CIVIL WAR IS THEME

Women's Physical Education Department Is Sponsor Of Day's Events

Events in the second annual Play Day sponsored by the department of physical education for women will carry out a Civil War theme to celebrate Lincoln's birthday. More than two hundred women will participate in the event to be held in Festival hall from 4 to 6 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 11.

Women are divided into two teams, the North and the South. Paula Verne has been chosen General Grant for the northern team, and Ev Hammer was chosen General Lee for the southern team. These two teams are subdivided and are captained by the following: Captain McDowell, Eva Sherwood; Captain Hoker, Cleo Knapp; Captain Sherman, Helen Lee; Captain Summer, Carol Cooper; Captain Davis, Mary McNair; Captain Johnston, Bernice Streit; Captain Jackson, Janette Greenshields; Captain Butler, Ruth Westergaard.

Abraham Lincoln Play Day schedule will consist of various contests between the North and the South. At 4:00 o'clock all contestants will register in the stunts and contests they wish to enter. The first contest will be the "Battle of Bull Run" a cageball game in which there will be 200 participants. Following this contest is "Harper's Ferry," a novelty shuttle relay race with 96 participants; double rope skipping, human wheelbarrow, and sailboat. Next follows "On the Poto mac," a tug of war by 48 participants. The last event, "Battle of the Valley" consists of skill tests in which 8 participate. ### Tony Sarg Presents Informal and Varied Program Wednesday

Students At Dinner In Honor Of Artist Given Between Two Performances

Informality and versatility marked the programs presented by Tony Sarg, creator of the famous marionettes and noted cartoonist, in Festival hall Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Using the marionettes, "Tony" and "Greedy George," for demonstration purposes, Mr. Sarg manipulated the strings for the benefit of the audience showing the complexity and dexterity necessary for successful marionette directing.

By Don Nichols

Several humorous anecdotes, a characterization of a London medicine vendor and caricaturing with humanistic and animalistic subjects completed the program.

Covers were laid for forty at a dinner in the Lincoln Log cabin given between performances for Mr. Sarg. Members of the Edwin Booth dramatic club, The Spectrum and Bison staffs and the Board of Public Speaking Control were guests. Informal talks were given by Mr. Sarg, President Shepperd and A. G. Arvold.

This is the first time Mr. Sarg has appeared in person at North Dakota State. In addition to his work with the marionettes he has varied other interests including cartooning for national publications as the Saturday Evening Post, designing silks, rugs and wallpaper. At present he is designing Tony Sarg restaurants in New York City.—M. A.

O. P. CLEAVER SPEAKS TO ENGINEERS TODAY

O. P. Cleaver, division engineer of the Westinghouse Electric company, will give an address on "Recent Developments in Lighting" in the Little Country Theater at 7:30 p. m. today.

BISON MEET COYOTES TOMORROW NIGHT IN CONFERENCE CONTEST

North Dakota State Has Good Chance of Annexing Conference Title

S. D. U. AT N. D. U. TONIGHT

Bison Encounter University Netmen In Two Games Next Week

The University of South Dakota will meet the Bison cagers tomorrow night at the new gym in the second conference game on their tour of eastern North Dakota. The Coyotes will play the Nodak five at Grand Forks tonight before attempting to avenge the defeat meted out to them by the Yellow and Green warriors at Vermillion last week.

At present the Bison have a perfect rating in the North Central conference race. A 42 to 27 victory over South Dakota State at Brookings last Monday completed a most satisfactory tour of the southern half of the conference schools.

Bison Prospects Good

Several years have elapsed since a Bison team has emerged victorious from the strenuous tour to the South Dakota schools, a feat which the University of North Dakota basketballers have yet to accomplish. With Arthur Weir and Olson in full stride as they have been recently and an impenetrable defense starring McKay and Nordstrom, the dope points to a more than even chance to cop the conference title.

S. D. U. Dangerous

There is still plenty to be said by the South Dakota Coyotes in determining the Bison cage status however. With the task of protecting the conference crown they won last season they will use all their tricks to preserve a win tomorrow night. Although Coach Hoy of the Coyotes gives the Bison team credit for being the best in the loop, he won't hesitate to provoke his squad to their best to trip the Herd in their march to conference honors.

N. D. U. To Be Met

Another barrier in the Bison progress will be the Nodak tilt here the following weekend. The university cagers have always proved a thorn in the side of the State college netmen, eeking out conference victories by narrow margins last year and suffering whole-hearted defeats in the other two conference tilts. With the seasons record established by the Bison, the Nodaks had best look to their guns before the coming fray lest they suffer the fate of their conference brothers.

Sigma Tau Pledges Entertain Actives At Party Saturday

Fraternity Informal Follows Game With South Dakota University

The pledge chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity will entertain the active chapter at an informal dancing party Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. gym from 9:30 to 11:30 following the basketball game with the University of South Dakota.

Approximately 75 couples are expected to dance in the gym which will be converted into a hockey rink in an appropriate winter setting. Music will be furnished by Bill Euren and his Collegians. Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mayoue and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brown Huntoon.

In general charge of arrangements are Jay Lynch and Kenneth Nickerson. William Gove is in charge of finance. Other members of the pledge chapter will assist with decorations and clean-up.

Committee Arranges 3 Day Celebration For Bicentennial

Sigma Delta and Lincoln Forensic Sponsor Dramatization Of Convention

A three-day celebration of the Washington Bicentennial is being planned at the college for Feb. 20, 21 and 22, according to Dr. W. C. Hunter, who is chairman of the general committee in charge of the celebration.

Opening the three-day festivity will be a dramatization of the federal convention. This initial event of the program will take place at 3 p. m. Feb. 20 in Festival hall, and will be open to the general public. This feature is being worked upon at present by Prof. C. A. Severson, who has picked as a committee to help him six students, Donald McKechnie, Albert Buchli, Verne Goodwin, Grant McCullough, and Clifford Maloney. Donald McKechnie heads the committee as chairman.

This committee met on Wednesday with the discussion of parts and costuming. Arrangements were made for the first general meeting of the committee to be held on Monday, Feb. 8, at 4 p. m. in Science 319. Parts and costuming will be assigned then.

The idea of the dramatization of the federal convention is being sponsored by the Sigma Delta discussion club and the Lincoln Forensic club under the direction of Prof. Severson, assisted by Don Hay.

Delta Beta Holds Biweekly Meeting

Lydia Ketterling Presents German Reading As Feature On Program Last Night

A short program was given at the bi-weekly meeting of Delta Beta, college German club, last night in the Y. M. C. A. building. Howard Kilbourne, president of the group, presided, and F. W. Werking, faculty adviser, led in the singing and games that followed the meeting.

Miss Lydia Ketterling presented the main feature of the program in the form of a reading in German. Riddles were told by Arnold Schneider, Clara Carlson and Esther Buehl. Sylvia Panimon presented a German poem. Several musical selections were also given as a part of the program.

Plans for the Goethefest in March were continued from the work of the last meeting. Announcements concerning the fest will be made in later issues of The Spectrum.

Plan to have your next SUNDAY DINNER at HOTEL POWERS COFFEE SHOP

Charity Ball

Sponsored by Panhellenic the second formal event of the social season will be held in the physical education building tonight.

Given for charitable purposes this is the one event on the campus that is sponsored by an organization devoting the proceeds to three charitable sources, the Fargo Community Chest, the Red Cross and for a scholarship annually awarded to some women student on the campus.

Although the organization plans to make the Ball one of the four outstanding social events of the year they have purposely omitted decorations, favors and other unnecessary expenditures that more of the profits may be donated.

Panhellenic council is supported by all the sorority women on the campus who buy tickets to this annual ball. We feel that these women are to be commended for their efforts especially in a year such as this one when the donations will be doubly needed and appreciated.

Championship Hopes

We are again on the verge of a basketball championship title which will be rather definitely influenced by the outcome of the game tomorrow night with South Dakota university.

The showing made by the team last week was so excellent that we are sure that no urging is necessary to secure a record crowd for the game in the new building tomorrow night. This will be one of two remaining home games with the exception of the games with North Dakota university next weekend.

Convocations

Since Tuesday we have heard nothing but favorable comment on the Disarmament convocation program presented by our own faculty members—surely one of the most excellent convocations we have ever attended. In addition to the enthusiastic reports the large and attentive audience which listened to the speakers is proof enough of its excellence.

This particular program convinced us that there are men on our own campus who can present as interesting and varied entertainment as any speaker from out of the city. We would urge that more of this type of program be presented at future convocations.

Good English

One of the most fascinating ways of spending some leisure time is to listen to the average college man or woman talk. Their misuse of the English language is appalling and reflects anything but credit on our educational plant which has been supposedly training them in English usage for twelve to sixteen years.

It would be interesting to experiment with our vocabularies to see how extensive they really are. We hear so many beautifully developed slang ones every day that at times we wonder if good diction is out-dated.

Triteness is another element that has entered considerably into our speech. There is something about a coined expression that becomes unconsciously habitual.

Because of slang and trite expressions it is not to be wondered at that our English pales in excellence when compared with that of some foreign educated man. His is precise, correct, and, paradoxically, sounds queer and foreign.

Perhaps there are remedies—we see them advertised, but a little conscious effort will do more to improve our speech than anything else; that and remembering that Seneca said, "Speech is the index of the mind."

Student Opinion

Far out on Thirteenth Street is a place known as the Men's Residence Hall (and known too by several hundred unmentionable names). People will tell you, if you have the curiosity to inquire, that it is populated by barbaric citizens whose habits are most peculiar. But all this is neither here nor there. The point of this rambling narrative is that this place and its odd specimens are now literally cut off from civilization. There are no telephones, they say.

It seems that there is one H. W. McArdle, who is known far and wide as a thrifty soul. Now in this dormitory there happened to be an unscrupulous scholar, who was so bold as to run up anonymous long distance telephone calls. These calls (two in number) came to the staggering and fabulous total of one dollar and ten cents. This McArdle citizen upon receipt of this sad news deemed it necessary to do away with telephone accommodations for one hundred people. A blessing, some claimed this to be, but others had another opinion. However, you may readily see that this is a just and commendable act—and reasonable too.

Da Big Trial

By a Male Observer

Oyez! Oyez! Oyez! All is quiet in the court room. We look about us—and behold! fraternity men galore. N. D. S. C. has had a fair representation every day at the Clay County court house where the Sabin Bank robbers' trial goes on. No wonder we have so many crooks today, when the thoughts of our fine young men run in such channels. Yes, sir, this modern generation will even neglect mid-term examination review in order to hear the two-gun men testify. But it really is sport. It's better than a show (and all for 14 cents streetcar fare). Leading the A. T. O. delegation is the versatile Ben Bernel, the state's star witness. His car was used by the yeggs in the affair, with Ben's permission. Next to the A. T. O.'s ten representatives, come the Sigma Taus, with four men generally grasping every detail of the case. And the race for standing room goes on, with indications that the trial will last for a while yet. When Jake Schumacher goes on the stand, the college boys will probably be there in hundreds. Those fraternity men seem to go for such stuff as: "Well, me and da boys was talkin' things over up in Jakes' room, ya, me and 'St. Paul Sammy' and 'Bloody Gulch Billy'—and I says to him, I says,—if you start double-crossin' us we'll give ya da woiks, same as we gave dat McCleary guy, see—we'll bump ya off—get me, pard." And if this trial keeps up much longer all the young law followers will be talkin' outa da sida deir moutds. And as for me, my court life is cutting in on my Phi Beta Kappa average like nobody's business.

Balls and Bawls

Do you have to be crazy to write dizzy features? That's what I was asked last week. The answer is no—but it helps. And so we progress on to the next paragraph.

"Charity" is our immediate problem with a basketball game to follow—a good catch in the first, two baskets in the second also and a good sight in the first. Yet, also, a good sight in the second. Both are thrown, one by Panhellenic, one by the team. Yet, you go to the first and hang on to the second. Watch the ball and you can't go to it. What's this—a game? No, merely a couple of balls. So we find the girls preening for the ball, and the boys, bawling for a preener. And now we have still another bawl. As long as no one bawls at the ball, we'll have a good ball. See one, hold the other, throw both, miss nothing.

No you don't have to be crazy to write this stuff—but it helps!

DOG'S VALHALLA IS FOUNDED AT YALE

A hall of fame as exclusive as the social register is maintained at Yale for the preservation of skeletons and stuffed specimens of champion dogs. Dog owners of the country besiege Peabody Museum of Yale to preserve their pets for posterity. Only the finest of champions are accepted as a rule. One exception has been made in Togo, Alaska sled dog that carried serum to Nome in an epidemic of disease. This museum was founded by Leon F. Whitney for the purpose of preserving examples of the dogs of the current age.

Rifle Team Completes Week Of Competition With Various Teams

College Rifle Squad Plans To Enter Two Other Matches After Present Contests

Under the watchful eyes of Capt. J. B. Conmy, the North Dakota State college rifle team is now completing its first week of postal competition with college teams from various sections of the United States.

With matches scheduled with seventy-five different colleges in competition which will run through six weeks of steady competitive firing, the Bison rifle team will have little rest between this week and March 12, when their schedule will be completed.

Seven Colleges Compete

Rifle teams with seven colleges are the competitors of the North Dakota State sharpshooters this week, according to Capt. Conmy. Marksmen from the University of South Dakota, Davidson college, Montana State college, Syracuse University, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Municipal University of Wichita and the University of Washington are firing throughout this week under the same rules and regulations as the riflemen here.

Following the postal matches, the North Dakota State college rifle team will enter competition in the National Intercollegiate matches and later a college R. O. T. C. team will be selected to enter the Hearst Trophy Match, which the North Dakotans won two years ago over many colleges teams throughout the nation.

Returns Expected Soon

Complete returns, which will indicate whether the 1932 scores of the Bison compare well with those of other colleges in their first week of competitive matches will be received here within several weeks, according to Captain Conmy. Excellent scores were turned in by the team men in the try-outs, which is a most promising fact, the coach says.

Besides the team captain, Ed Comm, and the team manager, Larry Ryan, North Dakota State college's 1932 riflery squad consists of Otto Wolhowe, James Newton, E. Bothun, Larry Forman, Kenneth Piper, Martin Cline, Wayne Curtis, W. Thompson, H. Bottemiller, N. Peterson, Nels Skaar, Ernest Hall, M. Johnson, G. Friese, W. Bartholomew, and Gale Monson.

Freshman Commission Elects New Officers

Sophomore Group Entertains New Members At Meeting Last Night

Officers were elected for the newly organized Freshman commission of the Y. W. C. A. at the home of Genevieve Skinner last evening.

Conducting a model business meeting the old commission continuing this year as a sophomore group entertained the new organization last night. Hostesses were Genevieve Skinner, Ruth Clausen, Ruth Clemens, Jeanette McComb, Mary McNair, Lillian Stotlar, and Grace South.

Presiding at the meetings of the new group will be Luella Ulness who was elected president last night. Other officers include Carol Cooper, vice-president, and Arlene Boe, secretary-treasurer. Officers of the sophomore organization are Ruth Clausen, president; Jeanette McComb, vice-president; and Genevieve Skinner, secretary-treasurer.

Students Join Secret Six

Collegiate cooperation with Chicago officials in combating the underworld is being discussed on the Northwestern University campus following the initiation of a large number of students and faculty members into the secrets of the "Secret Six".

Al Capone and his gangster lieutenants were vividly described to a student-faculty luncheon gathering by the chairman of the committee. Professors as well as students became wide-eyed as the anti-crime leader described the manner in which investigators traced cashiers' checks and other documents through Chicago's financial institutions in procuring the evidence that has brought the notorious vice king to grief in the Federal courts on charge of falsifying his income tax reports.

The "Secret Six", already famous in the annals of journalism and in the cinema world, was formed only a year ago by industrial leaders of the city in such a way that no one of them knew who the other five men were.

Working one's way through college is by now an old and familiar story, but paying one's tuition with cows, hogs, chickens, eggs and almost everything else in the way of farm produce, except corn "likker" is something new.

Overworked French Students

Public opinion in France has been greatly stirred by the supposed plight of her students. It has been alleged that the whole generation under 20 is menaced by overstudy, with its attendant ills—tuberculosis, meningitis, typhoid and cerebral anemia. Newspapers, magazines and educational reviews have discussed with sympathy the question of relief. Two years ago an official commission of investigation was appointed. It is still deliberating.

As a sample of an inflated university course series A is cited. It includes no less than thirty French authors, twelve Latin authors, three of whom must be read entire—Vergil, Horace and Livy; twelve Greek authors, with the Iliad and the Odyssey compulsory. Candidates for a degree are not required to have read all of these works, but the examiner may ask questions about any of them. The program for students specializing in modern languages is similarly full. Add to that the quota for history, literature and geography, and a good dose of mathematics, physics and chemistry and there is no doubt that there is temptation to work too hard.

Baby Bison Pucksters Remain Undefeated In Hockey Contests

Varsity Sextette Defeats Dragons Wednesday Evening At Island Park Rink

The Baby Bison hockey team remains undefeated in their drive for the Fargo-Moorhead Amateur Hockey league championship by virtue of its 4 to 0 defeat of the Demons at the Island Park rink. Four players, Hanson, Benton, O'Neil and Greenshields, each shot a goal to give the Baby Bison their victory. Reis and O'Day of the Demons played well, but the freshmen allowed them few shots.

The Bison varsity hockey team with only one defeat also increased its chance of being in the running for the championship by taking the measure of the M. S. T. C. Dragons Wednesday evening at the Island Park rink, by a 7 to 1 score. Jim Newton and Merlyn Jahr played especially well for the Bison, and Davis was the outstanding Dragon man. Ed Comm contributed four goals, Newton 2 and Jahr 1, to the Bison cause. The Dragons, with little reserve material, held the Bison to a one point lead until the final period. The summary:

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

Many persons seem to think the Bison have "virtually cinched" the North Central conference pennant because of their present record of four straight wins against no losses. Such is far from true. Too many pennants have been lost after they have been virtually cinched and strong Bison athletic teams have been doomed to sad disappointment in the past because of premature victory cries.

IT MUST BE REMEMBERED THAT TWO OF THE BISON WINS CAME AT THE EXPENSE OF THE LOOPS WEAKEST TEAM, ONE OVER THE NEXT TO THE WEAKEST AND THE OTHER A TWO POINT WIN OVER LAST YEAR'S CHAMPIONS. NOT ONLY THAT BUT WE HAVE YET TO MATCH BASKETS WITH CLEM LETTICH'S POWERFUL NODAKS.

There is, however, ample cause for elation with the Bison exceeding the fondest hopes of their followers on the recent road trip. Students, especially, should welcome the opportunity to back the most promising chance in years for a championship. Unless spirit has waned more than we think there will be considerable demonstrative backing on the part of the students in the next two crucial games, both at home.

The only eventuality which would definitely presage a Bison championship would be a defeat for the Sioux tonight and a defeat for the Coyotes tomorrow. This would be exactly what happened between the teams involved in previous games and would result in a Bison supremacy hard to overcome. It would leave the Sioux and the Coyotes both with two losses against the Bison's none. An ideal situation from Saalwaechter's standpoint.

But should the Sioux win over the Coyotes, and many believe this is likely, followed by a Coyote revenge tomorrow, a tie between the ancient North Dakota rivals would result.

IT IS AN EXCITING SITUATION FROM THE BISON STANDPOINT AND HAS RESULTED IN MORE LOCAL INTEREST THAN HAS BEEN MANIFESTED IN YEARS OF CAGE WARFARE. NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS AT GRAND FORKS THIS INTEREST WILL BE SUSTAINED.

Maybe the gentle reader will think we are pessimistic about the whole affair. We're not. We've just grown cautious. We'd rather be pleasantly surprised than sadly disappointed.

While the Coyote-Bison battle will draw a big crowd of fans who like thrilling games, the Bison-Sioux scraps next week will set something like a record. Even if there wasn't the championship element injected into the affair there's the "battle of the giants," Weir vs Meinhover, to take the spotlight.

THEATER FOLKS GIVE PROGRAM AT DURBIN

Arrangements have been made by Donald G. Hay, instructor in public discussion, with Mr. B. H. Schneider of Durbin, N. Dak., for a community program at Durbin, Feb. 11.

Little Country Theater folks will present a miscellaneous program, with a Lincoln theme prevailing, at that time. The Durbin Farmers' Union, which is sponsoring the affair, expects a crowd of about 300 for the program.

At Carnegie Tech one dormitory requires its freshmen to chew tobacco because it thinks that the first year men have not acquired enough extreme masculine habits.

David Minard Plays One Of Outstanding Roles In Term Play

Dramatic Club Gives Mystery Drama In Little Country Theater Wednesday

Cast in one of the leading roles for the winter term production of the Edwin Booth Dramatic club will be David Minard, sophomore in the school of science and literature. The production, "Cock Robin," a mystery play in three acts, will be presented in the Little Country theater at 8 p. m. Wednesday under the direction of Miss Alice Bender and under the general supervision of A. G. Arvold.

Elmer Rice and Philip Barry are the authors of the mystery play. "Holiday," another work of Mr. Barry, was produced on this campus by a cast of Edwin Booth players last year.

As Hancock Robinson, also known as "Cock Robin," the victim of a mysterious murder, Minard will play one of the two major roles. Anthony Faber, Bismarck, as George McAuliffe, is the other major player.

Complications develop when Robinson is murdered during the performance of an amateur dramatic company. Following the murder the action is devoted to the determination of the murderer of Robinson. The plot implies the elements of murder, mystery romance and even comedy.

Tickets for the production were placed on sale yesterday and may be secured from any member of the Edwin Booth club or any member of the cast, says Dorothea Olson, president of the Edwin Booth club. Ruth Barrett is in general charge of ticket sales; Jean Pote, publicity, and Lyle Phillips, stage arrangements. Assisting Phillips on the stage committee are Lester Wyma and Claire Newell.

Besides Minard and Faber, the cast includes: Grant McCullough, Horace Spaulding, Ward McCabe, Helen Tarplee, Mary Healy, Clifford Swanson, Harold Naegeli, Jordan Engberg, Claire Newell and Helen Skei.

Violinist Presents Convocation Program At 9:40 A.M. Monday

Harry Farbman Appearing Under Chicago Company Gives Three Part Program

Appearing before the student body in convocation Monday at 9:40 a. m. in Festival hall, is Harry Farbman, the distinguished American violinist.

Mr. Farbman is appearing under the auspices of the booking firm of Harry and Arthur Culbertson of Chicago. He has appeared before listeners in many South American and European countries, and comes to Fargo well recommended as a concert artist. "Mr. Farbman brings with him a great reputation as an outstanding violinist and has given some very excellent programs," says Dean A. E. Minard, who is in charge of the convocation committee.

Mr. Farbman will present a program consisting of three parts. Part one will consist of a group of selections from Grieg's Sonata No. 1 Opus 8. The Symphonie Espagnole, by Lalo, in three parts, will constitute the second part. The third part of the program will be four selections, Andanta Cantabile, by Tschalkowsky and Auer; Tambourin Chinois, by Kreisler; Berceuse, by Paul Juon; and Dance of the Goblins, by Pazzini. Mr. Farbman will be accompanied by Miss Dorris Wittich.

North Dakota State college's newest student is Miss Hazle James, who was registered Tuesday as a junior in the school of home economics. Miss James transferred to North Dakota State from Kansas State college at Manhattan.
