Stampeding Bison Take Conference Opener From S. D.

State Smothers Air Attack With Pass Defense Formations

COYOTES COMPLETE 4 OF 18 ATTEMPTS

Penalties Hold Finneganmen To 25 To 7 In Foggy Evening Game

(By Bill Champlin)

The stampeding Bison added another game to their bag last Friday night when they defeated the Coyotes 25 to 7. It was a contest that gave State College an auspicious start in the conference race.

Even if the spectators couldn't see the game, it put a thrill in Casey's Finnegan's hat, for his Bison put a stop to one of the foremost title contenders. Only once during the battle did South Dakota show any strength against the Bison, when they completed a pass for their lone touchdown. Casey's comeback men were everywhere, smearing line plunges, off tackle smashes, end runs, passes and what have you. On the offensive they made substantial gains in all departments of the game. And they didn't have to come back. They were there from the start of the contest.

Penalties Keep Score Down
A score of 25 to 7 may seem big enough for the Bison, but costly penalties kept the State total from mounting even higher. They were gaining ground consistently and pleased the crowd by making a first down with 25 yards to go after a penalty.

The Bison gave the fans a surprise in the opening minutes of the game when they marched down the field for four first downs and a touchdown after the kick off. It has been so seldom that a lengthy Bison advance has not been marred by a break against them. Some of the bleacher enthusiasts may have been surprised at the Bison's success at smearing South Dakota passes, but the fact that the Coyotes could complete only 4 of 18 attempts was one that was expected by Finnegan and the students.

Line Stars

There was one star in the Bison line. That star is the whole line from end to end. Again the forward wall must be given credit for enabling the Bison backs to rip off many gains. However, dependable Cy was in there with his terrific line-smashing. He just couldn't be stopped.

LONSBROUGH

Another method of attack gained 142 yds for the Bison in that contest, namely a passing exhibition exhibited by Bunt on the tossing end and McKay on the receiving end. Eight complete passes quite overshadowed the efforts of Bill South and his gang. These two Bison backs will be called upon frequently in the remaining games. Gains of 20 and 30 yards are too good to be left in the trick bag.

This South boy of the Coyotes presented quite a spectacle out there in the fog. Bill, minus his headgear, threw some passes that left a vacant spot in the stomachs of the fans until they were broken up by the Bison. Picturesque Bill would long be remembered in this town of Fargo if the Green and Yellow hadn't been in the way.

The first period left the game, without doubt, in the hands of the Bison. Touchdowns by Lonsbrough and McKay gave the Bison a 12 to 0 advantage at the end of the quarter. In the next period May went

EARLY MORNING DRILL BEGINS FOR CADETS

Early morning drill began for the State ROTC cadets this morning and will continue through Homecoming, a period of two weeks.

Assembly is called at 7:45 and the first hour classes began at 8:15. The entire morning schedule is advanced to allow for the 15 minutes cut for the drill.

Student Government Chosen For Rule Of New Residence Hall

Warren, Parsons, Warner Heads of Hall, Social, Athletic Committees

Under the supervision and management of Professor R. Otterson the new Men's Residence Hall is rapidly becoming a real home. Student government has been organized and is now in effect and several committees are forming plans for the social and athletic affairs.

Mr. Arthur Warren is chairman of the Hall Committee of five, the others of which are Merton Bottemiller, Cleve Sorenson, Ralph Knutson, and Ogden Netland. The rules which were formulated and approved are as follows: Quiet hours except from 12 noon to 1:15 p. m. and from 4 to 7:30 p. m. No study hours in force on Saturdays. Open hours on Sundays are from 12 noon to 7:30 p. m. Smoking is permitted in the rooms but not in the halls or lavatories. No one is permitted to have cooking utensils in their room. Penalties for violations of these rules will be imposed by the Hall Committee.

Parsons Social Chairman

Lawrence Parsons, member of Alpha Sigma Tau fraternity, and who last year was president of the student commission, is chairman of the social committee. Chester Smith and Victor Simison are the other members of the committee. Plans are being made for a party to be held early in November. A committee on athletics has also been elected. The members of the committee are Richard Warner, Murlan Haugen, and Gordon Kaercher.

The dormitory has six proctors, including Mr. Otterson who is also manager of the entire hall. These proctors are: Chris Jensen, Joe Paulson, Lawrence Parsons, Richard Warner, and James Horn. Their duty is to enforce the rules and regulations and to act as helpers and advisers.

Furniture to Arrive Soon

Furniture for the parlors is expected to arrive this week. Each of the two parlors on the first floor will be furnished with two davenport, two floor lamps, leather chairs, and a library table. There will be curtains on the parlor doors as well as the windows. The second and third floor parlors will be similarly equipped.

If present plans of the several committees materialize, there will be a boxing ring and a miniature golf course installed in the basement. Mr. Richard Kraft is putting in a pressing board also where the boys may press their clothes. Besides this inside recreation there will be ample opportunity to plan "nights out" after this week when 10 telephones will be installed. In short, there will be plenty of things to do for the 87 boys now residing in the hall, which is one of the finest in the Northwest.

The building was constructed at a cost of $200,000 and according to I. W. Smith, dean of men, who visited 21 universities and colleges during the past summer, it is with one possible exception the finest hall in every way of all that he inspected.

Juniors and seniors may sign up with the following students for pictures in the classes section of the 1932 Bison: Helene Rainville, Joyce Peterson, Elizabeth Olson, Leonard Luther, Curt Ball, John Mund, Bob Carlson, Ethel Renwick, Gertrude Almos, Marion South, Bob Olson, Erling Thorson, Jimmie Moore, Joe Lindgren, Owen Bertelson, and Joe Paulson, as well as in the Bison office, with Amos Wallum.

A FEATURE STORY

Did you ever think how great a help calisthenics can be on a boring Sunday afternoon? It's really remarkable to see several of our freshmen (girls preferred) covorting around the front room in nothing much outside of a good imagination when it comes to whom they're imitating—Ruth St. Denis, Anna Pavlova, Jeanette McDonald, and what not. We really think they're flops if there ever was one.

First comes their "limbering up" exercises, accompanied by the New York Symphony Orchestra in "Un Ungarian Skizzi". Then Eric something or other (the orchestra) changes the music and immediately the girls are dancers of old Greece and they do several classic circle friezes. Their hair, on the longish order, is down by this time and it adds just loads to the effect.

Whoops! Guy Lombardo and the rest of the rag tooters come on and—ooh! our dancers! They are the "singing, dancing, laughing, crying" heroines of all musical comedies. And the antics they go through! You'd think they'd contortion themselves to pieces, but we know they don't because they were seen Monday fresh and whole.

Butterfield Speaks During Convocation On Orient Problem

Guests Of Honor This Noon At Edwin Booth Dramatic Club Luncheon

At luncheon today Dr. Kenyon Butterfield will be the guest of the Edwin Booth Dramatic Club. Dr. Butterfield, former president of the state colleges at Massachusetts and Michigan, spoke this morning at convocation on, "Impressions of the Far East."

Dr. Butterfield is greatly interested in rural life and was the founder of the Country Life Association organized in 1919. He served as a president for seven years.

Last week he spoke at a conference held in Madison, Wis., which Mr. Arvold and Mr. Hay attended.

Just recently he returned from India where he made a study of rural conditions. At the present time, accompanied by his wife, he is traveling west to sail again for the Orient to continue his research in Japan.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA HAS FOUNDERS DAY

More than 65 places were set for active, alumnae, and pledge members of Kappa Kappa Gamma at a dinner in the Dr. R. E. Weible residence last night in honor of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the fraternity.

Blue and blue, the sorority colors, were used in the room and table decorations. A cake with 60 candles formed the center piece for the main table.

Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded in Monmouth, Ill., Oct. 13, 1870.

YWCA COMMITTEES ARE ANNOUNCED

Committee members for the YWCA membership committee have been made by Alpha Knight, chairman. Assisting her will be Lorissa Sheldon, Lillian Lindsey, Doris Lathrop, Ruby De Otte, Dorothy Chard, Muriel Clarke, Virginia Davis, Shirley Johnson, Helen Peterson, Marjorie Archer, Marjean Crites, Eva Sherwood, Marjorie Miller, Jeanette Hooper, and Eulalie Huckle.

OSTRANDER PLEDGES TAU
Alpha Sigma Tau announces the pledging of Ronald Ostrander, Fargo, at the chapter house Monday evening.

ELLINGSON ATTENDS LIBRARY CONVENTION

Miss Sylvia Ellingson, librarian, is attending the North Central Library Conference as a representative of the State College library. This regional conference is held in St. Paul from Oct. 14 to 17 and will be attended by delegates from North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Speakers will include: Everett D. Martin of the Peoples Institute of New York, the largest adult educational institution in the country; Louise Seaman of the children's book department of the McMillan Publishing Company; and Anne Carroll Moore, Director of Children's Work in the New York Public Library.

Round tables will be held for every phase of library work.

Mark Named Editor For Papyrus Ebers, Pharmacy Magazine

James Moore Chosen Business Manager For Coming School Year

Simon Mark, McVile, was appointed editor-in-chief of Papyrus Ebers, official organ of the North Dakota Pharmacy Club at a recent meeting of the executive committee of that organization. James Moore, Devils Lake, was chosen as business manager of the magazine.

Papyrus Ebers is published three times during the school year by members of the school of Pharmacy. The magazine reaches every druggist in the state and is a means of keeping in touch with the school and its activities.

"An exchange list is being worked out so we may exchange ideas with other pharmacy school journals," stated the business manager.

Other members of the staff include Nicholas-LeFor, Dickinson, advertising manager; Ceril Zweber, New Leipzig, circulation manager; and Nels Brakke, Jr., desk editor.

Slight Margin Spells Defeat For Saalymen

Frosh Will Run For Medals On Homecoming Day Says Mentor

Saal's cross-country team came within an ace of taking Minnesota into camp Saturday at Minneapolis. The Gophers, however, came out on top with a score of 26, to 30 for the Bison harriers.

Currell of Minnesota placed first in the gruelling cross-country stretch with a time of 19 minutes 37 seconds for the distance. Close behind him was Steiner who might have been the winner had he not mistaken the course. While in the lead Steiner ran up the wrong hill and was forced to retrace his steps. Rasmussen of Minnesota placed third with Hall close behind him. The remainder of the field finished in the following order: Adams, Minnesota, fifth; Virgil Weiser, State, sixth; Kilbourne, State, seventh; Johnson, Minnesota, eighth; Kitchen, Minnesota, ninth; Erickson, Minnesota, tenth; and Knight, State, eleventh.

"In cross-country the team with the lowest number of points wins. The first six men and their placings are added up to determine the total score," stated Saaly who seemed very much pleased with the showing of his men.

"I expect to have several real distance men developing from the cross-country material. The Minnesota meet is the only meet scheduled for the varsity but the Freshmen are staying out until Homecoming when they will compete for three medals. I am going to reward these yearlings for their faithfulness," explained the Bison mentor.

The college orchestra will hold its second rehearsal this Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Putnam states that there will be an ensemble of 35 or more in the group this year.

Rhodes Scholar Application To Be In Saturday

Will Meet Before State Body December 6 For Final Elimination

32 RECEIVED AWARD DURING SCHOOL YEAR

Two Thousand Dollars Provided For Education In Oxford

Applications for a Rhodes Scholarship from the eighth district must be made before Oct. 18, according to word received Monday by Dean Minard, from President Thomas Kane of the University, who is secretary of the Committee of Selection in North Dakota this year.

On Dec. 6, applications from the States will appear before a state committee. This committee will select the two most likely candidates to appear before a district committee which will function for the first time this year. States other than North Dakota in this district are: Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming.

32 Scholarships Awarded
Annually 32 Rhodes Scholarships are awarded which are tenable at the University of Oxford and may be held for three years. Beginning this year a scholar is allowed either to postpone his third year or he may spend it in postgraduate work at any University of Great Britain, or with special permission at Universities on the Continent, in Canada, or in the United States.

The stipend of a Rhodes Scholarship is fixed at two thousand dollars, annually, and is awarded only to male citizens who have lived in the United States at least five years and are unmarried. The man must be between the ages of 19 and 25 and have completed his sophomore year in college.

Men who have completed three years of college work in an approved University may apply for a Senior Standing which entitles them to certain exemptions from examinations. Underclassmen may apply for Junior Standing which entitles them to certain fewer advantages.

Dean Minard is anxious that State College enter a candidate again this year. Russell Weiser applied last year but was eliminated by a man from Jamestown College.

Freshmen Figure In Instrument Change

Freshmen figure prominently in the change of instrumentation in the Gold Star Band according to Dr. C. S. Putnam, director.

Gerald McNally, who is attending the University of Minnesota played the holtonphone bass in the band last year. Frank Callinan, baritone player, is to succeed McNally on the holtonphone. Deal, a freshman, will play baritone in place of Callinan.

Changes in the French horn section are: Hallock succeeded by Kelsey, a freshman; Kendrick succeeded by Anderson, a freshman. George Salaba, Peter Albrecht, and Heinle, who played trombone in the band last year are replaced by Neil Trace and Hansel Guloien, freshmen of Fargo.

Six new clarinet players, freshmen, include: Fredrickson, Siegel, Kapple, Eddy, Thomasson, and Wilner.

Des Forges, who has been away two years, resumes his position as bassoon player. Roberts, for three years a member of the band but not during last year, has returned this year to the bass clarinet section.

Chester Smith goes from bass sax to the alto sax section. Vaughn Morris, freshman, will play clarinet rather than baritone sax. Albert Herner, tenor sax, and Rudolph Hehr, alto sax, are not in the band this year and are replaced by Mizen and R. Smith, respectively.

Mitchell Zeller, flute and piccolo player, has left the band and Misses Oscarson and Thorstad complete that section for this year.

OUR EDITORIAL POLICY

In the editorial columns of the Spectrum we are endeavoring to bring before the student body facts and opinions as we see them manifested on the campus. At times we may seem a little inconsistent, first upholding one side and then the other side of the argument, but this is our method of presenting both sides of the question to our readers.

We do not expect everybody to agree with us because that would be impossible, but we are open for conviction. If any of our editorials do not set just exactly right, we would like to hear about it. It is for this reason that we have a student opinion column where questions of campus concern may be discussed with freedom.

In this issue we are publishing an opinion on the Frosh-Soph struggle written by a Sophomore. He seems to resent the editorial in a recent issue of this paper concerning the hazing. Our editorial referred to just one incident of the affair which we could not and would not approve of and which was absolutely unnecessary.

The better the student opinions are, the more interesting this paper is going to become.

ON PROPER EQUIPMENT

The fact that nearly one hundred freshmen flunked the entrance examination this year is proof enough that the high schools are not equipping their students to meet the requirements of college.

The marked contrast between college and high school is too sudden for the ordinary beginner. While in prep school he became used to teachers that he could handle, if he knew what he was doing. When he comes to a college or university he finds that he has not learned to concentrate and consequently finds the going pretty rough for the first couple of months. Perhaps this is the reason that many Freshmen drop out of school before the end of the school year.

We feel that it would be much better if high schools hired teachers that demanded a little more work than they ordinarily do. This would prepare their students for college and save many failures among the ranks of those seeking a higher education.

STUDENT OPINION

FIGHT RIGHT BACK, SOPHS!

According to a fair-minded and red-blooded individual on the N. D. State campus, the present Sophomore Class is composed of a lot of ruffians who are manhandling a lot of innocent youngsters known as Freshmen.

Who or what did this particular individual have on his or her mind when writing this article that appeared in last Friday's Spectrum? Who are these "Glory Seeking" Sophs? Perhaps we all know who was referred to in this cutting article, so "Cleverly written." Certainly we were seeking glory, but NOT because of wanting to be "noticed"; merely to have these innocent youngsters TAKE notice.

It has been said that there is safety in numbers, and that the "Ruffians" were in such numbers as to insure the safety of those individuals. Why not? Isn't discretion the better part of valor?

A statement in this clever article ran like this:

"The leaders of the erring group are made up of those men who will not and can not be representative of the class of students who predominate the activities of State College."

What the leaders of the erring group would like to know is, where are the men, so prominent in class work, that are representative of their class? Why are they not present to help the rest of their class make the traditions of that class and of N. D. State stand out as much if not more than before?

We are asked, "Can not the hazing be done in a manner that will compel the admiration and respect of gentlemen?" Friends, you will kindly note that the only "Youngsters" who have been manhandled, brow-beaten, or sickened, are those erring Frosh that have not carried the things requested by the upper classmen. These duties are traditions which will reach back a good many years, such as carrying wood or wearing a green cap.

All this leads to one conclusion. Either the writer of that article was a person that did not carry out these traditions during his Freshman year and squeaked through without the usual hazing, or else he was a WHINING Frosh.

"Several years ago, one 'Rough House' Cramer engineered the Sophomore-Frosh competition in a way that compelled respect," the article reads. If this person's actions compelled more respect than the present actions of the Sophomore Class we are certainly entitled to break down doors, break arms, and break Frosh spirits in a way most Brutal.

Anyone that went to this school at the time of that notable will remember several of the actions instigated by that individual, and a "perverted" idea could NEVER be obtained. The only time we have been at all reminded of Cramer's tactics is the time that a certain Freshman made it a point to break a good sized club over a Soph's right wrist, nearly breaking that member of the Soph's physical make-up, thereby making it impossible for him to use his right arm.

In the second issue of the Spectrum an article upon the hazing of the Frosh told us that we were entirely too liberal with the "youngsters." We decided to take that idea away. We have started, but in the next issue we find we are too tough on the poor "youngsters". Apparently the writer of these articles is due for radical changes of mind which would place him in a class with most women.

Therefore, we the Sophs, serve formal notice that the hazing will be as tough as the Frosh make it, no matter what the consequences. A Freshman can butter his own bread, but he will have to eat it.

GO TO IT, SOPHS!

Note:—The 1934 flag on the Ceres Hall Flagpole is at half-mast. We wonder why.

Please put all of this in the Spectrum as it is written.

So many paddles are flying around the campus that the freshmen are commencing to think this is not a "cow collich" but a canoe club. Yeh . . . but we have some campus tank teams, heh! heh!

Pretty soon the pledges will have learned that hot air is not confined to registers . . . and some of the outfits should have used thumb tacks for pledge pins so as to make an impression . . . some of the "jewels in the rough" will be ROUNDED into shape . . . after the paddles begin to swish . . .

i hev got a suppressed perspire to come to collitch to get sum edumcaciun beleev me but o reed in yer paper thtat yu got sum snooty sorority bims and sum guys with heels that go bang maybe i aint got sum of that stuff Clara Bow pulls but i am shifty. Shud i or shuldnt i? Gina.

Dear Gina,

Yes by all means come to college, Gina, if you are a bread-maker's daughter and have dough. To be a sorority babe all you have to do is to learn to roll your r's, throw a rat-poison look at anyone not a member of your gang, and talk with a Boston accent over the phone, ending with a tittering giggle meant to convey, "Oh, you sap! Waddy mean calling me up for a date at nine o'clock (even if I haven't one?)"

Pornographically,
Peeping Pete.

The University of New York still holds its annual "Frosh1Soph" flag rush; however the New York Daily News tells us that referees will be no scarcity. The pole of course was greased like an English-channel swimmer and chances are that by the time the grease had disappeared most of the Frosh had evaporated also. However should the Frosh accidentally win all rules will be forgotten for this year. Our pity goes out to both of you. Please accept.

Have that "Athletic Shoulder" to accommodate the well-developed muscles of athletic young men. It is just one of the features responsible for Learbury's popularity. Let us show you one of these fine suits in the new fall patterns. They are great values at—$32.50 and $37.50.

Paul Bunt, our jack-of-all-trades, who plays halfback on offense and end on defense, made Bill South look like a piker last weekend.

Bill, you know, was supposed to be the best forward passer in captivity and a lot of other places. And maybe he is "best" down in South Dakota but when he comes to North Dakota he has to yield the palm to Mr. Bunt.

If Bunt had been shooting the apple off William Tell's youngster those many years ago, instead of William himself, Bill's kid would not have been the least bit nervous, for Bunt is as accurate as one of Al Capone's gunmen.

Bunt passed 11 times against the Coyotes, completing 7. South passed on 12 occasions and connected only thrice. Paul's ability with the aerial works will stand us in good stead, especially in the homecoming tilt with our neighbors from Grand Forks.

The University boys were rather lax in 1929, guarding their goal against forward passes, and who knows but that Bunt might throw a couple for touchdowns on homecoming.

WHAT A MAN

This boy, Viv McKay, continues to be the apple of my eye. What a treat it is to watch him perform on the Dacotah football stage. He has everything a sweet baby needs but experience—and my, how fast he is acquiring that.

His sensational forward pass catching against South Dakota, and his uncanny ability to bat Coyote heaves heaves down on the defense, will long be remembered by those who gazed through the ghostly fog that cluttered our premises last Friday evening.

SHORT, BUT SWEET

Captain Leo May said "howdy" to his South Dakota friends, but he did not tarry long thereafter. Coach Casey replaced him with Pariseau in the second half. May we suggest, that Mr. May is being saved for the University.

POWER TO BURN

It was a pleasant surprise to note the excellence of the substitutes that Messrs. Finnegan and Lowe shoved into the breach during the last 20 minutes against South Dakota. Man after man replaced the veterans, and strangely enough, the newcomers more than outplayed the visitors.

Such boys as Ellingson, Goodwin, Paris, Seitz, Strong and Berdahl, fellows who have broken into print but little, handled themselves like real stars.

Blakeslee, Fairhead and McGrath should rejoin the squad shortly. With them back in harness and the reserves developing at a rapid rate, the Bison will face the remainder of the 1930 schedule with power to burn.

BISON YEARLINGS CLASH WITH TEACHERS COLLEGE

Lieutenant Fay Smith and his yearlings will match wits with the highly touted Moorhead State Teachers College this afternoon. After a light workout yesterday the military mentor reports his men to be in good condition.

The affair today is reported to be more or less of a practice affair in preparation for the Bison yearling and University Papoose struggle at the University this weekend.

Jacobson, Fisher, and Wright may start in the back field while the line positions are still in doubt. It is more than likely that the entire squad will be put under fire.

SIGS ENTERTAIN PLEDGES

Active members of Delta Kappa Sigma fraternity entertained at an informal dancing party in honor of their new pledges, at the college Y following the football game Friday night. Kenneth Wyard was in charge of arrangements.

Sophomores at South Dakota State college were victorious over the freshmen when they defeated the lower classmen in the annual class fight. One of the new features of the freshman-sophomore contest this year was a push-ball contest.

Here and There

From Washington University: The men, by investigation, were found to consume $9,172.25 worth of candy in the past year. Whether this is entirely true or not we cannot affirm. There was no record kept of how many dollars of this was "ate" by the femmes.

An English instructor at the University of Colorado tells how two familiar words of the campus originated. Freshmen of course is derived the English words "fresh" and "man". The connotation in this case is perfectly distinct.

However, with Sophomore the derivation is very difficult. The Greeks had a word soph or sophis, meaning wise, and a word mores moris, meaning foolish. When the words are combined, we have "wise moron", a very contradictory statement. To define the word in what we think a more apt phrase, a professor from the University of California gives this meaning: "still in papa's hands".

The Evolution of the Bell

Some of these other schools are certainly original in their ideas; this one we read about that has its origin at the University of Minnesota and has to do with the stopping of speakers at a banquet by means of a small portable fire-siren.

Four million dollars is being expended for the New York educational sky-scraper which will house the Board of Education and considerable museum space. We add that who says that education isn't getting up in the air.

"Have you seen these new fall hats? They're nothing else but!"

AMAZED? Astounded? Surprised? That we can offer you new Fall hats at such insignificant prices as $1.95 and $2.95? Well, in a way, we don't blame you a bit.

It is rather unusual, because these hats are copies of French models, and they're all over-flowing (we'd say brim-full if some weren't back-on-the-head styles) with Paris smartness.

Besides being about the most attractive things that have ever been made in the headwear line, these hats are well made, of felt, velvet, soleil, and vis-a-vis. You won't stick your finger through them, or pull half of the hat out with your hands when you put them on.

And we'd like to again call your hat-tention to the fact that they are priced at only $2.95 and many at—over for the third counter and Cy rushed for the extra point. South Dakota made their lone touchdown in this period when Crakes sneaked over the line after receiving a pass from South. The extra point was good as the Bison were offside on an attempted place-kick. The third quarter went scoreless. In the final period McKay ran through his own right tackle for the last score. The game ended; Bison 25, Coyotes 7.

STAMPEDING BISON TAKE CONFERENCE OPENER FROM S. D.

The Dope

The Bison have demonstrated their wares in all kinds of climate except that adorned by sunshine, and their ground gaining seems to improve regardless of the weather. Nor did South Dakota's pass attack help much to stop the onrushing herd. Look at the statistics of the game.
