Engineers Hold Annual Informal Ball In Festival Hall Tonight

Admittance To Affair Limited To Members of Engineers' Club and Guests

DANCE WILL BE INFORMAL

Jack Dingle and Ellen Kelly Will Lead Grand March At Function

Leading the grand march this evening when the Engineers' club holds its annual Engineers' ball will be Jack Dingle, ball manager, and his guest, Miss Ellen Kelly. Second in line will be Oliver Blecken and his guest, Miss Louise Ytrebo.

The ball is an affair open to members of the Engineers' club only. It is an annual event, formerly held in the spring term. This year, due to the large number of similar functions, held in the spring term, the managers have made the decision to sponsor it in the fall term instead. It will be held in Festival hall, with dancing hours from 8:30 to 11:30. The grand march will form at 9.

Decorations will feature moving lights and a crystal, with a false ceiling also being employed in the decorative scheme. The color effects will be enhanced by indirect lighting, according to Edwin Perry and Vernon Lindquist, heads of the committee in charge of decoration.

Other committee chairmen who are assisting the managers are, floor manager, Orville Sundberg; tickets, Idan Flaa; publicity, Edward Comm; finance, Erling Hedahl; music, Robert Bergseth; chaperons, Leo Schwehr; features, Grant Solberg; and refreshments, Albert Nelson.

Chaperons are Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Van Dyke, and Mr. and Mrs. George Yott.

Blue Key Fraternity Initiates Three Men

John Dixon, Stanley Thompson, Edward Comm Named By Organization

Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, formally initiated three seniors to membership in the Ceres hall banquet room Thursday evening, Dec. 1.

The initiated are Stanley Thompson, chemistry; Edward Comm, civil engineering, and John Dixon, science and literature, all of Fargo. Blue Key membership is based on records of character, student activity, leadership and general service.

Founded by Major Bert C. Riley at the University of Florida in 1924, Blue Key, because of its success there, became national in the following year.

The initiated members were approved by the national office under the policy initiated this fall of exercising strict care in choosing members. This policy requires approval by the national office rather than by only that of the local chapters. Records of the candidates are sent to this office accompanied by a letter of recommendation by a prominent faculty member.

CLASS IN FESTIVALS WILL GIVE CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

"The Light of the World" will be presented as the seventeenth annual Christmas festival in the Little Country theater Sunday afternoon, Dec. 11, and in Festival hall Monday evening, by the Festival classes under the direction of A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public speaking.

Each year the classes in Festivals present a Christmas pageant as a part of their term's work. This year a musical panorama has been chosen as a part of the year's plan. All arrangements are in the hands of the students.

STUDENTS HOLD DEBATE ON WAR DEBTS TONIGHT

The question, "Resolved that the United States should agree to the cancellation of Inter-Allied war debts," will be debated Friday night by two teams of debaters from North Dakota State as a program feature of a Socialistic meeting at the Labor Temple, 116½ 5th st. No.

Under the auspices of the Fargo local of the Socialist party of America, the meeting will be a continuation of regular weekly programs.

Those debating for the affirmative are: Al Buchli and Howard Kilbourne, for the negative, Ed Steinhaus and Gerald Stevens.

A special Cadet hop, which will introduce several novel features, is to be held next Thursday afternoon, according to Earl Grove, as a windup party of the series sponsored during the fall term by Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity.

Music for the affair is to be one of the major attractions, according to Grove. Prices of twenty-five cents for male students and a dime for co-eds will not be changed. Hours of dancing will be from 4 to 6 in the afternoon.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma Mothers' club of Fargo announces an apron sale to be held Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 at the home of Mrs. A. H. Parrott, 312 Eighth st S. A silver tea is to be held in connection with the sale and is sponsored by the girls of the active chapter.

KAPPA DELTA NATIONAL INSPECTOR ARRIVES ON CAMPUS TOMORROW

Miss Bessie Feagin Comes From Visit At Montana State College Chapter

FUNCTIONS ARE PLANNED

Panhellenic, College Faculty, Are Among Campus Groups To Entertain Guest

Numerous social functions are planned in honor of Miss Bessie Feagin, national inspecting officer for Kappa Delta sorority, who will visit and inspect the Sigma Psi Chapter at the North Dakota State college this week end. Miss Feagin conducted a similar inspection of the local chapter of the sorority last year.

Arriving from Bozeman, Montana, on Saturday afternoon, Miss Feagin will be entertained at a tea in Fellowship hall by the Fargo-Moorhead City Panhellenic association. Mrs. Donald Burrill is chairman of arrangements for the affair and will be assisted by Mrs. Fillebrown and Miss Mary Bail. The same evening Miss Feagin will attend a dinner served in the Kappa Delta apartments by the active members of the sorority.

Sunday, Miss Pauline Reynolds and Miss Edna Sommerfield will entertain her at a noon dinner and at 3:30 there will be a tea given by the active members at the chapter apartment to which faculty members and representatives from the sororities and fraternities on the college campus are invited.

The chapter alumnae will serve a dinner in Miss Feagin's honor in the evening.

A luncheon sponsored by the faculty will be given Monday noon and at six o'clock Miss Feagin will be entertained at the chapter apartments at a dinner served by the active chapter.

Tuesday noon Mrs. Van Osdal and Mrs. H. Anderson will be hostesses to a luncheon at the former's home which will conclude the social appointments for the national officer.

A number of hours are to be spent in conferences and visitations with members of the active chapter and faculty on the campus during Miss Feagin's visit here.

Alumni Board Elects Three New Members

Alice Bender, John Dinwoodie, Ralph Hollands Will Fill Vacancies

Announcement of three recently elected members to the governing board of the North Dakota State college alumni and former students association was made today by Everett Wallum, alumni secretary. The three, Alice Bender, John Dinwoodie and F. Ralph Hollands, were named to succeed a trio whose three year terms had expired.

Those whose terms expired are: Reul Wije, Harry Swanson and T. W. Thordarson, the first named president of the organization for many years. Nine members comprise the board.

Balloting was made by alumni attending homecoming festivities. The votes were sealed and were not opened until a committee appointed by former President Wije assembled to verify eligibility of the voters.

Old members of the board include C. A. Williams, R. M. Dolve, Mrs. H. W. Wilhan, P. J. Olson, Perry Newton and O. Gunvaldsen.

New officers have not been named.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Publications Wednesday, Dec. 7, at noon.

DEADLINE FOR BISON CUTS EXTENDED SAYS EDITOR

That the deadline for The Bison cuts should be extended from Dec. 1, in accordance with a slight rearrangement of schedule, was revealed Wednesday night when the salesmen for the pictures met in The Bison office.

Despite the depression, there are twenty more cuts sold now than there was last year at this time, Idan Flaa, junior, is ahead in the number of cuts sold.

Juniors Win Honors In Thirteenth Play Contest Last Night

Kathryn Marks, David Minard Awarded Individual Acting Honors

Competitive honors were awarded to the junior class last night in the thirteenth annual one-act play contest held in the Little Country theater. This affair, sponsored annually by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club, is under the general supervision of Miss Alice McConnell Bender.

Kathryn Marks, member of the sophomore cast, and David Minard, member of the junior cast, were awarded high acting honors by the judges for the competition, Mrs. Ralph Weible, John Roy Mashek, and Miss Harriet Pearson.

The winning production, "In the Morgue," by Sada Cowan, was a morbid bit of drama in which was emphasized the fact that all unidentified bodies found are given the same consideration. David Minard, William Murphy, and Freddie Martin were the characters in the interpretation. David Minard also directed the production.

A farce fantasy, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," by A. A. Milne, was presented by the freshman class. This play, which concerned a certain missing ruby, proved quite different from most plays dealing with missing jewels. The cast included William Breitenbach, Corrine Lawrence, Ralph Anderson, Jean Simonson, Clifford Altermatt, Dana Smith and Paul Boleyn. Virginia Baker, who had been directing the play, was not able to attend practices last week due to illness.

That any person might be susceptible to the "Flattering Word" was proven by the sophomore's interpretation of George Kelley's play which concerns a certain minister who was the object of many laughs because of his gullibility. In the cast were William Stewart, Clifford Swanson, Evelyn Davis, Helen Tarplee and Kathryn Marks. Ken Hamry directed the play.

A heavy drama by Eugene O'Neil, "Where the Cross Was Made" was the title of the senior play. It dealt with an old seaman whose anxiety for a certain ship to enter port, after searching for a treasure, led to his insanity. The cast was composed of the following students: Frances Nichol, Freddie Anderson, Frank Clark, Charles French, Norin Johnson, Frank Callinan and Earl Grove. The production was directed by Jean Pote.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE IS CLUB PROGRAM FEATURE

A talk on "Holland Tunnel," given by Arlie Oman and illustrated by slides, featured the Engineers' club program, which was sponsored by the North Dakota State student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, last evening at the regular meeting of the Engineers' club.

George Toman talked on the "Future of the Engineer in North Dakota" as another part of the entertainment. He discussed all fields of engineering as related to this state.

Bohumir Kryl, Internationally Known Director, Heads Musical Group

GIVES TWO PERFORMANCES

Leta May, Soprano, Josy White, Violinist, Helen Rogers, Harpist, Assist

Presenting two performances, Bohumir Kryl and his Symphony band will appear before the students of the college and music lovers of Fargo as the feature of the lyceum Tuesday afternoon and evening. He will be assisted by Miss Leta May, coloratura soprano, Josy Kryl White, violinist, and Helen Rogers, harpist.

Kryl is famous the world over for his conducting. His band is said to combine the power and strength of a band with the artistry of a symphony orchestra. Of him the Cincinnati Enquirer says, "He is a great conductor and the head of a great band."

As a virtuoso he is also famous. The Los Angeles Times calls him "the most remarkable cornetist in the world." That his playing is as near perfection as is humanly possible is the opinion of a critic on a Missouri paper.

Josy Kryl White, Helen Rogers, and Leta May, who accompany the band on this, their 28th annual concert tour, are all great musicians, well known in America's musical circles.

On his tours, Kryl has appeared before many universities, colleges, and high schools as well as on the concert stage. He has engagements at 31 universities and 78 colleges on this circuit.

An evening performance will be presented here Tuesday at 8:15 o'clock. Students and holders of season tickets will be admitted upon presentation of their registration cards or tickets. General admission is fifty cents with reserved seats priced at seventy-five cents and one dollar. A matinee performance will be given Tuesday afternoon in Festival hall at four o'clock.

Honorary Chemistry Society Initiates Three

Alpha Phi Omega Initiates Students To Active Membership Wednesday

Three men were initiated and three men were pledged to Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity on the North Dakota State college campus, at a meeting held Wednesday evening. Arthur Larson, Master Chemist for the group, was in charge of the services.

Dr. D. S. Dedrick, instructor in the school of chemistry, was initiated as an honorary member of the local honorary fraternity, while Ray Greenwood, senior, and Ely Fleisher, a junior, were taken into active membership. Those pledged at Wednesday's meeting include LeRoy Chloupek, senior; Charles McLaughlin, senior, and John Thompson, junior.

Alpha Phi Omega, organized on the campus in 1924 with the purpose of furthering interest in chemistry as a study and as an industry, requires the completion of at least 76 hours of college work and an average above 80 percent for eligibility for membership.

CONCORDIA PRESENTS IBSEN DRAMA SOON

Ibsen's drama "Pillars of Society" will be presented by the Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity of Concordia college at eight o'clock Wednesday, Dec. 7, in the Moorhead high school auditorium.

CONQUEROR OF GLOOM

All of us laugh and all of us are under the spell of gloom at some time or other. But the strange part of it is that we are generally so for no reason at all.

Yet it is the gloomy side of life which seems more natural. More often are we prone to be sorry for people than to laugh with them. This aspect is all to the good, and far more pleasing as a human characteristic feeling. This is evidenced by the recent and annual appeals of the Community Chest drives to the city, and is the basis for all movements for benefitting the less fortunate of society.

When we see people in distress, we like to sympathize with them. The cause may be minor but the attendant ailment is universal. When a student flunks an examination or fails in an enterprise, we thump him on the back and wish him better luck next time. A child falls and someone from the hurrying throng rushes out to pick him up.

We have gloom all about us in our life and all the time. Yet we have that virtue which is mercy and pity, the human spirit that dispels gloom.

THE UNIVERSITY COMPLEX

Now more than ever before the student must guard against being influenced by the so-called "university complex," the all-too-prevalent tendency among students in colleges and universities to elevate their professors on pedestals.

The professor can't be wrong! His golden words come from a knowledge and inspiration that preclude any possibility of error! There is no chance of his having "feet of clay," of his being human enough to make a mistake, of his pulling a bluff in something of which he is not quite sure!

When questioned as to the authority for a statement, the student is inclined to answer, "Dr. Who's-He said so." The true scholar will not adopt this slovenly attitude. He will develop the habit of checking doubtful statements through private research.

We realize, of course, that the teacher knows more than the pupil, but no one person can retain all of the knowledge on any subject in his head. The study of science, moreover, is eternally changing, and the truth of yesterday is often the fallacy of today.

Individual research will give the student a proper perspective on the field of knowledge. He will learn by delving into the vast realms of books, the great extent of knowledge accumulated by the many generations that have lived before him, and he will learn to appreciate what an infinitesimal bit he knows. He will learn to depend on himself, and will develop a self-reliance that will benefit him in his battle with life.

Student Opinion

Why do the boys of North Dakota State college insist on staggng the all-college parties? The college itself, as well as the various organizations on the campus, has sponsored some very splendid, informal, all-college dances, all of which have been attended by many more men than women. The reason that the women students don't go to these parties is not that they do not wish to go. As a matter of fact many of them are really very anxious to go, but not until someone of the opposite sex asks them is it possible for them to go. The majority of girls on this campus won't "stag" a dance.

I have been told that some of the fraternities have advised their pledges to be democratic and go to parties dateless. On the other hand the sororities tell their pledges that for girls to "stag" dances is absolutely passe. Since such a condition will never get us anywhere some agreement must be reached.

If the boys prefer to attend parties without dates let us have more no-date parties like the one which we had this fall. I have read many comments on what a jolly successful affair that was. That gave the girls a chance to come undated and in an equal plane with one another.

It isn't that the boys can't afford to ask girls to go because in about nine cases out of ten they plan on making a lunch date and taking some girl home after the dance. In a certain instance which I recall the party was to be a date affair. As usual there was the old familiar "stag" line. The fellow that brought a girl with him had to stand and look on while his fraternity brothers had dances with her.

Boys, if the party is to be a date party why not ask some girl beforehand and be assured of plenty of good dances without having to cut in on some fellow who did bring a girl? It doesn't cost any more, and it surely makes for a better time. To come alone seems very unfair and unsportsmanlike. In the future let's make dates for our date parties and all stag our no-date affairs.

ROWDY REMARKS

The roll of the Chemists' club, or Alpha Phi Omega, should be called when the managers and yes men of the Military ball meet.

Harold Teen, Pop and the Sugar Bowl are not the only ones with a giggling gal—Have you met "Giggles," the Kappa?

Name the collegian who read The Spectrum headline, "Bison Cut Salesmen Hold Meeting"—and then decided he had better buy a couple of cuts as he'd already taken more than the two that each student is allowed by the college council.

One gal on the campus should send her brilliant remarks into some national publication's corner for "Bright Blurbs by Blonde Babes"—and make some hay on them.

Who is the sophomore who has a way of going to sleep that beats counting the "woolies" in every way. Every night when he goes to bed he attempts to convince himself that it is morning and that he has to get up. "The method hasn't failed yet," he boasts.

Two new maxims suggested for ye local campus—"Popularity breeds contempt"—"Have you had your irony today?"

We hear that the POP pledge chapter staged a walkout Monday night while the activities were busily plotting punishment for the more ambitious members of the group.

One freshman makes a startling discovery this week—that Christmas does not always come on Sunday. No it was not the same freshman who was faithfully campaigning for Zimminisches.

It is rumored that some of the campus notables of last year are plotting a private night club to be staged in the near future. Maybe the news will travel as far as Bismarck.

Which fraternity on the campus whispers of three married members or pledges attending school at the present time?

We hear that one of the former campus big-shots is due to enter a new "rocket." The new life will involve changes in garb and collar styles.

Another lovelorn Romeo wanted to write an editorial panning the sorority girls on gold digging. We suspect that he was shorn of his "specie" in a weaker moment.

Famous last line—"Hello L. F.—Stagging the ball tonight?"

The 225 students of Presbyterian college, who left the campus in June re-joining in the decision of the board of trustees of the institution lifting the ban on dancing on the campus, are eagerly awaiting the board's reaction to the recommendation of the Presbyterian synod of South Carolina that the restriction be again placed on the students. The synod had before it, as well, a resolution to prohibit the students from dancing anywhere and to make it a sin for members of the church in the state to dance, but this resolution was defeated.

The annual class scrap between the freshmen and sophomores at Ottawa university is nothing out of the ordinary, but its preliminaries are quite unique. It seems the entire school is the guest of the freshman class at a fried chicken dinner after the fight, regardless of who wins. Before the fight the frosh get the chicken and fry it, then put it in hiding. If the sophomore can find it and get it away from the frosh, the frosh have to stand by and look hungry while the rest of the school fills up on fried fowl. If the sophomores don't steal the chicks, the freshmen get in on the "feed." The custom originated back in 1904.

A professor at the University of Kentucky found a large, red, juicy apple on her desk when she came to class last week. The culprit, or admirer, has not been apprehended as yet.

Ag Students Carry Out Building Projects

Farm Shop Is Busiest Spot On College Campus, Says H. L. Walster

"Ag boys acquire more than mere book knowledge at the North Dakota State college," says H. L. Walster, dean of the school of agriculture. He describes the farm shop as the busiest spot in the Agricultural building. Here farm boys spend three hours, three days a week, doing actual construction and carrying out building projects under Prof. H. F. McColly.

On a visit to the shop last week, boys were seen conducting problems in harness making, in soldering, in cement preparation, and one in electrical wiring of farm houses and barns. All materials used in this work shop, other than actual tools, were constructed either by the present class or by previous classes. When they have a problem they meet it and adapt themselves and the shop to it. A recent example of this adaptation was the making of a new work bench to accommodate the large class and to correct the lack of sufficient space.

The purpose of such a unit for classes in agriculture is evident, states Dr. Walster. Boys intending to go back to the farm are taught the intelligent use of tools that they may have the knowledge of simple repair and construction so necessary at all times on the farm.

GIRLS' 4H CLUB TEAMS TO CLASH HERE DEC. 9

Girls 4H club demonstration teams, winners of district championships at fairs in Fargo, Minot, Grand Forks and Mandan last summer, will clash for state honors on Dec. 9 as a feature of the North Dakota 4-H club Achievement Institute program at the State college Dec. 6 to 9. Teams from Cass, Grand Forks, Williams and Burleigh counties will compete. The demonstrations are to be on clothing subjects with each team made up of two girls.

Members of the four teams are: Williams county, Doris Kron and Elizabeth Skadron, Williston; Burleigh county, Mamie Naaden and Gertrude Allensworth, Braddock; Grand Forks county, Doris Earl and Dorothy Saumur, Grand Forks; Cass county, Helen Combs and Mable Wyckoff, Chaffee.

Another contest which is expected to attract wide interest from the girl delegates to the institute is a good grooming contest under the supervision of Inez LaBossier, clothing specialist of the college extension service. Each county will enter one of its delegates in this contest. Neatness is to be one of the important points in deciding the winner.

COSTS OF UPKEEP ARE CUT DURING THIS YEAR

The depression is having its effect on the upkeep and improvements on the campus of the North Dakota State college this year, according to Richard Kraft, superintendent of the grounds. Only two men were employed to care for the campus this last summer, and no men are being used for this purpose at this time.

Saving is also necessary as far as improvements are concerned. The remodeling of the steps in front of the college library and the addition of a dormer window to the Lincoln Log cabin were the extent of operations in this direction during the past year.

On The Campus

PHI UPSILON OMICRON is a professional honorary fraternity for students in the school of home economics. Its aim is to promote interest in home economics, and to provide social contact among its members. Eligibility to membership depends on the completion of the fall term of the sophomore year with a scholastic average in the upper two-fifths of the class.

PAPYRUS EBERS is the official publication of the pharmacy club, is published every three months, and has for its purpose the keeping of alumni and students in touch with each other and with the advance in modern developments in pharmacy.

The PEP CLUB is an organization of men students banded together for better and more organized cheering during the winter sports.

RHO CHI is a national honorary pharmaceutical society which has for its purpose the promotion of good fellowship and the stimulation of research in the various sciences connected with pharmacy.

SPECTRUM CRITIC

Mary Jane Holmes' popular novel of the nineteenth century, "Lena Rivers," is making its first showing in Fargo in the form of a movie at the Roxy theater the last half of the week. The story is centered around the Kentucky horse races where Lena, portrayed by the youthful newcomer to the screen, Charlotte Henry, discovers happiness after a life of poverty. Other members of the cast are: Morton Galloway, Beryl Mercer, and James Kirkwood.

Showing at the State theater today and tomorrow is "Rackety Rax," a satire on college football. A gangleader organizes a chain of colleges to turn out football teams, which in turn make enormous profits for him by winning games in rather unorthodox ways. Victor McLaglen and Greta Nissen take the leading parts.

Who is the best known man in America? Who daily makes the world laugh?

The answer to these questions, naturally, is Will Rogers. The celebrated wit, humorist and philosopher will make people laugh, but he will also make them cry at the Fargo theater next Saturday when "Too Busy to Work," his latest Fox picture, starts its engagement. Rogers portrays the role of a kindly and tolerant vagabond wanderer, who, after many years of search, finds his lost daughter.

Marian Nixon, last seen in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," appears as the girl, and Dick Powell, handsome leading juvenile, enacts the role of the boy with whom she finds romance.

Will Rogers can play any kind of a character and do a good job. But the type that he can get the most out of is that of the indolent, philosophic hobo. And here you have him in just that kind of a role. The Sage of Claremore steps out in "Too Busy To Work" as something more than a comic. This picture has a convincing heart appeal that distinguishes it from many of the other hits he has made.

Now playing at the Fargo, we have Joe E. Brown in "You Said a Mouthful." If you want to go down town and have a good after-supper laugh and enjoy yourself for a couple of hours—see this "King of Comedians"—he will entertain you.

Saalyemen Look Ahead To Difficult Holiday Schedule

BIG TEN COMPETITION PROMISES TOUGH SET OF GAMES FOR BISON

Experience For First Year Men On Varsity Is Reason For Jaunt

ST. LOUIS U. IS MET FIRST

Learning of New Basketball Rules Another Reason For Schedule

But several weeks remain before the annual holiday jaunt of the Bison, in which campaign the North Dakota State college basketball team will be sent against five high ranking middle-western teams, in preparation for the annual race for North Central conference dominance.

Many advantages are expected to be the result of this trip for the State college cagers, Coach Leonard Saalwaechter said today. Experience for a fresh group of sophomores, that threatens the displacing of several veteran players on the squad, is the dominant reason for the trip, the coach adds.

The new rules introduced in 1932-33 basketball will have to be learned by the members of the varsity team. The actual playing with higher ranking teams should prove valuable in giving the Bison their insight in the new style of play and a direct knowledge of new regulations, in the opinion of Coach Saalwaechter.

Actual pittance against the complex defensive and offensive games of the Big Ten quints and other conference quints is the best method of giving real experience to initiate the sophomore players, upon whom the destinies of the team lies for coming seasons. Walter Olson, last year's sensational Bison guard, owes his rapid rise to varsity calibre to experience gained in a similar trip, Coach Saalwaechter says.

Ranking with the physical education building, one of the most modern athletic plants in the northwest, and the college itself, the idea of annual athletic trips is most attractive to the high school athletes, who are thus encouraged to attend institutions within the state, Saalwaechter believes. The schedule of games furnishes enough return to pay all costs of travel for the entire squad.

University of St. Louis, James Millikin, Illinois U, Northwestern College of Naperville, Ill., and University of Iowa in the order named comprise the Bison opposition. Wahpeton Science and Concordia are the practice opposition.

Veterans fighting to hold their jobs against the onslaught of greener candidates include Viv McKay, Marion, guard; Donald Arthur, Mandan, forward; and lanky Bob Weir, Fargo, center; all three named on the mythical conference team last year. Jimmy Berdahl, Hillsboro, forward; and Arnold Mickelson, Thief River Falls, Minn., are the other letter winners.

As in football, sophomores look far above the average. Bud Marquardt and Acey Olson, ends on the grid eleven, are dangerous forward contenders. Marquardt was all-state center in Minnesota while playing for Moorhead and Olson captured an all-state forward berth for Coach Rice's Fargo team. Curtis Denenny, a tall rangy fellow, seems destined for a first string job at either forward or guard, while Grant Mickelson of Thief River Falls, and Lyle Stinson, Red Wing, Minn., look powerful at guard. Other sophomores include Fritz Hanson, Perham, Minn.; Burt Anderson, Fargo; Leo Gerteis, Fargo; Joe Aasen, Hatton; and Howard Kraft, Dilworth, Minn.

The schedule for this season is as follows:
Dec. 2—Wahpeton Science School at Fargo
Dec. 9—Concordia at Fargo
Dec. 20—U. of St. Louis at St. Louis, Mo.
Dec. 29—James Millikin U. at Decatur, Ill.
Dec. 30—U. of Illinois at Champaign, Ill.

Viv McKay

Viv McKay, who has just completed his final season as a Bison football player, is among the veterans to see action tonight in the doubleheader basketball games. He is again a candidate for the guard position.

Frosh Team Opposes Comets Of Mayville College On Saturday

Baby Bison Are Given Lecture Tuesday Night By Former Professional Player

The North Dakota State college freshman basketball squad will oppose the Mayville State Teachers college Comets at Mayville tomorrow evening, according to Pete Gerger, coach.

For nearly a month the Baby Bison have been practicing, and while there are no outstanding stars, the team as a whole works together very smoothly under the direction of Coach Gerger, who is expected to give all the members of the squad a trial in Saturday's game with an eye toward selecting the strongest combination.

The Baby Bison gained further knowledge of basketball last Tuesday night when they listened to a lecture given by Chuck Taylor, a former player on the New York Celtics, professional basketball team.

In a scrimmage following the lecture, Mr. Taylor entertained an audience of about two hundred people and spread consternation among his opponents, the freshmen, by his brilliant handling of the ball. While the demonstration showed the freshmen to be somewhat inexperienced when pitted against such an expert as Mr. Taylor, it also showed them to be clever ball handlers and further enhanced their prospects for a good season.

Center college probably has the most appropriate name, from a point of significance for its freshman athletes. With the varsity known as the Colonels, the freshman football team is known as the Lieutenants.

The University of Southern California has no football line coach.

DOUBLE GAMES TONIGHT MARK BEGINNING FOR COLLEGE GAGE SEASON

Earl Bute's Wahpeton Squad And Firestone Team Are Bison Opponents

The athletic department of the North Dakota State college will open its 1932-33 basketball season tonight in the physical education building with a "double-header." The varsity will oppose the Firestone Tire All-stars of Fargo, and Earl Bute's "Wildcats" from Wahpeton Science school. The games will commence at 7:30.

Coach Leonard Saalwaechter has been working with a capacity squad since the football season closed, bringing several of his veterans and some valuable sophomore material into action on the gym floor. The prospects look even as promising this year than last, because of the host of material coming into varsity competition from last season's yearling group.

Earl Bute is bringing a strong group with him from the school down-state, and, as he is an alumnus of our institution, the game holds an interest that is local in nature. There is also a former student from here that will more than likely see considerable action tonight, and that is Tom Flynn. Flynn was a student here last year, and made a name for himself not only in basketball but football as well. His performance against former teammates will be watched.

The Firestone Tire All-stars are made up of former college stars that are making their headquarters in Fargo. They have had several encounters so far this season and from all indications they will give the Bison a good run as members hit their old time form.

This game will act as a conditioning contest for the Bison, and at the same time the fans will have an opportunity to witness teams in action under the new rules which are in effect this year.

Marlin Cline Is Named To Manage Bison Rifle Squad For Coming Year

Ninety-Eight Students Firing With Team Now, Says Capt. J. B. Conmy

Marlin Cline, sophomore enrolled in the school of engineering, has been elected team manager of this year's rifle team to replace James Newton, who did not return to school this fall.

Ninety-eight men are now actually firing on the rifle squad, but as there are several old team members back who did not shoot early in the year the total will be increased to over one hundred men, according to Capt. J. B. Conmy.

There are twelve men on the squad who have tried out for the team in previous years and there are also five let-termen who are eligible to fire on this year's rifle team.

The new range which has been installed in the physical education building makes it possible to accommodate many more men than they were able to take care of when the range was in Festival hall, Captain Conmy says. The squad has been divided so that half of the men may fire on three days of the week, and the remaining men may fire the last three days of the week.

Although there are from forty-five to fifty men practicing every afternoon, more can be accommodated, he says.

Every year since 1925 the University of Southern California football team has been either first or second in Pacific Coast standings.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS ARE PHOTOGRAPHED TODAY

Among the first groups to be photographed for the 1934 Bison, the members of both the varsity and freshman football teams are to meet at 4:30 this afternoon at McCracken studio for individual and group pictures.

Soon fraternities and sororities on the campus will assemble at the studio for pictures for the yearbook on a definite schedule, according to Emanuel Smith, organizations editor for The Bison. Individual cuts for the classes sections have already been taken and will continue throughout the coming term.

North Central Athletic Committee Convenes In Windy City This Week

Officers, Honorable Mention For Players and 1933 Schedule Named At Meeting

The annual meeting of the Athletic committee of the North Central conference was held in Chicago, last Tuesday and Wednesday, at which time the plans for the coming year were discussed and the officers were elected. The representatives from North Dakota State college included C. C. Finnegan and Dr. O. O. Churchill.

It was decided that the members of the conference should be allowed the opportunity of playing two games with each other if they so desire during any one football season. In the past, only one contest was allowed, and at times this has hindered the completion of a school's schedule. This new ruling was instituted in order to foster a greater interest in the conference races, and to allow the building of larger conference schedules. The extra games that are played because of this new ruling will count towards the conference standings as the single games have in the past.

At this time the official 1932 football championship was formally awarded to North Dakota State college, and the 1932 track and field title to South Dakota State. The annual track and field championship and the Dakota relays will be held next year at Sioux Falls, S. D., the former on May 26-27, and the relays during the first week in May.

Dr. O. O. Churchill, North Dakota State, was elected president of the committee, and Robert Van Horn, Morningside, South Dakota State, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the group.

Conference Players Honored
Twenty-two football players from the conference teams received honorable mention from the committee. North Dakota State led the list with eight, North Dakota university, six; South Dakota State, four; Morningside and the University of South Dakota, two each. They are:

Ends—Meyers, North Dakota State; Dablow, North Dakota; Jacobson, North Dakota State.

Tackles—Meinhover, North Dakota; Wyant, Morningside; Wick, North Dakota; Rott, South Dakota State.

Guards—Jahr, North Dakota State; Malo, North Dakota; Orness, North Dakota State; Moore, South Dakota.

Centers—Kummer, South Dakota State, and Paris, North Dakota State.

The 1933 conference schedules were drawn up and they are as follows:

- Oct. 28—North Dakota State at Grand Forks

Prominent Americans Select List Of 100 Books Now In Circulation Here

Books that should be read by every American between the ages of 20 and 45, according to "Who's Who in America," are listed in the leaflet "100 Books Chosen by Prominent Americans," which is available for free distribution at the North Dakota State college public library. This list, compiled by Nathan G. Goodman, Philadelphia journalist, has just been published by the American Library association.

Eleven works of poetry are included in this list as compared with six volumes of poetry in a similar list published in 1924. Contemporary poets named in this selection are Benet, Frost, Masefield, and Sandburg.

Since the selection is arranged according to popularity, it is interesting to note that "Franklin's Autobiography," fifth on the list, is now in first place, while "Ivanhoe," formerly first, has dropped to sixteenth place. "Don Quixote," has replaced "David Copperfield," at second place, while "The Scarlet Letter," is third and "Les Miserables," fourth on both lists.

As might be expected change is particularly notable in the fiction where recent titles, "Growth of the Soil," "Forsyte Saga," "Main Street," "Death Comes for the Archbishop," and "The Magic Mountain," replace such old favorites as "The Man Without a Country," "Ben Hur," "The Rise of Silas Lapham," "Romola," and "The Virginian." Among the older fiction not included on the former list but placed on the new one are "Madame Bovary" and "Tom Jones."

Aviation School Offers Students Scholarship

All College Students Eligible For Awards By Boeing School Of Aeronautics

Students of North Dakota State college are eligible to compete for aeronautical scholarships totaling $7,500.00 in tuition value being offered for the fourth consecutive year to aviation-inclined students of universities and colleges by W. E. Boeing, pioneer in the aircraft industry, it has been announced by the Boeing School of Aeronautics, located at Oakland, California.

Four college undergraduates who submit the best essays on aeronautical subjects to a national committee of award and who are able to meet necessary physical standards, will be given flying and ground training at Boeing School at no tuition cost.

First prize is the master pilot ground and flying course, covering 250 hours of flying and 924 hours of ground school, and exceeding qualifications necessary for a transport pilot license. Second, third and fourth place winner may select thorough ground school courses, with the second award candidate also receiving flight instruction.

Regulations of the scholarships specify that the candidate must be an undergraduate of this school in regular attendance and in good standing, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five, and devoid of any physical handicap. The scholarship competition closes on April 15, 1933, and essay subjects selected by candidates must be approved prior to March 15, 1933. The candidate who is selected for the first award must be able to pass the Department of Commerce transport pilot license examination within ten days after awards are announced. Three alternate candidates will be selected for possible awards in the event winners are unable to qualify physically.

The Boeing School of Aeronautics holds approved school repair station certificates from the Department of Commerce. With a fleet of training aircraft ranging from light trainers to three-ton transports, and with laboratory equipment valued at $100,000.00, the school offers facilities for complete training for students desiring to enter aviation.

Additional information on the W. E. Boeing scholarship may be obtained from the college registrar, or from the Boeing School of Aeronautics, Municipal Airport, Oakland, California.

"We can expect an increase in hookworm infection in the United States since the depression is sending so many families back to the farm," Dr. W. W. Cort, professor of helminthology, Johns Hopkins university, said in a lecture before medical and premedical students at University of Alabama. Dr. Cort is one of the workers in this field in investigations supported by the Rockefeller Foundation.
