

ANNUAL HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES COMMENCE WITH RALLY ON FRIDAY

College Organizations Enter Floats, Costumes In Parade On Saturday Morning

ENTRIES CLOSE THURSDAY

Pep Rally Scheduled For 6:30 Friday Night Precedes Freshman Game

As in former years, North Dakota State college organizations will cooperate with Homecoming committees by entering floats, group or individual costumes in the big parade, Saturday, Oct. 24, Everett Wallum, alumni secretary announced today. The statement was issued squashing rumors afloat on the campus Monday that due to indifference on the part of groups no parade would be held.

"Bison students are noted for their spirit in times of traditional events and even though some of the groups are discontinuing the float as an economy measure, we feel sure they will take part in some way as evidence of their continued good will to alumni and Homecoming," Mr. Wallum said.

Entries for floats or group costumes must be filed with Jack Knapp in the Little Country theatre not later than Thursday morning, Oct. 23, and drawings for places for the parade will be held in the military department offices beginning at 7:30 Thursday night. All representatives of organizations participating in the parade are asked to be on hand.

At the rally Wednesday, Jack Knapp, chairman of the Homecoming parade committee, will address the student body, outlining plans for the event.

Friday night's rally, beginning at 6:30 in the old armory is expected to generate student pep which is expected to be spontaneous in its enthusiasm throughout the Homecoming activities. Doc's band, talks by alumni, yells and songs are included in the program which must be cut short at 7:30 due to the University-Bison frosh grid game (Continued on Page 4)

"Prairie Lit" Is Name of Sigma Tau Delta Literary Publication

Fraternity Will Present Initial Edition on Homecoming Day, Saturday

To be known as "The Prairie Lit," a literary magazine including creative writing by students at North Dakota State college will make its initial appearance on the campus on Homecoming day, it is announced by Claire Newell, president of Omicron Gamma chapter of Sigma Tau Delta fraternity, national honorary English organization.

Sponsored by Sigma Tau Delta, the publication will be largely comprised of literary work of members of the club as well as the prize winning freshman themes. Supervising the editing of the magazine are Miss Eloise Waldron and Prof. Kenneth Kuhn, faculty members in the department of English and faculty members of Sigma Tau Delta.

Special features in keeping with the Homecoming idea and other aspects of college life have been planned for the magazine, but the exact nature of these features will be kept a secret until the publication is distributed.

A special cover design and illustrations in keeping with the several parts of the publication are being planned by Ruth Barrett, Sigma Tau Delta member. Assisted by other club members, Mary Healy and Robert Connolly are members of the student committee in direct charge of the publication. Sigma Tau Delta members will handle the sale of the magazine.

A special business meeting of Sigma Tau Delta has been called for 7 p. m. today in The Spectrum office.

ENGINEERING STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO MEETING

All engineering students are cordially invited to attend the second meeting of the engineers' club to be held in room 22 of the engineering building Thursday evening at 7:45. It is pointed out by Ralph Simenson, president of the organization, that there is a rather common but erroneous feeling among some of the engineers that they are not welcome. Mr. Simenson further states that these students from now on should take the attitude that they are personally invited to attend each and every meeting and activity which the club sponsors.

According to Fred Payne, program chairman, an interesting program has been arranged. Alvin Schroeder will speak to the group on "Explosives and Their Use to the Engineer," Byron Weiss will talk on "The Ups and Downs of the Junior Engineering Trip," and Ted Lagerberg will give a short comedy skit with instrumental accompaniment.

At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served.

For many years he has held the distinction of being one of the most prominent tenor soloists and choral directors of the British Isles. His first visit to the United States was in 1908 when he became leading soloist with the Fillipino Constabulary band at Atlantic City. This popular musical organization made a cross country tour. He has conducted some of the biggest musical festivals of this country, the biggest of all being the Great Festival held at Stanford University stadium, where he conducted a chorus of 10,000 voices, accompanied by six full bands. Mme. Schuman Heink and he were the soloists.

Editor Choses Name of Engineer Magazine for November Issue

North Dakota State Engineer Is Selected as Title For Publication

"North Dakota State Engineer" is the name chosen for the November issue of the engineering publication following a name contest conducted for the last two weeks on the campus, according to Rea Taylor, editor. The contest was staged to obtain a more descriptive and distinctive name for the magazine.

The contestant, suggesting the new title but who does not want his name printed, is a staff member and is therefore ineligible for the prize award which was to be a five year subscription to the publication.

The judging of the best name and of a new cover design to be used on the immediate issue was done by a joint committee consisting of members of the faculty advisory board and of the staff of the magazine. Those representing the faculty were Dean R. M. Dolve, Dr. C. L. Swisher, and Prof. R. H. Slocum, while those representing the staff were Mr. Taylor, Fred Payne, business manager, and Ralph Simenson, associate editor.

Several sketches suitable for a cover design were presented by Alf Skaret, alumnus in architecture, who is being engaged to do the work.

Mr. Taylor further points out, however, that the entire plan is more or less tentative until the final design is drawn up and accepted by the joint committee.

Absence System

The revisions in the absence system passed by the College Council on Thursday, have met with an enthusiastic reception by the student body. For the past two years much dissension and misunderstanding have arisen from the rigid no-cut plan.

Realizing this the Dean of Men's office made a careful investigation of the attendance during the fall and winter terms of last year. In their findings they discovered that over a thousand students recorded no more than two unexcused absences. In appreciation of this fact they recommended the new revisions which aim at rewarding these some thousand students by granting them two unexcused absences in every course per term. From now on the efforts of the Attendance Committee will be directed toward the wayward student who normally has more than eight unexcused absences during the term.

We feel that this is a step forward for this institution. In most instances the student who will cut more than eight classes during a term is not the desirable student and as a general rule will never receive a degree. We hope that the new system will tend to wade out those undesirables and to eliminate a few of the large percentage of people who have no place in any college.

It is gratifying to note that nearly four fifths of this student body have reached the age of reason. An almost perfect attendance of over a thousand students over a period of one term proves that most college men and women are here to go to college.

Some doubt has been expressed regarding the new plan of granting the two unexcused absences in every course. There are some who maintain that the students will abuse their privileges. For this year then these thousand students will be forced to prove that they have reached the age of discretion and are worthy of the confidence that has been placed in them by the Council.

It is interesting to note that during the two years under the no-cut system the scholastic average for this college was raised on and one-half per cent. That would seem to show that the two years of rigid discipline did not result in a total failure. From now on it is up to the students to cooperate with the officials. By making the plan a success it will never again be necessary to establish the old no-cut policy.

A Compliment

In a recent issue of The Dakota Student at the University of North Dakota, a compliment is paid to North Dakota State by a University student. In a student opinion presenting the arguments for a big Homecoming celebration at the U. he comments on the plans we have made for our Homecoming. He adds further "Are you going to let the A. C. prove as a fact that they have more school spirit than we have?"

For the first time in many years we feel that school spirit here is resuming its natural proportions. It may be because we have a great football team or because we have an unusually enthusiastic student body or as a result of both.

Within the next two weeks we will have two important opportunities to show just how much true spirit we really have. Engaging the larger share of our attention will be the Homecoming program this weekend. By an enthusiastic attendance at all the activities you will show the Homecomers and any stray University students that you are backing both the school and the team.

On the following weekend we will be given another opportunity to prove more especially to the University that we are deserving of this compliment. Get to Grand Forks to that game and show them that the entire student body is backing our splendid team.

Student Opinion

For some time there has been much discussion on the campus about the discussion on the campus about the names have been submitted by the students among which was "Arvold Hall." Many people are of the opinion that the name of the building would absolutely designate the use to which it would be put without allowing for the needs which might afterward arise. This need not be the case as the armory is admirably suited for activities of various natures, and could be used as a social center for the students as well as for the many festivals and plays the college might see fit to put on. In fact, I think that the general idea right now is that anything of a festive nature could be held here.

Whatever the use to which the building is eventually put it seems to me that the name "Arvold Hall" would be a very fitting recognition of one whose work on this campus has been of inestimable and lasting value.

Maternal Correspondence

Dear Ma:

I gotta little time off so will write a few lines. Friday nite we played mourning side and they got beat. Was I glad? The girls around me kept nudging me in the ribs and asking me is that was a touchdown everytime a guy got tickled. You know, I believe they just come to show off their new fur coats. These sorority sisters are sure vain all right. Gamma Fie Batas sure are bragging now because they got more platoon sponsors than anyone else. The sponsors are the girls that tag along with the soldiers and try to look pretty, you know.

After the game I went over the "Y" to meet some of the college men and I ran into one of those horrid smokers. Now ma, I never intended to smoke, but one of the guys said, "Have a Harvester." Of course I refused, but there I was alone against the crowd, the "Cynosure of all eyes." What could I do? And after I got puffing away, one smart cracker told me to put out the brush pile. You can imagine how peeved I was. I would liked to give him—hail. (I'm trying to keep this letter as clean as possible, but when I get worked up, it's pretty hard).

A guy by the name of Meyers says us freshmen have to haul wood for a fire as big as Nero's Roman blaze or we'll get swatted. We've been talking it over, and tonight we plan to put the Kampus Kanine Kart, the barracks, and the armory on the pile. We kinda hate to take the armory though, because it's such an old landmark. The Indians used to use it as a trading post in the early days, and Sitting Bull had his headquarters there for a while I guess. Then the war came, and you know the rest.

One of the fraternities is going to A. T. O. this week I guess, whatever that is. It's all Greek to me. You know ma, I'm no Vanderbilt but I'm going to a formal they're having then. I know that you're not getting much for potatoes, but you're selling enough eggs and cream to pay for renting a tux, aren't you? If I'm lucky I can borrow one. Bennie Bermel (he's that handsome crooner with the Collegians who makes all the girls go ga ga when he sings) says his tux hasn't missed a formal since he came to college. Maybe I can succhole around him a little. But I wish you wouldn't worry about me getting drunk at any of these parties. I'll never touch the demon rum. Of course a fellow can't be expected to stay 99 % pure when all the fellows are talking about bracers and chasers. You know, ma, I'd rather be bright than be president.

Well, so far, I've missed the Kappa Gamma and the Theta Chi parties. I wonder what's the matter. You remember how I used to rate in on everything back in old Watts Siding. I wonder if it could be B. O. I bought a book yesterday named "How to Gain Social Prominence Without Mental Exertion." Maybe that will help.

How is the bunion on the roof of your mouth, ma? Anyhow, you're the greatest little mother in the world, and how about a check pretty soon,

Your son,
Freddie Farmer.

P. S.—Judaspriest, I almost forgot to tell you that we're going to have some Welsh male prima donnars tomorrow on the Licium course.

Oct. 20, 1931.

Dear Elmer:

Oh what I know about you? Last night when I was out with Practically Perfect Shoenfelter he told me your whole family history. Yeh, you'll soon be paying me hush money.

He said once you were going to marry a princess or a duchess—or someone connected with the crowned heads or bald heads of Europe. At the last minute, he said the deal fell through because someone told them that you were in trade.

He said they cabled you to find out if you really did sell goods for a living, and you cable back—"CANNOT CALL IT SELLING. PRACTICALLY GIVING THEM AWAY. SEE PRICE ON TAILORED SUITS AND OVERCOATS IN THIS WEEK'S SHOW WINDOW. Signed—Elmer Flaten."

I do hope all the boys will heed this bunch.

Yours 'til Grand Forks,
—Aggie.

NORTH DAKOTA STATE SHARES FIRST PLACE IN CONFERENCE HERE

Tie for Position Is Result of Victory Secured Friday Over Morningside

BISON WIN BY 28-0 SCORE

North Dakota University Now Has Two Consecutive Wins In Conference Race

(By JACK GROHNKE)

The North Dakota State College football team is now sharing the top rung with the University of North Dakota in the North Central Conference title race. The tie for this position was the result of a 28-0 win over the Morningside College Maroons on Dacotah field Friday night.

North Dakota University has scored two consecutive wins over Conference opponents, having defeated South Dakota University last week and South Dakota State this weekend.

The contest started slow with neither team having a great advantage. Neither team threatened to score, however, the Bison were within 7 yards of the Morningside goal line. Bunt placed a punt on Maroon 7 yard line but the opponents kicked out of danger on the first play. The first quarter ended with the Bison on the Morningside 14 yard line.

Viv McKay Scores

Viv McKay, elusive Bison halfback, twisted and dodged through the opposing team on the second play of the quarter for the first counter of the game. Walter Schoenfelder, star tackle and placekicker, used his educated toe to advantage to bring the total to 7-6. Morningside kicked off after the touchdown and Cy Lonsbrough returned the ball to the Maroon 22 yard line before being downed. Lonsbrough made a first down on the first play. McKay then made three yards on an off tackle play and Lonsbrough carried the ball across for a touchdown on the fourth down. Schoenfelder again made the kick from placement. Score, Bison 14; Morningside 0.

Midway in the second period Morningside punted to the Bison 16 yard line and the Bison were penalized 15 yards for holding on the first play, placing the ball on their one 1 yard line. Jackson kicked to his own 36 yard line on the next play.

Morningside Threatens

In the closing minutes of the second period, Morningside made their only serious threat of the game. A Morningside pass was downed behind our goal line and the ball was brought out to the twenty yard line. On the first play George Fairhead attempted a quick kick, but the line failed to hold and kick was blocked. The Maroons completed two passes and brought the ball within ten yards of the Bison goal line. Here the Yellow and Green cohorts made a determined stand and held the opponents for three downs. On the fourth play McKay downed a pass behind the goal line. The half ended shortly.

McKay Scores on Pass

Before the second half was hardly started George Fairhead shot a pass into the arms of McKay who cleverly eluded four wouldbe tacklers by spinning, stiff-arming, and clever running. Schoenfelder made his third attempt of the day good for the extra point. SCORE, Bison 21; Morningside 0.

From this point on Coaches Finnegan and Lowe substituted freely and the reserves carried on with equal zeal of the regulars. The reserve backfield men were especially outstanding. Each man that was inserted into the fray carried on in a creditable manner. John Fisher and George Fairhead proved that they were excellent passers. Two touchdowns were the results of passes thrown by Fairhead. Fisher heaved passes with accountable results, having completed two of them for long gains.

The last score of the game was scored late in the third period when Fairhead passed to McKay who completed the pass but fell at the goal line and fumbled. Selliken fell on the ball to score the touchdown. Schoenfelder again placed the ball between the uprights to bring the final score to 28-0.

The Bison reserves were held scoreless in the final quarter, but they showed power in all types of play. Blair Seitz, powerful fullback, ripped the Maroon line to shreds in his battering-ram style of play. Seitz accounted for three first downs in the last quarter. All of these first downs were made on one play each.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

There'll be nothing but giant crackers exploding in the football fireworks from now on. The crucial stage has arrived and Bison fans can expect action and thrills galore during the next few weeks.

In this one week there are two choice attractions, with the Baby Bison out to duplicate a win turned in a week ago over the Sioux yearlings and the varsity out to eliminate the South Dakota State Homecoming jinx.

Good old George Manthey! His toe enabled Coach Smith's frosh to capture their second frosh win in history. The most gratifying angle of the victory is the satisfaction of knowing the present Bison grid standard will be upheld for several years to come.

FRITZ HANSON, STAR FROSH SPEEDSTER FROM PERHAM, SAYS HE THINKS HE WILL BE ABLE TO BE IN THE GAME FRIDAY NIGHT. HIS ENTRY WILL BOOST BABY BISON SCORING STOCK AS FRITZ IS A HARD MAN TO STOP. HIS SHOULDER IS RESPONDING TO TREATMENT.

Whether he's in the game or not, however, students are expected to give the yearlings the same backing accorded their older brothers. The rally at 6:30 p. m. Friday in Arvold Hall, Festival Hall, Old Armory, or what have you, should set ablaze the student pep smouldering these past few weeks.

While we want to beat the Sioux yearlings again, students should center their pep on the Homecoming battle Saturday against South Dakota State. It's been quite some time since the Bison have captured a Homecoming battle and we owe it to the alumni to put it across.

As each week goes by we become more and more convinced that Jack West's Nodaks are the best team the upstate institution has ever put out. South Dakota State is no setup and the 34 to 6 victory for West ranks the Forkers among the country's best. According to close observers of their progress, West has the Warner system down to perfection and, when working good, this style of play is difficult to defeat.

Incidentally we wish to change our previous guess on the Nodak-Oregon game. The University of Southern California defeated Spears' crumbling cohorts last week, 53 to 0. West should win by one or two touchdowns, anyway.

Prospects look excellent for an undefeated season for the mighty Sioux. Undefeated, that is, unless the powerful Bison can turn a trick that hasn't been accomplished since 1925. Everyone agrees that the Bison-Sioux battle at Grand Forks, Oct. 31, is the "battle of battles," with the Bison accorded a slight edge in defense and the Nodaks given an advantage in offensive power.

MAGICIAN WILL APPEAR IN CONVOCATION FRIDAY

Having won for himself the name of "the man of many mysteries," Eugene Laurant will present a program of magic at a convocation in the old college armory at 9:40 a. m. Friday announces Dean A. E. Minard, chairman of the convocation committee. During his career Mr. Laurant has won fame for himself as a magician entertainer.

A distinct contribution of Mr. Laurant is the part he has played in developing magic as entertainment together with educational value. He has travelled extensively and has appeared on the chautauqua platform besides entertaining audiences during his lyceum tours. During the last two years he has presented programs in more than 200 high schools, colleges and private schools.

Walter Schoenfelder continued his brilliant kicking performances by making all four of his attempts from placement good. This brings his total to 10 out of 11 attempts made good.

The line play was vastly improved over that exhibited in the St. Thomas game last week. Schoenfelder, Gray, Hoveland and McMillen were stellar performers on the forward wall.

This weekend the Bison will meet South Dakota State college in the annual Homecoming event.

BABY BISON BUFFET SIOUX PAPOUSES FOR RECORD WIN FRIDAY

Sensational Run by George May Helps Break Ancient Jinx

MANTHEY'S PUNTS GO FAR

Schollander Kicks Goal For Winning Point; Line Fights Hard

A fighting band of Baby Bison smashed a long standing tradition last Friday evening when they defeated the freshman football team of the University of North Dakota by a 7-6 score at the Memorial Stadium in Grand Forks.

When halfback George May ran, stiff armed and dodged his way through the University tacklers for a sensational run of 55 yards for a touchdown, he paved the way for the first win registered against the University freshmen on their own gridiron in the history of the two schools. Wendell Schollander kicked the ball between the bars for the winning point after touchdown for the Baby Bison.

Things started badly for the North Dakota State college gridgers at Friday evening's game. The Sioux freshmen, through a fumbled ball and later through a penalty, pushed the football down to the Baby Bison's ten yard line. A series of passes netted the University a touchdown but the try for point after touchdown was unsuccessful.

Late in the second quarter George May dropped back into punt formation, but instead of kicking the ball, he tucked it in his arm and started running. He dodged in among the various tacklers, pivoted and ran the 55 yards for the six points.

One of the brilliant features of the game was the punting of George Manthey. Baby Bison halfback, reports from the game indicate. Manthey averaged 50 yards in punting Friday evening without failing his team in any crucial time. Manthey's punts were booted so high that the Baby Bison lineups were often able to tackle the University receiver before he could start to return the ball. Manthey also intercepted five University passes, one of which he took from the Bison seven yard line for a fifteen yard run into a safer zone.

The Bison line, coached throughout the fall workouts by Peter Gergen, assistant to Coach Fay Smith, stopped the onslaughts of the Papooses. Though slightly outweighed, the Baby Bison line played on equal terms with the University team throughout the fray.

Kenneth Pirnie and Earl Gove played outstanding games at the end positions, with Bud Marquardt also substituting at that position in the middle part of the game. Van Hook and Erlennmeyer, guards, and Jackson and Peschel, tackles, held up their phases of the game. Earl Thomas starred as center on the Baby Bison line.

Wendell Schollander, who kicked the winning Bison point, Orthen Halvorson, who went in the latter part of the game to make some excellent gains for the Bison, and Leo Gerteis, blocking back, with May and Manthey, completed the star backfield which caused the University freshmen no end of trouble Friday. The same groups of Baby Bison are going to scrap with the vengeful Sioux Papooses at Dacotah field, this Friday evening in a game which promises to rival the Homecoming game in popularity.

Cross Country Team Loses to Minnesota

Warner and Pond Are Heaviest Counters for State; Hall Is Unable to Finish

The unexperienced North Dakota State college cross country team was defeated 45-15 by the strong University of Minnesota team at Minneapolis on Saturday morning.

Only five Bison Harriers made the trip and but one of these had any previous cross country experience. Ernest Hall, veteran runner, however, became sick during the race and was unable to finish leaving the results entirely to sophomore runners.

The Bison hill and dalers failed to place a man in the first five finishers. John Warner and Myron Pond counted most heavily for State college. Floyd Storms and Gordon Horner concluded the scoring for the Bison.

The experience that these sophomores gathered in this meet will make them valuable men next season. Minnesota had a veteran team back from last fall and will go far in cross country circles this fall.

Mervin Tuntland, county agent of Foster county, Linnel Johnson, superintendent of schools at Adrian, North Dakota, and Craig Montgomery, Smith-Hughes instructor at Fosston, Minn., were weekend guests of Alpha Gamma Rho.

Frank Carlson, Jack Simonitsch, Rea Taylor, and Ed Comm, all took advantage of the open season on pheasants and brought home their kill Sunday night.

Membership Drive
 Opens on October 19

Eleanor Johnson, Norma Cavett, and Margaret Dadey Are Checking Committee

The membership drive of the Y. W. C. A. which was opened Monday with a tea in the Y room is well under way. The captains of the various teams are checking in at five o'clock each afternoon to a committee composed of Eleanor Johnson, membership chairman; Norma Cavett, finance chairman; and Margaret Dadey, treasurer, who figure up the scores of the individual teams. The progress of each team is shown on a large thermometer in the Y room.

The girls are signing activity lists which are under the following headings: hostess committee, social, program, membership, finance, world-fellowship, and service. There also are the various interest groups of etiquette, drama, poetry and literature, and music. Every girl finds that there is some place for her in the Y program.

Through personal solicitation the girls are being informed of the work and opportunities that the Y. W. C. A. offers. They find that it is an educational as well as a social organization. Its members are urged to make the Y their campus home. Here they have the use of a telephone, a large dictionary, a mending kit, washroom, good magazines and books, comfortable chairs, an opportunity for fellowship, and the Blue Monday teas.

The drive is being conducted on an entirely new plan this year. The girls are pledging whatever amount they feel they can give. There is no competition among sororities as the contest is entirely team work.

The first all Y meeting and program will be held November eleventh. Amy Oscarson, program chairman; Claire Newell, dramatic chairman, and Marguerite Jennings, social chairman, are in charge. The program will consist of original tableaux presented by the dramatic section, a short talk on some patriotic theme, and special music. After the program light refreshments will be served.

Joe Aasen, Gale Monson, and Richard Jordahl spent the weekend at their home.

ing about for a distinctive musical attraction for its Silver Anniversary convention which was held in Chicago last June, the Canadian Rotarians immediately suggested the Welsh Imperial Singers because of the great success they had scored there. They were brought to the United States for this great convention, attended by 20,000 Rotarians from all parts of the world, and were the sensational musical hit of the convention. Howard H. Feighner, convention manager, gives them great praise. "Having had considerable to do with our conventions," he wrote, "both in America and Europe, it is difficult to recall a musical organization appearing before our convention that has been quite as outstanding as your magnificent group of male voices."

However, many notables have joined the chorus praising this magnificent organization. H. R. H. Duke of York, at their Royal appearance in London exclaimed: "A wonderful party. A credit to Wales." Lloyd George, in a speech during the intermission of a Welsh Imperial concert which he attended, said: "I have heard the greatest choral singers of the world. This band of singers is different. Old melodies were new tonight because they were in the hands of a master" (pointing to the director, R. Festyn Davies).

scheduled in the Homecoming program for the weekend. Because of Homecoming celebrations at both the Universities of North Dakota and Minnesota the delegations from those two chapters will be forced to leave either Friday night or early Saturday morning for their respective schools.

On Saturday a banquet for all the new active, alumni and visiting members will be held at the Powers hotel. Carl Schultz, alumnus, will act as toastmaster. Guest speakers will include: Willard Benton, Kansas City, provincial chief of A. T. O.; E. L. Hickok, Dean of Men at the University of Missouri; Stewart M. Daniels, Champagne, Ill., executive secretary of A. T. O.; W. M. Nygard, Grand Forks, University of North Dakota representative, and Walter Shamp, active chapter head, and Arthur Schollander, representing the alumni.

From 8 to 10 p. m. on Sunday the Mothers club will hold an informal reception for the newly installed group at the chapter house. Mrs. J. C. Vincent is in general charge of arrangements. She has appointed Mesdames Theodore Euren, R. P. Tarbell, D. M. Wade, M. C. Maroney to assist her. Mesdames J. H. Shepperd and A. E. Minard will preside at the tables. Mrs. Minard is president of the Mothers club.

It is expected that the entire chapter of the University of North Dakota will be here. In addition, delegations are expected from the chapters at the Universities of Minnesota and South Dakota, Drake university and Simpson college at Ames, Iowa. These are the five closest chapters and are members of this province.

It is expected that over 25 alumni will be initiated in addition to the active chapter members. At the present time Alpha Kappa Phi has an active membership of 33. At the close of this last rushing season 24 men were pledged.

Walter Shamp is the Supreme Director of the active chapter, George Coffey is the acting Grand Judge, Carl Hanson, bursar, and David Minard, recorder.

scheduled for Dacotah field at 8:00. Immediately following the game a torch will set off the bonfire and another rally followed by a snake dance downtown will conclude the evening's demonstration.

All day Saturday a Bison barbecue, at which delicious steak and hamburger sandwiches will be served, will be held just outside the entrance to Dacotah field. Hungry students and Homecomers, commuting about the campus during that day, will have this means of satisfying the appetite.

The big parade will start from the college on 12th ave N at 10 a. m., with Captain J. B. Conny in charge of organizing the procession. Included in the parade will be floats, individual costumes, group costumes, cadets, Doc Putnam's Gold Star band, the Fargo American Legion drum and bugle corps, and city, college and state officials.

After the parade, Homecomers will repair to the college, eat a couple Bison sandwiches and talk football until the game time at 2 p. m.

At 6:30 p. m. Saturday, alumni and other Bison Boosters will gather in Ceres Hall for the annual "Night Club" banquet, featuring dancing, eating and entertainment. It is the "play time" of the day when grads and boosters gather to relax after the serious business of watching the Homecoming grid fracas. Homer Huntoon, noted for his success with the Bison Brevities, is giving his help to the event.

A dance in the new gymnasium, with Billy Euren's orchestra doing the syn-copating, will close the festivities. Students, alumni and Bison Boosters will be guests at this event which is sponsored by the Student Commission.

Vernon Lindquist spent the weekend at his home in Tower City.
