

College Has Unusual Dramatic Program Planned For Tonight

Faculty, Alumni, Students Give Epic Drama By Tchekov At 8 P. M. Today

ARVOLD DIRECTS CAST

Cast, Staff Members Honor Jack Stuart Knapp At Dinner Preceding Play

The first event of its kind in the history of North Dakota State college will be observed on the campus tonight when faculty, alumni, and students unite in the presentation of "The Cherry Orchard," a four-act epic drama by Anton Tchekhov, under the direction of A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public discussion. The play is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock in the Little Country theater.

"With the inauguration of this plan whereby instructors, students and alumni of the college unite in their dramatic efforts it is hoped that similar projects will be continued for years to come," said Mr. Arvold yesterday.

To honor Jack Stuart Knapp, who has been pursuing graduate work under Mr. Arvold the last several months and who will leave Fargo Saturday, members of the cast for tonight's production and staff members from the public discussion department will entertain at a dinner in the Lincoln Log cabin at 5:30 with Mr. and Mrs. Knapp as honor guests. A graduate of the college, Mr. Knapp has been associated with the National Recreation association for the last five years. He will leave Saturday to resume his work with the association after a leave of absence of several months duration. Mr. Knapp has been co-operating in dramatic work especially in make-up and setting projects.

Following the dinner tonight, members of the cast will spend an hour from 6:30 to 7:30 in make-up and costuming for "The Cherry Orchard." A new plan will be inaugurated by Mr. Arvold when pictures of the players as they will appear in the production are taken at 7:30 p. m. in the Lincoln Log cabin. Plans have been made to carry out this practice for coming dramatic productions also.

Varied Convocations Set For Near Future Committee Announces

Faculty Members Give Disarmament Program At Convocation Next Tuesday

A varied convocation schedule has been announced for the remainder of the winter term by Dean A. E. Minard, chairman of the convocation committee. "The schedule is especially attractive, with three very fine musicians and several outstanding speakers appearing before the student body," Dean Minard said today.

The first convocation scheduled will come on Tuesday of next week, with Drs. W. L. Airheart, F. D. Hunsaker and W. C. Hunter of the faculty giving lectures relative to a nation-wide Disarmament day.

Harry Farbman, violinist, appears the following week. On Washington's birthday, Judge Burr of Bismarck will address the student body in connection with the Washington Bicentennial program sponsored by the college. Duncan Robertson, baritone, who gave such an excellent performance at a convocation last year that he was asked to appear again, is on the convocation program in the first week in March. Mme. Rita Orville, soprano, will appear the following week. Dr. William T. Foster, a former president of Reed college in Oregon, will present the next number on the convocation schedule, giving an address on social economics.

Lt. Charles Lofgren, second in command to Admiral Richard Byrd on Byrd's last expedition to the South pole, is the concluding speaker on the schedule. He will talk on Admiral Byrd's explorations in the Antarctic. The convocations will all be held in Festival hall at 9:40 a. m.

GEOLOGY CLUB MEETS ON THURSDAY EVENING

A meeting of the college Geology club will be held in Science hall Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, according to Don Harris, president of the group.

Continuing a series of talks on subjects of geologic interest, a talk will be given by Don Harris on the "Yellowstone Park." Harris spent a recent summer in the park as a worker in the Lake camp, where he gathered information on formations and geologic phenomena of that region.

The discussion carried on at the last meeting of the Geology club was that of the "Wilds of Canada," with the talk given by Prof. S. A. Tyler of the geology department. Talks on various places will be given throughout the school year.

Students Present Three Plays Jan. 27

Jack Knapp Directs One-Act Plays Given In Little Country Theater

A feature of the program of three one-act plays to be presented by the Little Country Theater players Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, in the Little Country theater, will be "Dawn," a masque drama, written by Jack Stuart Knapp, graduate doing special work in the Little Country theater and in charge of the plays.

With intricacies of stage lighting and masques for impression rather than for realism the play "Dawn," offers a unique performance, according to Mr. Knapp. The cast is large, including Don McNaughton, John Thorsell, Ralph Erlandson, Marguerite Johnson, Frederick Anderson, Dan Howell, Marian Stern, Gifford Herron, Viola Dixon, Jane Nichols, Margaret Kinney, Myrna Ottinger, Gerald Stevens, Cy Lonsbrough, Christian Bjornson, Frank Callinan, Marcella Ike, and Ralph Erlandson.

Other plays to be presented are "The Other Side," a tragedy also directed by Mr. Knapp and interpreted through permission of Longmans Green and Co., publishers, by Grant McCullough, Lyle Phillips, David Minard, and Leonard Gilles, and "Love and Lather," a comedy by Katherine Kester with a cast of Elroy Johnson, Jane Nichols and John McCormick, Jr. The program is a project of the class in advanced play production.

Co-ed Prom

On Thursday night the Y. W. C. A. is giving its annual Co-ed Prom, this time entirely free of charge and open to all women students on the campus.

This is the one affair of the year to which a woman may go absolutely free of organizational ties to meet and mix with other co-eds. It is the one great opportunity given to women to become generally acquainted.

The Y. W. C. A. is to be commended this year on making no charge. In addition to this they are not asking anyone to costume who doesn't feel in the mood. Working under these conditions the Prom should be a success and we urge all the women students to be there Thursday night.

The Cherry Orchard

Something new in dramatics is being presented in the Little Country theater tonight when "The Cherry Orchard" begins at 8 o'clock.

An attempt has been made to unite faculty, students and alumni in producing this play. Too often we work as a group along the lines of some organization rather than as part of a cast with a common interest and with our major effort directed toward producing something worth while.

It will be interesting to see how three groups of people can unite their efforts. Perhaps in the future even greater success will be achieved along these lines.

Non-Resident Tuition

The action of the Board of Administration regarding the non-resident fee comes as good news after the exorbitant fee first placed on a North Dakota education.

We feel that since the first announcement the Board has thoroughly investigated the situation. Based on reciprocity the new fee seems neither unfair, unduly exorbitant nor likely to drive our non-residents to other schools. It is unfortunate that the investigation was not made before thus saving a great deal of criticism and unfavorable publicity.

A Meager Background

It is quite amazing to note the limited background the average Freshman has in good literature.

In most cases the only classics he or she have read are in the list of "book report" books, and then usually he has read two three point ones to avoid "Les Miserables".

Occasionally to be sure one notices a student who has a fairly intelligent knowledge of books acquired usually through some happy accident and not through any conscious desire to learn.

Too often the high school student's reading is directed entirely too much. Too many dilettantes are found in the preparatory schools recommending the latest "Book-of-the-Month" to the student who has no conception of modern literature nor an appreciation of the classics.

What a great fun it was to learn Virgil from a teacher who not only understood, but also appreciated the beauty of poetry! To read English poetry for the first time under the guidance of the woman who sensed the fineness as something apart from meter.

Bill Erlenmeyer of Bismarck was a guest at the Delta Sig house Saturday and Sunday.

PHILOSOPHY COURSE IS GIVEN AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Beginning next Wednesday Dean Minard will teach a course in philosophy at night school. The class is scheduled for 7:30 in room 220 Science hall and is open to anyone wishing to enroll.

According to Dean Minard, the course gives "rapidly the broader and more fundamental accepted results of science and recent controversial aspects. The object is to see the sort of philosophy of men and the world that is taking shape under scientific influences. Some of the older traditional systems of philosophy are reviewed by way of contrast."

SOCIETY

Misses Helen Foster, Helen Probstfield and Constance Martin were hostesses for the "Blue Monday" tea at the Y yesterday afternoon.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet met at the home of Mrs. Carl A. Teet, executive secretary, Sunday afternoon for a combined business and social meeting. Guests were Miss Pearl Dinan and Mrs. I. W. Smith.

Miss Alice Boyd, Gamma Phi Beta, from the University of North Dakota, was a weekend guest at the Gamma Phi house. Miss Boyd came to Fargo to attend the annual Military Ball Saturday night.

Misses Helen Fredrickson and Lorraine Brakke, Gamma Phi Beta house, visited at their homes in Davenport Friday night.

Delta Tau Epsilon announces the formal pledging of Harold Berg, Maxbass, Jan. 18.

Walter Isley, brother of Orville Isley of Verona, has been a guest at the Delta Tau house the last week while taking medical treatment.

Lawrence Erickson, Laverne Vodden and Victor McLeod visited the Delta Tau house last week.

Ivan Bigler spent the weekend at his home in Bismarck.

Hartley Eckstrom, who has been confined to the hospital since before the holidays, was able to visit school last Thursday.

Erling Thorson, Earl Ellingson, Ralph Hanson and Joe Aasen spent Sunday at Detroit Lakes.

Beryl Rorem was a dinner guest at the Alpha Gamma Delta house Sunday.

Ruth Olson, Alpha Gamma Delta, was presented with a scholarship award Monday evening at sorority meeting.

Alpha Tau Omega fraternity announces the formal pledging of Howard Mitchel, Lisbon, Sunday at the fraternity.

Wallace Erfert was a dinner guest at the A. T. O. house Sunday.

Ray Greenwood, A. T. O., visited in Jamestown over the weekend.

Vernon Homan and Walter Schulte, Mandan, students at St. John's university at Collegeville, Minnesota, spent Saturday at the Theta Chi house.

Al Wisner, Beta Theta Pi, and Al Hanson, Alpha Tau Omega, University of North Dakota students, visited at the Theta Chi house Saturday. Both attend the 17th annual Military Ball, Saturday evening.

GAMMA RHO QUINTET DOWNS A. T. O. TEAM

The only intra-mural basketball developments since last Friday was an upset by the Alpha Gamma Rho's in subduing the Alpha Tau Omega team by a one point margin. A foul called on Schollander, A. T. O. guard, in the last minute of play gave the Gamma Rho's the opportunity for a last minute victory.

The defeat toppled the A. T. O.s from their position of tie for first place and gave the Delta Tau Epsilon quint undisputed leadership.

Victor Saunder and Misses Nadine Buck, Ethel Young, Sally and Grace Hunkins and Rosella Bernard were Sunday dinner guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho house.

Dizzy Darts

Once more the Military Ball has made history ending in true provincial fashion at 11:30. At that lots of boys and girls weren't tucked in bed at midnight according to the theory and hearsay. — The roses are faded, the commissions mere scraps of paper. Oh well.

We hear that Sigma Delta discussed "War Debts and Reparation" Sunday night. It looks to us as though it's mostly "Debt" with little of "Reparation."

Now that the Brevities cast is chosen Huntoon and Konen will have to secure a body guard and permits for carrying weapons.

A Greek letter official visiting recently in Fargo expressed surprise at meeting men at a tea in her honor. Well, as one of the men remarked, that's what makes it a college rather than a cowledge.

Within the past week we've heard six different versions of the Little International from—six different sorority women.

Women are madly scurrying around this week getting ready for the Co-ed Prom. Next week they'll be madly scurrying for dates for the Charity. Definition of a co-ed's life—one scurry after another.

"The fraternity member is a Cardboard man," says Philip Wylie in COLLEGE HUMOR—a lot of cardboard that could be conveniently made into excellent shoe boxes.

We're anxious for that Russian tea tonight following "The Cherry Orchard". At that we wager it will be Liptons.

The Pep club is going to have a constitution an' everything. Come out ye Rotarians — it might be a major activity.

Dr. Frank Advocates Change In Education

Western System Fails To Fit Man For Statesmanship, Says University Head

"Western education must share the blame for the breakdown of political, social and economic leadership in the United States," says Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin. In the opinion of Dr. Frank, western education has been superbly successful in training western man for the technical execution of his separate enterprise, but it has tragically failed to fit him for realistic statesmanship in the ground plan and governance of his social order.

"I am convinced that unless western man effects a radical re-orientation of the program and processes of his education, the forces of social and economic renewal will stand a discouragingly slight chance of coming to ascendancy quickly enough to check the decline of the west. We have produced a generation of specialists." Dr. Frank says that this severe specialization tends to bring about a growing reluctance of the western man wrestling with difficult problems as a whole. Whenever a situation arises he dismembers it and sends its separate parts to specialists, and when his social order faces a crisis he finds the specialist unwilling to assume responsibility for general conclusions.

By way of solution, Dr. Frank presented a plan whereby he would set up research institutions severely segregated in organization and objective, to provide for the promotion of scholarship and training of professional scholars.

America's expenditure for education in 1931, as estimated by the Federal Office of Education, was $3,200,000,000. The number of pupils enrolled in public elementary schools during the year was approximately 21,211,325, in public high schools, 4,354,815, and in institutions of higher learning, 1,099,468. The total number of teachers in the United States is estimated at 1,029,000.

300 students, representing forty odd nationalities, attended the Geneva School of International Studies last summer. The ninth annual session, which will be directed as usual by Professor Alfred Zimmermann of Oxford university, will be held from July 11th through September 2.

Success Of Country Depends On Education

Wilbur Points Out Necessity Of Cultural Education, Specialized Knowledge

"In this age of competition an education is becoming more than ever a necessity if one is to keep his place without being squeezed out of the field," says Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, in a special interview granted to the Pennsylvanian. One must have a combination of general cultural education coupled with specialized knowledge in the particular line which one intends to follow.

"Too many people are content merely to make the grade; I don't believe in such an attitude. The college or university student, or anyone else for that matter, should put the best efforts in his work with the view of getting the most out of it.

"Today there is greater equality of opportunity than ever before for the person of the coming generation. The key that will unlock this opportunity is the ability to take the utmost advantage of educational opportunities offered. This does not mean in class work alone but also in the varied extra-curricular activities of the school. "Americans are inclined to be too docile," continues Dr. Wilbur. "If the American youth can shake off this handicap, he has opportunities open to him which far surpass those of any other age or era.

"One of the greatest mistakes that the American public has made is that it has considered for so long the college and the university as a place for social education and advancement rather than as a place where a person may develop himself according to his own talents. That is why so many former bond salesmen are tramping pavements today in search of work. They took college as a social experience, loafing for four years and receiving a diploma. While there is a place for this type of person in the times of prosperity whenever the going becomes rougher he is no longer needed and is consequently the first to be dropped from the employment of the firm in which he works.

"The success of this country in the future depends on the proportion of the young people who will accept an education that will properly fit them to carry on the functions of government."

BISON BASKETEERS GO TO SIOUX CITY, IOWA, FOR MORNINGSIDE GAME

Coach Saalwaechter Takes Ten Men To Southern End of Conference for Three Games

BISON PLAY COYOTES SATURDAY NIGHT

Squad Expects To Arrive Home Tuesday After Tilt With Bunnies

Testing the strength of his basketball team in the hard trip into the southern end of the conference, Coach L. T. Saalwaechter will get a definite idea on the Bison pennant possibilities. Coach Saalwaechter will leave tomorrow morning for Sioux City, Iowa, with a squad of ten men and will play the Morningside Maroons on Friday night in the first tilt of the trip.

On Saturday evening, the Bison will invade Vermillion to play South Dakota University Conference champions last season. The Coyotes have set an enviable record this far this season and seem bound for another championship. They easily defeated the University of North Dakota last week.

After this hard game, the Sallymen will spend Sunday in Sioux Falls before travelling to Brookings for the final game of the trip on Monday night with the Jackrabbits.

The men who will leave tomorrow morning are: Donald Arthur, Bob Weir, Eric Nordstrom, Walt Olson, Leal Thomasson, Blair Seitz, George Fairhead, Viv McKay, Jim Berdahl, and Arnold Mickelson. All of the men are in good condition for this invasion, and the opponents will find plenty of opposition when they line up against the Bison.

Morningside Shows Power

Morningside College will present a much better team than the one that played against the Bison about a month ago. The Maroons always improve toward the end of the season, and they showed this last week end when they defeated the strong South Dakota State team 32-22. Sally expects to get a severe battle at Sioux City on Friday night, but with his regular forwards back in the game he should win over the Maroons.

Play Jackrabbits Saturday

The biggest test of the trip will come on Saturday night when the Bison line up against the powerful Jackrabbit aggregation. Vern Adkins, University shooting ace, recently scored 26 points against the University of Nebraska in one game.

South Dakota State started the season at a fast pace but lately they have seemed to lose their scoring punch. They have suffered defeat at the hands of Morningside and North Dakota University. However, this does not indicate what they will do against the Bison, but we will be out to gain revenge for the surprise defeat that we received from them in football last fall.

The squad expects to get to Fargo on Tuesday afternoon and start preparation for the game with South Dakota University on Feb. 6.

DYING MED STUDENT STUDIES HIS HEART

Out of the Boston City hospital recently came the story of a heroic Harvard Medical School student, 24 years old, who had known from youth that he was doomed to die of a heart ailment, and who spent the last months of his life in a careful study of his own case in an effort to aid medical science.

The student was Alfred Seymour Reinhardt, who had worked his way through Harvard by scholarships to graduate magna cum laude, and had spent three years in the medical school before he died.

In his last days he underwent excruciating pain rather than take drugs which would have eased the pain but would have prevented his study of his own case. In a special laboratory set aside for him in the hospital he recorded the results of his study and on his death bed dictated his final observations. Superiors who watched over him said that his notes disclosed unusual observations not generally known to medical science.

John Bond, Theta Chi, has returned to school after a week's illness.

Five colleges in the United States have adopted the language house system of instruction in foreign tongues. The first institution to adopt such a method was Middlebury college; the University of Wisconsin, Wheaton and Wellesley followed.

"The fraternity man in college has, in my opinion, less chance of making good out in the world than the non-fraternity man," says Ray Lyman Wilbur.

Fight Lights

Now that the Bison fighters are going to have an opportunity to clash in competition for the Olympics, North Dakota State college may become nationally prominent in this newly rising sport of collegiate boxing.

WITH COMPETITION FOR OLYMPIC PLACEMENTS, TWO NORTH CENTRAL CONFERENCE COLLEGE TOURNAMENTS AND A POSSIBILITY OF ANOTHER, THE GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNEY AT MINNEAPOLIS AND THE INTRAMURAL GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNEY AT THE COLLEGE, THE BISON FIGHTERS CAN HARDLY BE ACCUSED OF SETTING AN EASY SCHEDULE FOR 1932.

Both the North and South Dakota university fighters are working hard for the bouts with the Bison, reports indicate. South Dakota State college is a possible entry in the conference race.

THE LIGHTHEAVYWEIGHT CLASS WILL BE ONE OF THE TOUGHEST SECTIONS OF THE COLLEGE BOUTS THIS YEAR, ACCORDING TO TRAINING CAMP INFORMATION. BATTLEING DVORAK, BARRED FROM THE MIDDLEWEIGHT SECTOR, HAVING WON THE TITLE FOR TWO YEARS IN A ROW, IS REPORTED OUT FOR THE NEXT CROWN ON THE LIST. TED LOY, GOLDEN GLOVES CHAMPION AT MINNEAPOLIS TWO YEARS AGO, MAY HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT WHERE THE CROWN SHOULD STAY.

Rod McMillan, captain of the Bison boxing team, is regarded as the best candidate for the heavyweight position, left by the graduation of Bill Hilt, knockout king of the college conference. Hilt is now fighting a saxophone around the world for the second trip with the college orchestra.

UNIVERSITY OF MEXICO PUBLISHES MANUSCRIPT

The "History of the Oldest University of America," has just been published by the National University of Mexico. The chief source of the material was the original manuscript in the Garcia library, entitled, "The Chronicle of the Royal Pontifical University of Mexico 1553-1689."

The publication of this rare manuscript was undertaken by the University of Mexico several years ago under the supervision of Nicholas Rangel. The editor has added an introduction tracing the development from 1553 to the present and many essential documents have been added as an appendix.

"This publication is a distinct addition to the history of education in America," declared Carlos E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian. "It is proof evident that higher education had a start in Mexico almost one hundred years before Harvard was founded in 1636."

COLLEGE ENROLLMENTS ARE AT HIGH LEVEL

Writing in the current issue of "School and Society," Dean Raymond Walters of Swarthmore college remarks that the present enrollment of 444 of the leading colleges is 12 per cent higher than that of "the prosperous period five years ago."

Attendance at American colleges and universities is at its highest level in history in spite of the present economic depression, but the comparatively small gain made since last year indicates that the pinnacle predicted for collegiate enrollment may have been reached, according to Dean Walter's statement, made after considering the reports of the "approved institutions."

Bison Battlers May Be Boxing Candidates At Olympic Meet

Strict Amateur Regulations Will Improve Chances of Bison Fighters

There is a strong possibility that the North Dakota State college fighters will enter into competition for places on the United States Olympic boxing team for the 1932 meet, Lt. Fay Smith announced today.

While plans of the Olympic boxing committee have not yet been revealed for a certainty, there have been expressed beliefs that the Olympic tryouts will be held in Minneapolis this spring in much the same manner as the A. A. U. Golden Gloves tourney. Another possibility is that Fargo may be the place for a preliminary tourney for bona fide amateurs of this section.

Rules Are Strict

"The Olympic boxing rules are most strict in regards to amateur standing," Lt. Smith said. "A fighter who has accepted a cent for fighting or who has fought on the same card as a professional is automatically classed as a professional fighter."

A majority of the fighters who contested in the Golden Gloves tourney at Minneapolis last spring will be thus barred from competition in the Olympic tryouts.

Bison Chances Good

The strict rules of the Olympic committee would be most advantageous to the Bison fighters, according to Coach Smith. Although the Bison won several runnerup positions in the tournament at Minneapolis last spring, they did not take a championship, missing several by close decisions. The strict ruling would eliminate many of the better fighters by taking their amateur classification away for breakings of the competitive rules, but would not affect the Bison boxing team materially.

"Official word has not yet been heard from the Olympic headquarters on the boxing plans," Lt. Smith said. "However, information and instructions are expected this week from the boxing committee which will tell definitely about the plans for getting fight candidates from the northwest. If the meets are held, North Dakota State college will be represented."

NEW FELLOWSHIPS ARE ESTABLISHED BY FUNDS

Fellowships enabling American students to spend a year in study at Oxford or Cambridge have been provided by the Charles and Julia Henry fund, established under the will of the late Lady Julia Henry. The will states that they are founded "in the earnest hope and desire of cementing the bonds of friendship between the British Empire and the United States." The income is to be applied to the provision of fellowships for British subjects tenable at American universities, and for American subjects tenable at English universities.

CLIFFORD SWANSON WINS DECLAMATION CONTEST

Clifford Swanson giving an original oration on the Supreme Court won the 37th annual declamatory contest held in the Little Country theater last Friday afternoon.

Reading "Number Three on the Docket," Mary Healy was awarded second place. Mr. Swanson will receive a gold medal.

Other contestants were Frederick Martin, Vivian Peterson, Luella Anderson. Judges were Rev. Ralph Conard, Dr. W. C. Sainsbury, and Miss Grace Steen.

Bison, Dragons Have Scrimmage Sessions

Moorhead Hoopsters Play Local Men In Three Games Last Friday Afternoon

The Bison hoopsters played host to Sliv Nemzek and his squad of M. S. T. C. netmen Friday afternoon in the new gym for a two hour session of scrimmage. Three games were played during the afternoon with the varsities of the two schools presenting the feature contest. The second teams and the Frosh five offered the other two tilts.

The purpose of the meeting was to test the Bison after a two weeks layoff from regular scheduled games. Coach Saalwaechter sent his first string quintet through their regular plays against the Dragons and proved them to be more than a little effective. With Don Arthur back in the lineup the Bison seemed to find themselves consistently peppering the hoop after well executed plays to run up a large lead.

The Teachers were unable to penetrate the Yellow and Green defense and found themselves at the short end of a 34 to 25 score at the end of the game. Booher for Moorhead was most effective under the basket.

Arthur looked well for the Bison sinking shots from all positions on the floor. His restoration to the squad should have great influence in the conference games to be played in the near future.

The other two games were devoted mainly to an inspection of the plays and the ball handling of the teams. The Bison cagemen showed up well in all phases of the game and annexed a majority of the points in the scrimmages.

Wolhowe, Comm, Ryan Take Highest Score In Rifle Tryouts

Excellent Records Turned In As Bison Complete 1932 Team Selections

Shooting the highest score ever tallied in rifle team tryouts at North Dakota State college, Otto Wolhowe was this week awarded the gold medal for first place in this annual college sharpshooter match. Ed Comm, elected captain of this year's team, won second place, and Larry Ryan, manager of the team, won the bronze medal for third place.

Excellent records in the tryouts promise a good season for the Bison riflemen this year, according to Captain J. B. Conmy, riflery coach of North Dakota's champion college team. Wolhowe's score of 653 for shots at the prone, sitting, kneeling, and three trials at the standing position breaks all former tryout records, Capt. Conmy says.

Martin Cline, a freshman, led the tyro or beginning marksmen by taking eighth place in the college match and first place in his class with a score of 590. Henry Bottemiller with 577 and Nels Skaar with 571 took second and third places respectively among the first year riflemen.

Twenty-two men with the highest score in the tryouts have been selected for the rifle team, according to Captain Conmy. Further elimination will have to be made later on to pare the rifle team to 20 members, the normal number for the regular team.

Those who won a placement on the team and their scores are as follows: O. Wolhowe, 653; Ed Comm, 636; Larry Ryan, 622; James Newton, 605; E. Bothun, 605; L. Forman, 597; K. Piper, 594; M. Cline, 590; W. Curtis, 588; W. Thompson, 587; H. Bottemiller, 577; N. Peterson, 574; N. Skaar, 571; E. Hall, 569; M. Johnson, 560; G. Friese, 558; W. Barthelomew, 556; A. Olson, 548; G. Monson, 546; B. Lucier, 541; G. Johnson, 536.

The town of Hanover, New Hampshire, requires all eligible Dartmouth students to vote in order that it may collect a poll tax from them. In retaliation, the students attended a town meeting, where they introduced and passed two bills, proposing the building of a wall around the town eight miles high and the construction of a city hall one foot wide and a mile high. Hanoverians had to take the affair to Washington to get out of building the two structures.

New Constitution Is Discussed By Members

Pep Club Has Regular Meeting Monday; Group Considers Several Proposals

A new constitution submitted to the Pep club was discussed at their regular meeting Monday, as the main feature of the gathering.

Proposals that members must be qualified as North Dakota State students in good standing, must attend at least 75 percent of the games, and must be elected by a majority at a meeting, were well received.

The proposed constitution makes provision for monograms of yellow megaphones with a green N. D. S. insignia to be given members. These monograms are to be used on a green sweater to be decided on later, which is to be paid for at least in part by a dance to be given some time this term. Arnold Chamberlin was elected treasurer.

According to Case Tech, students who "borrow" electric light bulbs, break doors, and commit other crimes which are opposed to the conventions of society, are to be subjected to a psychoanalytical examination. The purpose of the test will be to determine why students do things in college which they would not do at home.
