BIG, VARIED PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR 1931 STATE HOMECOMING

College Invites 4,000 Alumni and Former Students to Come To Campus Oct. 24

KNAPP DIRECTS PARADE

Wallum Announces Committee Chairmen To Handle Program Plans

In order to make North Dakota State college's 1931 Homecoming the most successful Homecoming in the history of the college, an extensive and varied program has been mapped out for the festivities which are expected to draw several thousand alumni and former students back to the college Oct. 24, says Everett J. Wallum, secretary of the college alumni association, directing the program.

With more than 4,000 alumni and former students invited to the celebration, committees appointed by Mr. Wallum are rapidly completing plans for the several phases of the Homecoming program, some of them traditional features and others new attractions.

Jack Knapp, graduate of the college and field drama director for the National Recreation association, has accepted the appointment of chairman of the parade committee. Mr. Knapp is doing graduate work under the direction of A. G. Arvold this term. Donald G. Hay will be Mr. Knapp's committee assistant.

The traditional Bison Barbecue, which will be in operation on the campus throughout the day, will be under the supervision of Don Lawrence, senior in the school of agriculture. His committee includes Dr. L. R. Waldron and Al Severson.

Prof. Homer B. Huntoon, head of the department of architecture, is chairman of the committee in charge of the alumni banquet. The event will again be in the nature of a night club affair. Mrs. R. H. Wilhan is managing banquet ticket sales.

Co-operation of business men of the city in decorating downtown Fargo as a Homecoming welcome to alumni and college friends has played an important part in former years in making Homecoming a success, says Mr. Wallum. Having urged downtown men to decorate their establishments as has been done in former years, Mr. Wallum has appointed T. Worden Johnson, instructor in journalism, chairman of the downtown window decorations committee.

Prizes will again be awarded for winning entries in the float and costume contests for the Homecoming parade, according to Mr. Wallum. With co-operation from Greek letter groups on the campus and several departments

FORMER PROFESSOR HERE HEADS NORMAL SCHOOL

A former assistant professor of agricultural education on this campus, Dr. Robert E. McConnell, is now president of Washington State Normal at Ellensburg, Washington, according to word received here by Prof. E. H. Jones, under whom Mr. McConnell worked while at this college.

A formal reception was given Dr. and Mrs. McConnell when he assumed his duties as president of the college this fall.

From 1923 to 1925, Mr. McConnell was a member of the faculty at North Dakota State. One year he was acting professor of education at South Dakota State college in Brookings. Later he received his Ph.D. degree at the University of Iowa. He accepted a position at Washington State Normal at Cheney and was in the capacity of professor of education for two years, resigning to accept his post at the school at Ellensburg.

ROYAL RUSSIAN CHORUS APPEARS TOMORROW

There will be a meeting of the Spectrum staff in the office at 4 p. m. Wednesday. It is important that all people holding editorial and reportorial positions be present.

Faculty Womans Club Will Give Reception

President Welcomes Faculty At Annual Gathering On Thursday

New faculty members will be welcomed Thursday night at the annual president's reception given by the Faculty Womans club in the old armory at 8:30.

In the receiving line to welcome the members of the faculty will be President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Whedon, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brentzel, and the thirteen new faculty members. Mrs. Whedon is the retiring president of the Faculty Womans club and Mrs. Brentzel will succeed her as president of the organization.

The reception will be informal with musical numbers on a program being arranged by Mrs. Olivia Tarbell. Autumn leaves and fall flowers will be used in the decorations according to Miss Eloise Waldron who is planning the decorations assisted by Miss Delphine Rosa and Mrs. George Yott.

Mrs. E. J. Tompson is general chairman and has appointed the following committees: Hospitality—Mesdames Fred Weeks, L. R. Waldron, E. A. Wilson and Misses Matilida Thompson and Frances Lamb; refreshments—Mesdame C. L. Swisher, W. R. Wenger, C. A. Williams, J. J. Tregoning, C. R. Waldron, J. H. Shepperd and Miss Whitman; invitations—Mesdames A. D. Weeks and T. W. Thordarson.

Lavina Hendrickson was awarded the Dorothy Lois Hatch scholarship award at the regular meeting of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority Monday night. The award is made each term to the sorority member with the greatest increase in scholastic achievement from the previous term.

Russian Chorus Will Sing Here Wednesday

Silver Collection Will Be Taken Because of Unusual Nature of Musical Program

The Royal Russian chorus under the direction of Princess Agnena Slaviansky will present the convocation program Wednesday morning at 9:40. Arrangements for the presentation were made by Dean Minard. Because of the unusual nature of the program a silver collection will be taken. The minimum fee will be ten cents.

In 1858 Princess Dmitry Alexandrovitch Agnena Slaviansky founded the chorus at the command of the czar. The prince, father of the present director, was born of Russian nobility. After a short military career at the beginning of the Crimean war he devoted his time to a musical career. Although he was successful as an opera singer in both France and Italy he left this work in order to better perpetuate the folk songs of the Slavik people.

When Prince Slaviansky founded the chorus it was composed of only eight members. In the 80's he brought the choir to America. About 12 programs were presented at this time. His daughter, the present director, was trained by her father to carry on his work and perpetuate the Royal Russian chorus. M. Tremboff is manager of the company.

TRYOUTS SCHEDULED FOR FUTURE PEP RALLY

Tryouts for a rooster king and cheer leaders will be held soon at a rally. A sweater will be given to the rooster king and jerseys to the two pep leaders. Those wishing to try out should leave their names at the Spectrum office according to the commissioner of athletics.

The dramatic section of the Charm School of the Y. W. C. A. will meet in the Y room at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday, October 13. Claire Newell is the new leader of this group which will study and present one-act plays as a term project.

Sigma Tau Delta will hold an important business meeting tonight in the Y at 8 o'clock. All members must be present as urgent business will be discussed.

Claire Newell.

Students Plan Novel Festival for Oct. 21

Imperial Welsh Singers Will Be Guests of Class At Supper In Lincoln Log Cabin

A folk museum with relics of early American domesticity, a model ballroom, a country library, a town hall with its town meeting, and harvest tableaux will be among the features of this year's harvest festival, "Harvest Haunts," sponsored each year by a class in festivals under the direction of A. G. Arvold. The affair is scheduled for Oct. 21 in the Little Country theater. Hours will be from 5 to 8 p. m.

A sundown supper in a typical small town boarding house setting will be served at 6:30 p. m., in the Lincoln Log cabin. Honor guests at the dinner will be the Imperial Welsh Singers who will present a college lyceum program the same night.

Co-operating with members of the class arranging the familiar haunts and characters of a typical small town harvest home will be other students in the public discussion department.

Several committee chairmen are working on plans for the evening's program. The group includes: Mary Healy, Sara O'Connor, Deborah Ekrem, Catherine Donahue, Muriel Carter and Marjory DePuy.

"Etiquette and Its Place in the College Girl's Life," was discussed by Dean Dinan before the etiquette group of the Y. W. C. A. which met Tuesday, Oct. 6 at 4:15 p. m. The meeting because it was the first for this year was given over to a discussion of general etiquette and of plans for future programs at which a definite division of etiquette will be studied. Amy Oscarson presided at the discussion.

DRAMATIC CLUB NAMES CAST FOR FALL TERM PLAY "AREN'T WE ALL"

A. G. Arvold, Alice Bender Will Direct Three Act Comedy To Be Given Nov. 10

PLAY HAS ALL STAR CAST

McKoane, Sowka, Minard, Barrett Are Selected For Major Roles in Presentation

Selection of the cast for the fall term production of the Edwin Booth dramatic club was announced late Thursday by Miss Alice Bender, who will have charge of the dramatic work. In general supervision will be A. G. Arvold. "Aren't We All," a three act comedy by Frederick Lonsdale, is the production selected by the club members for presentation in the Little Country Theater at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 10.

"Aren't We All" is a sophisticated comedy of English life. The play was one of the outstanding successes of Cyril Maude, great English actor.

Although the cast is really an all-star group, the production calls for four major characters. Willie Tatham, the husband, will be played by Malve McKoane, Fargo, who has had previous experience in Edwin Booth play production. Celeste Sowka, Lidgerwood, a new student here, will play the part of Margot Tatham, Willie's wife. Having played one of the main parts in "Little Women" last year, David Minard, Fargo, has been cast for the role of Lord Grenham, Tatham's father. Ruth Barrett, Fargo, who has had several major parts in previous productions, will act the role of Lady Frinton, a friend of the Tatham family.

The cast will also include: Lester Wyman, Westhope, as Vicar, husband of Lord Grenham's sister; Jean Pote, Fargo, as Angela, Vicar's wife and sister of Lord Grenham; Albert Buchli, Golden Valley, as Willocks, friend of Margot; Carol Cooper, Fargo, as Kitty Lake; Selden Catlin, Arthur, as Morton, Tatham's man; Clifford Bowman, Moorhead, as Roberts; Grant McCullough, Fargo, as Arthur Wells, and Frederick Martin, Fargo, as Martin Steele.

Besides these characters, the cast will include a group of guests: Dorothy Holes, Hunter; Corrine Lawrence, Elroy Johnson and Jane Nichols, Fargo. The opening scene of the play will be a room in Willie Tatham's house in Mayfair. Represented in the second scene is a room at Lord Grenham's home. The final act continues in the scene for the second act.

Practices will get underway at 4 p. m. today when the cast assembles in the Little Country Theater for a general organization meeting with Miss Bender and Mr. Arvold.

DOROTHY CHARD LEAVES TO STUDY IN NEW YORK

Dorothy Chard, former State college student, plans to leave for New York City about November 1 to study in Lexington School for the Deaf.

Miss Chard attended the State college for two years and is a resident of Fargo.

The Lexington school is one of the largest in the United States with students coming from all over the world to attend. It is located just off Times Square in New York City. The method of teaching employed is the lip-reading and the sound method. There are a limited number of students in the school and in each class so it is necessary for those wishing to enter to wait until someone leaves or is graduated. At present Miss Chard is attending classes conducted for the deaf in Fargo by a Minneapolis woman to observe this woman's method of instruction. The classes are to continue for at least two weeks.

After finishing the school Miss Chard plans to instruct students who are deaf.

Honor Groups

College students have climbed on the bandwagon to join every possible organization that can even unreasonably be thought of as within their scope. We are becoming a college of joiners.

Perhaps it's the mob spirit, but more probably it's a yen for a long list of activities in the yearbook that prompts us to join every honorary with or without Greek letters.

After we have paid out ten or more dollars we are duly initiated into the ranks of some organization (national or local) which meets on the average of once a month when it does nothing for approximately two hours.

Furthermore in this group are people with whom we have not one thing in common except this loosely joined group. Our common interest is that we are all eligible for membership.

It would be foolish to denounce all honorary organizations for a few of them give one real recognition. Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honoraries, are well known and represent something desirable and fine the world over. It is doubtful if there is any insignia which entitles a man to more or as much esteem as a Phi Beta Kappa key.

On receipt of an invitation to join an honorary this year, we might consider the honor from all angles before ending in the initiation fee. After all an activity in the yearbook is just another activity.

It seems time that some definite action was taken or officially announced concerning the old armory. At the present time as far as we can ascertain there is no name nor official purpose designated for this building.

Previously we have advocated a student union building where all students could gather during the day, for organization meetings and small parties. Obviously the floor is too small for an all-college. Even before the building was remodeled the floor space was too small for a large dance. The new building has a large floor and with the proper care could be kept in good condition and used for all the all-colleges.

The new stage in the old building is an improvement and makes the building more suitable for lyceum courses and programs of similar type. However, these programs are generally given only in the evening and the building is practically unused during the day. It is for this reason that we are advocating a student union building. In other schools the alumni association is given the entire charge of such a project. Some such plan would be feasible here.

If no more is done let us at least have an official name. Now we are calling the building "Community Hall," "Festival Hall," "Arvold Hall," "Old Armory," etc.

Another Tradition

We learned recently that the junior class at the University of North Dakota will not publish their annual this year for financial reasons. The University of South Dakota are faced with the same problem.

In view of the peculiar situation at North Dakota, the action of the class is to be commended. However, we feel that it is deplorable that such a necessity should arise.

Almost daily it seems some traditions are broken. Perhaps that is progress, but traditions lend charm and color to and otherwise dull and unexplored background. A college yearbook is a college tradition—a bit more tangible than most of them.

Thanks to the far-seeing efforts of some individuals such a situation does not exist on this campus because the yearbook is financed by a portion of the activity fee rather than by student subscription. At the end of the year every State student will carry home with him a complete record of the year's activities thus carrying on at least one tradition.

Student Opinion

"May I have this struggle with you?"
 "O. K., Pal. Which corner shall we dance in?"

If you attended the Hog Scrapers Ball Saturday night in the armory you have been talking to yourself ever since. I speak from personal experience.

With a little wax, the removal of the stag line which glorifies every college mixer, and an extension of several yards on every side of the dancing floor, the armory wouldn't be a bad place for a party. Seriously speaking, I was worn out when the dance ended. People took to sliding down my legs, beginning at the knee and coasting the rest of the way. That really was too much for me. Using some wax on the floor and removing the stag line could do quite a lot to improve conditions.

The student commission—the YMCA, and the YWCA, ought to get together on the proposition and do something about it for the sake of humanity—if they can't think of any other reason for the agitation.

I presume that after the Homecoming game our guests will be invited to the armory to ruin silk stockings and wear out their shoes. Personally, I think a nice frolic on the campus green would be more satisfactory. Sometimes I wonder what we're going to use the new armory for and then again I wonder what we're going to use the new armory for.

Well, I guess I've slung enough dirt in your eye for one issue. One warning I give you—if something isn't done about the armory p. d. q I'm going to crash into print again. And next time I'll be twice as vile.

Hoping to see you at the next frolic on our campus green, I am
 Yours,
 E. P.

YWCA Will Open Annual Membership Week On Oct. 18

Eleanor Johnson Heads Committee In Charge of Activities During Period

The membership drive of the college Y. W. C. A. will be opened October 18 and will continue through the week. Miss Eleanor Johnson, membership chairman of the "Y" cabinet, will head the group in charge of the week's activities. In order to explain the work of the Y. W. C. A. to prospective members, the membership committee will sponsor personal solicitation. Working under Miss Johnson's supervision will be several membership representatives from each sorority on the campus, Ceres Hall club and the college Cosmopolitan club. Inaugurating a new policy for membership fees, the Y. W. C. A. will require no fixed fee of girls desiring to join. Each member will pledge whatever amount she desires to give as her membership fee.

A mass meeting of all membership workers will be called sometime this week preparatory to the opening of the drive. A tea will be given October 19 to mark the opening of membership week. All women on the campus will be guests from 3 to 5 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Eleanor Johnson and Jane Canniff will be in charge.

Dorothy Rutherford has been appointed chairman of the room committee for the Y. W. C. A. Assisting her will be Lillian Stotlar and Marion Van Vorst.

What Price Glory

"Button, Button."
 "Do you know that game, too?"
 "I say, Button, Frosh?"
 "You're telling me?"
 "Now watch it buddy, or I'll lay one on your lamp."
 "Tough guy, huh?"
 "I'll take you and beat ya till you won't be fit for medical research at the N. D. U."

"Nuts! Trying to keep me down is like trying to get Vesuvius to call off an eruption."
 The Sophomore at this point gives the Freshman a deep blue right optic and the frosh encounters with a brick at the base of said upper classman's skull. Both contestants are groggy. Hostilities come to a conclusion when each connects his toe with the other's stomach pit. After regaining consciousness, they greet each other as pals. Such is the fine spirit of sportsmanship which is an outgrowth of the Big Brother movement, or something or other, at North Dakota State.

New Yell

Yell Leader: Are we gonna beat the U?
 Bison Belrovers: Can a duck swim?

And we'll just bet that several of those St. Thomas men who tackled Ellingson would rather have ridden a buzz saw at a dollar a day.

Saturday night at the "Y" mixer would have made the Cotter's Saturday Night look like 2 cents. With the Collegians going hot, the old "demoralized lumber pile" isn't so bad—i. e. it isn't so bad as the cow barns would be—and when the boys expressly pointed out in ballad form that "It's not for knowledge that we come to college, but to raise etc., it got a rise out of the chaperones—they rose up to see what the hell was going on, down on our heretofore unsoiled platform—the recipe for a mixer seems to be, one part of N. D. State students, two parts of Fargo High, then add a pinch of Moorhead—then jostle well!—someone always gets the wrong impression that a mixer's a wet party—now of course most of those in attendance were so dry they have to prime their lips to spit don't you hate that word?) in fact, most of them would swoon if they got a drop of water on them—And we tried to pull that old mustache gag at the dance, telling a freshman that he had a football beard—the louse didn't ask why though, but said, "Ya, eleven on both sides, I suppose."

And now Mrs. Gooden will have to create a special employment bureau for the men who lost money on the Athletics.

Frosh vs. Sophs

Ladies and gentlemen, the big fight is on! By this we refer to that annual struggle, frosh vs. sophs. When the sophomores came to school last Friday morning, they were rudely shocked upon seeing signs of frosh endeavor upon the Old Armory roof and upon the campus sidewalks. Then and there, they came to the realization that things the last two weeks had not all been as they should have been. They recalled that green caps had been few and far between, and also that no wood had as yet been deposited at the south gate. All Friday forenoon, an observing person would have noticed darkly-conversing groups of sophomores, past which freshmen suttled like frightened rabbits. Evidently, the discussions of these groups bore fruit, for at noon came a retaliation on the part of the sophs, when several freshmen were put to work at scrubbing the sidewalk in front of Old Main. The sophs have now inferred that during the next two weeks they expect to see green caps aplenty, as well as a fast-growing pile of wood at the proper location. They have also inferred that one of the reasons for this increased frosh activity will be a generous application of the paddle upon all duty-shirking first-year men. And so, Freshman, beware! You'll be the one to fall by the wayside! For it appears that the sophomores mean business!

Engineers Entertain Freshmen at Meeting

Illustrated Lecture Given By W. E. Smith of the School of Mechanic Arts

Approximately one hundred freshmen guests and members attended the first meeting of the engineers club held last Thursday evening in room 22 of the engineering building.

The principal feature on the program was an illustrated lecture, "Some Impressions of Constantinople," by Prof. W. E. Smith. Other speakers and the departments they represented were: Rae Taylor, the State College Engineer; Leonard Lyngstad, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Fred Payne, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; Mr. Hartwell, the English department; Mr. Higdon, mathematics; and Dean R. M. Dolve, the school of mechanic arts.

Bill Watson and Oscar Ringdahl gave a clarinet duet.

Following the program a short business session was held during which the matter of a homecoming float was discussed. Burton Pinkham was appointed to manage the project. Ralph Simonsen, president of the club, was in charge of arrangements assisted by Mr. Payne, vice president and program chairman.

After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served. Alvin Schroeder acting as chairman of the refreshment committee.

Committee Says Parties Will Be Given In Winter and Spring Quarters

This year's first all-college dancing party given by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. demonstrated the need for a larger floor for similar future all-college entertainments. Perhaps the largest attendance for an affair of this kind at North Dakota State danced to Billy Euren's Collegians last Saturday night.

Chaperones were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, Dean and Mrs. I. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Teet, and Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Bayliss.

Donald McKechnie and Marguerite Jennings who were in charge report that because of the success of this initial party similar ones will be given in the winter and spring terms.

Pi Gamma Mu will meet at 4 p. m. Thursday in the Faculty Alumni club rooms. All members are asked to be present.

NORTH DAKOTA BISON DOWN SAINT THOMAS BY COUNT OF 27-6

Schoenfelder, Jacobson, Gray, Bunt and McKay Play Stellar Positions

LONSBROUGH SCORES FIRST

Meyers and Fairhead Ready For Action After Recovering From Injuries

BY JACK GROHNKE.

After being held to one touchdown in the first half, the North Dakota State college Bison exhibited a reversal of form and downed the fighting Irish football team from St. Thomas college by a 27-6 score.

The game started slow with neither team gaining an advantage and the first quarter ended without a score for either team.

Lonsbrough Counts First.

Early in the second quarter the Bison started a determined attack. Viv McKay came within one inch of a first down on his first play and in successive attacks the Yellow and Green team brought the ball to the St. Thomas ten yard line. The Tommies held for three plays and only allowed 5 yards. On the fourth down Captain Cy Lonsbrough circled their left end for the first counter of the contest. Walter Schoenfelder, giant tackle, booted a place kick between the bars to make the score 7-0.

Late in the second quarter St. Thomas started a determined aerial attack which brought them to the Bison 45 yard line. They attempted another long pass and Bill Gray, Bison center, intercepted it and ran it back to the St. Thomas 40 yard line before he was brought down by an opposing tackler. The half ended before another play could be started.

The second half started with Schoenfelder kicking off over the goal line. The ball went over to St. Thomas on their twenty yard line and they kicked to the Bison 48 yard line on the first play. Paul Bunt gained 7 yards on the first play and St. Thomas was penalized 5 yards for holding on the next play to make a first down. State attempted a pass and it was snared by Rice who was downed immediately. On the next play Cy Lonsbrough broke away on a reverse play for 26 yards to advance the ball to the St. Thomas 29 yard line. From here Lonsbrough and McKay took turns in advancing the ball until McKay carried it over on an off tackle play. Schoenfelder missed the kick from placement when a quick kick was necessary as the result of a poor pass from center.

St. Thomas again resorted to their pass attack and McGee threw a well aimed pass into the waiting arms of Wee Walsh who ran 50 yards for the first Tommie score. Walsh missed the kick from placement for the extra point.

Jacobson then punted to Delmont and on the first Tommie play Jacobson intercepted the pass as the third quarter ended. The score stood at 13-6 for the Bison.

Shortly after the last quarter started Lonsbrough punted to the St. Thomas 6 yard line. From here Walsh attempted a pass and Paul Bunt intercepted it and he was downed on the 18 yard line. Lonsbrough, behind perfect interference attempted an end run to the left to bring the ball to the three yard line. On the third down Viv McKay counted his second touchdown on an off tackle play, and Schoenfelder made the extra point from placement.

The last touchdown came as the result of a pass from Bunt to McKay. This combination which has been functioning to perfection all season did not get clicking until the last quarter to score the last touchdown and bring the score to 27-6. Schoenfelder again made his kick good.

Walsh, speedy halfback for the Tommies, was the spark plug for the opponents.

Walter Schoenfelder proved to be the most effective man on the Bison line. He also scored three placekicks out of four for extra points, and brought his total to six successes out of seven attempts. Jacobson, Bison end, showed up well and one of his punts travelled 55 yards in the air. Bill Gray played an outstanding game at center and on one play dropped back and intercepted a St. Thomas pass.

In the backfield Captain Cy Lonsbrough, Paul Bunt, and Viv McKay played stellar roles. All three of these played passed, ran, and smashed in a capable manner.

Between Halves

By EVERETT WALLUM

We hate to brag but we point with pride to our guess on the Bison-St. Thomas score. In the Spectrum a week ago we said 26 to 7. The final count was 27 to 6. But we aren't saying anything about our guess on the Nodak-Coyote annihilation.

The submerging of the South Dakota gunboat by a vicious pack of Nodak destroyers is additional proof that Jack West's cohorts will be harder to beat than ever. We hardly expected such a complete rout, however. South Dakota is one of those universities that go great guns in basketball and flops in football. At least that's the impression received during the past several years.

DOC CLARENCE SPEARS HAD BEST FIGURE USING HIS BEST ELEVEN MEN WHEN HE MEETS THE FLICKERTAILS OCTOBER 24. WE THINK OREGON WILL WIN BUT IT WON'T BE BY MUCH.

While Coyote grid stock has hit the skids, South Dakota State has a rating much above that of last year, showing most improvement in the conference. Last year Morningside managed to defeat Kasper's gridders but the Jack-rabbit mentor turned the tables decisively last weekend by a 20 to 0 score.

Nothing would suit Kasper better than to spoil another Bison Homecoming October 24. In the first Bison Homecoming, back in 1921, the Bunnies, then coached by Jack West, handed the local boys a terrific walloping. Since then, although there have been two ties, The South Dakotans have never been defeated on Dacotah field. There'll be many smiles in the alumni stands if we overcome this jinx.

Again casting caution to the winds we predict a 21 to 6 score, Bison's favor, in the Morningside game Friday night.

Have you noticed how the Kansas Aggies are going? They are now favorites in the Big Six conference as a result of their 20 to 7 victory over Missouri last Saturday. We wonder how they'll treat us when we play them at Manhattan, November 21.

ST. THOMAS WILL GO FAR IN THE MINNESOTA CONFERENCE. THEY HAVE ONE OF THE SWEETEST PASSING ATTACKS WE HAVE EVER SEEN. IF THEY HAD A LINE THAT WOULD PERMIT THEIR BACKS TO GET AWAY THEY'D BE TOUGH FOR ANY TEAM.

Reports from Morningside indicate the big Maroon team has had a little trouble getting started. Coach Saunderson believes his huskies will hit their stride this weekend against the Bison and, if they do, students and downtown fans will witness a battle of forward walls. Morningside had one of the best line prospects in the conference at the beginning of the season.

Coach Casey Finnegan will be host to a large number of high school football teams at the Morningside game. This is a tip for students to uphold Bison reputation for courtesy by showing the youngsters around.

While the Bison battle Morningside in their conference opener the Baby Bison will clash with the Nodak yearlings at Grand Forks on the same night. The yearling game will be close and hard fought and we believe the frosh will be much tougher than they were last year.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet in the "Y" building at 4 p. m. today kept out of rough scrimmages for the past two weeks from a broken bone in the hand, is again ready for play. He will get a large assignment of work for the week in order that he will be in condition for future games. George Fairhead, flashing halfback, who has been laid up with a sprained ankle is also ready for duty. Walter Shamp, 235 pound tackle, did not get into action Friday night. Shamp is recovering from a shoulder injury which he received in practice.
Paul Deal, secretary

Evening Class Work Is In Session This Week Says Thordarson

Extension Course Department Is Completing Arrangements For Other Classes

With many classes already organized and others in the process of organization, evening classes offered by the North Dakota State college this term will be in session at appointed times this week, says T. W. Thordarson, secretary in charge of the extension course department.

Courses which are being organized but which have not been definitely scheduled as yet include: Spanish, French, and money and banking. A review class in stenography for speed and civil service examination will be organized this week.

The present schedule includes: Accounting, 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Y. M. C. A., E. W. Pettee, instructor. Bacteriology, 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the agricultural building at A. C., Dr. C. I. Hay Names Team To Oppose Turkish Debaters Nov. 3

Maloney, McKechnie Will Uphold Negative Side of Question For State College

Selection of North Dakota State college's debate team to meet the debaters from Robert college, Constantinople, Turkey, when they appear here in the Little Country theater, was announced Monday by Donald G. Hay, debate coach.

Clifford Maloney, Fargo, and Donald McKechnie, Cavalier, will represent State college, upholding the negative side of the question, "Resolved: that compulsory unemployment insurance should be adopted by the sovereign state as public protection against the vicissitude of the machine age." Maloney is a junior and has had three years of debate experience while McKechnie is a senior student with three years of debate experience.

Galib Rifat and Suha Zeki are the Turkish debaters.

Mr. Rifat was born in 1910 in Istanbul. When he was three years old he attended a Turkish primary school and later the Kindergarten of the German school in Istanbul. At the "Gymnasium" he completed four out of the ten years necessary for a premedical degree. With the occupation of Istanbul by the Allies, Mr. Rifat was transferred to the English high school for boys, where he took the degree of Junior of the College of Preceptors.

When he was fourteen years old he entered Robert college in Istanbul. Here he studied both science and engineering. In his junior year he was elected president of the class organization and became the secretary of the student council. He was active in debating and dramatics and played on his class and college football teams. During his senior year he made a successful fight against the growing Nationalist party on the campus; he also led and quelled various student revolts.

In the summer of 1929 he worked in Ankara with an English road building concern. His last year at college the faculty gave him leave from his studies to make an oil survey. During the winter of 1930-31 he has been attending the University of Illinois where he has made a straight A record at the Engineering Experiment station.

Mr. Zeki was born at Istanbul in 1906. He attended Turkish and German primary schools and obtained his high school degree at the College Jeanne D'Arc. He entered Robert college in 1923 where he spent two years in the preparatory school learning the English language. In 1925 he registered as a freshman.

He served as president, secretary and treasurer of different campus organizations. He was active in debating, dramatics and speaking. In 1928-29, his senior year, he was elected president of the Turkish society and introduced debating for the first time as a regular activity to the society. When the government changed the Turkish language and began to use the Latin characters, Mr. Zeki appointed a student staff to conduct evening classes for Turkish citizens from twenty to sixty years of age.

In 1929 he entered New York university on a scholarship, recommended by the president of Robert college. He took post graduate work in the Graduate School of Business Administration. He will get his M.A. in June, 1931, specializing in marketing and advertising.

4-H Club Delegates Attend Dairy Show

Two North Dakota 4H club dairy enthusiasts are attend the national dairy show at St. Louis this week as a result of awards made by two commercial organizations, H. E. Rilling, state 4H leader at the Agricultural college, made known today.

The award winners are Selma Repp, Driscoll, Burleigh county, and James Earl, Grand Forks. Miss Repp owes her trip to the outstanding essay she wrote on modern methods of handling and marketing dairy products, and young Earl got his trip as a reward for the thorough manner in which he kept feed and milk production records on his cows. Both left North Dakota for the exposition last Saturday.

In the essay contest, competed in by Miss Repp, 10 other North Dakota boys and girls received prizes. The prize winners include Anna Belle Carl, Grand Forks; Doris Earl, Grand Forks; LaVerne Klusmann, Youngstown, Morton county; James Earl, Grand Forks; Erwin Klusmann, Youngstown; Joseph Saumur, Grand Forks; Milton Sauer, Washburn, McLean county; Ruvia Brown and George Brown, Manvel, Grand Forks county, and Augusta Solberg, Driscoll, Burleigh county.

Judges of the essays were J. R. Dice, E. J. Haslerud and Chris Jensen, all members of the dairy department of the Agricultural college. The prizes were given by the North Dakota Dairyman's association and the dairy and ice cream machinery supplies association, New York.

James Earl, winner of the second dairy show trip, is a member of the Johnny Mac dairy calf club of Grand Forks. During the past year he kept a detailed record of the feed and milk production of his two Holstein cows. He has been in club work six years and owns five head of dairy cattle. By means of this contest emphasis was placed on the importance of better feeding. The donor of the award was the educational committee of the national linseed meal association. In awarding the trip, however, no consideration was given to whether linseed meal was fed. James is a brother of Doris Earl, president of the North Dakota 4H club achievement institute organization.

Fuller Becomes New Acting Head In Farm Management Work

Rex Willard Goes To Washington State College As Farm Economics Head

O. M. Fuller, agricultural economist at North Dakota State college for the past eight years and close associate of Rex E. Willard, has been appointed acting head of farm management work by President J. H. Shepperd, it was announced today. Mr. Willard, who recently resigned to become head of farm economics at the State college of Pullman, Washington, left Fargo late last week for his new location. Mr. Fuller has already taken over the duties of the farm management department.

During the past year Mr. Fuller has become well known to thousands of farm radio listeners of the state as "Old Man Fuller", broadcaster of market information from the Agricultural College. F. H. Turner, for the past year assistant farm economist, has been transferred to the market position vacated by Mr. Fuller.

Mr. Fuller is a graduate of North Dakota Agricultural college, having secured his bachelor's degree in 1923 and his master of science degree the following year. He taught agricultural economics at the college until 1926 when he was transferred to the farm management department. He has been connected with the farm management since that time with the exception of his past year's market information work.

Mr. Willard will take active charge of the work at the Washington institution Oct. 15.

Allan Dodson, Glenwood, Minnesota, came to Fargo Friday for the football game between North Dakota State and St. Thomas. Mr. Dodson is a former student and was a Delta Kappa Sigma pledge. He returned to Glenwood Saturday where he edits the Glenwood Herald.

BIG, VARIED PROGRAM FOR 1931 HOMECOMING FESTIVAL

in the college, it is expected that the float and costume entries will exceed those of former years.

The traditional Homecoming rally at 6:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 23, will mark the formal opening of 1931 Homecoming. Everett Wallum will be in charge assisted by Dr. C. S. Putman and his Gold Star band and rooster kings. Baby Bison will meet University of North Dakota freshmen in a football game on Dacotah field at 8 p. m. the same night. The Homecoming bonfire and the snake dance through downtown Fargo will follow the game.

Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the parade will get under way. Besides floats and group and individual costumes the parade will include the college band, the R. O. T. C. unit, and a representation of state, city and college officials. Gov. George F. Shafer has been invited to participate in the parade. Whether South Dakota State college will have its band here for Homecoming activities has not been definitely learned.

The main feature of the day will be the football game, Bison vs. South Dakota. Alumni will have their annual banquet at 6:30 p. m. Bringing the day's kota State, on Dacotah field at 1:30 p. activities to a close, will be the customary alumni-student dance.

Alpha Omicron of Gamma Phi Beta announces the formal pledging of Olive Ringen, Kenmare, and Evelyn Davis, Detroit Lakes, at services held at the chapter house last night.

The Gamma Phi house was closed for the week-end. Dorothy Holes went to her home in Hunter, Lorraine Brakke, Helen Frederickson, and Frances Loomis were in Davenport, and Ruth Henderson was at her home in Jamestown.
