STUDENTS MUST BUY CUTS BEFORE DECEMBER FIRST, SAY EDITORS

Schedule Leaves Eight Days In Which To Procure Photos For Bison Annual

FLAA, KING LEAD SALES
Students Are Urged To Have Pictures Taken Before Christmas Rush

Only eight days, including Thanksgiving day, remain in which students may buy their cuts for the college annual, The Bison, and definitely establish themselves with their respective classes. Dec. 1 is the dead line.

Because the yearbook cannot be representative of the student body unless it contains pictures of all class members, and because the production of a truly representative yearbook is the purpose of its editors, students are being urged to buy their cuts immediately by Donald Fredrikson, editor-in-chief, and William Heller, business manager.

Coupons by which the cuts are procured may be purchased from any of the sorority and fraternity representatives or at The Bison office on the lower floor of Science hall. These coupons, costing a dollar and a half, pay for making the cut of the picture taken at McCracken's studio at a cost of fifty cents. This studio has the contract for their production and is making a special offer by which this sum of fifty cents may apply on a dozen pictures if desired.

Idan Flaa now leads in cut sales with Tommie King running second. To the representative selling the largest number goes a free cut in The Bison.

William Heller asks that the students not only procure their cuts immediately but have the pictures taken as early as possible in order to avoid the worst of the Christmas rush at the studio. Pictures not taken early must be left until after the holidays and this will delay the production of the yearbook so that it cannot come out at the early date in the spring term now foreseen.

Program By Members Opens German Club Activities For Year

Delta Beta Convenes Tonight In College YMCA For First Meeting

Delta Beta, college German club, will hold its first meeting of the school year tonight in the college YMCA at 7:30, it was announced today by Howard Kilbourne, president of the group.

Following the meeting, a program will be presented by members of the organization. A playlet, "Auf der Zug," will be given by the following cast: The Sleeping Man, John Dixon; Chess Players, William Heller and Howard Kilbourne; porter, David Minard; mother, Katherine McDermott; daughter, Myrl Hoar, and housewife, Agnes Mohr. Readings will be presented by Forrest Swisher and Miss Hoar. German folk songs will be sung, and German games played. A committee is caring for refreshments.

Anyone interested in the German language is invited to attend, especially first year students.

Dr. Leon Metzinger, head of the college modern languages department, is advisor. Officers for the year are Howard Kilbourne, president; William Heller, vice president; Raymond Cordes, secretary; and John Hyland, treasurer.

The YWCA cabinet will have a pot-luck meeting in the Y rooms at noon today, Nov. 22.

TRAFFIC OFFENDERS ARE TRIED TODAY BY COURT

The meeting of the Student Court which was to have met Thursday, Nov. 10, will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the Alumni clubrooms, in the Main building.

All persons who have received tickets for violation of campus traffic ordinances should report before the court this afternoon.

Major R. Schlaepfer Initiated Sunday By Military Fraternity

Membership In Fraternity Is New Military Experience For Instructor

Major R. K. Schlaepfer, assistant professor of Military Science and Tactics, was formally initiated into M. Co., 3rd Regiment of Scabbard and Blade, Sunday morning. Services were held in the college Y. M. C. A. building and Ed Comm, captain of Scabbard and Blade, was in charge.

While Major Schlaepfer's military experiences before coming to North Dakota State college last fall, are varied, his initiation Sunday morning was his first introduction to Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity for reserve officers. That he has been active in many branches of the service may be noted from a summary given below.

Born in New Jersey where he obtained his early schooling, Major Schlaepfer later attended Worcester Polytechnic institute where he specialized in electrical engineering. His military experience began with the 5th New Jersey National Guards Infantry during 1916 on the Mexican border duty. Returning from that section the unit spent some time in guard duty of New Jersey munition plants, then went to Kenniston, Ala., where it became part of the 29th division.

In Sept. 1917 he joined the air service at Post field Oklahoma. His foreign service began when he went to France as an artillery observer in 1918. After the Armistice he remained in France as Assistant Provost Marshal in Paris.

He returned to the United States in August, 1919, and spent the next year on duty with the quarter master corps in Hoboken, N. J., returning ships from war duty to their owners. On Sept. 14 he entered the regular army as a first lieutenant of the Infantry, entering the Fort Benning Infantry school in Georgia, graduating and as a member of the company officers class in June. From 1922 to 1926 he spent with the New York National guard as an instructor stationed in Buffalo and Schenectady, New York. In 1926 he went to the Panama Canal Zone and served with the 42nd and 33rd Infantry, returned to the United States in June.

After serving with the Infantry in Portland, Maine, he reentered Fort Benning to become a member of the advanced class in 1931 and 1932. From Fort Benning he came to North Dakota State college.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN PERISCOPE PROGRAM

Misses Elizabeth Kinney and Veronta Weppler participated in the program given at the regular dinner meeting of the Periscope club which was held Thursday, Nov. 17, at the Fargo Y. M. C. A.

For nearly every meeting of this service club of young business men musical entertainment or lecture programs are planned.

This week's program consisted of readings and music. "Initiation" from "Penrod and Sam," and "Aunt Keturah's First Visit to the City" were the selected readings which were presented by Miss Kinney. Four musical numbers were played and sung by Miss Weppler.

BISHOP BARTLETT IS CONVOCAION SPEAKER ON MONDAY FORENOON

North Dakota Episcopal Head To Address Student Body In Second Lecture

TALKS ON LEADERSHIP
Assembly Is One of Series Concerning James F. Bell Award

Bishop Fredrick B. Bartlett, head of the Episcopal church of North Dakota, will address students and faculty on "Creative Leadership" in the second of the James F. Bell award lectures at convocation next Monday morning.

Bishop Bartlett delivered last year's Commencement address on the "Clash of World Forces." His talk for the convocation will be a discussion of co-operation between technical experts and representatives of moral values of human life.

Previous to his serving as Bishop of North Dakota, Bishop Bartlett spent six years on the Pacific coast assisting small churches in organization and in financial undertakings, as field secretary for the Episcopal church.

The early part of his life was spent in Connecticut, where he was born. He is a graduate of Trinity college and Harvard.

Four Pledge Members Of Gamma Tau Sigma Honored At Banquet

Honorary Journalism Group Holds Meeting Tonight In Ceres Hall

A banquet will be held tonight at 6 o'clock in the little dining room in Ceres hall by Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity, in honor of four men pledged during the fall term, according to Gerald Garlid, group president.

Pledges who will be honored are Arnold Chamberlin, Charles French, Robert Parrott, and Howard Kilbourne. Following the banquet a business meeting will be held.

Gamma Tau Sigma was established on the campus in 1925 for the purpose of furthering the interest of journalism at the college. The group is made up of students who take part in journalism, either in practice or in theory. Present active members are Robert Connolly, John Dixon, Donald Fredrikson, Gerald Garlid, William Heller, Earl Hodgson, William Macdonald, Gale Monson and John Thorsell.

FORENSIC CLUB HONORS DEBATERS AT BANQUET

The Lincoln Forensic club held its annual banquet in the Lincoln Log cabin at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Albert Buchli, president of the club, was toastmaster. A. G. Arvold, professor of public discussion, spoke on "The One-thousandth Anniversary of the Founding of the Icelandic Parliament." Donald Hay, debate coach, was also a guest of the society.

A feature of the program was the awarding of the interclass debate plaque to the freshman class. Frieda Panimon and Cathryn Ray were the freshman debate speakers. The interclass debates are sponsored by the Lincoln Forensic club.

Officers of the society are: Albert Buchli, president; Clifford Maloney, vice president; and Frederick Martin, secretary-treasurer. About fifty debaters attended the dinner.

BREAKFAST SPONSORED BY COUNCIL THURSDAY

For all the young people in Fargo and Moorhead, the Fargo Young People's council is giving a Thanksgiving breakfast.

Those on the program are: Vance Hallock, tuba solo; Rolland Mars, clarinet solo; The Calvary Evangelical Men's Quartet; Donald Hay, talk; Robert Snuff, President Hoover's Thanksgiving proclamation.

The breakfast will be at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock, Thanksgiving morning.

Annual One-Act Play Contest Is Scheduled For December First

Little Country Theater Scene of Thirteen Annual Inter-class Plays

Casts for the four one-act plays in the thirteenth interclass play contest, to be presented on Dec. 1, in the Little Country theater at the North Dakota State college, were announced late Monday by Miss Alice Bender, faculty supervisor for the annual competition.

Each year this event is sponsored by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club and is the result of student directing and staging.

Freshmen have chosen for their presentation "The Man in the Bowler Hat" by A. A. Milne. Virginia Baker is the student director. Members of the cast include: Corrine Lawrence, William Breitenbach, Ralph Anderson, Jean Simonson, Paul Boleyn, Dana Smith, and Clifford Altermatt.

Playing the leading roles in "The Flattering Word," by George Kelley, sophomore class entry, will be William Stewart, Kathryn Marks, Evelyn Davis, Helen Tarplee, and Clifford Swanson. Kenneth Hamry is directing the production.

Four boys comprise the cast for the junior interpretation of Sada Cowan's play, "In the Morgue." David Minard will direct the presentation, whose cast includes: Norin Johnson, Frederick Martin, William Murphy, and David Minard.

The drama, "Where the Cross Was Made," by Eugene O'Neil, has been selected as the senior project in the competition. The cast includes: Charles French, Frederick Anderson, Frank Callinan, Frank Clark, John Dixon, Earl Grove and Frances Nichol. Jean Pote is directing the play.

Senior Staff News Letter Is Issued

Staff Publishes Pamphlet To Keep In Contact With Graduates

Containing letters from ten alumnae of last year, the regular fall term issue of the Senior Staff News Letter appeared yesterday under the editorship of Marjory Archer.

Published once every term by Senior Staff, women's senior honorary organization, as a means of remaining in contact with graduate members, yesterday's number featured a cover design by Ruth Barrett which expressed a Thanksgiving motif.

Letters from Jane Canniff, Fargo, N. D.; Ovidia Carstens, Dilworth, Minn.; Virginia Davis, Fargo, N. D.; Eleanor Erickson, Wyndmere, N. D.; Lois Minard, Mandan, N. D.; Grace Hunkins, Sheyenne, N. D.; Maurine McCurdy, Sherwood, N. D.; Claire Newell, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Joyce Peterson, Tucson, Ariz.; and Viola Seaburg, Cooperstown, N. D., were printed.

In addition to these alumnae letters, news of the activities of the active chapter is presented for the alumnae.

Seventy copies were sent out to Senior Staff members throughout the United States.

1933 BISON BREVITIES WILL BE PRESENTED AS MUSICAL COMEDY

Groups Decide To Change From Review Type of Show At Meeting Last Week

BLUE KEY IS SPONSOR

Dice and Wenger Are Named As Faculty Advisors In Producing of Show

That an all-college musical comedy will be substituted for the usual review in this year's production of the Bison Brevities was decided at the last meeting of the committee of sorority and fraternity representatives Wednesday afternoon.

During the past years, the Blue Key honorary fraternity has sponsored a musical review. Sorority and fraternities presented original acts in comedy last year, under the direction of James Konen, an all-college review was petition for the first three productions. staged. This year an original musical comedy will be inaugurated.

At the meeting Wednesday J. R. Dice and W. R. Wenger were named faculty advisors. Definite rehearsal hours were set with the boys' choruses working Monday and Friday afternoons at four o'clock and the girls meeting Tuesdays and Wednesdays at the same hours.

Sorority and fraternity representatives are being urged to attend all meetings. These are held Wednesday afternoons in the newly established Brevities office in the north wing of the Barracks.

Fraternity Members Make Survey Of Cost Of Living In Cities

Group Circulates Questions Among Many Families In Vicinity

The principal work during the next two terms of Pi Gamma Mu, social science fraternity, will be that of a survey of the cost of living of town and city families, according to Prof. C. A. Severson, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The work will be carried on by the circulation of a questionnaire by student members of the organization in and out of Fargo, so as to get a representative sampling. The information acquired in this way is to be compared with a piece of research of like nature that is being carried on by Prof. E. A. Willson, specialist in rural organization.

The faculty social science group will meet with Pi Gamma Mu at its regular bi-weekly Thursday evening meetings this year during December, January, February, and March. The following topics will be discussed at the following meetings: Dec. 8, Dr. W. C. Hunter, "Has a Decline in Agriculture been a Chief Factor in the Fall of Nations"; Jan. 12, Dr. A. H. Benton, "The Philosophy of Farm Relief Measures"; Feb. 9, Dr. A. F. Hunsaker, "Monetary Aspects of the Depression"; and Mar. 9, Prof. W. A. Cleveland, "Misdirected Production as a Factor in the Depression."

Lawrence Kamp, Enderlin, was an Alpha Gamma Rho guest on Wednesday.

ON DEFINITE AIMS

On asking any general group of students the question, "What are you going to do when you leave college?" the unusual answer is vague. Many of the students do not know. "I may go into business with my father," some students say. "I may get married," is the retort of some co-eds. There are a few who answer readily just what they plan on doing and how they will go about it.

Most students come to college because they have graduated from high school with more or less good marks and consider college as the natural order of succession. Many say they come for an "education" but in that they have no definite objects or methods of achievement.

The majority of those fewer students, who know why and for what purposes they came to college are those who are a trifle older. They are those students who have gone out and battled for a living for several years and who have an appreciation of the problems of making one's way in the world. In this time they have obtained a certain amount of experience in the world. They know what they want; they come back to college for a definite reason. Their decision was made after considerable thought, backed by maturer judgement.

Contrast them with the average freshman, who comes to college sixteen or seventeen years old. In his first year he takes certain courses because he has to and several others because they come in the morning and he will have his afternoons free.

A point to be judged is whether or not the average high school graduate is fitted for college life. Another question, much more fundamental, is whether high school training is sufficient to give some student a goal in life, some purpose for the fulfillment of which, or partial work towards fulfillment, he goes to college. Would he benefit from a year or two of outside work between his graduation from high school and the opening of his college career? Is a boy or girl of sixteen or seventeen able to judge for himself without the years of experience just what he wants to do in life or does he need the added years for assistance in making his decision?

Indications point to the contention that the younger students would benefit greatly from the added experience of outside work to aid them in making their choice of life occupation. Present conditions make the choice of outside work out of the question so the suggestion of employment is out of the question right now. Meanwhile, the educational institutions remain the refuge of students, who do have indefinite vocational aims.

NO ALL-CONFERENCE

The Spectrum did not publish an all-conference football team selection last weekend.

With one more conference game to be played during the current season, the Thanksgiving encounter of the Bison and the Morningside Maroons at Sioux City, Iowa, we felt that it was no more than justice to the two teams to have their last chance to play of the season and their chance to show proof of football ability which might aid individual opportunities to make the all-conference team.

While Morningside college has thus far had three setbacks, their last game might mean outstanding changes in the status of the individual players who might be honored on the all-conference teams. Also, the status of various members on the Bison championship team might be varied somewhat with the results of the last game of the current conference season.

At this time, we feel that the early choice of all-conference teams as selected by the Associated Press was made somewhat in error. Several mistakes were made unavoidably due to the fact that the conference season is not yet over, that further improvements and developments could not be allowed for. The mistake has been made. Whether rectification is to be made after the real close of the conference schedule is still problematical.

Meanwhile, The Spectrum has not published an all-conference selection for the not completed 1932 football season.

On account of the Thanksgiving holiday there will be no Spectrum on Friday. The Spectrum staff wishes to take this opportunity to wish the student body and faculty members a bounteous Thanksgiving day.

ROWDY REMARKS

It will take a few more days before the "bull" session football critics stop talking about the all-conference team selections. After placing five out of eleven men on the first team, the Nokaks are probably beaming, "Didn't we tell you so—our Sioux can beat the Bison eight days a week!" And the Bison rooters are probably lamenting the fact that it isn't reasonable for the champs to have only two men on the first string of the mythical squad—and likewise admit that the Buffalomen can lick the Sioux any day at football, mumble-de-peg, or postoffice. But nobody can prove anything, so what the'll!

What instructor came to which class with a smear of what on what part of his pan—and looking rather ruffled? Taking it on the run.

Someone must have been thinking that Fargo was in the central west free wheeling standard time belt when they set the hours for the Thanksgiving round of minuets—as is, everyone is supposed to be in bed by nine bells so they'll be bright and cheery for their eight o'clocks—let's see the hands of those as will.

But let us be thankful that we have our "long" vacation—you know, they could have had school on THE DAY—and then we'd have probably have finished about the 2nd of April—such arithmetic!

The big shot has appointed a couple of right and left hand men (also women—we suppose) who do a great deal of whispering between themselves—so we wonder what the great mogul, or sea-gull, of Bismarck is stewing for the December gush of the "Pull Poison."

Someone asked an engineer if their coming "Rivet Setters' Ball" was to be a formal and some bright Science and Litter answered "Heck, no! Those guys wouldn't know how to wear anything but boots and breeches so it's got to be catch-as-catch-can."

They say that several nice parties were held last weekend—the Gamma Phi, Kappa Psi, A. T. O's—oh yes! the wrestling instructors also had an affair in Cornshock hall.

Simile or something:—As useless as a first introduction to a Kappa; Gamma Phi. (check desired article).

"Trader Horn" Hallenberg is all set for his Arctic hop.

And one collegian admits that, on Saturday nights, one thing leads to a number!

SPECTRUM CRITIC

Showing at the state theater is "The Crash," which, as the title would indicate, is a story concerning the time in 1929, when the bottom fell out of the stock market. Ruth Chatterton does a very creditable job as the wife of the market's victim, George Brent. This is the first appearance of the two stars on the screen since their recent marriage.

"Once In a Lifetime," starring Jack Oakie, appears at the State tomorrow and Thursday, and promises to be a typical Oakie comedy.

"Scarface" Paul Muni and Glenda Farrell are featured at the Fargo this week in "I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang." Supposedly authentic, the play deals with the terrible conditions that exist in some prison camps even today. The question "How can such conditions reform a man?" is put before you, the supposition being that it will only drive him to hate society to a greater degree, and if he gains his freedom will wage a war against organized law.

What chance has the human being in such conditions? The movie is a powerful drama and holds much food for thought. Muni did a marvelous job in portraying the fugitive, creating a picture of human sentiment and emotion that strikes human nature to the core.

"Red Dust," a powerful drama of the tropics, featuring Clark Gable and Jean Harlow, shows at the Fargo beginning tomorrow.

Girls at Smith college now make their way to the daily classes on roller skates, the use of automobiles being banned.

A student attending the University of Idaho rides horseback several miles in order to go to his classes. Not much like riding streetcars!

Although St. Thomas college is located in Minnesota, all of the class officers are out-of-the-state men.

Plans Made To Send Poultry Judging Team

North Dakota State College To Be Represented at Chicago, Ill.

Plans are being perfected whereby a poultry judging team consisting of Neil Peck, Herman, Minn., Bernard Curtis and John Hamre, both of Fargo, and Coach C. A. Barton, will represent the North Dakota State college at the Midwest Inter-Collegiate poultry judging contest to be held at the Colosseum Poultry Show in Chicago, the week of Nov. 22 to 27.

This judging contest is an annual feature during the session of the Colosseum Poultry show and is sponsored by the Poultry show in cooperation with allied poultry interests. Teams representing the agricultural colleges of the midwest compete annually at this contest in the judging of poultry for egg production as well as exhibition purposes.

For the first time an added feature will be made to the contest, whereby the contestants are required to participate in the judging of poultry products, including eggs and market poultry, both alive and dressed.

The North Dakota State college has been represented annually at the contest for the past seven years.

Senate Makes Plans For Service Program

Women's Group Works To Make Restrooms of College More Attractive

Embarking on their annual service program, the Women's Senate has outlined its plans for the coming year, the purpose being to make the restrooms of the school more attractive and comfortable.

At the last meeting of the organization, Frances Kingsbury, Margaret Dadey, and Amanda Adams were appointed to serve on a committee which would investigate the possibilities of establishing a rest room in the Main building. It is hoped by the committee that they may secure the large room outside Dean Dinan's office for this purpose. The freshman commission will cooperate with the group.

Also included in the project was the immediate redecoration of the women's rest room in Science hall. The room is to be rearranged, curtains replaced, couch covers and new pillows made. Veronta Weppeler and Eleanor Johnson were asked to take full charge of the refurbishing. The responsibility of keeping the room in order was assumed by the Senate.

Erlys Hill was appointed to see Dick Kraft, college plumber, about the possibilities of placing a drinking fountain on the second floor of Ceres hall.

The Women's Senate represents all the girl students on the campus through their organizations, each club, sorority, and honorary society having one member. Their purpose is to serve their constituents by making improvements effecting the women's student body as a whole. Until the change in the constitution last spring, the Women's Senate was made up of two representatives from each class, headed by Dean Dinan.

On The Campus

The aim of the LINCOLN FORENSIC CLUB is to promote the art and science of debate at this college. It sponsors the interclass debate series every year, and also presents a radio debate.

PHYTOIS is an organization of students with the purpose of furthering scientific interest in botany, soils, agronomy, horticulture, bacteriology, and kindred subjects. Membership is partially based on scholastic attainments.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA, national women's fraternity, was installed on the campus May 3, 1929. Before that date it was Delta Phi Beta, the first sorority at North Dakota State college, receiving its charter in 1906. This organization has its home at 1203 13 st N.

KAPPA DELTA was formerly Gamma Kappa Psi, going national May 14, 1924, two years after its installation as a local sorority. The Kappa Deltas have an apartment at 505 7th ave N.

MANY STUDENTS READ COUNTRY NEWSPAPERS

What's the most popular place in the library on Saturday morning? The stack containing the country newspapers, according to Harriet Pearson, assistant librarian at the North Dakota State college. These weeklies are gifts to the library, and any student wishing to have his home paper sent to the library should consult the librarians. About 90 county newspapers are received every week and are recorded in a file according to the date they are printed. They are then arranged alphabetically in the stack by name of the town. All four corners of the state are represented by the county weeklies: The Cavalier Chronicle from the northeast, The Fairmount News from the southeast, The Bowman County Pioneer from the southwest, and The Divide County Journal from the northwest.

COLLEGE LIBRARY CIRCULATION INCREASE

An increase of 2,500 books were in circulation in the North Dakota State college library during the last two years, as compared to the period of same length just preceding, states Mrs. Ethel McVeety, librarian.

During the year from August 1929 to 1930, the circulation increased 1,200. This was repeated in the following year. This does not include any of the books used as references in the library such as, reserve books, bound and unbound magazines, or text books. Only books taken from the library are listed.

Records show that more reading is done in February than in any other month. The type of reading done during this month varies somewhat from that done in August. Those of highest numbers in circulation take this order in February: fiction, literature, social science, biography, travel, history and philosophy; while those of August are: fiction, literature, social science, biography, travel, history and useful arts. November shows still another change of order: fiction leads again followed by literature, biography, social science, travel, useful arts, history and natural science.

THANKSGIVING GAME IS FINAL APPEARANCE OF YEAR FOR CHAMPIONS

Maroons Given Fair Chance For Victory In Home Field Game

24 MEN MAKE IOWA JAUNT

Jacobson, Roy Platt and Fritz Hanson Back In Togs For Last Game

Coaches Finnegan and Lowe left Fargo this morning with 24 of their charges for Sioux City, Iowa, to engage the Morningside college Maroons in the final game of the season for both teams. The game will be played Thanksgiving afternoon, and while the results will have no direct bearing upon the conference standings, a hard fought battle is expected by both coaches.

All available material will be utilized in the contest as the Bison have a conference reputation to uphold. The game will offer Morningside the opportunity to win one game in the loop this year. But while some authorities feel that the eastern trip has weakened the Bison sufficiently to enable Morningside to come out on the long end of the score, the State mentors are confident that their team is at the same peak of condition as they were previous to the North Dakota "U" contest.

It is true that the Bison have not been able to have any scrimmages or outside practices since their return last Monday, but the past week has been spent in limbering up, running, and formation exercises. All practices have been held in the indoor track in the physical education building.

Hanson In Trim

Fritz Hanson, one of the fastest halfbacks in the conference, has recovered from the minor injuries received in the Army game, and will be more than ready to show his wares to the Maroon fans.

Milton Jacobson, who was also injured in the Army contest, is back in uniform and will be in his regular position at end. He will also take over the kicking duties for the Herd, while in the contest, which department was ably carried on in the Army game by George May, halfback.

Platt Fully Recovered

Roy Platt, who has been ably filling the hole in the line at the tackle position, is fully recovered from the jolt he received at West Point. He promises to have all of the determination and fight that he has displayed in the past season of games as a regular holder of the tackle post.

Coach Sanderson will pit a much stronger team against the Bison than have met the remaining games of the conference. This is due to the seasonal experience that is naturally acquired by a team. Psychologically, the Maroons have everything to gain and nothing to lose as far as the game is concerned, and with this end in view, will give the North Central champions a tough battle.

It is likely that North Dakota State's seasoned team will give Sioux City football fans, who have the perseverance to weather the wintry blasts ripping through the Maroon stadium, a real exhibition of football Thursday.

FORMER STUDENTS ON INTERCOLLEGIATE TEAM

Former North Dakota State college students played prominent parts in collegiate conference if membership on football on the North Dakota Inter-all-conference teams is a criterion of prominence. Both Thomas Flynn, halfback, and Ort Halverson, fullback, were named all-conference men for their season's work on the Wahpeton Science school team. Jim Slattery, center, from Mayville Teachers, and Bill McDonald, Dickinson State Teachers quarterback, were given second team positions.

Noticed at the Northeastern Teachers' convention held recently at Cleveland, Ohio: Gray-haired men reading comic papers during the symphony concert, teachers coming late to their own convention; a smartly dressed delegate leaving the convention muttering "Nerts!"; remarks noting the increasing beauties of the teachers.

These Bison Given All-Conference Ratings

Merlyn Jahr

Merlyn Jahr and Roman Meyers were the only two men to be picked from the ranks of the North Dakota State championship aggregation for places on the 1932 All-conference team, as chosen by the Associated Press. The selection was made on the basis of the individual selections of four of the five coaches of the conference, Morningside college of Sioux City, Iowa, failing to reply.

North Dakota university led the list for first team, placing five men in positions on the first team, giving South Dakota university two places and one each to South Dakota State and Morningside. The men were chosen for their places by virtue of the number of times their names appeared in the lineups of the individual choices.

On the second team, North Dakota State college placed five men. Milton Jacobson, Clarence Orness, Robert Paris, Joe Selliken and Fritz Hanson were given berths. South Dakota State followed next in line with three posts, while the three remaining schools were awarded one apiece.

COYOTES ANNOUNCE 1933 GAME WITH CINCINNATI

South Dakota university has the honor of being the first school of the North Central conference to make an announcement regarding its 1933 football schedule, when the officials of the school announced that arrangements for a return game had been completed with the University of Cincinnati. The game will be played in Cincinnati, Oct. 7.

The two schools met this year in a closely contested battle which was won by the Ohio team, 7-0.

Perry Newton Speaks At Scouters Meeting

Edward McArdle Elected Head Of Newly Formed Club At Meeting

At the meeting, Wednesday, of the Scouters club, Perry Newton, former scout executive at Brainerd, Minn., will be the principal speaker. The meeting is called for 7:30 at the College "Y".

Edward McArdle recently was elected president of the organization, with Sam Dobervich, vice-president, and In-golf Thorson, secretary-treasurer. A recent meeting was addressed by Harry Lashkowitz, Fargo attorney.

The Scouters club was recently organized here to give instruction in the training of younger boys. A course is to be given through the college department of education in the winter term for executive direction of child activities. This phase of training is becoming an educational requirement for prospective teachers in larger grade and high schools.

If Herr Hitler is instituted as chancellor of Germany he will be beseeched to institute thousands of reforms. One writer suggests that the first thing he should look after is the shaving of his Charlie Chaplin mustache.

A three-inch penalty was given one of the teams in a football game between Haskell and Creighton recently.

Coyote Team Takes Difficult Schedule

South Dakota University Plays Gophers In Basketball At Minneapolis

A Big Ten team on its own floor, a Big Six squad at home, visitors from the far southwest, and two South Dakota conference schools, in addition to the regular round robin North Central tilts, will furnish the opposition for the University of South Dakota in basketball this season.

Already Coach Rube Hoy of the Vermillion school is preparing to make a brilliant assault in the attempt to bring back to the Coyotes the North Central conference championship, usurped by Leonard Saalwaechter's Bison players last season. This year's difficult team schedule is part of the program of developing another championship group.

With Bill Buck as the spark plug, Coach Hoy will have to build an entirely new machine. Gone from the squad are Steve Adkins, the scoring king of them all, Walker, Norton, Jenkins, Greene and Espe. In addition to Buck, however, Hoppel, star guard, is here with Tice, and Oaks Olson, but the uncertainty as to whether the latter's injury will permit him to compete is bothering Coach Hoy.

There is a fine lot of sophomore and other material available, including Butch Bircher, captain of last year's freshman team, Dyson, Peter Adkins, Ludeman, Joe Livak, Spranger, Freeburg, Whiffer Hanson, Toad Everett, and others. Jerry Groves, one time Vermillion high school star, will make his first try at varsity basketball in seeking a place.

The schedule so far as arranged follows:

- Dec. 3—University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.
- Dec. 10—Southern Normal at Vermillion.
- Dec. 16—Yankton college at Yankton.
- Dec. 19—University of Arkansas at Vermillion.
- Jan. 13—North Dakota university at Grand Forks.
- Jan. 14—North Dakota State at Fargo.
- Jan. 20—Morningside college at Vermillion.

Jan. 28—North Dakota State at Vermillion.

Feb. 3—South Dakota State at Vermillion.

Feb. 10—North Dakota U. at Vermillion.

Feb. 17—Morningside college at Sioux City.

Feb. 18—University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Feb. 24—South Dakota State at Brookings.

Montana Record Set

The record for the highest score ever recorded in the Montana collegiate football circles goes to the Montana School of Mines as a result of their 98-0 victory over Billings Polytechnic school last Saturday.

C. B. Waldron, vice dean of the school of agriculture at the college, will be one of the principal speakers at a meeting of the Fargo Garden society, tonight. The meeting will be held in the Merchants National bank at 8.

VARSITY SHOWS CLASS IN DECISIVE VICTORY OVER FROSH ON FRIDAY

Pre-Season Contest Displays Power In Saalwaechter's Basketball Squad

VETERANS ARE STRONG

Freshman Prospects, Point To Quality and Quantity In Encounter

Playing rather raggedly at first, but settling down to some real basketball the varsity swamped the frosh Friday afternoon by the score of 41 to 11 at the college armory. The uneven score however, does not describe the game, for the freshman squad gave their more experienced opponents plenty of stiff competition and they did very well considering the fact that the season is still very young. They have some very good basketball material, which will prove valuable when eligible for the varsity squad next year.

For the varsity Bob Weir at center playing rather an erratic brand of basketball at the start, gradually settled down to his old form, sinking baskets from all angles of the floor.

Viv McKay proved that despite his heavy football season, he is already to step into another angle of sports. He is as fast and elusive as ever and his clever dribbling enabled him to break through the frosh defense time after time for many counters.

Don Arthur played a good defensive game, breaking loose at times to score beautiful shots from back of the foul line.

The Mickelson combination worked well for the varsity and was always responsible for working the ball down to a scoring position.

With the official opening of the basketball season on Dec. 3, we are assured that Coach Saalwaechter will have a team fully prepared to withstand any opposition and step in line as a favorite for another conference championship.

That succession of bumps heard from the direction of Washington is made by dry congressmen jumping from the water wagon to the band wagon.

One of the ends of the Memphis Tigers, professional football team, is both deaf and dumb.

Three Greek Letter Groups To Entertain At Weekend Parties

Phi Omega Pi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Delta Tau Epsilon Hosts At Informals

Three of the Greek letter organizations on the campus are making plans for informal dancing parties which will take place this weekend. Phi Omega Pi sorority and Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity will entertain on Friday evening, Nov. 25, and Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity will have its party Saturday evening, Nov. 26.

Luella Ulness is making arrangements for the Phi Omega Pi sorority party, which will be held in Festival hall from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Friday. Assisting her are Frances Wheeler, programs; Ruth Dyson, refreshments; and Virginia Landbloom, decorations. The theme of the party will be carried out in black and white.

Chaperons for the affair will be Prof. and Mrs. M. L. Redman and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Bayliss.

Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity members will be hosts in the college YMCA building from 9 to 11:30 the same evening. George Sullivan, assisted by Harrison Maker, is in general charge. Decorations will feature a Thanksgiving theme.

After the dancing, refreshments will be served in the YMCA dining room, when a program of musical numbers will be given. Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg and Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Munro will be chaperons.

Active and pledge members of Delta Tau Epsilon will entertain their guests in the college YMCA from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. on Saturday. Glenn Valentine, social chairman, is in general charge of the affair, which will be in the nature of a night club. Decorations will be carried out in blue and gold. Assisting Mr. Valentine are Felix Farrar, Ben Boyden and Norin Johnson.

Chaperons include Capt. and Mrs. H. J. McChrystal and Mr. and Mrs. Knute A. Henning. Ben Boyden will contribute a feature dance number. About forty couples are expected to attend.

COLLEGE GIRLS LEARN SELLING IN STORES

Using Fargo department stores as their laboratory, twelve girls under the supervision of Miss Minnie Anderson, professor of clothing at North Dakota State college, are learning the fundamentals of retail selling. During the 135 hours of work required for this course the girls receive practical training in selling merchandise such as ready-to-wear, yard goods, lingerie, purses, hosiery and notions. The laboratory work, which is on a comparative basis with practice teaching, prepares the girls for business.

The girls enrolled in the course are LaVerne Dickinson, Dilworth, Minn.; Evelyn Larson, Havre, Mont.; Hazel Redman, Moorhead, Minn.; Gladys Stegner, New England. Veronta Weppler, Jamestown. Ruth Barrett, Lavina Hendrickson, Jean McMillan, Elizabeth Olsen, Jean Fote, Eva Sherwood, and Dorothy Lane, all of Fargo.

Exhibit Is Arranged For Livestock Show

T. H. Hopper Supervises Display From North Dakota For Chicago Exposition

North Dakota is being represented at the National Grain and Hay Show, being held with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, Nov. 26 to Dec. 3, by an educational exhibit constructed at the North Dakota State college under the supervision of T. H. Hopper, head of the department of agricultural chemistry, in cooperation with the Greater North Dakota association.

This display, entitled "Two Markets," implies that the farmers should advantageously use both grain and livestock markets in selling farm produce. This idea is demonstrated by appropriate placards and maps, and by moving trains on endless belts portraying the conveyance of the products from the farm to both markets. Prominently placed are samples of cereals that have been improved and developed at the college.

The exhibit is being attended by Mr. Hopper and by B. E. Groom of the Greater North Dakota association.

STUDENTS REMINDED TO ADDRESS LETTERS

You can't send letters or postcards without putting on an address, at least through the college postoffice, according to John Pannebaker, postmaster.

One student wrote a letter recently, sealed it up, stamped it and mailed it. The lack of an address sends the letter on a trip to the dead letter office in Washington this week.

Another student carefully stamped a purchased postcard and slipped it into the college postoffice letterbox without the waste of any ink. It didn't travel any further than the letter which was written on and was neither stamped or addressed.

Other cases throughout the year show as much careful preparation by some of the writing students. "The absent minded phrase seems to fit some students" is the statement of college postmen.
