Committee Urges Senior Exemption In No-Cut Ruling

Proposition Before Council Would Affect Next Upper Class

Satisfactory Grades, Absence From Probation, Used In Choice

Certain North Dakota State college seniors will be given exemptions from the existing no-cut system if the recommendation of the attendance committee meets with the approval and acceptance of the college council, it was announced late yesterday by Alfred H. Parrott, registrar.

If the council accepts the recommendation it will be placed in effect next fall. It is possible if the plan should prove satisfactory that a similar relief for juniors will be given them next year.

The recommendation in part reads as follows: "That members of the senior class who have maintained an average of 85 in the preceding term and were at no time on probation because of absence shall during the current term be relieved of the necessity of accounting for their absences and shall not incur the 2 percent reduction in the final grade because of absence."

The existing no-cut system was installed two years ago because a majority of the faculty felt that there was a constantly increasing feeling of carelessness within the student body in the matter of attending classes. This conviction resulted in the present system which was planned to penalize the careless student and to compel him to change his ways if he expected to advance in his academic career.

Three College Ball Clubs Win In Games

Intra-Mural Baseball Draws Towards Climax Of Trophy Race

Three intra-mural baseball games were completed this week, drawing nearer and nearer to the finals which will decide the holder of the silver trophy.

As a result of the 11 to 2 victory over the Sigma Taus Monday, the YMCA baseball team looms as the dark horse of the tournament. The Y team proved to have a number of heavy hitters who proceeded to knock Wollan, the first Tau pitcher, out of the box in two innings. Jacobsen was then substituted and proved more effective, but could not keep the sluggers from running up a huge score. Whiting and Dvorak were the battery for the Y team.

The Sigma Phi Deltas upset the dope Tuesday by beating the pre-tourney favorites, Delta Kappa Sigmas, 4 to 2. Goodwin, the Sigs' regular pitcher, was out of the game with a sore arm and Schoenfelder was not able to hold the Engineers on even terms. Earl Schoessow and Hjalmer Johnson composed the battery for the victors. For the losers Kvenmoen caught in fine style.

In the other game played Tuesday, the Theta Chis' came thru as expected defeating the Kappa Psis 9 to 4. All went well with the pharmacists until their star pitcher, Daly had to leave and Winch, the catcher, tried his hand at twirling. The Theta Chi team soon solved his offerings and battered out enough hits to total nine runs. Pharmacist Lefor served behind the bat while Winch pitched. The winning battery was Sorenson and Dorfler.

The new catalog for 1931-1932 is now ready and may be secured from the registrar's office, according to A. H. Parrott. This year the catalog is bound in gray covers and includes information pertaining to all schools of the college.

Named the most representative senior students at North Dakota State college, eight seniors were represented in a special section in the 1932 Bison issued on the campus Wednesday. The graduating students were selected for the honor by a faculty committee. Full page pictures of the students on stippled stock appear in the section. Horace McGrath, Fargo; Henry Presler, Fargo; Katherine Knerr, Fargo; Amos Van Vorst, Fargo; Emily Samuelson, Underwood; Ethel Renwick, Fargo; Virgil Weiser, Hazelton; and Glen Schoessow, Embden, were given outstanding recognition by the faculty committee.

Fargo Lodge Offers Scholarship Prize For College Seniors

Mathematics And Astronomy Are Judges' Basis For Choice

A senior scholarship in mathematics and astronomy will be offered for the first time next year by the Eastgate Masonic Lodge A. F. and A. M. The scholarship valued at $100 is to be perpetual and will be available to any senior student, either man or woman.

To be eligible for the scholarship the student must have completed at least 24 credit hours in mathematics or astronomy or in a combination of both. The selection will be based on several considerations, as character and promise of success in the future in his chosen profession, excellent scholarship, need of financial aid for finishing college, however any remunerative position the student may have on the campus would disqualify him for the scholarship.

Recommendations for the scholarship are to be made by the Worshipful Master of East Gate lodge, the professor of mathematics, and the professor of astronomy at the college.

Mathematics and astronomy are two of the liberal arts of Masonry and it is for their support and encouragement that this scholarship is offered. The stipend will be paid to the student in three installments beginning the fall term of his senior year. Selection of the junior to receive the scholarship will not be announced until after the final term grades are recorded.

Four Men Represent State In Net Match

As a result of a campus "round robin" tournament, the four men were picked to represent the college at the annual conference tennis tournament, which is being held at Brookings, S. D., Friday and Saturday, May 29 and 30. They are: Dixon, No. 1; Horton, 2; Faber, 3; and Wardeman, 4. Dixon and Horton were chosen as the No. 1 doubles team and Faber and Wurdeman the No. 2 team.

Although beaten by the UND in a previous match this year the Bison netmen are expected to show well in the conference tourney, Dixon and Horton being accorded an especially good change to go far in the singles. About twenty representatives from UND, Morningside, SDU, and NDS are expected to compete.

ALAN MEINECKE, PHIL KEENE SAIL FOR EUROPE

Sailing today for an extensive tour of Europe covering a period of four or five months are Phil Keene and Allan Meinecke, both graduates of North Dakota State.

Countries visited will include Germany, Austria, England, Switzerland, and Italy, studying various types of architecture. From Italy they will go to Paris where they will headquarter for some time and attend L'Ecole des Beaux Arts.

For the last year both have been studying at the Boston Institute of Technology where they received master degrees.

Three Greek Groups Hold Spring Formals

Annual Formal Parties Held By Sigs, Phi Deltas, And Gamma Phis

Attention this weekend is centered on three annual spring formals given by two fraternities and one sorority. Delta Kappa Sigma, Sigma Phi Delta, and Gamma Phi Beta will entertain their friends.

On Friday night Epsilon chapter of Sigma Phi Delta will entertain at the Island Park Recreation building. In charge of arrangements is Frank Carlson. Chaperons will be: Captain and Mrs. Frank Ross, Prof. and Mrs. George Yott, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Tarbell.

Alpha Omicron chapter of Gamma Phi Beta will also entertain Friday night at a dinner dance at the Fargo Country club. Decorations featuring the pink carnation, the sorority flower, and mode and brown, the sorority colors, will be used in carrying out a May garden scene.

Among the guests of honor will be President and Mrs. J. H. Shepperd, Mrs. E. Power, Dean Alice Pearl Dinan, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, and two representatives from Alpha Beta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta at the University of North Dakota. Grand Forks. Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth Kuhn and Miss Nancy Elliott will chaperone.

In direct charge of plans for the dinner dance are Miss Mary Powers, social chairman, and Miss Walterine Barry, chairman of the committee on general arrangements.

Committees include: decorations, Helen Jensen, Eva Eklund, Dorothy Olson, Katherine Lindley, Lois Minard and Grace Hunkins; features, Marjean Crites and Georgina Metzinger; invitations and place cards, Margaret Fleming, and programs, Doris Sommer.

Featuring the Gamma Phi Beta octet, the fourth and eighth dances will be special numbers.

Delta Kappa Sigma will entertain Saturday night at the Crystal Ballroom from 8:30-11:30. The affair will be in the nature of a supper dance with supper served at 11:30. Decorations using colored lights in hanging chandeliers and spring flowers will create a spring scene. In charge of arrangements are: Rollin Moore, Frank Clark, Frank Callinan, Art Cayou, and Kenneth Wyard.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hunter, and Dean and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott. Messrs. and Mmes. R. E. Pray, E. G. Clapp, L. U. Stambaugh, and John Swanton, local Sigma Chis, will be honor guests. Two representatives from the Sigma Chi chapters at the Universities of North Dakota and Minnesota will also be guests.

With this issue of the Spectrum, the 1930-31 staff will complete its duties for the year under the direction of Anthony Faber, editor-in-chief, and Earl Hodgson, business manager. Elene Weeks and Floyd Viel, editor-in-chief and business manager, respectively, of the 1932 Bison, with assisting staff, have completed their duties.

Marjory Archer, succeeding Faber, will assume charge of publication of the Spectrum with next Tuesday's issue while Glenn Reichert, newly elected business manager, will superintend the business management beginning June 1.

Heading the 1933 Bison staff will be Mart Vogel. Edgar Crewe will be business manager.

Electrical Engineers Hold First Banquet

The first annual banquet of the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers of North Dakota State was held at the Gardner hotel, Wednesday evening at 6:30. The banquet table was set for fifteen. Those partaking included eleven juniors and two senior electrical engineering students besides Prof. H. S. Rush, faculty counselor, and Mr. J. H. Taylor, Bell Telephone Company engineer, both members of the national organization of the institute.

Clarence Bryant, junior electrical student hailing from Powers Lake, N. D., served as toastmaster for the occasion, calling on the following members to give toasts: Donald Holiday, junior, "Systems of Radio Broadcast Procedure"; Byron Weiss, junior, "A Worldwide Law With A New Name, Magnetism"; Elmer Bloomquist, junior, "Biography of Michael Faraday"; and Ralph Stockstad, senior, "Experiences as an Engineering Student at North Dakota State College". Mr. Taylor gave the principal talk at the banquet, his subject being, "The Attributes of the Bell System Requires of its Engineers". Prof. Rush gave a short toast on "The Importance of Avocations to the Engineering Students Program".

Although the subject matter was of a serious nature, humorous presentation added spice to the program. Those in charge of arrangements included Orville Isley, programs and menu; Ralph Simenson, finance; and Fred Payne, publicity.

SIGMA PHI DEDTA

Dinner guests Thursday evening included Capt Ross and Roy Corbett. The dinner was given as a farewell for both Mr. Corbett and Capt. Ross who are leaving the service of the college.

Senior girls were entertained at luncheon yesterday by the members of the Senior Staff. Because of the attendance the luncheon will be made an annual affair. Miss Thomas was in general charge.

Seebart Selected Cadet Corps Head At ROTC Meet

Junior Chemist Will Direct Cadet Operations Next Year

McKoane, Rooney, Hughes, And Forman Are Staff Members

Frank C. Seebart, junior in the school of chemistry, was today designated as lieutenant colonel in command of the college cadet corps for the coming year, his selection having been announced at the regular morning rally of the college troops.

The general staff of Lieutenant Colonel Seebart, as announced at the assembly, includes Adjutant Malve McKoane; Captain John Rooney, plans and training officer; and Captain Max Hughes, supply officer.

Company leaders selected were: Major Hjalmer Johnson, Co. "B"; Major Lawrence Ryan, Co. "C". Promotions to captaincies were in order for: Walter Shamp, 1st platoon; Rae Taylor, 2nd; Leslie Hanelt, 3rd; John Simonitsch, 4th; Roderick McMillen, 5th; Gordon Prescott, 6th; John Bond, 7th; Edgar Crewe, 8th; Elmer Blomquist, 9th; Norman Todd, 10th; Emmanuel Denio, 11th; and Henry Danrot, 12th platoon. Ross Cone was awarded a captaincy but was unassigned as to platoon.

Selections under the specifications of the special order issued by Major Elbe Lathrop today also included the promotion of eighteen junior members of the cadet corps to 1st lieutenants and seventy-five sophomore members to be designated as second lieutenants to as large a number as allowed by the government quota.

Freshman recommendations included promotion to three ranks of non-commissioned officers or, in the case of some, continuance in the private ranks. Besides the appointment of Jordan Engberg as sergeant major, and Leigh Ewing and Frank Green as staff sergeants, sixteen were selected as first sergeants; twenty-seven were selected as sergeants; and sixty-five as squad corporals.

Because of outstanding scholarship ability, Lt. Col. Roland E. Olson and Major Reynold Fredeen were announced as the honor graduates of the military corps with recommendations accorded them for West Point Military Academy.

Students Celebrate All-College Day

Ethel Kraft, Phi Omega Pi, Crowned Queen Of May At May Fete

Nearly the entire student body of North Dakota State college engaged in activities on the campus, Wednesday, when the annual All-College Day program was staged. Erling Thorson president of the student commission, and the assisting commissioners were in charge of the arrangements for the day.

Outstanding among the day's events was the crowning of Ethel Kraft as Queen of May. Preceding the queen in the procession from Old Main to the coronation scene east of the library were six attendants, contestants in the election for May queen, including: Doris Sommer, Gamma Phi Beta; Myrna Ottinger, Kappa Delta; Evelyn Gaebe, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ruth Peterson, Alpha Xi Beta; Lillian Lindsey, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Margaret Conlon, Ceres Hall club. Miss Kraft was Phi Omega Pi's representative in the contest.

Besides the young women attending the queen, two little girls, Mary McKone and Sally Pearson, carried a basket of flowers as a gift for the queen. Harold Peterson placed the laurel on the queen's head as she ascended the throne. During the coronation music was played by Lawrence Forman, violinist; and Miriam Narum and Dorothea Ward, pianists. SELF-SUFFICIENCY

It is interesting to note when looking over the campus from an upper window that one seldom sees people walking alone. They are in twos or threes or groups but rarely in singles.

Most of us are guilty of continually clamoring for company. We can't move ten feet unless someone will go with us. There is nothing to condemn about the situation, but it is useful to illustrate how dependable we are upon other people. We need someone to walk with, to talk with, to eat with—to just be with. Who it is little matters as long as they are with us.

Perhaps it is this jaded, hurrying state of living that is responsible. This attitude of hurry that keeps us always doing something or about to do something.

Rarely if ever do students sit down and do nothing. If they aren't occupied they work physically always with someone else. What reading is done is at the library where it's usually a task, or just before going to bed when one is so fatigued that the material becomes a mere jumble of words.

It seems that this impetus to keep moving to keep from thinking has caused rather a deplorable result of dependency among us. We would die mentally, spiritually and some even physically if we were thrown on our own resources for a month or even a week.

At this time of the year we all wish verbally that we could go away from everything and just sleep and not have to talk to anyone. If this were actually possible we'd find that those who wished it most heartily would be the first to come back to their friends.

THE BISON

We congratulate the Bison editor and business manager who with their efficient staffs yesterday issued the yearbook as a culmination of a year's work. The artistry in the division pages and arrangement of material is particularly commendable, showing as it does both originality and thought.

There are some colleges which have ceased printing yearbooks, but with such a book as this before us we feel that it is an activity that should be maintained and encouraged.

STUDENT OPINION

"COLLEGE SPIRIT MUST BE SUPPRESSED"

Have you heard the latest? No cuts, no rallies before games, no scandal sheets, no senior leave, no nothing. Rumors are abroad that the kindergarten department will be extensively enlarged within two years to make it possible for old State to discharge its most sacred obligations and to further develop the potentialities of the institution. But the latest is the new ruling made by the College Council which prohibits any mixed parties outside of the city limits. Perhaps someone at a recent party was caught in the act of necking. What a sin! Or maybe some fellows have been found "teed" up a bit. The sacred Eighteenth Amendment! No parties of mixed groups—an act of wisdom. Anyone who has not been living in a monastery knows that a great deal more may go on in a group of two or four than in a large group.

And the high powers have threatened to discontinue the all-college day. So the only tradition that the school has will pass on. We shall only go to class now. In 1938 we will graduate real robots. By the time the College Council will put into effect the injunction: "All college spirit absolutely suppressed." J. P.

We Make The Good Kind

ANOTHER GETS THE SACK!

THOUSANDS CHEER AND THROW HATS IN AIR AS KEYHOLE AUTHOR IS FIRED WITH ENTHUSIASM.

This, my dear public, (movie star erpression) officially closes the "Kampus Keyhole". The new Spectrum editor, in a burst of progressive journalistic enthusiasm, told us to get the Hell out, or words to that effect. And so we got the Hell out. It appears that a couple of neophytes are going to be admitted to the Grand Order of Advanced Journalism in Making - Dirty - Cracks-and - Getting - Dirty - Looks. Well, let 'em come! With much work and no pay let 'em try to pound out stuff twice a week! Let 'em be called everything from a villainous blackguard to being that kind of a guy that would marry Greta Garbo for her money. Well, when in Rome do as Mussolini does.

For inspiration on dull days, when the going was tough, the author takes this opportunity to thank such campus celebrities as "One-two-three" O'Leary, bless her Irish heart, "One-Round" Mary McLane, "Good Old" Ame Wallum, Tracy Johnson, the Kay-dees, the POPS, the "unidentified" man who entertained the Gamma Phi one cold night, Doc Putnam and his "team song", the Awful Sweet Betas, the Junior Ball leaders, and others too numerous to mention. If I have overlooked anyone who should be included in this list please send self-addressed and stamped letter and personal condolences will be made.

At different intervals throughout the past year I have had some of the above-mentioned individuals, collectively and separately, express, either by looks unsaid or words actually said, considerable interest in what was said about them under this column. To these, our devoted admirers, and to our fan-mail list, I wish to thank also, for their undivided solicitations and concern. There is so much satisfaction in knowing that ones efforts are appreciated. When Oscar Wilde said, "Everybody pays the penalty for peeping through keyholes", he certainly knew his stuff, believe me you. Anyway, after the writer has graduated from "this here institooshun" in a few weeks, just barge around, call me "Pal", but don't ask for money. We realize that the college adds, platinudiously insist that their graduates make money, but we aren't taking any wooden nickels. No sir!

That positively last line: The lousy columns that you have been reading for the past school year have been written by Harold G. Petersen, otherwise known as Peepin' Pete, Al Capone, Billy Fawcett, and other aliases.

Saalymen Leave School For Last 1931 Track Meet

Leo May, Gust Schwartz, Hall Expected To Place At Forks

Coach L. T. Saalwaechter and a band of 25 track candidates left this morning at 8 o'clock for Grand Forks where they will engage in their last competitive trials of the season.

The varsity squad will participate in the North Central Conference track and field meet which is being held at Grand Forks this spring. The team is not expected to make a very strong showing at this annual event for veteran men were not available due to the great loss of capable performers who were lost by graduation last year. The men who will make the trip are: Thomasson, Grohne, McMillen, Hall, Robertson, McKendry, Leo May, Schwartz, Bunt, Orness, and McKay.

Some Outstanding Fresh

The freshman squad will engage in a dual meet with the University freshmen this afternoon and will also compete in the relay events for the conference freshman teams. Some capable performers have been developed and it is a certainty that such men as Cecil Graham, Emmet O'Day, Carman Hunt, Frank Waltz, John Warner, and Myron Pond will count heavily in their events. Other men who will make the trip are George May, Paul Airheart, Bud Haebener, Bud Horner, Kermit Anderson, Walter Schamber, George Kafton, and Miles Striker.

Leo May, only senior on the squad, will be entered in the last athletic contest for his Alma Mater. He has been showing good form in the weight events this year and has been getting more distance than ever before. August Schwartz, sophomore jumper has been jumping six feet consistently and he should count heavily in both events. Ernest Hall, veteran distance runner, has turned in some good marks in the mile and two mile events and some records will probably be broken if he is beaten to the tape.

Hanelt And Danrot Chosen For Camp

Final instructions have been received by Leslie Hanelt and Henry Danrot, juniors in the school of chemistry, to report at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, on June 12 for the summer sessions of the chemical warfare camp.

The two chemists are the only North Dakota representatives among the six delegates from the Seventh Corps who will attend the six weeks course of instruction at the camp. Eighty students from the nation is the total enrollment for the camp, which is situated near Baltimore. Both will be commissioned as second lieutenants, chemical warfare reserve officers corps, upon completion of the course.

Varsity Baseball Team

The women's varsity baseball team is announced today as follows: Jeanette Greenshields, Grace Putney, Mona Davis, Ericka Storrs, Paula Verne, Frances Anderson, Minerva Streed, Irene Beyer, Bernice Streit, and Marjorie Metcalf. Mona Davis was manager of baseball.

Marian Miller, Clarice Heimark, and Ione Bakke spent the weekend at their respective homes.

Mary Weinberger and Clara Borden were in Valley City on Sunday.

Blue and gold were used to decorate the women's gym for the party given by the girls living in Ceres hall Friday evening, May 22. Alta Holritz was in charge of arrangements. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wenger, Mrs. A. M. Williams, and Miss Hazel Thomas. The music was furnished by the Dakotans.

Weeks, Viel, Issue All-College Bison

Carrying out an all-college theme the 1932 Bison was issued yesterday as one of the features of the day's program by Elene Weeks, editor and Floyd Viel, business manager.

Division pages illustrating college scenes in the color scheme of black and green and black leather cover with a green seal are used to carry out the general plan of the book. Snapshot arrangements are different from any used in previous annuals.

The contents include representative students, organizations, senior classes, athletics, administration, and scenic sections. Approximately 1500 copies were distributed to students yesterday. Two hundred copies will be sent to high schools throughout the state.

Officers Installed At W. A. A. Banquet

Installation of officers was the feature of the W. A. A. banquet held Wed. night at the Powers hotel. Following this the numerals were awarded for soccer, basketball, and baseball.

Irene Beyer acted as toastmistress and new officers installed were: Minerva Streed, president; Frances Anderson, recording secretary; Irene Beyer, corresponding secretary; Ora Hammerud, treasurer.

Misses Cole and Ballard were presented with gifts.

Students To Give Community Program

A typical community program will be presented under the direction of the committee in charge at Kyslo farms near the Sheyenne river, Tuesday, June 2, at 5 p. m. The program is given by students from the public discussion department.

The committees promise a good time and an abundance of entertainment. Everyone is invited to come and to bring his own own picnic basket. Coffee will be furnished.

The following program has been arranged: string trio, junior music club; introductory remarks, by Miss McDonald, chairman; exhibit, Amanda Adam; vocal duet, Helen Jensen and Jean Pote; dance, Margaret Fleming; picnic basket demonstration, Ruth Johnson; reading, Mary O'Neil; songs, Gamma Phi Beta octet; wedding dance, Jeanette Hooper and Doris Lathrop. The program will close with community singing led by Rhoda Marr.

A program of interpretive dancing and a fencing exhibition were staged before the queen's throne following the coronation.

In the direct charge of pageant arrangements was A. G. Arvold, assisted by Miss Alice Bender.

Distribution of the 1932 Bison was another outstanding event on the afternoon's program.

Prizes were awarded at the all-college dance in the college armory Wednesday evening. Freshman and Sophomores divided honors with the first year men winning the song contest and the baseball game. Sophomores were victorious in the flag rush and tug-of-war. Individual honors went to Georgina Metzinger, women's tennis champion and Norman McKendry, Ford obstacle race winner.

Phi Omega Pi and Alpha Gamma Rho won the cups for the acts staged at the morning convocation. The winning sorority presented a comedy skit while Alpha Gamma Rho presented Chris Bjornson in a reading, "The Jewish Wedding."

Music by the Gold Star band under the direction of Dr. C. S. Putnam and a program by the men's glee club directed by Homer Huntoon were other convocation features.
