RUTH OLSON IS WINNER OF MILKING CONTEST FOR CO-EDS THURSDAY

Winner Represents Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority In Little International Feature

McMILLAN WINS SECOND

Contestant Milks 2.6 Pounds To Obtain First Place In Event

Ruth Olson, representing Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, took first place out of a field of six competitors in the co-ed milking contest at the Little International Livestock show last night in the college livestock pavilion, with a total of two and six tenths pounds of milk that she extracted from her cow. Jean McMillan, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, was close behind her for second place with exactly two pounds of milk. The other four entrants finished in the following order: Myrna Ottinger, last year's winner in the contest, Kappa Delta, third; Helen Fredrikson, Gamma Phi Beta, fourth; Nita Oleson, Pi Omega Pi, fifth; and Margaret Allen, Ceres Hall club, sixth. T. Worden Johnson was the judge who weighed the results.

A little Scottie won first prize in the inter-sorority dog show for Hazel Swanson, Phi Omega Pi. Second place was awarded to a Pomeranian, shown by Doris Nelson, Kappa Kappa Gamma. A Dachshund, led by Rinka Arnason, Kappa Delta, was given third place; a police dog, owned by Eva Sherwood, Alpha Gamma Delta, fourth; a Pekingese, led by Bernice Streit, Alpha Xi Beta, fifth; and a Chinese Chow, shown by Dorothy Holes, Gamma Phi Beta, sixth. Dr. J. W. Dunham was judge of this feature.

Judge Paul M. Paulson of the Fargo Cosmopolitan club, was victorious in the harness race, a third feature of last night's Little International. He harnessed and hitched his horse to a buggy and drove around the pavilion in two minutes flat to defeat William Black, representative of the Fargo Kiwanis club. Just previous to the contest, Dr. J. H. Shepperd and Cap Miller addressed the audience on what the outcome of the race would be.

A large number of animals were entered in the shows. The animals were all handled and groomed by the students who entered them. First and second prizes were awarded as follows: Sheep division, first prize, Wayne Houtcooper, showing a Southdown, second prize, Don Scott, showing a Hampshire; Poultry division, first prize, Albert Herner, showing a Rhode Island Red cockerel, and second place, Bernard Curtis, showing a White Leghorn (Continued on page 4)

New Audit Committee Approves Advertising

Board of Publications Protects Business Concerns From Unofficial Advertising

Organization of an advertising audit committee to authorize solicitation of advertising for special publications or other printed matter at the North Dakota State college campus has been effected by the college Board of Publications, announces Christian Bjornson, Mandan, and secretary of the Board. The move has been made because of many students unauthorized have been soliciting advertising for various types of printed matter, such as athletic programs and blotters, manilla covers, etc. from downtown merchants.

If a plan is approved by the committee in charge the solicitors will receive an authorization card to present to business concerns when soliciting advertising. Besides Bjornson the auditing committee includes A. H. Parrot, registrar, faculty member on Board, and Harold Fredrickson, president of Board.

Reichert Succeeds Hodgson As Press Conference Head

Plans Are Underway For Annual Convention In March; South Dakota State Is Host

To replace Earl Hodgson as president of the North Central Press conference, Glenn Reichert was elected to the position at a meeting of Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity, Tuesday afternoon.

The election was conducted because of the fact that Hodgson, who was elected to the post during the annual conference of the association on this campus last spring, did not return to school this fall.

Plans have already been made by journalists at South Dakota State college for the 1932 conference to be held on their campus in March. Besides North and South Dakota State colleges, schools in the conference area are: University of South Dakota, University of North Dakota, Creighton university and Morningside college.

A senior in the school of agriculture, Reichert, whose home is at Carrington, is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity, and Gamma Tau Sigma, journalistic fraternity. Active in work on college publications during his college career, Reichert is the present business manager of The Spectrum.

Varied Cast Gives Drama By Tchekov Next Tuesday Night

Faculty, Students, Alumni Unite In Presentation of "The Cherry Orchard"

Something unique in dramatic productions on this campus will be staged in the Little Country theater Tuesday night, when students, faculty members and alumni unite in the production of Anton Tchekov's epic drama, "The Cherry Orchard," says A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public discussion and director of the cast.

As the title of the drama implies, a cherry orchard is the cause for much of the action. The orchard was part of an estate owned by Madame Ranevsky, played by Emma Nelson, who, because of financial reasons, was forced to relinquish the property which finally goes into the hands of Lopakhin, a merchant, played by Lyle Phillips. Lopakhin is undecided about what should be done with the property, and the action which follows develops while the merchant owns the orchard. Scenes for the four acts of the drama are laid in different parts of the estate, and both interior and exterior scenes are represented.

Plans for stressing the Russian idea throughout the features for the evening have been made, says Mr. Arvold. People in charge of the theater that night will be attired in keeping with the nature of the play.

Following the presentation of the drama, a Russian tea will be served in the Lincoln Log cabin, it was announced Thursday.

Besides Miss Nelson and Mr. Phillips, the cast of experienced players includes: Ruth Barrett, Alice Bender, Raymond Gregerson, David Minard, Richard Warner, Ruth Boerth, Frederick Martin, Nadine Buck, Jack Knapp, Kenneth Wyard, Malve McKoane and Donald Hay.

Students Stage Two Debates Last Night

Concordia Meets Local Groups In Discussions On Control Of Industry Question

Two community debates were staged by students at North Dakota State college with representatives from Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn., last night. One group of students appeared at Frazee, Minn., while another group presented a debate for the Periscope club in the city Y. M. C. A.

The question used in both contests was, "Resolved: That congress enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry."

Students representing State college at Frazee were Joseph Paulson and William Stewart. Leonard Gilles and Clifford Maloney were the negative speakers in the debate before the Periscope club.

210 Couples Expected At First Social Event On Year's Formal Program

SHEPPERD COMMISSIONS WOMEN AT 8:45 P. M.

Leading the grand march at the 17th annual Military Ball tomorrow at 8:45 p. m. will be Malve McKoane, Ball manager, junior in the school of science and literature, and member of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity and Miss Mazee Cooke. Second in line will be Frank Seebart, colonel, senior in the school of chemistry and member of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity, and Miss Selina Best.

President J. H. Shepperd will commission two honorary officers immediately following the grand march. Women to be commissioned are Miss Jane Canniff, as honorary colonel, and Miss Ethel Cone, as honorary lieutenant colonel. These two women were elected by the battalion staff who are commissioning an honorary lieutenant colonel for the first time. Miss Mary McLane was commissioned as colonel last year.

It is estimated that approximately 210 couples will attend the opening event on the formal program scheduled for 8:30 tomorrow night in the physical education building. In former years the Ball has been held either at the Crystal ballroom or at the Elks club. Tickets have been on sale since the holidays by fraternity representatives, members of Scabbard and Blade, at the Bookstore and at the Service Drug and Broadway Pharmacy.

Novel lighting effects will be used in decorating and the Turner-Lundale orchestra from the Canonova ballroom at Grand Forks has been engaged for the dance. Attractive favors are promised by Max Hughes who is in charge of invitations, programs and favors.

Honor guests will include Governor and Mrs. George Shafer, Colonel and Mrs. M. F. Steele, President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Adjt. and Mrs. Angus Fraser, Dean and Mrs. I. W. Smith, Dean Pearl Dinan, Dean Alba Bales, Dean and Mrs. A. E. Minard, Dean and Mrs. R. M. Dolve, Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro, Dean and Mrs. H. L. Walster, and Dean and Mrs. L. L. Carrick. Representatives from the University of North Dakota will also be present.

Chaperons will be Major and Mrs. E. A. Lathrop, Captain and Mrs. J. B. Conny, Captain and Mrs. H. J. McChrystal, Lieut. and Mrs. Fay Smith, and Captain and Mrs. C. S. Putnam.

Committees from Scabbard and Blade who are arranging the affair are: Lawrence Ryan, tickets and finance; Max Hughes, invitations, programs and favors; John Rooney, music; Edgar Crewe, publicity; Albert Olsen, features; Rea Taylor, refreshments; Hjalmar Johnson, floor manager; and Jack Simonitsch, decorations.

Spectators will be seated in a special section reserved for this purpose. An admission charge of twenty-five cents will be made.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE MEETS SOON FOR ORGANIZATION

If possible the Womens' League will secure a convocation period sometime in the near future for its organization meeting originally scheduled for last Monday afternoon. The meeting was not held at this time due to the small number of women students present.

Providing the period is not secured the organization will schedule another afternoon meeting to elect members to the Women's Senate, honorary organization of the Women's League.

Every woman on the campus automatically becomes a member of the organization on matriculation. "All women are urged to come out for the meeting, the date for which will be announced more definitely in the near future," said Dean Dinan.

Military Ball

The 17th annual Military Ball tomorrow night will usher in the formal season. Sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, national honorary Military organization, it is one of the four outstanding social events of the year.

For the first time this year the new physical education building will be the scene of a formal dance. In using this building the organization has to convert three basketball courts into a scene appropriate for formal clothes. It will be interesting to note what a small organization of this sort can do and to what heights of ingenuity the members may rise in arranging lighting and decorative effects.

We are glad that Scabbard and Blade is again sponsoring this event despite the general plan of retrenchment in force this year. A bit of the formal among so much that is informal enables us to drop the collegiate manner if only for an evening.

Recognition

In statistics recently secured from the registrar's office and published in last Friday's issue, it was interesting to note that according to a survey made by the Dean of the school of arts and science at the University of Minnesota, students enrolling in this particular school from North Dakota State were second among some thirty institutions doing satisfactory work at Minnesota.

Then at the same time a letter from a former student was received by Dean Minard reporting that all credit hours gained during two years at this college had been unquestionably accepted at Georgetown University, one of the more recognized schools specializing in diplomatic training in Washington, D. C.

Such reports coming at this time are particularly encouraging and reassuring to those educators here who have been steadily building up this institution to a point where it may be acclaimed as one of recognized excellence and standard.

STATE UNIVERSITY UNDER FIRE FOR EXPULSION ACT

The ruling that state supported universities may expell students because of low grades will be tested in the Supreme Court of Ohio by the father of a dismissed student. The Court of Appeals has already affirmed the power of the University to establish and maintain scholastic standards. The court dissolved the injunction granted to the former student last spring, enabling her to stay in school.

Prominent educators are testifying at the trial, which is arousing great interest among all state schools. The plaintiff contends that a university, established and supported by the state, is open to all its citizens as long as rules of order and decency are not violated. The Court of appeals showed that the section of the Constitution of 1902, the basis of the plaintiff's claim, is not now a part of the document.

Spectrum loafers (editors included) are weary of playing with the thermostat to keep themselves warm. And when we get the stove we'll have to have the crackers. The stove will let us sit without tearing to the thermostat every five minutes—and well we think the crackers would be in keeping. But no crumbs on the floor.

International Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta Visits Alpha Omicron

Mrs. Arthur Hoffman, international grand president of Gamma Phi Beta, left for her home in Minneapolis last night after conducting a two day inspection of the Alpha Omicron chapter here.

Last evening Mrs. Hoffman was the guest of the active chapter at dinner in the chapter house following by a model meeting. Fraternity and sorority representatives, alumni representatives, and sorority house mothers were guests at a tea on Wednesday afternoon given by the active chapter for Mrs. Hoffman. Faculty women entertained at luncheon the same day and the alumnae chapter honored Mrs. Hoffman at dinner that evening in the home of Marion Burnett. Mrs. C. M. Mrs. Hoffman came to Fargo from Grand Forks where she conducted the annual inspection of Alpha Beta chapter at the University. During her stay in Fargo she was a guest at the chapter house.

Miss Frances Holes returned to her home in Hunter this week after visiting her sister Dorothy at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

ALEX CURRIE HONORED AS MASTER FARMER AT PROGRAM HELD TONIGHT

Pioneer Farmer's Picture Will Hang in College Hall of Fame

BANQUET ENDS PROGRAM

More Than 1000 Men and Women Attend Activities On Campus

With the honoring of Alex Currie, pioneer North Dakota farmer, whose portrait will be unveiled in the Saddle and Sirloin Club hall of fame, the thirty-third annual North Dakota Farmers and Homemakers week will be drawn to a close this evening at a feature banquet sponsored by the Saddle and Sirloin club.

A most successful week of activities has marked the 1932 meeting on the North Dakota State college campus, according to W. C. Palmer, secretary of the meeting. More than 1000 men and women participated in the various meetings and viewed the various expositions prepared at the college.

Mr. Currie was chosen as Master Farmer for 1932 through the activities of the college Saddle and Sirloin club, which sponsors the unveiling of the picture of this pioneer farmer, at the annual club banquet this evening. Mr. Currie, still hale and hearty at the age of 72, has farmed successfully near Cando, Towner county, since 1881.

Featuring the week have been activities in various fields and large attendances of people at each, according to Mr. Palmer. More than 400 people witnessed or participated in the Neighborhood Day celebration carried on Tuesday afternoon in the Little Country theater, under the direction of A. G. Arvold, head of the public discussions department.

Between 500 and 550 people watched the horse-breaking exhibition carried on Wednesday afternoon by Harry D. Linn, field representative of the Iowa Horse and Mule association. His exhibition of taming wild horses was a feature part of the program of the day for the North Dakota Livestock Breeders' association.

Probably the major show of the week, in the viewpoint of the student body, was the Little International Exposition held last night. Crowds of visitors and sorority were entertained with numerous exhibits of agricultural interest and a number of special features including the co-ed milking competition and sorority dog show.

Throughout the week conventions of various organizations were carried on at the campus. Members from many sections of the state attended the meetings of the North Dakota Livestock Breeders' association, North Dakota Crop Improvement association, and the State Beekeepers' association. Members of the North Dakota Wool Pool and North Dakota Grimm Alfalfa association also held sessions, though not at the college proper.

Volleyball Circuit Ends First Round

Six Teams Engage Faculty Attention For Several Weeks of Sport

Faculty volleyball continued in full swing during the past week with interest running high at each new contest. At the end of Wednesday play A and C teams were tied for first place with a total of 126 points each in the 12 games played. F team is next high with 154 points.

The schedule is so arranged that each team eventually plays every other team and the round is completed every fifteen games. The first circuit will be climaxed Saturday. A few adjustments will be made at that time to assure the teams a more even balance.

At present the games are played on the stage in the new gym. Daily contests of three games are begun at 5:20 p. m. and continue until after 6 p. m. The team acquiring the majority of points in the three games wins the match.

The committee in charge announces that all members of the faculty and student assistants are eligible to compete in the tourney. At present fifty members are listed on the six teams. The competitive feature of the tournament, which was introduced at the beginning of the winter quarter, together with the benefits of the exercise pro-

SIGN FOR PICTURES LAST TIME TODAY

Today is the last day for students to sign up for individual pictures in the Bison, said Mart Vogel, editor, last night. Students wishing to be represented in the 1932 Bison are urged to come to the office sometime during the day and secure an appointment. "All students who have not yet filled out an activity card are also asked to report to the office and do so as the material will be sent to the printers in the near future," Mr. Vogel also announced.

SPECIAL EXHIBIT IS ON DISPLAY DOWNTOWN

The "Wheat to Meat" exhibit that caused so much comment among the visitors at the recent International Grain and Hay Show at Chicago has been set up in the Riley Building, south of the Gardner hotel downtown, according to W. C. Palmer, secretary of the Farmers and Homemakers Week at the college.

College students and faculty people are urged to visit the exhibit before it is sent to Minot. The exhibit, a joint product of the North Dakota Agricultural college and the Greater North Dakota association, will be open afternoons and evenings until Tuesday, Jan. 26.

Depicting the agricultural progress in North Dakota, especially in livestock production, the "Wheat to Meat" exhibit presents its story in caption and picture form. Two miniature freight trains command the center of the stage as they carry their carloads of livestock cityward in realistic fashion.

GREEK LETTER GROUPS BEGIN PLAY IN ANNUAL WINTER CAGE TOURNEY

Nine Teams Enter Intra-Mural Contest; Series Of Games Began East Monday

DELTA TAU TEAM LEADS Competition For Winter Term Will Be Completed On Feb. 6

Intra-mural basketball captured the sport limelight during the past week in the absence of a regular scheduled varsity basketball game. The winter tournament was opened with a series of games that started Monday and that will continue until Feb. 6. The second half of the schedule will be played after that date to finish out the season.

Nine teams are entered in the contest this year. Alpha Gamma Rho, Delta Kappa Sigma, Alpha Sigma Tau, Theta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Psi, Sigma Phi Delta, Kappa Sigma Chi and Delta Tau Epsilon each having entered a quintet. Playing four games every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the match is progressing with great rapidity and is rendered doubly interesting by the speedy fluctuation of the teams percentages.

At present Delta Tau Epsilon has exhibited the greatest strength in the games played with three straight victories. The Alpha Tau Omegas also have a clean record, winning two games. Kappa Psi has lost one and won two while Theta Chi and Kappa Sigma Chi have lost one and won one. Delta Kappa Sigma and Alpha Sigma Tau have lost two and won one and the Sigma Phi Delta and Alpha Gamma Rho have lost two.

Several individuals have shown themselves to be outstanding netmen in the contest thus far. Emmet O'Day, Alpha Tau Omega forward, is high point man to date with a score of 15. Fred Swanson, Theta Chi forward, Miit Jacobson, Sigma Tau center, and Carmen Hunt, Delta Tau Epsilon center, have presented good games for their teams.

At the end of the tourney there will be a final playoff for the season's champions with a trophy as the reward of the victors.

Team standings in the intra-mural basketball contest:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Delta Tau Epsilon	3	0	1000
Alpha Tau Omega	2	0	1000
Kappa Psi	2	1	750
Theta Chi	1	1	500
Kappa Sigma Chi	1	1	500
Delta Kappa Sigma	1	2	250
Alpha Sigma Tau	1	2	250
Alpha Gamma Rho	0	2	000
Sigma Phi Delta	0	0	000

Panhellenic Places Ball Tickets On Sale

Second Formal Event Scheduled For Physical Educational Building Feb. 5

Tickets for the annual Charity Ball on Feb. 5 were placed on sale among the sororities following the regular Panhellenic meeting Monday afternoon. Grace Hunkins is in charge of ticket sales.

The Ball is sponsored each year by the college chapter of Panhellenic and all sorority women buy tickets for the event. Receipts are divided among the Community Chest, Red Cross and the Panhellenic scholarship awarded annually.

Invitations will be issued this next week. Bill Euren and his Collegians have been engaged to play for the formal in the physical education building. Simple programs and decorations will be used that a greater share of the receipts may be given to charity.

George Toman and Chuck Ellis, Alpha Sigma Taus, are absent from school because of illness.

Ultra-violet rays of the sun are the cause of organic unrest which is known as spring fever, says a doctor at the University of Michigan.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

There's one undisputed advantage in the Bison netmen being idle for a couple weeks. For that time they are tied with South Dakota U for first place with a standing of 1000.

We are, of course, one of those that hope the Bison stay up there but next week when the two leaders clash there's bound to be an explosion.

BECAUSE OF THEIR COMPARATIVE INCAPACITY DURING THE FIRST HALF OF THE CONFERENCE RACE THE BISON NOW MUST FACE THE MOST STRENUOUS MONTH OF ANY TEAM IN THE LOOP. THE NEXT 10 DAYS WILL TELL THE STORY AND FOR THE LIFE OF US WE CAN'T TELL WHETHER IT WILL BE ROMANCE, REALISM OR MOTHER GOOSE.

If the Bison can do as well as Letich's Nodaks in taking two out of three on next week's southern trip, there will be ample cause for rejoicing. Loss of two out of three would not eliminate Sally's team from pennant consideration but would make prospects almost hopeless considering strength shown thus far by North Dakota and South Dakota.

Past conference performances indicate the Sioux and Coyotes will fight it out for the pennant, but we still have a sneaking notion the Bison, with Olson and Arthur back in the lineup, will cast a monkey wrench into the best laid plans of dopesters.

Morningside's apparent meekness in games thus far means but little. The Maroons always reach their stride late in the season, invariably knocking off one or more games before the final curtain.

No matter how the Bison come out next week, interest will be sustained locally until after the annual series with the University. In fact, for interest, we'll compare this rivalry with any in the country. We don't know how intense the feeling is in South Dakota but we do know they play only two games there while the Bison and Nodaks continue to pack them in with four thrilling battles.

OF COURSE THE FEELING OF RIVALRY CHANGES WITH THE CLASS OF TEAMS COMPETING. THE MOST RABID CROWD WE EVER SAW AT A BISON-NODAK NET GAME WAS IN THE WINTER OF 1926 WHEN THE NODAKS JOURNEYED TO FARGO AFTER TAKING TWO 2-POINT VICTORIES FROM THE BISON THE PREVIOUS WEEK AT GRAND FORKS. THE U SHOWING WAS SURPRISING, CONSIDERING THE BISON LOSSES WERE THE FIRST SUSTAINED THAT SEASON.

The crowd turned out to see if Letich's boys could repeat. The line

BISON PLAY MOORHEAD DRAGONS IN ENCOUNTER HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Students, Faculty Members Are Invited To Attend Game At 4:30 P. M. Today

After a two weeks rest, the North Dakota State college basketball team will again resume action this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. A game has been scheduled with the Moorhead Teachers college Dragons, and the students and faculty are invited to attend the game. These two teams have played one previous encounter this season, the Bison winning, and Moorhead will be out to gain revenge for the setback.

Arthur, Olson Still Out The Sallymen will still play without the services of the two regular forwards, Donald Arthur and Walt Olson, but they will both be ready to make the trip into the southern end of the conference next week. Arthur has been out for practice during the last week, but his foot has not healed sufficiently to permit him to see any severe action.

In the last contest, the Robinson brothers, star Dragon forwards, were not able to hit their stride and they may be in good form tonight and cause the Bison no little worry. After their extended rest, the Bison should be ready to perform at their best form during the season and gain many experiences which will help them during the extended campaign of next week.

Mmes. H. L. Walster, Waldo Smith and Carl A. Teet were guests of Alpha Xi Beta sorority at dinner Monday night.

began forming outside the armory at 4:30 p. m., the game being scheduled for 8. Students brought their lunch. Incidentally the Bison won both home games by overwhelming margins.

Now if the Bison could win enough games to make the Bison-Sioux series all important in the conference race you'd see a few more high tensioned basketball crowds.

IN THIS DEPRESSION MAYBE WE'D BETTER CALL THIS COLUMN "BETWEEN QUARTERS."

Selection Of Cast For Brevities Will Take Place Tonight

Chorus, Solo, Specialty Tests Are Scheduled For 7 P. M. In Festival Hall

Culminating two weeks of intensive practice, the selection of the cast for the 1932 edition of the Bison Brevities will be made this evening when final tryouts take place in Festival hall beginning at seven o'clock.

Included in the general trials will be tryouts for the dancing and singing choruses, solo work, and specialty work. Beside those interested in taking part in the show, the fraternity and sorority representatives from every house on the campus are to be present to aid in working out the schedule for practices.

"We cannot overemphasize the importance of these trials," said Director Homer B. Huntoon late yesterday. "At this time we are going to pick the personnel for each act in the entire show. The people who have reported for practice during the last two weeks must be there if they expect a part in our production. However there are some who have not shown up at rehearsals but seem to be interested. The tryouts tonight will be in the nature of a last chance before the final cast is determined."

The Greek letter representatives convened yesterday afternoon in the alumni-faculty clubrooms where schedules, policies numbers, costumes, and other matters concerning the production were discussed.

Student directors for both the dancing and the singing have signified their intentions of aiding in the instruction. Frances Wright will have charge of the ballet that is to be featured. The men's dancing choruses will probably be under the direction of John Hamlet, Frank Clark, Ben Boyden and Jack Vincent. The women coaches, assisting Boyden, who has general charge of all dancing, include Doris Hammer, Frances Kingsbury, and Mary McLane. A burlesque act will be under the direction of Mary Healy. Bill Euren is in general charge of the music for the show and is also directing the pit orchestra. Ed Mahlum is assisting Director Huntoon in the arrangement of the song parts. Other student directors have not been named but will be announced after the final tryouts this evening.

SIX SENIORS MOVE TO PRACTICE HOUSE

As a part of their course in home economics, six girls have moved into the practice house, where they will take charge of the duties of home management, according to Miss Alba Bales, head of the home economics department.

The responsibility is entirely in the hands of the students with the work divided into six shifts of eight days each. Thus each girl has at some time the position of cook, assistant cook, hostess, market girl, furnace girl, and landress.

Living in the house for the next two months will be Maurine McCurdy, Lois Minard, Irene Hudson, Marguerite Jennings, Lorissa Sheldon, and Eleanor Erickson. All are seniors from Fargo, except Miss Hudson, who is from Beach, N. D.

Club Meeting Postponed

A regular meeting of Delta Beta, North Dakota State college German club, scheduled for last night, was postponed. The meeting will be held in the college Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday. The program originally planned for last night will be presented at that time.

College Club Honors North Dakota Farmer At Banquet Tonight

Portrait Of Alex Currie Will Be Hung In Hall of Fame As Club Tradition

Recognizing his accomplishments as a North Dakota farmer for almost half a century, the Saddle and Sirloin club of North Dakota State college will honor a man tonight whose history as a farmer in this state dates back to 1884. The man is Alex Currie, whose portrait will be hung in the Saddle and Sirloin club Hall of Fame at the college where pictures of other outstanding North Dakota farmers have been hung in previous years.

The ceremony is a traditional event scheduled for the final part of the Farmers' and Homemakers' week program, the annual Saddle and Sirloin and Livestock Breeders' association banquet tonight.

Born on a farm of Scotch emigrant parents in Victoria county, Ontario, Can., Sept. 19, 1859, Mr. Currie left home at an early age to work on a farm and not long afterward he set out for St. Paul. The following year Mr. Currie spent in the logging camps of Minnesota, plying his trade in the Detroit Lakes and Grand Rapids country.

Mr. Currie came to Towner county in March, 1884, and filed on a pre-emption and tree claim now part of his home farm of 2,720 acres.

Crop failures came in 1888 when things froze out, and in 1889 and 1890 when it was too dry. But in the year 1891, Mr. Currie produced one of the largest crops in the history of the county.

Mabel Noyes of Poi Sippi, Wis., became the bride of Mr. Currie, Feb. 10, 1892. Her first duty in her new home in Towner county was to feed a threshing crew of 24 men. One other woman helped her.

The experience of having grain spoil caused Mr. Currie to combine the raising of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep with the production of grain. With a company of neighbors he bought and imported an Englishshire stallion. Since that time he has imported other stallions both of the Englishshire and Belgian breeds. Shorthorn cattle were also purchased, and since 1915 his herd has been federal accredited as free from T. B. Some of the best strains of blood in the country can be found in his herd. In 1920 a flock of sheep was added to Mr. Currie's farm, and they proved to be the best paying investment in 1931.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Currie consists of six children, four boys and two girls. With the exception of the
