STATE UNIVERSITY BAND COMES TO FARGO FOR HOMECOMING PROGRAM

Parade Meets Band Arriving On Special Train From Grand Forks

EXPECT RECORD CROWD

Procession Leaves College For Downtown At 10:30 On Saturday

That the University of North Dakota's band will be here for Homecoming ceremonies on Saturday, Oct. 22, was the announcement received today by Everett Wallum, North Dakota State college alumni secretary. The band will arrive at 11 a. m. on a special train from Grand Forks, and join the Homecoming day parade at the Great Northern tracks.

In order to meet the University band the parade will start from the college at 10:30 a. m., instead of 10 a. m. as was previously announced. The parade will include floats, group costumes, and individual costumes entered by campus organizations, Dr. C. S. Putnam's Gold Star band, guests of honor, faculty, alumni, friends of the college, and the entire R. O. T. C. corps of the college.

Both the bands will be present at the football game between the teams of the two school in the afternoon. John Howard is the leader of the University band, and is an old friend of Dr. Putnam's.

"All students taking basic or advanced military are expected to march in the parade," Capt. J. B. Conmy, in charge of plans for the parade, said today. "Any such students needed by an organization or department will be excused by the military department upon proper application at that office. Any student registered in military classes who expect to be absent from the parade for any reason whatsoever will register to that effect at the military department before Friday noon.

"Floats, group costumes, and individual costumes will be assigned positions by lot at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 20, at the office of the military department in the physical education building. All floats must be registered with me not later than Oct. 19," Captain Conmy concluded.

Indications continue to point to the largest crowd at the Homecoming game that the school has ever witnessed, Mr. Wallum said today. A large group of students from the University of North Dakota are planning to attend the game, and to accommodate them a block of tickets have been sent to Grand Forks.

Editors of Yearbook Announce New Staff

Donald Fredrikson, William Heller Head Staff As Editors

Major appointments to the editorial staff of The Bison, North Dakota State college annual, were announced today by Donald Fredrikson and William Heller, editors of the yearbook.

Acting as assistant editors on the staff are John Dixon and Abbie Porter. Other editors on the staff in charge of the departments of the book include Ruth Clausen, administration; Kenneth Hamry, literary; Myrl Hoar, classes; John Hyland, athletics; George Jurgens, photography; Howard Kilbourne, Bison life; James Konen, action photography; Jane Nichols, administration; and Emanuel Smith, organizations.

Appointments to the business staff of the book will be announced later.

Kappa Sigma Chi announces the pledging of Thorward Thorwardson, Cavalier, and John Thompson, Oakes, at the fraternity house on Monday.

POTENTIAL BISON STARS INVADE FRATERNITIES

The 1932 Bison football squad have a great host of admirers among the school kids of Fargo. Over week-ends fraternity houses that boast a member or members of the team are often called upon to produce their gridiron material for the edification of a group of these youngsters.

One of the most striking examples of this hero-worship was the little boy who waited for some time at the fraternity house for a chance to present Fritz Hanson with an apple. When Hanson did show up the lad bashfully held back, but finally mustered his courage and shyly offered his gift. It is difficult to say who was the more embarrassed, the youthful admirer or Fritz.

State College Stages "Faust" in Connection With Opera Company

Students Will Participate In Goethe's Opera Here On Nov. 17

The North Dakota State college department of music in conjunction with the Festival Opera company of Chicago will stage at the college, a presentation of Goethe's opera "Faust" in English, in Festival hall on Nov. 17, according to Dr. C. S. Putnam, who is in charge of arrangements.

The college department of music in assisting with the production will give the services of the girls' glee club, directed by Adda Blakeslee, the men's chorus, directed by Prof. Homer Hutton, and the college orchestra and band, under the direction of Dr. Putnam. Miss Dorothy Cole of the women's physical education department, is planning a ballet.

Students are urged to get their tickets early, as there will be a considerable demand for seats with such a program coming here, Dr. Putnam said today.

Heading the cast of the opera will be Howard Carman, cast in the role of Faust. Others in the cast are Kai di Vermond as Mephistopheles; William Phillips as Valentine; Lucie Westen as Marguerite; Eileen Sutton as Siebel; Eileen Sutton as Martha; and Rex Cushing as Wagner. Isador Berger acts as musical director.

Enrollment at State College Is Slightly Less Than Last Year

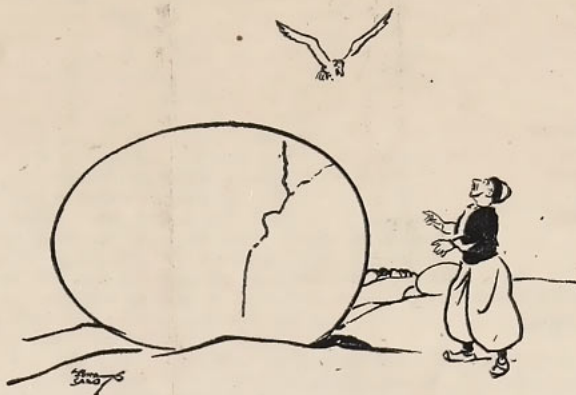

Actual Decrease In Number of Students Is 61, Says H. H. Parrott

Despite the depression enrollment at North Dakota State college has dropped but 4.5 per cent from last year. The actual decrease is from 1,351 students to 1,290, a difference of 61, according to A. H. Parrott, registrar.

The school of science and literature is the only one to show an increase. Figures for the two years follow:

	1931-32	1932-33
Agriculture	139	121
Chemistry	105	96
Education	160	140
Home Economics	190	172
Mechanic Arts	303	268
Pharmacy	88	82
Science and Literature	309	319
Following are the comparisons for classes in the two years which shows a decrease in lower classes and an increase in the upper classes:
	1931-32	1932-33
Freshmen	435	343
Sophomores	363	319
Juniors	292	303
Seniors	183	232
Graduates	15	41
High School	57	51

Attractive Array of Famous Stars Is Billed for Twenty-second Lyceum

NEW MILITARY DRILL PLAN IS FORMULATED

The War Department at Washington, D. C., has sent out word to all schools under its jurisdiction, having military drill, that henceforth only the new method shall be taught in these schools, according to information received by the military department.

Although the new type of drill will not go into effect until next fall, it will be tried out this year to a certain extent in order to see how it will work out.

Major Lathrop states that no definite material on what this change is to be has yet been received from Washington, D. C.

Booth and Schoessow, Graduate Engineers, Receive Distinction

Electric Company and Hoover Dam Work Utilize Men's Skill

Two graduates of the school of mechanic arts have received special distinctions in their fields of employment, according to Dean R. M. Dolve, head of the department.

Walter Booth, '26, employee of the General Electric company, has recently been assigned to devise a schedule of rates for another electric company of Elizabeth, N. Y. Booth was a member of Sigma Phi Delta, national engineering fraternity, and is a brother of Edward Booth, senior engineer. He is an efficiency engineer for the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y.

Glen Schoessow, '30, with the Babcock and Wilcox company of Barberton, Ohio, in their design department, was assigned special laboratory work in Purdue university in connection with the Hoover Dam project. The Babcock and Wilson company have a ten million dollar contract from the federal government for the steel construction and penstocks of the Hoover Dam. Schoessow was an outstanding marksman on the North Dakota State rifle team and was also a member of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity.

STUDENT COURT MEETS SECOND TIME THURSDAY

The second meeting of the Student Court will be held in the Alumni Club Rooms in Old Main, Thursday, October 20.

All students who have received tickets for violation of the campus traffic rules must report, otherwise an excess fine will be levied in addition to the regular fine.

Up till the present time all tickets have been served because of violation of traffic offense number five, which deals with the parking of cars on the campus.

TONY SARG SHOWS AGAIN

Students Are Admitted By Registration Cards To Lyceum Courses

Because of the greatly reduced rates among the eastern theatrical companies, it has become possible to secure an unusually attractive series of entertainments for the twenty-second annual Lyceum course, says A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public speaking. "In a normal year, no amount of money could induce these people to leave the eastern publics and venture so far into the west."

The five numbers which will be offered throughout the year of 1932-33 include Ruth Page, America's Pavlowa; Maulana Shaukat Ali, world famous leader of seventy thousand Moslems in India; Bohumir Kryl, world's most famous cornetist, accompanied by a thirty five piece symphonic band; Lew Sarett, woodsman, poet, and forest ranger; and last of all the endearing Tony Sarg and his marionettes who come this year with a brand new melodrama, "Sinbad the Sailor."

All students of the North Dakota State college who have paid their activity fee will be admitted upon presentation of their registration cards. All of the numbers are to be given in Festival hall. The programs will begin at eight-fifteen o'clock in the evening, and the matinees at four o'clock. Registration cards do not admit bearers to matinee performances.

Miss Page, known as America's Pavlowa, appears in Fargo Nov. 1, with an afternoon and evening performance. She comes to us with such obvious recommendations as past affiliations as solo dancer with the Metropolitan Opera company of New York City and premier danseuse with the Ravinia Opera company of Chicago would point out. Miss Page is the first American dancer to achieve the honor of leading soloist for the Metropolitan Opera company. She is comely and graceful, an artist with exquisite programs, always in good taste.

One of the most important of all lecture announcements for 1932-33 is the visit to the United States by Maulana Shaukat Ali, who holds the same relation to the Moslems of India as Gandhi does to the Hindus. Shaukat Ali is a striking and colorful figure. He is six feet two in height. At the great Moslem University at Aligarh, where he was graduated, he was one of its most famous athletes. He was captain of the cricket team and a star wrestler, besides being expert at fencing, riding, tennis, football and hockey. He is now 57 years of age and has been a fighter and soldier of Islam all his life.

An unusual privilege will be granted Fargo audiences in being able to attend a concert of Bohumir Kryl, world famous.

STUDENT BODY HOLDS ANNUAL FALL ELECTION THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20

Sixteen Class Officers, Two Board of Publications Members Named

ELECTIONS ARE AT 9:40

Two Frames Hold Spotlight As Old Rivalries Are Resumed

Sixteen class officers and two members of the board of publications will be chosen at the annual election to be held tomorrow at 9:40. Festival hall will house freshman politics while sophomores will meet in room 107 in the chemistry building, juniors in room 207, and seniors in the Little Country theater.

Members of the board of publications, one junior and one senior, will be chosen by their respective classes. Directors of the election appointed by Carmen Hunt, commissioner, are Maitland Wyard and Betty McMorrin, seniors; Donald Arthur and Jeanette Lee, juniors; George Toman and Frances Kingsbury, sophomores; and Carmen Hunt and Ora Hammerud, freshmen.

All students running for offices must have had their eligibility checked before the various meetings but must be nominated and elected in the same election. Persons having had their eligibility checked and supported by the "Hog-It-All" frame are as follows: Freshmen: William Akeley, president; Sid Bjornson, vice president; Gertrude Powers, secretary; and Harold McCannell, treasurer.

Sophomores: Kenneth Hamry, president; Kenneth Reardon, vice president; Carol Cooper, secretary, and John Hamlet, treasurer.

Juniors: Paula Verne, president; Arthur Habener, vice president; Virginia Garberg, secretary; and Idan Flaa, treasurer.

Seniors: Earl Grove, president; William MacDonald, vice president; Veronika Weppler, secretary, and Edward Comm, treasurer.

Junior and senior members of the board of publications supported by this frame are Harold Ranes and Gerald Garlid, respectively.

Candidates of the "Holier-Than-Thou" frame are:

Freshmen: Stanley Maynard, president.

Students Apply For Rhodes Scholarship

Applications Due At Office of University Head On Saturday, Oct. 22

Only four days remain in which to register for the Rhodes Scholarship. All applications for this three year scholarship to Oxford in England must be in the office of President Thomas Kane at the state university in Grand Forks, Oct. 22.

Four men from this district, including the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and North Dakota, will be selected from twelve, two of whom are chosen by each individual state. Thirty-two men represent this country at Oxford each year. These men are chosen for scholarship, leadership, health and outstanding ability in any field of education.

The value of these scholarships which include living expenses of approximately $2,000 per year, can hardly be underestimated. Among the North Dakota men who have accepted the opportunity is Franzo Crawford, now professor of physics at Harvard. Dr. Crawford was graduated from the University of North Dakota and was assistant in the physics department there when he made application. He had been awarded the highest average ever given at the university and had been doing work in war radio.

FIGHTING HEARTS

When the North Dakota State college football team nipped South Dakota State college's immediate hopes of a North Central conference championship at Brookings in the first Bunny conference game of the year, it would seem that the spirit at the South Dakota school should suffer. Not so.

Below is an editorial in the last Industrial Collegian, the official publication at the South Dakota school. Any indications of broken vigor or confidence are absent from the sentiment expressed by this editorial. It is a credit to a college to be able to boast of such spirit, we feel.

"Let's forget the score. That's not all. We thought we would win the game, but the score was 12 to 6. Football post mortems are nothing but hot air, and won't win the next game, but this particular game was just a little different.

"Cy Kasper's football players gave the Finnegan Bison one of the hardest games they will ever play. They fought as hard in the shadow of one goal post as in the other. They were as full of determination the last minute as the first. They didn't give up, and they never will, even in the face of disheartening losses through injuries.

"It was one of the best games seen on State field, and the rewards for a great team are still bright in the future."

CULTURE AND TECHNIQUE

A charge frequently laid at the doors of the technical schools of our higher institutions is that they are not sufficiently cultural in their scope. Their training, while perhaps excellent in fitting a man for the particular requirements of one trade does not fit him as an active member of society.

A number of colleges and universities in the United States have already made a determined effort to remedy this situation by including in their curriculum courses of a more cultural nature than those which, in past years were taught exclusively. These include English composition, literature, economics, public speaking and even music.

Another factor, aiding in speeding this tendency in our institutions throughout America, is the present economic chaos. In good times, when big business went about seeking technicians and complained that colleges and universities turned out too few of them, technical courses were the sole ambition of a great number of students. Now the depression has forced idleness upon thousands with technical educations, and colleges must again start teaching students how to occupy their idle time.

Reasons enough are to be found for the movement. In the first place it is said that general knowledge of this sort is of great use, even to a technical man, in making his way through the world. In the second place there is the undeniable fact that a cultural education is the gateway to a fuller and more enjoyable life.

FALL ELECTIONS

Tomorrow will witness the renewal of the rivalry between the "Hog-It-All" and "Holier-Than-Thou" frames. For the past three years these two political factions have added considerable interest and entertainment to student elections. The regrettable thing is that the sting of defeat has sometimes resulted in temporarily strained relations on the campus.

We might explain to the uninitiated what it's all about. Two political groups exist on the campus. The so-called "Hog-It-All" frame is composed of six fraternities and two sororities. The newly dubbed "Holier-Than-Thou" frame represents three fraternities, four sororities and the non-fraternity men and women on the campus.

The difference in technique of the two frames becomes apparent upon analysis of their respective make-ups. The organized voting strength of the "Hog-It-All" frame is approximately 50 percent greater than that of the other frame. It is obvious that the non-fraternity vote is unorganized and undirected. Hence it is necessary for the Independent frame to circularize and advertise its nominees and platform in order to carry an election. In the past the "Hog-It-All" frame's only political principle has been to split up all available offices among themselves and depend upon their organized vote to put their men into office without direct regard to qualifications, platform or purpose.

It is our belief that the Independent frame has injected a worthwhile idea in student elections. Its candidates are selected for their known ability and popularity and stand for a definite policy of fair play for fraternity and non-fraternity men and women alike.

Despite the fact that only 40 percent of the student body belongs to fraternities or sororities, the remaining 60 percent of the student body have in the past been distinctly discriminated against. The only honorary societies that will admit them are those that depend on scholarship alone—and even these often indicate a definite prejudice for fraternity men.

The non-fraternity men and women are as a whole non-aggressive and seem content to let matters go as they have. The Independent frame has distinct limitations due to this lack of interest among the non-fraternity students, but at least it is a step in the right direction.

As Was.....

Remember when we didn't have to give away a Buffalo robe to get grads to come back for a Homecoming When we used to have big bonfires on the night before the big game I still like the old elections when you could go to the polls without taking some protection along Wasn't it swell when we could drive 20 miles per hour on the campus roads legally That Davis and Elkins college is still talking about how cold it was up here in '29 They used to substitute in those days, too ROWDY REMARKS hadn't even been conceived then Gil Dobie was coach here once upon a time He's still coaching for dear old Cornell There was a big crowd at the CADET HOP ON THURSDAY The Goldbugs were all "lit-up" after the game last Saturday We have a letter from the Beta Alpha chapter of Phi Mu at George Washington university "All the girls are willing to have dates with the football team. They want blondes, blue eyes, red heads, in fact all kinds They'll get all kinds! Some old sage said that Fritz Hanson would be playing with Northwestern next year They don't know Fritz like I do! Two cuts aren't enough Where are the traditions of yesterday? Are we going to start any new ones this year? Let's go collegiate BETWEEN HALVES has had better predictions this year than any other sports writer around these parts When the Gamma Phis and the Theta Chis used to be like this There will probably be a lot of them at the ELECTIONS ON WEDNESDAY!—R. E. B.

As Is.....

High powered elections with free beer and sandwiches When the best man seldom wins, and when he does he is on the better frame And the Bison get a better rating on the National Football check-up this year The Nodaks played a team that wasn't on the last year's rating sheet and on none before then That Howard University is a colored school in Washington Howard college, the school that the University played is a small college located in Birmingham, Alabama The Oklahoma City University was ranked as the 17th best team in the United States last year People in on the know said that we would be beaten by at least five touchdowns DID we fool them The Bison will go against the cadets at West Point an unbeaten team Did you notice who was taking up most of the room on the bench at the last game? That the Bystander at the University is one swell fellow and that his column is sometimes the truth That you can have a great time at the Cadet hops every Thursday afternoon That you should go and meet the new gals we have on the campus Are they good looking Some of the new freshmen lads are giving the upper class co-eds the thrills of their lives I am not getting paid for this Joe's has opened up He has moved again There will be a new national honorary fraternity on the campus soon It is called Cliquot Club You can guess the rest Watch for their keys There will probably be a lot of them at the CADET HOP ON THURSDAY! R. E. B.

ROWDY REMARKS

The great intersectional clash was a success for the "Bison"—but not so for the "Goldbugs"—they became slightly tarnished. After the encounter 18 of them, armed with a little of the old "equalizer," barged into the abode of Fargo's play-girls, and proceeded to filter their sorrows. Even Sweet couldn't carry the piano—so it's not included in the loot.

It must have taken the "U" a long time to find this Howard college—State should follow suit and book a cinch team to beat on all Homecomings. It's wonderful how powerful an unknown team can become through a little publicity. But this year it's going to be different—watch the "Bison!"

Did you pipe "Queenie" Kingsbury in the Sunday paper? Will Arthur escort her around at the Homecoming game?

Elections are in the wind again. What zentle, cut-throat affairs they are! Wonder if the "squawk heard 'round the world" will be repeated this year?

The Saturday night "mixer" was a success—but you might as well dance out under the floodlights—the heavy lovers are calling for a little shadow. And why not? The place would be more attractive looking, less like the great white way.

Revised Constitution for Board of Publications Accepted Last Spring

(Revised upon Authority of the Student Body, Granted April 14, 1932).

Article I—Name

The name of this organization shall be the Board of Publications Control of the North Dakota Agricultural College. It shall hereinafter be referred to as the Board.

Article II—Membership

Section 1. The Board shall consist of nine members: Three members of the senior class, two members of the junior class, one member of the sophomore class, and three members of the faculty, one of whom shall be a woman. Each of the three members of the faculty shall be appointed by the President of the college for one year or until a successor is appointed. One of the major appointees of The Bison or Spectrum, on completing his junior year and completing not less than one year of service as such major appointee, shall ex-officially constitute one of the senior members of this Board for the next year. The order of choice shall be: Business Manager of The Spectrum, Editor of The Bison, Editor of The Spectrum, Business Manager of The Bison. If none of these be available, the senior class shall elect one of its members to fill the vacancy, as soon as the vacancy is established in accord with Section 5, Article II. The other members of this Board shall be elected.

Section 2. At the regular student election of the spring term, the members of the junior class shall elect one from their number to serve on the Board for one year; the members of the sophomore class and the members of the freshman class shall at the same time and in like manner each as a group elect one of their members to serve on the Board for a term of two years. All elections are governed by rules established by the Student Commission.

Section 3. Each candidate for membership on the Board shall submit to the Commissioner of Elections at least ten days in advance of the date set for the election a typewritten petition that shall set forth his experiences or training in journalistic activities and shall be signed by at least twenty-five members of the student body.

Section 4. Except for purposes of organization, membership on the Board shall begin September 1.

Section 5. A vacancy on the Board shall be filled by a vote of the membership of the class whose representation on the Board is affected and at a meeting of the class that shall have been announced together with its purpose in at least two issues of The Spectrum immediately preceding the date set for such a meeting.

Section 6. No member of the Board shall at the same time serve on the staff of any one of the publications of the Board.

Article III—Organization and Duties of the Board

Section 1. Six members of the Board shall constitute a quorum.

Section 2. After the membership of the Board shall have been determined as set forth in Article II, Section 1, it shall meet on the third Wednesday of the month of May for the purpose of electing officers and electing the editors and business managers of The Bison and Spectrum for the succeeding year, but it shall not otherwise function as a Board until September 1 following.

Section 3. The Board shall hold regular meetings the first and third week of each month on such day as the Board shall designate from September to May inclusive, except in periods of school recess. Special meetings of the Board shall be called by the president of the Board at the request of five members of the Board.

Section 4. The Board shall elect one of its members to serve for the year as president, and he shall serve as Commissioner of Publications. It shall appoint a secretary who will be responsible for an adequate accountancy of all funds accruing to the Board and shall keep the minutes of all meetings of the Board.

Section 5. The Board shall have complete control of The Bison and The Spectrum. It shall formally elect the editor and the manager of The Bison and the editor and business manager of The Spectrum, and these four when elected shall constitute the "major" appointees referred to in Article II, Section 1. The Board shall also have the final responsibility in the appointment of all assistant editors, business managers and all staff employees. It shall adopt such regulations as it may deem necessary for the proper governance of its appointees and for the performance of such duties as it may assign to them, and it shall have the right of dismissal for any failure to comply therewith. It shall determine the rate of pay for each of its appointees. It shall establish an adequate system of accounting of all funds whatsoever that shall accrue to it.

Article IV—Amendments

Section 1. Amendments to this constitution shall be made by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Publications Control after the same have been considered at two previous meetings and have been published in two issues of The Spectrum prior to the final vote.

Section 2. Amendments to the by-laws of the Board of Publications Control may be made by a three-fourths vote of the Board after any proposed amendment has been considered at one previous meeting of the Board.

Keep an eye on College Humor's "Hall of Fame"—you may see a State college co-ed—and if you do, the Legion and the collegians will go wild—we've seen the picture.

Someone says the Kappas have a "panther type" this year—and the Gamma Phi has a new exotic, oriental model to take the place of last year's find.

We agree that this is just as stupid as one English (or all?) instructor thinks—but whath'll, boys, whath'll!

Sophomores Take Leading Role in Goldbug Defeat

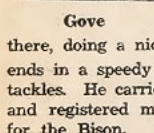

MAY, HANSON, GOVE, FISHER SKIRT FLANKS FOR CONSISTENT GAINS

Oklahoma City University Is Touched For Four Bison Tallies

PESCHEL PLAYS TACKLE
Sophomore Flankmen, Olson and Marquardt, Stop Plays Of Oklahomans

C. C. (Casey) Finnegan's 1932 aggregation displayed their prowess in power and speed Friday evening, on Dacotah field, when they upset the proverbial "dope bucket" and stepped out to hand V. J. Green's Goldbugs from Oklahoma City university, a neat trimming to the tune of a 27-7 score. The Bison mentors used an almost complete sophomore team during the major part of the first half of the game, which showed that the reserves were as capable of holding first string positions as the regulars.

There were seven sophomores in the starting lineup for the Bison, and these men were instrumental in making the first touchdown of the game. William (Shifty) Gove adhered to his nickname and displayed his ability to reel off long gains through the center of the line. George May played an exceptional game at his wing back post, while he was in there, doing a nice job of circling the ends in a speedy fashion, and eluding tackles. He carried the ball ten times and registered more than fifty yards for the Bison.

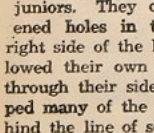

May Scores Counter

Johnny Fisher, one of last year's lettermen, teamed with Gove to work the ball into a scoring position. With the ball on Oklahoma's 20-yard line, May darted through right tackle to carry the ball across the goal line for the first counter. His attempted place-kick was low, thus giving the Bison a six point lead.

The Goldbugs chose to receive the next kickoff, and at this point they seemed to receive added power. Their fullback, Holt, got away for several long gains through the line, and they tried a few passes, which were incomplete, but their offense showed up better than it had at any point in the game previous to this time.

In the Bison line Charles (Acey) Olson and Wilbur (Bud) Marquardt, sophomore flankmen, were in every play, and stopped several of the Goldbugs' attempts to gain by going around the ends. Harold Miller and Roy Platt were the only veteran line-men in the starting lineup, but they were by no means outclassed by their juniors. They opened holes in the right side of the line and not only allowed their own men to make gains through their side line, but also stopped many of the opponents' plays behind the line of scrimmage.

Peschel Comes Through

Herbert Peschel, also a sophomore, was called upon last week to take the place of Captain Schoenfelder, who was removed because of an injured ankle and will be out for the remainder

Record Crowd Expected At Climax Game

ENGINEERS ENCOURAGE FRESHMAN ATTENDANCE

Plans for a drive to encourage freshmen to attend meetings featured the year's first assembly of the Engineer's club Thursday, Oct. 13, according to Oliver Blecken, president. William Haugstad was elected to succeed Blecken, who as vice president took the place at the meeting of Edward Booth, who is leaving school. Besides formulating a drive for freshman members, the club worked out a float idea for the Homecoming parade. A committee headed by John Gassmann as chairman was appointed to design an entertaining and educational group of meetings for the year. Robert Netteland, Paul Deal, and Hill Elwin are the other members of the committee.

Peschel

of the season, performed in a very creditable manner. While he does not have the weight of the captain, he managed to make good use of his 190 pounds, in stopping the Goldbug assault on his side of the line. Leonard House sided in with Peschel and Marquardt to strengthen the left half of the forward wall, while Earl Thomas acted as the pivot man. Towards the end of the second quarter, the Bison mentors substituted several of the regulars. These substitutions added to the strength of the team and were accountable for three more touchdowns. Fritz Hanson reeled off the greatest number of yards that were made for the Bison by one man and was also the one that carried the ball across the goal line for the remaining touchdowns. The way was paved for Hanson by the stellar playing of his teammates, which included the best brand of blocking and tackling that has been shown by them this season.

Wendell Schollander, playing his regular position at right halfback during the major portion of the game, showed a marked improvement over his subsequent performances, displaying his ability to carry the ball in an efficient manner when called upon. Joe Selliken, acting in the capacity of quarterback, did a fine job of running the team, and also gave the Goldbugs a lot to worry about when the Bison were on the defense.

Holt was the most outstanding performer for the Oklahoma City team. He carried the ball approximately 150 yards in 27 plays, and made the only score recorded by his team. Bentley, Sweet, Singletary, and Leonard were also carrying important roles in the Goldbug lineup.

The summary of the game is as follows:
N. D. S. C. po. Okla. City U.
Marquardt le Leverich
Peschel lt Peppers
House lg Bret
Thomas c McDaniel
Miller rg Hohenshelt
Platt ft Maddox

Speedsters From Both Schools Present Prime Test To Linemen

A record breaking crowd is expected here Saturday to witness the climaxial game of North Central conference football, when the North Dakota Sioux and the State college Bison resume an ago-old gridiron feud on Dacotah field.

Can the University stop Hanson, McKay, May, Fisher, Gove and the rest of the stellar Bison backfield ball carriers? Can the touted Bison line hold back the piercings of Pierce, Knauf, Leidholt and the rest of the speed artists from Grand Forks?

Is the Homecoming game Saturday the start of another championship season for the North Dakota Sioux or are the Bison going to meet George Washington university and later the Army as an undefeated eleven?

Above are the questions which fans and loyal alumni from both North Dakota schools are asking themselves over and over again as they anticipate Saturday's game.

Although reports from Grand Forks hint that the West-coached team is having difficulty on the defensive end of football, spectators who have witnessed the team from the north say that it is one of the most powerful in the history of the institution. With the two fastest sprinters in the North Central conference meet last spring, Knauf and Pierce, as ball carriers, the Sioux offense is rated strong and one which will put North Dakota State college's two candidates for all-conference end posts, Meyers and Jacobson, to the toughest test of the year.

Other conference standings are to be changed this weekend as another game with conference ratings is to be played on the same day. South Dakota university is to contest with South Dakota State at Brookings, when the State college is celebrating her Hobo or Homecoming day.

South Dakota State Beats Morningside

Bison Remain In Conference Lead As Weekend Play Is Completed

The South Dakota State-Morningside contest was the only North Central conference game that was scheduled to be played during the past week and that ended in a 26-6 victory for South Dakota State. The remaining schools of the conference played inter-sectional games, the results being as follows: North Dakota State 27, Oklahoma City university 7; North Dakota university 39, Howard university 7; South Dakota university 0, Cincinnati university 7.

Moorhead State Teachers college and the Army, future opponents of the Bison, won and lost their respective games by very close scores, the Teachers defeating Winona Teachers 14-13, and the Army losing to Pittsburgh university 13-18.

Three conference freshman squads went into action last weekend, the North Dakota State yearlings losing to their old rivals at North Dakota university, and the South Dakota university team defeating Vermillion high school 19-6.

The North Central conference standings are as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
North Dakota State	2	0	100
South Dakota University	1	1	500
South Dakota State	1	1	500
Morningside	0	2	000
North Dakota University	0	0	000

Nodak Freshmen Turn Back Bison Yearlings In Hard-Fought Game

Stanley Maynard Makes Only Touchdown For North Dakota State

The powerful freshman team of the University of North Dakota downed a hard-fighting Bison yearling team last Friday evening at Memorial stadium, Grand Forks, by a score of 12-6.

Stan Maynard, State college freshman center, broke football tradition and accounted for the one touchdown made by the Fargo lads. He broke through the Sioux line on two successive plays. The first time he blocked a punt, which was recovered by the Sioux; the next play the Sioux again attempted to punt with Maynard again blocking the kick and falling on the ball for a touchdown.

Tolgren made the first touchdown for the Forks team early in the first quarter. Late in the third quarter, Wold, a Sioux back, intercepted a pass and returned it to the Bison 45-yard line. A pass and two line plays brought the ball to the 13-yard line. Tolgren, off tackle, advanced the ball another 9 yards and gained another 2 yards through center, from where Kupcinet carried it over.

The Bison frosh at various times threatened the Sioux goal but could not muster the necessary punch to make the needed points.

It is expected that the game between the two teams this Friday evening will be much closer with the Bison probably on the long end of the score.

The substitutions for State were: 2nd quarter, Lang for Herst; 3rd quarter, Welsh for Johnson, Johnson for Welsh, and Welsh for Brietenbach; 4th quarter, Litten for Chloupek.

Lew Sarett, poet, woodsman and forest ranger, university professor and lecturer, is one of the unique literary figures of America. His life has been kaleidoscopic, and out of it has come Lew Sarett's poetry. He has contributed to prominent magazines. His poetry is included in many of the school readers and college textbooks of our country and in the important anthologies of American literature. He is the author of four volumes of poetry on the American wilderness: "Many Many Moons," "The Box of God," "Slow Smoke," and "Wings Against the Moon." These volumes are marked by such power and beauty that by the general agreement of literary critics they have established his supremacy in this field. He brings to the platform not only his creative talent, skill in the use of vivid English, originality, freshness of material, and a stimulating outlook on life, but also skill as an actor, unusual dramatic power, a sense of humor, and personal charm. As a consequence his lectures are so unique that, like the man himself, they defy classification. Lew Sarett appears here Tuesday evening, March 7.

On the 11th of April, Tony Sarg brings the marionettes in a new marionette melodrama replete with vivid oriental scenes from the prologue where Sinbad comes to drown himself and changes his mind when he accidentally finds the way to fortune and adventure. Among those who make an appearance will be the Old Man of the Sea, the Most Unruly Horse in all the Kingdom, the Princess, the Great Roc, the Tony Sarg animals which add to the fun.
