Committee Invites University Juniors As Guests For Annual Formal

MAY SECURE PROGRAMS AT SPECTRUM OFFICE

Spectrum For Friday Carries Advance Guest List For Prom

Third in line at the annual Junior Prom Friday night will be Vivian McKay, most representative athlete of the junior class, and his guest Miss Clare Schrag. McKay is a three letter man possessing letters in football, basketball and track, a junior in the school of education and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Miss Schrag is a freshman in the school of education and a pledge of Phi Omega Pi sorority.

Donald Arthur, junior class president, and his guest, Miss Glade Cowles, will be fourth in line. Arthur is the newly elected president of the Student Commission and of Theta Chi fraternity. Miss Cowles is a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Miss Lois Chance and Fred Felber, junior class president and ball manager respectively at the University of North Dakota, are expected as guests for the Prom. Kenneth Wyard, senior ball manager, will also be a guest.

Dance programs may be secured from The Spectrum office upon presentation of ticket any time this week until Friday noon. Programs employ a black and white motif which is partially carried out in decorative effects.

Friday's issue will carry a guest list of persons attending the formal that night in the physical education building. Ticket purchasers are asked to fill out stubs attached to tickets that the list may be as complete as possible.

Members of the committee will meet in The Spectrum office at 5 p. m. Wednesday to make final arrangements for the affair, according to Melvin Berdahl, Prom manager, and Earl Grove, assistant manager.

Phillips, McKeane Take "Faust" Leads

Goethe's Death Commemorated By Production Of Drama In Theater May 18

Leads in the production of Goethe's play, "Faust," to be produced May 18 in the Little Country theater by the public speaking department in commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of the author's death, will be taken by Lyle Phillips and Malve McKeane, announces Prof. A. G. Arvold, head of the department.

Phillips will have the role of Dr. Faust, and McKeane that of the Devil. Both have had considerable previous dramatic experience, Phillips having taken the lead in such plays as "Seventh Heaven" and "Richelieu," and McKeane having had the lead in "Holiday" and important parts in several other plays produced by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club. The remainder of the cast has not yet been picked, but will be known soon, according to Arvold.

"Faust" is a five act play. Written in the German language, a stage adaptation in English will be given when it is presented here. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, the author, was born in 1749 and died in 1832. He is known as one of the world's most versatile men, being a famous poet, philosopher, dramatist, novelist, and scientist.

SIGMA TAUS INITIATE SEVEN PLEDGES SUNDAY

Story Telling Groups Plan Play In Honor Of Children's Author

Students Will Act "Alice In Wonderland" For Fargo School Children

Students in two classes in story telling at North Dakota State college will commemorate the centenary of the birth of Lewis Carroll, famous children's author who wrote "Alice In Wonderland," by the dramatization of the story in the Little Country theater May 20. Miss Alice Bender, who is directing the project, says that there is a possibility that the play will be repeated. The dramatization is being planned especially for Fargo school children.

With committees already organized to plan stage settings, costuming, dancing, music and promotion, selection of the cast has been largely completed.

Erllys Hill, Fargo, has been chosen for the part of Alice. Other parts will be taken by: Margaret Sundfor, Fargo, the White King; Jeanette McComb, Fargo, White Queen; characters in the garden of real flowers—Hildred Sheldahl, Ada, Minn.; Frances Plaggmeir, Werner; Enid Everson, Grafton; Margaret Olson, Hazel Swanson, Grace Moir, Lucille Morrissey, Arlene Boe and Elizabeth Lowell, Fargo; Marion Brainard, Fargo, Red Queen; Howard Renwick, Bathgate, Red King; Nita Oleson, Fargo, Tweedle-dee; Alice Whitver, Fargo, Tweedle-dum; Gerald Garlid, Cooperstown, the Mad Hatter; William Dunham, Bismarck, Mock Turtle; Shirley Riggle, New Rockford, Humpty Dumpty, and Robert Boyd, Fargo, the Dormouse.

FRANCES KINGSBURY IS KAPPA DELTA HEAD

Frances Kingsbury was elected president of Kappa Delta at the meeting of the sorority last Wednesday night. Other officers are as follows: Janet Jacobson, vice president; Laura DuBois, treasurer; Helen Baird, assistant treasurer; Margaret Olsen, secretary, and Shirley Johnson, editor.

Miss Gladys Larson Comes From La Crosse To Visit Local Chapter

HONORARY INITIATES TWO FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Local Chapter Entertains At Several Affairs During Coming Week

Miss Gladys Larson, Chicago, national inspector for Delta Psi Kappa, national honorary professional physical education sorority, will arrive tomorrow afternoon from La Crosse, Wis., to conduct the annual inspection of the local chapter on this campus. Miss Larson will return to Chicago Saturday morning.

Affairs planned by the local group include a picnic Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock with Eva Sherwood in general charge, assisted by Minerva Streed. Following this Miss Larson will give the sorority examination to the actives and two pledges in the physical education office in Ceres hall.

Miss Helen Ballard is arranging for a luncheon in honor of the inspector Thursday noon in the physical education office. In the afternoon the active chapter will entertain at a tea in the Kappa Kappa Gamma rooms from 3 to 5 p. m. in honor of Miss Larson. Members of all honorary and social organizations have been invited to send two representatives and alumnae of the organization have also been invited. Ora Hammerud, Margaret Fleming and Elva Eklund are arranging for this event. Thursday evening will be given over to individual conferences with chapter members.

Lorraine Scribbins and Eva Sherwood will be initiated into active membership at services conducted Friday afternoon with Myrna Ottinger, president, in charge. A formal banquet at 7 p. m. in the Graver hotel in honor of Miss Larson and the new initiates will follow the services. Talks will be given by Miss Larson and Helen Clemens, delegate to the national convention meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa., next summer. Appointments will be in yellow and blue, sorority colors, and covers will be laid for 22. Helen Clemens is in general charge assisted by Bernice Streit and Irene Beyer.

North Dakota State College Students Go To 'Y' Conference At Valley City

North Dakota State May Entertain Next Regional Convention

Sigma Tau Delta Members End First Regional Meeting At Jamestown College

With North Dakota State college being considered as host for next year's regional convention of Sigma Tau Delta fraternity, national honorary English organization, the first northwest regional convention was completed at Jamestown Saturday night. Iota Alpha chapter of Jamestown college was the entertaining group with Burkett W. Huey, chapter president, in general charge of convention arrangements.

About 40 persons attended the sessions including delegates from Northern State Teachers college at Aberdeen, S. D., Moorhead State Teachers college, Jamestown college and North Dakota State. Luther S. Mansfield, Jamestown, northwest regent of Sigma Tau Delta, presided at the sessions. Besides Miss Eloise Waldron and Leon Hartwell, faculty members, the local delegation included: Claire Newell, Ruth Barrett, Aldyth Pinkham, Mary Healy, Jeanette Hooper and Gerald Garlid.

Completing registration Saturday morning, delegates were entertained at luncheon in the lounge room of Watson hall Saturday noon. The afternoon session was devoted to the reading of original prose and poetry by chapter representatives. Several entertainment features were given by members of the Jamestown chapter. During an intermission in the program, tea was served.

The last formal number on the program was a banquet in the Nankin cafe at 7 p. m. Covers were laid for 40. Mr. Huey was toastmaster, calling on representatives from the three visiting chapters for responses. Robert Olson, Jamestown, played a piano solo. Talks were given by Dean F. B. Taylor of Jamestown who spoke on "Reminiscences of an Old-Time Journalist," K. W. Olson, Jamestown, "Intellectual Aristocracy," and Byron D. Murray, Moorhead, "The Next Generation of American Writers."

The fraternity colors, cardinal and black, were featured in dinner table appointments. Bouquets of red tulips, the fraternity flower, were used.

Two Social Sororities Initiate New Members Over This Week End

Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Hold Services For Thirteen

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta sororities held formal initiations Saturday and Sunday, respectively.

Eight pledges of Sigma Psi chapter of Kappa Delta were admitted into active membership Sunday afternoon at formal services in the Gardner hotel. Virginia Davis, president of the local chapter, presided. Those initiated were: Helen Baird, June Fredeen, Ruth Moore, Helen Skei and Marian Powers, Fargo; Edith Zethren, Max; Roberta Torrence, Duluth, Minn., and Imogene Ward, Minnewaukan.

At the banquet which followed covers were laid for 50 guests. Laura DuBois acted as toastmaster and responses were given by Virginia Davis and Myrna Ottinger, actives, Grace DeLong, alumna, Roberta Torrence, initiate. Grace South presented the intersorority basketball trophy, won this year by Kappa Delta, to the chapter.

Formal initiation services were held for five pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma at the home of Elizabeth Olsen on Saturday morning. Ora Hammerud, sorority president, was in charge. Those initiated were: Enid Everson, Grafton; Ruth Westergaard, Williston; Betty Schwieren, Jane Nichols and Doris Nelson, Fargo.

Luncheon was served Saturday noon at the Powers hotel for 40 active and alumnae members. Mona Haas was in general charge. The new members were welcomed by Isabel Barrett and Jane Nichols responded. Mrs. Jay Simpson spoke for the alumnae.

Valley City State Teachers College Host To Groups From Five Schools

CONVENTION SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 28 TO MAY 1

Margaret Dadey, Leo Anderson Head Delegations Of State College

The North Dakota Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Student conference will open Thursday afternoon, April 28, at Valley City State Teachers college, Valley City, with delegations from six North Dakota educational institutions registering at 3:30 o'clock. Margaret Dadey and Leo Anderson, presidents of the college Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., respectively, will head the delegations from this school.

"Where Do We Go From Here?" has been chosen as the theme of the conference, a question which will be discussed from the social, religious and economical standpoints, both by the conference speakers and the discussion groups. Included among the talks to be given under this general theme are: "Family Relations—Past, Present and Future," by Mrs. Leora Cassidy, University of Minnesota; "This Economic Tangle," by Dr. David Bryn-Jones, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, Minneapolis, and main speaker of the convention; "Vocations," by Lester Howard, state student secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; "Religious Perplexities," by Dr. Isaac Corn, Wesley college, Grand Forks; and "World Fellowship," by Dr. W. C. Hunter, North Dakota State college.

A mixer in the Teachers' college gymnasium will officially open the program at 8 p. m. Thursday, following registration in the afternoon. At 9 p. m. Dr. C. E. Allen of the Valley City State Teachers' college will deliver the address of welcome.

Cabinet training will be held Friday, April 20, with men and women delegates meeting separately. Dr. Bryn-Jones will give an address at 8 p. m. in the college auditorium.

Students will convene again Saturday morning, April 30, at 8:45, opening the day's program with a fellowship meeting and singing. Dr. Bryn-Jones will talk at 9 o'clock in the auditorium. Discussion groups will meet at 10 o'clock, and again at 2 p. m. A Geneva banquet for the delegates will be held at 6:30 p. m., and following it, a varied program and "good time" will be given at the Congregational church, Valley City.

The conference will close Sunday, May 1, with a communion service at 8:15 a. m. in the First Methodist church.

Miss Jane Canniff, North Dakota State college, is president of the conference, with Bernice Hanson, Valley City State Teachers' college, as secretary, and Don Lawrence, North Dakota State college, as treasurer. Local committee chairmen (students at Valley City State Teachers' college) are: arrangements, Robert Arvidson; music, Kenneth Burns; publicity, Idamae Alexander; social, Alys Collings; and communion, Harriett Hewitt.

The Y. W. C. A. of this college will be represented by Maurine McCurdy, who is in charge of the delegation; Margaret Dadey, president; Mrs. Carl A. Leet, general secretary; Jane Canniff, Eleanor Erickson, Luella Furcht, Marguerite Jennings, Amy Oscarson, Erlys Hill, Ruth Clausen, and Luella Unness. The Y. M. C. A. delegation, besides Leo Anderson, president, will include Erling Inorson, Harrison Maaker, Don Lawrence, Jordan Engberg, Gordon Prescott, and Harry Hanson.

The six schools which will be represented at the conference are North Dakota State college, North Dakota university, Mount State Teachers' college, Bismarck Normal and Industrial school, Jamestown college, and Valley City State Teachers' college.

Meeting Wednesday evening Phi Kappa Psi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, will discuss plans for recognition day, election of members for this year and other business, according to Mr. Benjamin V. McCaul, secretary of the local chapter.

Education

We have been viewing with alarm the cut in the maintenance and salaries for this institution. The situation as such is unfortunate, but not necessarily definitely damaging to the college.

With the sudden growth of educational facilities there has been an increasing tendency to put the greater share of the emphasis on fine buildings, landscaped grounds, elaborate equipment and colored drinking fountains than on the inspiring of youth to seek knowledge which after all is the fundamental aim of all education.

As was pointed out by a professor last week we have been so anxious to have beautiful buildings ornamenting our campus that we have often accepted them from men, whose wealth was garnered by illegitimate means. And yet we haven't hesitated to expel professors of brilliant minds and accomplishments, but with shady pasts, from our faculties.

The amount of a man's salary is in no way indicative of his worth, and college instructors are notoriously underpaid. Likewise the facade of a building is no indication of the amount of knowledge and creative zeal possessed by those who haunt its corridors.

As one critic said, "Education, after all, is not a matter of mass production, but of a trained mind on one end of a log and an inquiring youth on the other." A twenty per cent cut, then, can do no real harm to the educative process for we can learn as much even though it be in rundown buildings, and from fifty dollar a month teachers.

Whither

"Keep moving" appears to be the only rule of life for we Americans. All our time and thought are concentrated on the elaboration of this one idea and the ultimate aim is to move faster, ever faster than our neighbor.

No excuse is given more often than "I haven't time." We have even thought of daylight saving time to crowd every possible achievement into twenty-four hours.

"We haven't time" to ask ourselves whether we are moving or why, for fear that we would waste some of this precious intangible thing by undue meditation.

In college we are urged to "keep moving" through the courses until we have two hundred and four credit hours chalked up beside our name. Then we must "keep moving" until we have a job and then "keep moving" to keep that job or get a better job and then "keep moving"—Oh well!

Our scheme of values does not allow for the things of the mind, of the soul, and of the heart as intellect and beauty and emotion. We don't observe the stars, the sunsets, the budding trees, because we are too intent on making an eight o'clock or getting to a meeting—a half an hour late.

As a result our colleges are the most progressive—although we are at a loss to know to what they are progressing; our collegians the quickest and most restless people—and yet no one has ever proved to us that it was virtuous to be restless. We have no assurance that our type of fast living will compare favorably even a hundred years from now with the slow even tempo of the older European culture; that we shall be any better off for all our modern accomplishments and wealth than the Europeans who sit and love and think and go hungry.

Student Opinion

Economy

"Depression"—"We must economize."—This phrase is sounding the world over. In newspapers, from the platform, through congressmen, from every phase of business administration, both local and national, and in the home, we hear the cry of economy. Economy is the Utopia of the moment—but is it not a two handed monster, capable of serious damage as well as good? A short sighted policy of cutting school appropriations, curtailing funds otherwise to be spent for research, for the advancement of educational facilities through better equipment and better instructors, and in short to provide better opportunities of learning for the generation of tomorrow who will ultimately be the leaders of our nation. By such a measure we are jeopardizing a national basic need and an ideal that has been steadily progressing in this country.

Graduates are ever increasingly reflecting the nature of the school of which they are a product. It may be unwise to say a man is no better than the school of which he is a graduate but we must justly admit that it bears some truth. When appropriations are slashed the best of instructors and research workers cannot be retained and consequently students must spend their time and money under the guidance of lesser educated men who are forced to make their futile advance with insufficient department funds. Such a measure in an agricultural college is a sacrifice at the expense of agriculture which, after all, is the backbone of all industry.

As a shining example we can cite the state of Montana—a state that has perhaps endured more "depression" than North Dakota and has not found it necessary to make a single cut in appropriation for Montana state schools.

Immediately someone will say that the taxpayers of the state are unable to meet the burden. In my opinion the cut in appropriations should begin with the state government, (township, county, and business enterprises engaged in by the State) rather than with our state colleges and universities.

Science Progress

By T. W. JOHNSON

T. H. Hopper, head of the department of agricultural chemistry, considers whitewash as the cheapest of all paints and the best for certain purposes. He has several formulas that are available to the public in mimeograph form.

Soon our lawns will blossom out in the college colors—yellow and green. Ruth M. Dawson, foods specialist in the extension division of the college, says that dandelions may be pests to the family priding itself on a fine lawn but to the eaters of early spring greens they're a blessing in disguise. Here is one food that appears in plenty without lifting a hoe in the garden.

"In 32 years of production of Power Fife wheat in variety trials at the local Agricultural Experiment Station, the average date of seeding is April 27," according to Dr. H. L. Walster, chief agronomist. "The earliest date, April 8, was in 1918, and in 1925, and the latest date was May 31 in 1893."

Public demand for agricultural and home economic bulletins and circulars has reached the place where 229,072 copies were needed to supply the requests during the past year. A few years ago about 5,000 copies were ample to meet the demands. Editions of the more popular pamphlets run up to 12,000 copies now, according to W. C. Palmer, in charge of the publications department of the college.

Kansas growers said it was their best yielder while Oklahoma and Nebraska admit it as one of their top producers. That is what others say about the Bison tomato, a variety produced by A. F. Yeager, horticulturist at the college, by crossing the Red River and Coopers Special tomatoes. Bison first proved its worth at home, however, by outyielding all other varieties at the local experiment station. Other tomato varieties produced by Mr. Yeager at the college during the past 13 years include North Dakota Earliana, Red River, Agassiz, Jumbo, Viking, Fargo, and Progress.

A Jumbo tomato weighing 2½ pounds was produced by R. W. Simmons of Crosby. Several of these giant tomatoes were sold by Mr. Simmons at 85 cents each.

We Nominate For Oblivion

The "horseplay" feature of most all fraternity and sorority initiations. Why, in organizations professing everything in terms of mawkishly-sweet Lofty Ideals and Noble Deeds, is it necessary to stoop to the New Low Level that transcends even the roisterous banalities of "lawdige night" back in the old home town? To us, the Lofty Ideals and the Horseplay seem incompatible, somehow. Why pander to the dubious flavor of the stable-yard? Whether our Scandinavian Greeks admit it or not, whether they try to gloss the whole thing over in somewhat vague and hazy pseudonyms of "discipline," "training," etc., ad nauseum, the whole debacle appears, in the sanguine vocabulary of a so-called "collegian," lousy and nincimpooie. Why drag the alabaster toga of the original Greeks through the slime and hawg-wash of organizations operating under Greek letters. Most of our Scandinavian "Greeks" wouldn't know what a "toga" was, if you asked them. They would probably say it was used to play "Toga War" with. Why, oh readers fair, does this go on? We don't know. Perhaps for the same reason that bakers' rolls look as though they have been dragged across a locker-room floor.

The growing tendency on this campus of more and more, Bigger and Better, Louzy and Louzier, Petty and Pettier organizations that accomplish nothing of merit other than getting their pictures in the college year-book as an enduring pictorial testimonial of organizations created out of nothing for the purpose of doing nothing. And now, in the inimitable expressive manner of a college man graduating with a Major in English Grammar, "Ain't that something?"

All forms of ballyhooy and high-pressure.

At any time now we will have it. First, The Wednesday Afternoon Tattling and Needlework Society will doubtless supply a long-felt need for devotees of this popular indoor sport. After that it would not be too much to expect the appearance of Hacha Cha Pep Poopers for the promulgation of some more Hacha Cha. Following closely on the heels of this will probably come the Society For The Wearing of Gandhi Loin Cloths in North Dakota. (Just like taking Gandhi away from a baby). As a Climax we would expect what we really and truly have felt to be a long felt need on this campus—Blue Monday Blooey Burpers for the benign purpose of Getting-together-A n d -F i n d i n g - O u t - W h a t - K i n d - O f - A - n - A - s - D - i - d - I - M - a - k - e - O - f - M - y - s - e - l - f - O - v - e - r - T - h - e - W - e - e - k - e - n - d - A - n - d - W - h - o - S - a - w - M - e - f - e - r - G - a - w - d - S - a - k - e . This last organization, we think, would hit the nail on the head, or hit the keg on the rail—Well, have it your way.

Song

Of A Jaded Appetite

O Arthur Brisbane and Al Capone
Will die some day, but I'll make no moan
As they cross the bar. May they lie alone

In a plate-glass grave with a telephone
And get wrong numbers forever and
And talk to a muted microphone.
O Alphonse Capone and Art Brisbane,
May they press their noses against the pane
Of this planet's most prominent window-show
And be kept outside in a drizzling rain;
With lead pipes and lead pencils cudgel
their brain

For a popular item, and cudgel in vain
And the final edition not mention their name.

O journalist Brisbane and vice-lord Capone
Strike me as similarly phoney.
No matter how spicy, I tire of a diet
Of money and honey and pure baloney.

And now for that good old last line:
You know I wouldn't.

High School Students Guests Of College At Annual Festival

Prep School Representatives
Enter Annual Contests
Here May 12-14

Over a thousand young men and women representing the different high schools in the state of North Dakota and western Minnesota will be guests of this institution during a period of three days, May 12, 13, and 14, to compete in the twenty-fifth annual inter-high school May Festival under the auspices of the North Dakota State college. A program of cultural and vocational contests and entertainment features has been arranged to occupy their time while on the campus.

The contests, which are open to all bona-fide high school students, have been divided into three distinct groups—athletic, industrial and literary. The athletic contests will be divided into two groups, those for men and those for women. The contests for men will consist of fourteen different field and track events—a one hundred yard dash, a two hundred and twenty yard dash, a four hundred and forty yard dash, an eight hundred and eighty yard run, a mile run, a two hundred and twenty yard low hurdles, a hundred and twenty yard high hurdles, the high jump, the broad jump, the pole vault, the shot put, the discus throw, the javelin throw and a one half mile relay, and a tennis tournament, a baseball game, and track events. The industrial contests will be in the nature of demonstrations and exhibits of the work done in the high schools in art, cooking and sewing. Contests in stock, poultry and crop judging will be one of the many features of the industrial group. An after dinner speaking contest, a radio drama contest, a declamatory contest, an oratorical contest, a dramatic contest, a presentation of a one-act play, "a character make-up" contest, on extempore speech contest, a story telling contest, an exhibit of miniature stage settings, and a newspaper contest, together with an exhibit of high school publications will comprise the literary group.

One of the interesting features in connection with the festival will be the Industrial Arts Exposition which will be held during the three days. The college buildings on the campus will contain several hundred exhibits sent in from high schools in the state as well as display of many articles made at the state institution.

An interesting discussion of the various phases of vocational education in North Dakota by the Smith-Hughes teachers will be one of the principal parts of the three-day program. This part of the festival will begin Thursday and last until Saturday.

Besides the contests, the industrial arts exposition and the Smith-Hughes conference, there will be splendid programs for the entertainment of the general public.

MOORHEAD WOMAN IS TRYOTA CLUB SPEAKER

Mrs. S. G. Reinertsen, Moorhead, will address members of the Tryota club, home economics organization for freshman and sophomore women, at their regular meeting in the fireplace room of the college Y. M. C. A. building at 4 p. m. today. "Fluctuations" will be the topic for the address. Helen Lee, club president, will be in charge of the meeting. Following the program tea will be served.

Practically all colleges in the country are this semester holding special Washington Bicentennial exercises.

ENDS PLAY MAJOR PART IN SPRING COMPETITION AT BISON GRID CAMP

Eight Candidates Lead List For Position On Wing Posts

MEYERS AND JACOBSON VETERAN CANDIDATES

Olson, Marquardt, Pederson And Gove Are Frosh Ends;

"Whenever the ball is snapped back, every player drives ahead as if he were New York bound" is the comment of one of the star backfield candidates in discussing the fiery spring practices of the Bison gridders.

The competition for the end positions on the North Dakota State college eleven is characteristic of this determination to the Bison freshman and varsity players to be on the roll of those players selected to take the long journey to West Point, New York, for the Bison-Army game next fall, "Casey" Finnegan said today. Eight promising men are contesting as candidates for the wing posts.

Besides being an efficient performer in blocking and breaking up plays, Milton Jacobson, sophomore end veteran, is the regular punter on the Bison team. His punting ability coupled with his performance at the wing position makes him a first string candidate for the varsity, according to Coach Finnegan.

No less prominent a contender for the regular position is Roman Meyers, sophomore end, who distinguished himself in the Bison-Sioux game of the Bison freshman on both pass offense and defense and in tackling. Being more than six feet in height and weighing more than 190 pounds, Meyers has an ideal build for the end post, according to comments by Finnegan.

In Bud Marquardt and Acey Olson the Bison coaches have an outstanding pair of tall, speedy freshman ends, who proved outstanding on the Baby Bison squad of last fall, according to information from the Bison training camp. Both are adept in the breaking up or the receiving of passes and are candidates of ability for the other offices of the varsity end position.

Although Joe Selliken and Robert Gove are both candidates for backfield posts on the Bison eleven, either may be used for wingmen on the varsity eleven, "Casey" says. Selliken, a junior varsity performer, played at the end position for a number of tough games on last fall's schedule. Gove was among the freshman regulars on the extreme position of the Baby Bison line.

Experience, natural ability and stamina are going to play major factors in the selection of the end regulars on the team, according to Coach Finnegan, who with Coach Bob Lowe, expects to have a fairly definite lineup on the team candidates by the close of the spring drill.

Kenneth Brandby, Sigma Phi Delta, spent the weekend at his home in Valley City.

R. M. Dolve was a dinner guest at the Sigma Phi Delta house Friday.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

What are former Bison athletes doing? Maybe the student body isn't interested but we just have to get out a column. Anyway, maybe you can find someone here from your home town.

Thomas Franklin Manna, '01, who has the unusual distinction of playing six years as a Bison griddler (almost as long as Dean Bolley), is a professor of pathology at the University of Delaware. And tie this: with the exception of four years he has played football ever since with faculty teams. He can't seem to get over it. He has four children, a Ph.D. degree and teaches Sunday school. Well, maybe Schoenfelder and the boys will be guiding the young ones on the Sabbath in a few years.

Dorland Konichel, '30, the best Bison middle distance runner in recent years, is an ensign with the U. S. coast geodetic survey. He also ran after Clara, Berg, '29, won her as his wife. Does he still go for track, now that he's through college? Nope, he spends his time yachting. Such is life, or something.

And Harry McLachlin, also '30, is farming, begobs. He is on the "old homestead" near Hunter, is married.

S. K. "Dick" Bjornson, '17, former star lineman and uncle of the equally notorious "Fat," is pretty well up in the hail insurance game in Chicago. Still a small town boy at heart, Dick has a reputation of being the most ardent Homecomer, visits the old college at least twice a year. Yup, he's married.

Lee B. Greene, star griddler back in 1901, is physician and surgeon in Edgeley. He shot a bank burglar once and got the case himself. Married; two children. Golfing for him.

Snorri Thorfinnson, '24, who did very little snoring when he was breaking state records in distance runs, now is Smith-Hughes in Granville. But do you suppose he's so strong for track now? Not on your life; he likes tennis, boxing, basketball. Married and has three children.

Wm. H. Westergaard, '04, griddler, is interested in banking and farm lands in Williston. Golf and hunting are his favorite sports now—but back in '03 it was a different story. Bringing it closer to home, many students on the campus may know his daughter, Ruth, a freshman.

Byron Bernston, '28, star guard on some good football teams, is teaching at Stanley. He likes baseball, basketball and tennis.

A. W. Fowler, '01, prominent Fargo lawyer and banker, was quite a griddler in his day. Now it's golf, and he's a good divot digger, too. And he has two sons that can beat him.

And so it goes. The star athlete seems to like the sport he wasn't interested in at college. Maybe they had enough of it then. The ordinary duffer that didn't for out for anything at college is the most ardent football and basketball fan.

You can guess what the 1931 varsity football squad will be doing, say, ten years from now.

EARLY MORNING DRILL SCHEDULED TOMORROW

Early morning drill is scheduled for the college cadet corps beginning tomorrow morning and lasting until May 10, in preparation for the annual inspection, announces Maj. E. A. Lathrop, military department head. Drill will start at 7:45 a. m. and continue until 8:10 a. m. All cadets are expected to appear in full uniform, according to Major Lathrop. Drill will be concerned with company and platoon movements, physical training, and extended order, the companies taking them up in rotation, so that no one company has the same type of work two mornings in succession.

Allen Brierley, Sigma Phi Delta, spent the weekend in Minneapolis.

Bison Scrimmage Dragons Friday

The North Dakota State college gridders and the Moorhead State Teachers football players will play an Olympic-benefit game Friday afternoon at four o'clock, late word to The Spectrum from Head Coach C. C. Finnegan announces.

It will be of special interest to football fans to see the new Bison speedsters from the freshman team of last fall to get their first taste of varsity competition, "Casey" says. The game will be run under the new rulings set by the football commission.

Colleges throughout the nation are sponsoring spring football games to assist in the presentation of the Olympic games. The entire proceeds from Friday's encounter will be for the Olympic games at Los Angeles next summer.

GIRLS BEGIN SPRING BASEBALL PRACTICE

Girls' spring baseball practice began Monday morning with practice being held every morning at seven o'clock, regardless of the weather, for the next week. Those coming out for baseball will be divided into teams according to classes. After one week's practice interclass games will be held.

DOROTHY ERICKSON IS HOSTESS AT DINNER

Dorothy Erickson, alumna of Phi Omega Pi sorority, entertained nine sorority members at dinner and an evening of bridge at her summer home at Detroit Lakes Friday evening.

Guests included: Ruth Dyson, Verontia Wepler, Mary McLane, Ellen Gardner, Dorothea Gutman, Helen Fitch, Hazel Redman, Joyce Peterson and Marion Johnson.

French Club Gives Program Wednesday

Sylvia Panimon Has Charge Of Meeting; Dialogue Is Feature

Le Cercle Francais, campus French club, will feature "Ecole Moderne" (Modern School) on the program scheduled for Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, according to Miss Sylvia Panimon, who is in charge of the meeting.

A dialogue between Rhoda Clausen and Luella Furcht, and a violin solo by Ruth Clausen are other numbers for the evening's entertainment.

The part of the teacher in Ecole Moderne will be taken by Ruth Clausen and pupils will be Jeanette Hooper, Rhoda Clausen, Jeanette Panimon, Frederick Martin and Sylvia Panimon.

$25,000 IN PRIZES!

and may the best "Blurbs" win

464 cash prizes each month—2 first prizes of $500 each

GET into this shaving cream "blurb" contest, men! Who are you for—Walt or Bill? Palmolive or Colgate's?

We've discovered that men are rabid on the subject of shaving creams. Just try to tell a Colgate user there's anything better! Or try to convert a Palmolive user to anything else. You'll soon find out!

These are the two leading sellers among all shaving creams. Think of that—in a field of 176 competing brands! What we want to know is—why do you like Palmolive? Or why do you swear by Colgate's? Tell us!

Hence this little contest. There's money in it—lots of money. Get some of it! Help Walt out. Or help Bill out. Notice the two empty "blurb" spaces in the picture at the right. In ONE of these spaces (or on a separate sheet of paper) write what you'd say in favor of Palmolive—or what you'd say in favor of Colgate's. Write it now! And note! Mention your dealer's name. Then if you win, he'll win a prize, too.

Come on you shavers—Get in on this $25,000 argument

Walt wants you Palmolive users to say your say. Bill says "Stick with me, you Colgate users." If you don't use either, start now and take a shot at this real money. And, don't forget, give your dealer's name!

CONTEST RULES

MAIL your "blurb" with name and address to Contest Editor's Dept. CN-164, P. O. Box 1133, Chicago, Illinois.

The prize money (totaling $25,000) is divided into six sets of monthly prizes (each set totaling $4200). At the end of each month prizes are awarded (see list at right) for the best "blurbs" received during that month, as follows:

Feb. 29, $4200 Mar. 31, $4200
April 30, $4200 May 31, $4200
June 30, $4200 July 31, $4200
{Contest closes July 31, 1932}

Contest is open only to residents of the United States and Canada. Employees of the manufacturers and their families are not eligible to compete.

In event of a tie, each tying contestant will be awarded full amount of the prize tied for. Decision of the judges shall be final.

Some hints to help you win

Here are some facts about the world's two largest selling shaving creams—Colgate's and Palmolive. Here are some of the reasons why men prefer these famous shaving creams.

PALMOLIVE

1. Multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
2. Softens the beard in one minute.
3. Maintains its creamy fullness for 10 minutes.
4. Fine after-effects due to olive oil content.

COLGATE'S

1. Breaks up oil film that covers each hair.
2. Small bubbles get down to the base of the beard, hold water against each hair at skin-line and soak it soft where the razor works.
3. Gives a close, skin-line shave due to small bubble action.
4. Gives a lasting, 24-hour shave.

Here are the prizes for each month—464 in all!

State Students Assist In Theta Chi Ceremony On University Campus

National Heads Of Fraternity
Visit Local Chapter
Of Theta Chi

North Dakota State college students and alumni played an important part in the installation of Beta Gamma chapter of Theta Chi, national fraternity, last Friday and Saturday at the University of North Dakota, according to John Rooney, installation delegate from the local chapter of Theta Chi.

With the formal banquet held Saturday night the two day installation of Alpha Psi Delta, petitioning local at the university, was completed by officials of Theta Chi. Approximately twenty-five from Phi chapter at Fargo assisted in the two days of ceremony at Grand Forks.

Among the guests of honor at the banquet was Prof. George Starr Lasher, national president of Theta Chi and a member of the Ohio university faculty. President Lasher was guest of North Dakota State college Friday as he visited Phi chapter, enroute to the installation.

Other installation officials who visited in Fargo on Sunday were: Robert H. Hoge, national executive secretary, of Huntington, West Va.; Merwin Lytle, chairman of the installation committee, of Chicago, Ill.; John C. Hubbard, a member of Alpha Pi chapter at the University of Minnesota, and Clifford Richards, a member of Alpha Mu chapter at Iowa State college.

B. F. Spalding, former justice of the supreme court of North Dakota, and a member of the Theta Chi chapter at Norwich university, was among the installation officials.

Because of business engagements, former Gov. Theodore F. Christianson, Minneapolis, national vice president of Theta Chi, was unable to visit the State college chapter Sunday.

Delta Beta Club Has Meet Thursday Night

Program Has "Im Kaufladen," Dialogue, As Feature
Of Entertainment

Delta Beta, college German club, meeting Thursday evening in the college Y. M. C. A., will present a dialogue "Im Kaufladen" as a feature of the program, according to Franz Werking, instructor in German.

Eloise Waldron, will give a story and Agnes Beckstrom music selections, included in which will be the German version of "Aufwiedersehn My Dear." Games and songs will furnish other entertainment.

Cast in the dialog are Howard Kilbourne, Harry Isaak, Katherine McDermott and Esther Beuhl.

CAMPUS GROUPS HOSTS AT WEEKEND PARTIES

With the N. D. Lettermen's club and Blue Key fraternity as sponsors, college parties were held Friday and Saturday evenings.

The affair sponsored by the Lettermen's club Friday evening was an all-college party held in Festival hall. Maurice Ellingson was in charge of arrangements. Chaperons were Messrs. and Mmes. C. C. Finnegan and Robt. Lowe. About 50 couples attended.

Members of the 1932 Brevities production staff and cast were honored at an informal party Saturday evening given in Festival hall by Blue Key fraternity. Kenneth Wyard was in charge of general arrangements. Special entertainment features were given by members of the Brevities cast. About 75 couples attended. Prof. and Mrs. Homer B. Huntoon and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Bayliss acted as chaperons.

Startling Expose of Wet-Dry Sentiment Revealed By Recent College Investigation

What does the college man think about prohibition and drinking? We assume of course that the college man does think, and that he has heard prohibition mentioned sometime.

People, who claim to know, have made conjectures and some shrewd guesses about this, but we maintain that conjectures are just conjectures and guesses are just guesses. We are told that there are those who can take it or leave it, that there are those who just take it, and that there are those who are not able to take a stand on prohibition or upon anything for that matter. But boys will be boys—they say (and what do you say you mug?)

However, we were not satisfied with such haphazard judgment—we were not to be satisfied with anything but facts. So questions have been asked, data have been gathered, and statistics have been compiled. Wearily, I trudged about asking, "Are you a wet?" "Do you believe in modification?" "Do you think that prohibition should be continued?" "Are you a dry?" "Do you drink?" or "Will you lend me four bits for some razor blades?" Almost to a man they disregard my last question. After considerable hooting and scoffing the interrogation was turned upon me. Was I a reformer? Did I think the Hog-It-All frame was here to stay? Or maybe, was I looking for the Lindbergh baby?

But was I discouraged by such subtleties? No. A thousands times no.

Carrying on in the true spirit of a martyr I emerged ultimately with facts, cold hard facts, the low down on 235 college people. In this aggregation were fraternity gents, sorority molls, barbs, and some instructors (may the Board of Administration have mercy on their salaries.) And what did I find when the last shot was just a memory, or a headache, and when all the hooey had cleared away? This:

Wets	58%
Modification	24%
Dry	18%

Two well known sororities went slightly less wet than the average, 53%.

Two fraternities were each 66 per cent wet. Of the men staying in one of these houses not a dry could be found, and the fraternity men favoring prohibition were almost entirely from Fargo and Moorhead. In the men's residence hall the wets numbered 60 per cent, modification sentiment was 16 per cent, and 24 per cent were dries. Another fraternity, clear-eyed lads treading that righteous path, acclaimed to the world that of wets they had a mere 50 per cent.

Just what all this proves, I am not certain—and you are probably as good a judge as I (better you will claim). They say that the dear old Spectrum—that third rate tabloid—is to continue this investigation. So bear up with them, probably they will bring it to some logical and rational conclusion.
