Colonel Moorman Arrives Saturday To Inspect ROTC

Comes From University Where Review Is Held During This Week

Classes, Government Property To Be Looked Over During Stay Here

Colonel Thomas S. Moorman, Infantry U. S. A., will arrive in Fargo Saturday from Grand Forks when he will have finished inspecting the University Cadets, to be on hand for the annual Federal inspection of the State College unit on Monday, May 18 and Tuesday, May 19.

In preparation the Bison Cadets will be busy cleaning rifles, having shoes shined, and uniforms cleaned and pressed. A parade and review was held this morning in which the cadet sponsors participated, this being the last practice session before inspection.

The inspection will begin at eight o'clock Monday morning with a review and inspection of corps, according to Major E. A. Lathrop. Dr. Shepperd, the college deans, and military the review. From 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. the time will be devoted to close and extended order drill, calisthenics, display of equipment, and tent pitching. At 11 o'clock the corps will work on a tactical problem.

The first year advanced students will be inspected on theoretical and practical work at 1:15 and the second year advanced students will cover theoretical and practical work at 3:15 in the afternoon.

Tuesday morning will be devoted to a continuation of theoretical and practical work by the junior and senior students. At 1:15 Colonel Moorman will begin inspection of military grounds, offices, office files, and all government property.

Tau Delta Pi Holds Founders Banquet

Honorary Engineering Group Is Year Old; Lynch To Give Speech

The first annual banquet of Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, is being held tonight in the Powers hotel dining room at 6:30. The banquet is to commemorate the founding of the fraternity one year ago, May 15, 1930.

Glen Schoessow, Wallace Lovness, and Robert Carlson, senior engineers elected to membership this year, will be honored by the charter members, who are Jack Simonitsch, Max Hughes, Fred Payne, Clarence Bryant, Orville Isley, Carl Hoyem, Ralph Simenson, and Hjalmer Johnson.

Mr. George Lynch, prominent Fargo engineer, and Dean Dolve, advisory members of the group, will give the principal talks at the banquet, and Mr. Hughes will give a toast relating some of the early happenings during the organization of the honorary.

Mr. Simonitsch, retiring president, will inlstand the fraternity's new president, Fred Payne, who will preside as toastmaster during the program of the evening.

Mr. Isley is in charge of arrangements.

JOINT RECITAL FEATURES FORMAN AND CRAMER

A joint recital will be presented on Sunday at the Plymouth Congregational church at 5:00 o'clock by Helen Cramer, soprano, and Lawrence Forman, violinist. Five groups of pieces will be presented, the last of which will be a duet. The public and particularly students of N. D. S. C. are invited.

Charging "profiteering" in the University of Pittsburgh cafeteria, several students have brought charges against the management, citing the high cost of prunes as an example.

Black Scholarship Is Donated By Rotarians

Awarded On Basis Of Excellence In Character, Personality, And Scholarship

The name of Norman B. Black, late publisher of the Fargo Forum will be perpetuated through a scholarship at the State College by the Fargo Rotary Club. At a meeting Wednesday, the club decided to add three hundred dollars to the budget this year to establish a scholarship.

One hundred dollars of the sum will act as the first scholarship and the remaining two hundred dollars will be placed in an endowment fund. Each year the club plans to lay aside three hundred with one hundred removed for scholarships, until the fund assumes the size of two thousand dollars. That sum will provide for the scholarships of the future.

The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of outstanding character personality and scholarship. The committee to select the scholar will be composed of two members of the college faculty and one rotarian.

SHEPPERD INJURED

President Shepperd suffered from a sprained ankle yesterday, according to word received at the office. Dr. Nichols, the college physician, is in attendance.

Features Added To Improve Student's Play Day On May 27

Prizes Awarded For Costumes, Skits, And Other Events; 1932 Bison Ready

Preliminary elections to pick the three candidates to appear on the ballot on all-college day will be held on Tuesday in the registrar's office, according to Frank Seebart, commissioner of elections. The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The candidates and their affiliations follow: Eunice Conlon, Ceres Hall; Helen Peterson, Alpha Beta; Lillian Lindsey, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Doris Sommers, Gamma Phi Beta; Ethel Kraft, Phi Omega Pi; Evelyn Gaebe, Alpha Gamma Delta; and Tommy Ottinger, Kappa Delta.

As new features to the annual all-college day which will take place on the State College campus Wednesday, May 27, speed ball and tennis matches have been arranged, it is announced by Erling Thorson, president of the Student Commission. The tennis matches have been arranged to include both the men and the women net performers of the campus.

Mr. Thorson assures the students that the features that have been enjoyed in the past will be on the program again this year. Some of these features are: student and faculty stunts in the armory, numbers by the glee club and the band, Ford handicap races, Frosh-Sophomore song contest, Frosh-Sophomore flag rushes, baseball game, pageant of the crowning of the May Queen and the annual dressing up of the students. Prizes for the best costumes will again be awarded.

As one of the important features of the day, Elene Weeks, editor of the 1932 Bison, announces that the annual will be ready for distribution on that day, and that the students will receive their copies as part of the regular program of the day. The complete program has not yet taken form, but the finished announcement will appear in an early issue of the Spectrum.

SIGMA TAU DELTA TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

The Sigma Tau Delta national English fraternity will meet at the home of Professor Charles E. Kellogg, 1329 Ninth St. S., Wednesday evening. Original manuscripts will be read by Morris Olson, Elene Weeks, Edward Hanson, Jordis Vaatvedt, Marjory Archer, Virginia Davis, Karl Gerteis, and Cally Berrigan.

Anderson Advances To Tourney Finals

Match With University Team Postponed Until The Coming Week

Fred Anderson advanced to the finals of the campus golf tournament yesterday when he won a 7 and 6 decision over Tony Faber at the municipal golf course.

Anderson advanced into the semi-final bracket by a 6 and 4 victory over Ed Crewe, Tuesday. Faber won a victory over Bill Thies, Wednesday, 4 and 3. Anderson will meet the winner of the Fairhead-Holland match.

Holland won through default from Jack Danstrom. Fairhead gained a 4 and 3 decision over Louie Johnson and probably will play Holland today for the right to meet Anderson.

The match with the University scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed but probably will be played next week.

LINCOLN FORENSIC CLUB NAMES LAWRENCE HEAD

The Lincoln forensic club elected new officers for the coming year at its regular meeting held Tuesday, May 5 in the Lincoln log cabin. Donald Lawrence was elected president, Donald McKechnie, vice-president, and Harold Fredrickson, secretary-treasurer.

University Men Guests At Prom Of Senior Class

Spring Motif Planned As Theme For Last Formal Party Decorations

When the guests gather for the annual Senior Ball, Friday, May 22, at the Crystal ballroom, two prominent guests from the University of North Dakota and their partners will be present. The president of the Nodak Senior Class, Thomas Barger and the Senior Ball leader of the State University, Frank Ulmer, are the representatives from that school.

Featuring the lighting effects of the annual party will be many colored lights with a rising sun as the culminating effect. The lights will be in keeping with the general decorations which will have motif of spring. Fountains, flowers, chandeliers, and a specially decorated frappe booth will carry out the theme.

It has been announced by Wallace Lovness, leader of the affair, that the tickets for the function can be procured from the college book store, any of the fraternities, or from any member of the Senior Class. In order to assure a large attendance, the management has reduced the tickets from two dollars and a half to two dollars.

Informal dancing will begin at 8:30, and will continue until the Grand March, which will take place at 9:00 o'clock. In the formal program there will be 12 dances with no extras.

Illustrated Lecture Shown Next Sunday

"Vacation Trails Are Calling" Is Title Of L. C. Theatre Presentation

The Little Country Theatre will present an illustrated lecture Sunday afternoon at 3:00 entitled "Vacation Trails are Calling." The class is under the direction of A. G. Arvold.

The lecture will cover all the vacation spots in the country and will be of interest to anybody planning to take a vacation this summer, according to Emily Samuelson who is assisting in the promotion. Among the spots which will be shown and described are the Lake of the Woods, Niagara Falls, Washington, D. C., Black Hills, Yellowstone, Colorado, Old Southwest, and Columbia River.

Arthur Platt is in charge of the promotion. Assisting him are Emily Samuelson and Virginia Sands. The exhibits and music are under the direction of Roger Bertholf, I. Erickson, and Ray Berg. Ruth Moser has charge of the refreshments. She is assisted by Mr. Gilbertson.

SURVEY SHOWS INCREASE IN NUMBER OF DOCTORS

With one doctor to every 800 persons, the United States leads the world in the number of physicians, it has been discovered by Dr. Willard C. Rappleye, Dean of the Columbia Medical school in an international survey which he has just completed for the office of education of the United States department of the interior.

Although the number of medical students shows a constant increase, Dr. Rappleye finds that the tendency is to centralize training in fewer medical schools. Medicine as a profession is not as attractive to American women as is popularly supposed, according to the report. During the year 1930, the total number of women graduated from American medical colleges was only 205, a decline having been noticed in the yearly enrollment since 1926.

PHI OMEGA PI

Ethel Cone announced her engagement to Gail Fear, Muskogee, Okla., by sending a box of candy to the Phi Omega Pi sorority.

Miss Doris Ferguson, Minot, was a guest of Grace Reynolds last week.

Rosalin Johnson was a luncheon guest at the chapter house last week.

A GOOD ALIBI

"Life is dull only to the dull." As we sit immersed in an attack of spring fever we are inclined to agree with Sherwood Anderson when he wrote that particular line.

On all sides students sit benumbed mentally and physically and only spiritually are they still chasing thrills. Between fits of vacant gazing into space they "wish something would happen, something exciting." Meanwhile if they still believe in fairies they patiently sit and wait for the miracle of "something different." Otherwise they merely sit.

Then, too, they have so "much to do"—a fact that they are careful to repeat innumerable times during the day. Yet they still sit—procrastinating—waiting for the break.

Perhaps it is still true that one can't get "something for nothing." We fail to see how any student who is waiting for life to be fascinating, something to be really enjoyed, can realize anything toward that end while moving in a circle of dullness, stupidity, torpidity or boredom.—And yet spring fever makes a good alibi.

SPRING FEVER

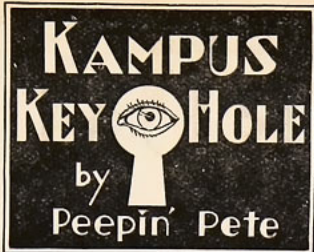

There is something in the air that makes it very difficult to study or concentrate during the spring. Granted that our fancies may wander, is there any reason that we should forget our books all together?

Spring fever is an alibi that does not go very well with the instructors even though they may be suffering from it themselves. We cannot be expected to study as hard as we did during the winter term because the conditions are much different.

We therefore ask that the instructors be a little lenient on us and assign shorter lessons and desist from being too harsh in their criticism of our unpreparedness.

The no-cut system is at its best during the spring, and during that time it is felt more than at other times. However, we would like to suggest that anybody suffering from that sweet disease, spring fever, will probably have a rude awakening from some instructor that has warmed up to his work with the increase of temperature outside. Fight it off, if possible.

The Writers club of Columbia university has just published an anthology of "unwanted" prose.

WALLUM MAKES BIG BULL!

"TREASON! TREASON!" SHOUT KRITICS.

Crowds jeered wildly yesterday when Ame Wallum, thought to be Ame Wallum, was discovered lurking under the historic and battle-scarred Gamma Phi work bench. He was arrested on a technical charge of fragrancancy and bound over to the Grand Jury. Following is a verbatim record of the trial in which our hero is finally convicted and sentenced to major in "Ketone" Carrick's Kourse in Kussed Kemistry and Needle-Work.

Wallum is now on the stand, being cross-examined by A. Ache." Parrott, foreman of the grand jury. The Board of Publications can be seen in the background enjoying a vigorous game of "Drop the Handkerchief."

Parrott—Who was that lady I seen you with last night?

Wallum—That wasn't no lady, that was Peepin'.

P.—Where were you the night of March 5th?

W.—Where was you the night of March 5th?

P.—I asked you first.

W.—What I want to know is how they got Faber home.

P.—We are now ready to present the case of Administration versus Wallum. You are accused of—say, what is he accused of? Anyway, what have you to say for yourself?

W.—I don't even know your sister and I was traveling in a different state at the time.

P.—Do you see this?

W.—Oh, how could you?

—Voice from the rear—They're his old man's!

P.—Please tell the jury what you were doing in the women's Gym on the night of March 5th.

W.—Looking for my bag.

P.—What prompted you to start your career of crime?

W.—When Prof. Sackett said to me, "There is more evil in one cigarette than in all of Harold Bell Wright's novels."

(Wallum coughs nervously as Daisy Devoe steps to the witness stand. Tracy blushes as she crosses dainty limbs.)

P.—Miss Devoe, do you know the defendant?

Daisy—Oh boy, and how, brother!

P.—Miss Devoe, please remember that the members of the jury are faculty members. Please stick to words of one syllable. And where did you meet the defendant?

Daisy—When I was telling about Clara's beau.

P.—And what did he say?

Daisy—He said, "Hello, you egg!"

P.—And what did you say?

Daisy—Must I tell?
P.—Whisper in my ear. (Whispers) That is all, Miss Devoe. Besides it's getting past your bedtime.

Daisy—Thank you sir, and you must come over and see us some time.

P.—Call Trader Horn.

The Trader appears.

P.—Are you the author of "Blowing My Own Horn"?

Horn—Well, if I'm not I'd like to know who that woman was I was talking to for six months and twenty eight days a while back.

P.—Do you know the defendant?

Trader—Him? I'd know him in a dog pound.

P.—Under what circumstances did you first meet him?

Horn—I caught him tatting doilies in my beard.

P.—I give up! Charges dismissed.

Enter haute-boys and varlets bearing rose garlands, and talking at lib off to right.

Terse last line: Oh, yeah!!

STUDENT OPINION

With college life going as it is, it's plenty lucky for the students that the faculty allows such things as parties. We have to credit the faculty with intelligence enough to realize that the larger part of the educational process is necessarily the social functions. It's O. K. to rant this way with the senior ball coming off just one week from today.

The part that I have always liked about college parties is that the program is always out ahead of time. That means that if a fellow isn't too much of a tightwad, he can dance with about ten different women in one night without having the danger of one refusal. It sure is a break for us unpopular devils. Just as soon as I get to be a senior, I am going to try to arrange for about a dozen balls so that I can get out of this place with what at least looks like an education.

From what I can gather from the ball this year it is going to be a real one. All a guy will have to do is to get there and a hell of a good time will overtake him. There is only one feature that I don't like about the ball, and that is, that a gee oh oh dee good time is promised every body who has the two dollars plus monkey suit to go. With a hot band, a hot night, a hot theme, and a hot date, the ticket buyers for the ball are in for a good old hot time.

STOLEN

A brand new Underwood typewriter belonging to the Spectrum was taken out of the Bison office the first part of the week by some unwitting person, it is reported by Earl Hodgson, business manager of this paper.

The Spectrum officials are giving the culprits until this evening to return the machine before any questions are asked. After that time the editors will inform the proper officials and the whole matter will be in their hands.

The typewriter was purchased this fall by the Board of Publications for the newspaper. Staff reporters are missing the machine, and its immediate return is imperative, according to Hodgson.

Hunkins, David Minard, and Rosemary Frost.

"The Uncle and the Butler" by Audrey Medley placed third. The cast included Clifford Bollman, Clair Hansen, Dorothea Olson, Vivian Rice, Roy Weller, and Audrey Medley.

GAMMA TAU SIGMA REELECTS AMOS WALLUM

Gamma Tau Sigma, honorary journalism group, reelected Amos Wallum as their president at a meeting held Tuesday in the Spectrum office. Mr. Wallum is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau and Blue Key fraternities.

Other officers follow: Glenn Reichert, vice-president, who succeeds Karl Gerteis; and Gerald Garlid, secretary-treasurer, who succeeds Earl Hodgson.

Phil Woolledge, Fargo, won the May Festival boy's singles tennis tournament Wednesday when he defeated Norm Christianson 6-1, 6-3. Woolledge receives a gold medal from the athletic department.

Woolledge and Christianson repulsed Marv Doherty and John Myron to win the doubles crown. All four men will enter the tournament at Grand Forks next week.

O'Neil Play Awarded First Place Honors

The original one-act play written and directed by Mary O'Neil, was awarded first place by the audience who visited the presentation of the seven original plays written by members of the class in play production under the direction of A. G. Arvold in the Little Country Theatre last evening.

The winning play was entitled "Nothing Today." The characters included Selina Best, F. W. Werking, Elizabeth Woolledge, Malve McKeane, David Minard, Marjory Archer, Rosemary Frost, Edna Smeby, Roy Weller, and Mary O'Neil.

"The Marriage Mart" by Marjorie Archer placed second. The cast included Ray Weller, May O'Neil, Sally

NIGHT AND A FAST TRACK!

A TRACK man will tell you that records are broken when the track is fast. Think of this setting—a cool evening, the stands overflowing, the whole spectacle brilliantly lighted with G-E floodlights, and a fast track—a record simply couldn't stand the "gaff."

Nighttime, when people naturally turn to diversion, is the logical time for a track meet. Lack of support will be a thing of the past. And just watch the athletic fund grow.

G-E floodlighting projectors, largely the development of college-trained men, are easily adapted to any occasion whether football, track, tennis, commencement, receptions, or plays. Efficient G-E illumination promotes athletics and builds school spirit.

Bison Track Men Meet University Tomorrow

BLAKESLEE FORCED OUT FOR REMAINDER OF VARSITY SEASON

McMillen, Thomasson, Grohnke Ready For Event On Saturday

Sophomores Ready For Showing Of Material At Annual Skirmish

The annual dual track meet between the University and Bison cindersmen will be held tomorrow afternoon on Dacotah field. The Saalymen lost to the University squad at Grand Forks last spring by a half point margin, after winning for two consecutive years.

Coach L. T. Saalwaechter is not so optimistic over the final outcome of the meet this season. He lost such stars as Ole Sand, giant sprint ace; Dorland Konichok, one of the best middle distance runners in the conference; Clarence Lockrem, point winner in the 440 yard dash in the conference; Roy Jordre, running mate for Konichok; and Walter Nelson, distance runner, by graduation. With the loss of such an array of capable performers it will be hard to put a team upon the field that will take enough points to win the meet.

To offset the loss of these veterans some men who participated on the freshman team last season will be ready to enter into their first varsity track meet. Included in this group of tracksters are August Schwartz, high jumper; Viv McKay, high jumper, javelin, and discus thrower; Norman McKendry, hurdler; Clarence Orness, weight man; and Ernest Hall, distance runner. All of these men have been training consistently and should be sure point winners.

Blakeslee Out for Season

The veterans who will be ready to take to the track Saturday are Rod McMillen, middle distance runner, Leo Thomasson, printer and hurdler; Jack Grohnke, sprinter; Leo May, weight man; Bill Hiltz, weight man; and Alex Robertson, distance runner. Joe Blakeslee, conference pole vault champion, has been forced out of track for the rest of the season on account of an attack of appendicitis.

Women students work for grades more often than do men. Such is one of the conclusions Dr. Frederick H. Lund, former head of the department of psychology of Bucknell college, reached after a study of students.

Sophomore Frolic Planned For Tonight

The annual Sophomore Frolic will be held this evening at the Crystal ballroom, according to Merlyn Jahr, president of the second year group.

Dancing will begin at 6:30 and will continue until 11:30. Members of the class must be in every couple. The party is closed to any but sophomores, said Jahr, and measures are being taken to keep the affair private.

BASEBALL TEAMS MEET FOR TOURNNEY

Any Group On Campus Eligible For Entry In School Tournament

Bob Lowe, director of the baseball tournament has issued the following statement today: All teams wishing to enter the Intramural Baseball Tournament must have a representative at the meeting which is to be held in the armory Monday, May 18. At this meeting rules for the tournament will be discussed and drawings for the first round made. The first games will be played Tuesday on the diamond behind the armory.

No restrictions will be made as to the entry of teams this year. That is, any group of men whether connected with a campus organization or not, may enter a team in the tournament. However, no man may play on more than one team. Games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of each week. Two games will be played each day, the first beginning promptly at 4:30, and the second at 6:00 o'clock. All games will be seven innings. Postponed games will be played off on Saturdays, Sundays, and Mondays.

Umpires for the series will be Bunt, Schoenfelder, Thomasson, Fairhead, and McKay.

Bison Tennis Teams Ready For University

Dixon And Walker Showing Up Good In Early Season Trials Here

Bison racquet men are preparing themselves for the invasion of the Sioux tennis players here Saturday at the Island Park courts.

There will be four singles matches and two doubles matches in the series. Although the singles men have not as yet been picked awaiting a playoff today, it is probable that John Dixon, John Walker, and Tony Faber will start. Birch Horton or Myron Wurde-man will make up the other member of the team.

Dixon and Walker have been showing fine form to date and are doped to give the University men considerable trouble. James, who is reported to be playing No. 1 with the upstate school, Hazen, Nelson, and Billigmeier are all veterans of last year and should present a strong array.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS SPEAKER AT CONVOCATION

Miss Marie Ginsberg, economic librarian for the League of Nations, addressed the students of North Dakota State College Wednesday morning at convocation period in the armory.

Miss Ginsberg was brought here by the University Women's Association, and spoke before that body while here. She has had considerable experience with the League and was well acquainted with its workings.

PREDICTS NATION-WIDE NEWSPAPER AT PRINCETON PRESS CONFERENCE

Opening with a discussion of the tendency of the modern press toward excessive standardization and the possibility of the establishment of a national newspaper the three-day Princeton press conference considered the relationship between the press, the radio, and the government, this week.

"Big business is just beginning to make its effects felt on the press. Soon, as a result of the invention of the new teletype-setter, there will no longer be need for editors as a national newspaper will be set up at a central point and from there distributed throughout the country. I predict," said Bruce Bliven, managing editor of The New Republic, whose amusing conjectures on the future of the press and brilliant satire of present trends delighted the audience, "that in a few years there will be one large standard newspaper for the nation and that small sheets always running on a deficit will serve various liberal groups in an endeavor to check standardization."

David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily, led a discussion on the relation of the press to the national government. H. J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, Sir Willmott Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times, and Chester D. Pugsley, who made the conference possible financially, delivered the principal addresses at the banquet.

A dance held at Butler university, Indiana, was quite novel in the manner of its subscription. Each young lady was weighed at the entrance and her escort paid accordingly per pound. The buxom belles "blieben zu Hause."

An old-fashioned one-ring circus with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thumb, Jack-the Giant-Killer, Little Miss Muffet, and Krazy Kat will go to Lisbon, May 16. Headed by a 15 piece brass band and 6 trumpeters is the procession of Goldilocks and the Three Bears following Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf. The Katzenjammer Kids will contribute their own hilarious act assisted by an endless number of clowns.

The main act, in three episodes, includes among its many interesting features Tumbling Matthew, strong man, who can do anything from tearing a deck of cards with his bare hands to breaking a spike with his teeth, clown and animal acts, horses and equestriennes. There will also be tumbling, statues, and a ballet. The most thrilling of all will be the epilogue or grand finals in which all characters assemble.

The performance is a presentation of the class in pageantry and is under the personal direction of Professor Arvold.

Two new chapters have recently been added to the K. D. list, one at Louisiana Tech and one at Drury college, Missouri.
