Recognized among the foremost edu-cators of today, Dr. William Trufant Foster, author, economist and a for-mer president of Reed college in Oregon, has been secured to deliver an address at a convocation in Festival hall at 9:40 a. m. Monday as the first of two convocation programs scheduled for the week by Dean A. E. Minard, chairman of the convocation committee

A college with no alumni, no stu-dents, no faculty and no traditions, was what faced Dr. Foster when he was handed an endowment of three million dollars and told to organize a college. Literally speaking, Dr. Foster organized Reed college from the ground

When the college was organized, it when the college was organized, it had as its dominant aim to stimulate intellectual curiosity and intellectual thinking, which still prevails as the aim of the institution today. Reed college was the first college to discard thinking, which still prevails as the aim of the institution today. Reed college was the first college to discard intercollegiate athletics by choice and requiring all students to participate regularly in out-of-doors sports. It was the first institution, likewise, to require theses and oral examination. require theses and oral examinations of all candidates for degrees.

Besides having his experience at Reed college, Dr. Foster has been a Reed college, Dr. Foster has been a be presented professor at Bates and Bowdoin colactive chapter who has maintained the leges, and has lectured at Harvard and leges, and has lectured at Harvard and logonal universities. Later he was year. The presentation will be made by Mrs. O. P. Jordheim, president of perience as a lecturer and author. Organization Chooses Region of Varied Geological Structure

A feld trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota to study rock formations vill be taken by members of the Geolgy club the latter part of this month, according to Donald Harris, club president.

The Black Hills region was chosen as the objective of the trip chiefly because of their varied geological strucure and because of the geological fornation of the intervening country. Rocks of the earliest type to those of most recent development are to be found in the Hills, as well as many unusual examples of erosion. This makes the Black Hills section the most complete geological country to be complete geological country to be found anywhere in North America, says Prof. Victor E. Jones, club

The Political Racket

During the past week it was interesting to note the antics of the juniors as they valiantly rallied to the aid of their frame and elected a prom mana-

We wish someone would tell us why every organization on the campus must meet in the Faculty-Alumni clubrooms. There is Festival hall and-there is Festival hall.

Most people on the campus have an exaggerated notion of their own im-portance. They think they are giving us a break when they let us publish their names.

The Delta Sig party tomorrow night is shrouded in a veil of mystery. One unsuspecting soul mentioned a "Bath-tub" party. Shades of Earl Carroll and his famous party a la champagne. But then we only heard it, still——

Some students on the campus will have two chances this week to prove that they have really reached the age of discretion. Convocation behavior at the Washington bicentennial program was anything but complimentary to college men and women. We don't like preaching, but somebody convinced us one time that it is as important and as much of an art to be a good listener as a good speaker.

Kappa Sigma Chi Upsets Delta Taus In Basketball Game

Alpha Gamma Rhos Defeat Alpha Sigma Taus In Second Upset of Week

With but two weeks remaining of the interfraternity basketball league being played off at the North Dakota State college, the Delta Tau Epsilon frater-ity is still in the lead for the championship. The Delta Taus have won nine games against one loss. Some post-poned games still remain to be played which will figure strongly in the decision for the championship.

Alpha Sigma Tau, Delta Kappa Sigma, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Kappa Psi all have a mathematical chance of annexing honors.

Delta Taus Lose

Scoring the biggest upset of the season, the Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity team easily defeated the league leading Delta Tau Epsilon quintet by the score of 25-15. So impregnable was the defense of the Kappa Sigma Chis, the Delta Taus were able to collect the Delta Taus were able to collect but a scant two points during the last half of the game. Richard Jordahl led both teams in scoring by collecting 11 points during the game

Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity estab-lished a new scoring record by garnering 56 points while the Sigma Phi Deltas could collect but five points. Joe Blakeslee also set up a new record for individual scoring by collecting 24 points during the game. This eclipses the record of 20 points which was established by Dolson Hill, Theta Chi center, during a game two weeks ago. Ronnie Qvenmoen and John Dixon scored 14 and 12 points respectively.

The Theta Chi team won a hard earned victory over the Alpha Tau Omega hoopsters by the score of 16-13. Milton Hollister, speedy Theta Chi forward, lead both teams in scoring with 11 points. Emmet O'Day was the most effective man for the A. T. O. squad with seven points.

Sigma Taus Lose

Scoring the second big upset of the week, the Alpha Gamma Rhos defeated the highly touted Alpha Sigma Tau team by the close score of 17-13. Alex Robertson was the sparkplug for the Rhos with 8 points while Milton Jacobson, high scorer of the league, was held to but five points.

Starting next week, three games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Between Halves By EVERETT WALLUM

Now that the basketball season is over, as far as the Bison are concerned, what of prospects for next year?

The Bison loss of five seniors is the heaviest in the conference but it is doubtful if next year's quint will suffer as seriously as Morn-ingside's. The Maroons lose Koberg, mainstay on that team for three years and an outstanding on a comparatively weak

It is a well known fact that the Bison are well supplied with freshmen. It's a good thing, too, considering the graduating athletes. Reports indicate South Dakota university has a powerful frosh squad while South Dakota State's yearlings are not below par. Both the South Dakota teams will spin between the strong spin he strong. again be strong.

FOR THE SAKE OF INTERESTING CONFERENCE COMPETITION IT WOULD BE WELL IF MORNINGSIDE COULD TAKE ON SOME STRENGTH FOR NEXT YEAR. THE IOWA MEM-BER OF THE LOOP HAS TURNED OUT SOME MIGHTY FINE CLUBS IN THE PAST AND IT IS MORE THAN LIKELY THAT MORNING-SIDE WILL REGAIN HER PRESTIGE WITHIN THE NEXT FEW YEARS.

North Dakota university will again be one of the most feared quints in the northwest. Her freshman team is below par but that won't hurt Letich's prospects any as Clem loses only Fel-ber from his regulars this year. He will have returning such stars as Smith, Meinhover, Dablow, Mullen, Jacobson and Malo. Not only that but he will have the best frosh net prospect in the loop in Witasek, the Lankin boy who stood head and shoulders above hi teammates in the Bison-Sioux yearling series. Witasek is a wonderful shot, fast driving player.

All of which means the Bison and Sioux will have a few words again next year.

Three Bison regulars will return giving Coach Saalwaechter an excel lent nucleus for another winning quint Arthur will be back at forward, McKay at guard and Weir at center. These three are all good scorers, were all prominently mentioned on all-conference teams.

If Walt Olson hadn't played a few minutes in a University game when he was a sophomore the high scoring southpaw would be eligible for another season under Bison colors. That would give Saaly four regulars.

BUT ITS PROBABLY JUST AS WELL TOO MANY VETERANS AREN'T BACK. IT WILL GIVE THE FROSH A CHANCE TO FIND OUT IF THEY'RE JUST A TEAM OF YEARLING PLAYERS OR OF VAR-SITY CALIBRE.

Assuming that the freshmen now attending college take their work seriously there should be some scrapping for positions next year. Bud Marquardt, Moorhead center and forward, doesn't know what it's like to play on a second team. He will bear watching.

Lyle Stinson, dark haired guard from Red Wing, will be a persistent bidder for the vacant guard post. Lyle is a fair shot, a good ball handler.

Saaly thinks much of Curt Dennenny, the pride of Borup, Minn., who is taller than Marquardt, and a ball hawk if there ever was one. Curt coached his own high school team, besides playing bangup ball.

One of the smoothest men on the floor and perhaps the one who has developed most this year is Acey Olson, Fargo. Like his father, Oscar of the Fargo. college barber shop, Acey has absorbed

Women Host In First Of Three Telegraphic Riflery Matches Wed.

Ripon and Oklahoma State Col-leges Shoot In Matches Next Week

The first of a series of three women's interscholastic telegraphic riflery matches was held in the Festival hall Wednesday, March 2.

The match was conducted between a team at Louisiana State college and a team at North Dakota State college. The scores made by each team will be mailed to the opposing team to deter-mine which team will win the match. The score made by the ten highest at the North Dakota State college was 956. This is an exceptionally good score according to Major E. A. Lathrop who conducted the match.

Those shooting high scores were: Evelyn Forman, 100; Mary McLane, 96; Rhoda Clausen, 97; Mary McNair, 96; Frances Hedner, 96; Cally Berrigan, 94; Elva Eklund, 94; Luella Anderson, 94; Virginia Nordgren, 93; Lola Reeves, 93; Rosella Bernard, 93.

The next two matches will be held next Wednesday with the college at Ripon, Wisconsin, and Oklahoma State

Conference Scoring Honors Go To Weir

Mienhover, Adkins Are Second, Lacking Only One Point To Place First

Scoring honors in the North Central basketball race in which North Dakota State emerged victorious goes to Bob Weir, Bison six foot seven inch center. Weir captured 76 points in the eight conference games played during the 1932 season. Ted Meinhover, North Dakota U center, and Steve Adkins, South Dakota U's brilliant forward and last two years high point man, were tied for second place, with 75 points each.

Weir's performance on the team this year marked him as one of the most outstanding centers of recent years. With a perfect coolness born of complete confidence, the big man from Fargo high school, maintained a calm composure during the hottest fracas. A majority of his points were results of tipin rebound shots from the oppon-ents backboard in which his height played a distinct advantage.

While in high school, Weir was handicapped by lack of experience, and not until his senior year did he play regularly on the first team. Under Coach Leonard Saalwaechter's tutelage he has progressed rapidly, how-ever, and promises to rise to even greater heights in his concluding season next year.

After having discarded it for some time, Southern Methodist university students are in favor of returning the honor system into the college curri-

ADVANCED CLASS GIVES POWERFUL MELODRAMA IN L. C. T. MARCH 15, 16

Arnold Directs Theater Players Cast For "Richelieu" In Two Performances

A powerful melodrama, with many tensely dramatic situations, delightful love scenes, and an interesting plot will be staged by the Little Country Theater players March 15 and 16 when the class in advanced play production sponsors the presentation of "Riche-lieu," says A. G. Arvold, head of the public discussion department who is supervising the production.

The plot of the drama includes a conspiracy directed against Cardinal Richelieu, due to jealousy of others for his great power over Louis XIII As the play opens, Chevelier de Mau-prat ,a young gallant, confides in the conspirator, Barados, that he is in dan-ger of death at the hands of Cardinal Richelieu. Barados, who is in love Julie, Richelieu's ward, is trying to enlist Mauprat with the conspirators. Richelieu, being aware of his ward's love for Mauprat, and admiring his sterling qualities, forgives him and arranges for their marriage. Louis XIII, also in love with Julie, orders the marriage annulled. Barados, by blaming Richelieu, persuades Mauprat to join the conspiracy.

Marion DeLorme, a spy of Richelieu tells of the plot against his life. The cardinal then orders Transois, a young page ,to dispatch a packet exposing the plans of the plotters, but the packet the plans of the plotters, but the packet is stolen by Mauprat.

Enraged by Richelieu's supposed treachery, Mauprat comes to slay the cardinal who cleverly reveals the hyprocrisy of Barados and wins the friendship of the young hero. Richelieu lies in his bed in pretended death. The crowd, believing him strangled by Mauprat during his sleep, leaves rejoiced.

With the murder of the cardinal, the king proceeds to order the death of Mauprat and the other rebels. Barados, now Louis' minister, attempts to win the love of Julie, who pleads for the life of her young husband, de Mau-When all seems lost, Richelieu, to the surprise and consternation of the Courtiers reenters the palace.

After a scene of hopeless entreaty with the king, Richelieu finds his power entirely ravished unless the packet can be regained. Francois recovers it from the conspirator, Huguet, now a prisoner in the bastile. This along with the necessity of deciding important matters of state expose the reaconspirators and the need for Richelieu 's statesmanship. Julie and de Mauprat are then reunited.

Jackson Presents Interesting Program

Contralto Gives Three Part Convocation Presentation Tuesday

Appearing in a convocation program st Tuesday morning, Lorna Doone Jackson, contralto, presented an un-usually interesting musical program.

Miss Jackson's program was divided into three parts giving a considerable variety in selections. "Habanera" from "Carmen" by Bizet, was received with enthusiasm by the audience. Other numbers that were particularly pleasing were "Quiet" by Sanderson, "The Spring Song" of the Robin Woman from 'Shanewis," and "Cargoes" by

The entire rendition of the program was dominated by Miss Jackson's personality. Her stage presence was ple ing and commanding. Miss Bertha Hagen was the soloist's accompanist.

Russia In 1931" Is Topic For Discussion At Regular Meeting of Club

Marjory Archer will lead the discussion at the meeting of the Sigma Delta discussion club which will be held Sunday evening at 6:30 in the dining room of the Graver hotel. As her subject Miss Archer has chosen "Russia in 1931." The problem will be attacked from two angles: What the de-pression has done to Russia; and Proaganda in Russia and what forms it has taken.

At this meeting officers for next year will be elected. Mart Vogel, president, appointed a committee of William Heller, chairman, Dr. Hunter, and Leonard Gilles, to make the nominations at the last meeting held February 28.

Opera Company Gives "Barber of Seville"

Takes Place of Greet Players On Schedule of Spring Lyceum Programs

The Festival Opera Company of Chicago, Ill., will present the opera "The Barber of Seville," as a lyceum number on April 21, according to Prof. A. G. Arvold, who is in charge of lyceum arrangements.

"The Barber of Seville" is a well known opera, written in three acts by the composer Gioachino Rossini.

The presentation will be given in place of the appearance of the Ben Greet Players, who were originally scheduled to be here as a lyceum number on the same date, but who found it necessary to return to England be-cause of financial difficulties.
