Crime Wave Exists Says Dean Of Men

College Authorities Meeting Situation With Hired Patrolman

"With the general unemployment situation prevalent in the country there exists a crime wave that is being felt in every part of the United States," was the statement made by Dean I. W. Smith yesterday.

"Theft is probably the most noticeable offense that is found. This is perhaps due to the lack of unemployment. But theft and holdups are not the only offenses that are being committed. Other crimes are also prevalent due perhaps to crime suggestion as spread by the press of the country.

"This situation on the campus has been comparatively mild when we consider what has happened all over the country. The school authorities, however, are aware of tendency toward crime and have hired a policeman to patrol the grounds.

Adrian Fox, former student and campus "strong man" is fully armed and is ready to cope with any situations that may arise. He is on duty from 6 P. M. till 2 A. M.

Students interested in marksmanship should report to Captain Conmy as soon as possible. Preliminary matches will be staged on Jan. 12.

All fraternities and sororities will kindly see to it that a representative number of snapshots of their group is turned into the Bison office, room 120, Science Science Hall, on or before January 15.

(Signed) Elene Weeks.

BISON WILL FEATURE ARCHITECTS' DRAWINGS

An innovation in the fraternity and sorority sections of the 1932 Bison will be introduced this year when architects' sketches of fraternity and sorority houses on the campus will be included in the layout of these pages. These sketches are secured through the cooperation of Prof. Homer Hutton, and will be drawn by members of the senior class in architecture, Chet Comeau, Alf Skaret, and Robert Stinson. According to Elene Weeks, editor of the book, the staff is confident that these sketches will add greatly to the attractiveness of the pages.

Organizations Editor Announces Schedule For Group Pictures

Yearbook Editor Makes Plans For Taking Photographs Jan. 13 To Feb. 4

Announcements of the schedule for group pictures for the 1932 Bison were made today by Clark Fredrikson, organizations editor of the yearbook. The schedule opens at the Owl studio on the evening of Tuesday, January 13, and the photographic work is to be completed by Wednesday, February 4.

It is requested that girls and men in the organization pictures wear dark colored clothing in order that black may be registered on the photographic plates, according to Mr. Fredrikson. Experiences of the past few years have shown that the uniformity in color adds much to the attractiveness of the pictures.

Several changes will be made this year in which the Saddle and Sirlin, Atelier Chat Noir, Chemists' and Engineers' clubs will have their pictures taken in the Owl studio instead of an outdoor picture taken at the school. However, in the case of the Pharmacy Club, the group picture will be taken outdoors at the school at a date not yet announced.

The schedule for the group pictures is given below. Organizations not listed are requested to call Clark Fredrikson for their scheduled group (Continued on Page 4)

Twenty-Three Courses Offered During Term In Night School Work

College Professors To Instruct Says Head Of Extension Classes

Twenty-three separate college courses in evening classes beginning January 12, are announced for the winter term at North Dakota State College by the department of College Extension Classes. The majority of them will not be held at the college but at the Central high school and at the College "Y".

Instruction in languages is being stressed in the winter term evening classes. For the first time in the history of the school the Norwegian language will be taught. Two classes, under A. I. Johnson, are Beginning Norse and Survey of Scandinavian literature. Elementary and Advanced German will be under the direction of F. W. Werking. Dr. Leon Metzinger, head of the college foreign languages department, will instruct Elementary and Advanced French class groups.

Prof. Kenneth Kuhn will head a class in Survey of American Literature. T. W. Johnson will instruct in news writing. Economic History of the United States from Prof. C. A. Severinson and Psychology under Prof. P. J. Iverson completes this list of classes all to be held in class rooms in the Central high school.

Mathematics, including College Algebra or Trigonometry, and Business Mathematics under I. W. Smith and Accounting 1 and 2 under E. W. Pettee, and Business Economics taught by Dr. A. F. Hunsaker head the list of subjects to be taught at the "Y". There will also be courses in Salesmanship and Business Correspondence to be held in that place.

Prof. A. G. Arvold will hold a class in Extempore Speech at the Little Country Theatre each Monday evening. Argumentation and Public Speaking will be taught by George Soule. P. J. Iverson will hold a class in School Administration at Science Hall.

Other courses offered but as yet unassigned are Window Decorating and Show Card Writing, Shorthand and Typewriting Review, Sociology. Complete information on these classes and time can be procured from T. W. Thordarson, head of the Extension Classes department.

All those interested in starting or entering a team in the "Y" basketball league should have the final name of the club and the list of players in at the Y office by the 1st of February.

PUBLICATION BOARD LETS BISON CONTRACT

The contract for the printing of the 1932 Bison was awarded to the Knight Printing Company of Fargo at a meeting of the Board of Publications held recently. This company has printed the yearbook for the past several years, and has proven itself competent. The Minneapolis Bureau of Engraving, under a three year contract, is again in charge of the engraving for the annual, while the Owl Studio of Fargo, handles the photography.

Hartley Eckstrom Is First On Honor Roll With 96.8 Average

Panimon Places Second With 95.8; Grove, Heilman, Zwerg Rank High

With highest average made by an undergraduate at State College, Hartley Eckstrom led the honor roll for the fall term with 96.8. He is a Sophomore in chemistry and engineering.

Jeanette Panimon, Sophomore in science and literature, placed second with 95.8. Earl Grove, a Sophomore pharmacy student, was third with 95.7. Constance Heilman, a Freshman in science and literature, was fourth with 95.2.

Henry Zwerg, Senior in architecture, was fifth with 94.5.

Henry Presler, Senior in science and literature, and Genevieve Skinner, a Freshman in science and literature with an average of 94.4 tied for fifth place. Helen Jensen, Sophomore in education, with 94.3; Madeline Kaiser, Sophomore in education, with 94.2; Ragna Bakk, Freshman in science and literature, with 93.9, completed the college honor roll.

Smaltz Heads Preps Victor Smaltz, Senior in the high school department, lead the honor roll with an average of 93.0.

The following prep school students also made the honor roll: Frank Hoppin, Rolla Briscoe, Carl Bystrom, Joseph Glaser, Ardy Hansen, Clair B. Hansen, Amy Clayton, Margaret Jquist, and Roberta Stanley.

Addition Made To State Post Office

A new addition, which more than doubled the space in the North Dakota State College post office, was completed here during the holidays. This addition and the installation of a new tier of mail boxes was brought about at the recommendation of John Pannebaker, postmaster at the station.

This improvement had become a very necessary one due to the steady increase of business at the station each year, according to Mr. Pannebaker. That much student and school mail is handled through this department is evident from the fact that last year's receipts from the sale of stamps, government envelopes and from the general postage receipts totalled over $12,000.

SINGER ENTERTAINS AT CONVOCATION TODAY

Margot Hayes, nationally known concert artist, presented her Symphony Ensemble, at convocation this morning at 9:40. The program was full of life and enthusiasm covering a wide range from dashing Spanish airs to lilting light opera and concert numbers. Pleasing variety was offered in a scene of the "Gay Nineties" with the costumes and melodies reminiscent of that period.

Miss Hayes is a pupil of M. Bigalli, conductor of the Chicago Civic Opera, Herman DeVries, famous coach, and Mme. Anne Janzer famous voice builder.

EDWIN BOOTH DRAMATIC CLUB

The Edwin Booth Dramatic Club will hold its monthly luncheon in the Lincoln Lob Cabin, Wednesday noon, January the fourteenth. Plans will be made for the selection of the winter term play of the club, at that meeting. Dates for try-outs will be announced at a later time.

Group Tryouts For Bison Brevities Are Planned On Jan. 17

Presler To Announce Schedule For Act Trials Held In Y. M. C. A.

CUSTOMARY AWARDS MADE TO WINNERS

Show Includes 3 Large Men and Women Acts and 4 Small Skits

Beginning the rounding out process of the 1931 edition of the Bison Brevities, the various group try-outs will be held Saturday afternoon, January 17th. The schedule will be announced next week, it is stated by Henry Presler, general manager of the show.

The Y. M. C. A. has offered its reading room to Blue Key, and try-outs will be held there.

In carrying out the elimination room will be left for three men's large acts, three women's large acts, and four small acts. Time limits for the acts will be as follows: large acts, 12 to 15 minutes, and small acts 6 to 8 minutes. This time limit is concerned with the try-outs only as the final time limit for the presentation will be decided upon after the program has been definitely arranged.

As in the years past, Blue Key will offer prizes for the superior acts. The best men's large act, the best women's large act and the best small act will be given an award. The announcement of the award as to type will be made at a later date.

Dugout Improvements Made Over Holidays

Score Board Installed To Show Conference Standings

Because of recently completed improvements and additions the college "Y" Dugout is even more attractive than before vacation as a gathering place for North Dakota State College students, according to George Probstfeld, director of publicity for the "Y".

The Dugout was redecorated a short time ago using the color scheme of green on the lower part of the walls and a lighter shade on the upper. A new ping pong table was added to the regular equipment of the Dugout and is said to have as much popularity as the pool and billiard tables, which are also a part of the Dugout.

A new feature added to the Dugout which should prove of interest to many students is an illuminated sports score board which will show the standings and scores of teams in the North Central conference, fraternity and YMCA basketball leagues. Besides giving a timely report of these games of local interest, the "Y" group will also post scores of college games of national interest.

Besides the Dugout radio, a reading table with daily newspapers has been put in for the entertainment of the students, who choose to make the Dugout a place for gathering and meeting their school friends.

KAPPA PSI

Mat LeFor is on a trip through the western part of the state with the debate squad of the college.

Kenneth Sample, Erling Tangen and Herbert Bodmer moved into the fraternity house this week.

Glenn Roberts who spent his vacation at Mott, N. Dak., returned on Tuesday to resume his studies.

Arthur Sanger will not attend school this term as he has accepted a job at a drug store at Deer River, Minn.

There will be a meeting of the Pep club in the armory on Monday at 4:00 p. m. All members be present.

Cy Marks, Pres.

The Newman Club announces that the regular meeting will be held next Sunday January 11th at the K. C. Hall, at 5:00 P. M.

MEMBER NORTH CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Senior Staff, women's honorary service organization, is sponsoring a party this evening in the armory. Their purpose is to create a better college spirit through the promotion of dances.

The series of parties planned by the group will be distinguished from the cadet hops and the all-college affairs that have been traditional on the campus for some time. A new name will be selected when the guests gather tonight.

In the past the Senior Staff have been somewhat handicapped in their endeavors to serve the campus because of the lack of funds. The Senior Staff calendar which listed all the events taking place on the campus was one of their successful projects during the fall term.

This group of campus women have sensed the need for more college dances and have gone ahead and met the problem. Their solution is a party.

With the beginning of the new term there are several things that are holding our attentions. Bison Brevities will be occupying the center of the stage for many of the campus groups. Tryouts are scheduled for a week from Saturday.

Over the holidays it has been practically impossible for the group managers to do much work on their acts. Many of the vaudeville directors make their homes out of the city and were not able to follow the advice of the directing board.

There will be many who will be disappointed when the results of tryouts are announced. The judges will choose the acts that they think will contribute the most to the unity of the show.

The Brevities are one of the biggest undertakings of the winter term and cannot be successful without the cooperation of every organization entering.

Yesterday Coach Saalwaechter and his tired band of Bison warriors returned to school after a strenuous trip through the middle west. They did not win many games but they did develop themselves into a unit that will go far in conference competition.

We will be watching the State basketball with interest and are looking forward to one of the most successful seasons since the days of Coach Dewey whose great team of 1925 swept all opposition before them.

The fact that the college officials have taken steps to protect the students who are on the campus at night is worth notice. Contrary to a general belief, the administration takes an acute interest in the welfare of the students and in this case in particular are taking a much needed precaution.

As Dean Smith stated the crime wave of the country is more or less of a suggestive nature occasioned by undue publicity given by the daily papers.

We feel that any night prowlers will have their hands full if they run into the campus policeman. The precaution taken is justified and brings a peace of mind to many doubtful parents.

Members of the North Dakota State rifle squad have begun preliminary practice this week in preparation for the coming rifle season, according to Captain J. B. Conmy, coach.

A number of team men from last year are already donning their shooting jackets in this preparation toward keeping up the fine marksmanship record set up by the college rifle teams of the past three years.

Captain Frank M. Ross, who coached rifle teams from North Dakota State to three national championships, will aid Captain Conmy in the instruction and advice to the candidates. Captain Ross was unable to take the position as rifle coach this year because his term of teaching at the college will be completed before the close of the rifle season.

Student Opinion

NEW YEARS RESOLUTIONS

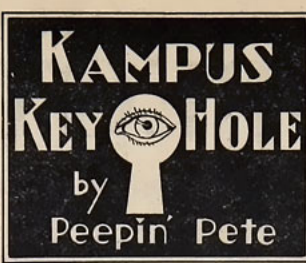

This is a good time to make resolutions. More or less are made at this time, but rather less than more are carried out. It shall not discourage us. What are the special aims we wish to accomplish in college life this year?

As students, we aim to get the most out of college life, to enjoy the invigorating air of our country. We aim to be more friendly and make more friends. We also endeavor to have a good time. How would you like to go roller-skating at the old armory? We wouldn't have to wait for money to remodel it into some sort of social-gathering house. In turn, we give the college our heartiest support and our good will. These are the student's resolutions.

Our project would not be complete unless the faculty joined us. They have. It has been decided to give grades according to what a student knows, regardless of whether he belongs to a Greek-name association or not. There are fortunate ones who get grades like some people get positions—by political pull. This tendency is not so good, and we are glad to learn that war has been declared on it.

The Bookstore has resolved to make only 25% on the goods it sells thus cutting the profit 75%. It has resolved not to sell a penny-worth of paper for a nickle any more. Texts won't be changed henceforth for the sake of making money. After this you can buy things as reasonable at the Book-store as at any other place.

Of course more resolutions could be made and no doubt are; but these are sufficient to concentrate our strength upon. If they are fully realized—as everybody wishes—we have done a great step towards a real college spirit. One that is sound through its very core.
J. N. B.

Just after a nice ol' holiday with nothing to do but eat and eat, play bridge until the wee sma' hours, and just nacherally make friends all round once more its sort of hard to get all excited about something again. Of course, the writer could pick on some of the time-worn objects of ridicule—things that just won't be rectified, no matter how much good natured razzing is directed at them, but with the onslaught of tempering time and the approach of the formidable Foolish Forties we grow complacent and join the literati. With the Fall term away and the football ballyhoo choked off until next year, don't we all like to kinda hibernate like the animals and just let the unemployment situation and the frantic bawlings of after-Christmas sales go plum hang?

But the editor will have none of this. "Avaunt! Avaunt!" he speaketh. "Gird up thy loins! Snoopeth! Peepeth! Seeketh all the low-down scandal thou cans't. Razz! Razz! and more razz I desirg. Yea, verily though thou be in Heywood Broun humor go peruse von H. L. Mencken volume and produceth something of scurilous bombast." So you can see, dear kind gentle reader, how a columnist feels about such things. For instance the militant Heywood Broun thought pugilist Tunney was an awful wet smack, (and said so in his column) but after meeting the lad, Columnist Broun said all sorts of nice things about Gene, and invited him over to have tea some time when Polly (That's Gene's wife) would let him.

One thing though. It's about the elections at the N. D. U. Now, why can't people be nice and friendly to each other and pat each other on back and say "Howja like to borrow ten bucks from me" and things like that? Every year at the down-river school they have the so-called "elections" at which time everybody there gets "hot and bothered" about somethin'. Of course 'lections to class offices don't mean anything in college as everybody knows 'cept t' be able to say "Yaas!

He's the choregus man, dontcha know. I happen to be a fraternity brother of his." This last sentence spoken with the nasal intonation of the haute monde. Oh yeah, sez you, Reading further from the Dakota Student we learn that the titian-haired phantom, none other than "Red Jarrett and a chap named Billgmeier, rival leaders of the two political parties up there spent many sleepless nights guarding the ballot box for fear of "stuffing" possibilities. They just can't get over the Thanksgiving turkey complex we guess. We might almost expect them to break into the well known gag of "My pappa kin lick yer pa!" etc.

We "thunked" and "thunked" as to why the boys and girls from the U go in for elections in such a big way, but we give up. Mebbe their "student government" is different from most "student governments" in some colleges (plural of college) we know, and do something beside getting their pictures in the year book. Mebbe it's just an old custom al espagnol. Maybe its Love—but that's just a phonograph record. Mebbe the whole thing is sort of a "breather"—filling in the slack time between the Nodak perennial football season and the basketball hysteria.

This 'lection business is funny. Before it everybody is "whoopin" and hollerin' like so many bims at a henparty. After it's over all us bourgeoisie settle down and let Hoover bring us prosperity.

As the soothsayer would say his sooth or as the two Black Crows would say, "Who cayhs 'bout that. W-w-what's he want with it aftah he's caught it?" Who cares who wins the elections? Anyway it's interesting to note what faithful, interested voters the sovereign state of North Dakota is going to have coming from the N. D. of U.

Peepin' Pete.

BISON PUCKSTERS TO CONTEST TWO TEAMS IN WEEK-END FRAYS

Valley City And Detroit Lakes Hockey Teams Play Here

VARSDITY GAME MAY BE CLOSE CONTEST

McGrath, Van Vorst, Stefferud, Blakeslee, Stewart, Jahr Will Start

Two games are lined up for North Dakota State College hockey teams the latter part of this week, according to Captain J. B. Conmy, Bison hockey coach. Both the freshman and the varsity squads are going to have an opportunity to test their mettle against visiting pucksters at the two games this week.

The varsity squad, still smarting from a defeat in the hands of the Moorhead Comets in a holiday season game, will play the Detroit Lakes Blue-Jays at the Island Park rink, Saturday night at eight. The freshman group play their first game of the season with the visiting Valley City high school puck-chasers this afternoon at four at the college rink.

While several changes may be made at the time of the game, the varsity line-up will most likely consist of: McGrath, center; Blakeslee, left wing; Stefferud, right wing; Jahr, left defense; Lyle Stewart, right defense; Van Vorst, goal; Comm, Knight, Acheson, S. Thompson, C. Olson, Larsen, and Kilbourne, spares. Of the freshman Lemke at goal and Lund and Erickson at the wing positions have shown promise of being strong units in that squad when it meets the visiting Hi-liners.

The Detroit Lakes Blue-Jays is known as a strong independent team. It consists of several former University of Minnesota and Detroit Lakes high school hockey stars and it has already chalked up an early season victory in a Christmas Day game against Mahanomen. Saturday's contest promises to be a strongly contested one.

SPORT SPROUTS

By Bill Champlin—Sports Editor

John Bond one of our erstwhile boxers has already bowed to his first crowd this season although he was not in the ring. It all happened one Sunday night during vacation at a Young Peoples meeting at his church. Bond was the leader of a debate squad. After being introduced to the audience he arose, shook hands with himself in regular boxer style, bowed and then blushed. The arena was not roped in.

And speaking of bowing, Saaly and his basketeers should be quite adept at the art by now for they have bowed to everybody but the Army. But then, the Bison have been playing some pretty fair teams on their trip and with the continuous switching of players from one position to another, Saaly has been building a formidable bunch of trackmen or basket-ears or something. Anyway, by the time the conference season is here the Bison will be much in evidence. What do we care if they lose games to the champions of all the midwest loops in preseason contests.

What is our football team coming to? The dear old grandpapa of them all, Cylons Borrow, has gone from worse to worser. Not satisfied with a position as City Club dispenser in a downtown cafe he now masquerades as a "Ding Dong Daddy" from some hayseed joint. Maybe he would make a better ding dong daddy than a football player at that, which would have to be darned near perfect.

Ace Cecka the sport editor on the University Student has compiled a bit of interesting information regarding the past football season which should be of interest to State College students.

Notre Dame 7; Army 6.
Army 6; Navy 0.
Ohio State 27; Navy 0.
Michigan 0; Michigan State 0.
Michigan State 17; N. D. State 11.
Nodaks 14; N. D. State 7.
These scores indicate the following: Notre Dame is one point better than the Army.

Notre Dame is 7 points better than the Navy.
Ohio State is 20 points better than Notre Dame.

Michigan State is 33 points better than Notre Dame.

N. D. State is 27 points better than Notre Dame.

And of course the Nodaks are 34 points better than Notre Dame which makes them national champs.

Now wouldn't that have been a nice story for the U. if poor Ace hadn't used the wrong score for Michigan State against the N. D. State? Substitute the correct 19 for the incorrect 17 and you will find hat Michigan State grabs all of the honors.

At any rate the upstate editor is pretty clever.

The calendar tells us that the basketball season has been under way but a short while, but dear mother nature seems to have her eye on another sport for she has sent us little snow and quite a good deal of warmth. It is queer that we haven't seen the Kappa Phis playing one-old-cat over by the library.

SAALYMEN RETURN FROM EAST TRIP

Winning Combinations Tried As Bison Win But Three Contests

Twelve North Dakota State College basketball players and their coach, Leonard T. Saalwaechter, arrived at their home campus last night after a strenuous holiday invasion which carried them through Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois.

Although the Bison dropped seven of the ten games played during the 2500 mile trip, Coach Saalwaechter feels that the team showing was the most successful of any held in the past five years. Victories were an incidental part of Saalwaechter's plan. The showing of the individual players under fire and the constant shifting of positions in order to mold the best combination to face the North Central conference teams in the season just starting were the reasons for the long jaunt into the neighboring states.

The Bison quintet made the best showings against Milliken, DePaul and Wesleyan colleges, according to their coach. The Illinois Wesleyan Titians won a 26-23 victory over the State College team in a desperate last minute rally after a furious game in which the Bison led at the half with a 14-9 tally. Before a capacity crowd of 5000 the DePaul Blue Demons conquered the Bison quintet with a 31-23 score although a spirited attack in the second half by McDonald and Olson threatened to turn the scoring odds. The Bison made a great showing in the game with Milliken University, turning in a well earned margin over that touted Illinois team.

The first game of the trip, with Virginia Junior College, starred Jimmy Berdahl, who led his teammates with five counters to a safe victory margin. At Superior, Wisconsin, a slippery, newly oiled floor turned what might have been a fast game into a tumbling, slipping embroglio. The Superior Normal Yel-lowjackets tallied a 34-28 win by making numerous long shots, making only two of the baskets from a position within the foul zone. George Fairhead and Viv McKay led the Bison with their steady floor work and accurate shooting.

Before the four game invasion of Illinois the squad split into two groups, one contesting against the Owatonna independent squad, the Joesten Trophies, led by the former Bison cage captain, Bobby Hahn, and the other composed mainly of sophomores playing the Litchfield Ghosts at Litchfield, Minnesota. Led by the stellar performing Hahn the Owatonna quint won with a 31-25 score. George Fairhead, who flipped in four field goals, a free throw for nine points, and Walt Olson, also starring with three field goals and a free throw, led the Bison scorers. The Litchfield Ghosts were swamped in a deluge of baskets by the sophomores. Weir, giant center for this squad starred with eight baskets to his credit while Arthur with six baskets and a free throw and McDonald were close seconds for the honors. Leo Thomasson, the only Junior on the squad, featured with his guarding which checkedmate time and time again the attempts of the Litchfield players to sink the leather sphere. goals.

In setting the third team in the first half of the St. Mary game, at Winona, Minn., the Bison coach found his team trailed 16 to 6 at the end of that period. The first squad after being inserted at the second half badly outplayed the Winona squad but were unable to break down the large lead tallied in the first part of the game. Weir contributed seven points and McDonald contributed six to the Bison total of 18, which was three under that of the St. Mary team.

Wednesday night, tired from numerous games and constant traveling, the North Dakota State College bowed to St. Thomas Academy in a close game of in which the score was 27-25.

With eight sophomores and four juniors forming the squad which made the long journey, Coach Saalwaechter early realized that experience was the thing most needed by his team. The skill and fight demonstrated by his team during the many games under various conditions and many handicaps has been very gratifying, according to the Bison basketball mentor.

TUMBLERS WILL BUY BIG EXHIBITION MAT

In a meeting of twenty-four students interested in tumbling held in the gymnasium below the new dormitory, Wednesday afternoon, it was decided by the group to band together in the purchase of a new exhibition tumbling mat.

The boys, under the direction of Meredith Mattingly, have been working throughout the fall term on acts that may be exhibited at one of the basketball games this term. The tumbling will be held every afternoon in the dormitory gymnasium starting the first part of next week.

YWCA Cabinet Holds Business Luncheon In Ceres Yesterday

Dress Exchange Held Twice A Week Is Decision Of Board

Activities of the Y. W. C. A. for this term were resumed at a cabinet luncheon meeting held Thursday in Ceres Hall dining room.

At this time the cabinet decided that a dress exchange for women will be held two days a week in Ceres Hall under the direction of Eleanor Johnson, finance chairman.

Women members of the faculty will assist with the exchange which is open to Fargo residents as well as college women. The only restrictions are that the clothes must be in good condition and thoroughly cleaned.

"By limiting the buying in this exchange to college women exclusively a great service will be offered the girls," according to Mrs. Teet, Y. W. C. A. secretary.

January 14 is the date set by the cabinet for the selection of an honorary Freshman Commission by Mrs. Teet with the assistance of Jane Canniff, chairman of the Big Sister movement; Naomi Aplan, chairman of the Hostess committee; and the several chairmen of the Interest Groups who are as follows: Jeanette Hooper, poetry and literature; Margaret Dadey, dramatics; Evelyn South, etiquette; Dorothy Chard, music; Frances Hedner, hiking; Lorrissa Sheldon, bridge; Alpha Knight, dancing; and Ruby DeOtte, handicraft.

The commission is an innovation on this campus and due to this fact the membership will not be limited at this time, but additional elections will be made during the year.

Other business included the placing of the work on rituals under the direction of the membership committee and the organizing of a new committee on World Fellowship with Amy Oscarson as chairman. Edna Sullivan will act as chairman of the program committee formerly known as the committee on discussion.
