Alumni and Student Body Join Today In Parade and Celebration

Downtown Parade, Gridiron Contest Are Scheduled On Day's Program

GAME WILL BEGIN AT 2:00

Football Game Is Expected To Draw Record Crowd At Dacotah Field

North Dakota State college celebrates her annual Homecoming festival today. Mr. State College Alumnus returns to his Alma Mater to renew old friendships, to see the Homecoming parade, to thrill to the Bison-Sioux football contest, and to attend the various functions that are arranged in his honor.

The day's festivities began at 10:30 a. m., when the Homecoming parade left the college. The University of North Dakota's band arriving by special train at 11 o'clock, was met at the Great Northern depot by the parade, the band becoming a part of the procession there. The parade continued down the business district of Fargo, to return to the college at noon. Included in the parade in addition to the University band were the floats, individual costumes, and group costumes entered by college organizations, Dr. C. S. Putnam's Gold Star band, the entire R. O. T. C. corps, the Homecoming Queen's car, the official cars, special groups of decorated cars presented by sororities, and cars carrying college alumni, students, faculty members, and friends.

From 10 o'clock this morning until the game this afternoon, Bison barbecue sandwiches are being served at the tent just outside the gate to Dacotah field.

The event of the day looked forward to more than any other by alumni in the football game between Casey Finnegan's Thundering Herd and Coach C. A. West's University Sioux. The game starts at 2 p. m., renewing an athletic rivalry between the two North Dakota schools that is now nearly forty years old. The largest crowd in the history of the school is expected to turn out for the game.

Between halves at the game Frances Kingsbury, Fargo, senior in science and literature, and the student body's choice for the role of Homecoming Queen, will be crowned by Donald Arthur, president of the college student commission.

Immediately following the game, the alumni will attend a meeting postponed since last Commencement, in the Faculty-Alumni club rooms in Old Main. The faculty will again gather at 6:30 p. m. in Ceres hall for a banquet, and the day's festivities will close with a dance in the new gymnasium.

The Homecoming program opened last night with a rally at 6:30 in Festival hall. Following this was the game between the freshman football teams of the University and the State college. An outdoor rally took place following the game.

Sometime during the day a genuine buffalo robe will be presented to the graduate coming the longest distance to attend Homecoming. According to the latest reports, Mr. and Mrs. Foss Narum are still in the lead, almost 2000 miles separating Fargo and their home at Northampton, Mass.

HONORARY GROUP HAS NEW PLEDGE MEMBER

Ray Greenwood, Bismarck, was pledged to Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity, at pledging services held Wednesday evening in the chemistry building.

Preceding pledging services a short business meeting was held, with Arthur Larson, Fargo, master chemist, presiding.

UNIVERSITY EDITOR ATTENDS HOMECOMING

"Between three and four hundred university students will be here Saturday for the deciding game of the North Central football conference," Wes Meyer, editor-in-chief of the Dakota Student, announced last night as he stepped off the train at a Fargo depot. "The University is proud that the entire school band of ninety-six pieces is able to make the trip for the big Bison-Sioux game due to cooperation of the school, student body and Grand Forks business men."

Alumni Hold Annual Banquet As Feature Of Homecoming Day

Graduates Meet In Ceres Hall For Traditional Party At 6:15 Tonight

Ceres hall has been transformed into a "big city" night club for the alumni banquet, featuring roast chicken and no speeches, to be held tonight at 6:15.

Because of the clamoring of alumni, former students, and faculty members for no-speech dinners and because of their enthusiasm over past banquets, the cabaret idea is being carried out for the third consecutive year. Special chandeliers have been made to facilitate new and different lighting effects. The name of the night club after which the rooms will be decorated is being withheld.

During the dinner of roast chicken and "fixin's", the Collegians will furnish music. Vaudeville acts will replace toasts. Donald Alstrup, '32, and Everett Wallum, alumni secretary, have put a great deal of work into producing decorations and entertainment that will surprise and thrill old graduates. It is known that John Hamlet, tap dancer, and the Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity trio will contribute toward the program, and that the showing of Leonard T. Saalwaechter's Olympic pictures will be the concluding feature.

HONORARY FRATERNITY ADOPTS STRICT POLICY IN SELECTING MEMBERS

Blue Key Membership Regulated By New and More Rigid Rules In Future

GROUP MEETS THURSDAY

Organization Commences Work For Year At Meeting of Local Chapter

Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, has adopted a new and more strict policy of admitting new members, according to Jack Vincent, president, who disclosed the new regulations to the North Dakota State chapter Thursday evening at its regular meeting.

The organization is one of the most select groups in the fraternity world, being founded by Major Bert C. Riley at the University of Florida in 1924. Because of the valuable services it rendered to that school it received many letters from other colleges for information as to its organization and because of its popularity and success became national in February of the following year.

The new policy requires even more care in selection of its membership than previously. Honorary members may only be suggested to national authorities, who have the sole power of admitting them.

Candidates for active membership in the local chapter were chosen by an advisory committee appointed Thursday evening which investigated the college records of prospective members. A petition containing the records was sent into the national offices accompanied by a letter of recommendation from a prominent faculty member of the college. The student may be either rejected or admitted.

Candidates for membership are chosen on their records of character, student activity, leadership and general service.

Arthur Larson was designated at the meeting to investigate the possibilities for acquiring rooms on the campus where lockers might be installed to accommodate equipment for all college organizations who do not have such rooms.

State College Team Now Primed To Turn Homecoming Status

FINES ARE LEVIED BY STUDENT COURT

Fifteen offenders appeared at the second meeting of the college court held in the Alumni rooms Thursday afternoon. Two fines were levied and the remaining cases were suspended. William Murphy and Henry Bonde, both second offenders who failed to appear at the last meeting of the court, received fines.

Several who received fines did not appear before the court, according to Howard Kilbourne, judge. All who received fines and do not appear before the court will have their fines taken out of their registration deposit. The next meeting of the court will be held Oct. 27.

Musical Group Takes Active Part In Ceremonies of Homecoming Day

Dr. C. S. Putnam, leader of his Gold Star band of North Dakota State college, marches with it in the annual Homecoming parade again this morning as he has since the custom began in the dim past of North Dakota State college history.

In the afternoon "Doc's" band plays at the football game, alternating with the University band. A fanfare of trumpets will prepare the entrance of the Homecoming Queen during the half-time period. Following her presentation the University band will take the field.

After the University band leaves the gridiron "Doc's" band will take the field to go through several drills including the forming of the letters "N. D. S. C."

When the North Dakota State band leaves the field the two bands will join in the playing of the North Dakota Hymn.

"Best wishes for Bison luck on Homecoming," is the message Sam Crawford of Los Angeles sent to the football team through Everett Wallum, alumni secretary.

Jack West and Casey Finnegan Groom Charges For the Critical Game

RESERVES ARE CAPABLE

First Conference Game For Sioux Team Is Fourth For Bison

Going into the battle under the handicap of losing several consecutive games over a period of Homecomings, the North Dakota State college football team is "all primed" today to come out on the long end of the score in the game with the University or North Dakota. The Bison are leading the North Central conference race at present with wins over South Dakota State and South Dakota university, and their title will be at stake in their battle with the Sioux.

Today's game will be the first conference encounter of the year for the University, consequently giving fans absolutely no basis for a comparison of the two teams. Both Finnegan and West, coaches at the two schools, have been pondering over each other's plays during the past week, and from all reports, they have both had equal success with their first string teams in breaking through the opposition offered by the reserve and freshman squads who have been armed with enemy signals. Upon this basis, we are obliged to infer that the teams will be on a more even level than they have been for years.

McKay

Reserves Strong

The reserve sections of both teams are exceptionally strong this year and both have seen considerable varsity competition so far this fall. In State's clash with the strong Oklahoma City university team last Friday, there were seven sophomores in the starting lineup. They were able to hold the Goldbugs when the Bugs attempted to score and also accounted for the first touchdown. In like manner, Coach West employed his sophomore charges during the major portion of the second half of the game between the University and Howard university last Saturday.

Both teams are featuring speedy backfields this year, and powerful lines.

Fritz Hanson, one of the speediest backs in the conference, will be on hand in all his glory, and the Bison mentors believe that he will give the Nodaks plenty to think about. McKay, who has faced two University squads in the past two years, is hitting a stride this year, which will be difficult to follow. However, these men are not alone in their speed. Finnegan has Johnny Fisher and George May worked into first string caliber, and they can be depended upon for reproductions of their previous performances.

Knauf and Pierce are the outstanding "speedy" backs on the Sioux aggregation, and it is expected that both will see service today. Besides these men, West also has consistent ground-gainers in Revell and Cope.

Lines Evenly Matched

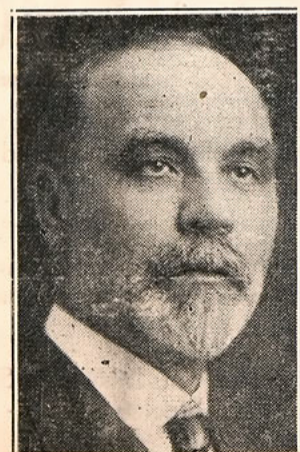

The forward walls of the two aggregations are fairly evenly matched in weight, ability, and service. The Bison lineup will probably include Jacobson and Meyers at the ends, Peschel and Platt at tackles, Jahr and Orness at guards, and Paris or Thomas at the pivot post.

Hanson

Welcome Home!

Graduates, both men and women, are welcomed to Homecoming by the college staff, as are the flowers and bursting buds of springtime. Homecoming Day to the Bison is indeed a joyous event and one which the persons charged with "keeping the home fires burning" look forward to with happy anticipation.

The resident student organizations vie with each other to make the occasion interesting and pleasant for the old timer and its proves to be an opportunity for them to try out their ingenuity and resourcefulness in an organized effort.

The matter of decorations and the parade of floats is largely a result of painstaking work upon the part of the student body and since it need entail little cost, the faculty encourages rather than frowns upon it.

Registrar Parrott reports 1,290 students in attendance at this time, which is but 61 short of last year's record breaking registration or a shrinkage of but 4.5 per cent. Such a number requires a considerable enterprise to reasonably engage the time and talent of their group which should not fall too heavily on individuals.

The athletes put on their heaviest function of the year as the outstanding feature of the day. The Alumni get together and renew their youth while they greet old friends and make new acquaintances.

Home, with all that it has meant to each of us since our earliest recollection, is the spirit in which both students and teaching staff will greet you.

—JOHN H. SHEPPERD.

WELCOME HOMECOMERS

It is only once every two years that North Dakota State college goes on parade at the Bison Homecoming festivities.

Loyal alumni of North Dakota State college appreciate this fact, coming several thousand miles to be present at the Homecoming reunions and football games. It is to them, who have aided in making possible many of the developments of our college, that we send the heartiest of welcomes.

Not only will the alumni be "right royally entertained" at the football game in the afternoon, but we students, of North Dakota State college are anxious to show them about the campus, to show them improvements which have been made, and to make a good impression upon those earlier students to show them that we have a distinct pride in our school. While the "rah-rah" spirit of the other days is not present, the same loyalty to the school is here, however hidden it may seem—sometimes

Give us a trial, alumni. If you need information or direction as to places on or near the campus, ask any of us students. We are anxious to show you that State college has lost none of its hospitality throughout the years. Meanwhile we bid you welcome—and many happy Homecomings.

SOCIAL AWARENESS

Many years ago, a great French philosopher startled the intellectual world with his publication of The Social Contract. One of the assumptions the book makes is that society is the product of social contract, by which individuals have given up certain rights and privileges for the good of the group. The author, Jean Jacques Rousseau, felt that the time had come when the individual must revoke the contract in order to escape the evils which he thought organized society had propagated.

Fortunately, we are not in agreement with Rousseau's method of combating social evils. If we were, we should not today be attending this institution together, working together, living together. We have come to believe that social organization is desirable, that society can be made to serve the individual. Thus, we have whole hierarchies of social units, the members of which are dependent and inter-dependent upon one another.

However, though most of us believe in the value of the social machine, a great many of us sometimes forget that any society makes demands upon the individual, demands which are apparent to those who possess a "social consciousness." Too frequently do we have to yield to personal discomfort for the good of the group; often, we may have to forego a privilege we have come to feel alienably ours. In other words, we have to "give" almost as often as we should like to "take," and this giving, if difficult, is necessary. It is the "giving" phase of social life that reveals itself in innumerable problems of common courtesy, the completion of college assignments, the observance of institutional rules and regulations, the active participation in group endeavors.

Yet, these things are so obvious, we sometimes forget them. Sometimes even we allow the smaller problem like that of petty political "frames" to obscure our vision of these greater needs in the life of a campus or a community. In fine, "social awareness" has such a fundamental part to play in developing social behavior, and has such tremendous implications for the entire life process, that perhaps it is a valuable concept to pause upon during these opening weeks of the college year. Certainly, without the development of a social sense, we can never hope to achieve that humanitarian ideal, "the greatest happiness of the greatest number."

Fargo High Foiled!

Seven of Fargo high's prettiest lassies in her deep bass voice, "Oh look—the acted as decoys while the boy-friends woodpile is on fire!" made a vain attempt to light the Homecoming bonfire a night early. It seems that there were four frosh and a lone junior harmonizing while tending the woodpile, when, lo and behold, a Packard with some beautiful women and a couple fellows in it drove onto Dacotah field.

They volunteered the information that they were from Fargo high and that they "merely wanted to see how big the pile was." They acceded to a request to join the A. C. songsters in "bating out a tune." Before said ditty could be begun, one of the alluring maids emitted a guffaw of glee and said

Five excited studes pulled out the wood that was afire. The men's dorm piled out "en masse" in shorts, deshabille, pajamas, and what-nots. With shouts of "Hey, Frosh," the fire-bugs were chased from the field, and the "Mata Haris" banished with threats of good, old-fashioned spankings on return.

A whine of fire sirens! The "Red Peril," with five of Fargo's brave fire laddies aboard, swept onto the field. An optimistic Midget had sent in a fire alarm! Everyone took the fiasco philosophically: The firemen had missed the fire, the students a good fight, and the girls in Ceres hall some sleep on account of the quintet. And so to bed!

ROWDY REMARKS

Homecoming still means something even in these depressing times—it will be worth while to see the battle of speed between "Fritz" and Pierce. But the ideal Homecomings used to be put on by the Kappa Psi—however, they claim that they've turned pansy, and so another tradition is blasted.

The elections helped liven the week up, too. They're just about the biggest laugh on the campus, but still some people take them very seriously—they say that Stan Thompson can be heard as far out as West Fargo when he gets started on the subject—but when can't he?

A frosh leader is still that way, even after a long lecture by a man who should know.

Once upon a time, not so very long ago, there was a little girl who went to high school. Oh, my yes, she went there for years and years, but finally they passed her on to this institution of higher learning, and when she got here, she wasn't bothered by the Kappas or Gamma Phis, even though her papa once owned a bank, just because she thought she was the answer to every male's prayer, and besides that, just because—! But nothing seemed to bother this little girl and she went on beaming at and bothering everything that looked like a man. The brethren of the campus appreciated all her trouble and care, and decided that she should be given a title—and so just the other day they christened her "Calamity Jane, the Campus Pest."

Wonder who those two football players are who laugh heartily at each other's alleged humor—other people laugh too, but not at the jokes.

Has the Cliquot Club spiked you yet?

The Kappas still cling to their Oxford glasses or "Lady Astor's Peepholes." Now even the pledges are sanctioning them . . . they put them on ash trays. Pretty soon we'll be seeing them on their dogs. Why not? Already they've washed their hounds with vinegar.

Last line—WE MAKE NO PROMISES!!

Music of Old Mexico, Methodist Clergyman Feature Convocations

Two Programs Offered Student Body At Assemblies On October 26 and 28

Two varied programs will be offered North Dakota State college students and faculty in convocations which present the Ramos Mexican orchestra on Oct. 26, and Rev. J. Ralph Magee, Methodist bishop, on Oct. 28.

The Ramos family will feature the music of old Mexico, playing piano, violin, mandolin, mandocello and other typically Mexican instruments.

Senor Hesiquio Ramos, father, directs the orchestra and plays the piano. He is a composer of distinction, at the age of twenty-two winning first prize in an international piano contest in which he rendered his own composition.

Rafael Ramos, son of Senor Hesiquio, is a violinist and Senoritas Lupe, Rosa and Concepcion, daughters, are both instrumental and vocal musicians. All members of the family graduated from the National Conservatory of music at Mexico City.

Rev. Magee, bishop of the Methodist St. Paul area, which includes Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana and part of Colorado, was elected and assigned the area at the general conference held at Atlantic City, N. J., in May, 1932, says Prof. Walter Lee Airheart of Wesley college.

Previous to his election as bishop, Rev. Magee was pastor of the First Methodist church of Seattle, Wash. This church includes such a large and varied program as to require an annual budget of at least $100,000.

As well as being very popular in the city of Seattle, Rev. Magee is well known on the University of Washington campus and has spoken many times before service clubs, community gatherings and college convocations.

The First Methodist church of Fargo plans a public reception for Rev. Magee to be held at eight o'clock, Friday evening.

Work On Production Of "Faust" Is Begun

Women's and Men's Choruses Have Regular Practice, Says Dr. Putnam

Preparations for the production of the opera "Faust" at the North Dakota State college on Nov. 17 are getting under way, with both the men's and women's chorus groups practicing regularly, it was stated today by Dr. C. S. Putnam, in charge of arrangements for the opera's presentation.

Dr. Putnam has received many inquiries from out of town concerning the opera. Calls have come from as far as Fergus Falls, Minn. Students are being urged to get their tickets as soon as possible if they wish to attend the staging of the opera.

The North Dakota State college department of music is cooperating with the Festival Opera company, Chicago, producers of the opera, in presenting it here. Miss Dorothy Cole, of the women's physical education department, is helping in the production by arranging a ballet.

Though the opera is written in German, by Goethe, it will be produced here in the English language. Among the famous opera stars taking part in it are Kai di Vermond and William Valentine.

Chemistry Professor Attends Convention

T. H. Hopper Is Representative Of College At Meeting In Washington

Mr. T. H. Hopper, head of the department of agricultural chemistry, with Mrs. Hopper, left Thursday of this week for Washington, D. C., where Mr. Hopper will attend the annual convention of the American Association of Agricultural Chemists, that will be held there Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

While at Washington Mr. Hopper plans to attend conferences with groups from the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils and the Bureau of Plant Industry, and with chemists from all over the country.

North Dakota State college has usually been represented at these conventions, but this is the first time in the past three years that a man has attended from here.

SPECTRUM CRITIC

"Congo," a jungle picture, unique in its plot and characters, is now playing at the State theater, with a great cast, including Walter Huston, Lupe Velez, and Virginia Bruce. It's a picture of the world's last stand against criminal outlaws.

At the Fargo, M-G-M presents a picture we have long been waiting to see—Norma Shearer in "Smilin' Through." It is a picture in which Norma plays a far different role than in her usual run of pictures. It is completely devoid of sophistication which marked her characterizations in "Strange Interlude," "A Free Soul," and "Strangers May Kiss." You shouldn't miss "Smilin' Through."

NOTICE!

All those wishing to sing in chorus of "Faust" please report to me immediately.

University Brings Its Entire Concert Band To Bison-Sioux Fray

Howard Directs Ninety-Six Men In Formation Drill Today

Ninety-six musicians of the University Concert band will appear here today at the Sioux-Bison tilt under the direction of Bandmaster John E. Howard.

During the intermission following the first half of the game the "U" band will take the field and maneuver formations for the letters N. D. S. and U. N. D. as their part of the program.

A committee of Grand Forks citizens got behind a financial drive to make it possible for all 96 players to go to Fargo, after university authorities had found Monday morning that their music fund was large enough to pay the expenses of only half the group.

Things happened swiftly soon after the University announced it would be able to send only 48 musicians to Fargo.

"To show the appreciation of the city for the fine showing the University football team has made and to recognize the support that the student body and band have given the team," the committee organized and began its solicitation in the business district.

"We thought that the band as it appeared in the Homecoming parade and on the football field Saturday was the best the University has ever had," one member of the committee said.

The past week has been spent in special drills and formations for today's game for the players in the blue-trimmed khaki uniforms, according to reports from Grand Forks.

This year plans for band activity at the Grand Forks institution are more extensive than ever before in the history of the school, it is reported. A series of monthly radio concerts to begin the first week in November, in addition to public concert appearances and convocation programs and a spring trip with itinerary touching the four states of North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois will be attempted, according to officers of the band.

Journalists Pledged To Gamma Tau Sigma

Chamberlin, French, Parrott, Kilbourne Named Pledge Members of Group

Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity at North Dakota State college, elected four men to pledge membership at a meeting in Ceres hall last Tuesday. Gerald Gardlid, Cooperstown, presided at the meeting.

Men named as pledges at the meeting were Arnold Chamberlin, junior in science and literature; Charles French, senior in science and literature; Howard Kilbourne, senior in science and literature, and Robert Parrott, sophomore in science and literature, all from Fargo.

Pledging services will be held at 4 p. m. next Tuesday in the Bison office.

NITA OLESON IS BRACELET WINNER

Nita Oleson was awarded the scholarship bracelet at the Phi Omega Pi sorority Monday evening.

During each term of the school year this bracelet is given to one of the active members of the sorority. This seemingly unimportant piece of jewelry has a very important significance and is a very coveted article, signifying on the arm that it bedecks that the wearer has attained high scholastic honors and that her average shows greater increase than of any other member of the sorority.

NODAK BACK

RALPH PIERCE

An outstanding speedster who is to test the Bison line and flankmen this afternoon is Ralph Pierce, junior halfback. He is credited with the track records in the North Central conference.

Photography Staff Of 1933 Bison Takes Pictures of Parade

High Grade Cameras Used At Game This Afternoon On Dacotah Field

Members of the photography staff of the 1933 Bison, State college yearbook, are on the job with their cameras today.

George Jurgens, photography editor of the annual, is in charge of the parade part of Homecoming, and took pictures both downtown and at the college this morning before the parade got under way. He reports the obtaining of some unusual pictures.

James Konen and Curt Ballard, the latter a graduate, will "shoot" scenes at the Homecoming game this afternoon. Konen will be using a high speed Graflex camera owned by the Fargo Forum, while Ballard brings with him a camera using expensive telephoto lenses. These cameras are the best that have ever been used by a Bison staff in taking Homecoming scenes, according to Jurgens.

MARJORY ARCHER HEADS WOMEN'S SENATE GROUP

Marjory Archer, Gamma Phi Beta, was elected president of the Women's Senate at the first meeting of the year held last Tuesday. Other officers elected for this year are June Kremer, Alpha Xi Beta, vice president; Marion Weeks, Kappa Kappa Gamma, treasurer, and Margaret Olson, Kappa Delta, secretary. Erlys Hill, Kappa Kappa Gamma, was named publicity chairman.

The Women's Senate is the governing body of the Women's League, an organization composed of all women students on the campus.

Joy Boyd, from Winnipeg, Man., is spending a week here, visiting Mary Healy.

COLLEGE WOMEN HEAR HOME ECONOMICS TALK

Miss Frances Zuill, president of the National Home Economics association and head of the department of home economics at Iowa State college, will speak to students of the local department in the Little Country theater next Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Women of the faculty and student body are invited to the lecture and the tea given in Miss Zuill's honor immediately following the program. Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics sorority, is host with Ellen Gardner in charge of arrangements.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS DUE

Final applications for Rhodes Scholarships must be received today at the office of President Thomas Kane of the State university, for eligibility as to 1932 entry. Winners of the Rhodes Scholarship are entitled to a three-year course at Oxford in England.

Qualifications for the Rhodes Scholarship are stated as leadership, scholarship, health, and outstanding ability in any field of education. Thirty-two men represent the United States at Oxford each year. Four men from this district will be chosen from twelve, two of whom are selected by each individual state.

George Bohlig, an Alpha Kappa Phi alumnus and a graduate from the North Dakota State college, has announced his marriage to Evelyn Rose Sandman of Menominee, Wis. The ceremony took place on Oct. 18, 1932.

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority entertained at a dinner party from 5 to 7 p. m. Sunday in the home of Mrs. Kent Darrow.

Eastern Games Rival Bison-Sioux Fray For Fan Interest

BISON TEAM SCHEDULE LISTS LIVELY BATTLES DURING COMING MONTH

Brilliant Army Eleven Ranks
Among "Top Notchers"
In Country

TEAM PLANS LONG TRIP

George Washington University
Tests State Eleven
On Nov. 4

While all North Dakota awaits today the outcome of the Bison-Sioux traditional struggle for the supremacy of the gridiron, two great intersectional games loom in the future which rival today's game in local and countryside interest. The crowning game of 1932 North Dakota football is to be played on Saturday, Nov. 12, when the Bison clash with the nationally prominent Army football team at the gridiron in West Point, N. Y.

Army Is Favorite

Boasting of nationally prominent football stars, several of whom have already participated in three years of rigid competition in other colleges, the Army team again ranks among the leading teams in the world. Although beaten this year by Pittsburgh university, which team holds a position second to few in the country, the Cadets are ranked as decided favorites for the majority of games on their schedule for the year.

Orness

Also of fan interest, as an intersectional battle, is the Bison-George Washington football game of Nov. 4 at the capitol city. Bison chances for victory in this battle are rated good due to the team's excellent showing against the Oklahoma City university team last week. However, the George Washington team of 1932 is rated as one of the strongest developed at that school in a number of years.

Tour Is Long

With plans for a great number of miles of travel before returning to studies at North Dakota State college, the members of the team and their coaches, C. C. Finnegan and Bob Lowe, will make the swing through Chicago on the way east to the Washington game. Following that contest, the entire North Dakota contingent will travel to New York city and on up along the Hudson river to West Point military academy, before returning westward.

SELLIKEN

While the Bison have engaged in a number of intersectional games during the past several years, no extended eastward trips have been made in recent time, according to "Casey" Finnegan, who arranged the eastern schedule for the Bison. Teams played during the past three years have included the university teams of Wisconsin and Minnesota, Michigan State college at Lansing, Kansas State college at Manhattan, Davis-Elkins college of West Virginia, and Oklahoma City university.

MINNEAPOLIS PAPER FEATURES VIV McKay

Viv McKay was given a nice bit of publicity in last Sunday's Minneapolis Journal. A large picture of McKay appeared on the sport page, together with the fact that McKay is one of the backfield men upon whom North Dakota State students are resting their hopes of beating North Dakota University. McKay is the acting captain of the Bison, since leg injuries put "Dolly" Schoenfelder out for the season. This is McKay's third year in the regular varsity backfield.

Military Group Marks Scabbard and Blade Day On October 27

Unit At North Dakota State College Observes Annual
Day With Banquet

Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military society, will note its Founder's day this year on the birthday of former president Theodore Roosevelt, Thursday, Oct. 27.

The national society of Scabbard and Blade was founded 26 years ago at the University of Wisconsin by five cadet officers. It now has seventy-eight chapters in forty-six states with a membership of approximately 18,000.

In general the purpose of the society is to defend American traditions and ideals, to promote the interests of R. O. T. C. training, to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient officers and to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

Active membership in Scabbard and Blade is limited to outstanding cadet officers in the R. O. T. C. units at schools throughout the country. They are selected by members of the chapter based upon their proficiency in military science, academic subjects, character and other attributes. Officers of the regular army, national guard and organized reserves may be elected to associate membership. Honorary membership is conferred on civilians.

M company, third regiment, located at North Dakota State college, will celebrate Scabbard and Blade day with a banquet. Clyde Townsend and John Dixon are in charge of arrangements. Members of the local group include: Edward Comm, company commander; John Dixon, first lieutenant; Earl Grove, second lieutenant; Frank Clark, first sergeant; and Leroy Chloupek, Erling Hedahl, Arthur Larson, Donald Lieb, Ernest Hall, Leo Schwehr, Clyde Townsend, Maurice Knudson, and Stanley Thompson.

Martin Hagen, one of the founders of the former local Alpha Kappa Phi, died in Stevens Point Sanitarium in Wisconsin, Wednesday morning following a prolonged confinement. Hagen graduated from the college in 1917. He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi.

Eastern Alumni Plan Reception For Team

Washington and New York Are Scheduled Scenes For Entertainments

While hundred of alumni assemble here today to attend Homecoming festivities again, many alumni in the eastern part of the United States, unable to be present at the 1932 Homecoming, are planning a series of receptions for the Bison gridders when they travel eastward next month.

Working out plans for a North Dakota reception for the team at Washington, D. C., when the Bison play the Colonials of George Washington on Nov. 4, a committee has been operating for some weeks at the capitol city. Its membership includes Judge E. T. Burke and Senators Gerald P. Nye and Lynn J. Frazier, who belong to a North Dakota society there.

Numerous graduates working in or in the vicinity of New York city have already purchased tickets to the Bison-Army game at West Point, reports from the east indicate. Receptions for the North Dakotans are to be held in New York city and at the Military Academy.

Percy Evander and George Janecky, Kappa Psi, visited their homes in La-Moure and Barnesville, respectively, last weekend.

Dear Elmer:

Maybe you noticed how sad Hap Wyard has been looking lately.

You see, he read in a paper from his home town that a friend of his died and that "six of the neighbors carried the bier."

Well, it was a tough break, but gosh, Fargo's no oasis. It all goes to show how you ought to be prepared and that every fellow ought to have at least one blue serge suit, for funerals, weddings and christenings.

Elmer, maybe you could tell the boys you can give them the best blue serge suit they ever wore, tailored-to-order by Ed. V. Price & Co. at $35 or $40. Some of them will jump at the chance.

Hoping you are the same.

Aggie.

Intersectional Games Find Bison
Ranking High Among Nation's Teams

Today's game will mark the fourth Homecoming under the tutelage of Casey Finnegan and Bob Lowe. Today a faster, and superior team than has been turned out in several years is anxious to clash with their old Homecoming rivals, the Nodaks.

When football fans crowd the stands it will make the hardest old pessimist believe that prosperity is really just around the corner. For this year under the leadership of Finnegan and Lowe, a team has been developed that certainly should break North Dakota State's Homecoming jinx.

In 1930 the Bison, led by Leo May, established a reputation throughout the Middlewest, when the team outplayed Michigan State, losing the game only because of several unfortunate mishaps during crucial moments.

The 1931 Bison, under the leadership of Cy Lonsbrough, gained respect from the Big Ten teams, when they played both the Wisconsin Badgers and the Minnesota Gophers, a close hard fought game.

Today's game will be State's third conference game and the Nodaks' first, and because the Finnegan-Lowe combination will place on the field a fine, well coached team, the gamblers are giving no odds on the game, and more people than ever are unpacking their fur coats, determined to see an excellent Homecoming game in spite of any kind of weather conditions.

Frank Clark Chosen As Senior President In Annual Election

Meyers and Garlid Elected To Board of Publications Last Wednesday

Frank Clark was elected president of the senior class at the annual fall election held last Wednesday morning. As a member of the Holier-Than-Thou frame he successfully defeated his opponent, Earl Grove. Clark is a member of the Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity, Scabbard and Blade, and Kappa Tau Delta.

Two vacancies on the Board of Publications were filled by Roman Meyers and Gerald Garlid, junior and senior, respectively, with Harold Ranes and Gus Younger as the defeated candidates. Meyers is a member of the Holier-Than-Thou group while Garlid is a Hog-It-All representative.

The Hog-It-Alls, after having just completed an unsuccessful year, seized thirteen offices out of a possible eighteen, thus taking a majority of class offices. However, the major offices of Board of Publications membership and junior and senior presidencies were divided.

In the freshman class the votes were as follows: president, Stanley Maynard, 95, William Akeley, 91; vice president: Sydney Bjornson, 96, Dana Smith, 90; secretary: Gertrude Powers, 80, Marion Bristol, 85; treasurer: Audrey Boe, 95, Harold McConnell, 84. Ora Hammerud and Carmen Hunt were in charge.

Sophomore classmen chose Ken Hamry as their president, who, with a total of 91 votes, beat his rival, Clifford Swanson, with 57 votes. Other officers elected were: vice president: Kenneth Reardon, 91, John O'Neil, 69; secretary: Carol Cooper, 102, Doris Thompson, 70; treasurer: John Hafstrom, 103, Constance Martin, 66.

A Hog-It-All victory was the result of the junior class election. The results were as follows: president: Paula Verne, 100, Maitland Wyard, 93; vice president: Arthur Habener, 101, John Hyland, 90; secretary: Luella Furcht, 89, Virginia Garberg, 101; treasurer: Erlis Hill, 79, Idan Flaa, 113.

Frank Clark holds the honor of being president of the graduating class. He, with a total of 83 votes, won over Earl Grove with 77. Other senior officers are: vice president: William McDonald, 87, Betty McMorran, 72; secretary: Veronta Wepler, 86, Margaret Dadey, 76; treasurer: Edward Comm, 92, Frances Kingsbury, 69.

Each Greek letter society on the campus belongs to one of the two frames. To the "Holier-Than-Thou" group belongs Alpha Xi Beta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta, Delta Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Epsilon, Theta Chi sororities and fraternities and the non-fraternity group on the campus.

To the other frame, the "Hog-It-All," the Phi Omega Pi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Psi, Kappa Sigma Chi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Sigma Phi Delta fraternities and sororities belong.

On The Campus

The ART CLUB aims to further art interest, to supply greater opportunity for social recreation, and to stimulate creative work. Any student who has completed one term of art work is eligible for membership. Meetings every two weeks. Sponsors Bohemian dinner, formal dancing and exhibit of Japanese prints each year.

The ATHLETIC BOARD OF CONTROL consists of the director of athletics, two faculty members, two students, and an alumnus not in the employ of the institution. The board acts in an advisory board capacity to assist in shaping athletic policies, and to consider financial affairs relating to the athletic department.

The COLLEGE ENGINEERS' CLUB, founded in 1906, aims to promote the social and economic welfare of the engineer. The membership is now about 110, and includes men from all the engineering departments.

Merlyn Jahr, one of the most dependable of the linemen in State college's football team. "Tugboat" is a serious contender for the third consecutive year for an all-conference post at guard.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

Now that the Bison freshmen and the high school students have had their "Battle of Wet Wood," we can go on with Homecoming.

The feature event, of course, is the big football game, made "feature" than ever by the unusual strength of both teams. Another angle too, to give a national tinge to the battle, is, that the loser is out of the picture as far as undefeated teams are concerned, while the winner will rank high in collegiate rating.

The university will be at its best. Reports of the Bison's sensational battle last Friday have trickled to the ears of Grand Forks experts and the Sioux know now, if they didn't before, that they will have to put both their best feet forward. In the case of Meinhover, who has a huge understanding, one foot will be enough.

It wasn't for the fact that Bison have suffered six consecutive defeats at the hands of the upstaters there might be some danger of being too well satisfied with last Friday's game.

PICK YOUR OWN STARTING LINEUP FOR THE BISON. CASEY ISN'T SURE HIMSELF, JUST WHAT THE OPENING GUN WILL SEE. SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENT OF A LARGE GROUP OF SOPHOMORES THE PAST TWO WEEKS MAKES THE TASK OF SELECTING THE FIRST 11 MEN A HAZARDOUS JOB. VERILY, A COACH'S JOB IS NO EMERITUS OCCUPATION.

Just as the Bison will be watching Pierce, so will the Nodaks peer beneath bushy eyebrows at Fritz Hanson. These two undoubtedly are the two fastest men in the conference—excellent trackers—but what is most surprising is their football ability. Seldom do you find a fast track man scintillating on the gridiron.

The football fan, God bless him! After the Oklahoma game an unusually ardent follower took Casey to one side, complimented in glowing terms, the versatility of Bison attack. "You couldn't tell where the play was going, in fact oftentimes you couldn't tell who had the ball until the runner was downed. Boy, did you have some hot new stuff in that game." Casey chuckled, but said nothing. Those plays were the same used for three years. A faster backfield and, consequently, better execution of the plays is the answer.

Wouldn't it be great if the Bison could go on the eastern jaunt with an undefeated record? The students can help. Today has 16 hours of action. How about running amuck—you know in a nice sort of a way. But let the alumni and Fargo know we're going to win.

We think it's about time these games stopped going West.

FRESHMEN WIN FIRST TWO SOCCER CONTESTS WITH UPPERCLASSMEN

Frosh Girls Take Both Games From Upperclass Teams By Score of 1-0

Those who regard women's athletics somewhat lightly may be amazed to learn that feminine sport devotees are willing to stage a struggle in the mud, should weather conditions make such a state of affairs necessary.

Thursday noon a battle between the freshman and the sophomore squads marked the beginning of the soccer tournament, which will run until Thursday, Oct. 27. In this first clash, an enthusiastic freshman team, captained by Betty Critchfield, slithered down a muddy field to a 1-0 victory over the sophomores. Not content with a single victory, on Friday noon they defeated the upperclass team by a like score of 1-0.

The freshman lineup consists of: Marian Wagness, Rogene Langdon, Audrey Boe, Betty Kretzchmar, and Betty Critchfield, forwards; Lillian Kolar, Thelma Parkins, and Helen Nelson, halfbacks; Corrine Ballard and Rosella Reed, fullbacks; and Virginia Baker, goalkeeper.

On the sophomore squad are: Ruth Moore, Helen Foster, Dorothy Stompro, Carol Cooper, and Isabelle Humphreys, forwards; Connie Martin, Ev Hammer, and Doris Brimer, halfbacks; Cleo Knapp and Ruth Westergaard, fullbacks; and Nita Oleson, goalkeeper.

The upperclass team is made up of Frances Hedner, Theodora Huntley, Margaret Fleming, Harriet Horton, and Lillian Stotlar, forwards; Ruth Clemens, Marcella Anderson and Norma Arntson, halfbacks; Ora Hammerud and Mary McNair, fullbacks; and Paula Verne, goalkeeper.

The schedule of games for next week is as follows: Monday, sophomores vs. upperclassmen; Tuesday, freshmen vs. sophomores; Wednesday, freshmen vs. upperclassmen; Thursday, sophomores vs. upperclassmen.

Reserve Backs Show Speed and Stamina

Gerteis, May and Bill Gove Demonstrate Well At Dacotah Field

While the first string Bison backfield has shown speed and power superior to that of many years past, a most capable group of reserve backfield men is on line ready to carry on for any position on the team.

Prominent among reserve ball carriers may be listed Leo Gerteis, George May, Milton Hollister, Bill Gove, Art Morris, Art Stege, Erling Schranz and a number of others. Speed, blocking ability and power are all represented in this gathering of reserves, who are contenders for team honors for the next several years.

Shiftiness and speed were shown by George May as he drove home first downs and one touchdown against the Oklahoma City university team, recently. In the same game Bill Gove showed his power in line drives when yards were needed for first downs. Although listed as a blocking back throughout his high school career at Fargo high, Leo Gerteis has shown promise of being an outstanding ball carrier in college. With greater speed than the ordinary player and driving ability, his future as a ball carrier has been predicted as good.

Gerteis

There is little likelihood of a lack of good backfield men during the next several years on the Dacotah field.

COLLEGE LIBRARY GETS NEW REFERENCE LISTS

Assistant Librarian Miss Harriet Pearson wishes to call attention to a few exceptionally valuable reference books the college library recently acquired. These include: the "Catholic Encyclopedia," 16 volumes, which, Miss Pearson said, is very useful for many questions on subjects in Medieval literature, history and philosophy; "A Guide to the Best Historical Novels," by Nield, which contains brief annotations of stories, historically important, from the pre-Christian era to the 20th century; and "1000 Sayings of History" by Fogg, in which one can determine the origin and historical value of such quotations as "Don't give up the Ship," "Give me liberty or give me death."

Roy Peterson, '29, living at present in Minneapolis, Minn., is a guest of his brother, Norman, at the Kappa Sigma Chi house during Homecoming.

Rodger Smith and Clifford Heck of Pipestone, Minn., left school Thursday to enter Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis.

Audrey Houghlum, Gamma Phi Beta, is withdrawing from school.

Seventeenth Annual
Harvest Production

Annual Festival Will Portray
"Sountry Past-Times
Of Yesteryear"

The Seventeenth Annual Harvest festival will be presented in the Little Country theater, Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 7 p. m. This year the Harvest Festival will portray "Country Pastimes of Yesteryear."

This annual event is always looked forward upon as a beautiful presentation, greatly enjoyed by the students and members of the faculty. Every year many students are anxious to play parts in the festival.

This autumn spectacle will bring back memories of the little old school-house, village choirs, and corn husking contests.

"Country Past-times of Yesteryear" is divided into three entertaining and colorful parts. The first part is the tableau, portraying a delightful pantomime setting, and will be presented in the Little Country theater. The second part represents "A Visit to the Village," presenting events of by-gone days. These events are given as follows: The First Thanksgiving, Indian Circle, Old New England Town Meeting, the Little Red School, the Covered Wagon, the Cowboy, County Fair, Circus, Village Choir, Barn Raising and an Old Time Spelling Bee, all of which will be presented in the Lincoln Log cabin. The last act is the Social Session, and this also will be presented in the Log Cabin.
