

CHARACTERS NAMED TO COMPETE IN ANNUAL ONE-ACT PLAY CONTEST

Edwin Booth Dramatic Club Is Sponsor Of Yearly Event Among Class Groups

STUDENTS TO DIRECT ACTS

December 3 Is Date Set By Club For Presentation Of Four Class Productions

Casts for the four one-act plays entered in the twelfth annual inter-class play contest at North Dakota State college to be held in the Little Country theater Dec. 3, were announced late Monday by Miss Alice Bender who is directing this year's project.

Sponsored by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club each year, the contest will include plays directed by class members. Working with the directors in staging the plays are class committees including: freshmen—Jane Nichols, Corrine Lawrence, Horace Spaulding, and Guy Springer; sophomores—David Minard, Frederick Martin and Erlys Hill; juniors—Jean Pote and Ruth Barrett; seniors—Claire Newell and Malve McKeane.

"Chloe," an original one-act play by Jack Stuart Knapp, graduate student at the college, has been selected by the freshman class. The cast of characters includes: Nita Oleson, Mammy; Marjan Stern, Susie; Carol Cooper, Chloe; Delevin Ross, Blair; and Robert Saunders, Willie. Directing the cast are Jane Nichols and Corrine Lawrence.

Playing the leading roles in "Ile," a tragedy by Eugene O'Neil, sophomore class entry, will be David Minard, as Captain Keeney, and Betty Mackin as Mrs. Keeney. The cast of characters also includes: James Erickson, cabin boy; Maitland Wyard, the steward; John Hyland, the mate, and Ronald Ostrander, the harpioneer. Erlys Hill is directing the production.

A drama, "Joe," by Jane Dransfield, has been selected by the junior class for their entry. Jean Pote is directing the cast which includes: Fred Anderson, Joe; Mary Healy, Mrs. Tern; Lester Wyman, Mr. Tern; John Dixon, Dr. Wekeland; Elizabeth Olsen, Mrs. Mason, and Jean Pote, Lou Cosgrove.

Three girls will comprise the cast for the senior presentation, "The Siege," by Colin Clements. Malve McKeane will direct the cast which includes: Lois Minard, Gazina; Audrey Medley, Bisbara, and Claire Newell, Bonab.

College Band Plans Convocation Concert

Musical Organization Presents Fall Program December 3; Dr. Putnam Directs

The North Dakota State college Gold Star band under the direction of Dr. C. S. Putnam will present its fall convocation concert in Festival hall at 9:40 a. m. Tuesday, Dec. 3, it was announced Monday evening.

Marking the first appearance of a truly concert band in the college, the concert will be presented by a group of about 44 players selected from the complete membership of 96 students, because of their outstanding ability in tone production and technique, says Dr. Putnam.

The concert program includes: March, With Sword and Lance, Starke Overture, Euryanthe, von Weber Hymn and Processional, Carl Busch Popular Number, Ol' Man River from "Show Boat," Kern Special Arrangement by Dr. Putnam Hebrew Melody, Kol Nidrei, version by Max Bruch Souvenir, Victor Herbert

With the completion of classes this afternoon, school will be dismissed for the remaining part of the week in order to permit students to go to their homes for the Thanksgiving holidays. Class work will be resumed at 8 a. m. Monday.

WARNER BECOMES HONOR MEMBER OF DELTA SIG

Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity announces the initiation of Richard Warner into honorary membership of the chapter. Formal services were conducted in the chapter house at 6:30 a. m. Sunday. Following the initiation an informal breakfast was served to members of the active chapter.

Mr. Warner is an instructor in the mathematics department at the college. He came to Fargo in 1930 from the University of Wyoming where he was an instructor. He completed his work for his B.A. degree at Colorado State college, and received his M.A. from the University of Nebraska.

Class In Festivals Sponsors Christmas Pantomime On Dec. 6

A. G. Arvold Supervises Annual Presentation In Little Country Theater

Carrying out a tradition at the college, the class in festivals under the direction of A. G. Arvold will present the sixteenth annual Christmas pantomime in the Little Country theater at 4 p. m. Dec. 6.

Produced under the direction of class members, the festival includes six episodes. Dramatization of Dicken's "Christmas Carol" will be an outstanding feature. The setting will be an old medieval church. Catherine Donahue and Mary Clark are in charge of the first feature.

"Holiday Manor," the second episode, will be a reproduction of an old English manor. Features of this episode will be story telling by students in the story telling class and a program of dances by pupils of Frances Wright.

An innovation in Christmas festivals on this campus will be included in the third part of the program when an old English custom, that of bringing in the Yule log, will be carried out. A chorus of 100 voices including the men's and women's glee clubs and other college students, will sing. Mary Healy is in charge of this episode.

A typical "Old Curiosity Shop," patterned after Dicken's novel, will be the fourth episode. Students attired as characters of Dickens will be in charge of the shop. Clara Borden is in general charge.

"Christmas in Many Lands" will be the fifth feature including a typical Christmas work shop. Heading the committee in charge is Marjory DePuy.

Refreshments will be served in the Lincoln Log cabin as one of the features of the last episode, "Home Sweet Home." Sara O'Connor will be in charge.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR IS MARRIED IN CALIFORNIA

Dorothy Volkamer, instructor in modern languages at North Dakota State college last year, was married to Roy Hellander at a service performed in Los Angeles last Thursday. Mrs. Hellander is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Volkamer, Fargo, while Mr. Hellander is the son of John Hellander, Fargo.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota, Mrs. Hellander attended North Dakota State before going to the university. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta social sorority. The couple will make their home in Los Angeles after a wedding trip to Southern California and points in Mexico.

COMMITTEE HEADS ARE CHOSEN FOR PROGRAM

Committee chairmen in charge of arrangements for the typical community program to be given by the class in community programs under the direction of A. G. Arvold in the Little Country theater Dec. 8, have been named.

Blair Seitz is chairman of athletics; Eleanor Erickson, music; John Thorsell, exhibits; Aura Charbonneau, social; Frederick Martin, spoken word, and Luella Furcht, publicity.

SEVEN COLLEGE YOUTHS FROM THIS STATE SEEK RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS

North Dakota Committee Meets In Grand Forks Next Month To Consider Candidates

DR. KANE IS CHAIRMAN

Faber Is Applicant From North Dakota State For Second Consecutive Year

Seven North Dakota college youths will seek the right to be one of the two candidates to represent the state in the eighth district competition for a Rhodes scholarship when the state committee meets at Grand Forks, Dec. 5, according to Dr. Thomas F. Kane, president of the University of North Dakota and state chairman and secretary of the North Dakota Rhodes scholarship committee.

The only student to represent North Dakota State college is Anthony T. Faber, Bismarck, senior in the school of science and literature who is applying for the second consecutive year. Jamestown college is represented by J. Ernest Smith, while candidates from the University of North Dakota are: Durward Balch, Dickinson; Don McCarthy, Grand Forks; Willis Sheperd, Bismarck; Gilbert Stewart, Mandan, and George L. White, jr., Grand Forks.

Most important among the requirements for a Rhodes scholarship is distinction both in character and personality and in intellect. The Rt. Hon. Cecil John Rhodes, donor of the scholarships, regarded leadership as consisting in moral courage and in interest in one's fellow men quite as much as in their more aggressive qualities, as set forth in his will. Physical vigor is an essential for a Rhodes scholarship, but athletic skill is of less importance than the moral qualities developed in playing outdoor games.

Tenable at the University of Oxford, a Rhodes scholarship may be held for three years and does not restrict the scholar's choice of studies.

The first American scholars going to Oxford under the bequest of Mr. Rhodes, who died in 1902, entered in October, 1904. Since then more than 700 Rhodes scholars have gone from the United States to England. Scholars from North Dakota now in England are Kenneth Kurtz, Jamestown college, and Fred Hovde from the University of Minnesota.

Acting with President Kane on the state committee when they meet Dec. 5 will be two Rhodes scholar graduates: Prof. H. E. Clefthon and F. D. Gray, both of Minneapolis.

The two best men appearing before the state committee will be nominated to appear before the district committee several days later.

Students Entertain Children At Party

College Y Groups Sponsor Affair For 100 Fargo Kiddies Saturday, Dec. 12

Every student at North Dakota State college will have the opportunity to help some child to have a merry Christmas this year when about 100 children from the Fargo Union mission are entertained at the annual Kiddies' Christmas party in the Ceres hall dining room from 5:30 to 8 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 12, according to the committee in charge of the event for the college Y groups, sponsors of the party.

Students at the college, whether they are Y members or not, may purchase tickets for the affair which will be in the form of a dinner followed by games, stunts, and a visit from Santa Claus. A ticket makes a student responsible for one child for whom he must bring some inexpensive gift.

Children are brought from downtown to the college on chartered street cars. At the college Y building each child is assigned to a student who has charge of him during the evening and who makes arrangements for returning the child to his home.

Blue Key Fraternity Names Men to Assist With Bison Brevities

Euren Arranges Musical Plans; Gray Handles Ticket Sales; Seebart, Publicity

With plans for the 1932 edition of the Bison Brevities in the form of a unified, all-college musical show rapidly assuming tangible form under the direction of James Konen, manager of the production, assistant managers have been named by Blue Key upon the recommendation of the manager of the show and the executive committee of the fraternity.

William Euren, Fargo, will supervise the musical arrangements. Mr. Euren's experience as a director both in band and orchestra work as well as his management of the winning Alpha Kappa Phi acts in the last three editions of the Bison Brevities is evidence of his qualifications for this position. Other members of Blue Key named as managers were William Gray, Valley City, ticket sales, and Frank Seebart, Lakota, publicity manager.

In order to facilitate the preparation of skits and musical arrangements for the show, and to provide an opportunity for students with ability in writing of this nature, Mr. Konen has announced that an open contest will be held. All students interested in writing music or skits for use in this all-college production of any such work will be given, and in addition, an award of five dollars will go to each individual who submits a skit or music which can be used in the show.

In order to give those who are interested in this contest a working knowledge of what type of material is desirable, Mr. Konen has asked that all wishing to participate to meet with him in the faculty-alumni rooms in the main building at 4 p. m. today. He will explain the nature of the show and indicate the sort of contributions which will be desirable for use in the production.

"If you can write skits or think you can write skits or music, attend the meeting today," says Konen. "The opportunity offers the chance for creative genius finding expression, as well as for the writers to profit by it."

Y. M. C. A. MAKES PLANS FOR SMOKER TONIGHT

All men students on the campus will be guests of the college Y. M. C. A. at a smoker in the Y building following the lyceum program tonight, announces Leo Anderson, president of the organization.

Because of the success of the first smoker sponsored by the Y, plans are being made for the second entertainment. The affair is especially planned for those men who will not leave Fargo during the Thanksgiving recess.

Working with Leo Anderson in making arrangements for the smoker is Donald McKechnie, social chairman.

Second Lyceum Feature Presents Famous American Comedian With Other Players

CURTAIN RISES AT 8:15

Company Comes From Sioux City After Appearing There Staturday

A program ranking among the most outstanding lyceum entertainments coming to North Dakota State college for many years will be presented in Festival hall tonight when De Wolf Hopper and his company of players and singers present an evening of entertainment, entitled "An Evening with De Wolf Hopper" featuring highlights of a great comic opera career, according to A. G. Arvold, who arranges the lyceum programs. The program is the second number of the series.

Tonight's program will begin at 8:15. Mr. Hopper's appearance in Fargo follows his presentation in Sioux City, Ia., where the company played Saturday night.

Although classes will be dismissed at the close of today's class work, every student who fails to attend the program tonight will be missing one of the most entertaining and valuable lyceum programs of his college career, Mr. Arvold believes.

No admission charge is made of students at North Dakota State college attending the lyceum entertainment tonight. By presenting his registration card at the door, each student will be admitted to the evening's program.

Preceding the lyceum program tonight Mr. Hopper and his company will be honor guests at a dinner in the Lincoln Log cabin given by the Edwin Booth Dramatic club under Mr. Arvold's direction.

Supporting Mr. Hopper in the revival of his famous roles will be the associate artists including: Lillian Glaser Hopper, H. C. Howard, Emma Dorsey, Enrico Clausi and Hugo Brandt.

Before marrying De Wolf Hopper six years ago, Lillian Glaser gained fame as a concert and opera star in her own state of California where she was called "California Nightingale."

MEMBER NORTH CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

Is He Right?

There has been much discussion lately concerning the report, prepared by Dr. Henry Smith Pritchett for the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and based upon examinations submitted to 10,000 college students in Pennsylvania, which attempts to prove that the average freshman possesses knowledge equivalent to or above that of a senior.

The evident fallacy in the conclusion is the broad interpretation of the term "knowledge". Student editors all over the country have condemned the report, but if knowledge is meant to be that found in text books, we believe that the findings are partially correct.

Due to the "weeding out" process in force at many universities and the necessity for making fraternity averages, the freshman has to study until the end of the first year to stay in college. After that he is bothered very little. Meanwhile, however, because it was necessary he has learned more actual facts than in all probability he will learn again. From now on with a freshman reputation, greater participation in outside activities, and by knowing how to get around, he does as little as possible except have a good time. Is it not possible then that senior exams might average lower than a group of freshman tests written in all seriousness by earnest freshmen?

Perhaps, Dr. Pritchett is wrong, but the report certainly presents a challenge to American educators.

Conditions For Study

In the midst of so much distraction it is to be wondered at that we succeed in doing even a small amount of concentrated studying.

Such a feat is almost impossible in a fraternity or sorority house for if two or three of the brothers aren't "sessioning" the telephone jangles incessantly. In the library a fairly successful effort is made to keep people from talking. Unfortunately however, it takes physical comfort as well as physical quiet to make the conditions most conducive for good study.

In the library we nearly suffocate with the stuffy atmosphere while a cold draft blows on the back of one's neck. A similar condition exists in Science Hall. We sit near the ventilators and roast one minute and freeze the next.

In addition to poor ventilation we lack elbow room. If we move we tip over our neighbor's ink bottle or jostle the book he is reading and finally in desperation we shut the books, go and buy a bar and stand in the corridors and talk.

No wonder we do our clearest and most valuable thinking on the street cars or in the dinner rush.

Now the Theta Chi pledges have gone native, and have let their beards grow. They'll have to watch themselves or Prof. Smith will be suing them for plagiarism. Appropo of the movement, we humbly suggest other clever little things for pledges to do. For instance, they could go to all the fraternity houses and collect old razor blades or collect discarded cigarette butts at the sorority houses. Then they could all go barefooted to school until after Xmas (this little stunt never fails as a mirth provoker). There are endless possibilities for gaining notoriety, such as putting a heavy coating of rouge on the cheeks of the pledges like the Pops did, or cutting huge hunks out of the candidate's hair, as the National guard does at times. On the subject of whiskers, we read that a prof at the U. of Chicago wears side whiskers and rides to school on a bicycle. Sounds like descriptions we've heard of one Mr. Gaffney. By the way the Theta Chis have a famous new indoor game. The plan: Take the largest loving cup that may be found—deal out a pack of cards among the contestants—let said persons fling cards at cups like in basketball—(here's something that will fascinate both young and old). We hate to talk about their private affairs like this, but it is better to get talked about than not to get considered at all.

GAMMA PHIS ENTERTAIN AT FIRST OPEN HOUSE

Approximately 75 fraternity men were guests at the first open house held by Alpha Omicron of Gamma Phi Beta, Sunday afternoon at the chapter house. The hours were 5:30 to 7:00. Mrs. Elizabeth Power, house mother, and Grace Hunkins, chapter president, were in the receiving line. Informal entertainment was given by the Gamma Phi Beta octette, Mary Powers, Miriam Narum, and Dorothea Ward, pianists.

Sorority alumnae assisted by Dorothy Holes made up the committee in charge of arrangements. The color scheme was carried out in rust and black. Mrs. Charles Pollock presided in the dining room.

It is the intention of Gamma Phi Beta to entertain fraternities once each month. Alpha Gamma Rho and Alpha Sigma Tau were guests at the first affair. Members of Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Kappa Sigma will be guests next month.

Sophomore Riflemen Invited To Try Out

Preparations Are Being Made For Competitive Season, Conmy Announces

Making plans to retain the state collegiate rifle championship for another year and to place a strong bid for national honors, Captain J. B. Conmy today extended an invitation for many more students to try out for the State college rifle team.

"I wish to extend a special invitation to sophomores, who did not make the team last year, to try again for the coming season," Captain Conmy said. "A man who makes the team in his first year is either a supernormal shot or has had previous experience."

"Last year's rifle team had riflemen who did not become real team shots until after three years of trying. The men who missed by an eyelash last year should try again."

In 1928 the North Dakota State riflemen set new standards of sharpshooting when they annexed their first National Intercollegiate title. Since that time they have consistently held to the high standards but during the past two seasons in the intercollegiate matches, the Texas A. and M. sharpshooters had advanced the records to new heights.

The North Dakota State riflemen are planning to place a bid for the national recognition again this year, Captain Conmy says, relying a great deal on the sharpshooting abilities of undergraduates who have been shooting during the past two seasons.

CHRISTMAS CHORUS HAS FIRST PRACTICE SUNDAY

Organizing a chorus to take part in the annual Christmas festival, Dec. 6, about 100 men and women students at North Dakota State college met in Festival hall Sunday afternoon for a first rehearsal.

With the men's and women's glee clubs as a nucleus, the chorus is under the direction of Miss Adda Blakeslee and Prof. Homer B. Huntoon, directors of the women's and men's groups, respectively. Each glee club member is required to bring two students to sing in the chorus which will meet for another rehearsal at 3 p. m. Sunday in Festival hall.

Besides singing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah," the singers are preparing a program of Christmas carols for the festival which is sponsored each year by the class in festivals under the direction of A. G. Arvold.

Arnold Austin, Milnor, N. D., was a weekend visitor at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

BISON FINISH SEASON WITH DEFEAT AT HANDS OF KANSAS STATE TEAM

Aggies Down Local Men Saturday By 19-6 Count In Final Game of Season

SENIORS END CAREERS

Schoenfelder Will Lead Bison As Captain of 1932 Team; Succeeds Lonsbrough

(By JACK GROHNKE)

The North Dakota State college gridiron team completed their 1931 football season at Manhattan, Kansas, last Saturday, when they went down to a 19-6 defeat at the hands of the powerful Kansas Aggies coached by Bo McMillan.

The Kansas State team has established an enviable record this season, having lost but two games the entire season and these by a one point margin. The Bison put up a good game but the superior strength of the Kansans gave them the victory.

Eight Seniors Lost

Eight of the members of the Bison squad made their last contribution to State college on the football field last Saturday. The loss of such men as Captain Lonsbrough, Bill Grey, Rod McMillan, Art Hovland, Frank Dvorak, Blair Seitz, Walt Shamp, and Paul Bunt will be keenly felt next season, but Coaches Finnegan and Lowe should be able to develop one of the strongest teams ever to represent this institution. A hearty influx of outstanding freshmen material next fall and they should be able to fill the positions left vacant by the graduates.

Schoenfelder Elected Captain

On the return trip from Kansas, the Bison squad elected Walter Schoenfelder, probably the greatest tackle ever developed at North Dakota State, to be their leader for next season. Schoenfelder exhibited his power in every game played this season, and was the outstanding lineman in every game. He crashed through the opposing defense on many occasions to throw the opposing back for long losses. He will undoubtedly be chosen on the all-conference team as the first team tackle. Besides playing the line position in an outstanding manner, his educated toe accounted for many of the extra points after the touchdown. His kicking from placement was most infallible.

Passes Defeat Bison

The entire line played exceptionally well and the Kansas running plays were stopped with the exception of one spinner play which gained much ground for the opponents. The aerial game is what spelled defeat for the Bison. Passes that were intercepted and passes that were completed by Kansas paved the way to all of the Kansas counters.

The lone Bison score was counted in the opening quarter when Captain Lonsbrough snatched up a fumble and ran 30 yards for a touchdown.

Grey, Schoenfelder Outstanding

The line play of Bill Grey and Walter Schoenfelder was outstanding. During the first half Grey was fighting like a mad man. He went through the opposing line time after time to throw the Kansas backs for long gains. Playing in his last college game Grey branded himself as an outstanding center. Schoenfelder played his regular steady game and made it tough for the opponents at all stages of the game. Johnny Fisher continued his brilliant play and looked especially good on returning punts. He dodged, side-stepped, and twisted through many tacklers to make long gains on the returns. Donald McEssy backed up the line in an impressive manner and employed severe tackling and blocking to the opponents during the entire contest.

The Bison will lay away the mole-skins until next spring when the squad will be assembled for the regular spring training season.

"Y" CABINET MEMBERS PLAN JOINT MEETING

A gettogether dinner of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. cabinets will be given on Thursday, Dec. 3, at 5:30 p. m. in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter. This is the first gettogether of the two North Dakota State college cabinets of the year.

Gordon Prescott and Marguerite Jennings are in charge of general arrangements; Amy Oscarson and Arthur Warren in charge of the program; Leo Anderson and Jane Canniff, presidents, will lead the discussion centering around the general activities of the two organizations.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

Football fans find nothing humiliating in the fact that, although the Bison lost half of their ten games, only one contest was dropped by more than one touchdown. Not one of the so-called formidable elevens routed the Buffalomen.

Only one contest, the Bunny dispute at Homecoming, could be marked down as a disappointment and few elevens escape at least one heartbreaker during the season. Other teams have suffered likewise. Harvard lost to Yale. The mighty Notre Dame contingent dropped a hot one to Southern California which previously had incurred displeasure of fans by losing to small St. Mary's. Michigan State, the team which tied Michigan U not long ago, lost to Detroit U which previously was tripped by DePaul. The Nodak loss to Duquesne may also be termed an upset.

WE COULD GO ON FOR PAGES ILLUSTRATING THE RISE IN WRATH OF SUPPOSEDLY WEAKER OPPONENTS. FANS WHO LOOK AT THE SPORT IN ITS ENTIRETY AND FOR THE GOOD OF THE GAME AGREE THAT IT'S A GOOD THING. IF IT WEREN'T FOR UPSETS GRID FOLLOWERS WOULD SOON TIRE OF THE GAME.

Notre Dame's loss to a deserving Trojan eleven will help the Ramblers. Too consistent winning is bad, not only for attendance, but for student spirit. It doesn't help the players any either to think they're unbeatable.

After all, football is just a game. The benefits to be derived from it hinges on the attitude of the player and fan. Our idea is to play the game and back the game for all its worth, and when it's over, relax. Too many people look at the score rather than the game itself.

The Bison didn't do so bad. They decisively beat Concordia, champions of the Minnesota conference. They held Minnesota and Wisconsin, not the weakest teams in the Big Ten as had been contended at the seasons' opening, to one touchdown margins.

In holding Kansas State to a 19 to 6 score the Bison did better than many suspect. There are many who still believe Kansas State has the best team in the Big Six, notwithstanding close margin losses to Nebraska and Iowa State. It may also be considered that McMillan's outfit trounced West Virginia by a worse score than that which turned back the Bison.

THE BISON RATHER REDEEMED THE BUNNY LOSS BY BEATING SOUTH DAKOTA U, 13 TO 0, PILING UP 21 FIRST DOWNS TO THE SOUTHERNERS' ONE.

Comparative scores with Morningside also rate the Bison high in grid circles. The Bison, in turning back the Maroons, 28 to 0, did better than the University of North Dakota or Iowa State, conqueror of Kansas State. The Sioux won 14 to 4, the Iowans, 20 to 0.

Defensively the Bison had no peer in the conference. Offensively they lacked punch in several instances but this defect will, or should, be remedied by the influx of brilliant backs from the frosh ranks for next year. The Bison backfield wasn't a Ted Husing, however. It failed to click when within scoring distance against South Dakota State, but responded both times it got within the N. D. University 20 yard line. What it lacked was one man with the fleetness of Hanson. Some man to keep the opposition guessing. As far as power through the line was concerned, the Bison were plenty tough.

THE TRUE BISON FAN, HOWEVER, WILL SPEND LESS TIME LOOKING BACKWARD THAN IN LOOKING AHEAD. BASKETBALL IS IN THE OFFING. WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO WITH IT?

TWO MAJOR TOURNEYS FACE BISON FIGHTERS AT START OF SEASON

Hilts and Molitor Lost for Bison In Sioux-Coyote Boxing Scraps

With two major conference fight competitions already booked for the coming boxing season, the Bison huskies will begin training immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays, Lt. Fay Smith, coach, announced today.

The Bison boxers, victors in the majority of the scheduled contests in the two intercollegiate tourneys last year, with the fighters from South and North Dakota Universities, compose nearly the same group as last year's team. The tournament with the Sioux fighters will be fought at the State College Physical Education building, while the fights with the South Dakotans will be held at Vermillion.

Bill Hilts Absent

The loss of Bill Hilts, all conference heavyweight champion, through his graduation last spring, was a source of worry in that division for the Bison, until Ted Loy made his appearance at school at the fall term. Loy, who brought a Golden Gloves lightweight championship to the college at the Minneapolis tourney two years ago, is a likely contender in his class, allowing Rod McMillan, last year's light-heavyweight champion, to carry on the duties of the heavyweight post.

In the middleweight section, Frank Dvorak will be back to uphold the high standards of his class in the two tourneys. John Bond, runnerup, is also a prospective contender for honors.

Scalf, Pung Back

Both Johnny Scalf and Roman Pung, known as clever miltpushers, will contest for the welterweight representation with Scalf holding a slight edge of experience over his sparring partner. The former fought in both tourneys last year.

Although John Molitor, one of the cleverest scrappers to ever fight for the Bison, is now listed among the State college alumni, Bob Ward, lightweight runnerup, will be called upon to carry up his work during the next season or two. Ward has shown improved condition through summer workouts, according to Coach Smith.

With Max Hinman, Golden Gloves representative, not back in school and Don Leib, bantamweight champion, not expected to fight during the coming season, the selection of challengers in the lightest divisions will be a problem for Coach Fay Smith to settle before the scheduled conference tilts.

Sioux Working Out

Determined to seek a victory this year, the University of North Dakota fighters are already working out in preparation for the tourney with the State college scrappers. An unusually strong lineup of Sioux fighters is promised this year in practically every weight division, according to information from Grand Forks.

Varsity Team Makes Good Showing Friday In Exhibition Game

Regular Candidates Play First Year Stars In Scrimmage For Club Visitors

Coach L. T. Saalwachter was well pleased with the showing that his varsity candidates made against a group of first year basketball stars in the new physical education building Friday night. The varsity team had little trouble in disposing of their inexperienced rivals who they encountered in an exhibition game played before a large crowd of members of the Lions club.

Last year "Sollie" had a group of players who had seen action in but a few major contests. The trip that he made during the holidays last year carried him through Minnesota, Illinois, and Wisconsin, and it enabled him to give his sophomores and juniors much needed experience. This year these men should be able to carry on in a much better manner than if this trip had not been made.

The team as a whole showed excellent form for so early in the season. Walter Olson, shifted from a guard post to the forward position, showed a great deal of ability in the new position. Bob Weir, giant center, showed vast improvement over last season and should be in for a big year. Donald Arthur, running mate of Olson, proved a capable performer and gave the freshmen a great deal to worry about. Eric Nordstrom, who was shifted from a forward position to a guard post, showed much promise and Leo Thomasson, guard, will give any of the candidates a big run for this position. Bliss Littler, despite a knee injury, played a good brand of ball while he was in the fray. Thomas Flynn, Art Habener and John Dixon also saw action in the contest.

Gergen Coaches Freshmen

Pete Gergen has a very capable band of freshmen to work with and he will develop a team that will be hard to beat before the season is over. The freshman team was sorely outclassed on Friday night but this was expected due to the fact that they have had such little time to work together. Later in the season they will be able to give the varsity team a good game.

Included on the freshman team were such stars as Bud Marquardt, all-state center from Moorhead; Erickson and Stinson, two heady basketball men from Red Wing, Minnesota; George Manthey, one of the best freshman prospects to enroll at this school for a long time. Manthey is a three sport man and is outstanding in each sport. Acey Olson, and Anderson, both Fargo High school products, played good ball for the freshmen. Denenney, a lanky center, proved to be a valuable man and will develop into a stellar player. Hollister, Swanson, Aasen,

BASKETBALL TOURNEY GETS UNDERWAY DEC. 14

With the Women's inter-class basketball tournament scheduled to begin Monday, Dec. 14, practice for girls inexperienced in this form of athletics will get under way Dec. 1, announces Miss Helen Ballard, acting head of the women's physical education department. Practices will be conducted on Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week.

Assisting Miss Ballard in managing the tournament will be Irene Beyer, senior at the college and basketball manager. With the completion of the inter-class contest, sorority competition will begin. Winning the inter-class trophy in 1930 was the junior-senior aggregation. Kappa Delta won the inter-sorority cup.

The Edwin Booth Dramatic club will hold a special luncheon meeting in the Lincoln Log cabin at noon today.

Pederson and Makaloon all saw action and performed in a capable manner.

In the near future the student body will be able to see these two teams in action for another exhibition game will be played before the varsity team tackles the University of Minnesota team in the dedication services on Dec. 5.

Many N.D. Boys, Girls Come Here For Annual Achievement Institute

College Is Host To 4-H Club Members December 8 to 11 During State Program

For the twenty-second consecutive year, North Dakota State college will be host to several hundred farm boys and girls throughout North Dakota who will gather on the campus for the 4-H club Achievement institute program Dec. 8 to 11. County agents and local club officials throughout the state are selecting delegates to the institute under the direction of H. E. Rilling, state club leader, and Pauline Reynolds, assistant leader.

Among the prominent features of the session is the annual show and sale of market classes of club livestock in which the cream of the livestock grown by the boys and girls is entered.

A 4-H club dress revue and foods club contests are among the highlights of the meeting for the girl delegates. A singing contest among counties will be conducted as an added feature.

Stressing the possibilities of wholesome recreation without resorting to commercialized amusement, institute leaders will carry on recreation work with the aid of A. G. Arvold, head of the public discussion department. Ella Gardner of the Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor, and Jack Stuart Knapp, field drama director for the National Recreation association.

Officers of the achievement institute organization are: Doris E. Earl, Grand Forks, president; Richard Hamilton, Rugby, vice president; Melvin Musland, Edgeley, secretary, and Madeline Boren, McKenzie, treasurer.

With 4-H club membership in North Dakota totalling more than 6,800 boys and girls in 649 clubs, about 350 delegates are to be named to attend the conference. The total registration at the 1930 institute including many local 4-H club leaders was over 400.

Art Club Holds Sale Of Japanese Prints

Group Conducts Annual Exhibit In College Studio First Week In December

A shipment of Japanese prints to be exhibited and sold during the week of Nov. 30 and Dec. 7 has been received by college Art club, according to Misses Dorothy Hatch and Nancy Elliott who are directing the exhibit sale.

During the week the sales will be handled by members of the club in the art studio in Science hall from 3 to 6 p. m. on week days and from 10 a. m. until noon on Saturdays.

The prints to be shown include copies of all of the old Japanese classics, some original modern prints, and several examples of the genuine old copies, which are acquiring a great deal of value, according to Miss Hatch, head of the department. Along with the prints will be exhibited typical Oriental jewelry, and other novelties.

The collection comes from E. T. Shima Co. of New York City, well known importers of the Oriental porcelains and jade, jewelry and prints. Among the artists represented are Hiroshige, Utamaro, and Shisin. Prices range from five cents to twenty dollars.

The Art club has had this sale of Japanese prints for several years, and is conducting the project this year because of the repeated requests and inquiries concerning it.

PREPARATION BEGINS FOR Y. M. C. A. CIRCUS

Preparation for the second annual Y. M. C. A. Circus is already under way, announces Meredith Mattingly, supervisor of last year's entertainment.

For the last month tumbling classes have been practicing under Mattingly's direction. Plans have been made to feature a tap dancing chorus of men and women in this year's performance. Tap dancing rehearsals will be directed by Ben Boyden. Any student interested in taking part in the Y circus are asked to confer with Mr. Mattingly.

Students Make Plans For Original Plays

Play Production Class Gives Acts In Little Country Theater Dec. 1

Arrangements are nearing completion for the production of seven original one-act plays to be given Thursday, Dec. 1, in the Little Country theater at North Dakota State college. As the main term project of the class in play production, the plays are written and directed by students in the class under the general supervision of A. G. Arvold.

Taking part in "During That Minute" by Viola Dixon, will be: Stella Hohncke, Jack Lee, Irene Frederickson and Dorothy Holes. The cast for "Lignite" by Lyle Phillips includes: Malve McKoane, Jack Lee, Stella Hohncke, Frances Nichol and Charles French. Players in "Your Move" by Mrs. Stella Hohncke are: Lyle Phillips, Malve McKoane, Celeste Sowka, Mary Clark, Dorothy Holes and Agnes Campbell.

"Reverie" by Dorothy Holes will include the following players: Lloyd Rawalt, Clair Hansen, James Konen, Dorothy Holes, Seldin Catlin, Betty Mackin and Frances McLean. Viola Dixon, Horace Spaulding, Marion Miller, Lyle Phillips and Betty Mackin will comprise the cast for "Thus Life Goes On" by Frances Nichol. Three characters, Celeste Sowka, James Konen and Gertrude Kinney will act in "Lady Kyrie's Dream" by Irene Frederickson. Lucille Van Hook has written "Gertrude's Operation" with Jack Lee, Charles French, Thomas Harold, Marion Miller, James Konen and Lucille Van Hook in the cast.

The Board of Publications will meet in Ceres hall at noon today.

Social Organizations Give Dancing Parties

Phi Omega Pi, Kappa Psi, Kappa Sigma Chi Honor Pledges; Cosmopolitans Entertain

Four social organizations on the campus entertained this weekend when pledge chapters of Phi Omega Pi, Kappa Psi, and Kappa Sigma Chi were honored by dancing parties given by the active chapters, and the college Cosmopolitan club was host at its fall term party.

Autumn decorations carrying out a color scheme of brown and gold were used by Phi Omega Pi at its party in the Island Park Recreation hall Friday night. A large reproduction of the sorority pin was placed above the fireplace. The sorority trio, composed of Misses Eleanore Erickson, Dorothy Chard and Bernice Emmons, sang as a special feature. Honor guests were Messrs. and Mmes. C. T. Wickert, J. R. Dice, Mrs. Sarah Cranley, and Misses Pearl Dinan and Esther Latzke. Misses Ruth Westergaard, Mildred Peterson and Dorothy Wallace were special guests. About fifty couples attended the affair, with Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnson chaperoning. Eleanore Erickson was in general charge of arrangements.

With programs in the form of miniature paddles, Kappa Psi was host to its pledges Friday night in the college Y. M. C. A. Shocks of corn and pumpkins were used in decorations stressing the Thanksgiving idea. About 45 couples attended the party, with Dr. and Mrs. Glen Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. M. Jongeward chaperoning. Honor guests included Dean and Mrs. W. F. Sudro and a number of fraternity alumni from Fargo and Moorhead. Hilbert Engelter was in charge of general arrangements.
