Bohumir Kryl Presents Program Tonight As A Lyceum Feature

World-Famous Musician Brings Band To State College For Performances

GIVE TWO PRESENTATIONS

Several Artists Appear With Conductor At Concerts In Festival Hall

Bohumir Kryl, acclaimed virtuoso and conductor, recognized by numerous musicians of the world and called by the Los Angeles Times "the most remarkable cornetist in the world," is presenting today to the North Dakota State college students and the Fargo public a band comprising an exceptional personnel. The matinee will be at four o'clock and the evening performance at 8:15 in Festival hall.

Among the artists who will appear with Kryl and his band are: Josy Kryl White, violinist; Leta May, coloratura soprano; Helen Rogers, harpist; and several others well known in American musical circles. Kryl, in the past, has given music lovers pleasing and satisfactory interpretations, and has established a standard in band music that has attached to his name the classification of "perfection in musical rendition." His concerts have not only become famous for their classical strength, but for their delightful variety as well. A number from Wagner is followed by a gay encore, a popular melody with variations. The phrasing effects mark him as a genius in art. His pianissimos resemble those of the finest symphony orchestras. The acclaim accorded Kryl has been nationwide, as press notices from newspapers throughout the country show.

As the second number on the twenty-second annual Lyceum series of the North Dakota State college, Kryl's Symphonic band is perhaps one of the most pretentious that the school has had on its schedule, in a year of remarkable offerings, due to the financial stress which is sending the great attractions out through the country.

Mr. Kryl has in his repertoire such standard orchestral works as Wagner's "Tannhauser" overture, Tchaikowsky's "Marche Slav," and Dvorak's "Largo" from the New World Symphony, as well as many novelties and popular melodies.

The general consensus of opinions, as gleaned from notices in the cities where he has played, seems to be that it is an unusual privilege to attend a concert such as this.

Last Cadet Hop Held Thursday Afternoon

Military Group Sponsors Last College Dance of Fall Term On Dec. 8

The last cadet hop of the fall term will be held on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 8, in Festival hall, between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock, it was announced today by Scabbard and Blade, honorary military group which sponsors the series of dances.

As this will be the last all-college dance of the fall term, a good attendance is expected. The best in the line of orchestras has been procured for the hop, with several novel features being planned, according to Earl Grove, Scabbard and Blade representative.

The admission price of twenty-five cents for male students and a dime for coeds will not be changed.

There will be a meeting of Phytois Wednesday evening in the botany department rooms at 7:30. Important for all members to be present.

Lars Jensen, president.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Publications Wednesday, Dec. 7, at noon.

George Toman.

STUDENT COURT HOLDS FINAL MEETING OF YEAR

The Student Court will hold its final meeting of the fall term, Thursday at 4:15 in the Faculty-Alumni rooms in the Main building. All persons who have received tickets for violations of any of the parking rules of the campus will have the opportunity of presenting these tickets at this time.

The Student Commission has the authority to deduct the fines imposed upon those persons failing to appear from their registration cards through permission of college authorities and steps have been taken towards this end.

Dr. W. C. Hunter Is Main Speaker At Pi Gamma Mu Meeting

"Has Decline of Agriculture Been Factor In Fall of Nations," Subject

With Dr. W. C. Hunter, head of the North Dakota State college history department, as the feature speaker on the program, an open meeting of the Faculty Social Science club and Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity, will be held this Thursday evening at 8:00. The meeting which is open to interested students and townspeople is to be held in room 319 in Science hall.

Speaking on the subject of "Has the decline of agriculture been a chief factor in the fall of nations," Dr. Hunter will present his subject by advancing points on both sides of the discussion and then developing his conclusions through an evaluation of all points brought out in his talk. Informal discussions will follow his speech with those present joining in the discussion.

Although the subject of Dr. Hunter's talk for this Thursday would indicate a technical treatment, the message will be of a cultural nature, it has been explained. The subject matter is said to be of interest to students of every field of study. New opinions introduced in the field by modern sociologists will be used in Thursday's lecture.

Preceding the lecture, which is scheduled for 8 o'clock, Pi Gamma Mu will hold its regular meeting in room 314 of Science hall, which will last the half hour before the open meeting. Discussion of the meeting will center around the survey project which is being carried out by the fraternity on costs of living for country and city families according to Prof. C. A. Severson, faculty member of the group.

CLASS GIVES VILLAGE FAIR FOR 4H DELEGATES

A Village Fair will be given for the entertainment of the 4H club members by the class in Community Programs under the direction of Prof. A. G. Arvold, Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Bohumir Kryl will open the program by leading the list of numbers to be played by the Amenia boys band. "The Neighborhood" will be the topic on which William Stewart addresses the group. Under the direction of Miss Frances Wright, a group of children will present the "Doll House." Music will be furnished by Esther Jepson and Esther Moes who will play a piano duet, "The Hungarian Rhapsody," Helen Foster, Eunice Conlon, and Margarethe Tronnes, novelty trio, and by James Golseth, who will lead the group singing.

The junior class will present the play "In the Morgue," with which they recently won the interclass play contest. Tabulations consisting of the "Husking Bee," and "Quilting Bee" will complete the program after Carol Cooper, Evve Hammer and Dorothy Halland have clogged.

Lawrence Bilden, Kappa Psi, visited his home in Mayville last weekend.

4H Club Members Register Here Today For Annual State Institute

CONVOCATIONS FOR THIS WEEK ARE CANCELLED

The two convocations scheduled for this week, Bishop Fredrick B. Bartlett for Wednesday and Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional music fraternity, for Friday, were cancelled because of their conflicts with the programs planned for the 4H club institute to be given in Festival hall. Both programs will be presented in January, says Dean A. E. Minard, convocation chairman.

Maulana Shaukat Ali Arrives In America Latter Part Of Week

Spectrum Scoop Carries Many Items Used In New York Times Story

When The Spectrum carried a "scoop" story several weeks ago on the reasons for the inability of Maulana Shaukat Ali, noted Moslem leader from India, to meet his original lyceum engagement on the North Dakota State college campus this fall term, the story included much of the material used in last Saturday's New York Times, which had a story telling of the arrival in America of the noted Asiatic.

Under a large picture of the gigantic Indian leader and his English bride, the Saturday Times carried the following article concerning the leader of 70,000,000 people. He is the feature of a lyceum entertainment on the campus to be held during the first part of February, which is sponsored through the North Dakota State college public discussion department.

"Dressed in the picturesque costume of his native land, which was partly covered by a yellow cloth overcoat to keep out the cold, Maulana Shaukat Ali, noted leader of 70,000,000 Moslems in India, arrived yesterday afternoon on the Leviathan of the United States Lines.

"Shaukat Ali, as he is known to the people of his religion throughout India, is an imposing personality, standing six feet two inches and weighing 275 pounds. He is 59 years old, has a gray beard, turning white, and a kindly smile. He speaks English fluently which he learned at the Moslem University at Aligarh about 100 miles southwest of Delhi, where he was graduated.

"I left Bombay on Nov. 7," said the Moslem leader, "on the Italian liner Victoria, a fine ship and very fast. I stopped in London for five days to confer with the Secretary of State for India and then went to Southampton to board the Leviathan."

"My tour in America had been planned to commence in October, but I was delayed on the eve of my proposed departure from Bombay, Oct. 6, by a deputation of Khliafat volunteers and Moslem leaders who begged me to (Continued on Page 4)

ORIENTAL PRINTS ARE ON EXHIBITION HERE

A group of 200 Japanese prints were put on display late yesterday in the art department of the North Dakota State college. The collection, the work of a number of famous Japanese artists, is being sponsored by the Art club, and is open to the general public until Friday during the noon hours, from 4 to 6 p. m. each day, and from 9 a. m. until 12 a. m. Saturday.

Because of the large number of originals in the display, the exhibit this year is one of the most outstanding ever shown by the Art club, says Miss Dorothy Lois Hatch, head of the art department.

Kuniyoshi, Kynisoda, Hiroshige and Toyokuni are among the artists whose originals are included in the display. All of the prints have artistic mountings.

The program will continue with the livestock event Thursday afternoon when 66 prize winning exhibitions will be auctioned off. Wednesday night is the "big" night for girls entered, when representatives of each county will model garments which they have made after the banquet sponsored by the Fargo Chamber of Commerce.

The closing session of the twenty-third annual 4H club institute will be held at 1:15 Friday afternoon. All winners will be then announced. A business meeting in which officers will be elected will precede the final rally and adjournment.

To be continued is a maxim of today brought on by the magazine and newspaper stories. It has been used throughout many literary contributions such as the varied thriller stories and cinema productions of Desperate Dick and the like. It has run rampant through the popular editions of the day.

The to be continued motto has also been an agency of harm in this everyday life of ours. In the busied, hurried, modern life, the tendency of leaving many things on the to be continued list has resulted in many things undone in every phase of life which would better have been completed.

The leave for tomorrow tendency is ever with us. In our work and in our play, there are so many things left to be done tomorrow or in the future—they are never done. They are just put on the "to be continued" list to remain there as mute testimony of a tendency which shows many weaknesses.

Reasons for the putting-off tendency lie in the busied hurriedness of modern industry. Many ideas and works are shoved aside in the struggle for the monetary return, which modern conceptions have placed as the ultimate goal.

DEPRESSION PARTIES

Do we need more and better entertainment? The answer is an emphatic yes. While there is no real dearth of entertainment for Friday and Saturday evenings, it smacks of too much sameness.

As is only natural for the man, entertainment includes the presence of a female partner unless he is a little less than human and has monastic tendencies. Yet, even with the girl friend, weekend pleasures lack variety. Movies there are, and occasional college and fraternity dances—but what about afterwards? A brief ride home or a little idle petting, seem to constitute the range of opportunities offered.

Why not have depression dances? Fraternities, sororities, and various campus organizations could have informal parties with the radio usurping the expensive position of the orchestra. A movie first, and a short dance afterwards. What fun! Depression dances are easy on the pocket-book, but give a maximum of entertainment.

Radio dances provide an extensive field of ingenuity in decoration and refreshments; signs of all kinds on the wall, candles in tin cans for light, boxes for chairs, barrels for tables, pretzels and coffee for lunch.

Won't some organization throw off its mantle of dignity and break the ice? A vote of thanks will be extended to the society first doing so.

PRESENT OPPORTUNITIES

Students of the college are to have the opportunity of two interesting evenings of a cultural nature this week.

One of the most attractive presentations of the year will be the concert offered by the band under the directorship of Bohumir Kryl. Coming to North Dakota with a colorful career in the realm of musical art behind him, Kryl's program promises to prove an inspiration to many, whether initiated in the field of music or not.

Of a different nature but one which will prove of distinct contribution to listeners is the discussion prepared by Dr. W. C. Hunter on monetary and economic problems of today. A number of new and worthwhile ideas, brought out by modern students in the field of social science, are to be introduced at the meeting on Thursday.

Despite the value of the last minute review this week in preparation for the end of the term and examinations beginning next Wednesday, many students are going to find cultural opportunities afforded this week too valuable to miss.

ROWDY REMARKS

Football season is over with Eugene doing right by our little "Nells"—5 places. "Saaly's basket brigade have taken their first stretch—but who in hell cares because the forgotten men of the campus are going to have their inning in about a week or so.

Someone mentioned that the Kappas have forgotten their "double-barreled monacles"—now they want to play "Eddie Cantor" so they can say, "Have you seen my operation?"—my yes! You're not in the swim without being hemstitched.

Which collegian was placed on the Jewish All-American football team. Betcha the rabbi was surprised.

The home gals seem to be either giving the air to, or losing the home boys—and the M. S. T. C. nif-nifs are getting the nod—even the gawd of all campus gawds (we never thought it would come to this!) favors 'em!

Reports have it that the Engineers didn't bring their affair in on time—what we mean is, that it wasn't up to the standard.

What alleged campus Adonis became all a-twitter over his unknown but beautiful female caller the other day—but, worse luck, she turned out to be a bill collector—a new method, so beware collegians—maybe it isn't your lure.

It seems that one of our good Kay Dees and the son of a Washington, D. C. police commissioner had a whirl-wind romance last summer out where the west begins—and they say that the devastated male is still touched.

What party was a "rol-hicking" success?

What football player and what basketball star would have been greatly mortified had they taken those blind dates last Sunday?

What people will air things in the funniest places?

They say the worst thing about last Friday's Bawl was that people continually insulted other people by asking them "were they an engineer."

One of the freshmen still agrees with Sherman's remarks. He claims the foot that another rookie college soldier let a gun drop on still bothers him—the bone snapped.

By Twin City House

"Coat and Suit Making" is the title of a book written by Miss Minnie A. Anderson, professor of home economics in this college, and recently published by the Burgess Publishing company of Minneapolis.

Outlines of the processes of tailoring and detailed descriptions of the various steps form the body of the book. It is divided into four main parts, Care of Woolen Materials, Tailored Coats, Tailored Suits, and General Directions. Plates and detailed illustrations clarify the textbook.

Acknowledgements are made to tailors and former teachers and to Miss Helen Ewing of the University of Missouri, who has been working in the clothing department with Miss Anderson.

State College Grad Is Given Foreign Honor

James Odgen Brauer, first lieutenant in the United States Marine corps and captain in the Guardia Nacional de Nicaragua (Nicaragua National Guard), has been awarded the Cross of Valor by President J. M. Moncaña of the Central American country where the former State college man has been stationed during the past two years. The award was made in recognition of his services rendered to the Nicaraguan government in suppression of the Rebel revolts that have occurred in that territory.

Brauer is the son of Mrs. A. O. Brauer, 703 Third St N. He is a graduate of North Dakota State college, and has also spent a year in advance work at West Point Military academy. While in attendance at the college he was affiliated with Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity.

On The Campus

Membership to SENIOR STAFF, local honorary service organization for women, depends on service to the college, leadership, and scholarship. Senior Staff awards prizes for feminine students, and conducts several all-college dances.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN has for its object the promotion of agriculture in general and of animal husbandry in particular. The club sponsors the Little International Livestock show, and backs the 4H club.

SCABBARD AND BLADE, national honorary military fraternity, membership depends partly on scholarship. The fraternity sponsors the cadet hops, and the Military Ball.

The SIGMA DELTA DISCUSSION CLUB is one of 173 similar chapters of the International Relations club organized under the Carnegie Endowment fund for peace. Its object is to educate and enlighten public opinion on the subject of international relationships.

SPECTRUM CRITIC

Theater goers will have a chance to see "The Doomed Battalion" at the Roxy theater the first half of this week. A little known but highly dramatic phase of the World War is depicted in this picture which takes place in the Dolomite Alps in Austria, the scene of many battles between the Austrian and Italian mountain troops. Tala Birell, the European star, has the feminine lead in the picture starring Victor Varconi and Luis Trenker.

A man with a monocle striding along the lonely trails of the San Bernardino mountains in California. A man in rough tweeds and with a slouch hat low over one eye watching a sunset from the windows of a small resort hotel. A little man, with expressive hands, pointing to this and that dish among a wide assortment of foods on a cafeteria counter.

It is George Arliss, a star of "Successful Calamity," which comes to the Fargo theater next Wednesday, on a holiday from Hollywood. Anyone that has ever been an Arliss fan before, will never want to miss any of his photo-plays. He gave us exactness and history in "Disraeli" and "Old English," a remarkable character of portrayal in the "Millionaire," "Alexander Hamilton," and "The Man Who Played God," but this time he stirs all of his technique together and the result is a "Successful Calamity." Don't miss it at the Fargo theater this week and see some of the finest bits of acting that has ever been produced on the stage.

The supporting cast is the greatest George Arliss has yet had, with youth predominating. We see Mary Ast, Evelyn Knapp, Grant Mitchell, Dav Torrence and William Janney, all whom have a fine following.

"Six Hours to Live," a picture that unusual in every respect, is now showing at the State theater. It deals with the story of a murdered man who is brought back to life for six hours by now "life" ray. What he does in the six hours provides fine material for thrilling drama. Warner Baxter as Miriam Jordan, the latter a very capable English actress, are the lead players.

Marvin Tuntland, Smith-Hughes instructor at Cooperstown and an alumnus of Alpha Gamma Rho, visited the chapter house last weekend.

BISON BASKETEERS OPEN SEASON'S PLAY WITH WIN OVER WAHPETON

State College Men Play Hard Game To Maintain Lead Over Wildcats

TOM FLYNN SCORES OFTEN
Sophomores Bear Attack Brunt As Veteran Stars Leave Game Early

North Dakota State college officially opened this year's basketball schedule last Friday as the Bison basketball team squeezed out a 32-24 win over the Wahpeton State Science school quintet.

The Bison had to play a hard game during every minute of the fracas and the Wildcats constantly kept their score mounting enough to make the Bison shooters fearful as to the outcome until the gun ended the game.

The game brought out the usual early season raggedness, the passing was uncertain and the Bison plays from center just would not click as a Wildcat player was in there to intercept the tip-off on nearly every play. The shooting from below the basket was better than he longer tries from the floor.

Grant Mickelson and Denenny made nice showings for the Bison, and after the sophomores took the floor in the last few minutes of the game, Marquardt displayed fine ability as a ball handler.

As is the case in the early season games, many personal fouls occurred during the game. In the Bison lineup, Weir, Don Arthur, last year's veterans, and Lyle Stinson, were sent from the game for having four personal fouls apiece, and Anderson and Tom Flynn, accurate forward, left the Wildcat lineup for the same reason. Flynn's shooting ability netted four baskets and three free throws for high scoring honors even though he did not play a full game.

The last 30 seconds of the game the Bison only had four men on the floor owing to the doubleheader game, with the number of men on the Bison team put out on personals Coach Saalwaechter had none left on the bench to put in. McKay, who was not in the game due to a severe cut over his eye came out of the stands ready to go on the floor, but evidently the Bison coach did not deem it wise to place him in the game.

All-Stars Beat Reserves

The Firestone all-stars won an easy victory from the Bison reserves by a 14 to 14 score. The all-stars were made up largely of college men, or at least former college players including a number of Bison on their team.

The Bison reserves did not seem capable of covering the all-stars, and as a result the all-stars displayed a very neat passing game for such an early season cage tilt.

The Firestone team displayed accurate shooting from under the basket and also were good on long shots from the floor.

Joe Blakeslee and Walt Olson, former Bison high ranking guards, were he starring players for the Firestone quintet, and H. O'Day was the outstanding player on the Reserves. Olson continued his Bison playing form of last year by gathering in seven baskets from all angles of the floor. The summaries:

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

In many respects the renewal of cage rivalry with Concordia Friday night will be one of the most thrilling games of the current season. In Both basketball and football the Moorhead college in later years has played its best against the Bison.

Last year the Cobbers beat us quite decisively, exhibiting speed and drive that left the Bison breathless. It is problematical whether the Bison would have won with Arthur and Olson, both out of the melee, in the lineup.

And in football this fall the Clevelandmen gave the Buffalomen one of the worst scares of the season.

Pat Hilde, stellar Cobber forward, was the nemesis of the Bison last year, caging five field goals from difficult angles, while Moran's floor work was a contributory factor. These are the two the Bison defense will have to keep under control to win.

IT IS MORE THAN LIKELY VIV MCKAY, THE BISON'S "IRON MAN," WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR ACTION FRIDAY. IF MAC IS "RIGHT" AND IF THEY PUT HIM ON HILDE, THE ELUSIVE PAT WILL HAVE TO POP 'EM IN WITH MENTAL TELEPATHY.

And the Bison sorely need somebody to talk it up in there. Why the players are so reticent and the fans so noisy is more than we can figure out. No doubt if you put a rabid fan in the game he would blush like a freshman attending his first formal.

MAYBE THE REASON THE BISON HAVE BEEN COMING ALONG SO SLOW IS BECAUSE THERE ARE MORE TALL PLAYERS AND, CONSEQUENTLY, MORE POUNDS TO GET IN SHAPE.

If you must have the score of the Bison-Cobber game, here it is: Bison 35; Concordia 22.

Just why a person eligible for All-American has to have an English name to evade witticisms is beyond use. There isn't a name in the country except those of Indian origin that had its derivation in America.

MEYERS GIVEN HIGHEST RECOGNITION FOR SEASON

Highest honors of any player in the North Central conference have been awarded Roman Meyers, end on the championship Bison team during the past two seasons.

Not only was Meyers the only player from this section placed on the honorable mention list of the Associated Press all-American selections, but also he has been placed consistently on all-conference selections made by coaches and city newspapers of this area.

Playing on the flank position in high school at Sioux City, Iowa, Meyers was awarded all-state honors for that position. His college athletic career has followed more brilliantly the start made in high school.

HENRY PRESLER SPEAKS AT GERMAN CLUB

Henry Presler former student will address the members of the German club on his recent experiences abroad at their meeting Thursday night at eight o'clock in the college Y. M. C. A. He will speak in the German language. All interested persons are invited to attend.

NOTICE

All members of the band, including the second section and the drum and bugle corps are to meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock, at the Music hall in full uniform. The band will march as a group to attend the Kryl Concert Band and will occupy a special section.

Freshmen Basketball Squad Take Mayville Team By 26-18 Score

Baby Bison Score First Conquest Of Season By Defeating Comets At Mayville

The freshman basketball team began their 1932 basketball season with a conquest of the Mayville Comets on the Mayville floor last Saturday night by a score of 26 to 18.

The Baby Bison grabbed an early lead in the first half which they managed to protect during the final half of the contest. The score at the half was 18-6 for the Baby Bison.

Coming back strong in the second half the Comets outscored the freshmen as Coach Gergen substituted his men freely. Both teams played inconsistently with the shooting ragged.

Carston Noecker was outstanding for the frosh until he was ejected from the game with four personal fouls. He scored four field goals in the first half of the contest. Anderson, who replaced Noecker, was also a scoring threat, contributing three field goals in the final half of the affair. Neville Reiners and Don Boettchen, yearling guards, were the main cogs in the defense. Boettchen helped the scoring cause with six points.

Luckason, Comet center, scored three field goals to pace the Mayville team.

KAPPA DELTA PI ELECTS NEW MEMBERS DEC. 7.

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational fraternity, will hold its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Faculty-Alumni Club rooms.

Little Country Theater Is Scene Of Pageant

"The Light of the World" Given As Seventeenth Christmas Festival Dec. 11

Preparations are rapidly nearing completion for the presentation of "The Light of the World," a musical panorama of the world's greatest drama, which will be one of the features of the seventeenth annual Christmas festival to be presented in Festival hall and followed by old scenes of Christmas memories in the Little Country theater and the Lincoln Log cabin on next Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11.

"The Light of the World" is an outstanding musical and dramatic production in natural hand colors of life size, according to information from the public discussion department. The actual scenes were made in Palestine by a notable French company. Combined with the dramatics are the great sacred songs which tell the story of the Jesus of Nazareth. As the song, for example, "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" is being sung the panorama will show actual scenes in old Bethlehem like they were that first Christmas morning.

As the song "Silent Night, Holy Night" is being sung the panorama will show the shepherds watching their flocks by night. The music and pictures will portray the life of Christ including the climax — the crucifixion, accompanied by shouts of "Crucify Him".

After the picture, the audience will follow the walk lined with Christmas trees to the Little Country theater.

and the Lincoln Log cabin where each can live the old fashioned Christmas spirit around the yule log, the fire place, and hear the old Christmas carols sung by the choir. Christmas cakes and candy will be ready for everyone.

"The Light of the World" will be shown for State college students exclusively Sunday afternoon and will be opened to the public on Monday night, Dec. 12, with a small price for admission.

Senior Girls Chosen For Practice Groups

Five Compose Class Which Will Spend Winter Term In Practical Study

The choice has been announced of the five senior girls in home economics, who, at the beginning of the next term, will move into the practice house as a second group to live there this year for a period of about nine weeks.

The girls chosen include Rosella Bernard, Wahpeton; Helen Miller, Northfield, Minn.; Veronta Wepler, Jamestown; Janet Jacobson, Alexander; and Grace Putney, Fargo.

A requisite for graduation in the college school of home economics, the period of time spent in the practice house of the college is spent in giving each girl a definite period of time to handle a certain department of housekeeping. The girls, under the supervision of Dean Alba Bales of the department, care for the complete management of the home, including the financing, cooking and cleaning of the model house. Delegation of duties is made by a regular distribution of duties.
