Institute Members Have Full Program During Next Week

Many Features Planned For 4-H Achievement Meet
At College

300 BOYS AND GIRLS
COME FROM COUNTIES

Delegates Put On Special
Radio Program On Thursday

North Dakota 4-H club members who attend the twenty-first annual Achievement Institute here Dec. 9 to 12 should not find many dull moments in the four-day program which is now practically complete," according to H. E. Rilling, state 4-H club leader. "From the time registration opens Tuesday morning of the first day until late Friday when the Achievement Institute officers are elected by the delegates, interesting educational and recreational events will be going on most of the time."

The general lineup of the program calls for registration of delegates Tuesday morning, in the afternoon the Institute will officially open with various groups meeting. Wednesday, the annual club livestock show will be the main order of interest for the boys, with a foods club contest and home economics features as attractions for the girls. Wednesday night the annual banquet will be staged, in conjunction with which will be the girls' style show.

Thursday's program is largely centered around the livestock sale, a health contest and inspirational talks. Tours of the college and town are also scheduled. In the evening the delegates are to put on a special radio broadcast with themselves as talent. Friday the Institute will close, business sessions and the election of officers being the highlights.

Local 4-H club leaders who attend the Institute will find a special program arranged for them. Charles Measor, Tower City, and Margaret Conlon, Eckelson, who recently attended the International 4-H Training school in Springfield, Mass., will speak.

Thirty-five counties have selected delegates to attend the annual 4-H club session here. Officials in charge of the event anticipate an attendance of approximately 300 boys and girls.

College and State Distributed Soon

The first edition of "College and State", to be edited by Everett J. Wallum, new alumni secretary at North Dakota State college, has gone to press and will be ready for distribution about Dec. 16.

Approximately four thousand copies of the publication will be mailed out to alumni and former students, according to Mr. Wallum.

"College and State" gives a summary of the major activities at North Dakota State during the fall term. It reviews Homecoming, records marriages, births, etc., and is a general informant of important happenings at the college.

A feature which is new to "College and State" but comparatively old to the Spectrum is "Evolutions of Ebony Blott" which will appear in each issue of the alumni publication.

BUYING CLASS VISITS DOWNTOWN STORES

How to select and how to buy ready to wear, which includes coats, dresses, and hats, will be given Thursday evening by Mrs. Skoda, at deLendrecie's, to the class in economic buying.

Mrs. Skoda, who is the ready to wear buyer at deLendrecie's, will relate some of her personal experiences that she has had in buying at the marks in the East.

The economics class has made similar trips every week in order to gain first hand knowledge from experienced people.

ALPHA ZETA HONORS SIX UPPERCLASSMEN

Dacotah chapter of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity, honored one senior and five juniors by election to membership.

The newly elected men are: Linnell K. Johnson, Adrian, N. D., senior; and Irvin Dietrich, Mandan, Roderick McMillen, Bentley, Frederick Nunns, Wahpeton, Clarence Pace, Wolseth, and Clayton Quinild, Averill, Minn., juniors.

Novel Costumes Take Prizes In Annual Coed Prom Held In Armory

Erickson, Sheldon Lead Womens
Affair; Rustic Effect
Is Used

Novel costumes were awarded prizes in the annual Y. W. C. A. Coed Prom which was held Wednesday night, Dec. 3, in the State college armory, and was led by Miss Eleanor Erickson, social chairman of the "Y", and her partner, Miss Lorissa Sheldon.

A barn dance idea was carried out in the decorations by means of horse collars and bridles hung on the walls and bales of hay strewn over the floor. The girl's orchestra, under the direction of Dorothea Ward, were dressed in farmer costumes to complete the rustic effect.

Prizes were given to Margaret Dady and Irene Hudson, for the most original costume, to Katherine Knerr and Isabelle Barrett for the most fitting costume, and to Laverne Dickinson and Lorraine Sribbins for the funniest costume by the judges, Miss Misses Nancy Elliot, Adeline Lowry, and Elvira T. Smith.

The feature consisted of original readings by Annabelle Knowles, tap dancing by pupils of Frances Wright's School of Dancing, and musical selections by the Phi Omega Pi quartet. Misses Pearl Dinan, Matilda Thompson, and Mrs. I. W. Smith were the chaperones.

Six Plays Named For Original Presentation

Cast Now Working On Parts
In Amateur Drama
Production

Six plays are scheduled for the Little Country Theatre on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Casts for the original one act plays were announced today by Prof. A. G. Arvold, instructor of the class in production.

"Dream Clay" by Marguerite Jennings, "The Awakening" by Anthony Faber, "The Doones" by Clark Fredrikson, "Rag Rugs" by Cally Berrigan, "One Grain of Wheat" by Vivian Luther, and "So Different" by Annabelle Knowles were selected by the judges as the plays suited for production.

The casts working on each play are as follows: "Dream Clay" cast: Bill Grey, Edna Sullivan, Leila Kencke, Bus Sheldon, and Jack Bond. "The Awakening" cast: Bus Sheldon, Annabelle Knowles, Anthony Faber, Vivian Luther, and Paul Faber. "The Doones" cast: Cally Berrigan, Vivian Luther, Vivian Rice, Ward McCabe, and Bus Sheldon. "Rag Rugs" cast: Margaret Dadey, Cally Berrigan, and Clark Fredrikson. "One Grain of Wheat" cast: Lester Wyman, Jack Thysell, Vivian Luther, and Cally Berrigan. "So Different" cast: Annabelle Knowles, Edna Sullivan, Anthony Faber, and Bus Sheldon.

SIGS ENTERTAIN PREPS AT DANCING TONIGHT

Active members of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity will be hosts to the pledge group at an informal dancing party in the Fargo Chamber of Commerce building tonight. Hours for dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Wilbur Olson is in charge of arrangements.

Chaperoning the party will be: Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Carrick, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parrott, and Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam.

Annual Christmas Festival Is Called "King Has Come"

Five Tableaus Presented As Feature; Conley Plays
"Mary"

The Little Country Theatre Players at the North Dakota State college will present "The King Has Come", their 15th annual Christmas Festival, at 4 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 7. A. G. Arvold, head of the Public Discussion department, is the director of the presentation.

Five tableaus depicting the birth of Christ will be the feature of the program. Dorothy Conley will have the leading role, that of the Madonna. Mrs. Santa Claus, instead of her husband, will be present in the Lincoln Log Cabin. She will serve refreshments to the guests. However, Santa's workshop will be portrayed for the entertainment of the kiddies. This show will be an exhibit of all novelty toys and will show the children how to mend their broken dolls, jack-in-the-boxes, and trains.

Committee chairmen are: decorations, Myrtle Allen; pantomime, Eunice Conlon; promotion, Robert Sanderson; refreshments, Ethel Kraft; exhibit, Marjorie Beattie; and social session, Catherine Lindley.

Former Club Members Attend First Meeting

Fredrikson Elected President Of 4-H Organization On Campus

Twenty-five former 4-H club members who are students at the North Dakota State college attended the first meeting of that organization this year; held in the Lincoln Log Cabin, Tuesday evening December 2, at 8 o'clock.

Election of officers for the ensuing year were held in which Clark Fredrikson of Davenport was elected president, and Margaret Conlon, Eckelson, secretary. Following election, plans were made for social gatherings meetings which are to be held during the winter and spring terms of this school year. Arrangements were also made for active participation of 4-H club members on the campus at the Annual Achievement Institute to be held at the college on Dec. 9 through Dec. 13.

These college members are to lead and assist with inspection tours of the campus and meet arriving trains carrying 4-H club members and leaders from every county of the state.

Miss Pauline Reynolds, state club leader, was in attendance and told of some plans of the coming Achievement Institute.

Home-Study Course Proving Beneficial

"I wish every farmer knew about this service," one man wrote to T. W. Thordarson, director of practical agricultural and business home-study courses at the State college.

Other students of these courses have written, "I received a position at $3,600 per year"; "I have qualified as a cowtender"; and "I and my tenants have benefited by what we have learned." Such is the story revealed by hundreds of letters received by Mr. Thordarson.

This service is open to North Dakota people again this year. Available courses include poultry, advanced poultry, turkey raising, beekeeping, fruits, vegetables and trees, forage crops, small grains, dairy cattle, dairy products, sheep husbandry, swine husbandry, beef cattle, feeds and feeding, farm structures, farm management, dairy herdsmen and cowtender's course, business letter writing, bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand, high school agriculture, and floriculture.

Complete information about this farm and business home-study service may be obtained by writing the Department of Correspondence Courses, State College Station, Fargo.

HOME ECONOMICS GROUP ELECTS FIVE NEW WOMEN

Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary Home Economics fraternity, held election of five new members Wednesday, Nov. 25, in the chapter room at Ceres Hall. The following girls were elected to membership: Eulalie Huckle, Lidgerwood; Ruth Moser, Harvey; Margaret Conlon, Eckelson; Marguerite Jennings and Naomi Larson, both of Fargo. Pledge services will be held Wednesday, Dec. 10, at 8 p. m., at the Practice house. Initiation services will be held soon.

Candidates Report For Rifle Competition In National Trophy Quest

Conny Takes Coaching Post
From Ross; 1930 Hearst
Trophy Won

North Dakota State college began another campaign for national honors in rifle competition when 74 students reported for first instructions Monday afternoon.

In 1928, the North Dakota State college rifle team captured the National Intercollegiate Rifle Matches and repeated the performance again the following year. Last year's team completed a successful three years by winning the Hearst Matches. Besides a magnificent trophy, the five members composing the winning team were awarded gold medals and a trip to the nation's capitol, where they were entertained by President Hoover and William Randolph Hearst, owner of a chain of newspapers, and sponsor of the matches.

Captain Conny, regular army instructor on duty with the R. O. T. C. unit at the college will do the coaching. He has relieved Captain Frank Ross, who has developed successful teams, and who is himself an excellent shot, having a Distinguished Marksman's rating.

This season with 15 members of last year's squad returning to the range plus a group of 74 candidates which is expected to mount to 100 or more before the end of the week, Captain Conny expects another bright year on the firing range.

From Jan. 19 to 18, Annual College Sweepstakes will be fired. A squad of 20 men will be selected from the results of these matches to compete in the mail matches with other colleges during the period Feb. 2 to 14. The Corps Area Matches, the National Intercollegiate, and the William Randolph Hearst matches will be held from March 14 to April 11.

Zwerg, Shine Get Beaux Arts Mention

Contest Represents Best Showing Made By Architects,
Says Huntoon

At a recent contest of the Beaux Arts Institute of Design in New York City, Henry O. Zwerg and William King Shine, students in Architecture here, received mention on their problems, the subject of which was "The Monastic Temple". Charlotte N. Howland and Charles W. Zalusky also had good problems but they were ruled out of competition.

These students are all of the Senior Design class here. Their problems were criticized by Prof. Homer B. Huntoon and Paul W. Jones, instructors in the Architecture department. They say that this contest represents the best showing that the department has ever made in national judgments.

ALPHA GAMMA RHO

Ralph Dietrich returned from Min-dan Monday night.

Mervin Tuntland left Wednesday for Chicago where he will participate in the Student Judging contest of the Poultry show to be held in the Collesium. Alpha Gammo Rho had a stag party Thursday for all members of the chapter. Irvin Dietrich presented the Gamma Rhos with a box of cigars Monday night.

Prof. Huntoon To Direct Third Bison Brevities

Blue Key Show Heads Are Chosen At Meeting
Thursday

HENRY PRESLER IS GENERAL MANAGER

Both Men Well Qualified For Positions In State
Vaudeville

Homer B. Huntoon, professor of architecture, will direct the third edition of the Bison Brevities it was decided last evening at a meeting of Blue Key, honorary service fraternity. Henry Presles was chosen general manager of the show.

Huntoon had charge of the direction of the show last year which played to packed houses at the Fargo high school auditorium. He is the head of the department of architecture and has had considerable experience in directing amateur productions at Iowa State college. Last year he organized and directed the men's glee which gave several concerts during the year. He is honorary member of Blue Key.

Presler has had a variety of experience making him well qualified for the management of the show. During his college career he has directed a dance band which made trips to the Orient and Australia. Next year the band under Presler's direction will make a world tour. Henry edited the Spectrum in his junior year and is now a senior in the school of science and literature. He is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Blue Key, and Delta Kappa Sigma fraternities.

Prowler Discovered In Gamma Phi House

Girls' screams and shrieks were in order last evening when an unannounced and unknown man was found prowling around in the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house at 12:30.

The girls at the sorority house were preparing for bed on the second floor. As one of the girls passed the head of the stairs and glanced down, the face of an unknown man appeared at the foot of the lighted stairway. The shrieks which the girl gave, woke everyone who was asleep. As the cause of the fright was made known every girl in the house either screamed or fainted. The girl's house mother called the police who arrived on the scene and searched the house in vain. It is not known whether the prowler escaped while the police were being called or when they were searching another part of the house. It is believed the man made his entrance and escape through a window in the reading room, as foot-prints left by the snow on the rug marked the way.

After the search, calls were made to two of the fraternity houses, and three boys volunteered to remain at the house to lend their moral support, as the girls were in a hysterical condition.

Shortly after the police left, a watch was found lying in a chair near the window. The police were informed and they called for the watch which may serve as a valuable clue in the search for the unwelcome visitor.

Why the prowler entered the sorority house is still a mystery. At any rate his plans were upset by his early discovery.

ENGINEER'S HONORARY HOLDS SPECIAL MEET

Members of Tau Delta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, met in Dean Dolve's office Wednesday evening at 7:30. The meeting was called for the special purpose of considering Junior and Senior students eligible to honorary membership into the group. Dean Dolve, adviser of the organization, was among those present.

A final vote on newly elected members will not be made until sometime during the early part of the winter quarter.

"WEASEL WILLIES"

It is with interest that we will follow the development of the night club idea as embodied in a new venture called "Weasel Willies". The idea is to secure a fairly equal representation of men from each fraternity on the campus.

If the club proves a success it should be one of the binding factors between the fraternities. On this campus each fraternity rests in a self-satisfied smugness that is hard to penetrate. In some schools, representatives from other groups are asked to fraternity parties. This situation might well exist here. A better feeling and acquaintance outside of the select groups is bound to lead to cooperative rather than a partisan trend.

The night club idea if well worked out may do a lot of good. Able management and hard work however are necessary for its success.

MORE RALLY, PLEASE

Upon looking back on one of the most successful football seasons in the history of the school, we recall a very limited number of rallies. In other words the school failed to give the proper support to the team. This is not very gratifying when we remember that State college was once known for the spirit it possessed. In the past it was the policy of the roster kings to arrange for a rally whether or not the game was played on Dacotah field, but in the last two years, pep feats have been very conspicuous by their absence.

We are on the eve of the basketball season, where we hope to see a little more cooperation with the coaches than we saw during the grid season. The least we can do is to dedicate 40 minutes before the important games to the team. The basketball aggregation this year also promises to be one of the best in years, but before this can be a reality, whole-hearted support by the student body is necessary.

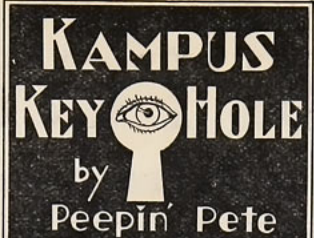

May we expect some pep feats during the season, or must we be satisfied to attend games to see a glorious team fight under the handicap of a listless group of rooters?

DESIGNERS QUALITIES LISTED IN HAT TALK

"Nerve, salesmanship and creative ability are the essential qualifications of a good designer," is the statement made by Mrs. Fort of the Fort Hat Shoppe, in an address given recently before the Home Economics class in Design at the State college.

In order to help the students in their ability to judge values and quality of the different types of hats, Mrs. Fort described several of her buying trips in the East. Two of the important points which she stressed in her talk were the necessity of accommodating your customers, and the value of a satisfied patron.

While Mrs. Fort described the hats showing the differences in quality, texture, and price, each student was allowed to examine the hats. Last year Mrs. Fort gave a demonstration on the same topic at the college.

"Rhodes Scholarships" grumbles Lorissa. "An' tonight we gotta dance without men. Ain't that swell?" Lorissa is a different type than Dorothy. For one thing she is a Kappa. The Kappas were installed a couple of years ago.

I smile sadly. "Don't they know that now we will have to pay our own taxi fare and eat a short Coke after this thing is over?" I ask. "I like boys . . . college boys. I don't understand. I almost went to Sabin tonight."

"So did I," puts in Margy. "I don't understand either," adds Dorothy. "But we must dance I suppose and like it. That is what they tell us." All of us know that she will go to her own party soon. "Over at the Kappa Sigma Chi house they say way back in 1895 the Ceres Hall girls started it," I whispered quietly.

Lorissa suddenly became excited. "Do you know what I would do?" she blurts out, jumping to her feet. "I would call up every fraternity house on the campus right now and invite all the gang over for the dance. That is what I would do!"

We all agree. But first we quiet Lorissa who is trembling like a Delta Tau Epsilon invited to his first Gamma Phi party. I offer her a mint lozenger but she refuses. We all chew licorice drops.

Horse collars were used in the decorations but there wasn't a sign of a groom.

The Armory was to be used because it looked more like a barn. But then that's an old stall. (The theme song of the party was probably "Horses. Horses!")

THE BELLYACHIN' BLUES

Winter is upon us and fuel has gone up. Wheat is 50 cents a bushel with nobody to put a charge of TNT under the tariff wall. Hoover is still president but nobody knows who in hell controls congress. Dozens of federal commissions are busy commissioning but the national omnibus still shimmies. The crime commission has failed to spike the guns of gangdom. The unemployment commission is very busily employed while experienced school teachers scrub floors, skilled clerks sweep streets, and common labor starves. Thousands stand in the bread line on one street while other thousands battle for three dollar football tickets in the next block. The prohibition commission perspires freely in its efforts to keep the country dry, while our surplus barley and corn drag bottom in the river of liquor that flows across the border. Forage is scarce but there's nothing to do with the rest of the crop except feed it and there's no profit in that. There isn't any money in the country and what there is has been smothered to death in the family sock. When money talks nowadays all it says is "Peek-a-boo!" The Community Chest drive falls short, but the ballrooms, poolrooms, and theaters are still crowded. Only 50 percent of the populace voted in the last election but the other 50 percent is already finding fault with the result. WDAY was silent a couple of days and half the countryside wept because they couldn't get anything and now they're cussing again because WDAY is all they can get. Christmas is just ahead with the general prospect that it'll be just another Thursday. . . . But thank heaven we still have water to drink and air to breathe, Amos 'n' Andy are on the air every night, New Year is coming, and Flaten is still doing business at the old stand! So what th' heck! Give yourself a pat on the back and say to yourself, "You deserve some new apparel." Stick out your chest, march up Broadway like the personification of prosperity, stop at 308, and revel in a cheery sight: Socks and mufflers, garters and neckties, winter suits and winning shirts, overcoats and pajamas, cigarettes and palaver, all right here in the usual bright array. What do you say, let's get together and tickle Old Man Gloom with Santa Claus's whiskers 'till he laughs himself to death, and start the New Year Happy though broke—it's due January 1 as usual.

Bison Cagers Get Double Test Saturday Night

Moorhead Peds, Powers Quint To Oppose Statement

Saaly Drills 15 Men Daily In Workouts In Armory

WEIR AND SCHWARTZ BATTLE FOR POSITION

May Shifted To Guard To Fill Gap Left By Gergen, Johnson

Coach L. T. Saalwaechter will give his basketball squad a double test Saturday when he opens the basketball season on the Bison court.

"Saaly" will divide his squad into two parts of equal strength. In the first game, starting at 7:30 Moorhead State Teachers college quintet will battle one half of the squad, and the Powers Hotel team of Fargo will encounter the remainder of the squad an hour later.

"Saaly" has been drilling a squad of 15 candidates. None of the men have shown sensational ability but all of them are efficient on the floor and give promise of developing with practice. He has had little opportunity to decide on a first string combination for all of the candidates have proven to be of about equal ability. By means of the double header Saturday, he will be able to watch the men in actual competition and get a more definite idea on a probable lineup.

Goodwin Back

The forwards who are battling for a position on the team are George Fairhead, Donald Arthur, Jimmy Berahl, Walter Olson, Pete Euren, and Nordstrom. Vern Goodwin, who was kept out of practice due to foot injuries is now out and will add greatly to the strength of the squad.

Gus Schwartz and Bob Weir, the giant center, are both working hard to get the first call for that position.

Leo May has been shifted to guard to help fill the gaps left by Gillie Johnson and Pete Gergen. May was all-state guard while in high school and should be a hard man to keep off the team. He will have to compete with Viv McKay, all-state high school star of Valley City, Blair Seitz, Leo Thomasson, William McDonald, Paul Bunt, and Ed Jessen for the position.

The Powers Hotel team will furnish plenty of competition, for the squad is made up such former college stars as Eddie Powers, Cecil Bliss, Gillie Johnson, Bob Rusch, Johnny Smith, Red Blakeley, Cy Arnold, and Claudie Miller.

Sliv Nemzik's Moorhead Teachers have been working out informally for the last few weeks, but official practice was not opened until Tuesday night. The squad has been working hard and will make an earnest attempt to test the mettle of the Bison squad. Bison officials are working on a schedule which will carry the team through southern Illinois and to Chicago during the Christmas holidays. It has been planned to schedule eight games but arrangements have not yet been completed.

The University of Iowa's new $500,000 stadium with a capacity of 42,000 was not more than half filled at any of the home games this year.

FATHER CHRISTMAS AT COSMOPOLITAN PARTY

The spirit Old Father Christmas will be present at an informal dancing party, given by members of the Cosmopolitan club in the Elk's hall, Friday, Dec. 5, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

The decorations will carry out the Christmas idea. Alta Holritz is in charge of arrangements. The various committees are as follows. Decorations—Chairman, Carl Jorgenson; Archie Anderson, Jack Bond, Art Knight, Clarence Ebert, Mary Weinberger, and Amanda Adams. Clean-up—Chairman, Joe Paulson, Rosella Ivers, Leonard Patzwald, Ethel Gerard, and Nelson Robinson. The chaperones have not been announced.

Crystal Establishes Fraternity Nights

Inaugurating a new feature to their already varied repertoire of entertainment is the fraternity night at the Crystal ballroom.

Each Tuesday night the members of a fraternity and their guests are invited to the ballroom as guests of the management. Alpha Kappa Phi and Delta Kappa Sigma have each enjoyed an evening of entertainment at the Crystal. Kappa Psi will be accorded the same privileges next Tuesday, according to Doc Chin.

While decorating for the Senior Ball last spring, a defective light that was hung in the ballroom, caused a fire, partially destroying the decorations. During the summer, however, the Crystal was entirely repaired, remodeled, and redecorated and is now ranked as one of the finest ballrooms in the Northwest.

The ballroom is equipped to take care of dancing clubs and private parties.

METHODIST STUDENTS WILL BE ENTERTAINED

The college class of the First Methodist Church is having as their guests tonight all Methodist students enrolled at North Dakota State. The entertainment will take the form of an unusual party arranged to take place in the recreation room of the Fargo Forum building at 8:30 o'clock. Several specialty acts featuring college talent are part of the lively program that has been planned by a committee consisting of Jane Canniff, Alice Warne, Dan Howell, and Fred Payne.

All Methodist students are welcome and may bring a guest if they so desire. Only one of the couple need be a Methodist.

Dean and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Teet are to be guests of honor attending the affair.

Students from all over the world were in the 500 who went to Hawaii last summer.

BLUE KEY INITIATES SIX MEN THURSDAY

Blue Key, national honorary service fraternity, initiated six men to membership last evening at a banquet held in Ceres hall. Horace McGrath, president, presided.

The men initiated were: William Euren and Anthony T. Faber, Juniors; Curt Ball, Wallace Lovsnes, Roland Olson, and Robert Carlson, Seniors.

Juniors Take First In Interclass Drama

The Junior class scored its second consecutive victory in the one-act play contest last night when they were given the judges' decision. As sophomores in their play took first place.

Their vehicle was "The Lord's Prayer" and was directed by Dorothea Olson. The cast included Claire Newell, Elene Weeks, Katherine Lindley, Donald Lawrence, and Lester Wyman.

The names of the other plays, casts, and directors are as follows:

Senior—"Dawn" directed by Ruth Whitney and Ruth Boerth; cast: Harold G. Peterson, Agnes Weible, and Morris Erickson.

WHAT'S YOUR DEFINITION?

The teacher was explaining to a class of small boys and girls the meaning of the word "collision".

"A collision," she said, "is when two things come together unexpectedly. Now can anyone give me an example of a collision?"

"Twins," said the class Idiot.

We say that twins are a blessing, and not a collision.

NUTRITION CLASS TO STUDY NORMAL DIET

To study the physical needs of each member of the nutrition class, and to devise simple methods to bring their weights to a normal condition is the purpose of the conferences which are held this week for all students in the course, according to Miss Esther Latzke, instructor in nutrition at the college.

The amount of minerals and vitamins necessary to keep the body in a healthy condition, the correct caloric requirement for each day and the careful revision of each student's diet to include the proper percentage of fats, carbohydrates, and proteins are the principal points which are considered at the conferences, points out Miss Latzke.

Sixteen girls are enrolled in the subject, which is a one term course. The members are all Home Economics students.

State Scores Well At Chicago Show

Outstanding Showing Made With Aberdeen Angus Cattle

North Dakota has again made an outstanding showing in the Aberdeen Angus purebred cattle show rings at the International Livestock show in Chicago, a bull bred on the Hartley Stock farm at Page taking the grand championship of the Angus class, it is reported by Prof. D. J. Griswold of North Dakota State college, who returned Wednesday from the show.

"The grand champion bull was Ewantuation of Page, bred at Page and owned in partnership by the Hartley farm and the Briar Cliff farm of Pine Plains, N. Y., which is managed by Kenneth McGregor's brother," said Professor Griswold. "The Hartley farm also won the first prize in the American Angus 2-year-old class, while a senior yearling heifer, bred on the Hartley farm, but now owned by Blake Brothers of Des Moines, was the champion female.

"North Dakota State college did not do so well this year with its carload of lambs in which class it won the reserve championship last year. This year our carload placed fifth.

"We did have the second best carload in the United States, but there were three carloads from Canada which had us beaten, taking first, second and third, and Chase Brothers of Willow Lake, S. D., placed fourth. There were nine entries in this class.

"McEwen, noted Canadian breeder and feeder, again won first in the carload of lambs class as he has done several times."

EXAMINATION DATES ARE DECEMBER 17-19

Final examinations for students in all courses at the State College will be held on December 17, 18, and 19, the end of the fall term of school. According to Alfred H. Parrott, Registrar, no definite plans have yet been made concerning the examinations, but the schedules will be prepared within the next two weeks. Registration of all classes during the winter term will be conducted on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday preceding the Christmas vacation.
