ARDENT SIOUX FANS INVADE BISON CAMP FOR ANNUAL BATTLE

Great Northern Charters Special
 Leaving Grand Forks
 At 4 P. M. Today

UNIVERSITY BAND MAKES TRIP SOUTH

Two Hundred Students Come To
 Fargo, Says Late Student
 Dispatch

By DON REINOEHL

Raging blizzards and tyrannical profs will mean absolutely nothing to ardent Sioux fans who will follow their basketball team down here to Fargo for the game that will go a long way towards determining the conference cage champs for the current season.

A special train, chartered over the Great Northern, will leave Grand Forks for the south at 4 o'clock; and should, unless hot-boxes or accidents prevent, reach here something before 7 o'clock.

Among the raging crowd thirsting for Bison blood will be John Howard's University Concert band, spurred on by the hope of drowning the 'Come Join Our Sunday School' song of North Dakota State.

It is expected that two hundred or more Nodak students will make the trip, according to advices received from The Dakota Student late Thursday night. Special rates are being granted the truant travelling Sioux, and the return half of the ticket is rumored to be good over Sunday, so probably Fargo will resound to Sioux war hoops of victory, it is hoped, over the weekend. If the war hoops turn out to be consolation yowls, pardon the writer.

There have been no new developments concerning the men of the University team, and it is expected that Letich will use the outfit that functioned so well in their last game. Neither camp is making extravagant claims of victory.

Pep Club Sponsors Dance After Game

University Students Admitted
 To All-College Party
 Saturday Night

James Parkins, president of the Pep club, announces that the college has granted permission to University students to attend the Pep club dance following the second University-State basketball game.

All college functions are protected to students by the custom of requiring one member of each couple to have a registration card. For the Pep club dance University credentials will also be accepted, for it is expected that many University students will attend the dance. It will start immediately after the game in Festival hall with Billy Euren's Collegians playing.

GUEST EDITOR ATTENDS GAMES THIS WEEKEND

Don Reinoehl, Student editor, is a guest at the Alpha Sigma Tau house. On Thursday noon he was honored at a luncheon given by the Board of Publications; Thursday evening he was a dinner guest at the Delta Kappa Sigma house. Tonight and tomorrow night he will attend the annual basketball series and the Pep club dance in Festival hall.

The Mothers' club of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity held a benefit bridge party at the home of Mrs. J. C. Vincent, Tuesday afternoon.

Y CABINET MEETS WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Plans for the Washington Tea, to be given Feb. 22, were discussed at a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet held in the Y rooms at 4 p. m. Wednesday. The state convention which is to be held in Valley City, N. Dak., and the national conference in Minneapolis, Minn., were also discussed. Both of these affairs will take place in May. Jane Canniff, cabinet president, was in charge of the meeting. Erllys Hill led the devotionals.

Colonial Ball And Tea Are Planned For Bicentennial

Departments On Campus Are Contributing Displays In Historical Exhibit

Washington exhibits will constitute the third episode in the college observance of the George Washington Bicentennial program, it has been announced by Dr. W. C. Hunter, head of the committee in charge of the celebration. These exhibits will be presented in Old Main at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 21. Miss Harriet Pearson, assistant librarian, and Audrey Medley have been placed in charge of this part of the exposition.

A colonial exhibit, contributed to by various departments on the campus, will be on display in the library and the green room of the public speaking department. In the library, Prof. A. G. Arvold will show pictures of Mt. Vernon and of colonial costumes which he secured on a recent visit to Washington.

In the middle room of Old Main will be a replica of Mt. Vernon, built by architecture students; a display of surveying instruments, as used by Washington, arranged by the local branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; a sand table, outlining one of Washington's campaigns, made by Scabard and Blade, military fraternity; and an exhibit of colonial farming, represented by the school of agriculture, with Frederick Nunns in charge.

The school of home economics will display its exhibit in the north room. It will feature colonial textiles, furniture, and household furnishings. Included in the collection will be coverlets, pewter and brass ware, ladder back chairs, a warming pan, and a candle snuffer. Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics sorority will be in charge of a colonial kitchen, to be shown in the Lincoln Log cabin. Haile Chisholm, college blacksmith, is forging pieces for the kitchen's fireplace. Dean Alba Bales, Minnie Anderson, Lois Minard and Ruth Barrett are directing the work on these exhibits.

In each room there will be a number of large water color paintings, done by the students of the architecture department, which are reproductions of famous historic pictures by Gilbert Stuart and J. G. Ferris on file in the college library.

Before the spectators leave they will be invited to the Lincoln Log cabin, where a colonial tea will be served them by home economics students in the colonial kitchen. Miss Constance Leeb and Eleanore Erickson are in charge of the tea.

Tableaux, featuring important periods in the lives of George and Martha Washington, will also be presented the same afternoon.

Gilbert Stewart, Burt Miller, Andrew Freeman, and Neil Webber will be guests of Alpha Gamma Rho over the weekend.

Messrs. George Pardoe and C. Erickson were dinner guests at the Alpha Sigma Tau house Wednesday.

BLUE KEY REMODELS FESTIVAL HALL FOR VAUDEVILLE REVUE

Fraternity Plans Largest Brevities In History of College, Says Konen

For the 1932 edition of the Bison Brevities, Blue Key fraternity plans the remodeling of Festival hall to accommodate the presentation of the student vaudeville revue March 7 and 8. The last ten rows of seats are to be raised in order to improve the present seating arrangements.

New curtains have been ordered and special lighting features are being arranged, according to James Konen, manager of the show. The seating capacity of Festival hall is 1100 as compared with 985 for Fargo high school where the show was held last year.

A 25 piece dance band is to be the feature of the final act of the show. Billy Euren, who is in charge of the directing, is holding daily practice in preparation for the event. A final elimination of the choruses is scheduled for this weekend according to the dancing directors of the production.

19 Scenes Planned

More than 150 students will be cast in the 19 scenes, the largest Brevities attempted at this school. There will be six large scenes featuring singing, dancing, and comedy according to the present plans for the show. Beside the regular cast over 30 students will be employed on the producing staff including electricians, stage hands, property men, directors. Eight sewing machines have been procured for making the costumes by Miss Margaret Dadey, assistant production manager.

Material for the costumes has been ordered from New York City and is expected to arrive here some time next week. Beginning Feb. 23, short radio programs are to be broadcast over station WDAY, the management announced late yesterday.

Service Fraternity Elects Three Men

Blue Key Makes Up Complete
 Rehearsal Schedule For

Those elected are Glenn Reichert, senior in the school of agriculture; Mart Vogel, junior in the school of science and literature; and Earl Grove, junior in the school of pharmacy.

Additional plans were made for the Bison Brevities production including a practice schedule. Persons in the Brevities are advised to watch the bulletin board for the complete schedule of rehearsals starting with those scheduled for tomorrow.

Plans are under way for a joint Alpha Gamma Rho—Alpha Gamma Tau Omega party in Festival hall, Friday evening, February 19, which will be given by the pledges of the fraternities, according to Howard Renwick, Alpha Tau Omega pledge and Albert Herner, Alpha Gamma Rho who are in charge of the dance.

Lawritson To Attend Educational Meeting At Washington D. C.

Instructor Goes To National Convention of N. E. A.
 And Kappa Delta Pi

Announcing that he will attend some meetings of the National Education Association convention, Glenn S. Lawritson, instructor in education, is preparing for his trip to the bi-annual convocation of Kappa Delta Pi, at Washington, D. C., Feb. 22, 23, and 24. Both conventions are meeting at the same time in Washington.

Mr. Lawritson is the delegate of Gamma Delta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity. Gamma Delta, local chapter, installed May 1, 1931, functioned for three years previous on the campus as an education club.

The convocation will open Monday afternoon, Feb. 22, with reports of various committees and officers. Tuesday morning a new constitution and set of by-laws will be submitted with the afternoon devoted to a round-table discussion of the various chapter meetings by the delegates. Dr. William Heard Kilpatrick, outstanding philosopher of education at the Teacher's college of Columbia university, will address the convocation at dinner in the Washington hotel on the subject of changing education for a changing civilization, according to Mr. Lawritson.

Officers will be elected at a business meeting Wednesday morning with adjournment officially set for two in the afternoon. Those who desire are provided a trip to Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, Mr. Lawritson says.

He continues that he will attend the University of Washington dinner, Wednesday evening, given in honor of the National Education Association convention department of superintendence of which Mr. Lawritson is a member. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, President Robert M. Hutchins of Chicago university, and Dr. C. H. Judd, director of the school of education at Chicago university, will each speak at this meeting.

Other meetings Mr. Lawritson says he will visit are a program Wednesday evening which has as a theme, "Education for a Changing Social, Economic and Political World," at which Mark Sullivan, prominent journalist, will speak on the political phase, and a historical pageant given under auspices of the George Washington bicentennial mission, will be presented.

POTENTIAL CONFERENCE TITLE IS AT STAKE

Bison Team In Good Shape
 For Age Old Battle
 With Sioux

By SELDEN CATLIN

The highest rung in the ladder of cage interest will be mounted when the North Dakota university floorers meet the strong Bison team, present conference leaders, at the new gym here tonight in the first of two games to be staged by the powerful North Dakota teams over the weekend. The first clash will be given North Central conference rating.

To the age old rivalry of the Bison-Nodak battles will be added the importance of a fight for a potential conference title with the result that local fans may be assured of seeing one of the rarest performances of recent years.

Coach Leonard T. Saalwaechter completed strenuous practice for his squad Tuesday night with a lengthy scrimmage against the freshmen and Wednesday and Thursday practices were devoted to polishing up floor plays and shooting in preparation for the rigid battle of this evening.

Bison In Good Shape

The Bison success this season in the conference fight has been primarily due to an all-star cast of netmen that get results by consistent cooperation. No one individual has displayed a particularly spectacular type of basketball over any series of games but the lack of one or two outstanding point getters is more than offset by the well balanced work of a better than average five. That eliminates the possibility of any supposedly dependable Sure Shot Charley having an off night when a big game is on deck.

The entire team is in first class condition after a rest from the back-breaking pace they maintained on their three game trip to the southern end of the conference, according to "Saaly." If they lagged a bit in the last game (Continued on page 4)

College German Club Make Program Plans

Yvonne Fleury Will Address
 Delta Beta At Regular Meeting Thursday

Delta Beta, college German club, will hold a meeting next Thursday at the Y. M. C. A., according to Sylvia Panimon, club secretary. Howard Kilbourne is president of the organization.

A feature of this program will be a talk by Miss Yvonne Fleury, instructor in modern languages, who will speak on life in German Switzerland. This will be the third of a series of talks given by faculty members. Dr. Leon Metzinger gave the first talk on the "German School System." The second paper was given by Mr. F. W. Werking on the "German Youth Movement."

This meeting will be devoted to business matters to a great extent. Amendments dealing with compulsory attendance of members will be voted on. Also a census will be taken in order to ascertain the entertaining capacities of the organization. At this meeting, as is the usual procedure, roll call will be answered by responding with a German proverb.

Better Relations

So many cooperative remedies have been offered of late that now, when someone mentions cooperation, we throw up our hands and utter a despairing "Oh My!"

But pull your hands down, folks, and smother the exclamation, for there will be no talk of cooperation.

Instead, mention will be made of the need for better relations, involving more perfect coordination, between the two major educational institutions of the state. Of course, that might be called cooperation, but never mind.

Vigorously exhibited athletic rivalry is to be expected, and that is as it should be. The slight differences, however, that arise in a football or basketball clash, should not be allowed to permeate all the relations between the two schools and their student bodies.

Such a thing as perfect relations is not at all impossible, and not even improbable. The main essential is a realization of the fact that students at both the University and State college have a common background, and undoubtedly will be thrown together in life after school.

After all, if we were to get acquainted the problem would be practically solved. With that in mind, it would be well for State students to go a little out of their way to get to know University students. Likewise, when you make the trek up to Grand Forks, University students will be encouraged to extend themselves for your pleasure.

Then things will be on the way to a better understanding between the two schools—which is, after all, the purpose of this editorial exchange.

An Appreciation

The exchange of editors, inaugurated with The Student editor's visit here, is for the purpose of fostering better feelings between the two North Dakota schools.

The Student editor wishes to take this opportunity of thanking The Spectrum editor for making the exchange possible, and also to indicate his appreciation for the admirable courtesy and hospitality shown him.

Personally, he will go away with a great respect for the caliber of students at State college. He feels that here there is a great student body, worthy of the institution that gives the University such a close battle every year in football and basketball. And that isn't a dirty crack either.

Your editor, for this edition, has nothing but praise for the places he has been, the folks he has met, and the treatment accorded him—D. F. R.

The Bystander---

Recently Removed To Fargo, Looks Around At These Collegians and the Things They Do

This expedition is a new thing, experience or what have you for The Bystander. I might explain that the fellow writing this thing has assumed the nom de plume of The Bystander, although other people have characterized him in far less complimentary terms if you really must know.

What The Bystander started to say was that he is making this trip under a new light.

Formerly, he, with countless other staunch proponents of the Sioux tribe, has come down with a truculent sneer for all things connected with State college.

Swaggering around Fargo and the campus in a ferocious manner that destined any one making an aspersions on the University or complimenting the State college to an early, sudden and unpleasant demise, The Bystander hasn't ever really enjoyed himself.

How different this time. Timidly stepping off the train with a 'stranger-in-a-strange--and-hostile-country' feeling) The Bystander was immediately taken in charge and has been treated like the Prince of Wales ever since.

Everyone has been exceptionally cordial and hospitable—forcibly demonstrating the fact that you have as nice a school, as pleasing a campus, and as an attractive group of students as we have. By we, of course, are meant the hated Nodaks to the north.

But, you may say, we knew that all the time.

All right. What I am trying to get at is that those of you who have come up to our place with a firm and steadfast resolution to not be favorably impressed by anything or any one you may run across or see, will likewise be pleasantly surprised.

After all, the membership of both schools is a cross-section of the same group of people—located in the same region, with similar likings and allied interests.

Chances are, then, that we will be below par in what you are, and you will be good along the same lines as we.

Whence, then, all this bitterness of the past? A hearty rivalry in athletics is commendable, but from then on in the rivalry should be replaced by a cooperation as enthusiastic as the rivalry was hearty.

If The Bystander can help get across the idea that we are similarly composed groups striving for the same ends, but unfortunately located in two different cities (you know, the pork barrel had to get its share in those days as well as these) he will feel amply repaid for the trip—however the business manager of The Dakota Student may feel.

Tolerance for the University on your part, and for you folks on our part, is all that is necessary. What say?

The above lineoleum block was made by Ernest Wenner in conjunction with the editor's exchange. Mr. Wenner is majoring in art and journalism at the University of North Dakota and is the cartoonist for The Dakota Student.

BISON-NODAK FROSH PLAY FIRST CONTEST OF YEAR TOMORROW

Freshman Basketball Contest Scheduled For 3 P. M. Saturday

The Bison frosh will meet the Nodak yearlings in the first contest of these two teams this season at the new gym Saturday afternoon. The game will be called at three o'clock.

Both teams have exhibited smooth performances in former games this season, each suffering only one defeat and that by small margins at the hands of the strong Mayville Teachers quintet.

Under the direction of Coach Bob Lowe the Baby Bison have developed a strong net game. With Marquardt at the pivot berth, Schranze, Denny, and Acey Olson at forwards posts, and Thomas, Stinson and Manthy in guard positions, the State college frosh have one of the most promising cage contingents of recent years.

The first year Nodak squad, featuring the Lankin flash, Witasek, have an excellent scoring combination that will force the Baby Bison to their utmost in what promises to be a close and hotly contested battle.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

There's nothing like starting your column in bold fashion. The Bison will win tonight, 31 to 28. Which reminds us that our life insurance policy is paid up.

The key to the situation is Bob Weir and Meinhover—not a skeleton key if you stop to consider them. If Meinhover can nullify Weir's effectiveness, Weir ought to do the same for Ted. If either falls down there's going to be some tall shooting.

TRYING TO DOPE OUT THIS GAME MAKES US FEEL LIKE COOLIDGE WRITING ONE OF HIS COLUMNS. IF ONE TEAM WINS, THE OTHER WILL LOSE, ETC.

More anxious than any other students to win tonight are the five Bison seniors on the squad—starting their last Sioux series. Olson, Nordstrom, Fairhead, Seitz and Thomasson make up the list of last standers.

It would be a fitting requiem to their collegiate career if the Bison could win tonight, bringing at last their long looked for championship. But, alas, games aren't won in columns.

It will be interesting to see who gets the tipoff—Weir or Meinhover. Ted may be taller but he totes more bulk which may handicap him when jumping.

A BIG FAULT OF THE BISON TEAM HAS BEEN LACK OF AGGRESSIVENESS IN GETTING THE BALL EVEN IF WEIR DOES GET THE TIPOFF. THE BISON SHOULD DEVELOP THE KNACK OF GETTING THE BALL NO MATTER WHO BATS THE APPLE. CONCORDIA MANAGES TO DO THIS IN FINE STYLE.

The game tonight marks the climax of Coach Saalwaechter's six years of effort in the way of championship. The Bison have had rocky traveling in Sioux competition and Saaly hopes to erase all that tonight. In 1927, his first year, the Bison won one game of the series, losing the other three by very close margins. The Sioux were at their height the next year, winning all four by decisive scores. His proteges, with Bobby Hahn leading the way, managed to capture one out of the four in 1929. The Bison did better the next year, splitting with Letich's boys. Last year was featured by the overtime game which records show the Bison lost. Saaly's netmen took the other conference game, however.

If the Bison should win tonight Saaly will shoot in several reserves for the game Saturday, giving local fans some idea of what the Buffalomen would have should injuries beset the regulars. Blair Seitz, George Fairhead, Jimmy Berdahl and Arnold Mikkelson, the latter the only sophomore on the squad, are apt to get their chance under heavy fire.

We recommend to diversion seekers the freshman game. Always good no matter what the boys look like. Bison chances for a victory went glimmering when Erickson and Manthy left school, but you never can tell. Not in a freshman game.

Theater Players Give "Cock Robin", Major Production Of Term

Anthony Faber, David Minard Interpret Leading Roles In Mystery Drama

"Who killed poor Cock Robin?" It took the Little Country theater players at the North Dakota State college to answer the question with their presentation of Philip Barry's and Elmer Rice's three-act mystery play, "Cock Robin," in the Little Country theater Wednesday night. Commemorating the 18th anniversary of the founding of the Little Country theater by A. G. Arvold, the production was the regular winter term production of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club and was staged under the direction of Alice McConnell Bender.

To theater goers who had not seen a clever mystery drama for a time, "Cock Robin" was particularly welcome, satisfying whatever desire there might be for the thrill of a mystery murder and yet relieving the suspense by plentiful bits of comedy and romance thrown into the action. The second act provided an interesting stage setting representing the stage in an English grog-shop of the 18th century viewed by the audience from a back-stage view.

The burden of maintaining the suspense and the spirit of the play rested on the entire cast throughout virtually the entire play, for only at a very few times were more than one or two of the players off the stage at a time. Helen Tarplee, Fargo, as Alice Montgomery, one of the amateur players, and Claire Newell, Fargo, as Maria Scott, the "eagle-eyed" dramatic observer, did excellent work throughout the three acts. Outstanding among the male players were Anthony Faber, Bismarck, as McAuliffe, director of the players, and David Minard, Fargo, as Cock Robin.

The remaining players did much towards making the play a success by their clever interpretations. The cast included: Mary Healy, Fargo, as Carlotta Maxwell; Helen Skei, Fargo, as Helen Maxwell; Grant McCullough, Fargo, as Julian Cleveland; Horace Spaulding, Jamestown, as Richard Lane; Ward McCabe, Sabin, Minn., as John Jessup; Clifford Swanson, Fargo, as Clarke Torrence; Harold Naegeli, Fergus Falls, Minn., as Henry Briggs; and Jordan Engberg, Crosby, as Dr. Edgar Grace.

University Students Are Guests At Party

Theta Chi Entertain' Guests With Valentine Day Informal Dance

Several students from the University of North Dakota will be among the honor guests at the Theta Chi party, to be held in Festival hall from 9:30 to 12 o'clock this evening.

Dancing to the music of the Radiolians will begin directly after the Bison-Sioux basketball game. Red and white streamers will be used for the Valentine Day decorations for the party. Indirect lighting with the use of colored spotlights will feature the setting, according to Don Harris, chairman of the decorations committee.

Chaperons for the party are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tyler. Refreshments will be served in the Theta Chi chapter house following the dancing.

FIRST CLASH GIVEN CONFERENCE RATING

against South Dakota U. it may be attributed to the fact that they only recently returned from a tour that would weaken the best team in any league.

But with the Mentor's assurance of full recuperation the dope points to a white-hot battle tonight in which both teams will open up with every available trick in an endeavor to snatch a win.

Conference Title In Sight

If the Bison Warriors cop the contest this evening they will virtually cinch the coveted conference cup. It would constitute the sixth consecutive triumph for the Herd and will give them a chance to drop one of the remaining two loop tilts and still grab off high honors.

However, if the Nodaks drop in the most counters in the approaching fray the stage will be set for a neck and neck finish by the two North Dakota schools that will not be determined until the Bison-Nodak games at Grand Forks in two weeks. It also leaves the possibility of an upset by one of the trailing South Dakota fives, who, although they could not grab off first place, might be a determining factor in crowning the final victors.
