

"COCK ROBIN" IS PLAY SELECTED BY DRAMATIC CLUB FOR WINTER TERM

Edwin Booth Club Chooses Cast For Three Act Mystery, Directors Announce

BENDER WILL DIRECT CAST

Players Will Stage Production In Little Country Theater On February 10

A mystery play in three acts, "Cock Robin," by Elmer Rice and Phillip Barry, has been selected by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club for their winter term production, announces Dorothea Olson, president. Directing the production will be Miss Alice Bender, who has announced the cast for the play to be given in the Little Country theater, Wednesday, Feb. 10.

The action of the play takes place between four and ten o'clock, p. m., of a single day, and centers around complications arising when Hancock Robinson is murdered during a dramatic presentation by a group of amateur players.

Anthony Faber, senior, has been selected for the role of George McAuliffe, director of the players. David Minard will play the part of Hancock Robinson, the murdered man. The cast also includes: Grant McCullough as Julian Cleveland; Horace Spaulding as Richard Lane; Ward McCabe as John Jessup; Helen Tarplee as Alice Montgomery; Mary Healy as Carlotta Maxwell; Lester Wyman as Henry Briggs; Jordan Engberg as Dr. Edgar Grace, and Claire Newell as Maria Scott.

Unusual settings are required for the production. The first act takes place on the stage setting of an English grogshop of the eighteenth century, viewed from the front of the theater. Act two includes the setting viewed from the rear of the stage and looking toward the back of the front curtain and audience. Act three is the same as act two.

Saddle And Sirloin Have Banquet Friday

A. J. Zavoral, Expert In Livestock Breeding, Scheduled As One Speaker

The annual Saddle and Sirloin and North Dakota Livestock Breeders association banquet, winding up a week of activities, will be held in Ceres hall, Friday, Jan. 22, at 6:30 p. m., according to Carl Roberts, president of Saddle and Sirloin and in charge of arrangements.

Giving the invocation will be Rev. W. P. Gerberding, of St. Marks Lutheran church. Kenneth McGregor, manager of the Hartley Stock Farms of Page, N. D., will be toastmaster, with Frank Hyland, Devils Lake, president of the North Dakota Livestock Breeders association, giving the first talk. The response is to be made by Alex Curry, Cando, whose outstanding work in livestock breeding, farming and citizenry has stamped him as the man of 1932 to have his portrait placed in the Hall of Fame.

Professors J. R. Dice, E. J. Thompson, and G. P. Gooddeal will present medals to the members of the livestock, dairy and poultry judging teams as a part of the program.

A talk on Russia by A. J. Zavoral of the extension department of the University of Minnesota, who has been employed by the Russian government as expert in livestock breeding, will be another feature.

The final speaker will be President J. H. Shepperd of North Dakota State college.

Notice!

There will be a meeting of the Board of Publications at noon today.

Players From College Student Body, Staff, Faculty Stage Drama

Arvold Directs "The Cherry Orchard" To Be Given Next Tuesday At 8 P. M.

To produce "The Cherry Orchard," a drama in four acts by Anton Tchekhov, a cast of faculty and staff members and students on the campus has been selected and is conducting regular rehearsals for the production to be given in the Little Country theater at 8 p. m., Tuesday, Jan. 26, under the direction of A. G. Arvold, head of the department of public discussion.

The action of the play takes place on the estate of Madame Ranevsky, a landowner. A room which is called the nursery is the scene for the first act. Act two takes place in an open field; act three in a sitting room, while act four is the same as the first scene.

Playing the role of Madame Ranevsky will be Emma Nelson, a graduate of the college and a former member of Edwin Booth Dramatic club. Ruth Barrett, junior, will play the part of Anya, her seventeen year old daughter. Alice Bender, instructor in public discussion, has been cast in the role of Barbara, Madame Ranevsky's adopted daughter. Raymond Gregorson, graduate student, will interpret the lines of Leonid Gayel, a brother of Madame Ranevsky.

Y. M. C. A. INVITES NEW MEN TO SMOKER

All men students who are new on the campus this term are invited to the smoker in the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8 o'clock.

The affair will take the form of an informal "get-together" at which time new students will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with each other and the activities of the Y, said Leo Anderson, president, last night.

Refreshments will be served following informal entertainment which the Y cabinet is arranging. All men students are urged to be present.

Delta Tau Epsilon and Kappa Psi fraternities were guests of Gamma Phi Beta Sunday afternoon at the third of a series of open houses the sorority is giving for fraternities on the campus.

SCABBARD AND BLADE GIVES 17TH MILITARY BALL SATURDAY NIGHT

Malve McKoane and Mazee Cooke First in Line of March At Formal Event

TICKET PRICE IS REDUCED

President Shepperd Commissions Jane Canniff and Ethel Cone With Presentation

Following the grand march at the 17th annual Military Ball, Saturday night at the physical education building, Misses Jane Canniff and Ethel Cone will be commissioned as Honorary Colonel and Honorary Lieutenant Colonel, respectively, by President J. H. Shepperd, who will present the commissions.

Malve McKoane, Ball manager, and his guest, Miss Mazee Cooke will lead the grand march at 8:45 p. m. Frank Seebart, colonel, and Miss Selina Best will be second in line. Mr. McKoane is a member of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity. Miss Cooke is a member of the college staff and a member of Kappa Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota sororities. Mr. Seebart is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau and Alpha Chi Omega fraternities.

The Turner-Lundale orchestra from the Casanova Ballroom at Grand Forks have been engaged for the Ball. Lighting effects are being planned by the committee in charge and novel favors will be presented to the guests. Tickets are on sale for two dollars this year rather than the former price of two dollars and a half and may be secured from members of Scabbard and Blade fraternity representatives, at the Bookstore or downtown at the Service Drug or Broadway Pharmacy.

SIGMA TAU DELTA GIVES BENEFIT BRIDGE

Sigma Tau Delta, honorary national English fraternity, held its regular meeting Sunday night at the home of Claire Newell. Manuscripts were read by Viola Dixon, Grace South, Aldyth Pinkham, Claire Newell and Howard Kilbourne.

Plans were made at this time for a benefit bridge to be held Feb. 6 in the old armory. Claire Newell is in charge of arrangements assisted by Ruth Barrett, Aldyth Pinkham and Gerald Gard.

Guests at the Sunday meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sackett and Mr. Leonard Hartwell. The next meeting will be held at the home of Ruth Barrett with Marjory Archer as the assisting hostess.

Annual Includes Bison Brevities As Major Activity

Individual Pictures Sent To Minneapolis January 22, Says Crewe

After deciding to include participation in the Bison Brevities as a major activity, Mart Vogel, editor of the Bison, today requested that all students making the Brevities secure their activities cards from the Bison office and add this activity to them.

"In view of the fact that this is an all-college production using the best creative talent on the campus, and in view of the fact that so much work and time are spent making the show a success, it was decided to include the Brevities among the major activities," said Mr. Vogel today.

The deadline for the individual pictures has been definitely set for Jan. 22 at which time they will be sent to the engravers in Minneapolis. It is still time to sign up now for the individual pictures which Mr. Vogel and Edgar Crewe, business manager, are trying to secure to make the book representative. "No pictures will be accepted after this date, however," Mr. Crewe said today.

Gamma Phi President Arrives Tuesday To Inspect Chapter

Active and Alumnae Chapters Entertain Wed. and Thurs. For Grand Officer

To conduct the annual inspection of Alpha Omicron chapter, Mrs. Millicent Hoffman, international grand president of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, will arrive in Fargo Tuesday evening from Grand Forks. Mrs. Hoffman is conducting an inspection of province 4 pending appointment of a new province director to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Florence Sullivan, resigned.

During Mrs. Hoffman's visit the active and alumnae chapters will entertain at numerous social affairs in her honor. On Wednesday noon woman members of the faculty will entertain at luncheon in Ceres hall dining room. Wednesday afternoon the active chapter will entertain at tea from 3-5 p. m. in the chapter house with invitations extended to fraternity and sorority representatives. A model pledge meeting will be held at 5:30 followed by an alumnae dinner. On Thursday Mrs. Hoffman will have conference with active and alumnae chapter officers and will be the guest of the active chapter at dinner and at a model meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Hoffman is a member of Kappa chapter at the University of Minnesota and of the Minneapolis alumnae chapter. She was elected international grand president at the international convention held at Birchmont lodge, Bemidji, Minn., this summer.

Delta Beta Arranges Varied Entertainment

German Society Plans Regular Meeting For Thursday Night In Y. M. C. A.

A talk in the German language on "The German Youth Movement" by F. W. Werking, instructor in modern languages, a one-act play, and German stories are among the features planned for the regular bi-monthly meeting of Delta Beta, college German club, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the college Y. M. C. A. building.

Taking part in the play, "On the Telephone," will be: Malve McKoane, Agnes Mohr, Harold Lundgren, Forrest Swisher, Daniel Howell, Gale Monson, and Katherine McDermott. Lydia Ketterling will give a German short story.

All students and faculty members who have had one year of German class work or its equivalent are eligible to membership in Delta Beta, says Mr. Werking, club adviser. Preparations for the Goethefest in March will be begun at this week's meeting, announces Mr. Werking.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN GIVES TENTH LITTLE INTERNATIONAL SHOW

Organizations Enter Women In Co-ed Milking Contest And Dog Show

EVENT BEGINS AT 7:30 P. M.

Tickets Are Twenty-Five Cents For Largest Exhibition In College History

"With the largest number of entries in the history of the event, the greatest array of prizes to be awarded in any year, and the anticipation of a record breaking crowd, this year's Little International Livestock show promises to be the biggest and most successful production to ever be staged by the Saddle and Sirloin club," said Howard McLeod, manager of the show, yesterday in announcing completion of plans for the event.

The show will begin at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening in the college livestock pavilion. An attractive program has been arranged, including the intersorority day show, co-ed milking contest, and a harness race between two members of downtown service clubs. The program will open with musical selections by the Campus Rounders. This is to be followed by the sheep show, which is judged by Prof. D. J. Griswold. Third on the program is a dance act, "Hot Feet," by John Hamlet, freshman student. Next comes the poultry show, judges in this division being Prof. O. A. Barton and George P. Gooddeal.

The intersorority dog show has fourth place on the program. Six sororities have entered representatives, according to William Gray, superintendent of the show. The girls who will show their dogs are: Eva Sherwood, Alpha Gamma Delta, who will enter a police dog; Bernice Streit, Alpha Xi Beta, a Pekingese; Dorothy Holes, Gamma Phi Beta, a Chinese Chow; Rinka Arnason, Kappa Delta, a Dachs-hund; Doris Nelson, Kappa Kappa Gamma, a Great Dane; and Hazel Swanson, Phi Omega Pi, a Scottie. ### Student Orchestra Books Second Tour

State Students Plan To Visit Mrs. Elene Huston In Genoa, Italy

Word was received in Fargo last week that Henry Pressler and his orchestra had signed for another trip around the world on the steamship S. S. President Van Buren after just completing one tour. The orchestra sailed from San Francisco on Jan. 8.

The men were surprised to receive another booking with the same line as it is unusual for any steamship company to reengage an orchestra for a return engagement. Other members of the orchestra are Birch Horton, Rudolph Hehr, and William Hilts.

On this trip the orchestra plans to visit Mrs. Elene Huston (nee Weeks) in Genoa, Italy, former editor of the Bison and member of Kappa Gamma sorority. On the first tour a stop was made in New York City with Clark Fredrickson, attending the National Park Recreational school, alumni member of Theta Chi.

Mr. Pressler was formerly editor of the Spectrum, manager of last year's Bison Brevities and a member of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity. Mr. Horton is also a member of Delta Kappa Sigma and Messrs. Hehr and Hilts are Theta Chis.

The Little International

The Little International is scheduled for Thursday night in conjunction with the Annual Homemaker's Week. It is one of the few worth while projects on the campus and is sponsored each year by the Saddle and Siroin club.

This year unusual interest has developed in the co-ed milking contest, the inter-sorority dog show and other exhibitions. It is a campus activity meriting your attention.

The Why of Education

With every day we are becoming more and more uncertain of the why of education and we are beginning to wonder if educators themselves know why they are here.

From the ages of six to twenty-one we are introduced to "courses" in spelling and composition, reading and arithmetic, history and literature. Tasks are set, lessons assigned and learned. We remember Emmy Lou, set to copying numbers and promptly forgotten by the busy teacher with the result that she spent weeks in this edifying occupation before chance rescued her and found her a more constructive task.

With the growth of our higher institutions of learning instructors are becoming mere automatons, lecturing almost by rote. Does it ever occur to any of them to tell us what it is all about, to suggest the relation between themselves and their bearing on human life?

After shimming over such "courses" we are becoming convinced that we could get a lot more out of books read on our own initiative if we weren't so constantly reminded of the presence of activities and dry lecture courses. In what we read there is something that captures our fancy and runs riot with our imagination.

Youth after all is greatly imaginative and fairly reasonable. If the instructor in Freshman English could spend two weeks in making us realize and appreciate the importance of being able to express our ideas in intelligent English, the drudgery of English composition would be transformed. If the history professor could show us the solidarity of human experience; if he could inspire us with some sense of the drama of civilization, of its ceaseless ebb and flow, he might be surprised at the intelligence with which we might enter into his investigations.

The educator knows that much that seems irrelevant, is nevertheless essential as a foundation. Why doesn't he share the secret and show us where it is essential? Why can't he make us see that even culture has a practical bearing on life? Above all, why should it be difficult to awaken in the keen collegiate mind a sense of the fun of knowing things, of the joy of mastering intellectual problems, of the thrill of finding oneself at home in the world of science, of literature and of the fine arts?

Youth, as we have said, is reasonable. Given an intelligent reason for the activities that are demanded, we are more than willing to respond.

Formulas

Einstein and all his associates are spending their lives in an attempt to reduce the world to formulas—this is their idea of Nirvana, the ultimate ideal of perfection.

Just the other day we were told that psychology, properly speaking, can't be classified as a science until it is mathematically correct. Who cares? Isn't it still possible to get satisfaction out of mere observation and experimentation without calculation and tabulation. Isn't there still some fun and value too, if one is altruistic, in just watching your friends and noting their reactions without having the results published and officially approved by a Ph. D.?

Once mankind achieves Nirvana what else will there be to do, to solve and to read? How can we acquire a modern philosophy of life without reading, speculation, observation and experimentation?

Living on Lilies

The lack of jobs—positions are almost non-existent—makes us wonder a bit if the modern trend in education could be in anyway responsible. If not responsible are colleges doing their best today to improve conditions?

In the last decade or two there has been a steady movement toward specialization. Modern scholarship has become intensive rather than extensive. A man on entering college indicates his major even though he may have had only a very inadequate introduction to the subject in the preparatory school. After that in most instances he devotes four ore even more years to the study of this one field, receives his degree and—no job!

Is it quite fair to a man graduating from college during the period of economic stress—is it quite fair to prepare him for only one field when he has few chances of getting work?

Would it not be better to give him a broad survey of "things-in-general?" To return to the original conception of a liberal education?

The popularity of a dozen recent "Outlines and Stories" of history and science indicates the eagerness with which the average citizen desires to learn how the results of modern research hang together. Their superficiality reveals all too clearly the failure of modern methods to develop broad general scholarship and the capacity for sound generalization.

The greatest need of our time is the recrudescence of Professor Teufelsdröckh, Carlyle's Professor of "Things-in-General."

Our colleges should train us to summarize in authoritative fashion the results of scholarly research, to co-ordinate all departments of knowledge in a comprehensive world-view, to do many things, so that we may live on bread rather than on lilies.

Where We Got Them

Did you ever wonder where certain everyday expressions came from? Take for instance the phrase, "get the sack" which is used when we mean we are fired or discharged. This originated through the impression made on the people by the actions of the Sultan of Turkey when he became tired of one of his harem. He would give order to have the girl tied up in a sack and thrown into the Bosphorus. People hearing of this would get into the habit of telling how some girl got the sack, and thus into the habit of using this expression.

Then there is another common expression of "kick the bucket." A great many years ago a man by the name of Bolsover becoming crazed by some unhappy experiences decided to kill himself by fastening a rope around his neck and hanging from a beam. He found that he would have to stand on something to accomplish his purpose and selected the nearest thing at hand which proved to be a bucket. He kicked the bucket out from under him and thus killed himself. The publicity resulting from this act brought about the adoption of the phrase "to kick the bucket" when we mean "to die."

It is also very interesting to learn that the sandwiches which are so popular for our suppers and picnics are so called because of the fact that the Earl of Sandwich, an English nobleman, always ate his meat between two pieces of bread.

135 COUPLES ATTEND SENIOR STAFF PARTY

Approximately 135 couples attended the Senior Staff "Leap Year" party held in the physical education building Friday night.

Prizes were donated to the couple holding the lucky number by the Martinson Jewelry Co. and Alex Stern Co. Music was furnished by Bill Euren and his Collegians with Grace Hunkins in general charge. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bayliss and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Otterson.

Mr. Stewart, an A. T. O. from Wyoming, whose home is in Drake, N. D., was a visitor at the Alpha Tau Omega house Tuesday.

Delores Lier, Casselton, is visiting Madelon Miller. She was a guest at the Gamma Phi party Saturday night and a guest at the open house Sunday.

Dizzy Darts

The Senior Staff party was a success and better than any circus to watch. A good many women took a big leap—in the dark.

In attempting to console ourselves for our empty pockets we find that even the depression has its points. Our periodicals are so full of articles on economy and Wall Street that they have forgotten all about the Younger Generation.

Rumor has it that Sally Hunkins is going to present the awards at the Little International. Just how does one award a loving cup to a cow or a pair of hose to a dog?

Matthew Arnold once said, "A scholar is one who can read Plato with his feet on the fender." He never knew the man who had to write columns with his feet on the radiator.

At the Military Ball you will see: ear rings to the shoulder, lugs of back, and no gloves. We'd like to print the guest list Friday, but if we did no one would go to see who took that "other" girl friend.

It was interesting to note that Princeton freshmen value a Phi Beta Kappa key more than an athletic monogram. We wonder which they'll prefer when they're seniors.

It must be gratifying to the Board of Administration to see how important they are. We are grateful to them. The non-resident ruling gave us a break and a chance to relegate formals and "Leap Year" parties to the background.

The editor was insulted three times last week when Greek publicity seekers intimated that the front and back pages were the only scrutinized ones in the Spectrum. For that reason we were driven into writing this column. And now you'll have to open it to pick it to pieces.

SOCIETY

Ted Peet and Malve McKoane were dinner guests at the Theta Chi house Friday.

Sigma Phi Delta entertained Dr. High, Professor Yott, Smith and Buck at dinner Sunday.

Jim Smillie was entertained Sunday at dinner by the Kappa Psi fraternity.

Don Andrist, alumnus of Sigma Tau, visited at the fraternity house Saturday.

Roy Erickson, Walter Johnson and Everett Haugen, Delta Tau Epsilon, have returned to school for the winter term.

Adeline Rosendahl, Alpha Gamma Delta, moved into the sorority house this weekend.

Zeta chapter of Phi Omega Pi announces the formal initiation of Aura Charbonneau and Ellen Saarela, at 8:00 a. m. Sunday at the chapter house.

Ora Hammerud, Kappa Kappa Gamma, spent the weekend at Minneapolis.

Arnie Austin, alumnus, visited the A. T. O. house over the weekend. With Cecil Bliss and Herb Scott he left Sunday for Minneapolis to work in the Gamble stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Groom, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Fargo, were dinner guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho house Sunday noon.

Bill Guy, Farm manager at Amenia, was a weekend guest of Alpha Gamma Rho.

Don Grant, Glyndon, and Harold Bergford, Moorhead, were guests at the Alpha Gamma Rho house Sunday.

New Theory Offered

A theory of the expansion of space is offered by Dr. William de Sitter in the McGill Daily, student publication at McGill university, Montreal. Dr. Sitter, in his lecture to members of Sigma Xi fraternity at McGill university, explained, "It has lately been discovered that the stars possess a rotary motion, and in order to keep them from flying off at a tangent, there must be a force drawing them towards the center of the globular stars."

Botany Department Raises Banana Tree

Fifteen Foot Tree Has Sixteen Bananas After Several Year's Growth

Bananas may be grown successfully in North Dakota—if the plants are scientifically raised in modern greenhouses, according to Dr. A. D. Stoesz, of the North Dakota State college botany department.

Students and instructors in botany at this school have had the means of direct study of banana plants during the past few years with a banana tree that has been grown and developed in the college greenhouses. Special seminar classes are held once a week to conduct study on this and other unusual types of plants.

Standing about 15 feet in height, North Dakota State college's banana tree is a healthy specimen of the plants which play a major part in the fruit industry of our country, according to Dr. Stoesz. Various yearly stages in the growth and development of the tree are observed by the members of the botany department.

About 16 bananas, which have varied in length from 6 to 8 inches, are the results of the 1931 fruit growing activities of the college's tree. To produce bananas the tree must first have flowers, which, Dr. Stoesz says, develop into bananas. Although the tree has had between 50 and 75 blossoms since July, the major portion of them dropped off, leaving only 16 to develop into the cereal fruit.

Student Opinion

In the following material I have attempted to condense an article by Philip Wylie in "The College Humor." Though not being exactly constructive in nature it depicts some of the fraternity's main evils. It seems to hit practically all of us to a certain extent. Reject it as unfair if you must; if it seems fair, it would be well to consider possible remedies at some length.

Mr. Wylie believes that in the Greek groups there are many evils to balance against the beneficial points. There is first of all, a decided unwillingness of a group to allow an individual to differentiate himself. Members too often become Babbits, politicians, and clubmen—and the actives conventionalize with innuendo and paddles. Could you imagine a fraternity man out picking flowers, or with an easel, making paintings of campus buildings—keeping bees, or studying the violin—no, different hobbies are out!

Fraternity men are great politicians. They make deals whereby the football captaincy is traded for a baseball captain, an editor and a member of the senior staff, with soccer membership thrown in for good measure. During rushing season, Jack is found to be a good half miler, and a player that could heave the pigskin straight and far in high school; consequently he's rushed off his feet, without the boys ever knowing in what course he's enrolled. Perhaps he's an ambitious young man (without money). He'll outdo himself trying to reach the other fellow's level. Meanwhile he will get through classe with a minimum amount of effort—classes having become necessary trifles. The professors' courses have been studied for years with a view toward simplification. He will

The Rho Dammit Rho man has plenty of room for his interests in sport, in luxuries, and in vice—they help each other around when they're drunk. Jack learns to dress well—he becomes a big shot on the campus and his snobbery gives him poise—he's got a good job for after graduation. He hasn't been caught in any missteps, but just the same—He's a cardboard man! His sweethearts are moron amateurs and his love is piddling and self conscious. ## BASKETBALL GAMES TONIGHT USHER IN INTRA-MURAL TILTS

Removal of Bleachers Makes Number of Contests Possible Over Longer Period

FOLLOW SET SCHEDULE

Fraternities and Independent Aggregations Enter Hockey Program This Year

Intra-mural basketball will be officially ushered into the students activities on Tuesday evening when the first games of the season will be played.

A definite schedule and set of rules have been drawn up and these will be followed closely in order that the tournament will be run off in a smooth manner. In previous years postponements have been numerous but this year the games will have to be played according to schedule.

The bleachers have been taken out of the new physical education building for an extended period and it is planned that as many games as possible will be played before they are installed again.

An extended hockey program will also be carried out this term, with all of the fraternities taking part as well as two independent teams. Captain Conmy has drawn up the set of rules and schedule and is in charge of the tournament. Two games will be played each afternoon at 4:15 and on Tuesday evenings games will also be played.

Athletic director, C. C. Finnegan, has made it possible for every student in school to partake in some intra-mural athletics. The complete program is made up of basketball, boxing, hockey, wrestling, golf, and tumbling.

Exchanges

Lafayette college is the recipient of a gift of $150,000 from the Carnegie corporation for the endowment of the college librarianship.

A new system of faculty advisers for freshmen has been announced at Princeton. The plan serves to bring the student and his adviser closer together, thus bridging the gap between school and university life. It is believed that an intimate knowledge of the school from which the student has been graduated will be of considerable importance to the adviser in fulfilling his function properly. This knowledge the adviser will acquire under the new system by continuous contact with the graduates of a given school and also by occasional visits to the school for conferences with the headmasters and with groups of boys who plan to apply for admission to Princeton.

All New England colleges have been invited to attend a forum on Disarmament at Wesleyan university. Frank W. Simonds, news correspondent and author, will present the case for those opposed to further increase of armaments, and Admiral Sims will present the opposite point of view. Other speakers will be Harry Laidler, Frederick Libby, Rear Admiral Charles L. Hussey and Professor W. Blakeslie. A student poll to ascertain what impression the speakers have made upon the listeners will be taken after the conference.

"Resolved: That women are generally less intelligent than men," is the topic chosen by the Debating club at Southern Methodist university. Debates on this motion will be held between the male and female members of the club throughout the year, and in June the losing sex will honor the winners with a formal banquet.

The enterprising students at St. Thomas college, St. Paul, Minnesota, take out insurance policies against being called on in class. For a down payment of 25c they may collect five dollars if the professor calls their names.

At a recent faculty meeting at Wheaton college a resolution barring the Chicago Daily Tribune from the library was passed. The Tribune lost favor with the Wheaton faculty and students through its policy advocating repeal of the prohibition laws. Wheaton college has always endeavored to maintain standards upholding prohibition.

Grinnell college also takes the stand against anti-prohibition propaganda and also banned the Tribune.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

Sioux basketballers who thought life was real and earnest after dumping the Morningside Maroons twice are now probably firmly convinced that life is just a vat of buttermilk, after all. Incidentally it looks as if the South Dakota Coyotes are bent on yelping at nobody's heels again this year.

NO DOUBT OTHER CONFERENCE TEAMS WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE COYOTES GET RID OF THEIR COACH, BUT YOU CAN'T SHIP A HOY ON THE PRAIRIES.

We are of necessity writing this before the Nodak-Johnny game so we can't comment on that one. If Letich's crew won, the Sioux are very much in the race as the snarling Coyotes will meet a warm reception on their northern trek.

Returning to the home hearth we are pleased to announce that Don Arthur's ankle has mended to the point where he can gambol a bit and Olson, we hear, has made notable progress in his scholastic reinstatement campaign. All of which is not joyful tidings to four other teams we could mention.

EGAD, WE WILL MENTION THEM: COYOTES, SIOUX, BUNNIES, MAROONS. (hear, hear).

A most distinct note of optimism (listen for the sound of the gong) is the most (oh very) remarkable showing lately of Viv (nee Vivian) McKay. Viv, whose biggest cage fault has been ill-timing and in-different basket shooting has taken a new lease on life. Working at forward in practice sessions the former Valley City star has performed in very VIVID manner. His floor work has been excellent, his shooting sensational.

The rejuvenation of Viv McKay (not a Service poem) is very significant at this time because it means that the Bison will be well bolstered for that gruelling southern trip next week. It means, too, that the Bison can lose either Arthur or Olson without seriously impairing the team's effectiveness.

Olson is burning midnight fuel in an attempt to regain eligibility by the end of this week. In recent practice sessions he looked better than ever. Walt, it appears to us, is the biggest offensive threat on the team, largely by virtue of the potency in that slender left hand. He is perhaps the hardest man to guard and his team play leaves nothing to be desired.

WE ARE GLAD IKKY NORDSTROM IS DISPLAYING THE FORM OF WHICH HE IS CAPABLE. NEVER WAS THERE A MORE UNIVERSALLY LIKED ATHLETE THAN THE SLENDER GUARD FROM ROCKFORD, ILL. EVEN HIS TEAMMATES WON'T CRITICISE HIM.

As is often the case in college athletics, Ikky is enjoying a good year after a bad one. Few athletes maintain consistently good form throughout four years of competition. Ikky is no exception, his play last year being far below that now shown. He deserves every bit of commendation he gets.

Now if Hoover would only have a good year after that last bad one. HMMMMMMMM.

The "average" freshman at Barnard college is 17.14 years old, weighs 124.18 pounds and is 5 feet, 6.33 inches tall.

Barnard college conducts an annual drive for $2,000 to maintain a Barnard student at a foreign university and a foreign student at Barnard. The Barnard fellow is chosen by a college vote from a selected group of students.

The comptroller at Barnard has issued this reprimand to girls who steal signs from the buildings and campus: "If there is any sign which a student very much desires please do not steal it, but apply at the office and a duplicate can be obtained at cost."

Although the health department of Syracuse university has issued a license to a vendor of cider, officials have decreed that students may not buy it. It might turn into something else.

NEW RULES GIVEN FOR GOLDEN GLOVES TROPHY TOURNEY AT COLLEGE

Fighters To Be Awarded Points For Each Ring Fight; Vets Ruled Out

The fraternity with the most boxing contestants participating in the Bison inter-mural fight tourneys this year may be the one to win the Golden Gloves award, according to Lt. Fay Smith, boxing coach, who this week drew up the 1932 rules for college boxing.

"During the past year or two of inter-mural boxing, the boxers who participated in bouts but won no championships were not given credits for their work," Coach Smith said yesterday. "The new rules allow two points credit for each man who fights in a bout, besides he will win if he is victorious."

For competitive purposes the Bison scrappers will be divided into two classes. Class 1 will consist of veteran fighters at the college or those whose natural ability or pre-college experience, in the opinion of the instructor, places them in the first class. Class 2 will consist of those who have not participated in boxing before at the college and are truly newcomers.

Veterans Ruled Out

The winner of any weight division for two successive years is barred from further competition in that weight division in the inter-mural matches, according to the new rules. This winner will be awarded the same number of points as the new champion, although he is barred from competition.

A definite schedule has been arranged in the awarding of points, according to Lt. Smith. Ten points will be awarded the winner of each weight division with five points going to each runner-up. Eight points will be awarded to winners in each weight division of Class 2 with four points to runners-up in the second. Two points will be awarded to fighters for each bout participated in and five points will be awarded for each bout won.

Divisions Are Defined

Weight limits for each class of scrappers is as follows: heavyweight, over 175 pounds; light-heavyweight, 175; middleweight, 160; welterweight, 147; lightweight, 135; featherweight, 126; and bantamweight, under 118 pounds. No competitor may enter more than one division.

The 1932 boxing rules promise to stimulate competition among North Dakota State college fraternities and to recognize with point awards those who have entered into competition in the college fistic circles, according to the Bison fight tutor.

Tony Sarg Appears In Person Here Feb. 3

Creator of Marionettes Talks Informally At Third Lyceum Number

Tony Sarg, in person, will come to North Dakota State college, Feb. 3, to appear on the third number of the lyceum series. This will be his first personal appearance on the North Dakota State college lyceum course.

This time he will be alone, talking informally about marionettes, reminiscing humorously and otherwise, besides displaying his lightning sketches and cartooning. However, he probably will bring along a few marionettes for purposes of illustration, and will talk about them. His marionettes have shown for about seven years on State college programs.

Mr. Sarg is a versatile character, being an author of books for children, a producer of Balloon Pageants, a designer of wall paper, silk, and rugs, manager of the Tony Sarg Souvenir Chain Stores, planner of almanacs, restaurants and movie features. He is probably best known as the originator and creator of Tony Sarg's Marionettes and as an artist.

On the program will be sketches of notables Mr. Sarg has met while working for well-known national publications. Often Tony Sarg makes portraits of those who are in the audience—those sketches sometimes being auctioned for benefit purposes. His "Puppets and Chalk" talk is admirable, with humor prevailing throughout it. Tony Sarg's Marionettes have been touring the United States for 10 years.

Statistics reveal that sixty former college athletic heroes are now presidents of colleges and universities in the United States.

"Fun is the most important thing in college," was said to the Northwestern university freshmen by Prof. Franklin B. Snyder. Friendship, facts and faith were the other three fruits of a college education as stressed by Prof. Snyder. He defined "fun" as exercising of the "muscles of the mind."

HALF MINNESOTA "U" STUDENTS EARN WAY

More than half the students at the University of Minnesota earn all or part of their college expenses, according to a study just completed by James G. Umstadd, assistant professor of education at the university, who will write about the young workers in his book, "Student Self-Support" to be published by the University of Minnesota Press. Dr. Umstadd found a law student cutting hair in a campus barber shop, a miner looking after a paper route, an engineer employed as a soda jerker, and a "Home Ec" girl as a switchboard operator. Employed students get just as good grades as those who do not work and they take just as much interest in athletics and campus activities, it has been discovered.

The results of a study carried on by the Curriculum Committee at Bryn Mawr show that sophomores work most, then seniors, then juniors, and lastly freshmen, who work just about the normal amount of time.

Research work in American universities is featured by members of an education class. Each man in the class is taking one American university or college and making a report on its history, customs, traditions, and present organization and status. A great deal is being unearthed about some of the leading educational institutions of the country.

Several Communities Present Neighborhood Programs Tuesday

Members Discuss Problems To Understand Aspects of Community Life

The greater part of North Dakota will be represented by 100 to 150 people from 15 to 20 communities in the Neighborhood day programs to be given today in a project of the Little Country Theater, opening the Annual Farmers and Homemakers week at North Dakota State college. A. G. Arvola, head of the public discussion and social service department, is directing the activity.

To present different aspects of community life and encourage better community entertainment is the purpose of the day. This is accomplished through the members visiting and discussing problems and presenting home talent in programs.

Opening the days' activities at 3 p. m., will be a round table discussion of "Country Life in North Dakota" by graduates who have made surveys of several communities and by the representatives themselves. Pisek, Elgin, Crosby, Amenia, Walhalla, Caledonia, Clement Fort Yates, Washburn, Medora, Oakdale, Fort Ransom, Buffalo and Colfax will take part in this feature in which the life of each of these communities will be noted.

Programs by the communities will begin at 2 p. m. continuing until 5:30 when a neighborhood supper will be served in the Lincoln Log Cabin for members on the program. A song fest will follow in the theatre with the programs continuing at 7:00.

Included in the entertainment is a comedy in one act, "Sauce for the Goshing," to be presented by Page, N. D. The cast is Sterling Burdick, as Richard Taylor, the father; Miss Reatis Crookshank, as the mother; Voyd Kimble, as the son, Robert; Mrs. Sterling Burdick, as the daughter, Elizabeth; Mrs. Fred Mitchell, as Martha Lee, the grandmother; Warren E. Bayley, as the son's friend, and Louise Kimble, as a maid.

Arthur, N. D., will give an interpretation, in costume, of a German band patterned after "Herr Louie and the Hungry Five." They present also a double male quartet.

A boys' band and a one act play are contributions from Amenia. The remainder of the programs will be in the form of readings, one act plays and musical numbers by Reed township of Cass county, West Fargo, Mapleton, Grandin, Harwood, Casselton, Pekin and Jamestown of North Dakota and Baker Nelson, Detroit Lakes and Dilworth of Minnesota.

L. C. T. REPRESENTATIVES WILL PRESENT PROGRAM

Little Country Theater representatives will put on a typical community program at West Fargo before the Parent Teachers association on Wednesday evening. Members of the college debate squad will argue on the subject, "Resolved, that the Income Tax is Preferable to Property Tax in North Dakota." Horace Spaulding and Vivian Peterson will talk on the affirmative side of the question and Waldo Wyatt and Danian McCarten will be the opposition. Vivian Peterson will also give two readings, and the program will be completed with an accordian selection by Donovan Wardwell.

AG. ENGINEERS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The student division of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers elected officers for the coming year Thursday, Jan. 14, in the Agriculture building.

Arlie Hanson was named president; Curtis Anderson, vice president; and Olaf Olson, secretary-treasurer. A talk, "My Trip to the International Livestock Show at Chicago," was given by Dean H. L. Walster. It was decided to hold meetings on the second Thursday of each month and all men students, including short course and farm husbandry students, who are interested in Agricultural Engineering are urged to attend these meetings.

Society Discusses English Usage Wed.

Chapter of National Association Of University Professors Has Program

With the subject of "Cooperation of Other Departments in English Usage," the local chapter of the National Association of University Professors met last Wednesday afternoon in the seminar room of Old Main.

Talks were given by Miss Frances Lamb of the English department, Dr. H. C. Hanson of the botany department and Dr. W. C. Hunter of the history department. Miss Lamb, after outlining the work of the English department for the freshman year, made the suggestions in regard to the students that other departments should demand clear enunciation in oral work; give attention to the use of the comma and period as well as to spelling; require that all papers be presented in an acceptable form; insist upon clear thinking; emphasize relation between major and minor points of subject matter.

Dr. Hanson discussed "English as the Working Tool of Science," pointing out the need of good English in preparing scientific reports. He suggested that advanced English courses be advised for all students, regardless of what school in which they are majoring. These advanced courses are not to apply to any certain line of work, to any greater extent than the freshman English courses do.

Dr. Hunter explained how important English is in the study of history, since history depends on written material. He also mentioned that in order to appeal to the student, history should be well written. He suggested a cooperation between the history and English departments by means of conferences and exchange of papers written by students.

This program was one of four scheduled for the year, the programs being devoted mostly to improvements in methods of teaching. Dr. Glen A. Lindsey, assistant professor of bacteriology, is the president of the local chapter, while Prof. O. A. Stevens, pure seed analyst and associate professor of agricultural botany, is its secretary-treasurer.

Coeds Revolt

A ruling that all first year dormitory students retire at 10 p. m. has been effected at Northwestern university, according to Northwestern's student publication. However, the coeds at that institution declare that no studying will be done until this ban is lifted.

Specimens Donated To U

The University of North Dakota geology department is the receiver of a collection of rare exhibits, ranging from seashells, arrowheads, to corals. Unusual rocks and minerals are also to be found in this collection. Donald Squires is the donor.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN GIVES TENTH SHOW

Many prizes are being offered in this division. Dr. J. W. Dunham will act as judge. Winner of last year's event was Evelyn South, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Following the canine contest is the dairy cattle show judged by Prof. J. R. Dice. The Alpha Gamma Rho octette is next with their group of songs. Showing of swine follows. Prof. E. J. Thompson will judge entries in this division.

The next feature on the program is a "harness race," in which one member each from the Fargo Kiwanis and Cosmopolitan clubs will compete. Each will harness a horse to a buggy; when they have done this, they will drive once around the pavilion with horse and buggy, the first around the ring being the winner. The contestants in this race have not yet been picked, according to Rod McMillen, superintendent of the event.

Showing of beef cattle occupies ninth place on the program, with V. T. Sanders acting as judge.

The co-ed milking contest is the next feature, Theodore Umhoefer, superintendent of the contest, says: "Six girls have signified their intentions of entering. They are Myrna Ottinger, Kappa Delta; Helen Fredrikson, Gamma Phi Beta; Jean McMillan, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Nita Oleson, Phi Omega Pi; Ruth Olson, Alpha Gamma Delta; and Margaret Allen, Ceres hall club. The girls have been in training for several weeks now, and there are several dark horses who are apt to defeat Myrna Ottinger, last year's champion." T. Worden Johnson is judge of this event. The horse show follows the milking contest, with C. F. Monroe judging. The final number on the program is the singing of "The Yellow and the Green" by the audience.

Miss Sally Hunkins, Gamma Phi Beta, will present the awards in each division, immediately after the judges have made their decision. The superintendent putting on the best show will be awarded the Saddle and Sirloin pin.

"A large crowd is expected to attend, and new seats have been installed in the Livestock pavilion in anticipation of this. Many farmers from over the entire state, who are in Fargo to attend the meeting of the Livestock Breeders' association, have signified their intentions of attending. Moreover, the charge of admission has been lowered to only twenty-five cents," says Irvin Dietrich, ticket sales manager.

This year's Little International is the tenth to be produced in the history of the college. It is a miniature replica of the International Livestock show held at Chicago each fall. Its purpose is to give students practice in fitting animals for fairs. Howard McLeod is manager of this year, and assisting him is Wesley Bruns.

The thirty-seventh annual declamation contest of North Dakota State will be held in the Little Country theater on Friday at 4 o'clock. Seven contestants have signified their intentions of entering the prize competition. There will be sections in drama, humor and oratory. Three judges will decide the winners.

The Chemists club met Thursday in the Chemistry building. Dr. Dietrich spoke on "What the Future Holds For the Chemist." Banjo numbers were given by Victor Smalz and Ben Boyden presented a tap dance. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. John Rooney is president of the organization.

PLAY PRODUCTION CLASS PRESENTS THREE PLAYS

"Dawn," a one-act masque written by Jack Knapp, will be presented by the play production classes of the college on Jan. 27 as a new departure in the art of drama. The masks and costumes are being designed and constructed by the students in the classes under the supervision of Mr. Knapp. The principal character of "Man" will be portrayed by Don McNaughton.

A second play by Mr. Knapp, "The Other Side," published by Longmans Green and Co., will be given the same evening, as will also be "Love and Laughter," a short play by Katherine Kester.

Dinner guests at the Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity house Sunday were: Captain and Mrs. J. H. McChrystal, Ruth Barrett, Jane Nichols, Eleanor, Burnett, Ellen Gardner, and Marjorie Miller.
