COL. THOMAS MOORMAN INSPECTS CADET CORPS ON CAMPUS MAY 16-17

Inspection Opens Monday With Review, Demonstrations Of Platoon Drill

CLASS WORK ON TUESDAY

Junior, Senior Cadet Officers Go Over Work of School Year On Tuesday

The annual inspection of the Reserve Officers' Training corps at the North Dakota State college will take place on Monday and Tuesday, May 16 and 17, according to Maj. E. A. Lathrop, military department head.

The inspection will follow the same lines as last year's, with Col. Thomas Moorman, staff officer of the commanding general in charge of R. O. T. C. work of land grant colleges in the seventh corps area the inspecting officer. Col. Moorman comes here from an inspection of the unit at the University at Grand Forks, and leaves for South Dakota State college on Tuesday evening.

The two-day inspection opens Monday morning, May 16, with a parade review. Following the review, individual platoons will give demonstrations of platoon and company drill, extended order drill, physical training, and tent pitching. A problem will be worked out by a war-strength company.

Inspection on Monday afternoon will be confined to the junior and senior cadet officers. Half of the time will be spent on theoretical work on subjects gone over during the school year, and the remaining time will be given to practical work. The practical work for the juniors will be on machine guns, howitzers, and military map sketching. Seniors will be examined in work on field fortification.

Tuesday forenoon will be given over to inspection of classroom work done by freshman and sophomore sections, with questions being asked of the students by the inspector on work that they have covered this year. The inspection will close Tuesday afternoon with an examination of the records of the military department and of the indoor space used by the department.

Ten Sigma Tau Delta Members Go To Meet At Jamestown College

Claire Newell Is Official Delegate To Regional Meeting On Saturday

About ten representatives from the local chapter of Sigma Tau Delta fraternity, national honorary English organization, expect to go to Jamestown Saturday for the first regional convention of the fraternity that day. The Jamestown college chapter will be convention host.

Heading the representation as official delegate is Claire Newell, president of North Dakota State's unit. Two faculty members, Eloise Waldron and Leon Hartwell, will accompany the student delegation. Among those expecting to attend are: Aldyth Pinkham, Viola Dixon, Edward Hanson, Mary Healy, Ruth Barrett, and Gerald Garlid.

Chapter representatives will take part in the main convention session Saturday afternoon by reading a group of original selections from the chapter's work. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. with delegates to be guests at the presentation of Sheridan's "The Rivals" Saturday night.

Al Letch of Delta Nu chapter, the University of North Dakota, was a guest at the Alpha Tau Omega house Sunday and Monday.

Co-eds Have Their Day

College co-eds had their day this weekend when the Senior Staff featured a Leap Year party Friday night in the new armory and the Ceres hall club entertained in the dormitory parlors Saturday night.

Bill Euren and his Collegians furnished the music for the Leap Year party which was unique not only in the girls choosing their escorts but in the prizes distributed to persons holding the lucky numbers. Prizes were contributed by downtown firms. Chaperons were Professor and Mrs. Kuhn and Dr. and Mrs. Kellogg.

The Ceres hall party breathed of the sea. Gang planks, life savers, and anchors in blue and white were featured in the decorations. Root beer and pretzels were served through a port hole. George Colling's band, roped off on the deck formed in one of the parlors, supplied the music. Mrs. A. M. Williams and Mrs. Sarah Ellen Cranley acted as chaperons, and Miss Pearl Dinan was ship's guest.

Vigestad Purchases First Prom Ticket, Says Ball Manager

Tickets Go On Sale Monday Noon Following Meeting Of Prom Committee

Purchasing the first ticket for the annual Junior Prom to be held April 29 in the physical education building was George Vigestad of the Palace Clothiers, Moorhead, according to Melvin (Jimmie) Berdahl, Prom manager.

Tickets were placed on sale yesterday noon following a luncheon meeting of the committee in Ceres hall dining room. Ray Greenwood, ticket manager, has placed the tickets on sale at the bookstore, Service Drug, and the Broadway Pharmacy. Members of the committee and fraternity representatives will also have them for sale. Novel arrangements of dances in varied arrangements will be offered by Al Bengston and His Music who have been engaged for the dance. The orchestra consists of eleven pieces and has played at the Russiana Nite club, New York city; Texas Guinan Show Place, Freeport, Long Island; the Pitken-Royal Cafe, Brooklyn, N. Y., and at several places in Minneapolis including the Andrews hotel, station WRHM, and the Minnesota Homecoming dance. The band is also known as Beng's White Caps.

Modernistic effects in red, blue and silver combined with black and white will be used both in decorative and lighting schemes.

YWCA Selects Ten Conference Delegates

Women Attend State Meeting In Valley City; Canniff Heads Representatives

Ten women will represent the North Dakota State college Y. W. C. A. at the state Y. W.-Y. M. conference in Valley City April 29, 30, and May 1. The delegates plan to leave Fargo on Thursday afternoon, April 28 and return on Sunday, May 1.

Those who will attend the conference besides Mrs. Carl A. Teet, general secretary, include Jane Canniff, who is in general charge of the state convention this year, Margaret Dadey, Maurine McCurdy, Eleanore Erickson, Luella Furcht, Marguerite Jennings, Amy Oscarson, Erllys Hill, Ruth Clausen, and Luella Ullness.

Maurine McCurdy is general chairman of the college delegation from Fargo.

Jack Danstrom entered St. John's hospital Saturday for an emergency operation.

EDWIN BOOTH PLAYERS PRESENT "JUSTICE" AS PRODUCTION FOR TERM

Miss Alice Bender Is Director Of Cast Acting Drama By Galsworthy

ARVOLD IS SUPERVISOR

Students Have Final Practice In Little Country Theater Monday Evening

With a final practice consisting of a complete dress rehearsal for the play, "Justice," held in the Little Country theater yesterday, the production, one of John Galsworthy's best known works, will be staged in the theater at eight o'clock tonight under the direction of Miss Alice Bender with the general supervision of A. G. Arvold. The Edwin Booth Dramatic club is responsible for the promotion of the presentation.

A gripping court drama in four acts, "Justice" had its first showing in England. It became immediately popular and has continued to hold the approval of stage audiences to the present day.

Laid in a simple setting strictly in keeping with the theme of the play, "Justice" presents a stirring conflict of elemental emotion and the course of the law. A clever plot, based on Galsworthy's interest in a victim of circumstances, offers the foundation for the production.

A recent development to aid in an appreciative presentation of "Justice" was a personally suggested criticism by Whitford Kane, a prominent dramatic artist, during his recent visit at the college as a member of Walter Hampden's cast of the stage play "Cyrano de Bergerac." Mr. Kane took a major role in "Justice" when it was shown for the first time in England.

Members of the cast are as follows: Grant McCullough, Gerald Garlid, Leonard Gilles, Clifford Swanson, Helen Swanson, John Dixon, Robert Benton, Lester Wyman, Gerald Stevens, Selden Catlin and Rod McMillen.

Retiring Commission Fetes New Members At Banquet Tonight

Installation Of New Officers Is Feature; Erling Thorson Is Toastmaster

Members of the new student commission will be honored at a dinner given at the Waldorf hotel this evening at 6:30 by the old commission, announces Mary Powers, retiring social chairman.

Installation and instruction to the new officers is a part of the program. Erling Thorson, retiring president, will be toastmaster.

Besides Thorson and Miss Powers, retiring officers are: Frank Seebart, commissioner of elections; Carl Velleu, commissioner of judiciary; Earl Grove, commissioner of campus; Jack Vincent, commissioner of public speaking; William Gray, commissioner of athletics; and Jack Simonitsch, commissioner of finance.

Donald Arthur, president; Carmen Hunt, commissioner of elections; Betty McMorran, commissioner of campus; Walter Schoenfelder, commissioner of athletics; Jeanette Lee, commissioner of finance; Frances Kingsbury, social commissioner; Ora Hammerud, commissioner of judiciary; and Maitland Wyard, commissioner of public speaking, comprise the new board.

J. H. Johnson and son Herbert, of Audubon, Minn., visited their son and brother, Elroy, at the Delta Tau house Saturday.

Alice Connolly and Gladys Tofte, Alpha Xi Beta, spent last week-end at their homes in Eckelson.

Has Play Lead

Grant McCullough, Fargo, as Falder, will have the leading role in "Justice" by John Galsworthy, to be presented by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club in the Little Country theater at 8 p. m. today.

Opera Company Gives Comic Presentation As Concluding Number

Simple Plot Marks Rossini's Opera With Two Acts, Three Scenes

One of the greatest comic operas playing in America today, "The Barber of Seville," by Rossini, will be presented in Festival hall on Thursday, April 21. This will be the concluding number on the twenty-first annual lyceum series at North Dakota State college for the 1932 season.

This opera is in two parts and three scenes, and was written in 13 days by Rossini. It was first presented in Rome, Feb. 5 1816, and first in New York on Nov. 29, 1825. The play takes place in Seville in the seventeenth century.

The plot is very simple. The illustrious Count Almaviva loves Rosina, the rich ward of Dr. Bartolo, a crusty old bachelor, who secretly wishes to marry her himself in order to secure her money. Almaviva persuades the village barber, Figaro, to arrange a meeting with her in a way to evade Dr. Bartolo's vigilance. Entrance into the house is gained by himself disguised as a soldier, and billeted there, Almaviva is arrested for his efforts.

Not discouraged, Almaviva returns, pretending to substitute for Rosina's music teacher, who, he says, is ill. The appearance of the real music (Continued on Page 3)

Production Students Select Committees

Class Sponsors Presentation Of "Faust" May 18; Arvold Supervises

Appointment of committees to have charge of various phases of work in the production of "Faust", sponsored by the class in advanced play production under the general supervision of A. G. Arvold, have been made. The production will be staged May 18 in keeping with the observance of the hundredth anniversary of the death of Goethe.

Ruth Peterson and Anne Heiberg will have charge of scenery; Helen Fredrickson, costuming; June Kremer, directing; Marie Wilds, music, and Joseph Paulson, publicity.

Special musical features will be planned with the play requiring a soloist, a chorus and an orchestra. The department of modern languages, headed by Dr. Leon Metzinger, is co-operating with plans. Although a cast has not yet been selected, it is expected that announcement of the players will be made soon.

EMPLOYEES OF COLLEGE RECEIVE TEN PERCENT CUT IN SALARIES SOON

Board of Administration Calls Meeting of College Staff In Theater Monday

BIG TAX DEFICIT CAUSE

Saves $110,500 At N. D. S. C.; Reduction Effects All Of State Institutions

Salaries of all employees at the North Dakota State college will suffer a 10% cut commencing July 1 1932, which will be instrumental in saving the institution approximately $110,500.

At a meeting of 230 members of the college staff in the Little Country theater yesterday, the state board of administration announced a uniform reduction of salaries to accommodate a new budget to be prepared by President Shepperd in the near future.

The cut was prompted by failure of the state to receive necessary taxes for the operation of the college budget as formerly and will be effective at all state institutions.

Tax appropriations for the maintenance of the institution are 19% short of past years and may mount to a 25% shortage in the near future, states John L. Steen, state auditor.

A $25,000 shortage of the $60,000 estimated to be received from money loaned through safe security on state lands adds to the deficit necessitating a new system of budgeting.

The cut will effect all departments of the college and also the extension and experimental divisions.

Summer Session Has Several Innovations, Says Dean A. D. Weeks

June 14 To July 22 Are Dates; Officials Arrange New Courses, Instructors

The 1932 summer session at North Dakota State college featuring several new courses, special lectures, and new instructors, begins June 14 lasting until July 22, according to Dean Arland D. Weeks of the school of education.

Courses in the schools of agriculture, chemistry, education, home economics, mechanic, arts and science and literature will be given. They are divided into two divisions, unit and basic courses. Basic courses are intended primarily for college fundamental work for students and teachers, while the unit courses are offered for parental education and for unit credits.

Included in the special courses are band and orchestra direction, music appreciation, coaching athletics, library management, and a course in contemporary methods of education in European and oriental countries.

Dr. Charles L. Bane, Duluth, author of the book, "Lecture in College Teaching," and now employed in the extension service of the University of Minnesota, will give special lectures on contemporary education and applied psychology. Dr. Bane has had advanced work at the University of Chicago, University of Toronto and University of de Nancy, France. "Character Education" will be the subject of a special lecture by Principal B. C. Tighe of Central high school. John A. Page, director of state secondary education, will lecture on "The State Department of Public Instruction and the High School Manual." Dean Alba Bales, home economics dean, will lecture on "Child and Parental Education." Dr. E. C. Stakman, internationally known plant pathologist, will give another lecture.

Unit courses included in the study for the summer are educational guidance, bird study, radio and television, floriculture, amateur photography, peace movement, and extra-curricular activities.

(Editor's Note: Amid cries of "Cheerio," "Migawd! That Guy!" and other expressions of huzzah, we introduce to you the Campus Sand-Bagger of 1931, Peepin' Pete, otherwise known as Harold Peterson, Aimee Semple McPherson, and Cap'n Billy. When we picked him out of the gutter near the Crystal Ballroom last night he was about to be arrested on a technical charge of fragrancancy (a Blessed Event). The old meanie just would insist on writing a column for us so here he is. His writing always exudes the racy flavor of the stable yard, but why horse around?) (Author's Note: That was swell, Miss Editor! But really, I've been thrown out of better places than that. I didn't mind it. Not after I hit the bottom step, anyway. Then it felt so good when they stopped. I thought I knew that gal. Honest. That officer, one of Fargo's Finest, I've heard tell, was awfully unreasonable. But for the last time, Marge, who was that guy I seen you with last night? Noblesse oblige!)

Science Progress

By T. W. JOHNSON

Potato breeding work is being done at this Agricultural Experiment station by Prof. A. F. Yeager, horticulturist, with the idea of producing a new variety that will be early, a heavy yielder, attractive, shallow-eyed with good cooking qualities and one that is resistant to diseases of all kinds. The work was started in 1930 when seed balls were planted in the greenhouse. From these seedlings which were transplanted to the field he produced 4,000 plants. These gave tubers about the size of marbles. In all succeeding crops, however, the tubers were of the regular size. Selections are being made each year.

Tests conducted by Prof. J. A. Munro, entomologist, have definitely proven the two pound package of bees with a queen is the most satisfactory size for honey production in the state. The packages as a rule purchased from beemen in the southern states, are used by North Dakota beemen for restocking hives or for increasing the size of the apiary.

Seventy-four steers recently completing a 140-day feeding trial at the Agricultural Experiment station under the supervision of Profs. F. W. Christensen, E. J. Thompson, and Director P. F. Trowbridge, dressed out 13 choice, 3 medium and 1 common carcass.

Producing 21,482 pounds of milk and 743.1 pounds of butterfat over a period of one year on twice a day milking, Inka, a senior two-year-old Holstein cow, owned by the North Dakota State college, captured the world's record in her class. Her average test was 3.5 percent. She is the second cow owned by the college to make a world record within the past year. Inka is the third generation from an old foundation cow, Madison Miss Ormsby, according to Prof. J. R. Dice, head of the dairy husbandry department.

THETA CHI OFFICIALS VISIT LOCAL CHAPTER

Prof. George Starr Lasher, Ohio university, national president of Theta Chi, and Mr. Robert H. Hoge of Huntington, West Virginia, national executive secretary of Theta Chi, will visit the local chapter house this week on their way to North Dakota university where the local fraternity, Alpha Psi Delta, will be installed at Beta Gamma, forty-ninth chapter of Theta Chi fraternity.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA HAS MEETING WEDNESDAY

For their annual business meeting, members of Alpha Phi Omega, honorary chemistry fraternity, will have a dinner meeting in Ceres hall at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, announces Frank Seebart, retiring master chemist. Besides the annual election of officers, other regular business will be brought up. Clifford Bowman is in charge of banquet arrangements.

ELIZABETH OLSON GETS SCHOLARSHIP BRACELET

Because she raised her average 13 points during the winter term, Elizabeth Olson, junior in home economics, was awarded a silver bracelet bearing the crest of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, by the North Dakota Alumnae association of the sorority last week. The award is made each term to the active member having the greatest increase in scholastic average since the previous term. The custom was inaugurated last fall term when Eleanor Payne was awarded a bracelet.

but Mr. Berdahl painted them as cheap, degrading lies. "They are cheap, degrading lies," was the way he put it.

Mr. Berdahl was also asked to make a statement regarding the rumor that the party favors would consist of hand-embroidered ear-muffs.

"You'll just have to favor us with your presence," he said coyly.

"Whispering Jim," when queried as to his possibilities of entering Bloo Gee Fraternity as the result of being elected to J. B. Leader by the "Hawg-it-all" frame, said glumly, "Yeah, Bloo Gee always does take in those guys, don't they?" And I hear it's four bits for every slug of grub over there too.

(Editor's note: That is life for you in the big city.) (Author's Note: Who the heck asked you about it?)

The Junior Ball is an annual affair sponsored by The Spectrum and downtown pool-halls and has undoubtedly put more students through school than any other one single event. Tickets are now on sale at the Gamma Phi house and telephone booths.

Ten Per Cent Cuts

The proposed ten per cent cut in salaries effecting all departments of the college and also the extension division and the experiment station became a reality yesterday when the state board met on our campus. Last week we viewed with alarm the proposed cut, but the reduction seems inevitable.

Because of the cut we fear that our campus may lose some of our better members who may receive more inviting opportunities in other schools. Such a movement, if it involves even more than a few instructors, is likely to threaten the standard which our school is maintaining.

We cannot expect instructors to neglect opportunities offering greater financial returns or other benefits, but in view of the fact that salary cuts are being made at collegiate institutions throughout the nation, we may only hope that this institution will not be seriously affected.

A reduction in the budget was necessary, and since it was deemed advisable to make inroads on the salaries of faculty members in accomplishing this end, we can do little more than face the facts, hoping that this phase of the depression will treat us kindly and that normal economic conditions will soon come to the rescue.

A Pleasant Outlook

"Eloquence might seem insincere." This line in "Cyrano de Bergerac" characterizes the interpretation given by Walter Hampden Wednesday night. We feel fortunate in having seen him and only regret that such an opportunity is not presented to us more often.

Because our opportunities for professional drama are so few we have, of necessity, turned to amateur possibilities which according to remarks made by Hampden, Wednesday noon, is a good tendency. The Little Country theater and the Edwin Booth dramatic club, said Hampden, are carrying on dramatic activities that have a much wider scope and do more for genuine artistic appreciation of the theater than an occasional production such as his own.

We feel that he is right in that here on this campus we have a wealth of material, capable guidance, and enough possibilities so that the lack of professional entertainment need not alarm us unduly.

Certainly the Brevities presentations last week startled and convinced many skeptics who claimed that competition was necessary for a successful show. In a revue of such a varied nature almost every type of artistic work was represented. The fact that this work was so successfully done proves that with the proper direction and management even midwest amateurs can do accomplish worthwhile things.

This evening the Edwin Booth Dramatic club is presenting "Justice," a play by the noted English playwright, John Galsworthy. This is one of Galsworthy's better known vehicles and it will be interesting to see this interpretation. To complete two weeks of dramatic endeavor we have "The Barber of Seville" scheduled for next Tuesday night coming here with a Chicago Opera company. All in all then looking both backward and forward the outlook is pleasant.

We View With Alarm!

YOKEL LOUTH RAKES GOOD!

"If This Be Reason Make a Boast of It," Avers Peepin' Pete

While the temple bells tinkle faintly in the pagados of learning at N. D. State, and while we splash merrily in the gutter, it is very amusing for an outsider to watch and hear the bucolic blatherings of the Voices in the Wilderness, the alleged "campus Politicians." Evidently, with time and trouble weighing heavily on their lily-white hands they must needs launch another Noble Experiment that to us seems Just Around the Corner (for the next twenty years).

You must have guessed it, oh readers fair. We are referring now to the off-color innuendoes thrown at the good old "Hawg-it-all" or "Bog-it-all" Party now wallowing contentedly in the campus mire.

Now, like the national politicians who stand with one foot on the Sahara and the other on the brass rail, our own bibulous blarney Boosters tell us that are are soon to enjoy the blessings of a fast-rate newspaper, lower-priced text-books, and who-knows-what-all. It is delightful to see this hors d'oeuvre as offered on the golden platter.

In this land of the Rave and the home of the True Story it is also interesting to watch our zealots giving so much of their time and midnight oil to the cause of a truly Democratic Campus. Such interest must be reserved. Or words to that defect!

What a sense of security the little first-year toddlers will feel when they make their hieira to the pearly portals of N. D. State for their freshman year! There will be no evil temptors to lead them down the long, long trail to the flesh-pots of Sodom and Gemorrah, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Instead, the new "Student Commission" will snatch them from the primrose path—to lead them to higher things. While the "rank and vile" of the campus chuckle inwardly at the tom-tom thumpers and the petty "political" balderdash gag that college students use to kill time with, those that preserve even a modicum of common sense will laugh at it all as an argument for higher education. For who cares?

Berdahl Gets Cut In J. B. Salary

J. B. May Be Postponed; Shepperd Loses Ticket

Pausing long enough to greet us from behind a stack of fan-mail piled up on his desk at the Gamma Phi house, Jimmy Melvin Berdahl, known to the second-story men and cronies as "Whispering Jim," confirmed rumors that he had accepted a cut in his salary as Junior Ball leader, and that there was a possibility of the ball itself being postponed due to President Shepperd misplacing his ticket.

Mr. Berdahl admitted that several pawn shops were being searched and questioned in conjunction with the missing pasteboard.

Rumor had it that there would be several Juniors in the line of march,

BISON GRIDDERS BEGIN SCRIMMAGE WORK THIS WEEK IN GRID SESSIONS

Annual Game Of Yellow And Green Team Forms Season Climax

SPEEDY BACKS CONTEST FOR REGULAR POSITIONS

Injuries Force Several Men From Practice Beginning of Fall Season

After a week of practice in game fundamentals, blocking, tackling and new plays, the Bison gridders are now launched in a strenuous week of scrimmage, according to "Casey" Finnegan, head coach.

The Bison gridders are working up gradually into football form for the climax of the spring session, the game between the Green and Yellow teams of Bison gridders. The game will be played under all new rules set by the football coaches, Coach Finnegan announces. Teams will not be picked from the North Dakota State college football aspirants until just before the game.

Stars To Be Chosen

"It is hard to pick individual stars on the team as yet," Finnegan says. "This week of tough scrimmage will most likely show up the stars who will be chosen to make the trip to West Point next fall."

Milton Jacobson, curly thatched end, has been doing some good punting during the first week of practice and Johnny Fisher and Morris Ellingson, pony backs, have been doing some real "turf ripping," the athletic director admitted. His comments were few.

Backs Have Speed

Indications point to the fastest backfield in four years for the 1932 Bison, information from the training camp reveals.

Besides the speedy veterans, Johnny Fisher and Morris Ellingson, Fritz Hanson, Art Stege, Milton Hollister, Walter Johnke Leo Gerteis and Gordon Wallace are among the freshman candidates for next year varsity positions with ability to carry the football at a fast pace. Viv McKay, a consistent ground gainer, and "Peck" McEssy, blocking backs, are again out to retain their team positions against the versatile freshmen.

Injuries are keeping several promising candidates on the bench during this "most important" spring practice, which is an unfortunate fact, according to Finnegan. Among those absent are George May, triple threat back; Wendell Schollander, passing and ball carrying halfback; and Herb Peschel, tackle. The early fall practice and the football "training table" has been eliminated for the coming season. Filling the tackle posts of Rod McMillen and Walt Shamp, graduating lettermen, is still one of the largest problems of the spring session of football, Coach Bob Lowe says. Freshmen candidates are being recruited to pair up with Captain "Dolly" Schoenfelder, all-conference tackle, on the forward wall of the Bison team.

OPERA COMPANY GIVES COMIC PRESENTATION

teacher, Don Basilio, upsets the plan, and the Count retreats a second time, but not before he has arranged a plan for elopement.

Dr. Bartolo finally arouses Rosina's jealousy by pretending that the Count loves another. She promises to forget him, and marry her guardian. When the time for elopement arrives, she meets the Count, intending to reproach him, but he convinces her of the treachery of Dr. Bartolo. The lovers are married by a notary just as Bartolo arrives with officers to arrest the Count.

Novel about this opera, is the fact that the melodies will be sung in the English language instead of in Italian. The dialogue will be spoken instead of chanted to the music, which will make the opera more clear.

Kathryn Brown, famous Chicago Civic Opera company contralto, and wife of the producer of the Festival Opera company, created the enthusiasm which prompted her husband to develop the opera in earnest. She made remarks on its humor and consequently the young manager took it over. The Festival Opera company has presented it over 100 times, having toured from coast to coast for several seasons. This is one of the few grand operas where "everyone lives happily ever after."

General admission for the opera will be fifty cents. Reserved seats may be secured for one dollar. Students of the college will be admitted upon presentation of their registration cards.

RIFLE TEAM RENAMES ED COMM CAPTAIN

Edward Comm, Fargo, was re-elected captain of the North Dakota State college rifle club at a meeting held on the rifle range Monday afternoon. James Newton, Fargo, was appointed team manager.

The question of emblems or charms to be given members of the team was also brought up at the meeting, and it was decided to hold the annual banquet of the team at some later time in the term.

Rifle Team's Score In Intercollegiate Match Beats Record

Marksmen Fire Score Bettering Former High Mark Made In Match of 1929

North Dakota State rifle team's score in the National Intercollegiate match for 1932, 7694, is the best that has been fired by any team representing the school in the matches, according to Capt. J. B. Conny, rifle team coach. The next best score, fired by the school's team in 1929, was 7691, which won the match that year.

The score fired in the National Intercollegiate match by stages are: first stage, 1929; second, 1929; third, 1829; and fourth, 1981. "Although the 7691 score ranks very high it is doubtful if this score will place among the first four, due to improvement in the class of shooting by other teams throughout the United States," said Conny.

The scores fired in the fourth and last stage of the match are as follows (ten high men out of the fifteen composing the team):

Name	Pr.	Kn.	Tot'l.
Edward Comm	99	99	198
Walter Bartholomew	99	100	199
Wayne Curtis	99	99	198
Lawrence Forman	100	99	199

Students Have Choice Of Practice Teaching In Education Courses

Professor Iverson Has General Supervision Of Teaching For Experimentation

Because practical experience in teaching and teaching observation has become necessary to acquiring a position, classes in practice teaching have grown rapidly, 41 students being enrolled this term under Prof. P. J. Iverson, general supervisor.

"That the modern teachers college must have an educational laboratory for purposes of teaching, observation, and experimentation" is the opinion of Professor Iverson. "Because this requirement has become so much in demand, it has become almost necessary to have one person devote his whole time to its direction and control." The school of education requires that all graduates have at least five hours of teaching and teaching observation done in the line of their major or minor subject. Practice teaching is done in the agricultural high school, under the supervision of college instructors, with Professor Iverson as the general director and administrative executive. Arrangements have been made with the city schools system so students may do their observation in Central high school, and in Roosevelt Junior high school.

Instructors supervising student teaching are: C. A. Severson, history; F. M. Litchfield, commercial law; Leon Metzinger, foreign languages; A. N. Solberg, biology; S. E. Tyler, geology; W. R. Wenger, chemistry; Eloise Waldron, English; Paul E. Zerby, social science; Ruby Grimes, mathematics; C. C. Finnegan, boys physical education; and Helen Ballard, girls physical education.

Student teachers are: history, Phyllis Grobe, Vern Goodwin, Don Brasseur, Sylvia Panimon; commercial law, Donald Oros; French, Lucy Bowman; biology, Myrna Ottinger, Blair Seitz; physical geography, George Fairhead, Forrest Owens, Erling Thorson; chemistry, E. M. Hanson, Hugo Bergsten, Don Brasseur, Robert Freeman, John Rooney, and John Walker; English, Cordelia Blount, Phyllis Grobe; social science, Emilybelle Craigo, Muriel Johnson, Mavourneen Todd, Minerva Streed, Bernice Streit; mathematics, Ovidia Carstens, Virginia Landquist,

COLLEGE 'Y' MEMBERS GO TO VALLEY CITY

Six members of the college Y. M. C. A. will attend the state Y. M. C. A. conference to be held in Valley City on April 29 and 30 and May 1. Leo Anderson, Y president, will head the delegation, which includes the following men: Erling Thorson, Harrison Maker, Don Lawrence, Jordan Engberg, Gordon Prescott, and Harry Hanson. Accompanying them will be Lars Jensen and Thomas King.

Besides the delegates from this school, representatives from Minot State Teachers college, North Dakota university, Jamestown college, Ellendale Normal and Industrial school, and Valley City State Teachers college will also attend the convention.

Guidon Has Military Idea As Party Theme

Canniff, Seebart Lead Grand March For Formal Ball Saturday

Using the military idea as the main feature of the decorations, Guidon, national military organization for women, gave its spring formal Saturday night in Festival hall.

The grand march was led by Jane Canniff, honorary cadet colonel, and her guest, Frank Seebart, followed by Ethel Cone honorary lieutenant colonel, and her partner, Hjalmer Johnson. Guests included members of the local chapter of Scabbard and Blade and members of the college military staff. Maj. and Mrs. E. A. Lathrop, Lieut. and Mrs. Fay Smith, and Capts. and Mmes. J. B. Conmy, and H. J. McChrystal were chaperons.

As a new feature the guest book was installed which each member and her guest signed.

Cally Berrigan; history, Carl Miller, Jack Grohne; physical education, Jack Grohne, Bernice Streit; and English, Cecelia Deuser and Helen Fitch.

Students enrolled for observation only are: Mildred Bergene, Aura Charbonneau, Ross Cone, Virginia Davis, Vern Goodwin, Lois Julian, Audrey Medley, Dortha Olson, Josephine Olness, Ruth Peterson, and D. C. Rustand.

Joyce Peterson is serving as dean of girls in the agricultural high school for the second term. Prof. P. J. Iverson is advisor of high school students and professor of education besides general director of all student teaching.

Campus Fraternities Conduct Initiations For Thirty-Two Men

Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma Chi, Theta Chi, Delta Tau Groups Initiate

Continuing the series of initiations being conducted by fraternities on the campus, four men's social groups held formal services last weekend admitting 32 pledges to active membership.

Besides admitting eight pledges, Alpha Tau Omega initiated one alumnus, Arthur Saylor, at services in the chapter house Sunday. Phillip Koppang, president, was in charge. Other initiates were: James Morris, Vaughn Morris, Richard Vogelsang, Frank Sanders, William Krause, Arnold Chamberlin, Erling Schranz and Rueben Trom. New members were honored at a banquet at 6:30.

A recognition dinner was given for six new members of Delta Tau Epsilon Sunday noon. Formal initiation services were conducted Saturday night for Emery Braash, Ryder; Julian Rostvedt, Newberg; Roy Erickson, Sheyenne. Norval Nerdahl, Sharon; Alfred Ballweg, Jamestown; and Elroy Johnson, Audubon, Minn.

Hartley Eckstrom, Kappa Sigma Chi president, was in charge of formal services admitting Earl Jennings, Fargo; Gordon Heggenes, Fargo; Ralph Hanson, Kindred; Lloyd Owen, Kindred; Verne Kasson, Blaisdell; Joseph Aasen, Hatton; Russell McLagan, Lake Park, Minn; and Stanley Baeder, New Rockford. Services were held Sunday morning in the chapter house with a dinner served in honor of the initiates Sunday noon.

Nine pledge members were initiated by Phi chapter of Theta Chi fraternity when formal services were held in the chapter house on Sunday afternoon. Max Hughes and Del Smith, past president and pledge master respectively, were in charge of arrangements with the assistance of the other past officers.

The initiates include: Melvin Hanson and Arthur Stege, Perham, Minn.; Douglas Lang, Mandan; Earl Thomas, Grafton; Hill Elwin and Roger Zimmerman, Breckenridge, Minn.; Clifford Swanson, Fargo; Robert Burke, Washington, D. C.; and Russell Fryer, Do-land S. D.

SIGMA DELTA ADMITS THREE NEW MEMBERS

Myrl Hoar, Don Nichols, and Jane Nichols were admitted into active membership in Sigma Delta, discussion club, at its regular meeting Sunday night in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter. Don Nichols was leader of the discussion which centered around the prohibition question in this country. Merlyn Jahr will be leader at the next meeting to be held May 1; he has not yet announced his subject for discussion.

PARTY FOR BREVITIES CAST GIVEN APRIL 23

A party will be given on Friday evening, April 23, in Festival hall, for all students who appeared in the Bison Brevities cast, it is announced by Kenneth Wyard, who is in direct charge of arrangements.

It is planned to have the party in the nature of a night club, with a master of ceremonies, and performers who were in the cast of the Brevities putting on skits between the dances. Bill Euren's Collegians will provide the music, and hours will be from 8:30 to 9:30.

Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity was the winner of the ticket sales trophy given by Blue Key to the organization that sold the largest number of tickets, according to William Gray, ticket sales manager of the Brevities. Theta Chi fraternity took second place.

BULLETINS

Delta Beta will not meet Thursday, April 21, as scheduled but meets April 23.

Because of the many activities scheduled for the spring term the Y. M. C. A. has decided to discontinue plans for the Y Carnival announced some time ago.

Plans for the engineers' openhouse will be considered at a meeting of the Engineers' club in room 22, engineering building, at 7:30 p. m. today.
