'Y' Delegation Leaves Today For Conference

Fifteen Members of Local Group Go To Jamestown For State Meeting

CLAUSEN IS SECRETARY

Seven Schools Represented At Annual Convention Today And Saturday

Leaving today, fifteen delegates from the North Dakota State college YMCA and YWCA bodies will go to Jamestown to attend the annual state Y conference at Jamestown college, which opens this afternoon to continue until tomorrow evening.

Two of the delegates will act as officers at the conference, Ruth Clausen, president of the college YWCA being secretary, and Leo Anderson, ex-president of the college YMCA, vice president. Odin Ramsland of the University YMCA will act as chairman of the conference. Schools represented in the conference are the Valley City State Teachers college, Jamestown college, Mayville State Teachers' college, Ellendale Normal and Industrial school, Minot State Teachers' college, North Dakota university and the North Dakota State college.

Representatives from the North Dakota State college YWCA are Margaret Dadey, Ruth Clausen Luella Furcht, Imogene Ward, Thelma Liesmann, and Mrs. Carl A. Teet. YMCA delegates include Leo Anderson, Harry Hanson, Alfred Ballweg, Harrison Maker, Earl Anderson, Thomas King, and Erling Thorson. Dr. W. C. Hunter of the college faculty, and Rev. Ralph Conard, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, Fargo, will also attend the conference as speakers and discussion leaders.

Audubon's Paintings Are Exhibited Here

Prof. O. A. Stevens Secures Plates of Birds From Rare Publication

To be displayed on the North Dakota State college campus during the next week are thirteen of the original plates from John James Audubon's famous work, "Birds of America," which were secured by Prof. O. A. Stevens from Kennedy and Co., New York city, dealers in old and modern engravings and etchings.

The plates, to be shown in the Green room of Old Main, were printed, engraved, and colored by R. Havell of London after paintings made by Audubon during his expeditions into the wilds of North America. Printed between 1826 and 1838, "Birds of America," of which only 200 copies were made, is one of the rarest books in existence. Single plates taken from it command prices as high as twenty-five dollars.

The thirteen plates secured by Mr. Stevens depict various birds, in color and natural size, each plate measuring 3 3/4 by 2 1/4 inches. Among the birds depicted are the redtailed and rough-legged hawks, the catbird, the killdeer and the song sparrow. "Birds of America" represents almost a lifetime of work on the part of Audubon. To gather material for it, he ventured into many parts of the then unknown American wilderness. Four hundred and thirty-five paintings in all were made by him, and incorporated into the book. The work sold for one thousand dollars a copy.

40 OF 69 SMITH-HUGHES TEACHERS STILL IN WORK

Forty of the 69 agricultural graduates of the North Dakota Agricultural College who during the past 19 years became vocational agriculture instructors after graduation are still employed in that occupation, and all except one are teaching in North Dakota, according to Dr. L. L. Scranton, assistant professor of vocational agricultural education at the college.

BOYS MAY BE ROPED AT SPINSTER SKIP

Precisely 100 per cent of the fair sex of State college will not be able to blame themselves for going dateless on Saturday, May 5, as the Senior Staff has given the girls a good chance to rope the boys into the "Spinster Skip."

It behooves all men, those who have literally gone into hermitage and those who have not, to be at their best so their beau-brummel appearance may help them rate a nice bid to the convivial affair.

Girls. In order to avoid the ordinary last minute rush, find a "phone book now and make a list of the prospective fellows. Now is the time for the boys to start "cooking" up real clever alibis to use to decline an invitation.

Miniature Of State Exposition At World Fair Is On Display

College Library Contains Model Showing of State's Industries, Resources

On display in the rotunda of the North Dakota State college library is a miniature of the North Dakota exhibit for the World fair held at Chicago this summer. This conception of what the state's exhibit is to be like has been executed under the supervision of Prof. Homer B. Huntoon, head of the department of architecture.

The model shows a panorama of North Dakota from east to west, including the Red River valley, displaying wheat fields, farmsteads, towns, roads, and the rolling country from the Red river west to Medora.

In the background of the model is a miniature of the new state capitol building. From each side various colored lights will give the effects of western sunsets, sunrises, daylight and evening. In the center of the display is an agricultural section in which the natural resources and industries of North Dakota are featured.

On display besides the model there are pictures depicting modern buildings with no windows and indirect lighting. Simplicity and height are the outstanding features of these modern structures. The scenery for this World Fair display is being painted by students in the architectural department on the stage of the new physical education building.

Two Students Pledged To Gamma Tau Sigma

Kenneth Hamry and Charles Christianson, journalists on The Spectrum and Bison staffs, were pledged to Gamma Tau Sigma, national honorary journalistic fraternity on the campus, at a recent meeting.

Hamry, besides serving on The Spectrum staff, and as the literary editor of The Bison reported for the Ka Leo Hawaii, University of Hawaii paper, and for a Honolulu daily.

Christianson's work has been as an assistant business manager of The Bison and as a publicity manager for the Bison Brevities.

SOPRANO, PIANIST GIVE CONVOCATION PROGRAM

Mrs. Marion Sutherland Page, soprano, and Mrs. Kenneth Kuhn, pianist, gave a musical recital this morning in Festival hall as a convocation program.

Mrs. Page, who recently returned from Paris, where she has been studying, was accompanied by Mrs. Irene Carpenter Tainter.

The program presented was as follows: Sequidilla, Carmen, and O Don Fatale, Don Carros, by Mrs. Page; Taranall, Liszt, and Invocation to Eros, Kurstinier, by Mrs. Kuhn; Clouds, Charles, and Song of the Open, La Forge, Mrs. Page; and A La Chinoise, Ornstein, by Mrs. Kuhn.

Guy Springer, A. T. O. from the University of Texas, was a guest at the A. T. O. house Tuesday.

Juniors Complete Arrangements For Annual Prom Next Friday

Plans for decorations and features of the 1933 Junior prom to be held Friday evening, April 28, in the physical education building, were completed at a committee meeting held yesterday, it was announced this morning by Idan Flaa, manager of the affair.

Decorations will feature a large chandelier hung from the center of the ceiling, according to Johnny Gabe, who is in charge of decorations. Revolving colored lights will be played upon the walls and the floor, producing an "aurora borealis" effect. Special lighting effects have also been worked out for the orchestra pit.

Twelve dance numbers have been arranged by Harry Turner's orchestra, musicians for the prom. The fourth, eighth and twelfth dances will be waltzes, with the eighth a twenty-minute waltz. Featured vocalists of the eleven-piece band will be Ed Dingman and Haldor Gunderson.

Honor guests who have been invited to attend the affair are Gov. and Mrs. William Langer, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Dean and Mrs. I. W. Smith, Dean Pearl Dinan, Dean Alba Bales, Deans and Mmes. A. E. Minard, H. L. Walster, A. D. Weeks, L. L. Carrick, R. M. Dolve, and W. F. Sudro; Maj. and Mrs. E. A. Lathrop, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Finnegan, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott.

Programs for the affair are of an unusual and clever nature, unlike those presented at proms of former years.

Chaperons at the prom will be Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Conny and Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Lindsey.

Flannels or tuxedos are optional as attire for male guests, according to a decision made by the committee.

In order that as complete as possible a guest list for the affair may be published in next Friday's Spectrum, students are urged to purchase their tickets by next Wednesday, Robert Connolly, editor-in-chief, announced today.

Assisting Flaa in arrangements for the prom are Murlan Haugen, assistant manager; Jeanette McComb, programs; Virginia Garberg, chaperons and honor guests; David Minard, entertainment; Herbert Bodmer, music; Don Murray, floor manager; Tommie King, tickets; and George Toman, publicity.

OTTERTSON NAMED TO PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Prof. Rudolf Otterson of the history department was named to the College Board of Publication at a meeting held Wednesday, succeeding H. W. McArdle.

Other business carried on at the meeting included the opening and reading of petitions of applicants for major positions on the school publications. Nine petitions in all were turned in, two for editor-in-chief and business manager of The Spectrum, two for editor-in-chief of The Bison, and three for business manager of The Bison.

Local Chapter Host At Annual Sigma Tau Delta Meeting May 6

Northwest Regional Convention Of English Fraternity Held On Campus

Omicron Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity, will be host at the second annual Northwest Regional convention to be held Saturday, May 6, on the North Dakota State college campus. The group's first convention was held last year at Jamestown college, at Jamestown, with Iota Alpha chapter host.

Delegates will arrive in Fargo Friday. A fully represented delegation is expected from the chapter at the Moorhead State Teachers college; about twenty delegates are expected from the chapter at Jamestown college; and other delegates are expected from the Northern State Teachers college at Aberdeen, S. D.

The first meeting of the convention will be held at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, when reports will be given on the work accomplished by each chapter during the year.

At noon the local chapter will give a luncheon for the delegates in the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms at the college Y. M. C. A. At this meeting a representative discussion leader from each chapter will contribute a twenty-minute program of creative writing.

An informal tea will be given at 4:00 in the afternoon by the local chapter. An added feature of the program will be a short one-act play written by the Jamestown college chapter, a group from Jamestown presenting it.

As the closing feature of the convention an informal banquet will be given in the Lincoln Log cabin of the Little Country theater. Novelty entertainment is being arranged.

John Peterson Heads Honorary Fraternity

Langdon Student Is Master Chemist of Alpha Phi Omega Group

John Peterson, Langdon, was elected master chemist of Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity, at a meeting following the annual banquet of the group held Wednesday evening at 6:30 in Ceres hall. Peterson is a junior in chemistry.

John Thompson, Oakes, was elected vice master chemist; Clarence Walde, Fargo, recorder; Lloyd Owen, Kindred, bursar; and Elry Fleisher, Ogema, Minn., historian. Retiring officers are Arthur Larson, Fargo, master chemist; James Konen, Fargo, vice master chemist; Don Lieb, Ortonville, Minn., recorder; Gestur Johnson, Edinburg, bursar; and Hartley Eckstrom, Fargo, historian.

On the evening's program Wednesday were Dr. L. L. Carrick and Dr. D. S. Dedrick, both of the school of chemistry, and faculty members of the organization.

Ralph Welch, Smith-Hughes instructor at Cando, and Wayne Weiser, county agent at large for the State of North Dakota, were guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho house over the Easter vacation.

Delegates Go To Press Assembly In Grand Forks

Journalists Will Be Guests At Initial Performance Of Ibsen's Play

HELD TODAY, TOMORROW

South Dakota Schools, Creighton Also Guests of University At Conference

Leaving the campus late Thursday afternoon in order to be the guests of the Dakota Playmakers at the initial presentation of "Peer Gynt" at the University of North Dakota, six delegates from North Dakota State college are in Grand Forks today in attendance at the 1933 North Central Press conference.

With Robert M. Connolly, editor-in-chief, and William P. McDonald, business manager, representing The Spectrum; Howard Kilbourne, features editor, The Bison; and Marjory Archer, George Toman and Gerald Garlid, the college board of publications, the college is to be represented in each division at the convention. Main business of the meet will be carried on through today and tomorrow.

Besides North Dakota State representatives, South Dakota State, South Dakota university and Creighton university of Omaha, Neb., will have delegates.

A program will be presented at a convocation as the opening of the convention sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity at the University. It will include two harp solos by Miss Dorothy Critchfield, Wesley college instructor; an explanation by Joseph Mader, Jr., of the journalism Hall of Fame; the unveiling of two pictures placed in the hall this year; a talk by W. P. Davies, well known newspaper man in North Dakota; and the announcement of Who's Who winners and the 1933 beauty queen.

Friday noon Granny Tharpe, president of the University Blue Key group, will extend a brief welcome in behalf of the University to the delegates. Dr. J. M. Gillette will be the principal speaker at a banquet Friday evening, at which student members of the board of publications will be present as well as prominent faculty members of journalism. The conference will conclude its sessions Saturday morning.

State Forensic Team Wins From Minnesota

Audience Accords 24-15 Vote To Swanson and Maloney At Minneapolis

In the first debate to be scheduled against a Big Ten school, a North Dakota State team, composed of Clifford Maloney and Clifford Swanson, defeated the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis by an audience decision, on Wednesday evening.

The Minnesota team, Harold Fredrikson and Leonard Gilles, former North Dakota State students, upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That at least one half of all state and local revenues should be derived from sources other than tangible property."

Debating before an audience in the University Presbyterian church the negative team was accorded a vote of 24 to 15. Swanson is completing his second year of debate work here and has debated in several conference debates this season. Maloney has been in forensic work for three years, is vice president of the Lincoln Forensic club, and is commissioner of public speaking.

A professor at Middlebury college went on an outing with some freshmen. He remarked, "No, I'm no chaperon today, just one of the boys." He was promptly thrown into a snowbank.

Students at Amherst bet on the number of the hymn to be called for in chapel.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

More and more students and faculty members are availing themselves of the daily opportunity of furthering their knowledge of international relations through Charles Douglas Booth.

Although the lecturer, brought to North Dakota State college through the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, has not yet completed half of his scheduled series of lectures here, much interest and comment has been already evidenced in his presented subject matter. Students are learning that they may bring themselves into an understanding of relations between countries especially of Europe most readily through association with Mr. Booth. They are realizing that not only has he made a study of his field of international relations but he has actually lived in many of the countries in order to be able to create a more authentic picture of those areas.

North Dakota State collegians are thus having a great opportunity to gain an insight into our newest field of development—promotion of international understanding with the goal of abolition of wars, the past effects of which are ever with us. Through Mr. Booth's lectures an added opportunity is presented because of the fact that various ideas are presented more interestingly, more personally and less to be misunderstood than would be possible through various textbooks on the subject. Keeping abreast of the European affairs by constant contact, Lecturer Booth offers material that texts would not be able to duplicate, unless issued at short intervals.

Creating an understanding interest in Europe and the various problems that make her peoples react as they have is one of the main objectives of the Carnegie lectures. Through his own personality and knowledge of the peoples of whom he speaks, Mr. Booth has done a great deal already in building that reaction here at this college.

BRIGHTER ASPECTS

It's a poor depression that blows no good to anyone.

This transfiguration of an old saying seems quite appropriate for our present record-breaking period of economic instability.

Take, for instance, North Dakota State college. If it hadn't been for the "depression," many people would not have been so forcefully shown the value of our school—for it is well known that when one is faced with the prospect of losing something, its value is most evident. Fargo and the entire Northwest has at present the greatest appreciation of the value of the college that has been held for many years.

If there had not been a great increase in the value of the dollar and a corresponding lack of tax receipts, not nearly so many minds would have been turned, as by the last legislature, to future centralization of North Dakota educational systems. The problem of surplus normal schools for a thinly populated state was probed into more than ever before. While nothing was visually accomplished in solving the current state problem, much tangible evidence for future work was collected and filed.

If basic farm commodities had not dropped to the bottom of the price schedules, so many boys and girls would not have been faced with the problem of judging the value of college education. The continued upkeep of student enrollment has proven that education is more valuable than several possible luxuries to many students. Efforts in studies have kept pace with this new realization of the value of investing in learning, which cannot be taken away after having been once acquired. Education has been found a more stable investment than stocks and bonds, with both a pleasure and business return.

Admittedly there are other aspects to be considered of a period like our present one, which views are not pleasant. The depression has given a rather severe test to our educational institution—the encouraging results and the new lessons given by the past few years will bring about greater heights for the college after the return of stable times.

Imagine the embarrassment of the conductor when a freshman co-ed at the University of Texas stopped a passing street car, placed one foot on the lower step, tied her shoe, thanked the conductor and walked off.—Tulane Hullabaloo.

Men must be popular at the University of Detroit for out of a total enrollment of 3,620 only 77 are of the male sex.

Insurance against flunking is the latest fad at the University of Missouri. The company pays for a summer school course if the student does not pass his subjects.

THE DOUBLE

Once Overs On Personalities and Things Collegiate by The Spectrum Spectator.

Wrangling in federal circles certainly were arousing as far as the college was concerned during recent days. After the legislature and the governor vetoes had been put against the college budget, Uncle Sam himself was the only hope of keeping things going in the manner which has given the college its well-deserved name in the nation. Luckily the national government is made of the sterner stuff, and will continue to aid in keeping intact one of the northwestern's most valuable asset, the North Dakota State college.

Using such blasphemous terms as "timid confrere" and "chauvanist", we were attacked by the ever-vigilant Dobson, Morningside Collegian columnist, in a recent vest-pocket issue of that paper. It seems that "Dobby" thinks that we were too petite and delicate in reminding him that his nick-naming Eugene Fitzgerald, a local sports writer, as "Bunnyyears," his suggesting that an unknown Morningside lineman plays better than Roman Meyers, North Dakota State end, recommended by Major Ralph Sasse, Army coach, as one of the nations outstanding football players; and his misquoting of Coach Jack West of N. D. University as to "offering $10 a week salary plus board and room to players and having them going to other conference schools", were not done in good journalistic taste. We did not say that we thought Dobson was rather a blatant boaster, with a tendency to make so much noise as to almost convince himself. We didn't say that we considered his obvious mistrusts and evidences of overflowing of "catty" remarks as a method of gaining some recognition, the quality of which does not matter. Instead, we merely suggested that a few of his "cracks" were not in good taste and difficult to prove—and we are pounced on as being timid. Now, now, Howard.

Presenting their final issue last Friday, a smooth working journalistic pair have concluded their term at the helm of The Dakota Student, North Dakota university's weekly. Editor-in-chief Wes Meyer and Managing Editor Hugh Moore have set an excellent example in the past school year of news co-operation, working together harmoniously in presenting one of the best "Students" in recent years. Fred O'Neill begins his editorship responsibilities this week.

Setting out to attempt the correction of one of the most fundamental weaknesses of our American college campuses, Ohio university is voting this week to abolish the vicious system of campus politics and substituting a system of appointive honorings by committee work. Incurred fraternity-independent rivalry and harsh feeling as one of the major drawbacks to efficient college cooperation has been the result of the Ohio electioneering and the students this week are taking into their hands the opportunity of testing a cure. All nominations and committee appointments are to be made by a selection board consisting of five senior students and two faculty members. These appointments will be referred to a Campus Affairs committee, which selects the board for final choice, doing away with student elections.

LOOKING ABOUT: Some months ago, we understand, Morningside's Dobson wanted to start a "tall story" contest for the North Central conference... just another way of getting a "cinch" prize, without any effort... Coach Jack West of North Dakota "U" evidently has a faculty for getting anything into newspapers... evidence A is that "No beer for you Sioux students; just plain, wholesome drinking water", the laugh of the week... we'll bet several prominent vendors visualizing starvation on the east side of the North Red river cried in "it" after that proclamation... economy must be the theme in the Junior prom for next week with the third and fourth in line taking each other and saving the price of two extra news cuts... wonder if the engravers will legislate against that in the future... the un-falling announcement of the arrival of spring is now in evidence... engineers are again out surveying campus with those funny looking telescopes glancing more at distant co-eds than topographical features... some of our Bison boys never seem to get to those Oxford specs... comments are still thrown about "spectacle chains should be drawn tight on those necks"... we understand that a certain architectural professor is a new aviation fan, after a ride with a former student the other day... it will be journalists' weekend at Grand Forks Friday and Saturday, reports indicate.

Music Fraternity Is Host To Miss Evans

Initiation Services, Musicales and Play Feature Three-day Program

Miss Gertrude Evans, national president of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional musical fraternity, will be the guest of Omicron chapter during inspection April 23-25.

Opening a program of activities of the organization, Omicron chapter will initiate Louise Hanson, Louise Murray, Carolyn Hendrickson, Grace Watkins, Margaret Ristvedt, Annabelle Stadum, Viola Moen, and Marie Wilds to active membership; Mrs. J. H. Shepperd and Miss Bess Hanson to patronesses in the college YMCA building Sunday, April 23. Following the initiation a formal banquet will be held in the Waldorf hotel.

A noon luncheon in the Lincoln Log cabin with local officers acting as hostesses, and a supper and business meeting followed by a musicale at the home of Mrs. J. G. Dillon in the evening, is the program for Monday.

Eleanor Nesheim, pianist; Helen B. Person, contralto; and Bertha Hagen, members of Sigma Alpha Iota, will present numbers on the musicale. Second degree members will be hostesses at a luncheon in the Gardner hotel Tuesday noon and in the evening the group will present "Seven Scenes From the Life of Edward MacDowell" a play in commemoration of America's greatest composer. A silver collection, following the play, will be sent to Peterboro colony, New Hampshire, for the upkeep of cottages there for musicians. This policy is followed by each chapter of the fraternity.

Interpreting the play are Lyle Phillips, Grace Watkins, Malve McKeane, Ethel Anderson, Jack Heisler, Charles French, Audrey Medley, Gerald Stevens, Frederick Martin, Jack Vincent, Tekla Askegaard, Adele Jensen, Dr. C. Putnam, Mary Powers, and Robert Benton. An informal reception for Miss Evans will follow the play.

Corrine Ballard Wins Poster Contest Prize

Bolmeier, Irma Jane Hanley Are Awarded Second And Third Places By Judges

Corrine Ballard, freshman in the school of home economics was awarded first place in the poster contest sponsored by the art department. Second and third places were taken by Melvin Bolmeier of Fargo and Irma Jane Hanley of Mandan, respectively.

Honorable mentions were granted by Judges Homer Huntoon, Callista Berrigan and Donald Hay, to Beatrice Ness, Lavaun Krupp and Ellen Blair. With an unlimited choice of subjects matter a varied group of subjects were used by the freshman art students. Nations, states, and Blue Monday teas served as extremes. The Fine Arts club will use those of the national theme in their international exhibit to be held at the city auditorium. Other posters such as those advertising the Junior Prom, the Merry Wives of Windsor, Y. W. C. A. teas, and the art exhibit open house, will be used on the campus. Miss Dorothy Hatch supervised the poster production.

JACK MILLS RETURNS TO CRYSTAL SATURDAY

Returning for an engagement at the Crystal ballroom in Fargo tomorrow evening is Jack Mills and his orchestra, well-known northwest organization. Mills has added three new players to his band, which now totals fourteen. Appearing with the organization as a vocalist is Miss Loretta Du Rose, a former Fargo girl.

Members of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity who spent their Easter vacations away from Fargo were Art Skurdahl in Devils Lake, George Sullivan in Wadena, Minn., and Gene Weige in Valley City.

Sport Shots

The spring months are just packed full of athletic activity of all kinds, and if you don't believe it, take a moment of your time some evening soon and visit the athletic field on this campus.

Finnegan, Lowe, and Gergen have made good connections with the weather man because they have had about 40 men in uniform every afternoon for the spring football sessions.

The men are spending their time running through new plays and shifts, and in general are getting limbered up for the annual Yellow and Green game that climaxes the spring training.

However, football is a comparatively recent invasion into the realms of the spring work, and while it is important in itself, it is only local in nature.

At present, Coach Saalwaechter, who is in charge of the track aspirants, has a goodly number of men out on the practice field each day, and they are working themselves up for three or four meets that are coming to the fore during the month of May.

This will be the only sport that will be of an interscholastic nature. State will be involved in the annual Dakota Relays, an invitation meet at Moorhead State Teachers college, and the North Central conference meet which will be held the latter part of the month.

And already the call for baseball material has been issued by some of the organizations on the campus that will be entered in the inter-fraternity league.

The A. T. O.'s, last year's champions in the league, have had a group of men out warming up for the coming season, and will likely prove as strong as they were last year.

The Delta Sigs, one of the runnersup last year have lost most of their baseball men through graduation last spring. Their ranks were sadly depleted, but they have some new material that will help to fill some of the vacancies.

The Y. M. C. A.'s were the first to issue a call for non-fraternity men to do their colors. Their practices and plans were started this week.

A few of the Theta Chis and Gamma Rhos have been doing a little "limbering up" exercises in the vacant lots next door to their houses.

The Delta Taus, Sigma Phi Deltas, Kappa Psis, Kappa Sigma Chis, and the Sigma Taus, aren't saying much, but they are sneaking in a practice here and there, individually, if not collectively.

All in all, there should be a great deal of interest manifested in this year's tournament. There will be several good teams, and the games will probably be close all around.

Rumor has it that the University of North Dakota claims that they are going to defeat State next fall in football by no less than six or eight touchdowns (they aren't sure which).

This is to be made possible by the host of excellent material that they have available for their team, and also as revenge for State's 7-6 win last fall.

Well, all we have to say to this is that all of our last year's team won't graduate or drop out of school, and besides, we had some pretty good men sitting on the bench last year who will be showing their stuff this year.

Anyhow, we aren't bragging. Time alone will tell.

Correction of a statement in this column that appeared last week. We are very sorry to relate that Don Nichols will not be in school this term, and consequently will not be a probable member of the golf team. Don has not been in school all year, but his return this term was expected.

Ho hum. Finis.

A Cornell professor announced to his class that he had discovered an English theme copied word for word from a book. When he asked the guilty man to see him at the end of the hour, he was confronted by no less than five members of the class.

North Dakota State Team Places Second In Hearst Trophy Matches For Season

Edward Comm of Fargo, senior in the school of civil engineering, and this year's team captain of the North Dakota State rifle team, fired the second high individual score for the entire United States with a total of 196 points missing first place by a margin of one point. Individual high score for the United States was won by H. W. Buse of Carnegie Tech with a total of 197.

This year marks the third time that Ed Comm has missed placing first in the individual high scores by a one point margin. Comm's exceptionally fine shooting earned him the place of leading the Bison rifle team for this season.

Information just received at the office of the military department at North Dakota State college from General Parker, commanding the sixth corps area and supervisor of the annual Hearst small bore National rifle matches, states that team number one of this college placed second in the Midwest Section in those matches. First place for the Midwest went to the University of Cincinnati and third place to the University of Minnesota. For the high scores turned in by the rifle team the college will receive the usual William Randolph Hearst trophy shield.

As the end of the rifle season drew to a close the members of the Bison rifle squad met last week to elect their officers for next year's rifle team.

At the meeting William Oftebro, sophomore in the school of chemistry, was chosen as team captain to replace Ed Comm, who will graduate this spring. Marlin Cline, sophomore in the school of mechanical engineering, was named team manager.

The men who have been firing in the rifle matches were divided into three, five man teams, all of which placed in the Midwest Section. Team number one was composed of Oscar Gilbertson, Maddock; Anton Welker, Max; William Oftebro, Williston; and Marlin Cline, Bertha, Minn.

Placing so high in a match of such importance as the Hearst National in which hundreds of teams throughout the country compete has brought to a close another successful season for the State college riflemen. Starting as a green team they have won 40 and lost 12 postal and telegraphic matches with the best college teams in the country. The Bison riflemen placed third in the Seventh Corps Area Gallery matches thereby qualifying to shoot in the National Intercollegiate, and have turned in a commendable score in the National Intercollegiate, full returns from which have not yet been received. The Midwest Section of the National Intercollegiate embraces the states of Ohio, North Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Michigan, Missouri, South Dakota, Kansas, Indiana and Wisconsin.

A great deal of credit goes to Capt. J. B. Conmy and Capt. H. J. McChrystal who have developed a fine rifle team out of the green men who appeared for practice early this fall. Captain Conmy has led the Bison rifle team through several seasons of successful matches since he took over the post left vacant by Captain Ross, former regular army officer stationed at this school.

Other members of the team who fired in the matches throughout the year were Edward Ballard, Moorhead; Walter Bartholomew, Fargo; Orville Fossum, Fargo; George Frese, Fargo; Martell Haugen, Fargo; Harry Heine, Ellendale; Howard Hoel, Thief River Falls; Gordon Johnsgord, Christine; Clarence Johnson, Fargo; Leonard

Moffitt, Fargo; Roy Peterson, Fargo; Olwin Riveland, Wellsburg; Sophus Severson, Kathryn; Nels Skaar, Keene; Hubert Smith, Belfield; and Ellis Thompson, Fairfield.

Theta Chi Wins Interfraternity Basketball Cup

Managers Give Disputed Game To Winners In Meet Last Week

A permanent trophy has been presented to Theta Chi fraternity as interfraternity basketball champions at North Dakota State college for this year, Athletic Director C. C. Finnegan informed The Spectrum this week.

Although it was several weeks ago that the Theta Chi quintet had won out over the "Y" team, champions of the second league, presentation of the trophy for the championship had been delayed by Erling Thorson, "Y" representative. He claimed the championship for the defeated team due to the fact that Dolson Hill, Theta Chi center, had played in one of the championship games and since had dropped out of school. However, at a meeting of all managers of fraternity teams with Athletic Director Finnegan held on Thursday last week, only one vote of the nine groups represented was favorable to giving the championship to the defeated "Y" team.

The decision of the managers was accredited to the fact that the interfraternity basketball competition was scheduled to have been played off during the winter term; that proof was not made that Hill was ineligible and that if he were, no notice had been given previous to any games of that contention; and that the Theta Chi team won the final two games without the services of the senior center.

Marking the close of one of the most hotly contested groups of interfraternity games in recent college history, the Theta Chi group had conquered the Y. M. C. A., winner in the other bracket, a week ago Monday by a score of 22 to 18. The two teams had split in two games.

After having made an inauspicious start in the intramural contest by losing to Alpha Tau Omega, the Theta Chi team was revamped. Players for the winning team which was then undefeated except for the recent "Y" victory, include, "Fritz" Hanson, Roman Meyers, Dolson Hill, George May, Pete Chloupeck, Howard Kraft, Earl Thomas, Paul Carah and Milton Hollister. The revamped team came back to conquer their rivals in the division, Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Psi and Sigma Phi Delta.

In the other division of the intramural play, Delta Tau Epsilon made a surprising comeback to defeat and tie the Kappa Sigma Chi's in the second division. The Y. M. C. A. then cinched their right to lead their frame in the championship playoff by defeating Kappa Sigma Chi and Delta Tau Epsilon.

This year's interfraternity competition has been watched with unusual interest due to the startling upsets in the latter part of the season. For the past four years increasingly better brands of basketball have been displayed in the loop, which in itself has sided the growth of interest in the sport.

Last year Delta Tau Epsilon won the championship by defeating Theta Chi, Delta Kappa Sigma and Alpha Sigma Tau fraternities, all close runnersup.

The convention next year of the Guidor will be at South Dakota State.

STATE MEN TO COMPETE WITH MSTC TRACK TEAM

The North Dakota State college track team is scheduled to meet the Moorhead State Teachers college in an invitational meet to take place at Moorhead May 13. Each year the two schools meet on the track in similar meets.

Coach Saalwaechter, the Bison mentor, is as yet undecided as to whom he will send over, or as to what events he will have men entered, but he has accepted the invitation.

Harry Hanson, Fargo, Heads College YMCA

With a total of 86 votes, Harry Hanson of Fargo was elected president of the YMCA for the ensuing year leaving 51 votes to George Sullivan of Mohall, who automatically becomes vice-president of the organization as the result of elections held Tuesday, April 8 in the college YMCA.

Other results are as follows: recorder: Thomas King, 90; Walter Ward, 39; treasurer: Alfred Ballwig, 80; Murlan Haugen, 51; and student representative: Horace Spaulding, 67; Robert Parrot, 66. Dr. C. I. Nelson won the position as alumni representative in the same election.

The new cabinet will be installed some time after May first, the exact time which will be announced at a later date.

Employment Open For College Students

Due to nice weather, a large number of jobs have been opened to students who are capable workers, according to Mrs. Psyche M. Gooden, employment secretary. She requests all students who need or want work to call at the employment office in the Y. M. C. A. building for immediate registering.

Many types of jobs, from office work to planting trees are available, and a large number of part time workers can be accommodated.

Students interested in finding work must bring their registration cards to Mrs. Gooden's office in order that she may know when she can call them to work. No other obligation is imposed on them.

The demand for Bison tomato seed this spring has exceeded the supply, according to A. F. Yeager, horticulturist, North Dakota Agricultural college. Although introduced to the public by Yeager last year, the Bison tomato has become popular throughout the country, especially in the north central states.

Twelve Students Get Military Promotion

Twelve students in the cadet corps at North Dakota State college have received promotions this last week by order of Maj. E. A. Lathrop, head of the military department.

The following students have been promoted by the order: Captain Harvey Melbye, major; 1st Lt. Roger Berthold, captain; 1st Lt. Orville Fossum, captain; 1st Lt. Arlie Oman, captain; Sergeant Chester Perry, 1st sergeant; Sergeant Donald Scott, 1st sergeant; and Private Kaare Rosenberg, corporal.

By this same order the following five cadet corporals have been promoted to the rank of sergeants: James Armstrong, Robert Flint, Leonard Moffitt, John McCarthy, and Roy Smillie.

Schools throughout the state are co-operating with county agents and the N. D. S. C. extension service in preparing exhibits of grasshopper hatches to demonstrate the hatchability of the eggs which now infest thousands of North Dakota acres. The exhibits are being displayed prominently to center attention on the seriousness of the grasshopper problem, according to E. G. Parizek, assistant leader of county agents, who is heading up a preparedness program in anticipation of the pests.

SPECTRUM CRITIC

A modern but ever as romantic version of an old fable is now playing at the Roxy theater. This vehicle, "Mr. Robinson Crusoe," stars Douglas Fairbanks, sr., as the volunteer castaway upon a tropical island which he soon transforms into a modern refuge.

An exciting football epic, "That's My Son," is offered next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Richard Cromwell plays the heroic lead while Mary Carr portrays the part of his faithful mother.

One of the year's movie hits comes to the State theater today and tomorrow, when Jack Oakie and Carol Lombard appear in "From Hell to Heaven." As an added attraction, Jack Dempsey will be shown in a 20-minute feature entitled "The World's Champ."

Lee Tracy is the star of "Private Jones," showing at the State next Monday and Tuesday.

"Cavalcade," the great Nobel award drama produced by Fox, comes to the Fargo theater Monday for a four-day engagement. It arrives fresh for the most positive triumph ever accorded a motion picture. Diana Wynward and Clive Brook have the principal roles, with a supporting cast that includes 38 players and 3500 minor roles.
