Bison Play George Washington University At Capital Tonight

Washington Team Looms Strong Through Victory Over Iowa School

BISON HAVE GOOD CHANCE

Game Is Expected To Reflect Comparison of East, West Football

Tonight at eight o'clock, the North Dakota State college football team will open its second intersectional contest of the year, when they engage George Washington university under the floodlights at Griffith stadium, Washington, D. C. George Washington university is reported to have a strong team this year, having suffered only one defeat this season. That was handed to them by the University of Alabama early in the year.

Last week the Colonials were able to show their strength in overcoming Iowa university by a score of 21-6. Since there is no basis for comparison of the two teams, and as both they and the Bison are reputed strong, the game will be one of great interest in showing relation of East and West football. The Bison's showing in winning from Oklahoma City university has given them a slight edge as favorites in this area to come out on the long end of the score.

From the Bison viewpoint, the game tonight will be one of major importance. This is the first time that North Dakota State has scheduled a far eastern team on their own field for any form of athletic competition, and it is the first time that twenty-four men have been taken out of their classes to represent their school in new territory for a period of two weeks.

The Bison enter the contest under somewhat of a handicap, because of their long trip, and the changes in climatic conditions. In Washington, D. C., they will be on land that is only ten feet above sea level, and in a humid climate. The difference may prove to be quite a factor in the performance of the State men. The Davis-Elkins team of West Virginia complained somewhat of climatic differences when they played here two years ago. Also, the Bison have been unable to hold regular practice this week, and may be in a rather stiff condition.

However, if determination is a factor, the boys will retain their unblemished seasonal record at the close of the game tonight as they are going to put all they have into the contest, C. C. Finnegan, coach, said before leaving Fargo. He does feel more confident as to the successful outcome of tonight's game than the game next week with the Army team at the West Point stadium.

Tighe Gives Speech At Scouters' Meeting

Fargo Attorney Is Scheduled To Speak Before Club On Wednesday

B. C. B. Tighe, principal of Fargo high school and former president of the Red River Valley council, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Scouters club held Wednesday evening at the college Y. M. C. A. Mr. Tighe's talk was followed by the regular business meeting.

The Scouters club is a comparatively new organization on the campus. It was founded for the purpose of stimulating the interest of college students in Scout supervision and leadership, and is being sponsored by the college Y. M. C. A.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 9. At this time Harry Lashkowitz, a Fargo attorney, will give a talk.

CHARLES HURREY

Charles Hurrey Will Speak At Convocation Wednesday, Nov. 9

Has Traveled In 51 Foreign Countries In Interest Of United States

Charles D. Hurrey, "good-will ambassador," lecturer, and traveler, will feature next weeks convocation, speaking on "Our Unofficial Ambassadors," in Festival hall, Wednesday morning, Nov. 9, at 9:40, according to Dean A. E. Minard, who arranges all convocations.

At present Hurrey is general secretary of the committee on Friendly Relations among Foreign Students in North America. He has earned this position by knowledge of the 51 countries he has visited and his contact with foreign leaders, students, school boys and girls in India, Egypt, the Philippines, China, Japan, and other countries.

Among other adventures abroad, Hurrey was received by the Chinese president in the "Forbidden Palace" of Peking; talked with General Aguinaldo, rebel leader in the Philippines, in the General's library near Manila; motored across Tasmania; and fought with the Italian army during the World war.

For three years Hurrey lived in Buenos Aires, traveling among the countries of South and Central America. He crossed the Andes mountains on muleback, spending some time among the Incas of Cuzco and the natives of Paraguay and Bolivia. He has discussed international affairs with many Latin-American presidents and other officials and speaks Spanish fluently.

HUMOROUS DEBATE IS SCHEDULED TONIGHT

"Resolved that woman's emergence from the home is to be deplored" is the subject of a humorous debate to be given in Argusville tonight.

This presentation inaugurates the annual series of community debates with Miss Virginia Garberg and Albert Buchli, students at North Dakota State college, upholding the negative and affirmative, respectively.

Miss Garberg also presents a dialect reading and Mr. Buchli, dressed in true cowboy fashion, will give cowboy readings. In addition there will be musical entertainment consisting of instrumental and vocal music by Walter Dunkelberger and Miss Lorraine Hendrickson.

The community program, which is under the direction of Donald Hay of the public speaking department, starts at 8:00 sharp.

Elry Fletcher, Ogema, Minn., was pledged to Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity, at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the chemistry building.

ORGANIZATIONS GIVE FIRST OF SERIES OF DISCUSSION PROGRAMS

B. C. B. Tighe Will Speak On "New Morals for Old" At First Meeting

MUSIC BY L. C. SORLIEN

Lectures Will Be Held Twice Each Month According To Committee

Launching a program aiming at constructive thinking on problems essential to student life, the college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations will present the first of a series of discussion programs open to all student and faculty members on the campus at 8 p. m. Thursday in the "Y" auditorium. A second meeting will be held Dec. 1. "New Morals for Old" will be the topic for the first discussion with B. C. B. Tighe, principal of Central high school, giving the introductory address and leading the discussion. Through the efforts of the committee in charge, arrangements have been made for special music by the Amphion chorus, directed by L. C. Sorlien.

Planning to have two discussion programs each month, the college "Y" groups adopted the plan at the suggestion of a committee composed of Dr. Walter Lee Airheart, Rev. R. V. Conard and Rudolf Otterson. Besides the two general secretaries, Mrs. Carl A. Teet and Erling Thorson, the general committee making preliminary plans for the venture included: Margaret Dadey, Ruth Clausen, John Thysell and Thomas King.

The discussions will not be mere lecture meetings, according to the committee in charge, but will aim to provide a means whereby young men and women may consider the various phases of vital problems of interest to the student. Through the programs, the sponsors hope to bring about the realization that there is a need for something besides the concrete.

Final plans for the initial meeting will be made at a joint luncheon meeting for all cabinet members, students and faculty members especially interested in the new work in the Y. M. C. A. banquet room Monday noon. The committee in direct charge of each discussion program includes Jeanette McComb, Grace South, John Thysell, Mrs. Teet and Mr. Thorson.

Senior Staff Gives First All-College

Proceeds Go To Senior Staff Scholarship Fund For Sophomore Woman

Senior Staff, senior women's service organization, is sponsoring the first of a series of three parties, one for each term of the school year, tonight in Festival hall between the hours of 9 and 11:30.

Margaret Dadey is in charge of arrangements for the affair, with Mary Powers arranging for the music and Aldyth Pinkham for the publicity. Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Kellogg and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett will chaperon. A feature attraction of the party will be the orchestra, according to Miss Dadey.

The series of three parties is held each year to provide funds to be used for the Senior Staff scholarship that is awarded a sophomore woman during the spring term, and for the award given by the group to the woman having the highest average in her freshman year.

James Konen Names Students As Assistants To Help In Producing Show

The first meeting of all students interested in taking part in the 1933 edition of the Bison Brevities, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Festival hall, it was announced today by James Konen, manager of the Brevities.

Four assistants have been named by Mr. Konen. They are David Minard, John Gabe, Charles Christianson, and Ray Greenwood. Margaret Dadey will be in charge of the costuming part of the show, Ben Boyden in charge of dance classes, and William Euren in charge of music.

Dancing classes will be organized the first part of next week and will meet twice a week thereafter.

With a great number of the directing staff back at work, prospects for the 1933 Brevities are good, Konen says. Again Margaret Dadey, assistant production manager last year in the Brevities show, is in charge of selection and modeling of costumes of the show. Boyden is starting his second year of work on the campus as Brevities dancing instructor, he having been in charge of last year's tap and feature dancing.

Directing the music for the annual show will be no novelty for William Euren, who has directed and led the music for the Bison Brevities for three successive years. Mr. Euren will start organization work and initial practices for the large orchestra to be used in the 1933 Brevities within the next couple of weeks.

CHEMIST GROUP ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The members of the Chemistry club elected Stanley Thompson their president at the first meeting of the year yesterday afternoon. Other officers are: vice president, Donald Lieb; secretary, Raymond Greenwood; treasurer, Elwood S. Kendrick; and publicity manager, Francis E. Nemzek.

All students majoring in chemistry are eligible to belong to this society, and a special invitation is extended to the freshmen to attend the meetings. Dues, and the publication of "The Retort" will be discussed at the next session. The club meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month in the chemistry building.

NOTICE

Tryouts for a sophomore class play will be staged in the Little Country theater at 4:15 p. m. Monday, Nov. 7. There is an abundance of good play material in the sophomore class, so let's all turn out for these tryouts. Ken Hamry, President.

TEACHERS JOIN GROUP

Various Campus Organizations Honor Group At Several Social Functions

Honoring Mrs. Clifford E. Rader, national president of Phi Mu, and Mrs. LeRoy Schlentz, district president, Alpha Xi Beta sorority has planned several social affairs to take place before the formal installation of the group as Zeta Iota chapter of Phi Mu, national social sorority. Mrs. Schlentz arrived last night and Mrs. Rader arrived today from Minneapolis where they have been conducting an inspection of Zeta Eta chapter of Phi Mu at the University of Minnesota.

Thursday evening there was a dinner at the chapter house, 1210 Fourth st N, followed by a theater party with the active chapter of Alpha Xi Beta and Mrs. Schlentz attending. Other guests at the dinner also included patronesses and honorary members of the sorority.

Pre-initiation examinations are to be conducted today at the sorority house during both the morning and the afternoon for the prospective initiates into the national sorority. At noon today Phi Omega Pi sorority honors the visiting officers and Mrs. Carl Teet, Phi Mu member from the University of Minnesota, at a luncheon in their chapter home. A number of patronesses and alumnae present at this dinner with Misses Minnie Anderson and Lucille Horton in general charge of this affair. Formal pledging services will be held tonight in the home of Mrs. E. A. Lathrop at 8 p. m.

Business meetings will take place Saturday forenoon and afternoon at the Alpha Xi Beta chapter house. The faculty women of the college will give a luncheon in the Lincoln Log cabin Saturday noon for Mrs. Rader, Mrs. Schlentz, Mrs. Teet and Mrs. Roy B. Humphreys, a Phi Mu member from Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis.

The formal installation banquet will take place at 6 p. m. Saturday in the Fine Arts clubhouse. Laverne Hanson is in charge of the banquet and

Tau Delta Pi Pledge Engineers Tuesday

Selections Made Upon Basis of Scholarship Rating In Engineering

Pledging services were held last evening for six engineers elected to Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity at the North Dakota State college. Edward Comm, president of the group, was in charge of the services.

The men thus honored are William Haugstad, senior, mechanical engineering, Moorhead, Minn.; Vance Schneider, senior, electrical engineering, Fargo; Orville Sundberg, senior, mechanical engineering, New Rockford; Otto Woodward, junior, mechanical engineering, Fargo; Merton Bottemiller, junior, mechanical engineering, Brantford; and James Coleman, junior, mechanical engineering, Fargo.

Tau Delta Pi was organized in 1930 and was patterned along the lines of Tau Delta Pi, national engineering fraternity. The local organization has been recognized by Tau Beta Pi, and expects to become a member of that organization in the near future, according to Mr. Comm. Prof. Waldo E. Smith of the civil engineering department, an honorary member of the group here, became a member of Tau Beta Pi at the University of Iowa, his alma mater.

The scholastic requirements necessary for election to Tau Delta Pi allow the election of a limited group of men each year, according to Mr. Comm.

OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Say what you will, the greater part of a college education—the cultivation of new friends—the changing of a high-schooled view to the more liberal view of a college man—is gotten through participation in outside college activities.

Only through these outside activities in college circles can the true college spirit be gotten. The man with the grindstone nose when gone is soon forgotten. Momentary envy may come with a coveted 90, but the man who figures out a new policy in student government, promotes his school in its activities, it is he who wins lasting admiration from his fellow classmates.

It is something to be one of a group to raise new issues, to question the wisdom of curriculum policies, the college social system—even government policies.

It is only through such activities outside of a dean-inspected program that change a college boy to a college man—a college girl to a college woman.

No student is getting the full benefit of a college education unless he takes part in some form of activity, but the average student would be unwise to take up more than two major and perhaps one or two minor activities during the year. By activities we mean the term in its broadest sense, including clubs, sports, and church or any other associations that he may join. To attempt more not only endangers his academic standing, but prevents him from enjoying any activity to the full. It is better to take part in a few activities wholeheartedly, than to dabble in everything and make a success of none.

The brilliant student can, of course, undertake more than the average one, and must use his own judgment as to just how much he can handle. One fact stands out, however—it isn't the quantity of outside work done, but how it is done that determines to what extent activities interfere with college work. The secret of success at college is to waste no time. It is the time we spend standing around, talking, playing bridge, or just doing nothing that causes the trouble.

So our advice is, "Go in for activities, but choose only a few that you are most interested in, go in for them wholeheartedly to the best of your ability, and above all waste no time. In this way you will obtain the fullest benefits from extra-curricular college life and at the same time in no way endanger your academic standing."

PLAY ACTING

Although the title may seem to indicate the contrary, this does not refer to the stage or anything to do with it, though its interpretation may be confined to that larger unity, the stage of life.

Throughout this world runs a continual cry. It comes from the pulpit and the professional chair, from the soap box and current literature, and it says, "Be natural." A commendable notion indeed but what does it mean? To whom does it appeal? Why does the need for such a cry arise?

To begin with, it must be assumed that there are people in this world who live on a plane to which they have adapted themselves in complete discord with their social position or inherent capabilities. False appearance and false opinions may be included among their general characteristics. Consequently some persons are said to live a lie.

Among them are they who attempt to bluff those about them into thinking how important they are, and how necessary they are to those with whom they come in contact. They make mis-statements about their knowledge, their education, or their social position, which, though at the time may be convenient to personal vanity are generally found out.

We have with us the "snobs" and the people who put on "airs." We have the enlightened persons who purchase hotel and travel stickers to paste on their luggage, such as it is, and then proudly display it to their gullible, or perhaps not so gullible, acquaintances.

To outline all the minor deceptions which are practiced by mankind on each other would be interesting, but has the disadvantage of being more than a life's work. It is sufficient to admit their existence.

It must then be decided whether the claim "Be natural" is fully justified. Whereas the fake is obviously detrimental and should be treated according to his deserts, the bluffer is in no ignominious position.—McGill Daily.

On The Campus

The EDWIN BOOTH DRAMATIC CLUB was founded in 1907 by Alfred G. Arvold, and since that time has presented nearly fifty long plays. It acts in conjunction with the Little Country theater, presenting plays and entertaining guests of renown in the theater world.

GUIDON is the R. O. T. C. auxiliary honorary society for sponsors. At its meeting, subjects pertaining to military life are discussed. The object of this organization is to promote citizenship and to disseminate a rational understanding of the work of the government, particularly in matters pertaining to the national defense.

The MEN'S and GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS are coached by H. B. Huntoon and Miss Adda Blakeslee, respectively. Appearances are made by the members of the clubs at various convocations and concerts.

GAMMA TAU SIGMA, honorary journalistic society, meets every other Tuesday during the school year, and has for the object the furthering of journalism on the campus. The group initiates three times a year, and sponsors a banquet for journalists.

SPECTRUM CRITIC

Richard Barthelemess, Dorothy Jordan and Betty Davis combine their talents at the Fargo theater this week to give us an extraordinary production in "Little Cabin in the Cotton."

A tragic atmosphere prevails throughout the entire picture and in many cases to the point of satirical, which I believe was the main purpose of the author in writing the play. It shows the deplorable conditions of the southern laborer and his continual fight for subsistence against the cruel and ulterior motives of the planter in the earlier stages of southern life.

Dick Barthelemess is the southern boy, brought up in poverty but rising above the occasion to become a boon to the planters, in fighting for the rights of the 'peckerwoods' as the laboring class was called.

Dorothy Jordan and Betty Davis are the two southern 'belles'—Dorothy taking the part of the poor girl, with Betty playing her usual flirtatious part as a society girl of the 'upper strata.' They both clash in the fight for the love of one man, bringing into the play, that romantic element so picturesque in a southern setting.

This trio of screen stars seems to be especially suited for their parts and this photoplay, "Little Cabin in the Cotton," is easily one of the leaders in pictures of its type.

Black Scholarship Given At Assembly On November Ninth

Announcement of Winner Made During Convocation Hour Next Wednesday

Announcement of the winner of the Norman B. Black scholarship presented annually to a senior student at the North Dakota State college by the Fargo Rotary club will be made during the convocation period on Nov 9, according to A. H. Parrott, chairman of the committee in charge.

This is the second year that the scholarship, valued at one hundred dollars, is being given. It was established last year by the local Rotary group. Donald Lawrence being the first winner. The award will be presented during convocation by W. L. Stockwell.

The scholarship is available to a senior man or woman, of outstanding character, personality and scholarship. In making the selection, such qualifications will be supplemented by a consideration of the student's financial needs, according to Mr. Parrott. Besides Mr. Parrott, members of the committee in charge of selecting the winner are C. C. Finnegan and Mr. Stockwell.

Alumna Plans Being Pioneer In New Field

Miss G. Metzinger Working At Chicago University For Doctor's Degree

That the women's place may be in the operating room just as well as in the home is a modern contention which Miss Georgina Metzinger, '30, now has set her mind to prove.

Miss Metzinger, now a second year student in medicine at the University of Chicago, is preparing to enter the field of medicine and surgery as one of the few women doctors in the nation. After the completion of this year's work at the University of Chicago she is planning to enter Rush Medical college, from which institution she hopes to obtain her doctor's degree within two years.

There are several women doctors in Chicago, who, as pioneers in a new field of endeavor for their sex, have taken an interest in the efforts of Miss Metzinger to join the ranks of professional doctors, according to reports received here. She has had a number of visits with well known women doctors during the few years spent at the University of Chicago, from which visits Metzinger says she has gained a better insight into the problems and the opportunities of women physicians.

Another North Dakota State college graduate of recent years, Dan Howell of Fargo, is enrolled this fall as a first student in medicine, also at the University of Chicago. Mr. Howell plans to complete his final period of work at the Rush medical school just as Miss Metzinger does.

Among the dinner guests at the Theta Chi fraternity during the past week have been James Konen, Alpha Sigma Tau, and Arthur Larson, Kappa Sigma Chi.

One eastern newspaper reports that fishnet stockings are still popular with a number of the co-eds in several colleges in the east. During examination periods cribs are concealed in the tops of the stockings for reference during the more difficult parts of the quizzes.

Dancer Scores Hit At Opening Lyceum

Thrilling those to whom professional dancing was a new experience as well as those to whom it was more usual, Miss Ruth Page danced before a full house Tuesday evening, the first number on the twenty-second annual lyceum series. For the benefit of the school children, she presented a matinee performance Wednesday.

Tuesday evening's program was divided into three parts, the first made up of romantic and comedy dances, the second of interpretations in the modern spirit, and the third of character and native dances. She repeated some of her evening's program Wednesday, with "Gaconette Amoureuse," "Russian Largo," and "Cuban Night," as new "Largo," and "Cuban Night," as new numbers.

Although all the dances were well received, those in modernistic were the most outstanding. The apparent abandon of self to the idea expressed could not help but achieve a personal response. Tropic was fascinating—hideously beautiful. For the development of an idea, the "Expansion of the Universe" was probably the most different.

The satires of "Humoresque," particularly "Giddy Girl" and "Patriotic Finale," were very successful. "Bar-num and Bailey" also was effective as humor.

Because the story was well known and because a love for Peter Pan is a part of every persons childhood, her interpretation of the adorable boy who couldn't understand the death of the butterfly proved to be the most widely popular. Her portrayal was marvelous.

The grace and originality of the star was impressive, and the variety in costumes and masks added to the distinction of the program. Ardath James was the accompanist and soloist.—M. L. R.

Numerous absent voters ballots have been filed out by students and sent out from the campus, according to Registrar A. H. Parrott. Hoover holds a preference thus far with the majority of the student voters, he says.

CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES FOR BISON HOOPSTERS REST ON DEFENSE MEN

Saalwaechter Finds Need For Players To Replace Olson And Two Guards

Bison hopes of retaining the basketball championship of the North Central Conference depend largely upon the development of defensive men during the late fall campaign to replace three regulars lost by graduation, Coach Leonard Saalwaechter said today.

While the offensive strength of the teams, which last year flashed through seven wins out of eight conference starts, will be practically intact from last season, only one veteran guard, Viv McKay, all-conference guard, returns to the courts this year of four regular lettermen at the defensive positions. Graduating defense men include Walter Olson, who earned mention on the second all-conference team last year as a defensive forward, Leal Thomasson, and Eric "Ikky" Nordstrom, guards.

Returning offensive stars include Robert Weir, six foot six inch center, and Donald Arthur, offensive forward, both of whom earned places on the mythical all-conference quint chosen by the basketball coaches coming in from last year. Among the fine offensive prospects coming in from last year's freshman team include: Wilbur Marquardt, "Acey" Olson, Grant Mickelson, and Curtis Denenny, all of whom will offer stiff competition to the veterans on the team, according to Coach Saalwaechter.

The only sophomore guard to return to the courts, Lyle Stinson, is planning to make a concerted effort to team with McKay at the guard positions. Arnold Mickelson, reserve of last season, is again a contender for a team position as defender of the Bison baskets.

There is a possibility that several of the offensive stars of last year's freshman team will be worked into the defensive posts on the team, according to present plans of the Bison cage meter. Besides Marquardt, Olson, Mickelson, and Denenny; Earl Schranz, Emmet O'Day, Burt Anderson, and Joseph Aasen are among are among the sophomore cage prospects.

BROKEN LEG SPOILS TRIP HOPES FOR THOMAS

It's a darn big thrill to see your name among those of others who are making the trip to George Washington university, and West Point, but it's a plenty tough break to have your leg cracked up three days before you are scheduled to leave and not be able to go. That is the way Earl Thomas expresses himself concerning the injury to his leg, received during the Moorhead State Teachers college game.

Thomas received a split femur which will make it necessary to confine his leg to a cast for at least six weeks. Earl was taken to St. Luke's hospital for treatment, but was released Sunday.

Thomas has proven himself capable in the reserve position at center during the games this season. James Thompson, according to "Casey" Finnegan, will substitute at center in the game with the George Washington Colonials tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

This injury is the second one of a serious nature to befall the Bison team this season. Walter (Dolly) Schoenfelder was the first to receive a bad injury, receiving a broken leg in the game with South Dakota State.

TICKER INSTALLED FOR POLITICAL RETURNS

Fargoans interested in the election returns of next week will be able to get the news minute by minute by means of a ticker service to be installed in the Viking hotel, next Monday.

The ticker through the Western Union will bring to political fans a continuous report of the outcomes and will furnish them with fresh news developments in this national contest.

ENGLISH FRATERNITY POSTPONES MEETING

A meeting of the North Dakota State college chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, scheduled for Sunday evening has been postponed to Sunday, Nov. 13, announces Gerald Garlid, chapter president.

Meeting in the home of Miss Eloise Waldron, honorary member, the members will discuss the works of D. H. Laurence. Dr. C. E. Kellogg will give the introductory address.

Students Will Go Out Of State For College Work Says Committee

Initiated Measures Will Tend To Lower Educational Standards In State

Only those young men and women of North Dakota who can afford to go outside of the state for their higher education, will be able to get a first class scholastic training, if proposed initiated measures are passed by the voters of the state, Nov. 8, according to an opinion of the executive committee of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

The reductions in salaries, which would be effected by the initiated measure not allowing higher salaries to be paid any employee of the state above that of their employers or members of boards employing them, would drive many outstanding educators to take more lucrative positions in out-of-state schools, the committee opines. The salary of the state Board of Administration members would be set, under the initiated legislation, at the figure of $2400 a year. No educator in the state institutions would be thus allowed to receive a compensation beyond that figure.

North Dakota's educational standing is in danger, the committee believes. If losses are incurred in the teaching staff of both the State college and the University, the state's institutions are in dire danger of losing their first class rating throughout the national educational centers.

To lower the educational standards of the state would discourage a number of out-of-state students and North Dakota students from attending the higher institutions of the state, members of the committee believe. Many thousands of dollars would thus be lost to state taxpayers by this curtailment of student numbers.

The American Association of University Professors, North Dakota State college chapter, realizes that taxes must be cut. It is the chapter's suggestion, however, according to members of the executive committee, that these changes should be left to the state legislature and that serious injury to the North Dakota higher institutions of learning, the State college and the University, should not result.

The initiated measure, to come up for election with the voters of the state, is to be officially approved or disapproved by the voters on Nov. 8.

PICTURES DONATED IN MEMORY OF INSTRUCTOR

To those who have wondered from where the pictures come that are hanging in the college library, it will be interesting, Librarian Harriet Pearson feels, for them to learn that the pictures in the west reading room were given to the library by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall in honor of their son, Charles Hall.

Charles Monroe Hall was one of the first graduates of the North Dakota State college, and later he was an instructor in geology here. When he died in 1903 his parents wanted to leave a memorial in his name; accordingly they gave to the library a number of pictures. The first pictures received were those of Darwin, Huxley, and a picture of Spencer for which it had been necessary to send to England, as Charles Hall has always been a great admirer of these three men.

Besides the pictures Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall donated a bust of Benjamin Franklin, which also may be seen in the reading room. Also the library was the beneficiary of many of Charles Hall's books.

Junior Class Leads In Number of Cuts Bought For Yearbook

Photographers Set. Dec. 1 As Deadline For Student Pictures In Annual

Junior students are leading those of other classes in the number of individual cuts bought for the 1934 Bison classes section, it was announced today by Donald Fredrikson and William Heller, editors of the yearbook.

Sales for the cuts are progressing rapidly, and prospects are good for one of the biggest classes sections ever carried in an edition of The Bison, according to the editors. Since the photographers have set a deadline of Dec. 1 for Bison pictures, it is essential that those students who have not yet done so to make arrangements for their photographs immediately if they wish to be represented in this year's book.

Students are requested to fill out activity cards in The Bison office at the time they buy their tickets. Those who buy their tickets from the fraternity representatives are urged to come to the office at once and fill out these cards before having their pictures taken. The classes section must be made up before the first of the year, and so students are asked to make the necessary arrangements at once.

Plans for the feature section are more inclusive for this year than they ever have been before; the snapshot campaign is to begin at once, and Howard Kilbourne, who is in charge of that section, has expectations of the best feature division yet.

The theme for the book has been decided upon and will be disclosed to the student body some time after the beginning of the winter term.

James F. Bell Award Explained Wednesday

Prof. C. B. Waldron Presents Donald Scott, Sophomore, With Scholarship

Explanation of the $350 award for creative thinking and an acquaintance with James F. Bell, its donor, featured convocation Wednesday morning in Festival hall. Donald Scott was presented with the Alpha Zeta scholarship cup by Prof. C. B. Waldron at the same meeting.

Dean R. M. Dolve took charge of the convocation after the presentation of the Alpha Zeta scholarship cup, reviewing the procedure of how the award was brought to the college through Dr. A. H. Benton of the State college experiment station whom he introduced to review Bell's life, attitudes, and activities and to deliver the first lecture on creative thinking.

Interests of Bell are not limited to his presidency of General Mills, Inc., but he is also trustee of Dunwoodie Institute, Minneapolis vocational school, and of the Minneapolis Art Institute. Mr. Bell's hobbies are hunting and the collection of specimens for the University of Minnesota Museum of Natural History to which he is a liberal contributor, says Dr. Benton.

Mr. Bell is a director of the Northwestern National bank and of the Scandinavian Trust Company of New York. He is also a member of the Art club of Philadelphia and of several other clubs.

Besides the award that Bell is offering, Dr. Benton disclosed that he has made loans to students on this campus to whom he writes from time to time. Presenting the first lecture for which the conditions of the award provide, Dr. Benton showed how successful lives of Ricardo and Malthus were results of constructive thinking.

Fredrick B. Bartlett, bishop of the Episcopal church of North Dakota who delivered last year's Commencement address, will deliver the second lecture of the series on Nov. 28.

FROSH DEFEAT SOPHS IN INTERCLASS DEBATE

The freshman debate team, composed of Frieda Panimon and Kathryn Ray, and coached by Bill Stewart, defeated the juniors yesterday afternoon on the subject, "Who Shall Bear the Cost of Higher Education?" Ward McCabe and Harry Horton comprised the junior team of which Bill Maloney was coach. Paul Zerby, instructor in economic and social science, acted as judge.

The second in this annual series of debates sponsored by the Lincoln Debate club, of which Albert Buchli is president, will take place Monday, Nov. 7. The senior team: Arthur Langsaw and Edward McArdle, coached by Frederick Martin, will face the sophomores: W. R. Bartholemew and Stephen Haugen, coached by Gerald Stevens, on the same topic. Dr. C. E. Kellogg, assistant professor of soils, will officiate in the capacity of judge.

STUDENT COMMISSION ISSUES TRAFFIC RULES

A recent meeting of the Student Commission resulted in the revision of several ordinances pertaining to the traffic regulations on the campus. The rapid increase of cars upon the grounds has necessitated several revisions.

Diagonal parking from Old Main down to the main gate is now allowed on the north side of the road but parking is still prohibited on the south side of this thoroughfare from the library down to the main entrance.

On the south side of the main road, west of the library to twelfth avenue, cars can be parked parallel.

David Minard and Roman Meyers are the campus officers enforcing the various restrictions placed by the traffic regulations on the campus. A marked improvement in parking observance on the campus has been noted in the past two weeks, according to Miss Betty McMorran, commissioner of the campus.

The architects have forsaken Oswald X. Zimmichisches, Spectrum candidate for president. In a straw vote taken in the department Wednesday, there were 31 votes polled for Hoover, four for Roosevelt, and three for Thomas. One radical voted for the abolishment of the republic.

STEVE GORMAN

....MERITS....

YOUR VOTE FOR
Sheriff of Cass County

For These Reasons:

- 1—STEVE has contributed much of his time and energy to many worthy community and county projects, such as Y. M. C. A., Community Chest, Fargo Chamber of Commerce, Cass County Taxpayers Association, American Legion, Disabled Veterans, St. Luke's Hospital
- 2—STEVE has given financial aid and work to many students to enable them to attend the Fargo High School and the North Dakota Agricultural College.
- 3—STEVE has been doing these good things for many years because he's that kind of a fellow. This is the first time he ever ran for public office.
- 4—STEVE has been a lifelong resident of the Fargo area except for some months spent overseas in the army.
- 5—STEVE is married and has two children.
- 6—STEVE has demonstrated his ability to discharge the duties of a responsible position.
- 7—STEVE knows the problems of the taxpayer, having been a taxpayer in Cass County for many years.

We invite your consideration of these and other qualifications. In all of them we believe STEVE GORMAN is superior and we respectfully solicit your support and vote at election November 8.

NEWMAN CLUB HAS FIRST MEETING

The Newman club will hold their first meeting of the month, Sunday, Nov. 6, in the Knights of Columbus hall at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Leo Dworschak, chaplain of the organization, will lead the discussion. An invitation is extended to all Catholic students on the campus.

SIGMA PHI DELTA HONORS PLEDGES

Sigma Phi Delta, national engineering fraternity, is giving its fall term party in honor of its pledges tomorrow evening in Mrs. Roen's dining room. Birch Horton's Collegians will furnish the entertainment for the evening, and a supper will be served at 11:30. Milton Lee is in charge of arrangements, and he is assisted by John Gabe and Byron Tharaldson. Chaperons and invited guests will include Mr. and Mrs. George Yott, Mr. and Mrs. Knute Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Bayliss, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tarbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo E. Smith.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS PARTY

Opening their social program for the year, the college high school are sponsoring an informal party to be held this evening in the college Y. M. C. A. from 8:00 to 11:30.

Rose and silver, the high school colors, will be featured in the decorations. The program for the evening consists in cards and dancing.

Chaperons for the affair are Miss Ruby Grimes and Mr. Arthur Cramer. Mildred McCamy is in charge of the general arrangements. Assisting her are Howard Arves, Elmer Carter, Frank Hoppin, Bertram Nauer, and Roberta Stanley.

LOCAL GAMMA PHIS ARE ENTERTAINED

The members of Gamma Phi Beta sorority at Grand Forks will be hostesses to a tri-chapter dancing party in their chapter house Saturday evening. The Alpha Kappa chapter from Winnipeg and the Alpha Omicron chapter will be guests.

Approximately one hundred couples are expected to be present. Twenty-six members of the local chapter with their escorts are planning to go. They are: Amy Glaser, Jean Pote, Myrl Hoar, Rosemary Allen, Marjory Archer, Elva Eklund, Margaret Fleming, Irma Jane Hanley, Eula Miller, Sara O'Connor, Mary Powers, Phyllis Tritchler, Margaret Tronnes, Paula Verne, Gertrude Powers, Lewista Hanley, Evelyn Davis, Helen Borgeson, Frances McLean, Gretchen Hunsaker, Cathrine Williams, Olive Ringen, Dorothea Olsen, Agnes Schandser, Ellen Blair, and Margaret Murphy.

Helen Fredrikson, Davenport, a member of the local chapter of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, is recovering in St. Luke's hospital from an appendicitis operation performed last week.

Pledges of Gamma Phi Beta sorority were honored at a tea given by Mrs. Leslie Welter, jr., and Miss Frances Lamb Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Cyril Arnold alumnae president, presided at the tea table. Guests included active members and alumnae.

Aldyth Pinkham has charge of the program and decorations. About fifty persons, including actives, pledges, alumnae members and patronesses will attend the banquet. Immediately following the dinner, formal installation will take place. At this service four faculty women of the college and three Fargo women will be admitted into full membership in the alumnae chapter of Phi Mu. Faculty members affiliating with the group are Misses Minnie Anderson, professor of home economics; Lucille Horton, associate professor of home economics; Dorothy Cole, head of the women's physical education department; and Adelaide Laurie, home economics instructor. Fargo women affiliating include Mmes. H. H. Sherwin, A. S. Egulf, and H. E. Rilling.

Sunday morning Alpha Gamma Delta sorority will honor Mmes. Rader, Schlentz, Teet and Humphreys; and Misses Rosella Olson, active president; June Kremer, vice-president; and Irene Bayer, alumnae president, at a breakfast at the chapter house, 1404 Twelfth av. N.

The college will be host at a reception tea in the college Y. M. C. A. building from 3 to 5 p. m., Sunday. Miss Pearl Dinan, dean of women, and Dean W. F. Sudro, social chairman, are in charge. Students of the college will be received from 3 to 4 p. m. and invited guests and townspeople from 4 to 5 p. m. Following the reception Mrs. Rader and Mrs. Schlentz will be honor guests at an informal supper in the home of Mrs. Lathrop.

CADET HOP PLANNED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

Thursday afternoon, Nov. 10, will usher in another series of Cadet Hops sponsored by the Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity.

These dances have proved to be quite a success thus far and the members sponsoring them need the hearty cooperation of everyone in order that these weekly frolics may be continued.

Good music is picked for the dances, according to Earl Grove, and all students are urged to turn out and make the Thursday non-formal affairs a success.

JOURNALISM CLASSES SEE NEWSPAPER PLANT

To get a practical idea of the workings of a daily newspaper, the eight and nine o'clock sections of Journalism 201 visited The Fargo Forum this morning.

Under the guidance of T. Worden Johnson, instructor in journalism at this school, the students inspected the editorial room, composing room, and the press room of the daily paper.

These trips are made each term by the various classes in journalism here at the school. Members of several classes have worked on rewriting stories there also.

Architects Leave On Inspection Tour Of Twin City Buildings

Eight Students Are Guests Of Alpha Rho Chi At U. of Minnesota

Eight students from the department of architecture, accompanied by Prof. Paul Jones, will leave Sunday morning for their annual inspection tour of Minneapolis and St. Paul. Buildings of special architectural interest, factories making architectural supplies, and art museums will be visited.

In St. Paul they will see the new Nazareth hall, the Woman's club, the State Capital, St. Paul cathedral, the First National bank buildings, besides many others. In Minneapolis, the telephone building, recently completed, will be of special interest since Professor Jones was one of its designers. Other buildings to be visited there are the Rand Tower, the Northwestern National, and the Foshay tower. Cast and wrought iron factories, stone cutting works and brick yards will be studied.

Eleanor Johnson, Edward Mehlan, Wesley Moore, Harold Sorenson, Walter Wolfinger, Morton Larson, William Akeley, and Walter Runnestrand, along with Professor Jones, will leave here Sunday morning, returning the following Sunday, according to arrangements made at Wednesday evening meeting of the Ateleir Chat Noir, architects club. Wesley Moore and Professor Jones will drive.

Alpha Xi Beta received a box of candy at meeting last Monday announcing the engagement of Edris Probstfield and Raymond Hack.

Dear Elmer:

You owe me $10. Please remit and charge it up to advertising.

You see, I was out with Frank Clark and when he got romantic and commenced to talk about the "ties that bind" I just couldn't help telling him that if he was having trouble with that kind of neckwear he ought to do a little shopping at FLATEN'S.

I told him you were showing them in blues, tans, reds and greens and that they only cost a buck.

Has he been in yet? You know he's one of those fellows that would look just swell in an Ed. V. Price & Co. suit at $30, $35 or $40 and up.

Hoping you are the same.
