullback.

Bison Occupy Second Place In Conference

With the defeat of North Dakota university at the hands of Morningside last week, North Dakota State is runner-up for the title of North Central Conference champion. The Bison still have one conference game to be played, against South Dakota university at Vermillion tomorrow.

South Dakota State stands at the head of the list with no conference games lost or tied. The standings of the teams are as follows:

	W	L	T	Pct.
S. D. S.	3	0	0	1.000
N. D. S.	1	1	1	.500
N. D. U.	1	2	1	.333
Morningside	1	2	0	.333
S. D. U.	1	2	0	.333

Hopes For Conference Title Dimmed By Return Of But One Regular

Regular basketball practice will get under way immediately after the Oklahoma football trip, according to Bob Lowe, new basketball mentor. Lowe, assistant football coach, and several prospective members of the basketball team.

With only one regular returning, chances for a third successive basketball title are not so bright. Weir, McKay and Arthur, all-conference men last year, are lost by graduation. Grant Mickelson, flashy sophomore guard, will not be available, as he is attending the University of Illinois.

Other members of last year's squad who will return include Bud Marquardt, regular forward, Acey Olson, Curt Denny, Lyle Stinson and Arnold Mickelson, reserves. A group of talented freshmen composed of Russell Anderson, Neville Reiners, Don Bettchen, Carsten Noecker, Arnold Bernard, and Gregory Sloan will complete this year's squad.

Bison Down Moorhead State Teachers' 20-0

Minnesota Schools' Homecoming Game Results In Victory For State College

Despite a slippery field caused by a steady snowfall, the Bison put on their flashiest offense of the season to defeat Moorhead State Teachers college 20 to 0 last Saturday at the Moorhead field. With their running attack led by Leo Gerteis, Wendell Schollander and Erling Schranz, the Herd scored in the final fifteen seconds of the second period and then pushed over counters again in the third and fourth periods.

Two of the touchdowns were accounted for by the accurate passing of Schollander, Hanson scoring the first counter after receiving a forward pass from him after the Bison had registered a first down on the 24-yard line. In the third quarter a short pass, this time from Schollander to Marquardt, accounted for a second touchdown. The third score came on the second play of the final period when Schollander slashed off his own right tackle to count.

The Dragons launched two threatening drives but both were interrupted by fumbles. In the final period especially the Dragons opened up a varied attack but could never retain the ball long enough to score.

Gerteis, calling signals from his blocking back post, played an outstanding game. His direction of the Bison offense was superb and on offense he was a power. In the Bison line it was the work of such men as Harvey Erlennmeyer, House, Meyers and Olson that effectively checked the Dragon offense.

For M. S. T. C. George Meyers, Captain Jim Blaine, and Bob Marquardt led the linesmen, while in the backfield Milton Hollister was the spearhead on the offense.

North Dakota chalked up ten first downs to four for the Moorhead eleven.

MORNINGSIDE, S. D. U. ARE DONE WRONG

Downright stingy—that's what they have been to the two southern members of the North Central conference!

They, "Casey" Finnegan's Bison football players, "haven't done right" by Morningside or S. D. University.

In the five years since C. C. Finnegan took over the head coaching duties at North Dakota State college, the South Dakota Coyotes have won not a game from the Bison. The Morningside Maroons haven't even scored one point against them.

Tomorrow's contest at Vermillion promises to be a hard-fought battle with the big South Dakota outfit anxious to redeem themselves after a lax conference record thus far this year. But the Bison also have something to say about that. Yes-siree.

Candidates For Rifle Team Begin Practice

Fireworks of 1933-34 began in earnest Wednesday afternoon when 88 candidates for the State college rifle team appeared on the range in the physical education building to put in their bid for honors in the sweepstakes shoot which will follow two months of intensive drill and practice.

The first meeting was held Monday, Nov. 6. The enthusiastic response is expected to continue as more can be accommodated and are welcome to try their skill with the veterans. In the sweepstakes shoot, held at the beginning of the winter term, the twenty highest ranking marksmen will make up the college rifle team for the year, according to Capt. J. B. Conny, coach.

According to the athletic director at North Dakota State college, no definite date has as yet been determined for the beginning of interfraternity basketball. It very likely will not begin until the winter term.

CAMPUS SOCIETY

A patriotic theme will be carried out at Festival hall tomorrow evening when active members of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will be hosts to the pledge chapter from nine until twelve o'clock.

In charge of the general arrangements is Warren Covert, social chairman, who is being assisted by Harry Arneson, William Wright, Donald McNaughton, and Gordon Doering.

Guests for the occasion will include the honorary members, the alumni chapter, and members of the Sigma Chi fraternity at the University of North Dakota.

Active members of Gamma Phi Beta sorority were hostesses to their mothers at an informal gathering Tuesday evening in the chapter house. Entertainment included songs by the sorority quartet, consisting of Lorraine Brakke, Amy Glaser, Lois Presler, and Eleanor Evanson, accompanied by Constance Heilman, and character impersonations by Lucille Iverson. Jam and jelly gifts were donated as a surprise by the Mothers' club.

The Gamma Phi Beta Mothers' club had its first meeting of the season recently. Three members from out of town, Mrs. F. E. McGillvray, Valley City; Mrs. F. H. Swinton, Carrington, and Mrs. G. Loomis, New Rockford, were in attendance. Letters were read from mothers unable to be there. A mock initiation and white elephant bridge were the pastimes.

The pledge chapter of Beta Beta of Alpha Gamma Delta entertained four representatives from the other sorority pledge chapters and their rushing captains at a tea in the chapter room in the YMCA Sunday, Nov. 5.

Dorothy Lois Hatch and Eva Sherwood poured and the sorority color scheme was used. Vocal and piano selections by Alice Warne and Ruth Cooley furnished musical entertainment.

Committees in charge were, Cleo Knapp and Evelyn Soberg, invitations; Esther Watson and Helen Lierboe, decorations; Eleanor Isaacs and Mary Elizabeth Ricker, music; and Frances Lynch and Marion Anderson, refreshments.

Ada S. Bek, secretary of the North Dakota university YWCA, will open the YWCA sectional committee meeting here tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be five other members on the committee, including Mrs. C. A. Teet, YWCA secretary on this campus. Two meetings will be held Saturday to discuss student problems of this section and financial problems of the "Y."

Alpha Gamma Delta members will entertain their pledge chapter at an informal dancing party to be held in the college YMCA gymnasium adjoining their chapter room on Saturday, Nov. 11. In general charge of arrangements is Lavina Hendrickson. Other committees are: Thelma Liessman, decoration; Isabelle Humphreys, program; and Genevieve Skinner, music.

Sorority colors will be used in the decoration theme with a girls' tag dance and balloon dance being special features during the evening. Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kellogg and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett.

The pledge group of Kappa Delta sorority is introducing a novel idea when they will entertain representatives from the sororities and fraternities on the campus at a Thanksgiving party in the Lincoln Log cabin on Sunday, Nov. 12, from 8 to 10:30 p. m.

Grace Thornby is in charge of general arrangements. Committees in charge are Elizabeth Mortenson, chairman of decorations; Grace Martin, chairman of refreshments; and Marjorie Laliberte, chairman of entertainment.

A dinner guest at the Kappa Sigma Chi house Wednesday evening was Harry E. Schlenz, extension secretary of Alpha Kappa Lambda, national social fraternity. Mr. Schlenz is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

The Mothers' club of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity entertained members of the chapter at a potluck supper at the fraternity house on Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, between the hours of 6 and 8. Dean R. M. Dolve, Prof. H. S. Rush, Messrs. Knute Henning and George Yott were honor guests.

Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Waldron were Sunday dinner guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

Earl Cook of Mandan, alumni of Minnesota and Alpha Gamma Rho member of Lambda chapter, was a weekend visitor at the local chapter house of Alpha Gamma Rho.

William MacDonald, C. H. Lockrem and Alex Robertson were weekend visitors at the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity house.

A "fireside" informal dancing party was held at Epsilon chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho last Friday evening.
