PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING ON STATE'S CAMPUS IS OPENED

Structure Ranks Among Largest Gynasiums in Northwest Colleges, Universities

DEDICATION TO BE DEC. 5

With the completion of the new physical education building on this campus, North Dakota State college has a pus, North Dakota State college has a gymnasium which ranks among the foremost on college and university campuses in the Northwest, according to the concensus of opinion. Among physical education buildings, the University of Minnesota field house is probably the only building in the northwest which is larger than State's building, says C. C. Finnegan, director of athletics. of athletics.

Formal dedication of the building will take place Dec. 5, the date sche-duled for the basketball game with the University of Minnesota.

Being approximately 284 feet long and 122 feet wide, the gymnasium is a two-story building completely fire-proof throughout. The construction is of Shale-tex rainbow brick trimmed with Bedford stone.

The main auditorium, 159 by 108 feet The main auditorium, 159 by 108 feet, includes three regulation basketball courts. Seating arrangements will accommodate 3,600 spectators who will have a clear view of the main basketball court as well as the stage at the north end of the building. The stage is 78 by 44 fet and has a front decorated in the college colors, wellow, and ed in the college colors, yellow and green. At either side of the stage are dressing rooms and property rooms. Complete lighting equipment has been provided for stage presentations.

Leading off from the main lobby at the south end on the main floor of the the south end on the main noor of the building are offices of the athletic staff members, property rooms, shower rooms for visiting officials, a room for (Continued on Page Four)

Jack Aiken, student at North Dakota State, left last Sunday for Valley City, the first lap of his drive to Seattle, preparatory to an oriental cruise similar to the one followed by Bill Euren and his orchestra four years ago. With him were, Ole Severson and Dalla Rudrud both of Fargo; Arthur Pray and Harold Nelson, Valley City.

Audrey Houglum

Above is shown Miss Audrey Houglum, co-ed at the State College who is now in Detroit, Michigan, where she is appearing with the North Dakota Department American Legion band. The young lady according to associated press dispatches from Detroit has made a decided hit with her band. She appeared at Dakotah Field with the organization at the opening game with Concordia Friday night, Sept. 18th, prior to leaving for Detroit. The band this Miss Houglum is appearing with is the famous North Dakota American Legion band, the band which General Pershing declared was the "liveli-est Band in the World," a most unusual musical organization in view of the fact that its thirty-one musicians are from thirty-one different towns in North Dakota and that it was originally the first North Dakota National Guard band, serving on the Mexican border and later becoming the 164 U.S. Infantry band serving 18 months overseas in France. FROSH OPTIMISTIC

There's no depression in love, they say—but, did you know—there's no depression in North Dakota State Freshman spirit. In fact, we have a surplus. Witness the Christmas spirit manifest over at the college Y. M. C. A. building!! Freshmen have volunteered to aid in the "door-opening" jobs there gratis.

Over at the publications office, Mr.

T. W. Johnson finds many howling for a chance to work on the Spec-trum. Get up and bar the door, you perhaps suggest; but no, we like the old fighting spirit. The alumni won't know the old school after these big-hearted freshmen have put their shoulders to the wheel for about four years.

Maybe they're too ambitious, but

Caesar was ambitious, and you know the rest. After all, we'll give these yearlings a big, glad hand, because Moses probably meant col-lege students too when he said, "Six days shalt thou labor and on the seventh"—well, on the seventh, we'll probably go over to the house and meet the fellows.

AN EPOCHAL YEAR

The Spectrum comes into your hands today with a message of welcome for the faculty, the new, and the old stu-

We feel after a week of observation that North Dakota State is fortunate this year in having one of the most personable of freshman classes. They are to be complimented on their intelligent attitude and on the splendid spirit with which they have entered into the activities of the orientation program.

With this group of new students, a new physical education building added to our facilities, a football team that promises to make history, and additional factors too numerous to mention, we believe that this will be an epochal year for the college.

THE BIG SISTER MOVEMENT

After a week of adjustment the new women on the campus are singing peans of praise for the woman who first originated the Big Sister movement for college women.

This year being more perfected it has been more successful than ever before. A cursory glance at some of the letters received by the Big Sisters is proof enough that it has been a sig-

We feel that the Y. W. C. A. is to be congratulated and that they should feel gratified with the success their careful efforts have achieved.

STUDENT UNION

Gracing our campus as we return to college this fall is the new physical education building. At last the inadequate facilities offered by the old Armory can be turned to a better use.

When the new building was first pro posed the suggestion was made that the Armory be converted into a Stu-dent Union building. The campus needs a building where students can mingle any hour during the day. The building proper might be converted into a lounge. Perhaps adjoining small rooms could be used for organization meetings. A small tea room at so central a place would be feasible.

These are merely initial suggestions. Perhaps other students could offer

Student Opinion

School has reopened, and with it has come all the bad things including all the writers of these little alleged opinions. No school year can come without giving the students a brand new gripe to make the place seem just a little home like.

The men's dorm seems to carry the limelight at the present time, and what a gripe it has turned out to be. Of course the faculty is justified in forcing students to stay there. Why, the college may own the darn thing in another two hundred years. No one seems to think that it might be more convenient for a student to stay at the home of a friend or relative, and that is justice. If the parents of boys who matriculate this fall raised enough wheat to send their hopefulls to col-wheat to send their hopefulls to college, surely there were enough bushels to keep them in the dorm.

During the last years, the college has FAVORED the fraternity idea. What is college without them? The writer, however, thinks that the college is using the most effective way of ridding itself of the Greek menace. By forcing the students into the dorm they are forcing them out of the fraternity are forcing them out of the fraternity houses. Of course no fraternity can keep going without Frosh pledges to stay at the house. To come outright with a refusal to let the Greeks continue would cause a riot, and so the college is going to rid itself of the vermine by removing its income. Fra-ternities are no good anyway, take it from one who belongs to one. They are only about three fourths of ones education.

It might not be significant, but at the U they have a parody on our team song that goes like this: Come To Our Sunday School.

I hope YOU are staying in an approved room.

It would take a mighty hardened athlete not to feel the warmth of a student reception. And it's all the nicer for the athlete if the team loses. Here's a chance for some student to take the leadership in organizing a reception.

Dean Mendenhall, a graduate of 1914, visited the alumni office the other day. Mr. Mendenhall, of course, thinks the class of '14 is the best collection of students that ever bounced itself through four years of college life. And through four years of college life. And he can tell you why, but we won't go into that. We are interested, however, in his views on football in those days. There was always a lot of spirit on the part of students and faculty. Each member of the team was treated royally, and a grid hero could have a deed to the compute one time. to the campus any time. For several days after the battle students would light their bulldog pipes while uttering patriotic statements about the team, while the loyal co-eds would talk in hushed tones about some star or other who had nodded at her.

OF COURSE WE ALL LAUGH AT THIS TODAY. TIMES HAVE CHANG-ED, BUT WE, FOR ONE, WOULD LIKE TO SEE SOME OF THIS SAME SINCERE LOYALTY AGAIN. THE BISON SPIRIT WAS ONCE NOTORI-OUS FOR ITS INTENSITY. LATELY IT HAS BEEN ON THE WANE, DUE, NO DOUBT, TO INCREASE IN EN-ROLLMENT. BUT THE TEAM IS STILL THE BISON, AND YOU ARE STILL BISON STUDENTS. HOW ABOUT GETTING JUST A LITTLE

Hundreds from Fargo are going to Minneapolis for the game. If any of the students find it possible to attend the Bison's 1931 debut against Big Ten opposition, they can fall in friendly hands by asking for tickets in the Bison section. son section.

If you have time some afternoon, drop over to the new athletic field just north of the recently constructed gym and take a look at some of the freshmen out to win football fame in a big way. They need all the encouragement you can give them because it's on their shoulders that Bison hopes will rest in future years.

This is our first, and last, column of advice. We just thought we'd hazard a few words on Bison spirit, because it has alway seemed to us that the student's career is more colorful, more rich in memories, if he enters wholeheartedly into backing the team—no matter what team. From now on we'll give you football dope; grid personalities, while following Bison progress as best we can.
