BALL CONFIDENT OF SUCCESSFUL PARTY

Tickets Go On Sale After
First Of Year; Says
Lonsbrough

The 1931 Military ball will be held on Friday, Jan. 23, according to Curt Ball, manager, representing Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, sponsor of the formal. The ballroom of the Elks temple will be the scene of the party.

Tickets for the formal are in the hands of Cy Lonsbrough and arrangements are being made for their distribution.

"We sold nearly 200 tickets last year, but that mark is going to be shattered before the night of the big party. Tickets can be secured immediately after the Christmas vacation," stated Lonsbrough.

Setting to Surprise
The setting for the affair will not be revealed until after the holidays, according to Bob Carlson, in charge of decorations.

"The decorations will be unlike anything ever attempted at this school. My committee is working daily to insure a finer party than has ever been held by Scabbard and Blade," replied the decoration technician.

"I feel that the whole fraternity will leave nothing undone in making plans for the party. We feel confident that we will manage one of the finest social affairs seen here in many years," concluded the prom manager.

CARRICK'S WORK APPEARS IN STATE BULLETIN NO. 29

Giving the analysis of 15 points listed under 15 brands of this commercial product and supplementing this analysis with a glossary, the work of Dr. L. S. Carrick, dean of chemistry at N. D. S. C., and C. S. Ladd, chemist of the oil and paint laboratory of the State Regulation department now appears in bulletin 29 by R. O. Baird, state commissioner and chemist of Bismarck.

Since it is a state law that all paint retailed within the state must have the formula and the percentages of the components on the label, the glossary consists of the terms used in paint formula which appear on the labels.

The value of paint components is based upon the tests which are applied to the paint containing them. Work of this nature has been conducted at State college in the preparation of the pamphlet.

A check made by T. Worden, Johnson, instructor in journalism, indicates that 261 of the 367 stories were published in newspapers throughout the northwest.

The Spectrum published 189 news stories, the Fargo Forum 49, College Press Service 12, and miscellaneous outlets 11. Seven of the 49 Forum articles appeared on the front page while the remainder were scattered throughout the issues. Those news stories of general and widespread interest were sent out thru the College Press Service, reaching 200 country weeklies and 8 dailies in North Dakota, 7 dailies in the Twin Cities, and 56 farm journals published in the north central states. The miscellaneous 11 appeared in the Moorhead Daily News, Hitterdal Standard, and the Associated Press.

Pioneer Tells Of College Location

Fargo Given Preference Over
Valley City In Site
Choice

Just how this college was located in Fargo instead of Valley City in 1890—was recently related by Smith Stimmel of Fargo, one of the members of the last Dakota Territorial legislature.

At that early day legislation a bill was introduced to locate the Agricultural college at Valley City. Mr. Stimmel immediately introduced a bill to locate the college at Fargo. As North and South Dakota were one territory, there was considerable trading of votes, between the two districts, in regard to the placing of local institutions. By the efforts of a Valley City combine with the southern district votes, a bill was passed to locate the college at Valley City. Mr. Stimmel being president of the council, was in duty bound to sign the bill, although opposed to it. So he sent to Fargo and had John D. Benton, a Fargo attorney and close friend of Governor Church, to come to Bismarck to try to induce the governor to veto the bill, which he was successful in doing. And there were enough votes in the legislature to sustain the governor's veto.

Mr. Stimmel gave as his reasons for considering Fargo the better location—the geographical setting and also the fact that section 36—of Fargo township—which was set aside for school purposes—was adjacent to Fargo.

60 WOMEN PREPARING STANDARD BREAKFASTS

Sixty girls are participating in the 30 standard breakfasts which are prepared this week in the foods laboratories, with Miss Hazel Thomas, instructor, in the Home Economics department, supervising.

The girls are divided into groups of four, two preparing and serving the meal, while the two observe and note the points for criticism. Their aims are the saving of time, saving of energy, and minimum cost, but a meal well balanced and correctly served. "A meal may be properly balanced and nutritious, but if it is uninteresting and not properly served the meal is a failure," says Miss Thomas.

Dean Bales Returns From Capitol Trip

Studies Research Methods In Big Eastern Cities
Factories

Dean Alba Bales has recently returned from a meeting in Washington attended by representatives in Home Economics, Mechanic Arts, and Agriculture in the land grant colleges of the 48 states.

Problems such as curricula making, research work, adult education, and child training were discussed by special committees.

Miss Bales also attended the White House conference on child health and protection called by President Hoover. Introduced as "the wisest friend of the children of America", President Hoover said in his opening address: "We approach all problems of childhood with affection. There is the province of joy and good humor. They are the most wholesome part of the race, the sweetest for they are fresher from the hands of God. Whimsical, ingenious, mischievous." In Chicago, Miss Bales studied research methods at the Hoover Mfg. Co., and in Cleveland at the Perfection Oil Stove Co., and National Electric Light association laboratory as preparation for her research work on fatigue and energy expenditure in the farm kitchen.

The winning play was interpreted by Bus Sheldon, Edna Sullivan, Anthony Faber, and Annabelle Knowles. "One Grain of Wheat", written and directed by Vivian Luther, received second place in the opinion of the audience. The cast included: Lester Wyman, Jack Thysell, Vivian Luther, and Cally Berrigan.

The three other plays presented were "Dream Clay" by Marguerite Jennings, "The Doones" by Clark Fredrikson, and "Rag Rugs" by Cally Berrigan.

Installment Plan Is Inaugurated By Bison

Owing to the general financial conditions among the upperclassmen of the State college, an installment plan of payment for the class pictures in the 1932 Bison has been inaugurated by Miss Elene Weeks, editor of the yearbook. By the new plan a student is able to pay $1 down to have his picture taken, and pays the balance of the customary $3 in two months installments. However, if the student fails to pay the remaining $2, he forfeits his right to a picture in the Bison.

The new plan is expected to aid the Classes Editor, Amos Wallum, in obtaining 100% results for the Classes Section. The installment system of payment begins Friday, Dec. 12.

Blue Key Surplus Aids Promotion Of Service Plans

EXECUTIVE STATES FINANCIAL POLICY

Vaudeville Officials Receive
Definite Salaries From Organization

Blue Key fraternity, national service organization and sponsor of the Bison Brevities, announced today through the executive committee, headed by President McGrath, that the final surplus proceeds netted from the annual shows will go into a fund to be used in the promotion of further service projects on the campus, and also in the gradual purchase of equipment designed to better the presentation of the all-college vaudeville from year to year.

In a statement made public today by this executive committee it was made known that experience gained with former productions had led to the adoption of a financial arrangement designed to carry out in detail the above program, which has also been followed in years past.

Guarantee Payment of Acts

"The success of the past editions of the Bison Brevities has led Blue Key to feel safe in guaranteeing to the accepted acts appearing on the program a stipulated amount," Mr. McGrath stated. "The small acts will be guaranteed the set amount of $25, and the large acts, the set amount of $50. The director and manager of the show, together with their assistants, are working on a definite salary. After the above amounts have been satisfied and all expenses paid, a definite amount will be set aside as a sinking fund to insure the future productions. Thus, any surplus can be put to the uses as outlined above."

In former years the surplus has gone to satisfy the necessary sinking fund. A start was also made in the purchase of equipment, as evidenced by the large electric sign built last year for the Brevities.

Two Trips Scheduled For College Debaters

Two trips are scheduled for the Debate team, which will be announced Dec. 24, according to Don Hay of the Public Discussion department.

The teams will leave Jan. 5, meeting Montana State at Bozeman on Jan. 12, with community debates at six different towns on the way.

The second tour will be made on the G. N. line running up to New Rockford and then down to Carrington, also including four other towns.

THREE CIVIL ENGINEERS VISIT FORKS CONVENTION

Raymond Gelnett, Gerald Rogness, and N. Nerdahl, three civil engineering seniors, accompanied by F. L. Weeks, attended the North Dakota Sewage and Water convention held at Grand Forks this week from Monday to Wednesday inclusive. The trip was made by auto, the party reaching Grand Forks about Monday noon and returning Wednesday evening. The highlights of the trip were the speeches heard at the convention, the banquet Tuesday evening given for those attending the convention and the inspection trip that was made Wednesday afternoon. On the inspection trip the State Flour Mill, the Grand Forks water supply system, and the beet sugar plant were visited and various engineering features noticed and discussed.

The separate members of the party were entertained at the houses of fraternities at the University during their stay in Grand Forks.

Seventy-one University of Indiana coeds have been granted permission to drive cars.

FAIR PUBLICITY

For weeks students at the University of North Dakota have been howling because the Minneapolis Journal failed to give them proper publicity in the Army game.

We, too, have something to howl about and we are going to howl plenty until the Fargo Forum gives us at least an even break in athletic writeups. We do not know how it happened but someone purposely set the names of the University men who were picked on the Forum's all-conference team Sunday in bold face capitals. Other members of the team were placed in light face.

We feel that it is not the editor's policy to do this but evidently there is someone in the head writing department who thinks that he is giving his school a boost when he does such a thing. As a matter of fact the University did deserve the men they placed on the team but the little by-play of a certain gentleman on the Forum staff brought nothing but ridicule from Fargo people.

Any newspaper, representing a metropolitan center, that claims to be the best paper in the state and then allows a thing to appear as in the Sunday edition has a weakness some place.

CERES HALL WOMEN HOLD XMAS PARTY

The girls of Ceres hall will hold their annual Christmas party Sunday night at 10:30 in the Ceres hall parlors. Christmas carols will be sung, gifts will be exchanged by drawing names, and as a feature of the evening all the girls will march through the halls and around the Christmas tree, singing carols.

The committees in charge are: Carols, Frances Plaggmeir, Mary and Josephine Weinberger, Marion I. Miller, and Dorice Bugge; tree trimming, Dorothea Gutman, Evelyn Williams, and Virginia Nordgren.

FIGHT LIGHTS

Bison fight fans will be interested to know that a fistic contest between the U. of S. D. boxers and N. D. S. C. fighters is being seriously considered by the coaching staff of both schools. It is planned to arrange the fistic bouts on the evening of Feb. 21, the night following the Coyote-Bison varsity basketball game at Fargo. Judging from reports, the fighters from the south state are no slouches and can thoroughly test the mettle of the well-known Bison pugilists. This contest with S. D. U., if carried on, may be the forerunner for a group of fights between the Bison group and the boxers from the larger colleges of the East.

News from the training camps indicate that Ulvin Schroeder, the big fellow whose "lethal wallop" gained him his title of "Killer", the year before last, is now training in preparation to do a battle royal with "Whispering Jim" Slattery. The "Killer" knocked several of the boys as pale as slices of lefsa in bouts during the 1929 season.

Some of the keenest competition will be evident in the lightweight fights this year. Bob Ward, champion, Johnny Molitor and Paul Wohlwend are working out regularly and each is a formidable contender for the fighting honors. Ward and Molitor have both shown great improvement in speed and strength through summer training.

Mert Brady, the giant freshman right tackle, has displayed a long, hard left and an aggressiveness that makes him one of the best heavyweight prospects in several years, according to boxing observers.

Lieut. Fay Smith, the boxing catch, admits he feels confident that the interest in boxing this year will exceed that of the year past, when the greatest boxing crowds in the history of the school were assembled in the Armory. Pre-season interest has been at a high point due especially to the fact that the boys who became well known for their fights last year are already back slugging the padded bags.

KAPPA SIGMA CHI
Mr. Christianson, Churchs Ferry, and Mr. Hewitt, in charge of 4-H club members, were guests at the house on Dec. 9.

Robt. E. Lee, Larimore, was a dinner guest at the house Tuesday.

Paul Kasson and Chet Wolla were dinner guests at the home of Prof. Al. Severson Wednesday evening.

Intramural sports at Ohio State are very popular, emphasizing boxing to the limit.

Freshmen at the University of Denver must attend football games in a body, and no first year man is allowed to escort a coed to the game.

C. His duty is to assemble and supervise the collecting of information of general interest on all plant diseases in the state.

Information obtained in this manner from this state and from other states is published in the Plant Disease Reporter and distributed by the department of agriculture about once each month. The last number of the Reporter now in press deals exclusively with smut in spring wheat.

Mr. Brentzel made extensive studies on smut in spring wheat in three North Dakota counties during the past summer. The appointment as collaborator is honorary.

YMCA BOOK EXCHANGE IS PROFITABLE TO STUDENTS

Profiting to the extent of $250 through selling second-hand books through the "Y" Book Exchange, students at N. D. S. C. are beginning to realize that the exchange is a worthwhile institution on the campus. It has enabled many students to purchase second-hand textbooks at a considerable saving, and it has performed a service to students wishing to sell their old textbooks, according to the "Y" secretary.

The "Y" Book Exchange is holding 18 checks for students whose books have been sold but who have not called for their money, according to Lawrence Erickson who is in charge of the book exchange. Students having checks at the "Y" and whose addresses are not known are urged to call for them before Jan. 1, 1931; if they are not called for before this date they will be cancelled, according to Mr. Erickson.

Double Header Slated For Bison With Wahpeton Science, Freshmen

Goodwin And Seitz Out Of Game With Sickness And Injuries

Two N. D. S. C. basketball teams will encounter foes in a doubleheader contest at the Armory tonight. The main game will be called at 8:30, and the preliminary contest will be at 7:30.

The Wahpeton Science school quintet will furnish opposition for the first string. Little is known of the strength of this aggregation, however, but it will be remembered that State eked out a 29-22 win over them last year. Coach Earl Bute of the SS has turned out a crack team each year and without a doubt they will furnish plenty of opposition for the Bison five. Only one letterman remains from their last year's team, but Gust Franke and Crouse, former Jamestown high school stars, have been showing up well. The Wahpeton attack will most likely be built around these two men.

Bad luck has again hit the Bison camp. Verne Goodwin, star forward from New Richmond, Wis., has been taken ill and will be kept out of practice for about a month. Blair Seitz, shifty guard from Mandan, who has been showing up exceptionally well, tore a ligament in his ankle at the Wednesday practice and will be confined to inactivity until the injured member heals. The loss of these two stellar players will be keenly felt in Friday's game.

The varsity second string will attempt to down the State college freshmen in the first encounter of the evening. This will be the first opportunity for the spectators to see the freshman squad in action and should prove a hotly contested game.

Student Opinion

A short time since, through our "Student Opinion" column, we took impression of the game that was exception to a "head" that the Fargo Forum used in reporting the annual football game between the teams of the State college and the University, a head that gave to many thousands that were not able to see the play an exception to a "head" that the Fargo and the members of its team.

Again we feel called upon to complain of this attitude of the local paper. In the issues of Saturday evening and Sunday morning in reporting the all-conference team, the Forum takes special pains to print in "caps" the names of those members of this mythical team who have been members of the University team, printing all other names in ordinary lower case type.

But more serious evidences of the prejudice of the Forum in favor of the down river school are of recent occurrence. Two or three years ago, a young fellow, broke and hungry, was caught as he was about to attempt to break into a downtown store. Within the same time another young fellow was caught "prowling" in a house of possibly questionable reputation in the downtown sections. In reporting these two happenings the Forum went into detail and particularly played up the college association of the men.

Recently three young renegades from the State University at Grand Forks were caught red-handed wrecking our fine new residence hall for men, a building of which we and the state can be particularly proud. Within the past week a moral pervert who has his degree from the State University at Grand Forks, faced with evidence that could not be denied, confessed to a series of prowlings, including the one against one of our sororities Thursday evening of last week, in which he practiced forms of almost unimaginable degeneracy, against which there would seem to be need that the whole community be warned, and the Forum glosses over both events, giving neither facts nor names nor associations.

We are tired of this sort of discrimination and we appeal to the business men of Fargo who make the Forum possible to insist on at least a square deal for Fargo's biggest social and economic asset.

And, while we are on the subject, we hope the authorities of this institution will insist on definite proof that all the steps that have been promised to relieve this community of any recurrences of this most recent outrage, have been carried out in detail before they consent to abandon legal recourse in the matter.
