Colonel Thomas Mooran Arrives Tomorrow To Inspect Cadet Corps

Military Review Begins At 8 A. M. Monday or Tuesday As Weather Allows

CAPTAIN JACKSON AIDS IN INSPECTION

Annual Inspection Determines Rating of Local Unit Of Cadet Corps

The North Dakota State college cadet corps will be inspected by Col. Thomas Mooran on Monday, May 16. In case of rain on Monday, the inspection will be conducted on Tuesday, with classes as usual on Monday. Review will start at 8 o'clock in the morning on the regular parade grounds.

Before Colonel Mooran, President Shepperd, the school deans and regular sponsors, the cadet corps will pass in review. Following the review, the corps will be inspected in close and extended order drill, combat problems and tent pitching. Sponsors will form on the right flank of their platoons, with cadet officers, during the inspection.

On the afternoon of the first day's inspection advanced junior and senior military sections will be run through their paces. Practical work will be given during the first hour, and the second hour will be devoted to theoretical principles. On the afternoon of the second day there will be classroom work for freshman and sophomore sections, one in practical, and the other in theoretical work. There will also be an inspection of the administrative department on Tuesday, which will include a check-up of files and properties. This department, it is thought, will undoubtedly receive a high rating with improved facilities in the new physical education building. The total inspection will determine whether or not the local unit is capable of retaining its star rating. Last year the corps was given a grade of excellent, according to Major Lathrop.

Colonel Mooran has been inspecting the universities of Minnesota and North Dakota during the last weeks. He will probably arrive in Fargo tomorrow. Captain Jackson, stationed at Fargo, will aid in inspecting the infantry branch of the cadet corps.

Phi Kappa Phi Holds Honor Day On May 20 For Senior Members

Honorary Scholastic Society Names Three Seniors To Membership

Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, has named Donald McKechnie, Dorothea Olson and Hjalmer Johnson to membership, according to Benjamin V. McCaul, secretary.

Each year Phi Kappa Phi elects a group of students who have been outstanding in work and scholarship. For recognition an Honor day is chosen on which the new members are recognized and a convocation is arranged for that purpose. Friday, May 20, has been set aside for that purpose this year, according to Dr. C. I. Nelson, who is in charge of the program and initiation.

The convocation will feature a talk by Pres. C. C. Swain of Mayville State Teachers college. W. L. Stockwell, former state superintendent of education and now grand secretary of the Masonic lodge of Fargo, will present Harold Lundgren, senior chemist, with the Stockwell Prize awarded each year for outstanding work.

In the evening a banquet with Mr. Swain as the main speaker will be given for the new members.

ANNUAL EVENT CLOSURES WITH INFORMAL DANCE

Various Schools Have Special Open Houses For Guests On Campus Tonight

By SELDEN CATLIN

For the first time in years prospects indicated favorable weather during the annual May Festival that was ushered in Wednesday night with the architects' exhibit and will be terminated by an all-college dance tomorrow night.

Features of the program for the twenty-fifth inter-high school contest meet at the college include the athletic events at Dacotah field Friday and Saturday, vocational and literary contests in the home economics department and the Little Country theater, and open house to all visitors at all college departments during the three days.

Of particular interest to visitors at the festival will be the exhibitional displays of the various schools on the campus. Actual class procedure and laboratory experiments will be included in many of the departments.

Two new projects will be tried in the public discussion department this year, an after dinner speaking contest and a radio drama contest being added to the list of literary competition. Entries have been received for declamation, extempore speech, oratorical, story telling, newspaper and annual, one-act play, character "make-up" and miniature stage setting contests.

Divisions in the school of agriculture have prepared extensive displays in the practical applications of agricultural theories. Models of farm structures by the engineering division, soils and fertilizer benefits by the soil division, and a "Future Farmers" display by the educational division include a few of the exhibits open to the public.

In the architects department illustrations have been arranged that include individual works of students during the year. Photographs of the World's Fair Exposition in Chicago, sketches, block printing, portraits, and classes in freehand and design for visitors to observe compose the high spots in the exhibition.

A North Dakota industrial room will feature the chemistry department open house. Products of natural resources that will play an important part in the future development of the state will be demonstrated.

Each division of the engineering school will prepare illustrations of interesting data relative to the work in the courses. A complete model of a water gas plant has been erected and will be in operation. A mechanical man, flatirons floating in milk, sending music by rays of light, a smoke precipitator and a model of the Coolidge Dam are other displays to evoke public attention.

Tea will be served at the pharmacists' open house. The dairy department will demonstrate phases of cheese and butter making with distribution of samples during the day.

High school home economics contests will be held in Ceres hall and the practice house Friday. An exhibit of high school art work has been arranged in Festival hall.

Of the one thousand expected students, men contestants will be housed at the Men's Residence hall and the women will stay at Ceres hall and sorority houses. Any overflow of participants will be taken care of in downtown hotels.

Zeta chapter of Phi Omega Pi sorority were guests of the Fargo theater for a theater party Monday evening after chapter meeting.

The Pot Boils Over

The political stew has boiled over in a great many institutions this year. In many others it is still simmering. Unfortunately many of the pot boilings are resulting rather unhappily.

The most recent case in point is the kidnaping of a prom leader at the University leaving him in a state of total nervous collapse. This action followed a political election in which several persons were severely burned by acid.

We, the supposedly favored, civilized class of citizens of today, have made no progress whatsoever in dealing with our enemies. We have to resort to primitive methods of physical punishment which may leave lasting effects all out of proportion to their cause. It is rather regrettable, we think, that today we should have to resort to the political methods used by our fathers and grandfathers in the good old days.

There are a few political matters on this campus that could bear much investigation, but as long as there are individuals who will circulate hysterically written printed matter at the time of a mere college election, we fear that their methods at the time of a critical situation would put those outrages of Minnesota students to shame.

And anyway, somebody said, "Ignorance is bliss."

Welcome

We are glad to welcome you May Festival visitors to our campus this weekend and we hope that on this twenty-fifth occasion of the event you may enjoy yourselves more than any of our past visitors.

All the buildings on the campus are open for your inspection and use. College students shall be glad to aid you in any possible way that your stay here may be a pleasant one.

We urge you to attend all the events scheduled on the program that you may see and appreciate the work of the various departments of the college and that we may have a chance to meet you in an informal fashion.

COLLEGE HONORS GUESTS AT INFORMAL TOMORROW

May Festival guests will be honored at an All-College dance in the physical education building tomorrow night from 8:30 to 11:30.

The dance is open to all college students as well as high school visitors. Frances Kingsbury, social commissioner, is making the arrangements.

Messrs. and Mesdames Kenneth Kuhn, and J. R. Dice will chaperon. Frank Callinan's orchestra will furnish the music.

DELTA SIGS AND SIGMA TAUS ELECT OFFICERS

New fraternity officers for two social groups on the campus were elected at recent meetings of the fraternities.

Frank Clark was elected president of the Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity at the annual election meeting held in the chapter house last Saturday afternoon. Other officers are: vice president, Maitland Wyard; secretary, Charles French; treasurer, Floyd Viel; house manager, Harold Reardon; and historian, John Thorsell. Kenneth Wyard was selected as the most representative man in the fraternity in the last year.

Alpha Sigma Tau elected Melvin (Jimmie) Berdahl president at its regular meeting held Monday night. James Konen is vice president; house manager, George Towman; secretary, Howard Kilbourne; sergeant-at-arms, Robert Weir; and historian, Fredrick Martin.

GAMMA TAU SIGMA ELECTS G. GARLID AS PRESIDENT

Gerald Garlid was elected president of Gamma Tau Sigma fraternity, honorary journalistic organization, succeeding Amos Wallum, at the annual business meeting of the chapter Tuesday afternoon.

The chapter elected Jay Lynch vice president succeeding Glenn Reichert. John Thorsell was named secretary-treasurer to succeed Garlid.

All of the officers are actively engaged in campus journalistic activities. Garlid, a junior in the school of science and literature, is assistant editor of The Spectrum. Both Lynch and Thorsell, juniors in science and literature, are assistant business managers for The Spectrum.

Matt Braus, an alumnus of Alpha Sigma Tau, is a visitor at the chapter house.

TRAFFIC ORDINANCES

The great increase in the number of students and faculty using this campus has accentuated a traffic situation already critical. From all sides there has been a call for remedial regulation. This demand is being met by the Student Commission appointing Roman Meyers and David Minard as campus policemen to enforce the traffic ordinances. All offenders of the regulations will appear before a student court who will decide the case and determine the fine. It would be well for all student and faculty members to learn the following ordinances before Monday, May 16th, and to start practicing them at once:

1. Speed limit for motor vehicles, 15 miles per hour.
2. No parking on triangle east of science hall.
3. Parallel parking areas:
 - a. From main gate to main building, north side of road only.
 - b. From main building to cross road by engineering building on north side of road.
 - c. From chemistry building to dairy building on east side of road.
 - d. From entrance east of Ceres hall to sidewalk crossing front of the mill—north side of road only. NO parking in front of music hall.
 - e. From the sidewalk crossing in front of science hall to 12th ave., west side of road only.
4. Perpendicular parking areas:
 - a. The space directly in front of Agricultural building and extending to road.
 - b. The space directly north of science hall and extending east to crossing.
 - c. The parking ground south of armory.
5. No parking on south side of main drive.
6. Pay attention to all signs.
7. Keep off the paths across the campus and use the sidewalks.
8. Do not park cars on the boulevards.
9. Violation of any of these ordinances will necessitate arrest and fine.

"ELECTRIC BULLETS"

THE result of exhaustive wind-tunnel tests of conventional trolley car models revealed that at speeds of 70 and 80 miles per hour, 70 per cent of the total power was consumed in overcoming air resistance. Streamlining saves approximately 20 per cent of the power.

When the Philadelphia and Western Railway Company decided to replace its cars with faster and more efficient equipment, it chose "electric bullets"—new streamlined cars—each powered by 4 G-E 100-hp. motors. The cars, constructed of aluminum alloy, with tapered noses and tails, are much lighter in weight and capable of greater operating efficiency.

In developing transportation apparatus, college-trained General Electric engineers have conducted extensive tests to improve operating conditions. On land, on sea, and in the air, to-day's equipment is safer, swifter, more dependable, and more comfortable.

FINNEGAN EXPECTS MAY FETE RECORDS WILL BE BROKEN AT THIS EVENT

132 Athletes Represent 40 Schools In Annual Meet This Weekend

Several May Festival meet records may be broken today and Saturday as high school athletes from North Dakota and western Minnesota gather on Dacotah field, Coach "Casey" Finnegan, in charge of the events, announced this morning.

With 132 athletes from 40 high schools registered in this 25th May Festival meet, competition will be among the keenest in the history of the event, Finnegan says.

Stars Are Entered

Numerous luminaries, who have already shown their prowess at Valley City, Bismarck and Detroit Lakes meets, compete today in the preliminaries in each of the 16 track and field events. Most of the finals will be run off Saturday at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Among the trackmen participating at the Festival athletic events is George Fait, who last year scored highest individual honors at the meet. Fait represents Valley City high school this year, having transferred from Fingal. Gilbert Benzou and Lester Dohn, Bismarck speedsters, are expected to cop high honors in track events.

Wade Green, Bismarck, is a challenger for honors in the 440 race, with Lloyd Murphy, also of the Capital City, listed as one of the leading pole vaulters in the state. John Randall, Mandan, winner in the mile event last year, is expected to defend his honor this weekend.

Among Fargo high school's 26 representatives are Jack Charbonneau, track and field event winner, Kreutz, javelin hurler, Arneson, pole vaulter, and Clements, broad jump winner at the Bismarck meet last week.

Others who are expected to show prowess today are: White and Jeffrey of Valley City, Metz and Hanson of Jamestown, Ostroot of Crosby, Benzou, Boelter and Poter of Bismarck, Johnson and Pearson of Detroit Lakes, Bergh of Kindred, Brantseg of Fargo, Bacheintner and Bauck of Perham, and Solsrud and Dickenson of Oakes.

Darrell Hamilton, holder of the Rocky Mountain conference broad jump record and a candidate for the United States Olympic team, will give an exhibition jump Saturday afternoon and also will act as starter for several of the track events.

The Pharmacy club will sponsor a sound picture entitled "A Romance of the Drug Industry" tomorrow afternoon and evening and Monday evening in the physics lecture room on the second floor of the engineering building.

"Alice In Wonderland" to be presented by the public discussion department originally planned for May 20, has been postponed until May 26.

Varsity Wins Tight Game From Freshmen Closing Grid Season

Roman Meyers, Star End, Takes Scoring Honors For Regular Team

As a fitting climax to a successful spring training period, North Dakota State college's football candidates mixed in a thrilling game Tuesday. The veteran Green team emerged victorious with an 8-6 margin over the (freshman) Yellow team.

Scraping on equal terms, both teams displayed power to spare, which fact will stand the Bison in good stead for their difficult schedule for the coming season, Coach "Casey" Finnegan said today. There is going to be a large group of candidates ready when the roll is called for the eastern trip next fall, Finnegan says.

Meyers Is Star

Scoring all of the 8 winning points for the Green team and accounting for tackle after tackle to disrupt the plays of the frosh gridgers, Roman Meyers placed his "hat in the ring" in no uncertain terms for a position at end on the 1932 Bison varsity. Meyers' play on Tuesday ranked among the best shown on Dacotah field for several spring sessions.

Leonard House, guard on the yearling squad, stood out as a good performer on the frosh line, which held the varsity twice on the one yard line for downs. House upset numerous plays of Green ball toters without slackening pace.

After blocking a punt from the Green backfield late in the final period, Earl Thomas, yearling center, scooped up the pigskin and ran 23 yards for a touchdown, the lone one countered by the Yellow squad.

Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi, national honoraries, will hold initiation services and banquets next week.

Bison, University Make Golf Tourney Plans

Local Trio Defeats Mayville Players At Fargo League Friday Afternoon

While negotiations are being made with athletic officials at the University of North Dakota for a Bison-Sioux golf tourney this year, Bison golfers have already started out their season of play.

Playing the Mayville Teachers' team at the Fargo Municipal league, the Bison trio took a 6-3 victory last Friday afternoon.

George Fairhead counted three points for the North Dakota State team by defeating Nelson of Mayville, 5 and 4. Jim (the Great) Slattery of the Comets won two points by defeating Freddy Anderson, 2 and 1. Faber beat George Grothe, 1 up in an extra hole match, to gain two points for the winners.

Fargo Architect Talks At Opening Feature Of Annual Festival

William Kurke Discusses Plans For New State Capitol Wednesday Night

As the main feature of the Architects' open house exhibit which Wednesday evening opened the twenty-fifth annual May Festival of this college, William F. Kurke, Fargo architect and co-planer of the new North Dakota state capitol building, gave a short talk in which he described how the design for the capitol was made and selected.

Kurke, with two other architects selected to draw the plan for the new two million dollar capitol, spent some time in considering the various types of capitol buildings in this country. In studying these buildings, they looked for a type that would combine beauty, utility and convenience. The state capitols of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and Louisiana were all considered by the architects as types they could follow in making plans for the North Dakota capitol. Following this, they inspected the capitol grounds to determine what sort of building would best conform to the site. Then, using the information gained in these ways, they proceeded to draw the plans which were accepted by the state capitol commission, according to Kurke. In this way they planned a building that has one of the disadvantages of other state capitols, one that combines their advantages, and one that is suited to the site on which it is to be built.

In pointing out these things to his audience, Kurke made a group of free-hand sketches of the plans of types of buildings considered, and of the accepted plan for the state capitol. He also had with him architect's drawings of the capitol, including several that were rejected.

In concluding his talk, Kurke reminded the college students present in the audience that in order to be successful in architecture, or any other trade, a man must be a good salesman, and not be afraid of hard work, in addition to being competent in his chosen vocation.

Following Kurke's talk, which took place in room 22 of the engineering building, the audience was taken to the rooms of the architectural department, where they were shown numerous examples of work as done by students, including freehand sketchings in pen, pencil, and ink, modelling, design problems, construction work, wall hangings, etchings, and wood blocks, and the sketches by Ellen Kelly and Vernon Kohl which won the spring term competition.

Frank Clark is in general charge of the architects' open house, which will continue until tomorrow noon, and is assisted by Allan Brierly, Edward Mahlum and Earl Jennings.

Walter Kreiselmaier, former lieutenant in the German army, is now supervising a plan to restore to freehold ownership 125,000 acres of Red River Valley soil, through his position with the National Life Insurance company. He received his M.S. degree from North Dakota State college in agricultural economics under Cap E. Miller and a B.S. degree at Munich, Germany.
