"Alice In Wonderland" Is Given By Theater Players This Week

Story Telling Classes Enact Story To Commemorate Children's Author

ALICE BENDER IS DIRECTOR

Players Schedule Performances For 4 P. M. Thursday, Friday, Tuesday Evening

One of the world's most famous children's authors, Lewis Carroll, will be commemorated by the Little Country Theater players when two classes in story telling sponsor the dramatization of "Alice in Wonderland" in the Little Country theater at 4 p. m. Thursday and Friday of this week and at 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 31. Miss Alice Bender is dramatic director.

The project was undertaken by the classes because this year is the 100th anniversary of Lewis Carroll's birth. The afternoon performances are primarily for school children while the evening performance was scheduled because of the many requests from adults in Fargo and Moorhead.

The leading role in the production will be taken by Erllys Hill who has been cast in the role of Alice. A cast of about 30 students is completing plans for the play with a dress rehearsal scheduled for 8 p. m. today.

Costumes in keeping with the fantastic nature of the story have been designed by class members. Special scenery and lighting features have also been worked out.

Besides the seven scenes in the play, the entertainment will include music by a string ensemble in keeping with the play. The group will include: Frederick Martin, Marie Wilds, Marion Weeks, Mona Davis, Mildred Hanson and Lawrence Forman.

Jane Nichols will read the prologue to the dramatization. Besides Miss Hill, the cast includes: Margaret Sundfor, the White King; Jeanette McComb, the White Queen; Eileen McDermott, the tiger lily; Hildred Shelland and Margaret Olsen, roses; Enid Everson, Grace Moir, Doris Nelson, Marian Stern, Lucille Morrissey and Ev Hammer, daisies; Frances Plaggmeir and Arlene Boe, violets; Elizabeth Lowell, the larkspur; Marion Brainerd, the Red Queen; William Maloney, the Red King; Nita Oleson, Tweedle-dum; Alice Whitver, Tweedle-dee; William Dunham, the Mock Turtle; Shirley Riggle, Humpty Dumpty; Gerald Garlid, the Mad Hatter; Howard Renwick, the March Hare; Kenneth Boyd, the Dormouse; Lucille Morrissey, Doris Nelson, Enid Everson and Ev Hammer, oysters.

School children will be admitted to the performances for ten cents while the admission prices for adults is fifteen cents.

Sophomores Sponsor Frolic Friday Night

Class Entertains In Crystal Ballroom With Informal Party On May 27

The annual Sophomore Frolic, sponsored each year by the sophomore class, will be held in the Crystal ballroom, Friday evening, May 27, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock, according to Carmen Hunt, president of the sophomore class, who is in general charge of arrangements.

The theme of the affair will be that of a "night club" with R. E. (Doc) Chinn, manager of the Crystal ballroom, as master of ceremonies. Maitland Wyard will act as floor manager. Music for the affair, which is to be informal, will be furnished by the Red Jackets.

There will be no admission charges, but it will be necessary that one member of each couple be a sophomore.

Assisting Hunt in making arrangements are Erllys Hill, orchestra; Paula Verne, refreshments; Sally Hunkins, favors; Roman Pung, chaperons; Grace South, finance; and Luella Furcht, publicity.

Robert Benton, Fargo, Norval Bergquam, Grafton, and Clarence Johnson, Fargo, were dinner guests at the Kappa Sigma Chi house yesterday.

Richard Jordahl and Russell McLagan, Kappa Sigma Chis, spent the weekend at their homes in Lake Park, Minn.

Senior Ball Dancing Continues Until 12:30 This Year, Says Wyard

Social Committee Grants Later Closing Hour For Final Prom Of Season

Generous leniency on the part of the social committee has made it possible for dancing at the Senior Ball to last till 12:30, announced Kenneth Wyard, manager of the affair, this morning. Ceres hall residents will not be required to be in until 1:30.

"This action was taken by the social committee," said Wyard, "as a result of the expressed desire of students for a later leave of absence on evenings of social events. Students should avail themselves of this opportunity to show the social committee their desire for so late a leave by attending the affair."

Another outstanding feature of the ball, June 3, will be the discarding of an old tradition in the matter of masculine attire. According to those in the know, it is considered most proper and fitting for the gentlemen to wear light colored trousers, a dark coat and soft shirt.

Turner and Lyndale, an orchestra from Grand Forks, who scored such a hit at the Military Ball, have been selected to furnish the music for the occasion, by the committee in charge.

Programs will be furnished by Balfor. There will be a meeting of the Senior Ball committee in the Faculty-Alumni club rooms at 5 p. m. today, announced Wyard.

Tickets at $2.00 will be on sale at the Bookstore, starting Thursday.

PRESIDENT OF PHI MU IS VISITOR IN FARGO

Mrs. Clifford E. Rader, Columbus, Ohio, national president of Phi Mu sorority, will arrive in Fargo today for a short visit. Mrs. Rader is coming from the national Phi Mu council meeting held in Chicago.

This evening Mrs. Rader will be a guest at the city Panhellenic banquet. During her visit in Fargo she will be entertained by Mrs. Roy L. Humphreys and Mrs. Carl A. Teet, members of Phi Mu.

Plans are being made by Alpha Xi Beta sorority for a luncheon to be given Wednesday noon in Mrs. Rader's honor.

JOHN DOERR RESIGNS FROM TEACHING STAFF

John Doerr, associate professor of geology, will not return to the college following a year's leave of absence, according to Dean A. E. Minard, head of the school of science and literature, who received his resignation last week. Mr. Doerr was head of the department.

For the last year Doerr has been park naturalist in the Hawaii National park working under the United States Department of the interior. At the present time he is acting superintendent.

Guests at the Alpha Tau Omega house Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Severson, Donald McDonald, Jessie Haines, Mildred Peterson, Lewista Hanley, Irene Wildemann and Marion Bergeland.

Sergius P. Grace Gives Lecture On Science Developments Friday Evening

ENGINEERS ARE GUESTS

Engineers' Club and Chambers Of Commerce Are Sponsors Of Display May 27

A demonstration and explanation of recent developments in the scientific world will be given by Sergius P. Grace, assistant vice president of the Bell Telephone laboratories, in the physical education building Friday evening, May 2, according to Dean R. M. Dolve, head of the school of mechanic arts.

Students registered in the engineering school and faculty members of the institution will be guests at the demonstration of the Fargo Engineers' club, and the Fargo and Moorhead chambers of commerce, who are sponsoring the event. A limited supply of tickets is on hand, and if students other than those who are invited wish to attend, they must immediately get in touch with the chairman of the demonstration committee at telephone number 1740.

"Mr. Grace has lectured in practically every large city in the country, always before audiences literally astounded and held spellbound by what they have seen and heard. He recently talked to an audience of 5,000 in Minneapolis and 3,100 in Sioux Falls. This is his only appearance in North Dakota and it is expected that the physical education building will be filled to its capacity of 3,000. Those who attend the program will never regret having done so. The demonstration is not technical and will be as interesting to women as to men," said E. E. Greeling, chairman of the demonstration committee, today in speaking of Mr. Grace's appearance.

According to Mr. Greeling, during the demonstration the audience will hear a dial telephone speak numbers like a goldenvoiced girl; a man's heart beat will roar through the building; a machine will scramble and unscramble speech; the normal movement of the muscles in a human jawbone will be heard; a picture will be played on a victrola; Mr. Grace will talk with an artificial larynx, the device which enables persons stricken dumb by illness or whose vocal chords have been removed through a surgical operation to talk again and he will walk about the building talking in a normal conversational voice, yet will be heard distinctly by everyone present although no microphone will be visible. There will also be others, including a conversation with London, England, and a roll call of the sky as voices of the airplane pilots flying the transcontinental airways will be distinctly heard as they communicate between plane and radio dispatching station.

Chemistry, Pharmacy Students Are Guests

Third Faculty-Student Mixer Will Be Given in 'Y' Wednesday Night

About 150 students from the schools of chemistry and pharmacy are expected to attend the third of a series of faculty-student mixers in the college Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening.

Informal entertainment will be featured during the evening with Dr. L. L. Carrick, dean of the school of chemistry, in general charge.

The last mixer of the year will be held June 1 when education and science and literature students are guests. Students in the schools of agriculture and mechanic arts have been entertained at previous affairs.

Gold Star Band Gives Annual Spring Concert Wednesday 8:15 P.M.

Putnam Directs Presentation Featuring "In Bohemia" By Hadley

Presenting its spring concert the Gold Star Concert band will appear in Festival hall Wednesday evening at 8:15.

The band directed by Dr. C. S. Putnam will play as its feature number the overture "In Bohemia" by Henry Hadley. This number is the national high school class A contest number for 1932. Besides this number the band will play "Bolero" by Maurice Ravel, marches, and various novelty numbers.

Paul Deal will play a baritone solo with band accompaniment. His solo is the theme and variation on "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" by Rollinson.

Assisting the band in the concert will be the girl's glee club under the direction of Adda M. Blakeslee which will sing two numbers.

The complete program to be presented follows:

March "Glory of the Gridiron"—Alford Souvenir Victor Herbert
Concert Overture "In Bohemia"—Hadley

A. Call of the May Day Dancers Chapman

B. Carry Me Long Foster-Nevin
Girls' Glee Club

Bolero—Maurice
Solo for Baritone—Theme and Variations on "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep"—Rollinson
"Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep"—Paul Deal

Popular numbers—

A. Kiss Me Good Night—Gottler and Nicholls

B. Home—Van Steeden and Clarkson

Fantasy for four trombones "Two Pair of Slippers"—Dr. Putnam

Finale March "The Cavalry Soldier"—Brockenshire

MUSIC DEPARTMENT WILL OFFER SPECIAL COURSES

The department of music of the North Dakota State college announces that two special courses of instruction will be given at summer school June 14 to July 22, 1932.

Miss Marguerite Beard will conduct a course in music appreciation for supervisors of music in the high school and grade schools. Lectures and demonstrations will be given illustrating the use of phonograph and radio with special reference to the vocal groups and piano.

Dr. C. S. Putnam will present a course of instruction for band and orchestra directors, both school and civic. Matters of organization, instruments, rehearsals, selection of music, and the technique of the baton will be given. The course will be illustrated with the actual instruments. If possible, an orchestra and band will be used for demonstrations and also phonograph and radio.

These courses will each be given one hour per day for five days a week with a charge of three dollars for each course.

William Stewart and David Minard were guests at the Alpha Sigma Tau house Saturday evening.

Traditional Annual Features Spirit Of Ancient Viking For Cover and Theme

PRESENTS NEW FEATURES

Mart Vogel, Editor-in-Chief, And Edgar Crewe, Business Manager, Head Issue

Featuring a portrayal of the spirit of the ancient Vikings, the 1933 Bison, college yearbook, neared completion today in preparation for its distribution at the registrar's office at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The 1933 edition, this year's contribution to a well established tradition of North Dakota State college, is the result of a full season's work on the part of the Bison editorial and business staffs under the direction of Mart Vogel and Edgar Crewe, editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively. The book totals 328 pages, the body material being 42 pages larger than last year's issue. A cover depicting an historical Viking galley ship at sea is embossed upon a background of black, green and bronze, the color scheme throughout the book. Sketches of college buildings on the campus, "Representative Dakotans," and sub-division pages, rather than actual photographs as has been the previous policy, and individual pictures and activities of members of the freshman and sophomore classes are new features introduced into the book this year.

Mart Vogel, Perham, Minn., is editor-in-chief of the 1933 Bison. His other campus activities include Alpha Sigma Tau, Blue Key, Gamma Tau Sigma, Sigma Delta Discussion club, Lincoln Forensic society, Intercollegiate Debate team, interclass debate team, declamation, Washington Bicentennial, Board of Public Speaking Control and Cadet Lieutenant. He was a member of the Bison editorial staff in his freshman year and associate editor last year. He is a junior in the school of science and literature.

Edgar Crewe, business manager of the publication, resides at Bismarck, N. D. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau, Alpha Phi Omega, Blue Key, Gamma Tau Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, Chemists' club, was a Bison Brevities group manager in his sophomore and junior years and is a cadet captain. He was a member of the Bison during his second year and associate business manager last year. He is a senior in the school of chemistry.

This year's book, valued at $4.00, may be obtained by students who have paid the required tuition for the three terms of the 1931-32 school session, a student activities fee of $3.75 being held for that purpose. The fee totals $1.25 per term so those attending only one or two quarters may secure their book with an additional cash payment.

Masonic Awards Will Be Made In Few Days

Sophomore, Junior Men Receive Prizes Each Year; Jennings Heads Committee

That the seventh annual Masonic awards will be presented within the next few days has been announced by L. L. Nesbitt, assistant agricultural chemist and campus representative of the committee. Walter M. Jennings is president of the committee and will announce the recipients.

The scholarships are given on the basis of grades and need for financial assistance to a sophomore and junior man each year. Deans of the various schools recommend candidates from whom the committee selects the two. They must be residents of North Dakota.

Shiloh lodge number one A. F. and A. M. of Fargo, who presents the two $100 prizes, is the oldest Masonic lodge in North or South Dakota, being founded in North Dakota on June 14, 1889, altho established in the Dakota territory five years previous.

The other awards were made in 1927 to Allan H. Meinecke and Marvin Spielman, in 1928 to Archie N. Solberg and Arthur Walde, in 1929 to Ole Sand and Chester Rhines, in 1930 to Roy Jordre and James W. Moore and in 1931 to Roy Simonson and Frank Seebart.

Learning

There has been a tendency during the last decade to practice a laissez-faire policy in education. The prevalent opinion seems to be: "Let the student alone; let him find his own solution." This theory has been put in practice in many experimental colleges, the most recent example of which is the new plan in operation at the University of Chicago, where a student is allowed to progress at his own rate of speed.

The theory in itself may be excellent, but one that is being a trifle overworked. It is admitted that there is too much knowledge for an individual to discover for himself in one lifetime. For this reason he must not only be guided, but he must also learn.

In our childhood we were taught the alphabet, the multiplication tables. We memorized hundreds of lines that we neither appreciated nor understood, and yet we cannot say that this learning was ill-advised, although it did not inspire us to think for ourselves.

Under the older schemes of education children were forced to learn a great amount of material or be disciplined severely. Now we learn as we please, read what we please, and in a great number of instances have no definite knowledge of anything.

Perhaps there is a middle course. We believe that the purpose of education is two-fold: first, to develop and train the capacities of a pupil; and second, to place at his disposal the accumulated treasures of wisdom and knowledge heaped up by the generations that have passed. Naturally, it is not enough to fill a student with information. Nevertheless, there is a vast and growing fund of knowledge that he must simply acquire. Life is too short to regard everything as an open question. In spite of our better psychology, the task of the educator is still to impart knowledge. The first thing a student must learn is to sit down, with his chin on his hands, and his elbows on the table, and to learn!

Be Fashionably Late

One of the most amazing things in our civilization is the habit we have formed of never being on time. Furthermore, it is an intentional delinquency which we have consciously cultivated.

Psychologically, it probably began when it became fashionable to be continually busy. To arrive on time was an admission that one wasn't busy and therefore not abreast of the times.

We wish today that we could recall all the poor dinners we have eaten, and the harassed hostesses we have seen just because some individual was determined to be "fashionably late."

Instructors, it seems, are at last becoming resigned to the prevalent notion. We are no longer reprimanded for handing in late papers, in fact, we rarely get them in on time, and we are beginning to suspect that they don't expect us to. However, we fail to see why any student should hand in assigned papers after the specified time, when he has been duly warned and notified.

We complacently set the meeting hour of any group a half hour earlier than we expect to begin, and we are never disappointed, simple creatures that we are.

Punctuality was once classed as a virtue, but now it is merely an old-fashioned notion—unfortunately!

Plans for the annual "Pan"-Hellen bridge party are going rapidly forward at Tulsa University. Several rules have been laid down for the conducting of the tournament and the constitution on card playing has been revised to suit the participants' needs. According to the Tulsa code it is perfectly permissible to: 1. Trump your partner's ace; 2. Raise his bid of one club to five No Trump; and signal your partner what card to lead when the outcome of the game depends upon that trick.

Tulane university, runnerup to last year's national champions, has decided to abolish football as a major sport and adopt Greek literature in its place. Officials there claim that students have instigated a petition to this effect and the new rule will go into effect immediately.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA IS WINNER IN INTRAMURAL TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Wilbur Marquardt, Leo Gerteis Carry Off Scoring Honors In Annual Competition

THETA CHI PLACES SECOND

Record Number of Participants Enter Meet On Thursday, Friday Last Week

The annual North Dakota State college intramural track and field meet was won by Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, closely followed by a well balanced Theta Chi team, at Dacotah field on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Alpha Tau Omega, led by Wilbur Marquardt, high individual scorer, amassed a total of 167 points, while Theta Chi collected 146 1/4 counters. Other teams scored as follows: Y. M. C. A., 120 1/4; Alpha Gamma Rho, 80; Sigma Phi Delta, 47 1/4; Alpha Sigma Tau, 43 1/2; Delta Tau Epsilon, 30 1/2; Kappa Sigma Chi, 20 1/2; Delta Kappa Sigma, 12.

Marquardt Leads In Scoring

Scoring honors in the meet were carried off by Wilbur Marquardt, who had a total of 42 1/2 points. Closely following him was Leo Gerteis with a total of 36 1/4 points. Carmen Hunt finished in third position with 27 1/2 points to his credit.

The new graduating point system proposed by Coach Leonard T. Saalwaechter was given its first trial and proved to be very successful. Different organizations competing in the meet commented upon the new system and all seemed well pleased with the manner in which the meet was run off.

Theta Chi Wins Relays

Theta Chi fraternity won two silver trophies offered by the athletic department by virtue of their successes in the 880-yard and medley relays. Members of the winning relay teams are: Jack Grohnke, Milton Hollister, Myron Pond and Leo Gerteis. Theta Chi's relay team traversed the 880-yard course in 1:37 but did not come close to the record of 1:35.5 which they set up last year.

Some promising future varsity material was discovered in the form of such men as Wilbur Marquardt, Warren Peterson, Erling Schranz, Leo Gerteis, Arthur Stege, Bert Anderson, Charles Ellis, Bill Gove, Joe Aasen, and Milton Hollister.

Many Enter Meet

The meet drew more participants than any meet thus far, with over 200 athletes taking part in the two day's competition. The 100-yard dash drew 61 starters and 34 were entered in the 220-yard dash. Competition was quite keen in most of the events and some good time and distances were recorded.

Excellent weather conditions on both days helped to make the meet a success and it is very probable that the new system will be adopted for future use.

On Thursday of this week the varsity track candidates will leave for Brookings, South Dakota, where they will take part in the North Central conference track and field meet. Coach Saalwaechter has not yet chosen the men that he will take to the meet.

An enterprising junior at Detroit university found himself on the receiving end of a rather dubious honor last week. While a depression ball was being held he dropped in just in time to be awarded the prize for wearing the worst looking clothes at the dance. The surprised junior calmly replied that he was not entered in the contest and that he had dropped in on his way to the Junior Ball to see what was going on.

Construction is to begin at Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston this week of a 15,000,000-volt X-ray tube, which only a few months ago was considered an impossibility.

The University of Texas comes to the fore with the announcement that students must smoke in classrooms, must not bring books to class and are also forbidden to take notes in class.

Wake Forest college has inaugurated a system whereby students may take as many cuts in a class as they please without any danger of failing in that course.

Gerald Garlid and Robert Lee spent Saturday and Sunday in Bismarck.

LUNDGREN MAINTAINS SCHOLARSHIP RECORD

Winning awards is not a new achievement in the Lundgren family. Fifty years ago, Mrs. C. Lundgren, the mother of Harold, received a scholarship in Eksho, Sweden. This prize was in the form of money and it was deposited in a bank in Sweden and was allowed to accumulate. It was turned over to Harold a short time ago when he decided to continue the work for his doctorate.

Owing to his receiving a scholarship at the University of Minnesota for the next three years, Mr. Lundgren plans not to touch the one his mother received, but to add the money from the Phi Kappa Phi award to this fund.

Fifty members and guests were present at the Phi Kappa Phi banquet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening. Music was furnished by Frederick Martin, pianist, and Lawrence Forman, violinist. The president of the local chapter, Dean Carrick, presided. Mr. Lundgren responded with a toast on the "Value of Education." The vice president, Mrs. H. L. Walster, spoke on "Ambition." The chief address of the evening was given by Pres. C. C. Swain of the Mayville State Teachers college on the subject, "Obligations of the Privileged." He emphasized the obligation to self, to character advance, to scholarship, and to society.

College High School Plans Commencement

Twenty-four Seniors Receive Diplomas At Exercises In Theater June 9

Twenty-four seniors in the Agricultural and Mechanic Arts high school at North Dakota State college will receive diplomas at the twenty-first annual commencement exercises in the Little country theater June 9.

Giving the commencement address at the exercises at 8 p. m. will be Dr. Arthur W. Ratz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Walter Lee Airheart will give the invocation. After the class has been presented by C. A. Severson, Dr. J. H. Shepperd will award the diplomas.

Class officers include: Maurice Kitzman, president; Eleanor Gust, vice president, and Howard Arves, secretary-treasurer. Plans are being made for class day exercises at 4 p. m. June 9, in the Little Country theater.

PAGEANT IS PRESENTED AT FORMAN SATURDAY

Presenting a pageant, "George Washington, Country Gentleman," about 60 North Dakota State college students were in Forman, N. Dak., Saturday. Sponsoring the project was the class in pageantry under the direction of A. G. Arvold.

Playing the leading roles were Alice Bender as Martha Washington, Mart Vogel as George Washington, and Donald Harris as Lafayette. About 1,000 school children from Forman county took part.

A survey conducted at the College of Emporia shows that the student body is more intelligent than the faculty, that they stay at home more, and devote more time to their work than do the pedagogues.

A compilation of data shows that Marquette university made over $3,000,000 on their basketball season recently completed. This amount will be expended in paying salaries of the three janitors who take care of the field-house.

The ping pong, chess, and polo teams of Washington and Lee university have left on an extended six year trip abroad where they will meet the University of Paris, University of Brussels, Oxford university, and Salamanca university teams in a good-will tour.

Group Returns Sunday From Trip To Itasca

Students In Botany, Forestry, Soils Make Excursions To Parts of Park

Forty-one students and instructors in botany, forestry, and soils returned Sunday from Itasca State park, Minnesota, where they spent Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21, on a field trip sponsored by Phytois, plant science club, for the purpose of studying the plants and soils of the park. According to Dr. H. C. Hanson, botany department head, the trip was a success, and he hopes that it can be taken by the same student groups in the coming years.

Friday afternoon was spent by the group in studying along the Bohall trail in the northwest part of the forest. Here they found unusual conditions in the dense tamarack swamps, as well as in the higher pine hills, according to Dr. Hanson. Friday afternoon a trip was taken to the northeast region of the park, where beaver dams were seen.

The party separated into three groups on Friday. The botany group, under Dr. Hanson and Dr. A. D. Stoesz, hiked along the Lind Saddle trail to the source of the Mississippi river, DeSoto lake. Along the way they found many interesting examples of forest growth, excellent places to study ecology, according to Dr. Hanson.

The soils group, under Dr. C. E. Kellogg, covered the northern part of the park, sampling the soil, and studying the relations of forest growths to the types of soil. The forestry group, headed by C. B. Waldron, made a side trip to Cass lake, where they found an unusual growth of pines, and went through the state pine and spruce nurseries.

A meeting was held each night in the students' dormitory of the forestry school of the University of Minnesota, where the group was accommodated. Friday night Mr. Leech, a special fungus-insect investigator, talked to the group, and Saturday evening Mr. Orr, park entomologist, gave a lecture.

Care of the forestry school grounds, the meals, and other arrangements were in the hands of a committee from the Phytois club consisting of Lars Jensen, Charles Waldron, and Reginald Denio. Accompanying the group on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. R. Falley, and Miss Alice Tibert, Fargo.

Just to be different Colgate university took along four cheerleaders, three managers, and two trainers, to their recent basketball game with Syracuse and left the coach and the basketball team at home.

These enterprising freshmen never will stop their playful tricks. The frosh election at Purdue had to be thrown out because, when the totals were added up, the belligerent upperclassmen found that 182 votes were cast from a class of 130 students, and that "jest ain't right" no matter which system of mathematics you may use.

464 cash prizes this month for "blurbs"

LISTEN to Joe and Al! Nothing will ever convince Al there's a better shaving cream than Palmolive. Nothing will ever sell Joe off Colgate's!

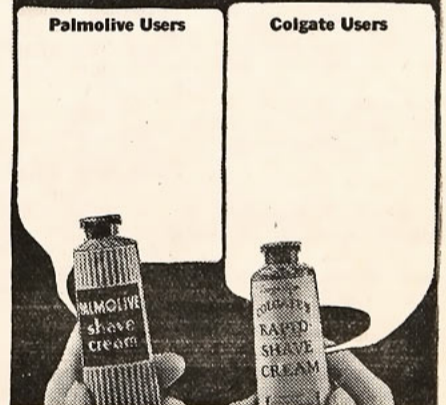

Millions of men are like Joe and Al. That's the kind of loyalty that has put Colgate's and Palmolive miles ahead in a field of 176 competing brands—made them the world's biggest sellers by far.

Where do you stand in this big Colgate's vs. Palmolive argument? That's what we want to know

Here's what you do. In ONE of the empty "blurb" spaces (not both) at the right, or on a sheet of paper, help Joe out—or help Al out. If you're a Palmolive shaver, write a boost for Palmolive. If you use Colgate's, write a "blurb" in favor of Colgate's. Just "horn in" on the argument—and may the best "blurbs" win.

Write your "blurb" here, men! Get some of that $25,000

What can you Palmolive users say to help Al out? Or what can you Colgate shavers add to Joe's side of the argument? If you don't use either, start now and make a shot at this real money!

CONTEST RULES

MAIL your "blurb" with name and address to Contest Editors, Dept. CN-167, P. O. Box 1133, Chicago, Illinois.

The prize money (totaling $25,000) is divided into six sets of monthly prizes (each set totaling $4200). At the end of each month prizes are awarded (see list at right) for the best "blurbs" received during that month, as follows

Feb. 29, $4200 Mar. 31, $4200
April 30, $4200 May 31, $4200
June 30, $4200 July 31, $4200

(Contest closes July 31, 1932)

Contest is open only to residents of the United States and Canada. Employees of the manufacturers and their families are not eligible to compete.

In event of a tie, each tying contestant will be awarded full amount of the prize tied for. Decision of the judges shall be final. All contributions shall become the property of the manufacturers, to be used in any way desired.

Some hints to help you win

Here are some facts about the world's two largest selling shaving creams—Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.

- PALMOLIVE
1. Multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
 2. Softens the beard in one minute.
 3. Maintains its creamy fullness for 10 minutes.
 4. Fine after-effects due to olive oil content.
- COLGATE'S
1. Breaks up oil film that covers each hair.
 2. Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard, hold water against each hair at skin-line and soak it soft where the razor works.
 3. Gives a close, skin-line shave due to small bubble action.
 4. Gives a lasting, 24-hour shave.

Here are the prizes for each month—464 in all!

Alumni, Seniors Have Traditional Banquet On Saturday June 11

Dr. Lee Bey Green Is Main Speaker At Dinner In Ceres Hall

State college's traditional alumni-senior banquet will be held in Ceres hall Saturday, June 11, being one of the major activities of the annual alumni day on this campus with Dr. Lee Bey Green as main speaker.

Everett J. Wallum, association secretary, has charge of completing the plans for the activities in which a large number of alumni are expected to take part. He is assisted by Archie Solberg and Francis Simonitsch, alumni of Fargo, and Don Lawrence and Jack Simonitsch, seniors, and William Gray, class president.

Registration of alumni will take place in the faculty-alumni club rooms and in the various fraternity houses. The annual pipe of peace ceremony at 2 p. m. will open the activities. Reports of the president, A. R. Wiye of Dwight; the treasurer, O. Gunvaldsen of Fargo, and of the secretary, Everett Wallum, will be read. Seniors will be initiated into the association with ceremonies in the Little Country theater at 4:30 p. m. President A. R. Wiye will officiate.

Following the senior initiation, the banquet will be held in the dining room of Ceres hall. Faculty, alumni, and seniors will attend with Dr. Lee Bey Green delivering the main address. Dr. Green is a Bison graduate of 1901 and has practiced medicine in Edgeley for years.

The senior "swingout" and all-college farewell dance will follow the banquet. At midnight, the seniors will pass their responsibilities on to the juniors with the traditional peace pipe ceremony.

Twelve Men Receive Awards For Tumbling

Meredith Mattingly Has Charge Of Activities For This School Year

Twelve men students have been awarded athletic letters for work in tumbling this year, announces Meredith Mattingly who has been in charge of tumbling activities.

Those earning letters were: Orville Isley, Byron Tharaldson, Milton Samuelson, Leo Schwehr, Kenneth Hanson, Albert Ruemmele, Chester Perry, Clifford Orvedahl, Milton Lee, Paul Rosholt, Forrest Swisher and Ben Boyden.

Several public appearances have been made by the tumbling team this year. Besides presenting short programs at several of the major basketball games during the winter, the team had a major part in the dance and athletic revue given during the May Festival.

SIGMA XI CLUB HONORS STUDENTS WITH DINNER

The Sigma Xi club of the North Dakota State college, composed of members of Sigma Xi, national honorary research fraternity, held an informal dinner in honor of a group of students last evening in the college Y. M. C. A., in recognition of the work the students have done in lines of scientific endeavor, and as a possible stimulus to further development in their work, according to Dr. C. I. Nelson, secretary-treasurer of the club. Covers were laid for about 25.

Following the dinner, members of the club and the student guests were present at a talk given by Dr. Glen A. Lindsey of the bacteriology department on "The Electrical Aspects of Bacterial Physiology," which took place in room 308 of the agriculture building. This was the third public lecture of the year sponsored by the Sigma Xi club.

FORMER STUDENT IS HONORED AS CHEMIST

For distinguished contributions to cereal chemistry, C. H. Bailey, professor of agricultural biochemistry at the University of Minnesota, was presented with the Osborne Medal at the Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the American Association of Cereal Chemists, Detroit, Monday.

Professor Bailey graduated from the school of agriculture at the North Dakota State college in 1913. He was stationed at the college for a short time while in the employ of the United States Department of Agriculture shortly after his graduation. Since then he has made many contributions to the field of cereal chemistry.

SORORITY OBSERVES CHAPTERS FOUNDING

Commemorating the founding of the sorority, Alpha Xi Beta members will hold a formal founder's day banquet in the Gardner hotel at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

Assisting LaVerne Hanson, general chairman, are Margaret Hagen, June Kremer and Catherine Donahue. Covers will be laid for 45.

Interpretative Reading Recital Is Planned By Two Class Groups

Students Present Term Program Under Direction of Alice Bender June 5

As their final class project for the term, two classes in interpretative reading under the direction of Miss Alice McConnell Bender will present an interpretative reading recital in the Little Country theater Sunday afternoon, June 5. Recitals are given by the classes at the end of each term. Each student is permitted to invite two guests.

Nine students have been selected from the classes to take part in the recital. They are: Robert Schultz, Gerald Garlid, William Corrigan, Marian Anderson, Ruth Barrett, Nita Olson, Elroy Johnson, Roger Smith and Don Peterson. The program will also include class demonstration work.

Following the recital tea will be served. Those selected to make arrangements for the affair include:

Tea committee—Josephine Olsness, Bernice Streit, Virginia Wheeler, Marian Van Vorst, Amanda Adam, Mildred Frederick, Dorothy Ludwigson and Imogene Lykken, chairman.

Music—Marion Weeks, Marie Wilds, Mona Davis and Mildred Hanson.

BISON VARSITY GOLFERS WIN MATCH SATURDAY

The North Dakota State college golf team defeated the Mayville State Teachers' college team in a return match played at Mayville Saturday afternoon. The score was 9 to 3, 18-hole matches being played.

James Slattery was the only representative of the Mayville school to score for his team, acquiring three points by defeating Louis Johnson of the Bison. In other matches, Don Nichols of the Bison team defeated Orion Berg, Frederick Anderson won from David Nelson of the Mayville school, and George Fairhead, a varsity basketball letterman from State college, defeated Erling Grothe of the State Teachers' college.

LANDSCAPING PROJECT IS GETTING UNDERWAY

Landscaping so far as present funds will allow is under way on the grounds of the new physical education building and Men's Residence hall at the North Dakota State college, according to Richard Kraft, superintendent of College grounds. Elm trees, both the American and Chinese varieties, are being planted. Several species of the low shrubbery, including rose and spirea, are introduced into the landscaping scheme.

SIGMA TAU DELTA IS GIVEN REPRESENTATION

North Dakota State college's chapter of Sigma Tau Delta fraternity, national honorary English organization, was represented in the last issue of The Rectangle, national quarterly magazine of Sigma Tau Delta.

In a section of representative Sigma Tau Delta members from chapters throughout the nation appeared a picture of Claire Newell, past president. The section also included a resume of Miss Newell's activities. The magazine also included a poem by Robert Hatch, student at North Dakota State last year.

The American Society of Civil Engineers, in conjunction with the A. S. M. E. and the A. S. E. E., are featuring at their meeting Wednesday night two films of special interest, "Crossing the Great Salt Desert" and "Road Building in the United States." The meeting will be held in room 22 of the Eng. Bldg. at 7:30 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Two College Students Receive Panhellenic Awards This Evening

Eleanor Johnson, Inez Moffitt Are Honored At Annual Dinner Tonight

Two North Dakota State college women students will be honored by the Fargo-Moorhead Panhellenic association at its annual dinner in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. today.

Eleanor Johnson, Fargo, junior in the school of architecture, and Inez Moffitt, junior in the school of science and literature, will receive awards. Helen Olson, president of the city association, will present an award to Miss Johnson, while Ora Hammerud, president of the college Panhellenic group, will present an award to Miss Moffitt.

Covers will be laid for 125 at the banquet with tables arranged in the form of a square. Appointments will feature the Washington bicentennial idea. Table decorations will feature spring flowers in red, white and blue, besides white tapers. In keeping with the theme for appointments, a group of members will be attired in colonial costumes. A program of colonial music will be presented by an orchestra under the direction of Dr. C. S. Putnam during the banquet. Entertainment will include a program of sleight-of-hand tricks by Dr. Frank Darrow.

Special guests at the dinner will be Olive Ringen, winner of the Senior Staff scholarship award, and Aldyth Pinkham, who was awarded the Irene Leimbacher memorial scholarship this year.

GAMMA PHI ENSEMBLE SINGS AT FESTIVAL

To sing at the May music festival sponsored by the North Dakota Federation of Music clubs, the Gamma Phi Beta ensemble directed by Mrs. Eli Weston will go to Jamestown Tuesday, representing North Dakota State college. The group is scheduled to sing at the Wednesday afternoon session.

"Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen and "Summer Evening" by Palmgren are the numbers which the ensemble will contribute to the festival program. The group will also sing with the all-state chorus Wednesday evening.

The personnel of the ensemble includes: Rhoda Marr, Lois Rudrud, Loraine Brakke, Katherine Lindley, Audrey Houghlum, Paula Verne, Miriam Narum, Marcella Ike, Jean Pote and Dorothea Ward. Mary Powers is accompanist.

Delta Tau Epsilon fraternity held formal initiation at the chapter house at midnight Saturday for three pledges. A dinner was given in their honor Sunday noon at the fraternity house. The initiates are Elbridge Holland, Fargo; Leo Schwehr, Sanborn, and Arthur Alm, Binford.

DELTA BETA MEETING FEATURES GERMAN PLAY

A one-act comedy, "The Arrival," will be presented in German by Delta Beta, campus German organization, tomorrow evening at 8:15 in the Little Country theater. The play is a part of the regular bi-monthly meeting.

Interpreting the play will be Sylvia Panimon, Jeanette Hooper, and Agnes Mohr, Franz Werking, Russell Cordes, and William Heller. The humor of the play is based on a plot involving mistaken identity. Refreshments and group singing will conclude the program.

Students In Geology Class Return Sunday

Points Of Interest In South Dakota, Minnesota Are Visited On Trip

Students of the historical geology class returned Sunday evening to Fargo, after a two-day field trip to Ortonville, Minn., and to Milbank, S. Dak., where they studied various geological formations.

The trip was made by bus. While on the way to Ortonville, the group made several stops to study points of interest on the short line of old Lake Agassiz. Saturday afternoon was spent in the Minnesota river valley southeast of Ortonville, where the students studied the quarries of the Ortonville Monument company. Saturday evening was spent at the Hotel Columbia in Ortonville, where Victor Jones, instructor in charge of the trip, gave a talk on the history of old Lake Agassiz.

Sunday morning, the group visited the Hunter granite quarry at Milbank, S. Dak. Most of Sunday afternoon was spent in driving along Big Stone lake and Lake Traverse, on the boundary between Minnesota and South Dakota. The students also visited a point near Brown's Valley, Minn., where they saw the divide between rivers flowing into the Gulf of Mexico and Hudson Bay. The group returned to Fargo at 7:30 p. m.

Besides Mr. Jones, those who accompanied the students on the trip were Miss Ila Anthony, of the art department; Miss Helen Ballard, of the women's physical education department; and Glenn A. Lawritson, of the education department.

BULLETINS

The manager of the Y. M. C. A. book exchange wishes to announce to all students having unsold books left at the Y book exchange that the exchange will be open from 1:00 until 5:30 p. m. today.

Students are asked to reclaim the books which they have remaining there at that time as the Y. M. C. A. does not bear any responsibility for books left at the close of the spring term. Edgar Johnson.

There will be a very important meeting of the Senior Ball committee in the Faculty-Alumni clubrooms in the Main building at 5:00 today. All members on the committee are urgently requested to be there at that time. Kenneth Wyard, manager.

There will be an official meeting of all graduates in the Little Country theater at 12:45 tomorrow. Very important. William Gray, President.

There will be a meeting of Sigma Tau Delta tomorrow night at 7:30 in the library room of the Y. M. C. A. Gerald Garlid, president.

ALPHA XI BETA HONORS SENIORS AT BREAKFAST

Senior members of Alpha Xi Beta sorority were presented white gold bracelets bearing the sorority crest at a breakfast given by the chapter in the Tea Cup Inn Sunday morning. Doris Lathrop, past president, received a necklace bearing the sorority crest.

Those receiving bracelets were: Bernice Streit, Ovidia Carstens, and Viola Seaburg, Dilworth; Ruth Peterson, Finley; Norma Cavett, Tower City; Margaret Hagen, Hendrum, Minn.; and Irene Beyer, Phyllis Grobe and Josephine Olsness, Fargo. Out of town guests included Evelyn Quam and Clarice Hildre, University of North Dakota, and Marjory Gutting, Tolna.
