Thirty guests attended the banquet.

College Officials Go To National Meeting

45th Annual Convention of Land
Grant Colleges, Universities
Is Held In Chicago

Attending the 45th annual convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, four North Dakota State college officials are in Chicago this week attending the meeting which opened Monday and will continue through Wednesday.

Included in North Dakota State's delegation are Dr. J. H. Shepperd, president of the college; Dr. P. F. Trowbridge, director of the experiment station; R. M. Dolve, dean of the school of mechanic arts, and C. F. Munroe, director of the extension division. Convention headquarters are at the Stevens hotel.

With the completion of the convention of the Land Grant association, President Shepperd, Dr. Trowbridge and Mr. Munroe will attend a land utilization conference called by Secretary Hyde of the department of agriculture for Nov. 19 to 21. The conference will take place in Chicago.

Secretary Hyde has called the meeting to protect the economic and social values of the 900,000,000 acres of farm lands in the United States. The fundamental need, according to Secretary Hyde, is for an inventory of land resources, an estimate of food and fiber needs and an attempt to match output against requirements.

There will be a meeting of the music group of the Y. W. C. A. in the Y room at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday. Dorothea Ward will be in charge.

Freshmen, Seniors Vie For Honors in Interclass Contest

Fourth Annual Interclass Debate
Scheduled For 7:30 P. M.
Thursday in L. C. T.

Representatives of the freshman and senior classes will vie for honors in the fourth annual interclass debate to be held at 7:30 Thursday night in the Little Country theater. This date, Nov. 19, is an exact anniversary of the date on which Abraham Lincoln gave his Gettysburg Address.

Norman Todd and Anthony Faber, seniors, will uphold the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the University of Chicago system of education should be adopted at North Dakota State college." Opposing them will be Robert Snuff and William Stewart, freshman debaters, who will uphold the negative side of the resolution. The interclass debates are sponsored by the Lincoln Debate club.

In recognition of the fact that the debate is to be held on an anniversary of the Gettysburg Address, a Lincoln theme will be used in the decorating of the Little Country theater stage.

The first of the debate series were held on Nov. 6 and 9, in which the freshman team was victorious over the sophomores, Paul Faber and Waldo Wyatt, and the senior team defeated the junior team, George Simons and Lester Wyman.

College 'Y' Groups Plan Kiddies Party

Organizations Schedule Annual Christmas Party For December 12

Fargo kiddies will again be entertained by the North Dakota State college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at the traditional Kiddies Christmas party. Dec. 12 has been set for the party.

Approximately 100 Fargo children are entertained by the college "Y" groups during the Christmas season each year. Endeavoring to entertain those children not reached by any other charitable organization, men and women at the college provide a full evening of entertainment for the boys and girls. A hot supper is served at the college preceding a social hour. A visit from Santa Claus is one of the main features.

In charge of activities for the cabins are Miss Eryls Hill and Gordon Prescott. Working with the student committees will be Mrs. Carl A. Teet and Dudley C. Bayliss, general secretaries of the organizations.

THEATER PLAYERS GIVE THREE ACT PRODUCTION BY A. STRONG TONIGHT

Jack Stuart Knapp Directs Cast
For Second Presentation,
"Seventh Heaven"

PHILLIPS PLAYS LEAD

Corrine Lawrence Interprets
Role of Diane, Leading
Feminine Character

Presenting "Seventh Heaven," the Little Country Theater players will produce the second college play of the fall term in the Little Country Theater at 8:15 p. m. today. Jack Stuart Knapp, graduate student at the college and field drama director for the National Recreation association, is directing the cast.

A play in three acts by Austin Strong, "Seventh Heaven" was one of the New York successes of Helen Menken. The drama demands highly emotional acting throughout, according to Mr. Knapp, and is a different type of production than "Aren't We All," the Edwin Booth play for the fall term.

Cast in the role of Chico, Lyle Phillips will have the leading male role, and Corrine Lawrence as Diane will interpret the leading feminine character. The plot involves a series of events which elevate Chico, Diane, Boul, who is a taxi driver, and Arlette, a barmaid. Because he holds so much faith in himself, Chico becomes a remarkable man.

Included in the cast are a number of freshman students. Supporting Phillips and Miss Lawrence in their leading roles are: Elroy Johnson, Boul; Gerald Stevens, the Rat; Jane Nichols, Arlette; Leonard Gilles, Maximilian Goblin; Frances Nichol, Nana; Horace Spaulding, Recan; John McCormick, jr., Brissac; Carl Freeman, Blonde; Frank McCullough, Pere Chevillon; Grant Callinan, Sergeant of Police; Audrey Medley, Aunt Valentine; John Tobiason, Uncle Georges, and Victor Lundeen, the lamplighter.

The production staff includes: scenic directors—Lyle Phillips, John Tobiason, Corrine Lawrence, Jane Nichols and Horace Spaulding; lighting directors—James Konen and Carl Freeman; property chairmen—Elroy Johnson, Gerald Stevens and Grant McCullough; costume director—Frances Nichol; music director—Audrey Medley, and publicity director, John McCormick.

French Club Holds Second Meeting Wed.

"La Menagerie" Selected As
Theme For French
Competition

As a feature of the second meeting of the recently organized French club, Le Cercle Francais, to be held at the North Dakota State college Y. M. C. A., at 7:30 Wednesday evening, Nov. 18, will be a one-act comedy written by Doris Nelson and Marian Stern, members of the club.

Mademoiselle Yvonne Fleury announces the presentation of "La Menagerie" as the theme in which students of French at the college will take part in competition for a prize. The club, according to Mademoiselle Fleury, is an organization for students of French at the college, instructors of French at the colleges and high schools of Fargo and Moorhead, and all others who understand the language and are interested in it.

The play to be presented, as interpreted by Jane Nichols, James Thompson, and Carmen Hunt, will be the "Bison and the Rabbits." Frederick Martin, pianist, and Lawrence Forman, violinist, both students in French, will give musical selections.

Albert Garvik, Miles Formo and Waldemar Knudson, Theta Chis, spent Sunday at Grand Forks as guests of friends at the University of North Dakota.

"Diane"

Playing the leading feminine role in "Seventh Heaven," three act drama to be presented in the Little Country Theater at 8:15 p. m. today is Corrine Lawrence, Fargo, who will interpret the part of Diane.

Gamma Phi Beta Founder's Program For 57th Birthday

Four Women Found International
Sorority At Syracuse U,
Nov. 11, 1874

In commemoration of the fifty-seventh anniversary of her founding alumnae, actives and pledges of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority held a Founders' Day program in the Gardner hotel last evening. Gamma Phi Beta was founded at Syracuse University on November 11, 1874.

Alumnae, actives and pledges were welcomed last night at the Founder's Day program by Mrs. Helen Berquist Person, president of the alumnae chapter. Following her address, Mrs. Person read the traditional Founder's Day poem. Representing the alumnae chapter Mrs. Magdelene Carpenter Birch spoke on "The Founding of the First Greek Letter Organizations for Women." Miss Grace Hunkins, president of the active chapter, explained "What Founder's Day Means to the Active Chapter." Musical numbers were presented by the octet and letters were read from two of the original four founders who are still living. Mesdames Helen M. Dodge Ferguson and Frances E. Haven Ross are still active in the work of Gamma Phi Beta living at Utica, N. Y., and Urbana, Ill., respectively.

Following the formal program a social hour and an informal reception was held. In the receiving line were Mrs. Person, Miss Hunkins, and Miss Rosemary Allen, president of the pledge group. Hostesses were Mmes. A. H. Leimbacker, Leslie Welter and Misses Margaret Newton and Frances Lamb. Decorations featured the pink carnation, the sorority flower. Stunts were presented by the actives and pledges.

Gamma Phi Beta has 41 active chapters in the United States and Canada. The last chapter was just recently installed at the University of Toronto. Alpha Omicron was installed here Feb. 1, 1930.

Tau Delta Pi Holds Formal Initiation

Honorary Engineering Fraternity Pledges Seven Members
At Last Meeting

Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, announces the formal initiation of Prof. W. E. Smith, instructor in civil engineering, as an honorary member. The initiation was held in the alumni rooms Thursday evening with Fred Payne, president of the organization, officiating. Mr. Smith, who is also a member of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary, has been honored on the basis of his active interest in student engineering organizations, his ability as a teacher of engineering, and his high scholastic record.

Besides Mr. Smith other honorary members of the group are R. M. Dolve, dean of the school of engineering, and George Lynch, superintendent of the Fargo division of the Northern States Power company.

Preceding the formal initiation pledging services were held for seven newly elected students. The men pledged were: Karl Gerteis, senior electrical, and Robert Netteland, Edward Comm, Morris Knutson, Oliver Blecken, Erling Hedahl, and Leo Schwehr, all junior engineering students.

According to Mr. Payne these men were elected from those students ranking in the upper one fourth of their classes scholastically. Other requirements considered were character, practicality and sociability.

The date of the formal initiation of these students has been tentatively set for December 10. During the intervening period each pledge is being required to compose an original paper on an assigned topic concerning some phase of engineering.

Reformers

The most unpopular role any person can assume is that of a reformer. Yet the older generation is continuing to make itself more unpopular every day by trying to reform the younger contingent.

After nearly a decade of limelight attention we are beginning to enjoy it and to crave its focus. For this reason we continue acting like poorly-mannered children to furnish conversation for our elders and subjects for their reforming inclinations.

And yet all the excitement is pointless. We, as the younger generation, are convinced that we are better equipped mentally and physically to face the world; we are further convinced that we are more tolerant than they and more broadminded rather than unmoral as our elders believe.

A college educated man of this decade emerges from college better fitted for a life of happiness than his parents because his education has been more liberal and much broader—liberal in the wide variety of courses studied and liberal as to the social contacts he has enjoyed.

The dilemma resembles that of prohibition. Prohibition propaganda has certainly educated us as to the evil effects of drink. Therefore if a man chooses to drink himself to death why not call him a "poor fool" and let him do it? Similarly why not let us work out our own destiny, build on fact rather than illusion, being assured that we have been: forewarned and forearmed as to all the pitfalls? If we fall—well we probably weren't worth reforming anyway!

Teachers Tryouts

When one considers the qualifications of a good teacher it is rather appalling to realize that there are three instructors for every job.

Contrary to popular assumption not everyone can teach. As we review the corps that have had to struggle with us, we remember only one or two as the real thing. For the rest we would recommend a tryout by a student audience.

How many a boring lecture would be saved by an instructor's sense of humor! How many difficult courses would be made fascinating and valuable by an instructor's sense of understanding! How much a student would appreciate a little insight on the part of the instructor into student problems! In fact, we believe, a much better group of teachers would be secured if some system of examination were given to determine their abilities to put their subject across.

On Athletes

Dean Charles M. McConn, of Lehigh university, recently told the faculty and student body of Brown university that college spirit and loyalty stuff is "pure and simple hokum." The dean attacked the theory that extra-curricular activities are more important for the training of character than studies and that athletes are more loyal to their colleges than scholars. "Athletes," he said, "go out for teams primarily because of a desire for publicity and personal ambition."

It is true that athletes derive personal glory for the teams which they make up, but if it were not for the spirit of the student body which supports these teams there would be no difference between college athletics and professional—in some colleges there isn't much difference now. But a blanket statement condemning all college spirit as hokum and all athletes as grasping publicity hounds is decidedly unfair to the educational institutions.—Industrial Collegian.

Exchanges

Governing Committee Is Named

A tribunal composed of members selected from an honorary leadership fraternity at Emory University, Ga., has been organized to supervise regulations for first year students. The former law-giver to the freshman, a committee on customs and traditions, has been abolished by the student activities council at the university.

University Bans Hazing

Freshman hazing at Stanford university has been abolished. Damage done to a freshman dormitory by the sophomores brought about the abolition of hazing.

Students Await Registration

One of the longest vigils ever recorded on the University of Alabama campus was observed this year when John Klepec reported at the library building at 2:30 a. m. on registration day. Only an hour and a half later, Frances Hamilton led the freshman women by taking her place in the registration line.

Russian Students Enroll

Having only a six months study of the English language, five Russian students have enrolled in the school of engineering at Purdue university. Sent to the university by the Russian government, the students plan to return to Russia when their courses are completed to help fulfill the Russian building plan.

South Dakota State Plans Hobo Day

Plans have already been inaugurated at South Dakota State college for its 1932 Hobo day when the 20th anniversary of the annual homecoming frolic will be observed. With the traditional day set for Oct. 22, a committee of students and faculty members has been appointed to arrange affairs for the day.

Chorus Is Organized

Having the largest membership in the history of the college, a mixed chorus including 75 students has been organized at South Dakota State college under the direction of Prof. Harry L. Kohler. February 29 is the date which has been set for the annual concert given by the chorus.

Cast Produces "Giants in the Earth"

A cast composed largely of students of Norse descent will produce the drama, "Giants of the Earth," as one of the term dramatic productions at South Dakota State college in Brookings. The play is based on the novel by the same name written by the late O. E. Rolvaag.

SIGMA DELTA MEMBERS HOLD MEETING SUNDAY

Discussing the Chinese-Japanese question, members of Sigma Delta discussion club held their first meeting in the Alley cafe Sunday night. Mart Vogel, club president, was in charge of the meeting.

Leading the discussion of the question were Harold Lundgren and Harold Fredrikson, Fargo. About 25 members were present.

Although several new candidates for membership have been named by the club members, definite action on admitting the candidates into active membership will not be taken until the candidates have attended three meetings Sunday, Dec. 6, is the date for the next meeting.

"Well, I guess they've got me—they've winged me, fellows—the game's up." He looked at me pleadingly, and his breath came hot and quick like a Kappa party. Then he expired in my arms—no last words—none of that nine lives bunk. Another cat had made the supreme sacrifice for our pre-meds.

Ladeez and Gentlemen: "One country, one flag and one big musical comedy," this year. Let's make it the biggest thing since the Old Grey Mare and the whiffle tree. We ought to have about 3000 people at every performance with 4,000 at the box office trying to get in. It promises to be the real stuff.

Archer and Vogel, the high muck-amucks of journalism etc. leave for Kentucky this week to attend a press convention. Some people get all the gravy. They'll probably be talking something like this when they come back:—"Wal, naoh, it's a long story, sah. We all sho nuff had a wannaful time. How'd you all get along without us, sah, when we was back down in old Kentucky. Yes, sah, weah for moah press conferences." We'd even miss "Seventh Heaven" to go on that trip.

We managed to get a little about the Gamma Phi party by remote control. Aren't you all a-twitter? These modern Greeks go for football in a big way. Not content with the touchball game played between the Delta I Sgs and the Alpha Tau Omegas, and the varsity game in the afternoon, they went and made their party theme—football. We heard it was so crowded that they had to dancelikethis—tsk, tsk (Made by placing the tongue on the upper molars and hissing). Just so the boys didn't make any forward passes, it's O. K. by us. The difficulty at an affair like that would be to "hold that line." Some of our collegians are such very fluent conversationalists. But anyhow, a football crowd is one of the most wholesome in the world, experts tell us.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS CO-OPERATE IN PARADE

When Fargo opened its fifth annual Community Chest appeal Monday night with a mammoth parade, North Dakota State college's Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and the Gold Star band under the direction of Dr. C. S. Putnam were represented in the opening feature of the drive.

The entire band led the college section of the parade. Marching in the Y. M. C. A. section were members of the advisory board, the cabinet and Y members. A float bringing out the idea of activities of the Y. M. C. A. was also entered.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and several individual members costumed to bring out the idea of the several phases of Y activities appeared in the Y. W. C. A. section besides a float featuring the Kiddies' Christmas party and world fellowship ideas.

COLLEGE NIGHT RADIO PROGRAM IS BROADCAST

A nation-wide college night radio program was broadcast Saturday night from 8 to 8:30 over the network of the National Broadcasting company. President Herbert Hoover was the principal speaker delivering his address from the White House at the close of the program.

The program was dedicated to the liberal arts colleges and their contribution to the educational, social and economic life of the country. Among the others appearing on the program were: Dr. Robert L. Kelly, executive secretary of the Association of American colleges; Dr. John H. Finley, associate editor of the New York Times; Dr. A. N. Ward, chairman of the liberal arts college movement, and Dr. C. R. Mann, director of the American council on education.

NORTH DAKOTA STATE SECURES VICTORY IN CONFERENCE BATTLE

Schoenfelder, Jahr Play Well; Several Reserves Play During Match

FISHER IN STELLAR ROLE

Bison Encounter Kansas Aggies For Stiff Competition In Last Game

Led by the 150 pound speedy, elusive, and line smashing reserve halfback, Johnny Fisher, the North Dakota State college football team completed their Conference schedule by defeating the South Dakota University 13-0 at Vermillion Saturday afternoon. This win places the State college team in a tie for second place with South Dakota State in the Conference rating. North Dakota University is in undisputed possession of their first place having won every game this season.

Fisher Outstanding Player

Fisher was the outstanding player on the field and his fine playing was a great deal responsible for the showing made by the Bison. He reeled off many long gains to place his team within scoring distance. The two touchdowns were counted by Fisher and McKay and came as the result of two sustained attacks by Captain Lonsbrough and Fisher. The scoring thrusts were completed from the 10 and 1 yard line for the counters and Walter Schoenfelder made the extra point from placement on the second touchdown.

Three reserve backfield men were started and they stayed in the line-up until the first period was well under way. The regulars went through the opposing team for long gains from mid-field but were held for downs when they neared the opponents' goal line. The first counter did not come until the third quarter as the result of effective line plunging and end running by Fisher and Lonsbrough. They brought the ball to the ten yard marker in this manner and Fisher smashed across the Coyote goal line.

The entire State line worked in such a manner that they completely stopped the University attack. Schoenfelder and Jahr played exceptionally well and the rest of the line performed up to a high standard. Their effectiveness can be judged by the number of first downs that was scored against them. The Coyotes were able to gather but one lone first down during the entire game, while the Bison were counting 23.

McKay Scores

In the final period Fisher and Lonsbrough launched another attack that resulted in another touchdown for the Bison. The advance started from mid-field and a penalty of 15 yards placed the ball on the Coyote 1 yard line. McKay smashed through the South Dakota line for the second counter for the Bison. Schoenfelder's kick brought the score to 13-0 for the Bison.

Every man that was inserted into the backfield proved effective in the ground gaining department. Only five passes were attempted by the Bison and three of these were completed. The Coyotes tried vainly to score in the second period by literally filling the air with passes, but only a small number of them were completed and many intercepted. The Bison pass defense functioned better than at any other time this season. Seitz again showed a great deal of drive by smashing through the Coyote forward wall for many large gains. Bunt also counted much yardage, tossed the passes that were completed, and did an excellent job of signal calling. Fisher, however, stole the glory from the rest of the players. Spectators in the stands rose to their feet every time that he would get the ball and yelled for the Coyotes to stop him. The South Dakota papers described Fisher's performance as one of the most outstanding exhibitions to be witnessed for many years.

Next weekend the Bison get one of their biggest tests of the season when they meet "Bo" McMillan's Kansas Aggies. This team has established itself as one of the most outstanding aggregations in that section of the country. The Bison will be in good condition for this game and it will be a fight from start to finish.

NOTICE

Kappa Delta Pi will meet at 7 p. m. in the Faculty-Alumni rooms. Emilybelle Craigo, sec'y.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

JOHNNY FISHER'S EXCELLENT SHOWING AGAINST SOUTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY BOLSTERS BISON PAPER STRENGTH FOR NEXT YEAR. STARTING SLOWLY, THIS HILLSBORO SPEEDSTER HAS BEEN IMPROVING CONSTANTLY AND NOW IS ONE OF THE MOST EFFECTIVE BACKFIELD PERFORMERS IN THE LOOP.

Fisher was one of the most feared ball carriers in North Dakota high school circles, playing on an excellent prep club at Hillsboro. Grand Forks high school can testify to his prowess as a wild roamer on the gridiron. The Forkers had some of their best teams in Fisher's time, boasting such stars as DuChene, Jarret, Schave, but they always found a Tartar in Johnny and his mates.

Although Fisher has shown to advantage as an open field runner and passer, he has lately displayed terrific power in line smashes.

The Bison will be well enforced next year with speedy, shifty ball carriers. They have had them in the past but not in such abundance as is slated for 1932. Fisher, McKay, Ellingson, McEssy, Hanson, May, Hollister, Scholander, Gerteis, Van Hook, Wallace, Stege, Jahnke, Manthey and Flynn make as nice a list of pigskin toters as we ever hope to see. In that list is everything one would want: passing, ball carrying, blocking, line smashing, but what overshadows all else is speed.

FANS ARE ALREADY BEGINNING TO COMPARE FRITZ HANSON WITH THE FAMED CLAUDIE MILLER. JUST TO BE COMPARED WITH CLAUDIE IS AN HONOR IN ITSELF. THE DARK HAired PHANTOM OF SIX YEARS IS THE BEST GRIDIRON PERFORMER WE HAVE EVER SEEN AND WE CAN HARDLY EXPECT ANOTHER ONE SO SOON.

Players like Claudie usually come along about once every 20 years. Same with the Friedmans, Granges, Eckersalls and Barry Woods. It's too early to tell how but Fritz has the natural ability to rank with the best of them in the collegiate gridiron hall of fame.

Fritz is faster than Claudie, though Claudie at his best was no slow poke. Claudie, on the other hand, was heavier and consequently more rugged. In his four years of sensational play, although he was a marked man in every game, he was incapacitated only once and that was for three minutes against South Dakota State in 1926.

THERE IS LITTLE TO CHOSE BETWEEN THE TWO AS FAR AS ELUSIVE RUNNING IS CONCERNED. CLAUDIE WAS AN EXCELLENT BLOCKER AND AS A PUNTER HAD FEW SUPERIORS. BEAR IN MIND, HOWEVER, THAT FRITZ HAS A LOT OF TIME TO DEVELOP.

It was a treat to watch Claudie play after he got warmed up. If the going was tough and the Bison were badly in need of a counter he would dash his headgear to the ground, a gesture that usually preceded a long run and a touchdown.

In the University game of 1925, Claudie came through in typical fashion. The Bison were behind, 10 to 7. Claudie was getting impatient. He booted his headgear across the sidelines, carefully retied his shoestrings and on the next play ran for a touchdown. The Bison won, 19 to 10.

The same qualities which made Claudie so colorful are endowed characteristics of the blonde Fritz. And the fans will flock to see Fritz just as they turned out to watch the sensational Miller.

THERE ARE THE OLD TIMERS WHO CLAIM CURLY MOVOLD WAS EVERY BIT AS GOOD AS CLAUDIE. WE'VE NEVER SEEN MOVOLD PLAY BUT HE MUST HAVE BEEN GOOD TO ELICIT SUCH COMMENTS.

COLLEGE BASKETEERS BEGIN TRAINING WORK FOR DEDICATION GAME

Private Skirmish With Frosh Players Is Scheduled For Friday

With the Bison football players completing their season this weekend at Manhattan, Kansas, and with King Football due for his annual exit on the sport throne, basketball is again coming into its dictatorship in winter sports. A skirmish is scheduled between the varsity regulars and the freshman ball handlers for Friday, Coach L. T. Saalwaechter announced today.

Friday's game will be given for the benefit of special guests of the Bison athletic department, according to the Bison coach. It will be played in the center court of the mammoth North Dakota State college physical education building.

Gridders Are Absent

On the absent list when the Bison play the unusually strong freshman basketeers will be varsity football players, including Viv McKay, George Fairhead, Blair Seitz, Tom Flynn and Milton Jacobson. Kvenmoen O'Day and Mickelson are not eligible until after Christmas for the varsity competition.

With Bob Weir, six foot seven inch center, back at the pivot position to tip the ball to either Don Arthur, who built up a speed and scoring reputation for himself last year, or Walt Olson, speedy regular, at the forward posts, Coach Saalwaechter has promise of a speedy offense for his first games of the season. Eric Nordstrom and Bliss Littler are the guards for the varsity in their first game with John Dixon and Art Habener on the reserve bench.

Weir Is Center

Having added more than 10 pounds and much strength during a summer spent fighting forest fires in Idaho, Bob Weir is in the best of condition for a successful season at the center post, according to Coach Saalwaechter, who is grooming the tall boy for the position carried on last year by Leo May.

Speed will be a key word with Don Arthur, who last year proved his scoring and speed ability on the basketball court, and his partner at the forward posts, Walter Olson, who carried on the guard work for the Bison throughout 1931.

The official dedication of the new physical education building and the basketball game with the powerful University of Minnesota team, scheduled for December 5, will be the climax of basketball work during the next few weeks, according to Coach Saalwaechter. No plans have yet been announced concerning a Christmas vacation competitive tour to eastern schools.

SENIOR STAFF HONORS MORTAR BOARD OFFICIAL

Fraternity, sorority and faculty representatives at the college were received by members of the Senior Staff at a tea in the Lincoln Log cabin from 4 to 5:30 p. m. Friday honoring Mrs. F. D. Coleman, national president of Mortar Board, national honorary service organization for senior women. Mrs. Coleman visited on the campus from Thursday night until Friday night.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Coleman at the tea were Misses Virginia Davis, president of Senior Staff; Nancy Elliott, Mortar Board member from Iowa State college at Ames, and Miss Nadine Buck, Mortar Board member from the University of Wisconsin.

Decorating the tea table was an arrangement of fruit and silver leaves. During the afternoon there was a program of music by Misses Mary Powers, pianist, and Jean Pote, cellist.

State College Frosh Winners of Numerals Announced This Week

Baby Bison Unable To Procure Post Season Game With Gopher Frosh

Decision will be made this week as to the winners of the college football numerals from the championship crop of Baby Bison football players, Coach Fay Smith announced today.

Due to the lateness of the season no game could be scheduled with the Gopher freshman football players from the University of Minnesota, and the Baby Bison, after winning two games played with the Sioux Paposes, are definitely through with football until the spring practice season comes around.

There will be numerous candidates for numeral sweaters this year, according to Coach Smith, who found in the Baby Bison regular and reserve strength of outstanding timber. Especially in the backfield will there be a plentiful supply of outstanding material from which Coaches Finnegan and Lowe will select the varsity successors to men such as Lonsbrough, Bunt, Seitz, Fairhead and others who complete their athletic careers on the Kansas State college gridiron the latter part of this week.

With games with the famous Army team at West Point and with the University of Wisconsin Badgers at Madison already scheduled for 1932, and with the prospect of a North Central Conference football shakeup on next year's horizon, the Baby Bison contributions to the Bison varsity may make grid history.

Miss Brakke is a senior at that institution this year.

In an announcement in another issue of The Messenger, Miss Brakke was listed among the successful applicants for membership in the college second choir.

N. D. State Engineer Receives New Blanks From Organization

Membership In Engineering College Magazines Associated Sought Here

The North Dakota State Engineer has received application blanks for membership into Engineering College Magazines Associated, national organization of college engineering publications, it was made known today by Fred Payne, business manager.

Mr. Payne points out that from an editorial standpoint the magazine is well qualified. The financial condition of the local publication meets the rigid requirements of the national association as well. But every effort must be made to obtain one hundred per cent student support as the national organization requires each member magazine to have five hundred paid subscribers. As membership into this national organization of the leading college engineering magazines would add much distinction to the national standing of the publication, of the school of mechanic arts, and of the college, every engineering student is urged to subscribe and thereby do his part in attaining this recognition for his college.

A joint meeting of the business and editorial staffs will be held at 5 p. m. Thursday in Dean Dolve's office. Every staff member is requested to attend. Plans for obtaining the one hundred per cent student support necessary for recognition by Engineering College Magazine Associated are to be made.

The November issue of the Engineer is now in the hands of the printers. It will be distributed November 20.

College Enters Team In Poultry Contest

Coach and Team Will Leave December 1 For Midwest Contest In Chicago

The poultry department of the North Dakota State college is grooming a class of seven students in poultry judging in preparation for the Midwest Intercollegiate Poultry Judging contest to be held at the coliseum in Chicago the first week of December.

The contest sponsored by the agricultural committee from the chamber of commerce, the national Butter and Egg association, and other poultry commercial interests of the midwest.

The class at the college is made up of Don Lawrence, Clarence Pace, Albert Herner, Norman Todd, Carl Roberts, Neil Peck, and Elmer Bothum.

Final phases of coaching will be during the Thanksgiving holidays when the team is selected. The team and the coach will leave for Chicago Dec. 1.

The North Dakota State college has been represented by a team several years and has made a good showing. One man in the 1929 contest scored first in the judging production.

A red electric sign has been installed in the agricultural building pointing the way to the Experiment station and the Extension Division. The sign is visible to persons entering the main entrance.

Students in Home Economics Live In Practice House Now

Other Girls Practice Teaching In Fargo, Moorhead and Casselton Schools

Seven home economics students are doing practice teaching in three centers in the Fargo vicinity and six students are living in the practice house, according to Miss Lucille Horton, of the school of home economics.

The three centers to which students are sent for two weeks practice teaching are: Casselton high school, Moorhead junior high school, and Sacred Heart Academy. Each student is required to take full charge of her classes and to conduct them as she will in a regular position as the practice and regular teaching are almost identical.

The girls teaching at Casselton are: Dorothea Ward, Irene Hudson, Edna Sullivan; Moorhead junior high school: Alice Rasmussen and Lois Minard; Sacred Heart Academy: Edna Sullivan, Frances Hedner, Eleanor Erickson and Irene Hudson. Eleanor Erickson served tea November 11 in Ceres parlors for the mothers of the students at Sacred Heart academy. As entertainment the clothing class displayed in a style show dresses which had been made in the class.

As part of the home management course students are required to live in the practice house located on the campus, for nine weeks. During this time the students put into practice all the principles which have been learned. At present Bethel Young, Freda Hertsgaard, Viola Seaberg, Margaret Hagen, Lillian Anderson, and Lucille Van Hook are living in the house.

EIGHTEEN SENIORS ARE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

Eighteen State college seniors are teaching in the college high school this term, announces Prof. P. J. Iverson.

Education 8 requires from five to ten credit hours of practice teaching. The subject taught must be in the student's major or occasionally in a minor and all teaching is done according to the state course of study. The teaching being done is good without exception, according to Professor Iverson who is in charge of practice teaching. Students are also required to observe classes in Central high school and in Roosevelt junior high school.

The following instructors supervise the students in their respective departments: C. A. Severinson, history; L. Metzinger, modern languages; R. Grimes, mathematics; H. M. Hoffman, physics; A. N. Solberg, biology and zoology; A. D. Stoez, botany; L. Horton, home economics, and G. E. Anderson, manual training.

The Delta Kappa Sigs challenged the A. T. O.'s to a touch ball game which was played on the Bison football field. Coach McGrath's pigsters gained the decision by a 14 to 0 count. The A. T. O.'s were completely baffled by the remarkable ability and precision of the Sig Warriors—Shades of Notre Dame. Any other campus organization wishing to show their ability are invited to honor themselves by playing such a famed and renowned machine—namely Coach McGrath's Pigsters. (Phone 2162).

Members of the college Y. W. C. A. participated in the Community Chest parade held Monday at 5:30 p. m. Erlys Hill, service chairman, was in general charge of the organization of the Y members. She was assisted by Jane Canniff, Alpha Knight, Paula Verne, Doris Lathrop, Claire Newell, Ruth Clausen and Miss Adeline Laurie.

BOOK STORE COMMODITIES HAVE VARIED DEMAND

The State college bookstore has definite intervals or periods at which their different commodities are in greatest demand, according to Miss Emily Dakin, manager.

At the opening of each term this small room in the basement of Old Main is over crowded with students eagerly awaiting to exchange their money for the various books they will need throughout the following term.

Immediately preceding convocation there is an unusual call for five cent candy bars, and previous to the Cadet Hops, peanuts and life-savers are in demand. The reasons for these desires are obvious in some instances, but in other instances they are not; although the purchasers no doubt, have just reasons for making their purchases.

LITTLE COUNTY THEATER PLAYERS GO TO BUFFALO

The Little Country Theater players will present a program at the Buffalo, N. D., public school on Saturday evening, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock. The program will open with a piano solo by Donald McKechnie. Following this will be a debate in which the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that unemployment insurance should be adopted by the several states," will be upheld by Harold Fredrikson and Leonard Gilles. Albert Buchli and Donald McKechnie will uphold the negative side. Following the debate, Claire Newell will present a reading, "My Aunt," by James Lowell. Closing the program will be a one act play, "The Silent System," in which the two characters, "He" and "She" will be taken by Claire Newell and Harold Fredrikson.

Joe Bertin and Bill Brady, members of the Wahpeton Science school football team, were guests at the Theta Chi fraternity Saturday.

Dorothy Holes and Helen Fredrickson, Gamma Phi Beta, visited in Hunter and Davenport, respectively, over the weekend.

Hostesses for the Blue Monday tea to be given in the Y rooms from 3 to 5 on Monday will be Lillian Stotlar, Helen Miller, Lucille Morrissey and Mildred Peterson.
