Schoessow Sees Open House At University

Student Manager Of Annual College Show Views "U" Exhibit

Earl Schoessow, as representative of the State College Engineers' Club, attended the Engineers' open house held on the University of North Dakota campus, last Friday.

Mr. Schoessow, who will manage a similar show to be presented by the engineering students at this college during the annual May festival, commented that the Engineers' show at Grand Forks displayed interesting phenomena in the engineering field.

Plans are rapidly being carried to completion for the North Dakota State College exhibit on May 8, according to the student manager, who is confident that the show will be outstanding for novelty and unusual displays. As an annual event, the Engineers' open house has been of growing importance in displaying to the visiting high school students at the May festival the numerous improvements and developments in the field of scientific engineering.

The laboratory preparations will be arranged by Earl Grove and his assistants. Bob Roberts has charge of the prescriptions which will be exhibited in the college dispensary. KAPPA SIGMA CHI

Edward Courtney, Beta Chi at the U, was a dinner guest at the house Saturday evening.

Jerome Olson of Page was a weekend guest at the house.

Mr. Thorson of Hatton visited with his son, Erling, Sunday.

Above is not a picture of a college graduate after two years of seeking a job, but Peepin' Pete as Joe Morgan who publicly endorses the spirited beverages which finally lead to his downfall and spiritual rejuvenation in that rollicking tragedy of light wines and heavy heads, "Ten Nights in a Barroom", which will make its debut in Fargo tonight at the Little Country Theatre.

A full sized bar has been obtained by Mr. Arvold upon which will lounge some of the campus' most outstanding actors as characters in the revival of the old temperance play. Tony Faber, Bill Gray, Johnny Dixon, Walter Shamp, Ronald Pearce, and Maitland Wyard will dazzle the startled audiences in borrowed clawhammers, high silk hats, and drooping moustaches, which they fold back to speak through. Constance West, Betty Heaton, Ruth Barrett, and Dorothea Olson will portray the women characters. Miss Olson will be little Mary whose cry of "Father, dear father, come home with me now," is stopped most effectively and dramatically by the crash of a broken glass. This of course is not all the situation involved—you will have to see for yourself.

The play is a dramatization of an old novel which was packed with temperance propaganda in the late nineteenth century. It had an enormous popularity, and is now being revived over the country, and will shortly be filmed in Hollywood. "Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be produced here with all the flavor of the old fashioned production. It will be presented two times, tonight at 8:15 and tomorrow afternoon at a matinee at 4:00. Tickets are priced at 10, 20, and 30 cents.

ALPHA KAPPA PHI

Fred Olson, Harold Billingmire, Henry Frank, Al Letich, Fred Thornton, and Donald Grande of the "U" were weekend guests.

George Coffey and Jack Vincent drove to Duluth over the weekend.

Taylor Hudson and Walter Jahnke of New Rockford were Sunday afternoon guests.

C. M. Clark of Crosby and P. M. Clark of Mohall were guests of their sons, Donald and Lloyd.

Warren Keisel, Don Dresden, and Rex Manion of the "U" called at the house Saturday evening.

Valley City Men's Glee Club To Sing

The men's glee club from the State Teachers College at Valley City will present a program of classical numbers at convocation tomorrow morning. The group is directed by Arthur Lydell.

According to Billy Mark, business manager, the program will consist of numbers by the entire ensemble, of special features by a quartet and of violin selections by Arthur Spalding. The personnel of the quartet includes: John Julian, Vernon Eberly, Arthur Lee, and Billy Mark. Millicent Seymour will act as accompanist to this group of 21 members.

Professor Phillips Of Notre Dame Will Speak Here Friday

Educator, Sponsored By Newman Club, Has Varied Experience

Charles Phillips, M. A., professor of English at Notre Dame University, will be the speaker at the third annual convocation sponsored by the Newman Club, to be held at the college on Friday, May 1.

His subject, entitled "The American College Man", will give sidelights on the personalities and problems of modern college students. The address will be given at the regular convocation period.

Mr. Phillips is an author, educator, traveller, and lecturer of wide experience. Among his writings are several books on education and travel and frequent contributions to "Current History", "The Commonwealth", "The New York Times", "The Theatre Arts", and other publications.

At present professor of English and member of the Academic Council at Notre Dame, Mr. Phillips formerly held the position of director of the department of education of the American Red Cross Commission to Poland. Between the years of his work at that office, 1919-22, he became well acquainted with Pilsudski, militaristic dictator of Poland, and with the present Pope, then a papal delegate to that country.

Professor Phillips was twice decorated by the Polish government for welfare service under fire during those years of revolt following the war. He had a narrow escape from Kiev, Russia, when that city fell to the Bolsheviks in 1920. "The New Poland", based on his observations during his stay in that country, was pronounced "the best book on modern Poland in the English language" by the "Manchester Guardian."

Byron Thoraldson Is Winner In Contest

Bayliss Names Four Leaders In "Y" Poster Drawings

Byron Thoraldson was named winner in the Y circus poster contest held last week, according to Dudley Bayliss, secretary for the association. Donald Alstrup placed second.

A prize of three dollars in cash was awarded to the winner while second mention received four tickets. Harold Henning and Al Bordeleau placed third and fourth respectively and received two tickets. Allan Brierley was awarded honorable mention.

Plans are being made, according to Mr. Bayliss, to utilize the entire floor and stage of the armory in the presentation of the show. Several of the acts are of a nature demanding stage presentation while others, such as apparatus work, will be shown to best advantage on the floor of the armory.

Lawrence Erickson, ticket manager, will be in the Y M C A office from 1 to 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 28, and all persons selling tickets are asked to report to him on sales. Final ticket sales reports will be made Friday afternoon.

Ed Berdahl and Ed Vinge of Hillsboro visited the house Saturday.

Graham And Hunt Take Second Place For Fraternity

Leo May Batters Shot Put And Discus Records Monday

Alpha Kappa Phi fraternity, collecting a total of 31 points, took first place in the first of a series of two intra-mural track meets scheduled this spring. Preliminaries for this meet were run off Friday and finals were completed late yesterday afternoon.

Delta Tau Epsilon, starring Graham and Hunt, took second place with 25 points, and Alpha Gamma Rho with a tally of 24 took third. Theta Chi came a close fourth with 23 points.

May Breaks Records

Only two college records were broken during the two days of competition, and both of them by Leo May, senior three-letter man, at the final events Monday. Leo hurled the discus 129 feet and tossed the heavy shot 40 feet to break an inter-fraternity record in each event.

Cecil Graham and Carmen Hunt, freshman representatives of Delta Tau Epsilon, ran each other a close race for individual point honors. Graham garnered 13 points by his individual effort while Hunt's total was 12. The pair together won second place in the meet.

The complete resume of the final events in the track and field competition is as follows:

Bob Lowe Announces Baseball Tourneys

No Extended Game Schedule Is Planned This Season

No extended schedule of inter-fraternity baseball games will be played this year, it was announced by Coach Bob Lowe after a meeting of team managers of the various competing groups held yesterday noon. An elimination tourney in the latter part of May will be held to decide the holder of the large silver trophy for 1931.

"An examination of the available playing dates, taken during the meeting yesterday, revealed the fact that a formal schedule would be an impossibility this year," Coach Lowe said. "The boys then decided that a two or three day tourney, with the elimination of the losers of the games, would be the fairest way out of the situation."

Coach Lowe, however, suggested that the various groups begin spring practice at once at the American national game and that each organization schedule informal games with other groups so that the batting and pitching eyes of all players be improved by actual playing experience.

Nine fraternities and the college YMCA are the entries in the 1931 inter-college baseball tourney.

FINDING A JOB

The finding of positions for the summer months is a problem that is bothering nearly every student on State campus at the present time. A little advice that was handed in to us would be a benefit to those seeking jobs.

We suggest that you make a list of all the jobs that you have had up to the present time, and a list of your special abilities—the things you know and do particularly well. Then make a list of all the firms that might use your talents and write them a letter telling them all about yourself.

The outcome will be gratifying and you will probably have five or six offers as one fellow did whom we know of. Jobs may be scarce this year but no matter how hard conditions are a good man is always in demand.

DUST AGAIN

The periodic dust storms that sweep the campus are nothing compared with the dirt that flies when cars pass down the main drag and shower pedestrians with dirt from the loose road bed.

For several years the Spectrum has advocated the paving or surfacing of the road but to no avail. Now we aske that the authorities have one of the college teams hitched to a sprinkler and water the road.

The dust ruins dispositions, clothes, buildings, grass, and reputation. Give us a sprinkler to settle the dust, please.

STUDENT OPINION

The man who handed out the opinion that this going to college is a soft job failed to understand his own words. He garnered his opinion from the various erroneous impressions so common at the present time. I like to prove things to the dear old people, and so I am going to try to prove the fallacy of the idea that attending college is like sleeping on a feather bed.

Now when we students entered college, it was with the memory of mother's goodbye ringing in our ears, and with her remark of adieu came the old time worn advice "be a good boy." I doubt very much if there is one student in the whole college who would throw mother down. Consequently, the student has the terrible task of getting an education and still being a good boy. Paradoxical, isn't it?

Being a good boy covers a multitude of sins, and getting an education includes a multitude of sins. Let me opine right here that the student who remains good while gathering an education is a mighty clever fellow. He also is a genius. The trouble in getting an education is not mainly the fooling of mother, but rather the correct interpretation of what a well rounded out education should include. The poor instructors seem to have idea that an education is acquired through books, and that means we students have to get educated in spite of the books that we have to wrestle.

In order to make education an easier process, we students have a crusade on our hands. We must convince the instructors that the education is of primary importance, and that going to school is merely secondary. Personally, I have no difficulty in getting educated now, and so the idea of this opinion is purely philanthropic. When I left home last fall, mother forgot to tell me to be a good boy. Excuse me while I try to get a little more education.

Goofy MacSnoof.

The average student at the Uniperity of Kansas has a lung capacity of 10 to 20 cubic inches larger than the standard set by various medical organizations. The standard capacity is from 200 to 210 cubic inches and the average capacity for Kansas students ranks at 233. The highest lung capacity recorded was 300 inches. These facts were brought to light recently by tests in the laboratory classes.

Haverford's Freshman class carried on the tradition laid down for it by the three classes preceding it, when it finished first in the 1930 Psychological examination given by the American Council of Education to 127 colleges throughout the country. The average of the class of 1934 was 233.73, almost 11 points better than that of the class of 1933.

We were very much chagrined and disgruntled about a week ago to find that in our absence, Tony Faber-sen, erstwhile marathon walker, golfer, racket wielder, Spectrum editor, Thespian, and lousy column writer as well, had dumped, under our column heading, a series of purported facetious remarks. Having nurtured, fostered, and watched with tears in our eyes our little column wax fat, yours truly was naturally a bit wroth. We maintain that the "Peepin' Pete" amounts to our personal signature and hence accordingly resent any promiscuous dumping of "filler" under our name. Therefore, we absolve ourself of all responsibility of the last alleged "column." Throw your posies and vegetables past maturity where posies and vegetables past maturity are due!

GREEN AND YELLOW FORCES DRILL FOR 1931 SPRING GAME

Finnegan And Lowe Draw Near Completion of Spring Tutoring

LACKING IN END MATERIAL Impregnable Wall Sought For Holding Back Big Ten Teams

The North Dakota State College spring football candidates have entered into their last week of training. This evening "Casey" Finnegan, head coach, and his able assistants will send the squad through their fourteenth practice session.

Much work will have to be accomplished during the time that remains, and the emphasis will be placed on preparing the men for the game which is to climax the close of the season.

Two squads will be chosen by the coaches and the teams selected from each squad will be known as the Green or Yellow team. These two picked teams will play a regulation game which will be held in the first week in May. A definite date has not yet been set for the contest.

One of the things that Casey had hoped to accomplish during the spring season was the grooming of a pair of ends. Thus far this has not been done. This will be one of the biggest jobs for the coaches to finish before the regular season starts next fall. The rest of the positions will be filled by capable performers and they will gain much more experience before the spring training sessions are drawn to a close.

"Casey" Finnegan's desires for the spring practices includes the moulding of a strong forward wall that will offer few openings to the Badger and Gopher gridders of the Big Ten Conference, the Kansas "Aggies" of the Big Six Conference, and Jackrabbit, Coyote, Sioux, and Morningside pigskin carriers of the North Central Conference, and to the Concordia players, teams that will meet the Bison next fall.

INTRA-MURAL GOLF IS NEW ADDITION TO STATE CAMPUS

Trophy Will Be Awarded To Winning Fraternity, Casey Says

The 36 hole qualifying round for the intramural golf tournament must be completed by the end of the week, according to Casey Finnegan who is in charge of the competition. The eight high men will enter a tournament for the intramural championship at the Municipal links.

The intramural golf competition is a new thing this year. A suitable trophy is to be awarded by the athletic department to the fraternity that scores the highest number of points. The campus champion will receive 5 points, the runner-up 3, and the two semi-finalists will receive 2 points toward the trophy award.

The high men in the intramural competition will take places on the varsity squad that will meet the University men some time the first part of May. A conference tournament is planned at Grand Forks during the loop track meet.

The loss of Paul Cook, state amateur champion, is expected to considerably weaken the Bison chances.

Candidates who have reported for practice include George Fairhead and Tony Faber, members of last year's team. Jack Danstrom, Freddy Anderson, Ed Crewe, and Bob Olson are other like prospects.

Score cards for the 36 hole qualifying event must be signed by Ralph Kingsrud, pro at the Municipal links, and another qualifier. Cards must be in the hands of Finnegan by Monday morning, May 1.

Tennis Trials Are Held This Weekend

Season Schedule Will Include Matches With North Central Teams

Tryouts for the North Dakota State tennis team will be held the latter part of this week, according to Casey Finnegan, director of athletics. Tony Faber is in charge of the net trials.

An attractive schedule is being arranged with two matches against the University of North Dakota and the conference tennis tournament at Brookings. Other matches are being planned.

An intramural tournament will reach its final stages during the annual all-college day when the finalists will meet on the college courts for the Bison championship. The event last year was sponsored by the Student Commission and was won by Chuck

Callinan who is not in school this year.

Individual medals will be awarded by the athletic department to the finalists in the campus tournament.

Candidates who have reported include: John Dixon, Tony Faber, Myron Wurdeman, Birch Horton, James Konen, Zane Taylor, Paul Faber, Clarence Swallers, and Felix Adams.

ENGINEERS CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Engineers Club Thursday, April 30, at 7:30 p. m. A film will be shown entitled "Dynamic America." The main business of the evening will be discussing of plans for open house. Lunch will be served after the meeting. All engineers are invited to this session.
